"If he would let me talk down her pictures I would be freer," I muttered as I stood before her pictured face.

I know now that had I followed my inclination and told Everett all I felt, even all I had done reading Leola's letters, etc., he would have made me see things as they were not in the distorted way they appeared to me. But it was harder than ever for me to be happy. I cried whenever I thought of those letters, and that made headaches.

You must be ill Sandra. I shall call a physician to talk with you. A woman cries all the time for nothing. Your eyes have been red and swollen most of the time the last three or four days. If you aren't ill what are you crying for?"

"Please don't send a doctor to me, Everett. I won't cry any more now. I guess I am lonely. You haven't been with me very much since we came back, you know."

"What a baby you are! Aren't you ever going to grow up? Just as I commence to feel you are improving, you act like this. I am almost discouraged that you will ever have the poise necessary for a woman if she is to be happy and have friends. Send for Mrs. Sloane for a ride with you. Do something, anything, but cry and pout about nothing at all. I do not mean to scold you, Sandra. But it is hard to understand what you want—what you expect"

I wanted his love—had expected it until lately. Now I wanted it more than ever. But I did not expect it.

After he left I acted upon his advice and called up Alice Sloane. She was delighted to go with me if I would shop a little before we returned.

We had a delightful ride, and really I felt almost normal again when we reached the shops after an hour's ride. But it seemed I was to have no relief from my morbid thoughts—not for long.

While Alice was selecting some sewing silks and things, I wandered idly down the counter and was halted by hearing Everett's name spoken by a very good-looking woman.

"Yes, Everett Graham surprised us all last year when he married. I never have seen the present Mrs. Graham, but they tell me she is very young, very unsophisticated, very different from the first wife. No one thought he would marry again. He was so crazy over his wife. I don't think I ever knew a man who was so in love. He never interfered with the least thing she wanted to do, and most men would have many times. He aged to years when she died. I am anxious to meet this wife."

"I would have said he would have married Irma Barton if he had remarried," the one addressed replied "I hear he is often with her as it is."

Just then Alice called that she had finished and I was obliged to leave with her, all my better feelings gone, all my unhappiness returned—augmented by what I had heard.

Constipation or Costiveness

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver.

There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A Roder, Hastings St. E., Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses."

Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c. and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LONGEVITY

Extreme longevity has its drawbacks. An English paper reminds us of this fact by quoting the story of Janos Mergessi; a Hungarian, who at the age of eighty-four was arrested for attempting suicide by jumping off a bridge at Budapest into the Danube This,however, was not the case of extreme longevity referred to. Janos, in explanation of his attempt to end his life, declared that he was the sole support of his father and mother, and that the burden of caring for them was becoming too great for him. They were aged 115 and 110 respectively, he stated; The story goes that the statement proved to be true, and that a public subscription for the three was started, which placed them above want.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Everyone has his own reason, and he considers it the real reason, for the increased divorce rate The fact of the matter probably is that each reason is a contributing cause, for divorces arise from a conglomeration of evils. However, it is our private opinion that there is one very simple cause and remedy for a vast majority of these evils.

We have all seen the woman in Peterboro who is considered a model housewife, in whose house there is never a speck of dirt but—and this is as true as Gospel—whose husband never has a decent meal. These so-called model housewives are very well, but they should never have married. When a man comes home hungry after a day's work, he'd much rather see a good meal on the table than to be told that six pairs of lace curtains had been stretched that day. For this reason girls who have worked down town in the cities make very satisfactory wives. They come home home many a night weary and fagged out, and they know what their husbands want when they come the same way.

Women are strange and perverse creatures. Their husband's love means more to them than anything else in the world, yet many of them never lift a finger to hold it. When they know how much he craves a good meal, they will slave all day washing windows or scrubbing porches, and let him eat crackers and cheese when he comes home.

Suppose, my good woman, there are a few cigar ashes on the living room rug; suppose there is a little dust on the library table. If you can't find time to clean up the living room and get three square meals, let the living room go until next day. Your husband, unless he is a very unusual man, won't "give a hang" about the living room. And when a prim and prissy housewife points the finger of scorn at you, just bide your time. Some of these days she'll be hunting up a lawyer and claiming desertion, and you'll find yourself happier on your Golden Wedding Day than on your first.

There is a so-called accomplishment known as smiling without laughing. Personally, I have no objection to knowing audibly how the individual feels about the matter. But I do object to accustoming my ears to a siren whistle, tearing up and down every remark. And I doubt if anyone cares to be rocked by a sudden detonation that suggests gun powder not nearly so soothing as a small bunch of fire crackers, going off around the corner. Certainly the best bred families don't like it. Nor do I like a prolonged and steady flow of giggles which force me to hold my breath out of sympathy for the tortured, and torturing one. Still worse is that laugh little more than a smirk, which strains every nerve in your body to concetrated attention for fear you may miss it, and then leaves you feeling yourself to be the point of it. I think the study of a pleasant and also expressive laugh would make a splendid course to institute in home practice. Tho I say it at the risk of treading on a good many polite toes, there is plenty of material to begin on in almost every home.

Every mother agrees that it is difficult enough to exercise any influence over her young children in this age when they become quite sophisticated while they are as yet hardly out of the shell. This very fact ought to show her that she must use original and interesting means of holding their attention. It is so much breath wasted to preash "Pretty is as pretty does," when daughter is at the "sliding-down-the-cellar-door" stage. Besides the little girl is often unfavorably predisposed to such a phrase. The repitition is only as aggravation. It is just as foolish and useless to say, "When you are older, you will thank me," for the child has never been older, and so, having no conception of that age, can't imagine what difference it may make then anyway.

No child likes "Because I say so," as a reason, because they cannot compare other people's judgment, being as yet unable to exercise their own. True, it is not easy for the mother to think of just the right thing, and still more difficult for her to remember that the little tot is just as eager for freedom as she is. But the child will unerstand the use of its later freedom much better if she can make him feel that he is choosing in his decisions. Remember however that every influence so gained is more than lost if the child has the slightest surmise that his mother is fooling him. And he will if he is told that he is the worst little boy in town, because nine times out of ten he isn't, and when he decides his mother is browbeating him, he will probably do his best, and justifiably too, to live up to his reputation she has given him.

What is happiness It is easier to say what it is not, and ask what makes people unhappy. The unhappiest people are always the most self-centred on They can find happiness in nothig unless it is directly attached to themselves. Another's happiness brings them nothing but envy. Happiness is, of course, the thing we are all after, but we make such hard work of finding it. It is so difficult for most of us to see an inch beyond our noses. If we could only see it, unselfishness means more for us in the end, yet we selfishly grab everything that comes our way and make ourselves generally miserable. "Forget self" is the pass word must follow before we can enter Utopia.

NATURE IS MAKING WAR LOSSES GOOD

Births in Britain During Last Quarter Show Great Increase.

Births registered during the last quarter of 1919 were 223,509 against 114,760 deaths. Births gained 48,202 over the previous quarter and 61,794 over the corresponding quarter in 1918.

The birthrate was the highest since 1906 and deaths were on the decrease. Infant mortality reg[illegible]ed 7.1 per cent per thousand, the lowest rate on record.

Improved education and greater development in infant welfare work were credited with aiding the favorable showing as to infant mortality.

In 1910 England's population increased 179,426.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED BY A KENTUCKY MOB

PARIS, Kentucky, March 31.—Swooping down unexpectedly upon officers who were taking Grant Smith, a negro, to the jail at Paris, a crowd of 40 men captured the negro and hurried him in an automobile on the Haysville-Lexington pike to Mays Lick, Fleming county, where he was hanged to a telegraph pole. Smith, who is 40, disappeared two months ago, after alleged assaults on a 14-year-old girl. He was arrested in Michigan last week.

A quickly formed posse of county authorities unsuccessfully endeavored to overtake the mob in automobiles. When they arrived at Mays Lick the crowd had disappeared, but the body of the negro was found hanging by the neck at the end of a rope tied to the top of a telegraph pole. It was not mutilated, although threats were made at Paris to hang him. His arms were wired to his sides and he was still handcuffed. According to reports reaching here, the negro lived 15 minutes after he was swung up.

BERLIN'S POPULATION

WASHINGTON.—The population of the city of Berlin, with suburbs, is now 3,801,235, acording to advices received here. Males decreased 54,000 and females increased 124,800 since the last census in 1916.

NORWOOD COUNCIL GAVE HYDRO BY-LAW FINAL APPROVAL AT REGULAR MEETING

THE HYDRO COMMISSION WILL BE INSTRUCTED TO PROCEED WITH THE WORK—NORWOOD NEWS OF INTEREST.

NORWOOD, March 31.—The village Council held their adjourned meeting on Wednesday night, with Reeve Squires and Councillors T. E. Finlay, W. A. Richardson, W. Montgomery, and John McLaughlin present.

The Hydro-Electric money by-law, providing for the borrowing of $33,100 to install the system in Norwood, and submitted to the ratepayers on 1st March, was given its final reading and numbered 454.

Moved by Co. Richardson, seconded by Co. McLaughlin, that the Hydro Commission be notified that the debenture by-law to borrow $33,100 had been finally passed, and that the Commission be authorised to proceed to purchase supplies and materials for the construction of the same.—Carried.

Moved by Co. Richardson, seconded by Co. Montgomery, that the Reeve and Co. Finlay be appointed to look after the ditch in front of Mr. Bond's residence, and have it properly fixed.—Carried.

Moved by Co. Richardson, seconded by Co. Finlay, that Couns. McLaughlin and Montgomery be a committee to investigate the condition of the ditch in front of Mr. Conklin's residence, with power to act as they think necessary.

Moved by Co. Finlay, seconded by Co. McLaughlin, that the Reeve and Co. Richardson be a committee to arrange a meeting of the Council with the Industrial Commission at an early date, and that an effort be made to have all the business men attend.—Carried.

An agreement in blank between the Ontario Hydro Commission and the Council of the village of Norwood was read from the chair.

Moved by Co. Montgomery, seconded by Co. McLaughlin, that Richard Dean substitute as assessor for Mr. Thos. Lumsden, who is ill.

Moved by Co. Finlay, seconded by Co. Richardson, that the agreements between the Hydro-Electric Commission and the village of Norwood be signed by the Reeve and Clerk, and forwarded to the Commission at Toronto.

The Hacking Cough Strains the Lungs

The terrible, hacking, lung-wracking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E.I., writes:—"Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for sometime. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night and did not think I would ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief and by time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HEAR ME, SPRING!

There comes a wanderlust in spring
That sets man's veins a-quivering;
That urges him to up and go
To where yet unborn blossoms blow.

I have a wanderlust within,
Unspoiled of care, unsoiled of sin,
That bids me venture forth to find
A freedom new to humankind.

Spring finds me irked by all the things
That tyrant man to Nature brings.
I'd break and crush, discard, destroy
All of these shrivelers of joy.

It's Spring! I'm keen to up, away
From all the bonds that say me 'Nay'.
I want to follow every list
That beckons me to paths that twist.

I'm tired of strictness, straightness, all
That forces man to cringe and crawl.
I want pure Beauty, no alloy
Of man-made, God-said, nearly-joy!

I want Joy's self, untouched of man,
Joy clean as when the world began;
Joy's self, Life's self, Love's self, I seek.
Spring!. Hear thy maddest lover speak!

DOMINION TIRES

ARE GOOD TIRES

And there are Plenty of Them

Dominion Inner Tubes

are an essential part of Dominion Tire equipment. They insure perfectly balanced tires — which mean better service, longer mileage and easier riding.

The facilities for manufacturing—both in men and equipment—have been greatly increased, and will more than meet the growing demand.

However, to make sure of having your car equipped with the tires that have PROVED their satisfactory service and mileage, order your favorite Dominion Tires NOW.

Dominion Tire Accessories

enable you to obtain even greater mileage from your tires. A few minutes' work with Patches, Reliners, Sleeves, Cement, Heal-a-cut, etc., will help you to get that extra 500 or 1,000 miles out of the tires.

Dominion Tires are distributed through Dominion Rubber System Branches and sold by the best dealers throughout Canada.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MR. ROSENTHAL

MANAGER OF ALLEN WAS PRESENTED WITH CLUB BAG.

In order to say farewell to the employees of the Allen Theatre of which he has been manager since opening of the Theatre last September Mr. Morris Rosenthal was host last evening at the Grand Hotel of a very successful and enjoyable banquet. After a sumptous repast and address read by Mr. W. Leader, expressing the general and genuine regret felt by the employees at Mr. Rosenthal's leaving and their sincere hope for his continued success, Mrs. Fenwick presented Mr. Rosenthal on behalf of her fellow employees with a handsome club bag. In replying to the address and presentation Mr. Rosenthal referred to the happy relationship which has always existed between himself and the members of the staff and his appreciation of their constant co-operation.

Mr. R. G. Furlong, the newly appointed manager of the Allen, formerly manager of the Strand Theatre in a short address assured the employees that he would do all in his power to continue the management of the Theatre in the same successful manner Mr. Rosenthal has always conducted the business.

Mr. White, manager of the Walk Easy Shoe Store, referred in a brief address to Mr. Rosenthal's popularity about the city as well as amongst his business associates.

Social Evening.

At the conclusion of the banquet and presentation the party returned to the Allen Theatre where a bright social evening was held during which Mr. and Mrs. Brooks entertained the gathering with some catchy song and dance specialties. Messrs. Harrison and Panter with solos. Dr. D. King dropped in to express his regret at Mr. Rosenthal's leaving and assured him that his leave taking from the city to take over his new duties as manager of the new Allen Theatre at St. Catharines was keenly felt amongst a large number of warm friends. The evening closed by singing the National Anthem.

YOUNG COUPLE ARE ENTERTAINED

SHOWER FOR A PROSPECTIVE SPRING BRIDE.

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Garside, 199 Reid Street, when about fifty young people from Knox Presbyterian and Park Street Baptist Churches presented Miss Lillian Thompson and Mr. Thompson Taylor with a miscellaneous shower in view of their approaching marriage.

The young couple's friends were concealed in the parlour, while Miss Thompson was seduced away, and later was led into the sitting-room, where she was greeted by a basket heaped full of many useful and costly gifts.

Miss Thompson was taken completely by surprise, but in a few words expressed her thanks to her friends for their kindness and thoughtfulness.

Mr. Taylor was presented with a handsome cut-glass combination set on behalf of Park Street Young Men's Bible Class by Mr. George Moore and Mr. A. Nicholls, while Mr. Neil Porter read the address.

Mr. Taylor replied briefly on behalf of Miss Thompson and himself.

The evening was spent in cards, music, and dancing. Refreshments were served, and the evening proved most enjoyable to all. The friends of the young couple extended to them wishes for prosperity, good luck, and good health, followed by a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Garside for their hospitality.

The gathering dispersed shortly after midnight.

OMEMEE HAS A BOARD OF TRADE

REEVE PARSON'S VILLAGE WILL INAUGURATE ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

OMEMEE, April 1.—A very enthusiastic meeting of the Board of Trade was held last week, and a lot of good ideas, many of which will be put into execution, were exchanged. A few of the ideas fulfilled will mean:

A dentist for Omemee.
A printer for Omemee.
A park for our town.
A better lighted station platform, and waiting-room.

A moving picture theatre, and many other features which will go to make our pretty little village more attractive.

A cleaning-up day, when every one will clean up his back yard, etc.

MOTHER OF 18 SAYS IT WAS A GODSEND

"FROM NOW ON TANLAC WILL BE MY FAMILY MEDICINE," SAYS MRS. GRENIER.

"Well, this is certainly a coincidence, for the very moment you were coming in I was pouring into the kitchen sink all the costly medicines that had been prescribed for me," said Mrs. Solomon Grenier, when the special Tanlac representative who had called at her residence, 1443 Logan street, Montreal, the other day to ascertain the facts.

"Tanlac is the only thing I found during my three years of ill health," added Mrs. Grenier, "that has done me any good. I just consider it a godsend to suffering humanity. For at least two weeks in every month I had frightful headaches and would get so dizzy it was difficult for me to walk. Many a time after meals I had almost unbearable cramping pains in my stomach, and, at times, I was so overcome with heart palpitation that I had to sit down. I had no appetite and sometimes got so dizzy that things turned dark and had the appearance of a veil of smoke before my eyes. In order to get relief from these attacks I had to take to bathing my head with ice water. I was constipated the worst kind, had very painful neuralgia in my neck, and did not feel strong enough to attend to my household duties. I could only sleep part of the night and my condition was so distressing that life hardly seemed worth living.

"But I began taking Tanlac about three weeks ago and am just so glad to see how wonderfully my health is being restored that I want to tell everybody about Tanlac. I have no more headaches or dizzy spells and since I am able to digest my food properly my heart palpitations have disappeared. My appetite is just fine and I am eating meats—even pork—and anything else I want without the least trouble after wards. I am no longer constipated, that weak, tired feeling has also left me, and now that my suffering has been relieved I am building up in weight right along. I hav already gained five pounds and feel stronger and better than I have since my troubles started three years ago. I am the mother of eighteen children and from this time on I expect for Tanlac to be my family medicine. It is so good that I want to make this statement and help others who need it like I did to know about it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Of Course You Can Pay Much More If You Desire

They are distinctive hats and made so because of their shape, straw and trimming. You are allowed great latitude in the way of shapes — some straight brim sailors or with rolling brims and chin chins and turbans. In many instances they are gaily bedecked with flowers, for this seems to be the spirit of the season.

Such Tempting Prices Should Bring Many Shoppers to the REDFERN STORE on Saturday

Tweed Coats That Will Give Long Service $25 Values, Saturday $21.95

LINDSAY GROCERS HELD A MEETING

CANNOT SEE ANY GOOD TO BE OBTAINED BY MAKING RE. ORTS.

LINDSAY, April 1.—Lindsay grocers held a meeting in the Council chamber and as a result were unanimous in the opinion that a strong protest should be lodged with the Government against what they claim are "unheard of and ridiculous" demands made by the Board of Commerce.

This action was decided on, in conjunction with similar protests from merchants all over the Dominion.

Grocers have recently been asked to fill out daily reports on a large number of articles they buy and sell. The questionaire is an exhaustive one, and it is claimed that grocers have not the time to do this work daily, but would have to employ a special bookkeeper. They also claim that they can see no good results to be accomplished by making out such a report.

For instance the demand is made that when a grocer buys eggs, butter or any other article of produce from a farmer a report must be made daily of the name of the seller, the name of the purchaser, the address of the seller, the price paid, the price sold at, profits made, overhead expense, and a number of other questions.

The same procedure has to be taken in regard to many other articles of groceries and provisions.

OMEMEE THINKS OF THE CHILDREN

BETTER PLAYGROUNDS TO BE PROVIDED FOR THE SCHOOL CHILDREN.

OMEMEE, April 1.—The Omemee School Board, seeing the necessity for better playgrounds for the school, have secured a lease of the armouries property, a fine cement floor being all that is left of the beautiful armouries which was burned shortly after the grand opening. The plan now is to have a first class tennis court for the students and it will also be used for physical culture exercises.

F E SOCIALISTS EXPELLED FROM THE U. S. LOWER HOUSE

Substantial Majorities in Favour of the Action.

(Canadian Press.)

ALBANY, N. Y. April 1.—Five Socialists, Louis Waldman, August Claessens, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. Dewil and Samuel Orr, the entire delegation of their party in New York assembly were expelled from membership in lower house of Legislature early to-day. Majorities in favour of unseating men, suspended on opening day of Legislature session on charges of disloyalty were substantial.

HEIRESS MARRIES AUNT'S CHAUFFEUR

YOUNG STUDENT DROVE HER CAR TO PAY COLLEGE EXPENSES.

NEW YORK, —Yesterday Miss Emma Whitman Knott, who inherited a fortune from her father, Wallace T. Knott, a New York lawyer, and her uncle, Nathaniel Whitman, a silk merchant, was married at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by Dean Howard C. Robbins in the Ambrose Chapel of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, to Carlton George Soule, formerly a chauffeur employed by her aunt, Mrs. Edward S. Isham, of 26 West Thirty-Seventh street.

The marriage was opposed by the bride's relatives and none of them attended the ceremony. Miss Knott was given away by Miss Edith Morrow, of 452 Riverside Drive. Miss Mary Lincoln Beckwith, a great granddaughter of Abraham Lincoln, was the only other witness.

Mr. and Mrs. Soule are both 22 years old. Mrs. Soule attended the Brierly and Westover schools and has been taking special work at Columbia. She has been living with Miss Beckwith at 452 Riverside Drive, where Miss Morrow has been chaperoning them.

Mr. Soule is a son of Elijah Soule, of Manchester, Vermont family. He has been studying in the city for about three years and took the position as chauffeur for Mrs. Isham to help pay his way through the courses. He became acquainted with Miss Knott while driving her about in her aunt's automobile and their acquaintance ripened into a romantic attachment. Together they drove into the country to play golf and in the city they were frequently in each other's company, while Mr. Soule was acting as chauffeur.

FREAK INCIDENTS OF THE TORNADO

Strange Pranks Played by Terrific Wind in U. S. Storm.

NEW YOIK.—A number of freaks of the big storm were reported in messages received here this morning.

In a Chicago suburb a trunk travelled from the garret of one house and lodged in the window of another a hundred feet away.

A lath blown from the Sacred Heart Academy at Melrose Park, Chicago, penetrated a tree seven inches in diameter three hundred feet away.

One-half of the roof of St. Augustin's Episcopal church at Wilmette was cut away and carried more than three blocks, but the parsonage next door was not damaged.

A cow on a farm at North Evanston was blown across a field into a haystack. The haystack had to be torn down to free the animal.

A man and two children were eating their dinner in a portable house on the outskirts of Chicago. Suddenly the house disappeared and all three were blown into an abandoned basement fifty feet away.

At Elgin the wind shattered the big windows of a millinery store. Scores of girls, hurrying along the street in search of shelter, stopped long enough to fit themselves out with new Easter hats free of charge.

The window display of a jewellery store was scattered along the sidewalk and passers-by helped themselves.

FARMERS REFUSE TO SEND CHILDREN TO SCHOOL BY NEW TIME

SYRACUSE, April 1.—T. E. Babcock, secretary of the New York State Federation of Farm Bureau Associations, announced at Ithaca that at community meetings held by farmers yesterday the latter decided they would not conform to the daylight saving law as regards to schools. They stated they would be governed by the old time. Arrangements have been completed by Mr Babcock for meetings in nearly every county of the state to-morrow at which demand will be made for repeal of the daylight saving law. These meetings will also take up the question of pure seed, pure fabrics and good road bills, which are now in the assembly. Immediate action on them is to be urged.

PRESIDENT WILSON CONTROLS TROOPS

FINDS INCREASED SCOPE FOR HIS ONE MAN GOVERNMENT.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—American troops on the Rhine are subject only to the orders of the President of the United States as Commander-in-Chief of the Army, President Wilson wrote Congress to-day in response to a resolution of inquiry adopted by the House.

American troops and the territory they control still are governned by the terms of the armistice, the President said. He disclosed that the American Government has disapproved of plans to have troops and territory placed under the order of the Rhineland High Commission.

Field-Marshal Foch has no authority over the American troops, the President said. Major-General Allen, commanding the forces, has full authority, Mr. Wilson added, "to utilise his troops for policing of the occupied district, the preservation of order, and to repel any attack which may be made upon him."

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. O'GRADY

INDIAN RIVER FAMILY LEAVE FOR COBOURG.

INDIAN RIVER.—On Monday evening of this week about seventy-five friends and neighbors of Mr and Mrs. J. J. O'Grady, met at their home to bid them good-bye on the eve of their departure for their new home near Cobourg ,a very pleasant evening was spent in card playing and music. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. O'Grady were presented with the following address and a handsome pair of arm chairs and a beautiful piece of silverware. Mr. and Mrs. O'Grady both feelingly replied, thanking their friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses and expressing their sorrow in severing their many friendships. The address was read by W. H. Borland and the presentation was made by J. P. Collins and Wm. E. Patterson. Refreshments were then served by the ladies and after hand-shaking and good-byes, the gathering dispersed.

Indian River, March 29th, 1920.

To Mr .and Mrs. O'Grady and Family,

Dear Friends,— We have gathered together to-night to bid you good-bye ere you leave our midst to make your home in another part of our beloved Ontario. We cannot let this occasion pass without trying in some measure to convey to you our appreciation of the many acts of kindness and love which you have always been ready to bestow upon all. Your removal from amongst us breaks up an association of almost half a century. In all these years we have always found you to be a real friend and a careful advisor. May we ask you to accept these gifts as a slight token of the respect and esteem in which you have ever been held, and may we hope that whatever enjoyment they may bring to you may be mingled with sweet memories of days gone by, and rest assured that in your departure you are leaving behind you memories that will ever be fondly cherished.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors.

AFTER EFFECTS OF INFLUENZA OFTEN SERIOUS

VICTIMS ARE LEFT WEAK, TIRED AND MENTALLY DEPRESSED—TONIC TREATMENT IS STRONGLY RECOMMENDED.

No pestilence in years has caused more widespread suffering than the epidemic of influenza which swept over Canada in the fall and winter of 1918-19, and again this winter. The danger from this trouble is seldom over when the characteristic symptoms, the fever, headache and the depression of spirits have passed away. Influenza leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over sensitive nerves. Men and women who were robust before stricken with influenza find their bodies racked by pains previously unknown to them. This condition is due to an abnormal thinning of the blood and leaves the system an easy victim to other serious troubles. This is the time when the convalescent from influenza should build up the blood, with a reliable blood-making tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Weak blood means impoverished nerves, impaired digestion, a feeling of tiredness after even slight exertion, and sometimes even more serious symptoms. When the blood regains its rich red quality the nerves recover their strength and the organs of the body function naturally. In fact building up the blood will vitalize the whole system.

The experience of Mr. Andrew Marty, Bathurst, N. B., will prove of value to a host of influenza sufferers who still suffer from the effects of the disease. Mr. Marty says:—"The new life and consequently new hope brought into my life through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills is almost beyond the power of expression. Following a severe attack of influenza in 1918, I found myself rapidly failing in health, and was naturally much alarmed. I began to lose in weight, could not eat, did not sleep well and in a word I was reduced to a mere shadow. I was forced to discontinue work because of my weakened condition, and things had a very blue outlook. I tried a number of suggested remedies but without benefit. And then one day Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were suggested to me. I acted on my friend's advice, began taking these pills and soon felt an improvement. Every day I seemed to grow stronger and after four weeks' treatment I felt fully restored to my old-time health. From my own experience I feel that if given a fair trial there is no medicine superior to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in building up a run down system."

Dr. Williams Pink Pills are a tonic, not a stimulant. They build up the blood ,and not only the disastrous after effects of influenza but also troubles due to poor blood, such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, and the generally worn out feeling that affects so many people, disappear. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The receipts for March were higher than the same last year: March 1920. $103,717.68; March 1919, $50,596.38.

APPEAL IN BOWLER CASE NOT CONCLUDED

The Osgoode Hall report of the appeal aaginst the local County Court judgment in the case of Bowler vs. Redmond, follows:

Bowler v. Redmond.—R. R. Hall, (Peterboro), for defendant, Vass; G. H. Hatton (Peterboro) for defendant Redmond; G. N. Gordon (Peterboro) for plaintiff. Two appeals one by each defendant, from Judgment of County Court of Peterboro of 19th of January, 1920. Action by plaintiff, a returned soldier, now residing in a Convalescent Home, Toronto, against defendants to recover $855, for moneys, etc., received by defendants from plaintiffs under alleged false and fraudulent misrepresentations. At trial judgment was given plaintiffs against both defendants for $300 and against defendant. Redmond, for the further sum of $148.49, with costs against both of the defendants. Appeals partially argued but not concluded.

HOUSING COMMISSION TO STIMULATE BUILDING

The committee appointed from the Housing Conference on Tuesday night to urge the City Council to provide the Housing Commission with funds for the use of persons desiring to build is composed as follows: George A. Gillespie, chairman, Thomas Barrie, J. J. Duffus, W. H. Bradburn, W. R. Breyfogle, G. O. Cameron, G. N. Gordon, J. W. Fraser, Edgar Worth, George Duncan and Mayor McTatyre. CARD OF THANKS FROM A. SWARTZ

Having sold my business to the Messrs. Botnick Bros., in order to retire for a time, I take this opportunity of returning my thanks to the generous public of Peterborough who have so liberally patronised me during the past twelve years. I think I can safely say that I am leaving with a clean record for honest, straightforward business dealings during all these years.

I hope to be able to "come back" and start business again in the fall, and to receive a further share of your kind patronage.

Yours respectfully,

A. SWARTZ.

April 1st, 1920.

RESIDENTS OBJECT TO THE STORES ON CHARLOTTE STREET

"If they don't like my disposal of the property they can have it for $10.000" Mr. J. E. Lillico told the Examiner this morning, when asked what he would do if the indignation meeting of citizens centering at the corner of Rubidge and Charlotte streets, called to discuss the turning of his new property at that point into stores should become a reality. Mr. Lillico stated that while the building was his and he was figuring on converting it into stores, so far he had no definite idea of who the tenants would be. If a druggist comes along to rent one store he can have it. It makes no difference to me," Mr. Lillico said

Neighbours Indignant.

Rumours and counter rumours of an indignation meeting were not substantiated by any of the neighbours of the new stores but all were equally indignant. "Of course we will have to submit to it," Dr. Wightman remarked. "But we will certainly expect our assessment to be cut in half." Another neighbour said: "It's an abomination, positively an abomination, we don't mind the proposed grocery store because it would shut at 7 o'clock but an ice cream parlour! ! ! ! We would be treated to an abominable music box till midnight" "Absolutely a crime in this neighborhood", another resident of years standing resignedly exclaimed and we don't know what will come next."

And in the mean time the contractors are figuring on the alterations to be done.

SERVICES AT ALL SAINTS' CHURCH GOOD FRIDAY

There will be two services at All Saint's Church Good Friday. One at 11 a.m. with sermon by the Rector and in the evening at 8 o'clock the choir will render Stainer's Crucifixion assisted by Mrs. P. Hooper, violinist and Miss Hinchliffe, soprano, who will sing "Come unto me," from "The Messiah."

NEW CONSTABLE FOR LOCAL FORCE

George Edwards, of Keene, a returned soldier who went overseas with the 93rd and saw long service at the front with the 5th C.M.R., made his debut on the police force this morning.

Mr. Edwards succeeds Constable Smith. He has had much experience in military police work, which should prove valuable in his police work.

PETERBORO'S MOTOR SHOW OUTGROWS ITS LOCAL SCOPE

Every years gains friends and visitors from farther afield fo the local Show. Last year the number of out of town visitors was often remarked most of them coming from within a radius of 40 miles of Peterborough.

As a Motor centre, Peterborough is recognized as one offering facilities that put it in a class with the largest cities of the Dominion, and a knowledge of this fact is spreading.

Owners of practically everyone of the well known makes of cars can find an agency for his particular car in Peterborough when touring.

For instance, the Hudson and Essex cars, sold by White & Ackford, here in Peterborough, are a very popular car for touring.

Watch for the "White Triangle" trade mark at the Motor Show. The Hudson Seven Passenger Touring Phaeton Model, the Four Passenger Sport-Speedster, and different models of the Essex, will be on exhibition. These cars are the product of one of the most complete and extensive five car manufacturing plants on the continent.

Visitors to the 1920 Peterborough Show will enjoy the Llanerchymedd-Llanrhystyd Band Concets—a novelty specialty arranged for.

The dates this year are April. 14, 15, and 16. Come on. It's your Show.

TOM FLANNAGAN IS OFF TO JAMAICA.

Canada is to lose Tom Flannagan. The big Irishman, who has been very prominent in the sporting world for the past fifteen years, has left for Jamaica, where he will make his home in the future. He will locate in Kingston, where he has purchased the controlling interest in a large hotel, and he will also look after the interest of Toronto capitalists who have holdings on the island.

Flannagan will continue his sporting activities in his new home, and the little island will be heard of a great deal oftener as a result of the genial Thomas being one of its inhabitants.

NOTED SINGER AT GRAND THEATRE

EXCELLENT PROGRAMME PROVIDED FOR THE HOLIDAY.

Practically every detail of the picture, "The Great Shadow," might justly be called a feature. To begin with, it is labelled with the magic name of Tyrone Power, who plays the leading role, and who, as the labour leader, excels any previous work done by the eminent actor. The plot is of the most burning questions of the day—Bolshevists working to gain control of the labour unions and assume direction with a view to precipitating a bloody revolution. Just at the crucial moment they are discovered and overcome in time to prevent a natinal calamity by the vigilance of the secret service. In the play the audience is brought into close touch with the Russian Reds, agents of Lenine and Trotsky, working in labour unions, and some surprising revelations are made of the machinations of the Bolshevists, which have actually been going on in all European countries. The play, which is an education in itself, may profitably be seen by employers and employees of the city.

Musical Treat.

In addition to this great feature picture other very entertaining pictures will augment the programme, but of especial interest to music-lovers is the coming at the same time of Madame Loretta Beck, the renowned grand opera soprano. She has a wonderful voice of marvellous power and sweetness, and has appeared in the title role of "Carmen" with Blanchard. She has sung with Caruso and McCormack, and has always been greeted with enthusiasm in other cities. Her coming lends a big opportunity to the theatre-goers of hearing a really great singer. She will be assisted by Mr. J. J. Shea, the conductor of the special orchestra which accompanies the picture, and who was conductor of the production of "Ben Hur" in 1917.

The picture, "The Great Shadow," and the accompanying features will appear to-night, to-morrow, and on Saturday at the Grand Opera House.

CITY LEAGUE DISCUSSES ENTRANCE INTO INTERMEDIATE SERIES OF ONTARIO B.A.A.

At a meeting of the City Baseball League with Vice-President E. J. Ruiter in the chair, three new teams, the Canadian Woollens, the Canadian General Electric Company, and the Thistles, were admitted.

These teams, with the De Laval and the G.W.V.A., outfits will comprise the League membership this season.

The evening was taken up with a discussion of whether or not the City League should enter the Intermediate Series of the Ontario Baseball Association. Some of the delegates present declared that in the interests of baseball, it was preferable that the City League should not affiliate with the O.B.A.A. They pointed out that by remaining out of the Ontario Association all the City League players would be eligible to play for the Peterboro Central League Club.

On the other hand if the City League entered the intermediate O.B.A.A. the Central League team would be handicapped because players would not be able to play in both leagues and men who might be wanted for the Central League team and working in factories represented in the City League, and would have to turn out with the latter.

Other speakers preferred the entrance of the City League into the O.B.A.A., as giving Peterboro two chances in the Ontario series.

The matter was finally left over until the next meeting, which will be held on Wednesday night next.

FOOTBALL.

All present members of the 4th Brigade Machine Gun Battery, and all football enthusiasts who have not signed with any of the other City League football teams, are invited to attend a practice at the armouries to-morrow morning at 9.30 o'clock.

"THE PALISER CASE"

AT THE ALLEN GRIPPING MYSTERY STORY.

The four hundred and the four million; poverty and riches; Washington Square with its bizarre atmosphere, and Long Beach luxury; the cynical inhumaniy of a rich roue, and the noble soul of a self sacrificing woman; the indifference of a modern Don Juan and the devotion of a broken-hearted lover; a great murder climax, and the world's horrified gaze on the woman accused. These are the elements that combine to make "The Paliser Case" the big mystery drama of the hour.

Miss Frederick portrays an individualty with startling effect. To the role of Cassie Cara she has applied all the wealth of a rich imagination, her powerful intelligence, her search for truth.

The simplicity of the struggling singing student in this vehicle of human hearts and touching tragedy is portrayed with a pathetic wistfulness as haunting as the melodies of an inspired violinist. Like a hunted thing she appears at the end of this great drama, panting, struggling, reeling, and pleading through the terrible moments of despair and suspicion to the last thrilling moment of vindication and love.

Father and Son Banquet.

The C.S.E.T. boys gave a banquet in the basement of the Millbrook Methodist church on Friday evening. Mr. J. L. Byam, mentor of he C.S.E. T. Group, was the chairman for the occasion ,and filled the office in a most efficient manner.

The supper was provided by the ladies of the congregation and served by several girls. Over 50 fathers and sons partook of the excellent supper, after which the chairman gave a brief address of welcome.

Several C.S.E.T. songs were sung in which all joined most heartily.

The chairman then called on four of the C.S.E.T. boys to speak on the different standards under the C.S.E. T. programme.

Mr. R. Davidson took the physical standard; Mr. A. Raper, the social; Mr. Frank Alcorn, the intellectual; Mr. Bruce Dawson, the religious.

Rev. S. T. Tucker was then called and gave a very interesting address.

Rev. J. E. Becket of Bethany, the speaker for the evening, then took the floor and gave a talk which was listened to with close attention.

Mr. Monk, the Sup't of the Bethany S. S., also spoke. He congratulated the four C.S.E.T. boys on their splendid addresses.

The Byam quartette rendered several pleasing selections. Votes of thanks to the ladies and To Rev. Mr. Beckel were carried by acclamation. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Miss Bessie Rogers of Toronto, was home over Sunday.

Voice Of The People

Sir: I am surprised at Veteran asking in last night's paper if you are in favor of any bonuses proposed by any of the soldiers' organizations. I read your paper every night and by your knocks towards the bonus schemes it is very plain to see which way you lean. Sir, I would like to draw your attention to a few things: If every soldier in the C.E.F., were to receive one dollar a day for every day's service in the army it would only bring the soldier's pay up to $2.10 per day—very small pay at two ten. The soldiers never reecived any raise in their pay during the five years of the war although he was called upon to pay the high prices for everything that he needed in Canada, England and France. He started with $1.10 per day and finished with $1.10 per day of 24 hours, which makes less than 5c an hour. How much did hundreds of young fellows who should have been in the army, make in 24 hours? I know one young fellow who told me that he made $6 dollars in one week at the Hope Company, and if he could do it, others could do the same. It took the soldiers ten weeks to earn $86—I mean the privates.

Now, Mr. Editor, don't you think that if it was worth $86 a week to make shells it was worth the same to shoot the shells? But no sane man in the army (there were a few sane soldiers) would expect that much.

All the soldier organizations are asking for is $7 per week for the men that actually saw fighting on sea, land or air, not very much after all is it, but I suppose that a man with 1000 days' service looks a little large, as it would mean $1000 for 1000 days.

I hope, Mr. Editor, that the next time the government wants to buy some dead bankrupt stock like the Grand Trunk, you will knock it the same as you do the Vets. Yours truly,

ONE FOR THE VETS.

THE universal desire to make Easter breakfast a really delightful meal, is easily fulfilled by housewives who use

Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon

A few slices of this mild, delicately-cured ham or bacon—cooked to a tempting brown—served sizzling hot—make a meal the whole family will enjoy. For Swift's Premium is outstanding in excellence: the Ham, because of its extra mild cure and juicy tenderness; the Bacon because of its succulent fat and enticingly flavored lean; and both because of their characteristic savouriness due to the exclusive Swift process of selection and curing.

Serve Swift's Premium on your Easter breakfast table and we know you will insist on this brand in future.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Guaranteed to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

Weak, tired people regain strength and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks.

CAUTION:— While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE GIVES HIMSELF UP AT REQUEST OF WAR BRIDE

SOLDIER WHO ESCAPED FROM PRISON SERVED IN WORLD WAR AND THEN MARRIED AN ENGLISH GIRL.

PITTSBURG, April 1. — Heeding the request of his war bride, an English girl, that he surrender himself to the police and serve the remainder of a penitentiary sentence which was interrupted by his escape from the Rockview, Pa., prison in August, 1917, Walter Dress is in a cell at the Western penitentiary at Woods Run, near here, to-day.

Dress appeared at the penitentiary gate yesterday, informed the guard he was a fugitive from justice, and asked that he be allowed to enter. He told prison officials that shortly after his escape he enlisted in the army, and was sent to England, where he married. He served in France, he said, and after the war came to the United States, where his wife joined him

Mrs. Dress recently learned that he was a fugitive from justice, he told the authorities, and she urged him to surrender, saying she would go to work and support herself until he returned from jail.

MLLE. LENGLEN ADVISES WOMEN IN TENNIS

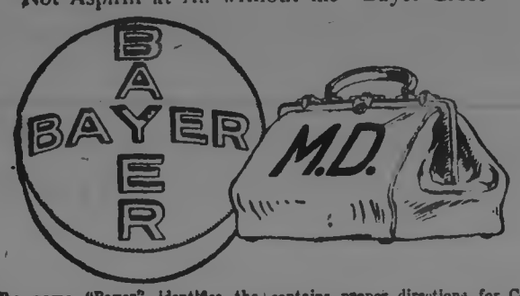
Followers of tennis in this country who still hope that Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, champion of Europe, will make a visit to America next Summer, are greatly interested in a book that the French girl has written on the court game. Her advice to girl players who wish to excel at tennis is embodied in the following:

"My favorite place is at the net, and I get there on the first chance. Tennis would seldom be dull if girls feared to volley. From first to last my father has been my only coach. After he had coached me for a good while he made a careful selection of the best strokes of first-class players —strokes in which the player had specialized. Only men's strokes were taken. I was to learn, as far as possible, to play like a man, I was to aim at getting the same results as they did, but in my own way.

"There is only one stroke I ever conscientiously tried to copy, and that is the forehand drive of the great Mr. Wilding. I take this stroke as high as possible so as to avoid any curve on the ball. I do not attempt to put top spin on the ball. I am also careful to keep well away from the ball and play the stroke without bending my arm. Balance of the body is most important. Without perfect balance it is impossible to execute strokes well. I pay great attention to this. I advise all girls to take one stroke at a time, as I did, and practice it diligently."

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"



The name "Bayer" identifies the only genuine Aspirin,—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years and now made in Canada. Always buy an unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" which contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Joint Pains, and Pain generally. Tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

OBITUARY

THOMAS JOHNSTON

The death occurred yesterday at his home in Otonabee Township of Thomas Johnston, aged 31 years after an illness of some weeks duration from pneumonia.

The deceased was well known and highly respected in the community and his death at such an early age has caused deepest regret. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, Otonabee he leaves a wife and two small children. The sympathy of the entire community will be extended to the deceased's family.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 12 o'clock from the family residence Otonabee to the Church of the Sacred Heart and thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

JAMES S. McNEIL.

On Wednesday evening, March 24, 1920, there passed to his reward an old and respected citizens of Otonabee in the person of the late James S. McNeil. Deceased was born on the farm on which he died seventy one years ago, by a life of honesty and integrity he enjoyed in a marked degree the respect and esteem of the entire community, he was always ready and willing to assist in any movement that made for the improvement of things both spiritual and temporal.

Deceased was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church.

Some two years ago he suffered a slight stroke from the effects of which it was hoped he would recover, but all that loving care and the best medical skill could accomplish he gradually grew weaker and quietly passed away to be forever with the Lord. The sad death of his eldest son, five weeks ago no doubt hastened the end.

A large concourse of friends and relatives conveyed the remains to Keene Cemetery, where they were laid reverently away the Rev. Mr. McEachern officiating. To the family the sympathy of the community goes out in a marked degree.

ROBERT N. NEILL.

The death of Mr. Robt. N. Neill, proprietor of the well-known chain of stores, the home of "Reliable Shoes" at Peterborough, Lindsay, Woodstock, Barrie, Brockville, Guelph, Chatham and Galt, took place Thursday afternoon, March 25th, following a somewhat lingering illness, and will be received with considerable regret by a host of friends in Peterborough, as well as in other towns and cities.

The late Robt. Neill was a man among men. He was a big man in the business world, a man of ideals, a man of principle and sterling character, a friend of men, and a true Christian gentleman. He was revered by his family, honored by his intimate associates and beloved by his employees, and his death will leave a void, not only in the business world, but in the community of Peterborough, where he made his home.

Started in Barrie.

The late Robt. Neil was a son of the late Robert Neill, the family being noted in the shoe world. The first store was opened in Barrie, from which others grew, all the Neill sons being engaged in business. With the passing of the father, the business was gradually taken over by the son, the late Robt. Neill, whose wonderful capacity for business and straightforward aggressiveness was the means of building up a fine chain of stores, with headquarters at Peterborough. Here the firm has one of the finest stores in Canada, a store erected with all the latest equipment, following the recent big fire.

Mr. Neill took an active interest in outdoor sports, and was a huntsman of marked ability and an enthusiastic golfer. He was also a curler and a great lover of the game. His association with the above three lines of manly sport linked him closely with men in all walks of life, and he was always the hale fellow well met

In religion the deceased gentleman was a prominent member of Trinity Methodist church.

He leaves to mourn his loss a dear old mother at Brantford, a loving wife (formerly a Miss Mercer, of Peterborough), three daughters, one son, two brothers and three sisters. The family are: Mrs. Hugh McLaughlin, (Toronto), now in England, Margaret at home in Peterborough, and Agnes attending college at Toronto; also Robert, who recently returned from overseas, and is engaged in the business at Peterborough. The brothers are: Sam of Toronto and Nathaniel of Brantford. The sisters are: Mrs. B. F. Reesor and Mrs. A. E. Gregory, of Lindsay, and Mrs. J. Finn, of Toronto.

MRS. JOHN WILLIAMS.

Martha Holland, beloved wife of John Williams, 520 Sherbrooke street, died this afternoon at the family residence after a long illness. Deceased, who had resided in the city for a number of years, leaves of the immediate family besides her husband, four daughters, Mrs. Menzies, Mrs. Harold Gray, Mrs. Joseph Henderson and Mrs. P. L. Brown, all residing in the city.

The funeral announcement will be made later

A DANGEROUS WARNING —BLEEDING GUMS

Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhea.

This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth, but often wrecks the health.

In Pyorrhea, the gums become spongy, then recede; the teeth decay, loosen, and fall out—or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases.

You can keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums prevents Pyorrhea—or checks its progress, if used in time and used consistently Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean.

Start using it today. If your gums have receded, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

THAT NEW CAR OF YOURS.

When your new car is delivered, remember that all working parts are new, fitted very tightly, and should be handled slowly until the car is run several hundred miles. It is advisable to drive slowly and carefully for the first 500 miles, giving such parts as motor bearings, pistons, and various other parts fitted tightly a chance to wear in somewhat. See that your car has been gone over thoroughly for oil and grease, particularly the motor, transmission, rear axle, and all grease cups. The radiator should be flushed out and filled with clean water, as sediments of solder or other foreign matter sometimes remain in new radiators, and many work into water pump, or other working parts, causing damage.

Have the storage battery examined to note that same is properly charged and full enough of distilled water. Often new cars remain in storage before delivery is made, which would cause the battery to run low from standing. If the battery is used in this weakened condition, it often happens the entire battery is ruined.

OVERWORKED RUN-DOWN MEN

Vinol Will Enrich Your Blood and Restore Your Strength, Vitality, Energy and Vim

Recommended by Physicians, and Guaranteed by Druggists

Men who are over-worked, run down, nervous, lack energy and working strength, we know that VINOL is just what you need, as it increases the red corpuscles, enriches the blood, quickens the circulation and imparts strength and vigor to every organ and muscle in the body.

The reason VINOL is so successful is because it is a combination of the oldest and most successful tonics known. Iron, Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Glycerophosphates, etc., and what VINOL did for Mr. Joseph J. McDougall, of Cape Breton, N. S., it will do for every weak, run-down, nervous, over-worked man.

Mr. McDougall says:

"I am a farmer and was overworked, run-down and weak. My druggist recommended VINOL. It built me up and made me strong. I also gained in flesh. Other members of my family have also used it with splendid results."

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children there is no remedy like VINOL.

Your druggist will return your money if it fails to benefit you.

WEDDING BELLS

HEAFIELD—PURSGLOVE.

Yesterday afternoon, in All Saints' Church, the wedding was quietly solemnised, Rev. R. B. Grobb officiating, of Alice Pursglove and F. M. Heafield, both residents of the city and choristers of All Saints' for some years.

On entering the church, the bride was met by the choir, who sang "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden" as a processional. During the signing of the register, Mr. George Chandler sang "O Promise Me." The wedding music was rendered by Miss M. Flowers, the organist of the church.

After the ceremony, the wedding party gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs. Alcock, 577 Bolivar Street, where a reception was held. Numerous and costly gifts testified to the popularity of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Heafield will reside at Charlbond Apartments, Charlotte Street.

LAING—WARE.

The marriage took place at 5.30 on Saturday in the Church of St. James the Apostle, Montreal, of Miss Irene Manon Ware, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Ware, to Mr. Richard Ross Laing, B.Sc.. The chancel of the church was decorated with Easter lilies. Palms, primroses, and Easter lilies were arranged on the altar. The Rev. Canon Shetford performed the ceremony. Mr. Ware gave his daughter away, and she was attended by Mrs. Francis T. Cuttle as matron of honour, and two bridesmaids, Miss Winifred Findlay and Miss Margaret Smith. Mr. Savigny Laing, Toronto, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. James Ross, Mr. Jackson Rutherford, and Mr. Arthur Ware, the bride's brother.

The bride wore a gown of ivory charmeuse, the front of the skirt being of real lace and charmeuse, and made with pointed tunic. The bodice was of satin finished with real lace around the neck and straps of real lace over the shoulders, and short satin sleeves and a long court train lined with pale pink georgette, and trimmed with a lover's knot of pearls. Her tulle veil was arranged in Russian style, with a pearl and brilliant ornament, and was caught to the end of her train with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Easter lilies and sweet peas, and wore the bridegroom's gift, a pearl ring surrounded with diamonds.

A reception was held after the ceremony at 118 Vandom Avenue, the residence of the bride's parents, and Easter lilies formed the decoration for the interior.

Mr. Laing and his bride left for Atlantic City, Washington, and New York. On their return they will reside at Shawinigan Falls, Quebec.

Mr. Laing is a son of Mr. Robert Laing, formerly of Peterborough, now of Montreal.

Prepared to Crush Any Attempt at an Uprising in Ireland

DUBLIN RESEMBLES AN ARMED CAMP AND SOLDIERS WITH FULL WAR EQUIPMENT ARE EVERYWHERE.

BITTER FEELING

(United Press.)

DUBLIN, April 3 (By Webb Miller).—The British military authorities throughout Ireland to-day were prepared to crush ruthlessly any attempt at an Easter uprising.

Dublin resembled an armed camp. Soldiers, with full marching equipment, were everywhere. They jostled the townspeople in the streets, but a general spirit of good nature prevailed.

Sinn Fein leaders scoffed at the idea of a rebellion. They intimated that the rumour had been started merely as a part of the Sinn Fein plan of political agitation to embarrass the British authorities.

Military officials believed the only possibility of an outbreak was in the Cork district, where feeling has been particularly bitter since the assassination of Thomas McCurtain, the Lord Mayor.

The inquest over MacCurtain's death was to be continued to-day.

Sinn Feiners predicted that the jury would find that he was killed by the police.

(Canadian Press.)

BELFAST, April 3.—In addition to pronounced military activity in the vicinity of Londonderry to-day, all roads about the town are being patrolled. Passengers who arrived by Scotch boat at Londonderry were searched by the police. Meanwhile violent scenes were reported taking place among Sinn Fein prisoners confined in Londonderry jail. Unusual activity was displayed by authorities at Dundalk, special patrols being posted at all approaches to the town.

PRINCE WILL GIVE A PUBLIC ADDRESS

(United Press.)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 3.—Annoucement that the Prince of Wales, who is expected to arrive here next Wednesday en route to Australia, will deliver a public address here, was contained in wireless advices received yesterday from the commander of the battle cruiser Renown, on which he is proceeding up the Pacific Coast from the Panama Canal.

The Prince will be met on the Renown here by a committee, including Robert Wood Bliss, representing President Wilson, Governor Wm. D. Stephens of California, and Mayor Louis J. Wilde of San Diego. The party will go to the Dreadnought New Mexico, flagship of Admiral Hugh Rodman, for luncheon.

INSPECTED LOCAL MACHINE GUNNERS

PROPOSAL TO RAISE A CADET CORPS.

Col. Walker, D.S.O., M.C., Inspector-General of Machine Corps, accompanied by Capt. Edwards, M.C., Adjutant of the Brigade, arrived in the city Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of inspecting the Peterboro Company of the 4th Canadian Machine Gun Brigade. Major Miller, D.S.O., M.C., 2nd in Comand of the Brigade met them at the Empress Hotel and accompanied them to the Armouries at 8.30 p.m.

In the absence of Capt. Fraser, M.C., the company was formed up under the command of Capt. Cobb, M.C., with Lieut. Perry, M.C., Lieut. Brooks, M.M. and Sergt. McCliesh in charge of Batteries and Capt. Dodds as Transport Officer.

Capt. Cobb called the company to attention and gave the salute. After Col Walker had met all the officers on parade, the company was again called to attention, the ranks were opened and the inspection was proceeded with.

During this time the steadiness of the men was noticed and favorably commented upon. They had evidently been looking forward to this, their first inspection, and it was particularly pleasing to see the keen interest manifested, not only in the neatness, correctness and uniformity of their dress, but in the very attitude of the men themselves. This is a very encouraging sign and means much to the future of the unit.

The company was put through various movements by the Company Commander and later the Battery Commanders took charge of their Batteries and carried on additional exercises.

After which the company was again formed into line and Col. Walker, in a few words, expressed himself as very much pleased with their appearance and drill. They had turned out for inspection better and stronger than the Kingston company and were considerably ahead of Ottawa. He congratulated the officers on the good type of men they had secured and assured them they had taken the right step in getting hold of the young man. While it was necessary to have a certain number of veterans to organize and put the corps on a sound working basis, it was the not the veteran in person they wanted to enlist, but his moral support in raising and training the coming generations physically and morally to become good and true Canadian citizens.

With this end in view, it is proposed to raise in due time a Cadet Corps in affiliation with the Company where boys can be trained along somewhat similar lines. This will provide a good recruiting grounds for the Company, and a much healthier form of exercise and recreation than that indulged in by many of our young men and boys to-day.

The machine gun is a most interesting piece of mechanism, and what boy has not an interest for things mechanical, and whose ambition is to have somekind of a machine of hih own to operate. Therefore for this and other reasons this unit must certainly have attraction for the young man of intelligence.

Two guns are already on their way from Kingston and the others will be forwarded as soon as possible. At present the guns are mounted on tri-pods but a carriage, hauled by drag-ropes is being designed, upon which the gun can be mounted and used similar to artillery. This will make the gun more mobile and useful and the drill more interesting to all concerned.

It is proposed to supply uniforms to officers on repayment and this will relieve them of much expense in connection with outfitting themselves. Once the organization has been thoroughly established and in good working order all promotions will be made from the ranks. This is one more step in placing the Field Marshal's Baton within reach of every man in the ranks.

It is proposed to form a bugle band in connection with the Company and fife and drums will be added later. A good bugler, to take the training in hand, has already been secured and steps will be taken soon to approach the citizens of Peterboro with the object of having them provide the necessary musical equipment.

BOLSHEVIK LAUNCHES A NEW DRIVE

ATTACKS ON BOTH SIDES OF THE RIVER DVINA—LETTS FIGHTING.

THE COMMUNIQUE

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, April 3. — Bolsheviki launched attacks yesterday on both sides of the River Dvina, apparently in beginning of their threatened drive on the northern front, designed to carry them in the direction of Vilna. Fighting at various points of this front is reported in Lettish communiques to-day. One of the Lettish statements annouces the repulse of a Bolshevik attack in the region of Lake Osveia. Fighting is reported particularly severe in the vicinity of Dedine, along the northern banks of Dvina. Bolshevik forces attacked Polish lines near Lepel, east of Vilna and north of Borisov on Thursday, but were repulsed according to an official statement issued at army headquarters here.

RUSSIAN TRADE COMMISSION TO OREN UP TRADE

Canadian Press.

COPENHAGEN, April 3. — A Russian trade commission headed by M. Nogin, the Minister of Commerce in the Lenine Cabinet, and M. Rosovsky, accompanied by twenty four experts in trade and engineering, arrived here from Moscow yesterday.

Nogin said that after a short stay in Denmark it was the intention of the commission to proceed to London and perhaps later on to the United States.

It was the desire of the commission, Nogin said, to get in touch with the merchants and manufacturers in the allied countries and start trade between them and Russia as soon as possible.

"Ships already are loading at Petrograd with flax, hemp, bristles and other commodities," said Nogin, and will sail as soon as the ice breaks, but our main raw materials, including grain cannot be exported until we have an improved transport system. We propose to buy locomotives and rolling stock paying for them to some extent in gold."

Nogin said there were many millions of pounds of grain in Russia but that the peasants demanded in return for it goods and agricultural implements.

He declared that the delegation contemplates offering concessions to foreigners for the establishment of manufacturers in the mining regions of the rural and Altai districts and likewise to offer timber concessions partcularly in North Russia.

Now is the time for all economical men to sift the ashes and bank the home fires early.

MARINE BRIGADE WILL NOT DISARM

(United Press.)

BERLIN, April 3.—The marine brigade, under Captain Ehrhardt, which furnished the military backbone of the Von Kapp insurrection of March 13, has not disbanded, and will not disband, one of its high officials told the United Press to-day.

"Who is going to disarm us?" he said significantly. "This affair hasn't ended."

The brigade has no intention of allowing the government to fulfill its promise to see that the marines were disarmed, the officer said. He entered Berlin from Doebritza camp, a short distance outside of the city, and walked the streets without fear of arrest.

$50,000 For City

EASTER PRESENT FROM THE GOVERNMENT, TO BE USED ON BRIDGE.

The cheque for $50,000 from the Dominion Government towards the construction of the Hunter Street Bridge came in yesterday's mail for the City Treasurer.

The chairman of the Special Bridge Committee, Alderman James Hamilton, wrote recently asking them to forward the cheque as soon as possible, and giving a detailed account of the moneys already spent on the bridge and the progress of the work.

RAILWAY BOARD TO MEET HERE

WILL DISCUSS PROTECTION FOR C.P.R. CROSSING.

The Railway Board from Ottawa, composed of two members, Messrs. Goodeve and Boyce, meet in this city on the morning of the 15th inst., in the Council Chambers, to discuss protection for pedestrians at the C. P. R. crossing at Hunter Street on the Quaker Oats siding.

City Clerk Armstrong stated that so far as he knew this was the only business on the slate.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR THE LAST WEEK

Except for the large $60,000 building permit for the Canadian Packing Co., previously anounced, the building permits for the last week were all small fry. They were:

D. Moher, 297 Wescott Street, a kitchen—$100.

Cecil Bradley, 519 Romaine Street verandah.

Mrs. James S. Pickering, 513 Albert Street, portable henhouse—$30.

THE WEATHER

Good Friday was ushered in with lowering skies and a heavy downpour of rain in the afternoon—conditions becoming to the religious significance of the day. The rain totalled .20. Several persons have remarked that it usually rains on Good Friday. While this is frequently the case, it does not always occur. Good Friday of last year was a fine day, and Good Friday of the previous year was a particularly beautiful day. For a number of years previous to that, however, the weather was bad. Easter Sunday, on the contrary, as its significance implies, is generally a fine and bright day, and the conditions at the present time are in favor of such a day to-morrow.—W.P.

UNITED STATES WILL NOT BE REPRESENTED

LONDON, April 3.—United States will not be represented in any capacity on the special commission which the League of Nations recently decided to send to Russia. This announcement was made by the League of Nations yesterday.

RESTATED POSITION OF FRENCH

GERMANY ASKED TO WITHDRAW GERMAN TROOPS IN RUHR DISTRICTS.

DANGER PASSED

(United Press.)

PARIS, April 3.— Premier Millerand to-day sent a new note to Dr. Wilhelm Von Mayer, the German Charge D'Affaires, inviting immediate withdrawal of German troops in the Ruhr district.

Millerand restated France's position. He insisted France had the right to occupy Rhine cities if Germany's violation of the peace treaty continued.

France, it was understood, took the position to-day that the danger of the Ruhr revolt had passed and that the Soviet threat was a German subterfuge to avoid fulfillment of the peace treaty.

News despatches from the disordered area bore out the French contention ,declaring the armed revolt had collapsed and that the workmen's Red army was surrendering its guns.

PRESENTATION TO DORRIS TRIPLETS

DELEGATION FROM THE CITY COUNCIL PRESENTED SILVER CUPS.

Yesterday afternoon ,was an auspicious occasion in the life of the triplets of Mr. Albert Dorris, 489 Bolivar street ,when members of the City Council, Mayor A. A. McIntyre and City Clerk S. A. Armstrong assembled at the home to present the three smiling little ones with the silver cups donated by the City Council last year. The children were born on June last and in view of the unusual event in this city the City Council ordered three handsome silver cups for the children and a gold piece for the proud mother. Various delays had occurred in their delivery and the presentation had to be postponed until the cups finally arrived, and yesterday was fixed as a suitable date.

The representatives of the city were Mayor McIntyre, Alderman Crowe, chairman of the Reception committee, who had charge of the presentation and the arrangements, Aldermen Morrison, Turner, Gainey, Phelan, Copping and Whitehouse.

The cups, suitably inscribed, were presented to Master Michael Joseph and Robert James and Miss Kathleen by Alderman Crowe and the gold piece to the mother and he spoke in laudatory terms of the mother and the fine healthy children she had brought into the world. Mayor McIntyre spoke briefly, also congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Dorris on their fine children, and several of the aldermen spoke in the same terms as the Mayor.

Needless to say, Mr. and Mrs. Dorris are very proud of their little sons and daughter and of the honor conferred on them by the city and the church and the interest of the citizens in their welfare.

STRIKE IS STILL IN PROGRESS IN NEW YORK CITY

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, April 3.—Traffic in New York Harbour was still curtailed to-day by the strike of the harbour employees, but the ferry lines, except those of the Erie and West Shore Railroad, were operating on virtually normal schedule.

Railroad officials claimed that while many tugs, lighters, and barges were out of service; all danger of interruption of the food and coal supplies had been averted.

Union officials reasserted that the harbour would be tied up before nightfall, claiming that a misunderstanding in the orders yesterday had prevented all the workers from joining the strike.

The Financial and Industrial Outlook Is Still Promising

THE STOCK MARKET HAD A LIGHT WEEK—WILL ORGANIZE CREDIT COMPANIES.

MARKET COMMENT

Canadian Press:

NEW YORK, April 3.—Easter holidays reduced this week's dealings in the Stock Market to four sessions, but trading during that short period was characterized by considerable irregularity. Events in the broader field of finance constituted outstanding factors, the market itself being given over almost entirely to professional interests, whose operations at times indicated widely divergent views. International conditions, so far as they related to London, reflected further marked improvement, but the exchange on allied countries, especially France and Italy, was weak. Latest reports show that Britain's foreign trade is fast returning to pre-war volume.

Negotiations were said to be approaching completion for the organization of several credit companies to handle exports from this market. One of these will deal exclusively with metal, that industry, especially copper, already anticipating an extensive demand. The money market was again stringent as the result of heavy calling of loans by local and interior banks to meet interest and dividend payments maturing at the opening of the year's second quarter. Call money rules at eight per cent., but the supply of time funds was negligible.

In general, the domestic, financial, and industrial outlook continues promising, but foremost banking interests are agreed that reserves of the Federal Reserve Bank are still so low as to require a further reduction of unessential credits.

BIG RECEPTION TO THE PRINCE

(United Press.)

BRIDGETOWN, April 3.—The Prince of Wales was given a wonderful reception in this island last week. On two succeeding evenings he attended balls given in his honor and danced with very great pleasure, his partners being daughters of leading planters.

On the occasion of a public reception he took occasion to refer to the proposed sale of the West Indies to the United States. His remarks made a great hit with his audience. In part he said: "What an idea, the King's subjects are not for sale to other governments. Their destiny as freemen is in their own hands."

UNION SERVICE WELL ATTENDED

PRESIDENT OF MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION PRESIDED.

A Union Good Friday service was held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Ministerial Association. Rev. F. E. Malott, president of the Ministerial Association, presided, and was assisted by the other ministers of the city.

Two short addresses were given, one by Rev. F. E. Malott and one by Rev. J. R. Webb. The theme of both addresses was appropriate to the occasion, and led the audience in thoughts back to the Crucifixion, which the service commemorated.

The hymns chosen were in accord with the thought of the service, and a feature of the service was the repeating of the Apostle's Creed by all present.

Special prayers were offered by Venerable Archdeacon Davidson.

TAILORS ARE OUT ON STRIKE IN THE WESTERN CAPITAL

Want $45 a Week and Shorter Hours. Belong to the O.B.U.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, April 1.— By unanimous vote about three hundred tailors and tailoresses who are members of the Winnipeg unit of the One Big Union, decided last night to go on strike to-day. They are demanding a wage of $45 a week of 44 hours.

From a magazine—"Then she boiled two potatoes which she found in one corner of an empty bag and made a pot of coffee."

The Daily Moto' Sho' Mote

Vol. 1 No. 3. PETERBORO Ontario

Did you ever hear of such a thing? Why, we wouldn't have a matter of this kind get into the papers for worlds. This chap breezes into the office and started the argument. Look at him, just look at him. Says he's from Aberystwith, Wales, and insists that we have left out four L's in the name of the Llanerchymedd-Llanrhystyd Band, recently engaged to give Wandering Concerts at the MOTOR SHOW, APRIL 14, 15, and 16.

We told him gently, but firmly, that before engaging the Band that the Committee had seen them performing, and we are satisfied that any present lack of L's will be supplied by the Band in due time. The nerve of some people anyway.

Special Edition of the MOTE on Monday—if the Beams don't interfere.

NO WORK ON SATURDAYS.

Australian Unions Favour 5-Day Week.

(Canadian Press.)

SYDNEY, N.W.S., April 3.—There is a very definite movement among the trade unions of Australia generally in favor of cutting out Saturday work. The idea is "forty-four hours and a five-day week." Some of the more extreme and irresponsible unions demand forty and even thirty-six hours a week. Among the unions which favor the five days' week are some of the better class of artisans. The Amalgamated Society of Engineers, Sydney, has voted solidly for the elimination of Saturday work, and is now considering how it is going to bring about the reform.

MARVELLOUS TEST.

Music by Wireless Telephone.

(Canadian Press.)

VICTORIA, B.C., April 3.—Music from an ordinary phonograph was sent flying across the city and was picked up and heard so plainly by J. H. Beatty and E. J. Haughton, Dominion Wireless Superintendent, out at the wireless station at Gonzales Hill, that they clasped hands and began to dance. "It will only be a short time now before the people will sit in their homes and clubs and listen to notable men orating in some half hundreds of miles away," said W. K. Golden, of San Francisco, who is here making the wireless telephone tests.

ONE FAMILY LOSES FIVE IN ONE WEEK.

Sad Case of Family Stricken by "Flu"

(Canadian Press.)

PIERSON, Man., April 3.—Five members of a family of seven, died within a week from influenza here recently. The father, I. R. Melvin, and two daughters died first and then the mother and one daughter a few days later. Two other members of the family are recovering.

EARLY CLOSING THIS YEAR.

Steps Taken to Ensure a Sufficient Supply of Teachers.

(Canadian Press.)

EDMONTON, Alta., April 3.—The closing of the normal schools at Calgary and Camrose by April 16, two weeks earlier than usual, has been announced. This step has been decided upon in order to make available a supply of teachers for the early opening of the rural schools of the province. The total number of teachers released from these provincial schools will be 425, and together with a number of university students who will be available, the supply of teachers will be sufficient to enable every school in the province to operate at an early date.

FIFE & SCOLLARD

In books of travel there is not the same danger of being misled, although amongst them also one may occasionally encounter obstacles. Such titles, for instance, as "Far Off," "Incidents of a Collector's Rambles," and "A Surgeon's Log," do not afford one a very definite idea of the contents. But titles like these have their uses in compelling anyone curious enough, to examine them and find out what they really are about.

Debt of Gratitude.

We owe an immeasurable debt of gratitude to those who have journeyed to the far places of the earth and written down the accounts of their travels. Through their efforts, at little expense to ourselves, we can also become globe-trotters. We can travel in the trains of monarchs and of ambassadors, visit the ruined cities of the ancients, explore mysterious caverns and grottoes, plunge into the jungles of India to hunt the wild boar and tiger, or pursue the dacoits of Burmah in their marshy recesses. We can travel with Younghusband or Savage Landor to Thibet and unveil the secrets that have for untold centuries been shrouded in the sacred city of the Dalai Lama, or returning over the mountain slopes from that lofty region, mingle with the hosts of India and study their varied manners and customs.

India is one of the most interesting countries in the world. In the architectural splendour of its palaces and temples, in the magnificence of its native princes, in its fauna and flora and in its variegated scenery it stands almost unrivalled.

The story of the struggle for its possession reads like a romance. Dutch, Portuguese, British and French all strove for the prize, and many a name entered on Britain's scroll of honour won its meed of fame on its distant battle-fields.

My own acquaintance with India and what memories I retain of it, were acquired at a very early period of my existence, for I left it at the age of seven, but I was old enough to have imprinted on my mind certain incidents and scenes which the lapse of many years has failed to entirely obliterate. Misty visions of a snake-charmer who gave an exhibition of his powers in my father's cantonment, of a mighty river flowing between buildings that lined its banks, and of two or three bodies floating down on the current with big-beaked birds pecking at them, pass through my mind. Also a trip to the lower ranges of the mighty Himalayas, where we lived for a short time in a sort of magnified hut, whilst my father was convalescing from an attack of jungle fever. But more vivid memories arise of the journey home, which occupied almost two months, and which we made in a sailing vessel. We brought home with us a native ayah or nurse, named Bunnoo. She was most devoted to us, but I retain the most lively remembrance of her through her inordinate devotion to her hookah. It was her constant solace. I can see her now, squatted contentedly on the ground in our back lawn, smoking away at it whilst watching us at our play. Of the voyage home three incidents remain in my mind. First of all, a man fell overboard, from the rigging, and was drowned. I can see him yet, being carried away by the swaling seas and can hear the horror-struck cries of his companions. The next event was the capture of a shark. It had been noticed following the vessel for several days and the sailors determined to try and catch it. A tremendous iron hook, baited with a large piece of pork, was passed over the stern and the end of the line tied to the base of one of the masts. It was not long before the monster was hooked, but the exciting time came when the men hauled him on to the deck. The shark flopped from side to side in terrific attempts to get loose, whilst the sailors, naked-footed, jumped round about him, hacking at him with their axes. He was a fearful-looking sight by the time they got through with him, and the deck was a fearful-looking sight, too. The third event was the death of our captain. He was buried at sea, and, young as I was, the solemnity of that burial service has always remained in my mind.

Nearer Home.

There are places much nearer home than India to which we may travel and see things which are, in their way, quite as interesting as anything that the East can show us. The British Isles have a history which can challenge comparison with any country. Every county teems with romance. There is hardly a foot of land which is devoid of interest to the archaeologist, to the sight-seer or the historian. In our Library we have about sixteen volumes, dealing with as many countries. Looking into one on Dorsetshire, my attention was immediately arrested. It was like renewing old associations to accompany the writer in his wandering along the coast, and to certain places inland. The first name that caught my eye was Weymouth, first made known to the fashionable world by Ralph Allen, the owner of Prior Park at Bath, and the friend of Pope. But the town is chiefly associated in my mind with Portland Prison, which is separated from the town proper by a long strip of narrow shingle, called Chesil Beach. Portland Prison is one of the best known prisons in England, and has been mentioned in many books. Possibly the best-known is one called "Broken Bonds," by the late Hawley Smart. An influential gentleman, armed with an order from Mr. Cross, the then Home Secretary, got entrance for me with him into the prison, and we made a complete tour of the buildings and also of the quarries where the men were at work. We came across more than one man with the ominous letters, P.S.L., emblazoned on his convict jacket. It was an interesting experience but a gloomy one. When we entered the Governor's quarters we were told of a daring attempt that had been made some time before by a convict who, in an attempt to escape, entered the Governor's house, stole a suit of his clothes and got as far as the station. Here he was pounced upon and brought back. There are very few records of escapes from that formidable pile. Turning over the pages of the book many familiar scenes were brought to light. Charmouth was one, with its steep street, at the bottom of which stands the church and at the top the tavern, and of which one of my facetious companions remarked that it reversed the usually accepted order of things, as it showed the pathway to Heaven to lie below and to Hell above. From Charmouth to Lyme Regis is only a short distance, and a walk along the cliffs soon brings you from one place to the other. At the foot of the cliffs we came upon a recently discovered specimen of an ichthyosaurus, which had been dug up by some noted palaeontologist from the cliff and was awaiting removal to a museum.

In the old days the coast of Dorset was a great smuggling centre, and the inhabitants of Lyme Regis and of Charmouth, and further down the coast, of Beer, were notoriously addicted to that illicit calling.

The books relating to the counties of England that are in our possession belong to the Highways and Byways series. They comprise the following: Middlesex, Surrey, Kent, Sussex, Hampshire, Berkshire, Dorsetshire, Devon and Cornwall, Somerset, Hertfordshire, Derbyshire, East Anglia, Yorkshire, Lake District, North Wales, South Wales.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

The amount of information that can be obtained by merely "browsing" among the books in a library is astonishing. By "browsing" is meant something more than passing along and glancing at the titles. Titles do not tell us very much and of what they do tell a considerable proportion is apt to be distinctly misleading.

An entertaining narrative might be written concerning the ludicrous mistakes that have been made by borrowers in hurriedly taking out books, trusting to the promise that their titles held out to them. Not so many months ago, a reader, seeing that a certain book was advertised as having been received at the Library, rushed up post-haste to get it, and conveyed it home in triumph. He brought it back the next day, a most disappointed individual, for, although bearing the same title as the book he had been anxious to obtain, it happened to be a totally different one of a strongly religious flavor.

The Most Artistic Roof

is the one that completely harmonizes with the design and finishing of the house. For this reason there is a steadily increasing demand for Brantford Asphalt Slates for the modern style of homes.

Brantford Asphalt Slates have a surface of crushed slate embedded into our asphalt coating, the base of the roofing being felt saturated with asphalt. They are cut the size of shingles, and their beautiful soft colors of reddish brown and dark green give a roof a most artistic appearance. The colors are the natural shades of the slate as it comes out of the quarries. Brantford Asphalt Slates are, therefore, unfadeable—never require painting.

Brantford Asphalt Slates

are accurate in size and pliable, which makes them very easily handled and quickly-laid, saving time and labor, and therefore costing less to lay.

Brantford Asphalt Slates make an artistic, durable and economical roof. Booklet describing them mailed on request.

Music—
Once Considered a Luxury Now a Necessity.

IT has not really changed. It was always a necessity. An all wise Creator, when he placed man with his delicately adjusted organism, his nerves, his moods, his passions in a world of toil, of joy and of sorrow, of weariness and exhilaration, gave him music to harmonize his very nature with his surroundings.

But man did not always know what Music meant to him. He put it on a pedestal to be enjoyed by the cultured few.

The war has given us a new viewpoint. A weary, exhausted and nerve-racked humanity called upon Music for relief and received it. Gloom gave way to hope and refreshed energy took up the tasks which had seemed so heavy. It was music which kept up the spirits of the people and brought us success.

Music is rendering the same service today in the time of peace, for we still need refreshed energy, clear vision and a brave spirit.

INCULCATE in your children a love of Music when they are young and their tastes are in the forming and you will fortify them for the vicissitudes of life and plant in their hearts a source of infinite pleasure.

Buy a Piano, a Player-piano or a Phonograph. They are necessary for your children's education, your own comfort and the pleasure and happiness of the entire family

Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children, who are taught the value of money and the habit of saving, grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 each is sufficient). After a child has saved another dollar to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of just what a dollar stands for, and how much work and self-denial it represents.

EASTER.

"And this is the promise that He hath promised us, even eternal life." —1. John ii., 25.

To the thousands of homes from which the scourge of war or pestilence has removed a loved and familiar figure, the coming of Easter, with its message of hope in the life hereafter, is a wondrous event. At no time in the year does the assurance of meeting the dear ones who have gone before seem so real and tangible as on the anniversary of the resurrection of our Saviour. It brings to sad hearts a fresh hope, to wavering souls a renewed faith, to lonely homes a sure comfort. Evangeline Booth, in a few words, expresses the spirit of Easter as follows: "While spring breezes blow, while streams flow down to the sea, while flowers bloom in the hedges, while the sun holds its course through the skies, while God rules in His Heaven, while the gates of glory stand wide, "THERE IS NO DEATH."

GRATUITIES AGAIN.

Writing to the Examiner on the question of gratuities, Mr. R. Mitchell remarks: "Apparently in your opinion the men who fought for the Empire have been paid all they earned or deserved." No, the Examiner does not think that. The debt that the Empire owes to the men who fought could not be discharged by any sum of money, however large. The service they performed cannot be estimated in terms of dollars and cents, and if the maximum gratuities asked for by any of the soldiers' organizations were granted they would not even come close to meeting the debt.

Some of the veterans who have discussed the gratuity question in newspaper letters complain that the Examiner's stand is not in their interest. But that is open to doubt. It would be easy for any newspaper, as it is for a voting-seeking politician to cheer for any cash bonus scheme that might be proposed. But knowing that the majority of members of the House, not excluding the returned soldiers who hold seats, are opposed to the gratuities asked for, it is perhaps doing a greater service to the ex-service men to point out reasons why their requests are almost certain to be denied than it would be to buoy them up with false hopes. For neither from the present Government nor from any possible political combination at present in sight can the granting of indiscriminate cash bonuses for all who served be expected.

The Examiner, as far as its own opinions are concerned, has no intention of continually harping on this subject. Its columns, however, are open to any of the veterans who wish to express their views, and in this way all shades of opinion on the gratuity question can be indicated.

THE MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION.

Both Mr. W. A. Richardson and the local branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association are to be congratulated upon his selection as president of the Association during the coming year. Mr. Richardson is one of the young members of the Association, but in his connection with the Peterboro Canoe Company he has shown executive and business ability of a very high order and he has the vision, energy and perseverance that should make him a very successful presiding officer. The association, which represents every manufacturing concern in the city, is a body that is capable of splendid service for the community generally for its aims and objects are not confined to matters peculiarly affecting the members but include questions of wide interest and importance. While dealing with topics such as insurance and freight rates, railway service and other matters that are of vital concern to the manufacturers, the Association intends to support a housing scheme, the development of outdoor sports, more recreation features for the city, and other community matters of the same kind. In all this work Mr. Richardson can be relied upon to take a keen, intelligent and active interest, and following upon the splendid organization work done during Mr. Breyfogle's term of office, the association should have a most successful year.

THE PETERBORO LOCK

The practicability of utilizing the Trent Canal to bring coal in barges to Peterboro, is one of the matters that is to be considered by the Board of Trade. There is one important factor that enters into the question however, and one that the City Council, the Board of Trade, and other bodies interested in the city's welfare, should unite in bringing to the attention of the Government, i.e., the necessity of enlarging the Peterboro lock. All the other locks on the section of the canal between Peterboro and Trenton are 175 feet in length, and have a depth of 9 feet on the sill. The Peterboro lock is only 133 feet long with a depth of 6 feet. If the canal is to be used for freight purposes, and Peterboro is to derive any benefit from such a use, it is obvious that the large locks between here and Trenton will be wasted as long as the Peterboro lock is left in its present condition. The other locks could accommodate a much larger barge than can be taken through the local lock, and the latter should be enlarged to the dimensions of those in the Trent section of the system—if the commercial possibilities of the canal are to be fully taken advantage of.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

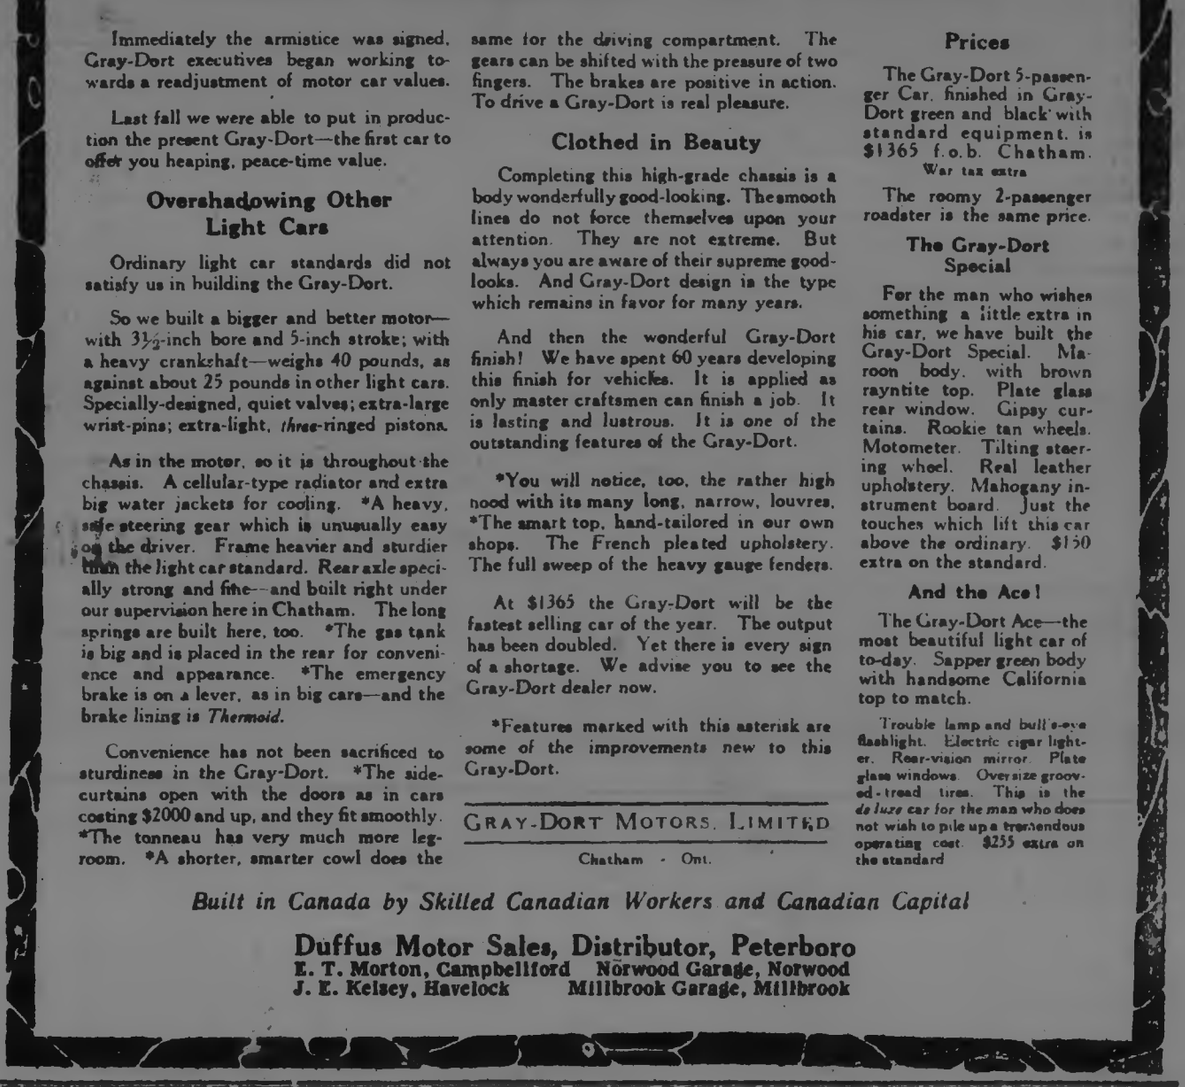
For Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, and for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all.

Accept only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."



First to Give Peace-Time Value

$1365 F.O.B. CHATHAM WAR TAX EXTRA GRAY-DORT

Immediately the armistice was signed, Gray-Dort executives began working towards a readjustment of motor car values.

Last fall we were able to put in production the present Gray-Dort—the first car to offer you heaping, peace-time value.

Overshadowing Other Light Cars

Ordinary light car standards did not satisfy us in building the Gray-Dort.

So we built a bigger and better motor—with 3½-inch bore and 5-inch stroke; with a heavy crankshaft—weighs 40 pounds, as against about 25 pounds in other light cars. Specially-designed, quiet valves; extra-large wrist-pins; extra-light, three-ringed pistons.

As in the motor, so it is throughout the chassis. A cellular-type radiator and extra big water jackets for cooling. *A heavy, safe steering gear which is unusually easy on the driver. Frame heavier and sturdier than the light car standard. Rear axle specially strong and fine—and built right under our supervision here in Chatham. The long springs are built here, too. *The gas tank is big and is placed in the rear for convenience and appearance. *The emergency brake is on a lever, as in big cars—and the brake lining is Thermoid.

Convenience has not been sacrificed to sturdiness in the Gray-Dort. *The side-curtains open with the doors as in cars costing $2000 and up, and they fit smoothly. *The tonneau has very much more legroom. *A shorter, smarter cowl does the same for the driving compartment. The gears can be shifted with the pressure of two fingers. The brakes are positive in action. To drive a Gray-Dort is real pleasure.

Clothed in Beauty

Completing this high-grade chassis is a body wonderfully good-looking. The smooth lines do not force themselves upon your attention. They are not extreme. But always you are aware of their supreme good-looks. And Gray-Dort design is the type which remains in favor for many years.

And then the wonderful Gray-Dort finish! We have spent 60 years developing this finish for vehicles. It is applied as only master craftsmen can finish a job. It is lasting and lustrous. It is one of the outstanding features of the Gray-Dort.

*You will notice, too, the rather high hood with its many long, narrow, louvres. *The smart top, hand-tailored in our own shops. The French pleated upholstery. The full sweep of the heavy gauge fenders.

At $1365 the Gray-Dort will be the fastest selling car of the year. The output has been doubled. Yet there is every sign of a shortage. We advise you to see the Gray-Dort dealer now.

Prices

The Gray-Dort 5-passenger Car, finished in Gray-Dort green and black with standard equipment, is $1365 f.o.b. Chatham. War tax extra

The Gray-Dort Special

For the man who wishes something a little extra in his car, we have built the Gray-Dort Special. Maroon body, with brown rayntite top. Plate glass rear window. Gipsy curtains. Rookie tan wheels. Motometer. Tilting steering wheel. Real leather upholstery. Mahogany instrument board. Just the touches which lift this car above the ordinary. $150 extra on the standard.

And the Ace!

The Gray-Dort Ace—the most beautiful light car of to-day. Sapper green body with handsome California top to match.

Trouble lamp and bull's-eye flashlight. Electric cigar lighter. Rear-vision mirror. Plate glass windows. Oversize grooved-tread tires. This is the *de luxe car for the man who does not wish to pile up a tremendous operating cost. $255 extra on the standard

THE FUTURE OF THE MOVIES.

Canada will doubtless gladly welcome many more motion pictures of the type of "The Great Shadow," which is being shown at the Grand Opera House. Not only is it notable because it is the first all-Canadian picture, every foot of the film having been photographed in this country, but because it is a gripping story, with a big message that is driven home to every one who sees the picture. There is hope for the continued success and rapid development of the silent drama when such films as "The Great Shadow" are being presented.

The motion picture industry, which has grown in the last ten years into enormous proportions, is regarded by many observers as being only in its infancy. They picture a still more enormous development and the introduction of many new features into the moving picture world. Undoubtedly the prospects are of a most roseate hue, if the heads of the industry can be made to realize that in the long run cleanness, both in the pictures themselves, and in the lives of the players who present them, will be an essential that will be demanded by the public. People will not continue to go to motion picture theatres to see the role of a young innocent girl depicted by an actress whose love affairs have made her notorious. They will insist that such parts which are supposed to serve as an inspiration to those who see them played by artists whose reputations are above reproach. More than one star of the silver sheet has dropped out of the popularity of the public because of scandals in which they were involved themselves. If the managers do not see to it that players who have kept clear of scandal, and such players only are featured, the patronage will sooner or later disappear.

The patronage of the public keeps the moving picture business in existence. It is only a girl type. Her work cannot possibly be as effective under the circumstances.

SAVED FROM LIFELONG MISERY

And a Dangerous Operation, by Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MRS. M. J. GORSE

3936 Union St., Vancouver, B.C.

"I suffered with all the symptoms of Female Trouble, with chronic Constipation and constant Headaches. I had pains low down in the back and about all the body. I tried various remedies without relief, and then put myself under a doctor's care and he advised me to have an operation. I refused.

Then, I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives'; and from the outset, I felt better, and this medicine has completely relieved me of all my misery and suffering. MODERN APHORISMS.

While there is love there is hope.

It's never too late to kiss.

Never judge the duration of a woman's love by the length of her kisses.

Most men either buy or steal their kisses.

There is only one thing a woman is really devoted to—her clothes.

Beware of the woman who kisses you with her eyes shut. She may marry you with her eyes open.

You need not necessarily turn palmist to tell a woman's past.

A slight breeze of wind and a pair of silk stockings have sometimes led to married life in a garden suburb. —"Frills and Foibles," by Curzon Street.

An English Custom
Becoming Quite Common in Canada

Every country has its national customs and habits.

For instance, England has the custom of serving afternoon tea.

English homes, stores, offices, factories, work shops, hotels and tea rooms serve afternoon tea. It is part of the national life of England.

Our soldiers poked fun at it, but were not long in acquiring the habit.

And they are not giving it up now that they are back home.

They are influencing a more general adoption of afternoon tea in Canada.

To-day this English custom is quite common in Canadian homes.

It is spreading. New tea rooms are opening all over Canada. Hotels are making a specialty of afternoon tea. The habit is invading offices, stores and work shops.

A few minutes rest in the afternoon with a cup of good tea is a wonderful reviver, giving new zest to the busy business man, stenographer, clerk and worker.

Afternoon tea is a good business proposition.

Easily and quickly made. Very inexpensive.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA'S FATHER AND MOTHER VISIT HER

CHAPTER LXXXVII.

Perhaps fortunately for me, Father and Mother came to visit us just at this time. They came a little sooner than they had expected, as Father had a little business to attend to in Henron. So, as he said, "I will kill two birds with the one stone."

Everett was perfect, just perfect. You see he was just Father's age, and they talked business together. Then he was so nice to Mother. He didn't call her 'Mother,' of course—that would have been to silly, as he was older than she. But he called them both by their first names. They talked it all over right before me and decided that was best. I felt so queer and as if I didn't belong some way.

I longed to tell Mother of Leola's letters, and of how they had affected me. I had not yet the courage to read any more of them. But Mother that would have been too silly, as he would have been shocked that I me; so, altho I felt I had the right because I was Everett's wife, I did not like to tell her I had done so.

Mother and Mrs. Gray got on famously. I overheard Mother say to her:

"I think my daughter extremely fortunate to have you to help her in all the things of which she was so ignorant. She is so young." The sigh with which Mother always spoke of my age accompanied the words.

"She is very adaptable. She is also very lovable," Mrs. Gray said.

Mother sighed again. Then replied:

Yes—I think she is. But she has so much to learn, that ther is much in married life that calls for trust and forbearance. I have wished she had waited until she was older, while feeling she is safe with Everett—Mr. Graham."

"He is very fond of her."

"I am glad to hear you say so; I shall go home much happier, Mrs. Gray, for having met you, and knowing you are with Sandra."

From that moment, Mrs. Gray was a strong partisian of mother's, and often spoke of her in the most complimentary terms, which naturally pleased me immensely, especially when she talked before Everett.

I was really almost happy while Father and Mother remained. We entertained for them, and some of Everett's old friends did also. We went to the theatre and the opera, and everything that could be done for their pleasure, Everett did. I was grateful.

But as soon as they left all my old forbodings returned. "Everett did not love me I thought, leadenhearted. I had said it a hundred times. And now I began to wonder what happened then when a man didn't love a woman, and yet was married to her.

"I'll never let him leave me, never give him a divorce," I said to myself, scarcely knowing what a person had to do or leave undone to be divorced. "I would rather he would beat me than be so indifferent. It would be better to have him cruel, than to feel he was loving her all the time. I've not lost him—I never have really had him," I assured myself. The old wonder as to why he had married me obtruding— as to why he wanted to marry me, 'It is too late to do anything. He loves Leola," I thought.

Had I thought of it all, I would have said—before I married Everett that married people were always happy. It was something I, girls of my age, are apt to take for granted. If I had married a man of my own age, I might have found it at once— as I expected. But I think all girls are more flatered when an older man shows them attention, especially a charming man of the world like Everett. We are thrilled by their knowledge, flattered that they notice us.

It isn't until after they are married that the youth of one makes for unhappiness, even tho they have everything money can buy and a home everyone envies. It isn't only—as I have found out— that the older man cannot understand the young girl. It is more often that the young girl cannot either understand the older man or appreciate his point of view. So they go on blindly until they resign themselves to their unhappiness or until something opens their eyes to what the other is trying to be and do.

Another thing I have found out— is usually the wife who is blamed if there is trouble. Especially if a man is socially prominent and liked by his set.

Millionare Scotch Seek Home Worthy of Fortune.

(Canadian Press.)

EDMONTON, Alta., April 3.—Trying to find a place in which to establish a home worthy of a fortune of some $40,000,000 is the bothersome task that has kept Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of Scotland on the move ever since the war ended. They have been spending a few days in Edmonton. But this city offered no attractions for this $40,000,000 couple and they have left for Prince Rupert. Then they jump to California. The tale of the Campbells reads like fiction. Leaving their Scottish homes years ago they went out to Java. Here they acquired large plantations and other holdings. Then during the war opportunity came their way and they sold out all their interests in Java for a su mthat was stated to be close to $50,000,000.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor, Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Mr. Ed. Elliott saw fit to attack me in last night's paper when, as a matter of fact, he might have been employed explaining to his friends of the back townships why they are to receive no benefit from the projected Provincial highways. The truth is that Mr Elliott is at last realizing that he has been a false prophet, preaching a doctrine which has kept this county from adopting a system which has been considered a good one in all other counties of the province. Mr. Elliott expected that when the farmers got into power his policy would be adopted and he would be hailed as the saviour of his county. Instead of that I was present myself when Hon. Mr. Biggs practically told him that he had got this county in wrong and that the back townships would have to suffer for their pig-headed refusal, under Mr. Elliott's leadership, to come into the Provincial roads system. The fact is, too, that when Mr. Biggs got through with him Mr. Elliott found important business to take him out of the room and away from the deputation.

Mr. Elliott may be strong on letter writing, but the public are now a little weary of the hobby he is riding.

Yours truly,
R. V. COPPING.

To the Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Sir,—Will you allow me space in your paper to ask one or two pertinent questions which I think will interest the small boat owners of our city who live above the locks, viz: Is anything being done to make the slipway from the lake to the river useable and safe for boats this year. If not, why not, and who is responsible for the conditions of things at this place?

More than one life has been lost in the past through the neglect of some party or parties in allowing conditions to remain as they are. Are there not funds somewhere that could be used to obviate the risking of life and make it pleasant and safe for those who use our river, these being mostly of the class who are confined all day in the factories or business houses, and who find it their chief source of pleasure and recreation and fresh air to fit them for their ensuing day's toil.

BREAKS RECORD.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 1. — The speed record for mail by the air line between Cleveland and Chicago, was broken yesterday when Pilot James H. Knight covered the 340 miles to this city in two hours and 10 minutes, an average speed of 157 miles an hour. The previous record, two hours and 12 minutes, was also held by Knight, made several weeks ago.

OUR VANISHING ARMADA

(By H. F. GADSBY)

The theory that the Minister of Marine scrapped the Canadian navy out of pique because the caucus said wait-a-bit to any or all of Admiral Jellicoe's suggestions will not hold water. Mr. Ballantyne may be something of a dictator in his own department, but he could hardly make way with sixteen million dollars worth of national property on his mere say-so.

The thing was done deliberately after earnest consultation with his colleagues, and next to dropping Mr. Rowell or getting after the profiteers, it is the most popular thing Union Government could have done in a week of Sundays. The hope is expressed that it foreshadows other slashing retrenchments by a Government which has at most two years to live, and might as well go to its grave with a record of necesstry and disagreeable things done in a courageous way.

At all events there is no real complaints about our vanished navy from any quarter, the general sentiment being that a good riddance has been made of bad rubbish. The farmer members are openly delighted. Quebec, which never had any use for a navy anyway, wears a broad grin. The prairie provinces pin their faith more than ever to box cars. Ontario believes that any money we have to spend on ships is better applied to a merchant navy than to awar fleet. In short everybody is satisfied except a few people in Halifax and esquimault and Ottawa who will be let out of their jobs.

Round Table Good-Bye.

The sadly solemn fact is that Canada has never been in love with her navy. What Sir Wilfrid Laurier did in the matter was under pressure from the imperialists and what Sir Robert Borden failed to do in a similar direction was a squeeze from the same quarter. Our navy, actual or potential pleased only a few imperialists of the Round Table type, put Quebec's nose out of joint, offended the West and left the East cold. It was a mighty poor business all round. It sopped up a lot of money, caused a lot of bad feeling and had no practical results worth mentioning. Its disappearance will sweeten public opinion which is dead sick of war and all its works.

Imperialists are about as scarce as hens' teeth, in Canada just now. The war about cleared them out. Some of our most stalwart imperialists went overseas as colonels and such, but the mud and blood of Flanders affected a rapid cure. Such of them as I saw at the front told me, one and all, that they had repented and that from now on they were Canadians clear though. I believe the doctrine is still whispered that when England is at War Canada is at War, but the statement lacks conviction.

The revised version seems to be that when England is at War Canada may be at war, but it will be England that does the fighting and pays the bills. Not to put too fine a point on it, Canada has fought her last war overseas. It runs into much treasure of blood and money and we have business of our own to mind where the profits are greater. We keep our British connection, of course, so 'ong as it is expredient, but in the future, we don't let it drag us into Euronean quarrels. They're a queer breed of cats over there in Europe, especially the middle-Europe crowd, brought up to believe that war is an outdoor sport. The less we have to do with this damphoolishness the better. We are disposed to agree with Uncle Sam, who refuses to lend any more money to peonle who would rather fight than work.

Washing Our Hands.

Anybody who has visited Europe since the war was over will tell you that revenge is still the uppermost thought in men's minds and that the Little Nations we were so keen to free make use of their freedom to scrag each other. The trouble is that they are not educated up to democracy. On the contrary they are sunk in ignorance. What they need even more than freedom is public schools. It goes without saying that we cannot afford to mix up with the Dark Ages, as exampled by the Rumanian, Bulgarian, Ukranian, Polish and other backward peoples. When we fight for them again they will be worth fighting for. When we scrap our navy we serve notice that we wash our hands of them until they are fit for enlightened company. What we want is not ships to fight their foolish battles, but ships to carry our own trade—and by the same token we must be careful who we trade with in that bunch of bankrupts. We must take the cash and let the credit go. This North America is a world by itself, guarded by two oceans and the breasts of free men. We are secure in our own puissance and if the Old World wants to commit suicide, it must not reckon on our interference.

Of Germany and Russia I say nothing, but even France, civilized as she is, goes a-whoring after her gods of revenge and glory. What's worse, she wants to borrow our money to confirm her bad habits. We were quixotic enough to offer her a credit of twenty-five million dollars which, ver- luckily, she did not take up. It wasn't that she despised the money, but she had her eye on a seven hundred and fifty million dollar credit from the United States. Failing to get it she cannot say anything too bad about our good neighbor. Rumania had no such scruples. Rumania took the twenty-five million credit we offered her and gave a note for it. Rumania will take anything and give a note for it. It's about the best thing she does.

No More Mud Pies.

When we scrag our navy we withdraw from all this overseas madness and allow the maniacs to argue it out for themselves. Morover we shed a great deal of expense and a rather sniffy crowd of British naval officers whom we borrowed to teach us the tricks. They taught us some of the tricks, perhaps, but they didn't popularize the navy as an institution by their hoity-toity manners. We love mankland, no doubt, but not enough to support an expensive navy whose duty it would be to mix in all the mud pies they make in Europe. We have financial troubles of our own which we will muddle through, thank you, but we don't fancy taking over anybody else's debts or encouraging a navy that looks like a promissory note made out to the British Empire.

I can honestly say that I have not heard one member of Parliament complain of our defenceless position since the navy went to the junk heap. We are friendly with the Esquimaux and the Yankees and, these sources of invasion being discounted, we have not an enemy in sight that we could not feud off with one birch bark warcanoe. The United States is building a bigger navy than England's and if Japan ever threatens to bite us in the leg we feel perfectly safe there too.

The navy out of the way, I understand that we are to concetrate on an air force. Aeroplanes have this advantage—they are as useful in peace as in war. For example at the next general election why shouldn't we use them to drop pamphlets on the beleagured cities, plant colonies of voters where they will do the most good and then whisk 'em away as soon as they've got their work in.

SPRING IMPURITIES MEAN WEAK BLOOD

A TONIC MEDICINE IS A NECESSITY AT THIS SEASON.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all year round blood builder and nerve strengthener. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is clogged with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching. In the spring one feels weak and tired--Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams Pink Pills improve the appetite, tone the stomach, and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood most often find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In spring, anaemia, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism and many other troubles are most persistent, because of weak, watery blood and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Among those who have proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mr. Archie D. Carmichael, Tarbot, N.S., who says: "For a number of years I was bothered with pimples which would break out on my face and body. The trouble was always worse in the spring, and although I tried different treatments, it was without much success. In the spring of two years ago the trouble was worse than usual, and although I was taking medicine it did not help me until I finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Under this treatment the pimples disappeared, and there has since been absolutely no return of the trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Mdicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GOLD DISCOVERED

Alleged Discoveries on Alberta Boundary Causes Excitement.

(Canadian Press.)

ALSASK, Sask., April 3.—Although the fervent excitement and high hopes are not so manifest at Alsask as they are at Sibbald, Alberta, which is only three miles from the Egsted dry creek claim, the Sibbald business men and the farmers of that locality are fully convinced that the gold find is a big one. George Egsted, his wife, and 19 other prominent persons of Sibbald and district have filed claims. One day, while drawing water from the shallow well which is near what appears to be an old glacial creek or small river, Mr. Egsted noticed some bright grains in the pail. An analysis was made at Calgary, and what the Alsask citizens thought was magnese bronze were real gold nuggets, for a sum that was stated to be close the width of the claim is 500 feet. Judging from the topography of that district, old-time miners believe that it is the mother vein of the scattered beds of gold in Alberta.

BRITISH BUILD BIG SHIPS.

Yards Turn Out Merchant Vessels of Up to 15,000 Tons.

WASHINGTON. — British shipbuilders are laying stress on construction of ex tra tonnage ships according to a special report to the Department of Commerce, made public today.

On March 1 there were fifty-five ships of more than 10,000 tons on British ways, some of them of more than 15,000 tons.

Complete British statistics for 1919 showed launchings to have aggregated 612 merchant vessels of 1,620,000 tons. "Not a single sailing vessel was launched during the year," the summary stated.

GENERAL STRIKE TIES UP HARBOR TRAFFIC.

Strike Takes Effect Immediately on All Railway Boats.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, April 1. — Harbour traffic here will be tied up by a general strike the order for which has been issued by the marine workers affiliation this afternoon. The strike is to take effect immediately on all the railway boats, except on the ferries.

The workers on the ferry boats of the railroad companies were ordered to quit work at 8 o'clock to-night.

The union announced that five thousand men would obey the order and that the strike would tie up 40% of the total harbor traffic

AFTER GRIP or FLU
WINTER COLDS—
BAD BLOOD

You are pale, thin, weak—with little vitality. Your liver is sluggish and the bad blood causes your stomach muscles to lose their elasticity and become flabby and weak—then indigestion.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made from wild roots and barks, and free from alcohol or narcotics, is the great and powerful blood purifier of to-day. Ingredients printed on wrapper. This tonic, in liquid or tablet form, is just what you need to give you vim, vigor and vitality.

Take the 'Discovery' as directed and it will search out impure and poisonous matter throughout the system and eliminate it through the natural channels.

You can procure a trial package of the tablets by sending 10c. to the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., or branch Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ontario.

SINEALUTA, SASK.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for liver trouble, and found it excellent, and would not be without it. I suffered from congestion of the liver about six years ago and I always say that this medicine cured me. I have also given it to my family for colds and it cured them in a very short time. We must have used about 4 dozen bottles of the 'Discovery'."—MRS. ENOCH MITCHELL.

KITCHENER, ONT.—"I had become all run-down, was weak and nervous. My blood was bad also. I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and was completely restored to good health. I am always recommending this medicine to my friends, many of whom have had equally as good results."—MRS. EPH KETTLE, 44 Breithaupt Street.

WOULD INCREASE CITY'S BORROWING LIMIT TO $300,000

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORTS OVERDRAFT CHEAPER TO CITY THAN PRESENT DEBENTURE MARKET,

With the explanation that it is cheaper to run an overdraft at the bank than to issue debentures under present conditions of the money market, the Finance Committee on Thursday recommended to the Council that the limit of the city's borrowing this year be increased from $250,000 to $300,000. This will provide the same amount as before, $50,000, for special demands and $250,000 instead of $200,000 for current expenses. The resolution was moved by Mayor McIntyre and seconded by Ald. Morrison. Ald. Turner, presiding supported it, but Ald. Phelan declined to vote.

Ald. Turner stated that certain debentures that had been authorized had not been issued for the reason that they would sell for less than par and at a rate of 6 or 6 1-2 per cent., wherras the interest on the city's overdraft with the Bank of Toronto was at present 6 per cent.

Ald. Turner said that the overdraft was nearer $400,000 than $300,000. Included in the total is the expenditure on the Canadian Nashua Paper Company's building of some $55,000 for which it is understood debentures will be issued when the market is favorable. There are several other items and the balance will of course be covered by the taxes when they are collected.

MR. BAGLEY'S PLEA FOR JAIL OFFICIALS

WRITES COUNTY COUNCIL THAT THEIR SALARIES COMPARE UNFAVOURABLY WITH POLICE PAY.

Referring to the salary increases to the Peterboro police department, Mr. J. Guise Bagley in a letter read at yesterday's meeting of the County Council, urged that the goal officials be given some consideration by the county.

"Mr. Nesbitt and Mr. Rae are old and faithful servants of the county," Mr. Bagley wrote. "There is no eight-hour day for them. They may be said to be on duty all the time and they work from before daylight till after dark. Mr. Rae is out all day doing chores. He opens up before seven in the morning and is around until after seven at night. Perfect discipline is maintained and both of them carry great responsibility."

"What I want to say is that the question of making these men's pay meet the high cost of living has not perhaps been put before the Council, for I feel sure if it had, their services would have been sufficiently appreciated long ago to give them proper increases in salary."

"There is no doubt about them being entitled to a proper wage, and since the living has got so expensive it would be impossible to fill their places except at an up-to-date salary."

"Will you put this up to the Council so that a spontaneous raise may be given to Mr. Nesbitt and Mr. Rae on the same lines as the recent raises to the police? It would be a gracious and just act of the Council and I know would be appreciated."

$150 ACCOUNT FOR PLANS OF QUARRY BUNKHOUSE

An account of $150.00 for blue prints of the bunk house at the quarry near Havelock where Phillip Yanoff was murdered last spring was rendered to the Attorney-General's department by the Ontario Rock Company, who supplied the plans, and were in turn presented to the County Council. At the special session yesterday High County Constable Moore stated that he didn't order the detailed plans of the bunk house. For the preliminary trial he had asked the manager of the Rock Company to supply him with a pencil sketch showing the location of the bunks and stairway, but didn't receive any plans or sketch. Mr. Moore added that his connection with the trial of the five Russians, who were charged with murder, ended with the preliminary hearing when the prisoners were committed for trial. No action was taken yesterday.

Take Your Time, Don't Hurry!

There is no need for so much rushing on baking days, hurrying to get your cakes in the oven—such exhausting exertion adds baking to the list of household drudgeries.

You can take your time yet do more with

EGG-O Baking Powder

than with other brands because the leavening action of Egg-O only ceases when your cakes are properly baked—No matter if you do have to wait several hours for your oven.

And don't worry if your oven does cool off. Egg-O will leaven your baking with less heat than most other brands.

And above all, don't worry about fallen cakes, follow the directions on the label. You will use less Baking Powder, and have better baking.

"OLIVET TO CALVARY"

For many years past Good Friday night at 8 o'clock has found many citizens wending their way to the historic church of St. John's, where of late years the story of the Passion has been reverently presented in recitative, song, chorus, and hymn.

Last night Maunder's "Olivet to Calvary" was given for the third time by the choir, who are to be heartily congratulated on their presentation of the oratorio. Attack and expression were good, especially evident in the mad cries of "crucify," and the choral march to Calvary. All the solo parts were well sung—Mrs. W. G. Perks and Mrs. A. L. Amys, sopranos; Mr. Harold Lee, tenor; and Mr. Asa Huycke, bass. The double quartette, composed of Mrs. R. J. Devey, Miss Quartermaine, soprani; Mrs. G. Evans, Miss Lancaster, altos, Mr. H. W. Morphet, Mr. F. C. Roberts, tenors; Mr. G. Coleman, Mr. H. Flowers, bass, was very finely rendered. Several hymns were sung by the choir and congregation, and an offertory for the choir fund was taken up. Mr. Cyril H. Devey, of Campbellford, presided at the organ with taste and skill, and Mr. R. J. Devey conducted the work with his usual ability. Archdeacon Davidson conducted the devotional prayers, and congratulated Mr. Devey and the choir on their successful presentation of the oratorio.

PASTEURIZED MILK A GREAT FOOD

We cannot repeat to ourselves too often that milk is a splendid food. One quart of milk will supply as much protein as 7 ounces of sirloin steak, or 6 ounces of round steak, or 4.3 eggs, or 8.6 of fowl. It will also supply as much energy as 11 ounces of sirloin steak, or 12 ounces of round steak, or 8 1-2 eggs, or 10.7 ounces of fowl: Milk is the cheapest food considering its food value.

DRINK MILK SLOWLY

The proper way to drink a glass of milk is to take as long to drink it as one would take to eat a small steak. Drink it in small sips. There's a reason.

It is a real food for all classes and conditions of people, sick or well, rich or poor, old or young.

WAS A DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

POLICE COMMISSION BILL UP THIS WEEK.

Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., returned to the city to-day from London, where he was present as a local delegate to the convention of the Independent Labor Party. Mr. Tooms reports a large attendance and an enthusiastic and constructive convention.

This week in the Ontario House a bill introduced by Mr. Tooms to make the police commission an elective body was submitted a second time and adopted. This measure is arousing considerable interest throughout the province, and Mr. Tooms is of the opinion it wil pass on the third reading.

EGGS AND BUTTER PLENTIFUL TO-DAY

Chickens this morning sold rapidly at 35c a pound though some asked 40c. Butter sold at 65c and eggs at 45c to 47. Eggs were more in evidence in the baskets than either chickens or butter and from all appearances the price is due for a drop soon.

Some maple syrup was on the outside market and sold at 90c a quart or $3.50 a gallon.

Veal brought 24 and 28c a pound, and pork 26 and 28c. Potatoes were there in considerable quantities at $4 and $4.25 a bag, onions at $1.25 and $1.50 a peck and carrots at 50c peck. A few bags of apples brought 50c a peck; cabbages 15c to 40c.

The outside market was not as large as usual probably because the farmers are now turning their thoughs to their spring work.

BAD COLD LEFT HIM WITH BRONCHITIS

However slight a cold you have you should never neglect it; if you do it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is just the remedy you require to cure the bronchitis. It does this by loosening the phlegm and mucous, and stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts and thus prevents it becoming chronic.

Mr. R. P. Sundblad, Francis, Sask., writes:—"I had a very bad cold which left me with bronchitis. I tried several cough remedies and oils of all kinds, but they all failed. At last I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and after using two bottles I have never had a sign of bronchitis since. I therefore can honestly recommend it for coughs and colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CHIMNEY FIRE THIS MORNING

The quiet hour between eleven and twelve, usually devoted by the Fire Department to chats on current topics, was interrupted this morning at 11.15 by a call to 200 Smith street, the home of Mrs. James Mack, where overheated stovepipes threatened serious damage to the frame house. The blaze was extinguished before any harm was done.

Important Announcement

WE are glad to announce that next week we expect to commence delivering our NEW 1920 FORD TOURING CAR.

We have no hesitation in stating that with demountable rims, extra rim and spare tire carrier, Non-skid tires on rear, Timken bearings, one-man top, sloping windshield, Ford starting and lighting system, and other improvements, it is the best motor car value ever offered to the buying public.

Ford One-Ton Trucks which have proved so thoroughly reliable for hauling purposes, are now coming in quantities sufficient to take care of the demands.

Shipments of Fordson Farm Tractors so essential as time and labor savers, will be received about the middle of the month.

Our wholesale and retail Accessory Department has an adequate supply of motor requisites, including a full line of accessories, tires and parts at reasonable prices.

Our Service Department is in excellent condition for prompt and efficient service to motor car owners.

When having your Ford car repaired or overhauled, insist that your repair men use ONLY GENUINE FORD PARTS.

KELOWNA, B. C., April 3.—Because of the great influx of ex-service men to the Okanagan Valley from the United Kingdom, Imperial veterans of this fruit centre have organized a branch of their association to take care of their comrades when they arrive here. Arrangements have also been made with the Soldier Settlement Board officials at Vernon to allow the Imperial veterans to place a supervisor in the field to attend to the veterans from overseas. The provincial government will be asked for a grant of $4,000.00 to assist the work.

HAD TO GO TO BED HEADACHES SO BAD

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS MADE HER WELL

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive, your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, your head aches, your tongue is coated, breath bad, specks float before the eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water-brash, pain under the right shoulder, muddy and brown spotted complexion, etc.

Help the liver to resume its proper function by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 30 Maple Ave, Amherst, N.S., writes: "I take pleasure in writing you of the good I received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials have made me as well as I can be."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not gripe, weaken or sicken, do not leave any bad after-effects. Price 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. GODDEN, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience is at your service and your letter held in strict confidence.

MR. ERNEST DEYELL WAS APPOINTED ROAD COMMISSIONER THIS MORNING

THIS MORNING'S SESSION OF THE PETERBORO COUNTY COUNCIL —BY-LAWS PASSED.

The appointment of Ernest Deyell, of Otonabee, as county commissioner of roads in the surburban area, was confirmed by by-law at this morning's session of the County Council. Mr. Deyell was previously recommended for the position by resolution.

"The next step is for the county and city commissioners to get together and appoint a third," said Reeve Eason of Otonabee. "Mr. McIntosh is anxious to get ahead with work in the suburban part of Otonabee."

It was stated that the half-mill limit on the city's expenditure could be increased by a vote of the people, but it was felt that in the city there would not likely be a strong desire to exceed the expenditure now authorized.

"Well, we won't interfere in any way with the city. We want things to run peacably," remarked one of the members.

Temporary Extensions.

Warden Nicholls and Reeve Coughlin were instructed to have certain temporary alterations made to the Registrar's office in order to provide increased accomodation.

Reeve Coughlin reported that the Registrar's vaults were packed with documents on file, and the provincial inspector told him recently that some enlargement would have to be made. The council realizes that the temporary facilities to be made now are intended for only a year or two. If building conditions return to normal then, the County will build a new office for the Registrar and probably demolish Mr. Sherry's office building, furnishing him with a suite in the Court House.

Good Roads Question.

This morning the Council resumed the discussi on good roads. Mr. Ernest McDonald, M.P.P. for East Peterboro was present. The question of whether the north townships would retain the colonization grants while joining the rest of the county in the Good Roads scheme was the particular subject upon which Reeve Shaw and others sought enlightenment.

Reeve Brown of Burleigh reported that, in the fall, heavy automobiles carrying hunting parties tore up the North country roads. The weather was usually wet at that season and as a result of this traffic roads were practically ruined. Mr. Brown argued that these townships should be specially assisted by the government on that account.

"Mr. McDonald tells us we should apply to the Lands and Mines department and not the Highways department when appealing for colonization grants," remarked Reeve Shaw. "In the old days we used to ask our representative to interview the department. I'm sorry he is not here."

"We don't hunger for fighting these things out with the government if the people want to do it," said Mr. McDonald. "We'd rather you do," replied Mr. Brown.

Mr. McDonald believed that a resolution would be as effective as a deputation.

Reeve McIntosh moved, seconded by Reeve Strickland, that a bylaw be prepared providing that all the southern municipalities adopt the good roads scheme on the so-called flat rate basis. It will set out the roads in Smith, Ennismore, Dummer and Douro, as marked by the reeves on Friday.

Voice Of The People

Editor, Examiner:

Sir,—In your editorial in Thursday's Examiner, you come out flat-footed against gratuities, except for need. Apparently, in your opinion, the men who fought for the Empire have been paid all they earned or deserved, and if that is so, why should even need be considered?

For years we have heard a great deal in our papers about the glorious heroes of Ypres, Vimy, etc., etc., the men who gave Canada a place in the sun, and on the list of nations.

Veterans of former wars were allowed to stand at street corners, and hold out their caps to the public, but present-day vets will have to whine to some petty bureaucrat. What a picture, to see a glorious hero, now become a needy hero, applying to the official appointed. The official will most probably be a lineal descendant of Tite Barnacle, Esq., of the Circumlocution Office: bound round by miles of red tape and endowed by nature with brain of a rabbit, and the humanity of a she wolf. He will be supported on each flank by relays of pretty lady stenogs, whose pretty noses will be tilted in the air, at being in such close proximity to one of those vulgar heroes, who had probably been kissed by a French girl, and had even added to his sins the crime of marrying an English girl.

(The same needy hero may be an efficient stenographer, trained in the C.E.F. School at Hastings, England, but in consequence of the fondness of Government officials for lady stenogs, he cannot find a position. I am throwing stones although I do live in a glass house, for, whisper it not in Gath, there is a lady stenog in the local office of the G. W. V. A., but, like the servant girl who had a baby, I can only plead in extenuation, "Ours is such a little one").

I can see our needy hero with his knees knocking together, gazing timidly at the great man and telling how he had spent his gratuity and clothing allowance, and confessing in faltering accents to going to a show and buying a glass of beer.

Of course our needy hero would only be following precedent, for I understand our M.P.'s had also to prove their need before they received the raise in indemnity they voted themselves. I don't think.

No, Sir, no scheme of gratuities that means the pauperization of the men will be acceptable to the vets, who are only asking for a sum that will bring their money a little nearer to the sum received by those who pursued the wiser course, and elected to do their bit by staying at home in ease and comfort (to the tune of $8 or $10 per day), instead of going through the blood bath of France. One dollar per day for those only who saw active service is the only fair and just way this matter can be settled, and not by a scheme that will make men beg for it.

The vets have to thank the Examiner for a great deal of help, and for many a kindness in the past, but your present attitude re the gratuity is not in their interest. Of course you will probably say you are thinking of the financial position of the country.

I would like to ask, How much was the financial position studied by all the different interests that in the last few years got all they possibly could get?

What would be the financial position of the country if Germany had won, and in that event, would an indemnity of 252 millions have satisfied them.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I remain, yours sincerely,

R. Mitchell.

"No More Sleepless Nights" --Bathes Internally.

Mr. J. B. Burrows, 271 West North Street, Decatur, Ill., writes Tyrrel's Hygenic Institute of New York as follows:

"I am still using the J.B.L. Cascade once a week, and find it most efficient for keeping me in fine condition. It acts as a sedative for tired nerves and has been a great help for sleeplessness. I have frequently arisen from bed and used it in the middle of the night with satisfactory results."

The reason for this remarkable result is because the functions cannot work properly when there is an accumulation of waste in the lower intestine.

The "J.B.L. Cascade," by the simple process of properly applying warm water, eliminates all this waste and causes the functions to work smoothly and properly.

Over half a million intelligent Canadians and Americans are now using the Cascade with similar results.

It is the invention of Charles A. Tyrrell, M.D., of New York, a noted specialist on internal bathing for 25 years.

It will be shown and explained to you by the Warne Drug Company who will be glad to give you an interesting booklet by Dr. Tyrrell called 'Why Man or To-day is only 50 per cent. Efficient." This booklet is free upon request. Ask for it to-day while you think of it.

EASTER SERVICE TRINITY CHURCH

The Easter Services at Trinity Methoodist Church will be of special interest this year. The pastor will receive in the morning the class of Junior members who have been in the Preparatory Class during the winter. A Comunion service will follow the morning sermon at which it is hoped that very member, both young and old will be present. Special Easter Anthems at this service.

At the evening service the choir assisted by Mrs. Foster, violinist, will give a grand service of Easter song.

The sermons, both morning and evening, will deal with the Easter theme.

At 3 p.m. there will be an open session of the Sunday School when a most delightful program will be presented. Miss Lawton, of the Y.W.C.A., will tell an Easter story. Mr. Otto Glidden, leader of the orchestra will give a clarionette solo. Two numbers will be given by the members of the primary department. A duet will be given by the Misses Wolstenholme and a reading by Miss Helen Storey. The Pastor will give a ten-minute Easter talk illustrated by lantern slides. The offering will be for Missions. All are invited to this open session. The young people who are being received into membership are requested to meet the Pastor in the church.

The ladies who are contributing Easter lilies are requested to send them to the church not later than 4 p.m., Saturday. These will be sent afterwards to the sick.

Visitors and strangers in the city are cordially invited to these Easter services.

Would not be Without Zutoo Tablets At Any Cost

Such is the statement of Mr. A. O. Norton, of Boston, the largest Jack Manufacturer in the world. His voluntary testimonial regarding ZUTOO follows:

286 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

"I have been a sufferer from Headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all the so-called 'cures' on the market. Some months since my attention was called to Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since with the most gratifying results. I find they cure a 'sick' or 'nervous' headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effects. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from Headache and they never failed to give quick relief. I always carry Zutoo Tablets in my grip on the road and WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT THEM AT ANY COST."

Speaks Right Out and to the Point

MISS LADERONT SAYS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS HELPED HER KIDNEY DISEASE.

Bigwood Lady Points the Way to Health to the Weak, Weary, Nervous, Run-down Women of Canada.

That is the statement of Miss Laurance Laderont, a highly esteemed lady living here. It is short and to the point. There can be no misunderstanding of its meaning. It is a clear and ringing message to women all over Canada. It tells them where they, too, may find relief.

For ninety per cent. of the ills from which women suffer come from weak or diseased kidneys. They are the organs that strain all the impurities, all the seeds of disease out of the blood. If they fail in this work the impurities remain in the blood and are deposited all over the body. The results show themselves in weakness, weariness, nervousness, headaches, backache, dropsy and rheumatism.

Ask your neighbor if all these diseases cannot be avoided by using Dodd's Kidney Pills to strengthen the kidneys.

ARMED TROOPS IN LONDONDERRY

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 3.—Armed troops were on duty along the roads leading to Londonderry last night.

Motor cars were minutely searched and the drivers had to produce permits and declare their business, says a Central Press despatch from London.

It is believed this military activity had something to do with the rumours of an Easter uprising.

PUNY, AILING CHILDREN NEED VINOL

Because it Enriches the Blood, Makes Sound Flesh and Muscle Tissue, and Little Thin Limbs Round and Plump

Druggists Guarantee It

When a child is tired all the time, no appetite, weak, sickly and ailing—no energy, no vitality, they need the strengthening elements of tonic iron, combined with the rare flesh, muscle and tissue building elements of good old-fashioned cod liver oil as contained in VINOL. That is what makes them respond so quickly to its use.

Just try it on our guarantee and you will get the same results as this mother who writes: "My little girl was weak, puny and tired all the time, did not want to do anything. VINOL was recommended, and it built up her strength and made her healthy, and now she romps and plays like other children, and is robust and rosy."

If you have a sickly, ailing child do not wait another day, but get a bottle of VINOL and try it on the guarantee of your druggist to return your money if it fails to benefit.

To what type does your skin belong?

HAVE you ever studied your skin and learned just what kind of care best suits its needs? Remember—different types of skin need different care.

In the famous booklet that is wrapped around every cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap you will find special treatments for each type of skin. Learn the treatment for your skin—use it regularly every night—and see how much clearer and lovelier your skin becomes.

The following treatment is recommended for a skin that is too oily:

With warm water work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap in your hands. Apply it to your face and rub it into the pores thoroughly—always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with warm water, then with cold—the colder the better. If possible rub your face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice.

This is only one of the famous Woodbury treatments. Get the booklet and see for yourself how thoroughly the needs of different types of skin have been studied.

A 25 cent cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap lasts for a month or six weeks of any treatment or for general cleansing use. The booklet of treatments is wrapped around each cake. Get a cake today—it is on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada.

FRECKLES

The sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines at this season is attributed by scientists to the "actinic ray," which is unusually active during the spring months. Where the skin is so affected by this influence, if one will procure anounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store, apply a little cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off next morning, minute flaky skin particles come with it. The entire outer cuticle is removed in this way in a week or two, with all the defects.

No bleach could so effectually remove freckles or blemishes. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No harm or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.

WILL REMAIN FOR THREE EXTRA DAYS

WONDERFUL SUCCESS OF "THE GREAT SHADOW" AT THE GRAND.

Audiences which filled every available seat in the Grand Opera House yesterday gave enthusiastic receptions to "The Great Shadow," featuring Tyrone Power, and the whole programme met with such a triumphant success while in the city that Manager H. Dahn, of the Grand Opera House, has decided to retain it in its entirety for three extra days—Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week.

A bare narration of the powerful play would be inadequate. It is a big production wonderfully staged, all the scenes laid in Canada, and magnificently acted. Tyrone Power in the leading role enthused the audience to a high pitch. As the labour leader he excels any previous work done by him, bringing out to perfection all the characteristics of the class he portrays. The plot deals with Bolshevists seeking, through gaining control of the labour unions to precipitate the country into a bloody revolution. When the calamity seems to be inevitable, however, the plot is discovered, and the country saved.

Mr. Power is supported by a magnificent cast, amongst whom special mention might be made of the child acting, which is a feature of the production.

Unstinted Applause.

Madame Loretta Beck, the grand opera soprano, took the audiences by storm, and was accorded unstinted applause by her auditors, who recognised the fact that she was a singer of unusual ability, and were most reluctant to let her retire at the conclusion of her numbers.

Next week she will present an entire change of songs, and leaves tonight for Montreal for her costimes in which to sing "Carmen." The augmented orchestra excelled any previous work, and was warmly congratulated by Mr. J. J. Shea, the director of music.

The Examiner interviewed the Madame after the performance and was surprised to learn Madame was only twenty-two years old. However, he learned that she had commenced her studies at the age of seventeen, going to Boston and studying under the celebrated baritone "Blanchard," who is coach for the Metropolitan Opera stars. Madame Beck was one of Blanchard's favorite pupils and in six months placed her in opera.

During a performance of "Carmen" eight months ago, with Blanchard playing the roll of Toreador, he threw the Madame so violently to the floor in the last act he broke her leg. Since that time the Madame has only appeared in three other engagements.

AT THE EMPIRE

The Empire Theatre yesterday enjoyed a large patronage and presented a satisfactory programme of pictures. 'The Gay Old Dog,' featured for the day, was not shown, being superseded by a Pathe film, "Respectable by Proxy," showing Sylvia Breamer and Robert Gordon in the leading roles. The story was entertaining. Arising out of the marriage of a son and only heir to a leading lady of a one-horse road company were numerous complications. The villain, as usual, was there too, but not of the heavy moustached, cut-throat type. He was the heir's cousin, but in spite of the relationship had unbounded ideas and plans to outdo his cousin and get the estate. The son's supposed death occurred and then things began to boil for then his widow turned up and won her way into the mother's heart. But she wasn't his widow at all. She was the next best thing, her widow's friend, who went to save the mother from the smooth-faced villain. The boy turns up in time and also the real wife, but all goes well for the first marriage was just one among several in the career of the actress. The second marriage of the young man to the other young lady comes as a sequel to a courtship and infatuation, and the villain is baffled and the estate rescued.

A Rainbow comedy of unusual merit and a laugh-getter all the way, adds materially to the programme and an exciting episode in the Plunging Peril kept the audience veritably on tip-toe if such a thing were possible in a picture house, only in that aggravating way of serials it ended just as the hero was on the point of death and the other side had the upper hand.

AT THE ALLEN

"The Scandal" at the Allen Theatre on Good Friday afternoon drew a crowded house, and delighted all who saw it. Constance Talmadge in the leading role was as demure and winsome as ever, and filled the role superbly. The daughter of a wealthy American, Vanderdyke, she becomes involved in a scandal with an infamous painter, but escapes when her family read the accusations against her by retorting that she had carried on a courtship with Franklyn Pelham who lived in the same building and had been secretly married. Pelham came of a very good family, and had long been selected by her parents as a suitable husband for her, so the announcement came as a delightful climax to an embarrassing situation. Of course, it was a farce, a careless slip of the tongue, and she had made no end of trouble for herself and her farce husband. The odd situations and complications that arise out of this form the picture, and how at last the phantom husband really finds himself in love with the little trouble-maker, and the little cupid captured them both and, of course, they lived happily ever afterwards.

An episode of the "Black Secret" and an educational film and "Happy Hooligan" in animated cartoons balanced up a very excellent programme.

PLEASE GET MARRIED

Olive Morosco's most recent successful production is that hilarious farce of honeymoon happenings, entitled "Please Get Married," by James Cullen and Lewis Allen Browne.

The piece was produced in early February at the Little Theatre, New York, and ran until the members of the cast insisted upon having a vacation, which came just before the strike. Briefly, the story deals with two young things who are crazy to get married, and the father of the boy objects very strenuously to any such idea. After being married by a burglar masquerading as a clergyman, the young couple embark on what appears to be a stolen honeymoon; but when after many near-catastrophies the burglar proves to be a real clergyman after all, with full powers of authority, who took to housebreaking only when under an amnesia spell, naturally everything is all right. The second act takes place in the private suite of a fashionable mountain resort hotel, just as the young couple are preparing to retire for the night. The interruptions and the well, well, well's of the young bridegroom, the blushing timidity of the bride, and delicate manner in which extremely intimate situations are handled, makes the fun fast and furious.

This season Mr. Morosco is sending "Please Get Married" to the Grand on Thursday for an engagement of one night only, with a typical Morosco cast.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE OPENS APRIL 24TH

SCHEDULE COMMITTEE APPOINTED PLAYERS MUST REGISTER BY APRIL 15.

The first games in the City Football League will be played on Saturday, April 24th, and by an amendment passed at the meeting of the executive at Coleman's last night all players must be registered by April 15th instead of May 1st. The various clubs are requested to pay special attention to this change.

The following committee was appointed to draw up the schedule:—Messrs. A. Parkins, W. Baldwin, Fred. Sutcliffe and O. E. Curtis. Each team will have home and away games, thereby assuring equal advantage in the matter of grounds.

The Canadian Woolens team will practise on the Nicholls Oval, and the Caledonians, Canadian General Electrics and De Laval will use the Exhibition grounds. The other clubs have not yet registered their grounds. A list of qualified referees has been submitted from which a number will be accepted.

It was stated last night that the Oddfellows have not yet finally decided whether they will put a team in the league, but there are still hopes that they will be represented.

Most of the teams have already had limbering up workouts and within another week should begin to round into condition.

Canadian Woolens Football Club Meeting Tonight.

A meeting of the Canadian Woolens football club wil be held tonight in the Windsor Hotel. All prospective players are asked to attend.

LAST FOUR OF PETERBORO TOWNSHIPS FOR GOOD ROADS

SMITH, ENNISMORE, DOURO AND DUMMER OUTLINE ROADS TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE HIGHWAYS DEPARTMENT FOR DESIGNATION —NORTHERN TOWNSHIPS ARE NOT ELIGIBLE.

CITY COUNCIL'S SESSION

The last little vacant white patch on the Ontario Highway department's good roads map was tentatively filled in yesterday afternoon when, at a special session of the County Council, the townships of Smith, Ennismore, Douro and Dummer signified their intention of adopting the provincial highways scheme to which the townships of North Monaghan, Otonabee, Asphodel and Belmont committed themselves last year.

It was just six o'clock when the last road was marked with red for official designation by the Hon. Mr. Biggs, and with intimations that the supper hour was upon them, the Council postponed the introduction of the binding by-law until this morning. It was understood that the concluding procedure was mere formality and that the four municipalities, after holding out so long had finally decided to accept the government's assistance toward the cohstruction and maintenance of both county and county-provincial roads.

The Rubricated Roads.

The roads outlined by the four reeves for the approval of the Department were as follows:

Smith—The fourth line to Fowler's Corners; the Chemong road from Peterborough to Bridgenorth and continuing to Selwyn and to Buckhorn; the road from Selwyn to Young's Point: the river road from Peterborough to Lakefield; the middle line from the river road to the tenth concession; the eighth line from Bridgenorth to Lakefield.

Warden Nicholls expects that the fourth line, and the roads from Peterborough to Chemong and from Peterborough to Lakefield will be designated as County provincial roads.

Ennismore — The road from the Chemong bridge by way of the 'cross' to the Pigeon Creek bridge; what is known as the back road running north and south; and also the concession line from the bridge to the Emily boundary.

Douro—The river road from Peterborough to Lakefield and Young's Point; the road from Peterborough to Warsaw; the road east from Nasau to the Dummer boundary, which is extended in Dummer to Cottesloe; the road from Lakefield east and south to Warsaw; and the line from the Lakefield-Young's Point road extending through what is known as Galesburg to the Dummer boundary beyond which it meets the road from Warsaw to Hall's Glen and McCracken's Landing. Reeve Coughlin also chose a road from the Douro church to Indian river.

Dummer—From Warsaw to Hall's Glen and McCracken's Landing; also the road south from Warsaw and east to Cottesloe and thence south to South Dummer and east along the boundary; the ninth line south from Crowe's Landing and Clarina through Centre Dummer to the boundary, where it meets the road to Norwood.

A few short roads and loops here and there in the townships are not included in the above summary, which, however, comprises the main highways, some of which, such as the Warsaw road and the ninth line from Norwood, will likey be county provincial roads.

The boundary line between Douro and Otonabee and also between Dummer and Asphodel, extending straight east from the corner of Smith and Concession street to the Belmont boundary is marked in stretches and will probably be included in its entire length.

North Townships Shut Out.

The Highways Department previously announced that the northern townships were excluded from the Good Roads system and were eligible only for the colonization grants. Thus with the entry of the eight southern townships Peterborough county may now be regarded as a full-fledged if belated member of the charmed circle from which it had held aloof in spite of the strongest pressure during the years of the war and even prior to that period. The December session in 1918, following the armistice, showed the first real signs of surrender, although W. A. Anderson, of Otonabee, had stated earlier that when the war was epded the Goods Roads policy would receive his serious attention. In the following January the sentiment of other members was clearly in favour of accepting the government's aid in road building, and in June of last year Otonabee and North Monaghan set the example, and Belmont and Asphodel immediately joined them.

Reeve McIntosh has advocated the good roads system from the outset. Reeve Eason of Otonabee, also assumed the lead last year when the four southern municipalities decided to take the plunge.

W. E. Griffith of Belmont, who is an enthusiast for good roads, found certain features of the act not to his liking, but he accepted it for better or for worse, or rather for the reason that it was the only legislation available.

Smith township had declared itself a hold-out, and Ennismore wasn't anxious until its neighbour across Chemong Lake closed the gap across country to the city and to Monaghan and Otonabee.

Douro and Dummer were more or less reluctant right to the end. In fact Reeves Coughlin and Darling were the last to sit in to the diverting game of scoring the outlines of their townships with the red pencil.

Reeve Shaw Starts Something.

Reeve Shaw, of Harvey, counted himself out of the conference, although he crystallized the desultory opening discussion into a buzz of relevant debate by proposing a motion, seconded by Reeve Clark of Galway, that all the townships be included in a scheme by which levy for road work would be made on the equalized assessment of all the municipalities in the county. Supposing a three mill rate to be struck for this purpose, the sums collected would be returned by the County Clerk to the municipalities to be expended on the local roads, and the government would contribute an additional forty per cent.

With the concrete suggestion for the Council, the members apparently taken by surprise and without even an amendment to offer, broke up into little groups that shifted as opinions were exchanged.

Smith Was Ready.

Warden Nicholls announced that Smith was prepared to assume the provincial good roads scheme, and Reeve Holland of Ennismore stated that his township was also willing. A road map was produced, and was scrutinized and studied by the representatives of the southern block, while the northern reeves gathered around to watch the moving red pencil as it travelled over Smith's leading highways and thence across into Ennismore.

Finally Martin Coughlin of Douro and John Darling of Dummer, parted company with the spectators, put their heads together and broke away from the ruts, concluding that if the government grants were enough for the other townships they might as well have a share.

Warden Nicholls' remained silent while his colleagues were making their decision, Reeve Squire of Norwood ventured a suggestion upon one road or another, and Reeve Eason made the facetious prediction that the people would ome day get full length paintings of the Reeves of Dummer and Douro for that afternoon's work.

Villages Escape.

Reeve Shaw's resolution would have included the villages of Norwood, Havelock and Lakefield, which under the present scheme escape the cost of good roads but share in the improvements. It was pointed out that the roads indicated yesterday will not be transformed in a day or a month, in fact that the desired results will not bloom over night. This of course is generally realized, but the adoption of the scheme will begin to produce beneficial results when it is fully developed this year and extended in its operation as a permanent, co-operative and uniform system covering the entire eight southern townships.

BIG DEMAND FOR EASTER LILIES

PETERBORO FLORISTS HUSTLE TO KEEP UP WITH DEMAND.

This year's orders for Easter lilies will total over 2200, or an increase of several hundred from last year. One florist said the public is buying very cautiously and the majority of the pudchasers prefer a rose bush or some plant which will last through to another season, or cut flowers, as they are more economical.

To a great extent the demand for lilies is supplied with home-grown plants, Mr. Jordan having raised one thousand plants from bulbs imported last Fall from Japan, and claims he never saw a finer lot of lilies than his greenhouse produced, each bearing from four to twelve flowers. "There's no flower for Easter but the Easter lily and that's what the public wants," he said. Mr. Williamson said that the greatest trouble the florist has at present is replacing the flower as they are bought and it keeps the telephone wires red hot getting in a big enough supply to meet the demand. The demand this year, he said, for cut flowers exceeds any previous year in his experience. He said the Easter demand for lilies is about the same with the Peterboro Floral Company as last year and in one day he had 400 orders supplied locally.

A STUDY IN FACES

One need not be an over-discerning student of facial expression to be impressed with the joy that has come to the young boy of our picture as he listens to the music from a played by "big sister," whilst the other children show their pleasure down to their toes.

HEINTMAN & CO. ART PIANOS

It's a pretty home scene—but more. One can hardly fully estimate the education, culture, and refinement that comes to anyone who possesses one of these instruments —not a mere medley of noises—for a piano that an artiste like Tetrazzini—and many others—insist on using, necessarily and obviously is a different and superior instrument —and it is.

OBITUARY

MARGARET COUGHLIN.

After an illness of six weeks' duration of pneumonia, Margaret Coughlin passed away at the family residence, 349 Euclid Avenue, on Friday at one o'clock.

Deceased, who was born in the city and had lived here all her life, was highly esteemed amongst a wide circle of friends, by whom her death will be keenly regretted. She was a daughter of the late Jeremiah Coughlin.

She is survived by her sorrowing mother, four sisters, Mrs. D. Casey, of Otonabee, Lillian, Mona, and Nora at home and three brothers Jerry Alonzo, and Michael, all residing in the city.

Funeral on Monday morning at 9 o'clock to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, and thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

CORNELIOUS O'CONNOR.

The funeral took place to-day of the late Cornelius O'Connor, for many years a well-known and highly respected resident of Ennismore, at the age of seventy-five, after an illness of some months' duration.

The late Mr. O'Connor took a keen interest, in days gone by, in the politics of this country, as well as a great deal of local interest in the affairs of his own township, and was looked upon as a man of good judgment in matters of this kind.

Besides his wife, he leaves behind him one daughter, Mrs. Jas. Morrisey of Ennismore, and several brothers of the same township.

OLIVE SHERROW.

The death occurred yesterday morning of Marguerite Olive Sherrow, aged 5 years, at her residence in Ennismore.

The funeral will be held this afternoon from St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, to St. Martin's Cemetery.

MRS. ANDREW GRANT.

Kathrine Fowler, wife of the late Andrew Grant, died this morning at the family residence, 505 Bolivar Street, after an illness of several months' duration, aged 87 years.

She was born in Monaghan, and came to the city to reside about 22 years ago.

There are left of the immediate family two sons, W. J., of Smith, and Dr. A. F. Grant, medical missionary in Egypt; also two daughters, Miss A. J. Grant and Miss Isabel Grant, both residing at home.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Service at the house at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. A. MacKenzie and Rev. James Rollins will officiate.

SARAH HUGHES.

The death occurred of Sarah Hughes, wife of Mr. James Little, at the family residence, on the 7th concession of Dummer Township, after an illness of five months. She is survived by her husband. The funeral will take place on Sunday at one thirty o'clock to the Warsaw cemetery.

HENRY CHARLES WINCH.

The death occurred last evening at eleven o'clock of Henry Charles Winch, a prominent and respected citizen of the community.

The deceased was 76 years of age and a lifelong resident of the city, having been born here on 2nd January, 1844.

He is survived by his widow, one brother, R. J. Winch, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Greerson, of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Mrs. Botzer of Royalton, Minnesota.

The funeral service will be held at his late residence, 81 Crescent Street, on Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, under Masonic auspices. Rev. A. J. Thomas and Rev. J. Doner will officiate.

A fuller obituary will be published on Monday.

GRETA ALICE CHAPIN.

The death took place at ten o'clock Thursday morning at the residence of her mother, 88 Gladstone Avenue, after an illness of seven weeks' duration, of Greta Alice Chapin, in her 18th year. Miss Chapin was born in Deloraine, Man., where she resided all her life until the family moved to Peterboro ten months ago. She was a prominent member of the Methodist Sunday Sunday School in Manitoba and was also a member of St. James- Sunday School in this city. She was employed in the office of Mrs. Fanning's laundry for some time prior to her illness and for two weeks immediately precednig her illness she was employed at the Western Clock Company. At both firms she was very well liked and highly respected.

There survive: her mother, 88 Gladstone Avenue, city; two siisters, Mrs. C. W. Rollins, of Dinmore, Sask. and Mrs. Hans Hanson, of Lemmon, South Dakota; and three brothers, Gladstone and Roland of Deloraine, Man., and Thomas at home.

The funeral will be held from the family residence, 88 Gladstone Avenue, on Monday, April 5th, 1920, at 2 p.m.

SALVATION ARMY TEMPLE.

The week-end services at the S. A. Temple on Saturday Sunday, and Monday, 3rd, 4th, and 5th April, will be conducted by Captain and Mrs. Spooner, of Toronto. The Captain, on previous visits, has delighted his congregations with his preaching and concertina playing.

The following programme will be carried through by the Captain:

Saturday Night—A bright free and easy meeting will be conducted in the Y. P. Hall at 8 o'clock.

Sunday Morning, 6.30. — Easter morning parade, the Temple Band in attendance. 7 o'clock—In the Temple, a special service will be conducted for one hour. At this service there will be the breaking of the bread, or better known as a Salvation Army Love Feast. 10.15—The Band, Songsters and the entire Corps will meet on the corner of McDonnel and Aylmer Streets. 11—A very special Holiness meeting in the Temple. 3.15—A special musical service, given by the Temple Songsters, assisted by the Band. At this service the Captain, who is an expert at playing the concertina, will delight his audience with a concertina solo. 7—An old-fashioned Salvation Army meeting, conducted for one hour and a half. Following this a pictorial portrayal of Christ's Passion will be given. The Captain carries one of the best magic lanterns, and also a number of the best lantern slides obtainable. You will be delighted with this pictorial service. The Songsters will sing special selections in connection with this, and the Band will also give very special music.

You are cordially invited to attend all these services. Seats free, and congregational singing a specialty.

JOY AND GLADNESS FOR THE CHILDREN

Every child—whether it be poor or rich is entitled to joy and gladness. Health is the birthright of all and there is absolutely no doubt that the healthy baby is a happy baby. It is the baby's nature to be happy—not cross. Only the sickly baby is cross. The well child is a joy to the home—it is a laughing, gurgling, happy little piece of humanity which drives dull care from the household. The sickly baby is the opposite—he is cross and peevish; cries a great deal and is a source of constant worry to the mothers. But mothers there is no need of your little ones being sickly. Regulate the baby's bowels and sweeten his stomach with a gentle but thorough laxative and baby will soon be well and happy again. Thousands of mothers have proved this through their use of Baby's Own Tablets—there is a smile in every dose of the Tablets. Give them to your baby and make him happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EASTER FLORAL BEAUTIES.

Many homes have been brightened this week by the ever welcome Easter Lily. Some 1,200 of these rich blooms grown in Jordan Bros.' own green houses were ready for the Easter festival. The fragrance and charm of these floral beauties attracted a large demand. An Easter Lily can be made a joy in any home.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Additional interest will attach to the services in St. Andrew's church tomorrow not only on account of the Easter music and Easter decorations provided by the Young Men's Guild, but also because the church passes into the hands of the renovators on Monday and the services will be held elsewhere for some weeks. Visitors and strangers welcome.

SUNRISE PRAYER SERVICE.

The Easter Sunrise Prayer Service at George street Methodist church will be held to-morrow morning at 7 o'clock in the church parlor.

This is an annual event which is held under the auspices of the Epworth League, and is largely attended by young and old.

Mr. S. A. Armstrong will speak on an appropriate Easter topic. A cordial invitation extended to all.

MURRAY STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

The services at Murray Street Baptist Church to-morrow attract our attention. The largeshoir announces a special program of Easter music for the evening hour. At the morning service the Communion will be administered and a reception of new members will be held.

The pastor, Rev. J. R. Webb, will preach at both services.

This is the semi-annual occasion on which the Murray Street people bring in their installments on shares pledged to cover the building fund debt.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH.

Good Friday Evening.

The choir of All Saints Anglican Church presented Stainer's Crucifixion to a large and appreciative congregation. The work was admirably sung by the full choir of forty voices. Both chorus and soloists acquitted themselves well and showed evidence of careful training. The assisting artists were: Mrs. Percy Hooper whose violin selections were very beautiful and player with a master hand; and, Mrs. E. Hinchcliffe, who sang, "Come Unto Me," from Handel's Messiah, in a very beautiful and pleasing manner. She was accompanied by violin and organ. The tenor and bass solos were sung by Mr. Geo. Chandler and Mr. J. Raybould, tenors, and Mr. T. H. Boddy and Messrs. A. Rush and W. Gatfield, bassos, who did fullt justice to the work alloted them. Mrs. Flowers, at the organ, played with good taste and the work throughout was a credit to the choir and its leader.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Cartarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

STEAMERS COLLIDED IN A HEAVY STORM AND ONE VESSEL WAS LOST—ALL PASSENGERS SAVED.

NARROW ESCAPE

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, April 5.—What a narrow escape, fifty people aboard the steamer Prince John had last Wednesday morning when that vessel was rammed by the Prince Albert—both being steamers of the Grand Trunk Pacific fleet—will long be told as an epic of cool seamanship on the Pacific.

Several passengers from the Prince John reached Vancouver to-day with the first details of the accident received since the wireless messages last week.

In the black darkness, with a heavy wind, the Prince John steamed out of Skidgate Harbour very early on Wednesday morning. As the ship breasted the heavy sea of the open straits, a furious wind and snow squall struck her, promising to make the five-hour journey to Prince Rupert one of considerable difficulty.

At the same moment the Prince Albert was nosing into the inlet.

Smothered in snow and blinding spray, neither ship's crew saw or heard the other until the steel bow of the Prince Albert cut down the Prince John just then pivoting on her swing back to port.

The Chief Engineer, Malcolm, of the Prince John, awakened to find the bow of the Prince Albert halfway through his cabin, and a cold, green cataract threatening to drown him.

Amid a crash of shattering timbers, Malcolm leaped to the door of his stateroom and found everything in action when he reached the deck.

The moment his ship cut into the Prince John, Captain Robinson ordered full speed ahead, and swung for the shore a mile and a half distant.

The bows of the Prince Albert had firmly wedged in the great hole in the Prince John's side, and carried the steamer along like a fish on a spear.

For an hour and a half the vessels surged ahead until the Prince John had her holds filled with water, and finally dropped away and sank in four fathoms of water a short distance from the beach.

In the meantime all the passengers had been successfully transferred, and so orderly and calmly was the transfer made that the baggage and valuables from the Prince John were all taken aboard the other ship.

The Prince Albert stood by until late in the afternoon, when she started for Rupert.

There she was pronounced seaworthy, and resumed her voyage to Stewart.

THE WEATHER

The weather yesterday was not very suitable to the display of new Spring hats or fashion's latest ideas in lingerie, but it was much better than that which prevailed in many places west of this. All through the west the temperature ranged from zero to 20 below, and in many places there was heavy snow in addition. The lowest here yesterday was 30 degrees, and this morning 23 degrees.—W. P.

BETWEEN THE TROOPS AND AUSTRIAN PEASANTS

(Canadian Press.)

VIENNA, April 3.— Serious conflicts between troops and peasants in Grotia arising out of refusal of German Hungarian peasants to respond to the call to the colours are reported in Agram, Jugo Slavia despatches, according to which troops were attacked by massed bodies of farmers armed with axes. Some hundreds are said to have been killed while many others were wounded. Disorder is wide-spread and there have been wholesale arrests of mutineers.

Pensions Same for Privates

OPINION OF ONE OF THE LABOUR DELEGATES AT THE LONDON CONVENTION.

TARIFF QUESTION

(Special to the Examiner).

LONDON, Ont., April 5.—Discussing the significance of the Independent Labor Party convention with the Examiner, W. T. McDowell, an Ottawa delegate, said: "I believe the convention will be helpful to the branches in Western Ontario, it will consolidate the forces of labor in political organization. The outstanding feature was the discussion of the tariff which brought out a great many phases of thought, and showed that there is in the Labor Party a general feeling that there should be a gradual reduction of the tariff, tending ultimately to free trade.

"As the soldiers are very largely recruited from the ranks of the workers, their interests should be identical, and anything having for its object the betterment of the condition of the soldiers should receive the endorsation of Labor. It is our belief that pensions should be the same for privates as for officers."

Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M.PP. for London, said it had been a wonderful convention. "It was the most smooth running and active convention I have attended for years. A surprising number of labor ideas were brought forward and the outstanding feature was the absolute unanimity of the labor people. I think the convention will indelibly impress upon the working classes the progress made by the Labor Party in the last two years for their betterment. Step by step they have done tenaciously toiling up the hillsides to the great tableland of Labor's ideals and they are wonderfully optimistic of results. What the Labor people lay hold of they never let go."

MINISTER OF LABOR.

Hon. Walter Rollo, Minister of Labor, said: "The outstanding resolution considered by the convention was on the tariff which would no doubt have considerable bearing on the success or otherwise of Labor candidates in Ontario at the next Federal election. Just what the outcome in this connection with their success or failure will be remains to be seen. My own opinion is that it would have been in the best interests if the convention had gone on record as favoring a non-political independent commission to go into the whole question of tariff, making recommendations for reduction where such could be made, or for increasing if necessary where sufficient protection did not already exist for the proper encouragement of Canadian industries."

Ex-Mayor McIlvenna, of North Bay said: "To my mind the convention has been more educational than anything else. The Labor Party had to take some decided stand on the tariff question, which in our opinion, will be the predominating subject under discussion at the next Federal election. It was all that the question was taken up at this convention for, because we have no assurance as to when the powers at Otawa may decide to go to the country.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S SHOW AT THE ALLEN

The idea of the "night shows" is one of those that came in with the Twentieth Century, accompanied by jazz music and the seductive shimmy. In New York the night shows "turn 'em away" in thousands. Other American cities report for them like popularity. In Hamilton and Toronto they are being greeted with an enthusiasm like to that accorded an invitation to visit a friend with a full private stock laid by. Peterboro will have its introduction to the new idea when the official film reproduction of the Dempsey-Willard championship contest at Toledo will be screened by special permission of the authorities, war tax also being waived as the objective is the raising of a substantial sum for a returned soldier organization. The picture is in five reels and runs an hour and a half or more. Besides depicting every part of the championship bout as to which so much has been said and written, it being accepted as the best and most stirring ring movie ever made, the picture includes the principal preliminary events, in one of which see seen Frankie Mason and Carl Tremaine, both candidates for championship honors among the fast and furious little fellows.

PETERBORO HEN OUT TO BEAT THE HIGH COST LIVING

The only element in the community as yet discovered which is striving to bring down the High Cost of Living is a Plymouth Rock hen owned by Mrs. R. T. Hounsell, 232 Edinburgh street, which, not satisfied with laying continuously from the 25th of December to the 27th of March, missing three days only and thereby supplying 88 eggs, is now changing her acivities by volunteering to sit. Her owner claims her to be a record hen.

PRINCE HAS COLD FEET

Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 3. — The demand made of the Allies that the independence of Syria be recognized has virtually been dropped by Prince Feisal, who was recently made King of Syria, according to a despatch to the Daily Mail from Damascus.

The despatch says it is thought that the Prince might now easily be induced to visit London and explain matters, and adds that the Syrian Government's position is none too brilliant.

MOTORCYCLE AND AUTOMOBILE MET IN A COLLISION

TWO MEN IN THE HOSPITAL AS A RESULT.

As a result of a serious motor accident yesterday morning at 11.40 at the north-west corner of George and Simcoe Streets, when Dr. E. V. Frederick's sedan and a motor cycle driven by Frank White, 527 Patterson Street, collided, Frank White and his fellow-passenger, Gerhard Loescher, lie in Nicholls Hospital suffering from severe injuries received in the collision.

Frank White is the junior member of White Brothers, Hunter Street, and has had several years experience in motor cycles, and is thoroughly competent with one. For several years he was a mechanic at C. R. Banks, and later was with the Riverside Garage, Toronto. He and Gerhard Loescher were going to McGill Street.

The motor cycle they were driving was a new Excelsior twin-cylinder machine valued at $535, and was a very sturdy and powerful motor cycle. The time the accident occurred was the quietest time of the day and the streets were all but deserted. Only a few witnesses saw the accident.

The motor cycle was travelling south on George Street and the car west on Simcoe Street, and the accident occurred just at the manhole at the north-west corner, which is situated about eighteen feet from the north-west corner of the sidewalk, and from all appearances the brakes of Dr. Frederick's car were applied seven or eight feet south-east of the manhole.

Police-Constable Thomas, who was called at 11.40 from the station, stated that when he arrived, White was lying on his back by the car, which was facing directly towards Turnbull's south window. Loescher was sitting on the sidewalk, and the doctor was attending White.

Belleghem's ambulance was at once called, and both of the injured men were removed to Nicholls Hospital, where an X-ray and examination showed a compound fracture of the leg. Loescher has a broken ankle.

The relatives of both young men were at once notified.

Carl Milligan, 4 Benson Avenue, was a witness of the accident. He stated that he was standing at Turnbull's store when the accident occurred.

"I saw a motor cycle coming south on George Street. I heard a crash, the motor cycle had struck an auto, which I did not see until I heard the crash," said Milligan. "I went and picked up Frank White, and the doctor told me to let him lie down right where he was, which I did, and while I was doing so, some person had helped the other man to the sidewalk. There was a lady in the car with the doctor. I heard the driver of the motor cycle sounding his horn on approaching the corner."

John Dyer, 220 Patterson Street, Ottawa, who was walking south on George Street and was in front of Cressman's when the accident happened, corroborated the others' stories. He stated that the collision occurred directly over the manhole at the north-west corner.

To-day it was learned that although Frank White spent a restless night and was in great pain, he was resting easier to-day. His injuries were found to include three scalp wounds and his hand is badly lacerated.

Gerhard Loescher is also resting easier to-day.

The motor cycle is very badly smashed up and the damage will be at least $100. The car received very little damage.

This afternoon Dr. Frederick declined to comment on the accident.

Military Measures Promised

THE SITUATION IS NOW IN THE HANDS OF MARSHAL FOCH—BRITAIN WILL APPROVE.

FORCE GERMANS

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 5. — The French military measures destined to force the German Government to withdraw its troops from the Ruhr Basin are now entirely in the hands of Marshal Foch, it was said at the Foreign Office this morning.

Nothing more, it was added, has transpired regarding an advance by the French troops than had been indicated in the official statements.

It is advanced in some well-informed quarters that the occupation of Frankfort, Darmstadt, Homburg, and Hanau is unlikely to exercise sufficient pressure upon the Germans, since they may well argue that this occupation is distasteful to the French as well as to themselves, and cannot continue indefinitely.

The British Government will decline to co-operate in the occupation of these cities, according to the London correspondent of the Petit Parisien, but will, he says, "Favourably follow the action of France, realising the importance of the situation."

FLYNN SCHEME BEFORE PREMIER

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, April 5.—The Government to-day received a delegation representing seven veterans' organisations, in favour of the Flynn scheme of cash bonus, running from one to two thousand dollars.

J. Harris Flynn accompanied the delegation almost to the door of the Premier's office, but did not enter.

He stated that Sir George Foster had said that while the Government would be pleased to receive the delegation, he himself would not be received "for reasons which will be evident to you."

Mr. Flynn stated that in reply he had challenged Sir George to resign his seat, and stating that he would contest it against the acting Premier.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT CATHEDRAL

LARGE CONGREGATIONS AT ALL SERVICES.

At St. Peter's Cathedral at 10.30 a.m. Pontificial High Mass was celebrated by His Lordship, assisted by Rev. C. J. Phelan as assistant priest, Father Cantillon as deacon and Father Costello as sub-deacon. Father Phelan preached an eloquent sermon appropriate to the day and Bishop O'Brien addressed a few words to the congregation. In the evening Pontifical Vespers were celebrated by His Lordship assisted by Father Phelan as deacon and Father Cantillon as sub-deacon. The sermon was preached by Father Costello. At both services special and impressive Easter music was provided. In the morning in Bordese's Mass the solos were sung by Miss Leahy and Miss Clancy and the duets by the Misses Simons and Mr. Picard and Mr. Fitz-Patrick. During the offertory "Regina Cealia" was sung.

In the evening at the musical vespers the double quartette, Messrs. Nicheolinad, FitzPatrick, Picard, Daly, Wolfe, Wier and MacPherson were thoroughly appreciated by the large congregation.

ACTIVITIES AT THE Y.W.C.A.

Everyone is ready to enter heartily into the work and play at the Young Women's Christian Association after the brief holiday. As the annual gymnasium exhibition is to be put on April 22nd, 23rd, and 24th, the pupils in that department are expecting some hard work in the next few weeks. The swimming classes are growing all the time. It would be wise to register early. The following is the program for the week:

Monday, 4.30—Senior School Girls' Gymnasium.
Monday, 7.00—Beginners' French Class.
Tuesday, 4.30—Junior School Girls' Gymnasium.
Tuesday, 4.30—Junior Life Saving Class.
Tuesday, 6.00—Athena Club Supper and Gymnasium.
Tuesday, 7.00—Business Girls' Swimming Class.
Tuesday, 8.00—Good Cheer Club
Tuesday, 8.00—Senior Gymnasium.
Tuesday, 8.00—Big Club Swimming Class.

THE REMNANT OF KOLCHAK'S ARMY STILL IN DANGER

Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 3. — A despatch to the Times from Harbin, dated March 25th, says the fate of General Voitzekoffsky's army, the sole remnant of Admiral Kolchak's forces in trans-Baikalia, calls for serious consideration. The despatch adds that tens of thousands of men and several thousand officers are anxious to leave Bolsheviki territory but that the consent of the Chinese and the Japanese has to be obtained for the exodus from Siberia, and that their attitude has not yet been defined. It is asserted in a despatch that there is gold reserve at Chila amounting to forty million gold roubles at the disposal of General Voitzekoffsky.

BURNED TO DEATH IN TORONTO HOTEL

HAND CHEMICAL PUT OUT THE FIRE

(Special to the Examiner).

TORONTO, April 5. — Arthur Black, of Montreal, was burned to death in bed in his room at the Albion Hotel, Jarvis Street, early this morning. When the maid went to his room to make the bed she found the room full of smoke and the mattress afire with Black lying across the bed fully dressed. The maid called the proprietor, Percy J. Hartwick, who used a hand chemical to put out the fire. Black's face was badly burned and right hand scorched. Black worked for the J. G. Greey Co. as a core-maker and had lived at the Albion Hotel for a month. The Chief Coroner was notified and the body removed to the morgue. The police experienced some difficulty in getting a doctor and fifty minutes had elapsed before one arrived.

DEPUTATION GOING TO TORONTO WEDNESDAY

A deputation representing the northern townships of Peterborough county will interview the Hon. Mr. Bowman, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, on Wednesday for the purpose of ascertaining what assistants the government will provide for colonization roads. The local members of the Legislature, Mr. E. N. McDonald and Mr. Thomas Tooms, will accompany them.

Deputy-Reeve Wilson of North Monaghan, told the County Council on Saturday morning that he understood the Hon. Mr. Biggs would visit Peterborough at the first opporunity. The Minister had been invited by the Motor League and Board of Trade. Mr. Wilson said that the county should participate in his reception.

Reeve Strickland— It is up to the city to invite us.

Mr. Wilson—It is in the county's interests.

Bancroft Road.

Hastings county has taken cognizance of the Peterborough proposal to urge the adoption by the government of a road from this city to Bancroft, and have volunteered to co-operate in any movement that may be launched.

Fighting Followed Attack

DANISH POLITICAL CRISIS SHOWS SIGNS OF PASSING OVER—STREET FIGHTING SUNDAY.

NEW MINISTRY

(United Press.)

COPENHAGEN, April 5. — The Danish political crisis brought about by King Christian's dismissal of Premier Zeahle's cabinet, apparently had passed to-day, although some minor disorders were reported. Order had been re-established in Copenhagen following yesterday's outbreak, when crowds engaged in a radical demonstration. Police in the Opera Square were attacked and pelted with bricks. General fighting followed. Eleven persons were taken to hospitals.

Observers saw the situation as a victory for the Socialists and Democrats, declaring the threat of a general strike had caused the King to give way on all essential points, including organization of a Liberal ministry. The Liebe ministry, organized by the King to supplant the deposed Zeahle group, resigned yesterday, to be succeeded by a cabinet headed by Dr. Friis. Elections will be held April 22.

COMMUNIST PARTY HOLD CONVENTION

KEYNOTE OF SOVIET GOVERNMENT'S POLICY.

(Canadian Press.)

MOSCOW. Consolidation of party interests and centralization of departmental activities as a result of Russian victories "on all fronts" was emphasized as the keynote of the Soviet government's policy by Nicholas Lenine, speaking at the opening of the ninth convention of the Communist party here a few days ago. Recent peace proposals received by the Soviet government denote "change of sentiment in outside world and an entente policy indicating lack of unity," Lenine said, adding: "Our position cannot be determined from a viewpoint of jurisprudence." Lenine's address, which outlined political activities and the general policy of the Central Communist committee, was the most important feature of the day. General committee, which included General committee, which included leaders, was elected.

Vol. 1 No. 4. PETERBORO Ontario

This will convey but a dear idea of what the VERNON MORPHET MINSTRELS will offer in each of their Three Daily Performances at the MOTOR SHOW—APRIL 14, 15, and 16.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

The Research and Welfare Station for normal children which the State of Iowa has recently established deserves to become the pattern for other communities. Just what constitutes a normal child is no small question. Most of the children who are supposedly normal suffer from some minor defect, which will grow on them if it does not receive prompt and efficient attention. That means the services of a specialist. A practitioner cannot be expected to know all ailments of the organism equally well any more than a business man knows every trade. As for patent medicines, the long list of cures from blisters to pneumonia boasted on their labels is black eye enough.

You may blame your child for inattention when her hearing is defective or wonder what gives her face that flat expression when she has adenoids. It is useless to caution over and over, "Keep your mouth shut," if enlarged tonsils and turbinates are making even mouth breathing difficult. It is no disgrace to find and treat some such defect in your child. On the contrary, it is a matter of pride to see the same child later—sturdy and bright, and unvictimised by every child's disease that comes along.

* * *

All of us are said to cry from joy, sorrow, anger, or fear, because all of us do try it once in a while. A little baby experiences the same emotions, when he cries, in a lesser degree. It's very much less in the case of joy as he usually crows instead. His sorrows usually concern a safety pin, and his anger a delayed dinner. But his fears, though intangible, are very real to him. Then he needs attention. However, the idea that the minute a baby begins to cry, he must be given the moon, if necessary, to stop him, is all wrong. It's remarkable what a short period is required to completely spoil him with such treatment. If you make sure to see that he is comfortable, you will find that nine times out of ten he is crying because he is good and mad, and the tenth because he doesn't know what he wants. Instead of being perfectly miserable, the little thing is trying to feel better as fast as nature will let him. Tears are like a floodgate to any emotion and relieve the congestion whether the victim is large or small, old or young.

* * *

That which is a little thing to you may not be so to others. It all depends on the viewpoint. A girl asked her coloured maid what she had done with the bottom of the collapsible waste basket. The maid confessed to having lost it. She said "You know, I forgits about them little things." The waste basket was useless without the bottom, but this fact didn't affect the maid particularly, as long as she didn't have to use it. This is the policy of a lot of people; what concerns them is of the first importance, nothing else matters. And this very attitude is the whole matter with them in the eyes of other people.

* * *

The success of the whole depends upon the perfection of its parts. Thus it may not seem to matter to an individual himself whether he is down and out or not. It may not matter to him, but it does matter to his family, his friends, his community, his country. Whether his influence is great or small his actions will leave some social or financial scar on those surrounding him. No man lives to himself alone. He cannot measure his own influence, for he does not know how wide it may be. This thought should be a crumb of comfort to the man who is down and out—he may be needed by someone and needed desperately. Even when a man cannot keep going for his own sake, he should for the sake of others.

* * *

The early bird does and doesn't get the worm. Being one of the first on the premises, he is sure of something, but it may not be what he wants. What the proverb means is that he has a chance to get what he wants. This is just what getting up early does for any individual. That is, getting up alone doesn't ensure success, unless he actually accomplishes something after getting up. But early rising does put him in the spirit of working, if he gives it a fair trial.

* * *

The modern craze for excitement has become a mania enjoyed by the entire population. A plain death notice no longer attracts any attention, unless it depicts a spectacular exit. Those types as freaks formerly were not considered nice, but now they have become positively sensational. Food is no longer considered good to eat unless it so tricks you by its dressed-up appearance, that you are taken unawares. Nor is Art interesting enough to be capitalised except when it stands for Atrocity. A quiet evening at home would be regarded as a sinking spell, and might hasten the departure from this life prematurely. Papers are not printed to be read any more because there is no news in them. They are filled with intriguing bombs to be digested emotionally. Political news is becoming so intricate that it suggests education in the higher forms and so must be avoided. It is far better to read about the latest movie plot, as it will be too improbable as to suggest anything so unpleasant as the I. W. W.'s or the naval bill. However, the disaster which will overtake our sensation-mad nation will not be improbable, if it doesn't stop living on the froth of life, while the nourishment sours underneath.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. NEW SCHEDULE FOR LIVERYMEN

POLICE BOARD REVISE THE OLD BY-LAW.

Considerable increases are everywhere given to taxi and livery men in the amendments to By-law No. 2 of the Board of Police Commisioners, Peterborough, 1906, which were discussed at length at the meeting of the Board held last week, with the result that Chief of Police Thompson and City Clerk Armstrong were appointed to revise them.

A rough draught was presented at a meeting on Saturday afternoon for correction and a second reading, and after several changes had been made, it was moved by Mayor McIntyre, seconded by Judge Huycke ,that they be read the third time, signed, and sealed.

Judge Hucke presided, with Mayor McIntyre and Magistrate Dumble completing the board.

Dr. Pulkinghorn appeared before the Board on behalf of the taxi and livery owners.

It is not necessary to state that the old by-law has failed to meet the greatly altered conditions of to-day, and that a new by-law to increase the rates and fees was needed in view of the great increase not only in the price of gas and oil, but also in the cost of living.

The amended by-law has given substantial increases to all the fees, and is similar to the Brantford by-law.

The by-law was gone over section by section by the Board, and many changes were made in the original draft on the suggestion of the members, and on the information given by Dr. Pulkinghorn.

License Fees.

The Livery Stable By-law No. 4 came up for discussion. This by-law requires a liveryman with three cars to pay a license of $10.00, and $2.00 for each additional car. This does not allow for any taxi work, an extra license for this costing $6.00.

Dr. Pulkinghorn stated that many workers in the factories who owned cars ran a taxi business at night, and had an advantage over the others who made a business of it and paid a business tax in addition to extra overhead expenses. He suggested that no one should be given a license unless they devoted their whole time to the work.

"No, it is not fair. The taxi men should be protected," said the Mayor.

After considerable discussion, it was decided that the taxi men who did not have a liverymen's license would have to get one, and since this would cost them $16.00, it would help materially in eliminating the transients.

"It would be all right if they had to pay a business tax," said Dr. Pulkinghorn.

"We'll tell Assessor Henry, and get him to assess them," added the chairman.

Accounts Passed.

Moved by the Mayor, seconded by Judge Huycke, that the following accounts be passed:

SPRING FEVER

Following Colds, Grip or Flu, Thin, Watery or Poisoned Blood

(By Dr. Valentine Mott.)

At this time of year most people suffer from what we term "spring fever" because of a stagnant condition of the blood, because of the toxins (poisons) stored up within the body during the long winter. We eat too much meat, with little or no green vegetables.

Bloodless people, thin, anemic people, those with pale cheeks and lips, who have a poor appetite and feel that tired, worn or faverish condition in the spring-time of the year, should try the refreshing tonic powers of a good alterative and blood purifier. Such a tonic as druggists have sold for fifty years, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a standard remedy that can be obtained in tablet or liquid form. Made without alcohol from wild roots and barks.

TILLSONBURG, ONT.—"Ever since I can remember Dr. Pierce's medicines were used in our family at home and they never failed to give good results. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' was used as a tonic and blood purifier and for bronchial trouble and it proved excellent. I have personally taken it for bronchial trouble and the 'Favorite Prescription' to build me up when I was run-down and they were both very beneficial."—Mrs. CLIFFORD MITCHELL.

NEW SUCCESSION TAX WILL DOUBLE REVENUE

SIXTY PER CENT. DUTY WILL BE LEVIED ON SOME LARGE ESTATES.

Comparison of the new succession duty rate shortly to be brought before the Legislature by Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer, with the rates now in existence shows that the chief increases will fall on large estates which pass to one heir and on estates which pass to distant relatives or to persons other than relatives. It is estimated that the new rates will practically double the revenue the Province will receive from estates. A comparison of new and old duties follows:

To Near Kin.

On property passing to parents or grand-parents, wife or husband, children or children-in-law:

Between $50,000 and $75,000	2	2½
Between $75,000 and $100,000	3	3½
Between $100,000 and $150,000	4½	5
Between $150,000 and $300,000	5½	5½ to 6
Between $300,000 and $500,000	6½	6½ to 7
Between $500,000 and $750,000	7½	7½ to 8
Between $750,000 and $1,000,000	8½	8½ to 9½
Over $1,000,000	10	10

	Old Rate P.C.	New Rate P.C.
Between $50,000 and $100,000	None	2½
Between $100,000 and $200,000	1	4
Between $200,000 and $400,000	1½	5 to 6
Between $400,000 and $600,000	2	7 to 8
Between $600,000 and $800,000	2½	9 to 10
Between $800,000 and $1,000,000	3	11 to 12
Between $1,000,000 and $1,200,000	4	14 to 16
Over $1,200,000	5	16 to 35

Heavy on Large Estates.

Where property passes to "lineal ancestors," or to brothers or sisters, uncles or aunts, cousins, nephews, or nieces:

Between $5,000 and $50,000	5	5 to 7
Between $50,000 and $100,000	10	9 to 11
Over $100,000	12½	15 to 25

Between $25,000 and $50,000	None	6
Between $50,000 and $100,000	1	7
Between $100,000 and $150,000	1½	8
Between $150,000 and $200,000	2	9
Between $200,000 and $250,000	2½	10

On all estates over $250,000 the old rate was 5 per cent. The new rates advance to 20 per cent. on estates over $1,000,000, with an additional 5 per cent. for each additional half million up to a maximum of 60 per cent.

Take 60 Per Cent.

On estates passing to more distant relatives, or to persons other than relatives:

Between $5,000 and $10,000	6	10
Between $10,000 and $50,000	10	15
Between $50,000 and $200,000	15	20 to 25
Over $200,000	20	30 to 60

SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR THE SECOND TIME.

Experts Say Fountain Is Insane, But He Is Sentenced to Hang.

NIAGARA FALLS, April 3.—Fred. Fountain, found guilty for the second time of murdering his wife and two children, was sentenced by Mr. Justice Lennox to be hanged June 15. He had been previously sentenced to hang, but was granted a new trial on the plea of insanity.

Fountain, in admitting the crime, said that an uncontrollable impulse had been aroused at the sight of his wife kissing an acquaintance at a party. In sentencing him, Justice Lennox said British law made no allowance for uncontrollable impulses. He said: "The pleading of your uncontrollable impulse to do wrong being considerably stronger than the uncontrollable impulse to do right makes the course clear to the presiding judge."

TAKE STRIKER'S CASE TO THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

If R. B. Russell's Appeal is Successful, Those of Others Will Follow.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 3.—Canadian labour unions from the Atlantic to the Pacific are accepting the invitation of the Labour Defence Committee to participate in a national protest against the imprisonment of the convicted Winnipeg strike leaders, James Law, secretary, announces.

The definite announcement that R. B. Russell's conviction for seditious conspiracy will be appealed to the Privy Council immediately following the sentencing of the six other strike leaders on 6th April was made by R. A. Bonnar, K.C., chief defence counsel.

The case will be a test, and if successful, the cases of the other six also will be appealed. Probably Bonnar will take that appeal to England.

A DANGER SIGNAL—TENDER AND BLEEDING GUMS

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For The Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

ST. CATHARINES TAX RATE FIXED AT 36 MILLS

ST. CATHARINES, April 1.—The City Council met last night and struck the tax rate at 36 mills. This is 4 1-2 mills higher than last year's rate. This year the new Board of Education will use 11 mills, the highest school tax here so far.

CHARGES AGAINST SOCIALISTS UPHELD

MAJORITY OF JUDICIARY COMMITTEE RULE ON N.Y. ASSEMBLYMEN.

ALBANY, March 30.—The charges preferred against the five Socialist members of the New York State Assembly have been sustained in the opinion of a majority of the thirteen members of the judiciary committee which investigated the qualifications of the suspended members.

In a report submitted to the Assembly to-day, the majority state that the Socialists are disqualified from holding their positions in the Legislature and that the seats to which they had been elected, had been declared vacant. Minority reports were submitted, declaring against the recommendation of the majority.

Seven of the thirteen members of the committee favor the expulsion of the entire Socialist delegation, five committee men would re-seat them and another recommends the unseating of August Claessens, floor leader of the "minor minority," Charles Solomon and Louis Waldman, and reinstating Samuel Orr and Samuel A. DeWitt.

Would Bar Aliens.

Enactments of a law to prevent any organization which admits aliens to its membership from occupying the position of a political party on the official ballot of the State is advocated in the majority report. Waldman, Claessens, Solomon, De Witt and Orr the findings state, "are not obedient to the constitution and laws of fthe United States and the State of New York, nor desirous of the welfare of the country nor in hearty accord and sympathy with its Government and institutions."

Considerable attention is given in the report to the attitude of the Socialist party toward the war and the events leading up to it. It meutions the fact that the party's constitution provided that "any Socialist elected to an office who shall in any way vote to appropriate moneys for military or naval purposes or war shall be expelled from the party."

"Evidence before the commitee" the report says, "would indicate that the party was also engaged in a systematic effort during the war to foster claims of conscientious objectors."

Not Loyal Body.

"There is but one inference from the position of the Socialists in relation to military and naval appropriations and for war," the report continues. "They would render the country and Government helpless agains tall enemies so that it may be helpless against them, the enemies of established order. And for the opportunity which the helplessness of Government thus brought about would give them, they are willing to expose the State to assaults of all other enmies."

In conclusion the report says.

"The Socialist part of America, as now constituted with its present program, is not a loyal American organization or political party, disgraced occasionally by the traitorous act or declaration of a member, but is a disloyal organization composed exclusively of perpetual traitors. Therefore the act of a mmeber of that party in subscribing to the constitutional oath of office to support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of New York should be utterly disregarded as patently sham and a mere cloak for treachery."

Minority Report.

One of the minority reports is signed by two of the Republican members of the committee and holds that, while the evidence presented to the committee discloses that the Socialists, both as a party and as individuals, refused to render the Government any service during the war and that this attitude merits the severest condemnation, there was no evidence to show that the Socialists did anything to aid the nation's enemies. They hold that the Socialist party having long been recognized as a political party it is impossible for the Legislature to exclude them. To do so, they say, would disfranchise the people of five Assembly districts. They also maintain that an analysis of the speeches of the Socialist Assemblymen does not disclose any basis for exclusion.

Reports submitted by two of the Democratic members of the committee hold that the members of the Assembly cannot unseat the five Socialists "without violating their own oath of office." These reports do not approve of the alleged acts of the five Socialist Assemblymen, admit some of the charges against them have been proven, but contend that under the constitution of the State the Assembly "is forbidden from imposing upon any member any test of loyalty and cannot exclude any of these five Socialist Assemblymen because they are disloyal or believe that force and violence are necessary in establishing a Socialist State."

LABOUR AND THE SOLDIERS.

The Independent Labour Party is planning a campaign to bring about an alliance for political purposes with the returned soldiers. Speakers at last week's convention were quite frank in their declarations that the Labour Party should "bring the veterans into their camp," and the passing of a resolution in favour of increased gratuities was partially, at least, inspired by a desire to cultivate an entente between the two bodies. In this attitude, however, the Labour leaders are making the same mistake as do many othr people in regarding the returned soldiers as a special class. They are not— they are representatives of all classes in the country. They come from all walks of life, and as the memories of the war grow fainter they are getting back into their old spheres and cannot by any means be considered as a class by themselves. No effort that the Labour party or any other organization may make can therefore be effective in enlisting the support of the whole body of veterans because as civilians the returned men cannot find the common ground on which they stood as soldiers. When an issue that affects every man that fought, such as the gratuity question, cannot bring the veterans together as a concrete force, it is idle to expect that for political purposes the returned men will present a solid front. If they had all been members of labour unions before they enlisted, the Independent Labour Party might have some hope of accomplishing their aims, but under the circumstances anything like a wholesale drift of veterans into their ranks cannot be looked for.

A DIFFICULT QUESTION.

The band question if it comes before the council to-night, will undoubtedly be productive of an interesting discussion, for there is a considerable variance of opinion among the aldermen as to the disposition of the grant. Some of the members of the council favour a division of the band appropriation among the bands of the Peterboro Rangers, Great War Veterans and the Salvation Army. Several others, it is said, are impressed with the desirability of converting the Veterans' Band into a Citizens Band and turning the whole grant over to the new organization. Ald. Crowe on the other hand, while favouring the giving of the whole appropriation to one band, is opposed to the idea of a citizens' band, as involving too much expense to the city. His plan is to engage a band master who will undertake to hire thirty competent bandsmen at union rates for the park concerts. What the outcome of the controversy will be is difficult to forecast, but it would not be surprising if the Council followed the lines of least resistance and carved the appropriation into three slices, thus appeasing each of the three existing bands. That is, of course, the easiest way—but it is doubtful if it is the best.

A REASONABLE REQUEST.

There will be a large measure of public sympathy behind the request of the rural mail carriers for the cancelling of the present contracts for mail delivery and the offering of new contracts at a higher rate. All other branches of the postal service have been granted salary increases or bonuses to enable them to meet the jump in the cost of living, but the unfortunate rural mail contractors are, most of them ,working on the old rates agreed upon before the necessities of life had climbed to their present dizzy altitude. In fact some of the contractors are only receiving, it is claimed, two dollars a day. For that princely sum they have to travel many miles each day in al kinds of weather conditions and at the same time keep their equipment in repair and meet the cost of horse feed. They ask that the present contracts, in view of the difference in living conditions, be cancelled and that they be paid at the rate of $60 per mile of route per year, this arrangement to date back to January 1st, 1917. On this basis the contractor with a route of twenty-four miles a day would receive $1,440 for his year's work—surely not an extravagant sum when it is realized that each week he is required to drive 144 miles. The contractor of course, supplies his own horse and delivery waggon and is required by his contract to make every effort to deliver his mail on time regardless of the weather or road conditions. A bargain, of course, is a bargain, but there has been such an extraordinary change in the cost of living since the majority of the existing contracts were made that the government should deal sympathetically with the request of the rural contractors and take steps as soon as possible to provide them with a proper remuneration. They are only asking for the same consideration as has been granted the other civil servants.

AN UNSEEMLY CONTROVERSY.

From the amount of bickering that is going on and the varied opinions that are being advanced by the different factions, it would appear that a peace conference would be decidedly in the interests of the temperance cause. The present situation is anything but cheerful to the people who really desire as effective prohibition regulations in this province as can be devised. For some reason or other the temperance leaders in Ontario cannot seem to agree upon a policy, and the cleavage over the advisability of taking a referendum on the question of importation has been increased by the attempt of the Dominion Alliance to prevent the manufacture and sale of native wine. The majority of people will regard the latter issue as something that might very well be left alone until the much more important matter of preventing the importation of liquor is dealt with. The harm done by the comparatvely small quantity of native wine made in Ontario is negligible compared with the bad effects caused by the wholesale flooding of the province that has followed the lifting of the bars against importation. And again the Drury government is placed in an awkward position by the demand for the abolition of native wine. For the latter is made from grapes grown by good members of the U.F.O., and interfering with their industry is something that the Farmer government is naturally anxious to avoid. The temperance forces should lose no time in getting together, and if the present leaders are not able to co-operate, their places should be filled by men who are ready to work in harmony.

Blood Poisoning

Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Safe First Aid Treatment

How often lockjaw and blood poisoning result from the neglect of a slight scratch or little cut! Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a safe and effective first aid treatment. It is a powerful antiseptic and should be applied immediately to wounds of this kind to prevent danger of infection.

It is soothing and healing and quickly drives out pain and inflammation in cases of sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as reliable, too, for stiff neck, sore feet, cold sores, canker sores, earache and toothache.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

The City Council should deal with the question of daylight saving to-night, for if the system is to be adopted at all, it should go into effect at the beginning of next month, and to-night's meeting is the last regular session before that time. The matter has been discussed by the Examiner at frequent intervals recently and, as little or no opposition has been developed, it seems a fair conclusion that the adoption of summertime is desired by the majority of citizens. This conclusion is further strengthened by the fact that a vote taken among the employees of local factories has shown a very strong expression in favour of daylight saving, and that organizations such as the City Baseball League and the City Football League have forwarded petitions to the council asking that the new time be put into force. The City Fathers have, therefore, more than an usually accurate indication of the wishes of the citizens in regard to this question, and whatever their individual opinions may be as to the merits of the system, they have no reason to misjudge popular opinion. Daylight saving from May 1st until September 1st will be welcomed by the majority of the citizens.

THE NEW HOUSING ACT.

Although it is true that first appearances are at times deceptive, it would seem from the draft of the new housing act that this is a measure which is far superior to the Ontario Housing Act of 1919. The new act meets with the desires expressed by those who opposed the Ontario Housing Act for Kingston last year. It makes it possible for the municipality to conduct its own housing scheme, to make provision for its own citizens, and guarantee the bonds of any municipality issuing loans for housing purposes. This is an admirable scheme, and it gives the council of Kingston a chance to do something in the way of relieving the housing shortage.

The figures which were give out by the Industrial Committee of the city council, while they may have been received from a perfectly good source, were ridicuously high. If other cities can build four-roomed frame houses of a type similar to those mentioned in the report ofr from $1,600 to $1,800, we would like to know why the same type of house should cost $2,800 in Kingston. Men of experience have, during the past week, informed the Whig that the cost of such a house should not exceed $2,000 or $2,200 at the outside, and that a brick veneer house of five rooms can be built for $2,800. We believe that this is possible, and unless there is something radically wrong with building costs in Kingston as compared with other centres, the houses can be built here at a reasonable cost.

The idea put forward by the industries committee's report is that the municipality should build the houses and rent them. That is far from being the intention of those responsible for the provincial housing legislation. The idea is that the municipality should merely advance the money on long term loans, at the lowest possible rate of interest to citizens who desire to build their own homes. The repayments can be equalized in such a manner as to ensure the complete clearance of all charges within a period of twenty years. By this equalization, the monthly charges of all kinds will come well within the amount which is being charged for rental of the same class of houses in the municipality. Even if the interest and principal payments were not equalized, but assessed according to the amount owing on the property from year to year, the municipality is amptly protected. The payments for the first few years would be high, but as the principal due decreased, the monthly payments would also decrease in proportion, until within ten years, the larger portion would have been entirely paid off, and the monthly payments would be very small. The municipality would have received over half of its original loan, and the house would still be there, in good condition, and would cover far more than the amount still to be paid. The protection is more than ample, and the municipality would not stand to lose a cent, because depreciation should not enter into their calculations, but would be a matter entirely for the man who is purchasing the house on the easy payment plan. The manner in which the cost was figured out in the report of the industries committee was thus far from meeting the practical needs of the case.—Kingston Whig.

WHY Does Your Head Ache?

Headaches, sick or other kinds, don't happen to people whose livers are busy and whose bowels are as regular as a clock.

Thousands of folks who used to have headaches say this is the way they removed the cause:

One pill at bedtime, regularly. Largerdose if there's a suspicion of biliousness or constipation.

CARTER'S IRON PILLS will help this condition.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The only person who liked yesterday's weather was the girl who hasn't bought her Spring hat yet.

Judging by what the Hunter street bridge has already cost that $50,000 from the Government will just about pay for the name plate on the structure.

A moving picture description of this city reads "Peterboro, an industrial centre, and the home of the world's greatest lift lock." And it might have added, of J. H. Burnham, M. P.

The Independant Labour Party wants the members of the Legislature paid $3000 a year. Time and a half for overtime, is, of course, understood.

INTERESTING STORY OF GERMAN LEADER

In the West When War Broke Out.

(Canadian Press.)

KERRISDALE, B.C., April 5.—Belief is expressed here that General von Luettwitz, whose name has figured in recent Berlin dispatches as being in command of reactionary troops in Germany, is Rochus Baron von Luettwitz, who, with the baroness and Mrs. Helena Edle von Rosthorn, was the guest of Dr. Otto Grunet, here, when war broke out, and who was, with the two women, arrested as an alien enemy on November 21, 1914, and subsequehtly interned at Vernon, B.C. At that time the baron was described as a captain of the cavalry. When placed under arrest by Chief Constable Simpson, Luettwitz remarked: 'I am your prisoner now, chief, but next year you will be my prisoner." The baron presented Sgt. W. Walker with a small ornamental box with the remark: "Keep this box and produce it when the Germans take Canada, it will ensure your safety."

OWNERS AND TENANTS TO BE TAXED

No Escape From Tax Collector—Poll Tax Up Too.

(Canadian Press.)

EDMONTON, Alta., April 3.—Medicine Hat was given the right to institute a tax on rental value of all properties by the municipal law committee of the legislature which considered amendments to the Medicine Hat charter. The tax will be ten per cent. of the rental value of property and will be collected from all occupiers of property whether owners or tenants. The city was also given the right to institute a poll tax of $10 per person, which however, is offset against any other taxes paid so that it will catch only those who pay no other sums.

DOES NOT KNOW HIS OWN NAME

Soldier Who Cannot Be Identified Reached St. John Yesterday.

ST. JOHN, Nfld., April 3.—A pathetic case came to light here when military headquarters' staff received a telegram from Ottawa notifying them to meet on the arrival of the steamship Grampian an unknown Canadian soldier and to provide an escort for him to the military sanitorium at Cobourg, Ont. This soldier has been detained and wandering about England for a year and a half. He was shell-shocked an does not know his own name or where he belongs. All marks of identification are gone. He was sent to Canada in the hopes that something may lead to his identification.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SECOND WIVES ARE SENSITIVE

CHAPTER LXXXVIII

I had been wild with jealousy because of the conversation I had overheard about Irma Barton when shopping with Alice Sloane. But the visit of my parents and the good times we had with them had put it from my mind. Now it recurred to me. I remembered that once when I had asked Everett about Mrs. Barton, he said:

"I knew her just as I knew others in the same set." But I had felt at the time he was not quite honest with me. Now I was sure of it.

I wondered if he were sorry he had married me instead of her, and if that was the reason he spent his time with her. I knew he called on her. So, like everything else, I gave him credit for being there far more often than he was. In fact, at this time there was not one little thing that would make me miserable that I did not dwell upon, and in imagination make far worse than it was.

I wonder, if people realized how sensitive a second wife is to her position whether they would be so careless in their talk—if they knew how being called 'Number Two' wounded, or how it hurt to hear the first wife eulogized, they would so thoughtlessly speak before the second wife.

I do not think I was alone in resenting the constant reference to my husband's first choice. I think many second wives, older than I, are hurt in the same manner altho they may be better able to hide it, to dissemble. But there cannot help but be a feeling akin to jealousy in the most amenable of women when they hear a first wife lauded, when they are told how beautiful she was, what a wonderful character, or how brilliant mentally. It all hurts dreadfully.

A second wife often would forget she was the second if she were allowed to, if people would let her. But they won't! They seem obsessed to bring up wife number one in the conversation—to keep before the present wife the fact that there has been one before her.

Often I read stupid jokes about a second wife, just as we have for years read them about a mothe-in-law. Always they upset me, or made me furiously angry. Insane, foolish things beneath my notice, they were, yet they contributed to my unhapiness.

Once I spoke to Everett of one I had read. It was a little more foolish, a bit more silly than any I had seen, I said so.

"You are even more silly to allow such things to affect you," he had replied, without glancing up from the book he was reading.

"Perhaps they would affect you if you were the second instead of me," I retorted.

"You made a remark like that once before. As I am not, isn't it rather childish to assume what I would do?"

Everett's attitude seemed so hard and cruel to me. I wanted sympathy, and he called me 'childish.' That he could not very well sympathize with me for being his wife, I never thought; that he was pained, sorry for me, I never knew until long afterward.

I had not again looked at Leola's letters. I longed, yet dreaded, to read more of them. The two I had read had hurt me so, had made me feel that in spite of all my resolutions I never could be at all like Leola, so perhaps never win Everett's love. But I still kept them in my room; still retained the bunch of keys I had taken from Everett's drawer. Some day I would not only read the remainder of those I had brought to my room, but the others, those written later—some of them just before she died.

That Fate, Kismet, Providence, or whatever name we call it, would interfere, and that I never should know what those envelopes contained of love, of sorrow, of upbraiding—I had no way of knowing. That the memory of the two I had read would be all I had to show me the passionate nature of Leola and her love for Everett, and that the memory of those words would help to further poison my life, I could not guess.

Now as I look back and re-live in memory that fateful time in my life, I wonder why we cannot be contented to live each day as it comes, extracting all the sweetness of the passing hours instead of worrying over what has gone before, or that which will come after.

Tomorrow—Sandra Emulates Leola.

INFLUENCE OF POPULAR MUSIC.

Popular music heretofore has certainly had a crudity and brutality that did not make it acceptable in the average studio where music was a serious study. Much is being done with popular music to-day, and particularly owing to the influence of the player piano and the talking machine records a type of song and dance is being developed that has very definite musical quality. In some of the latest numbers harmonic work of a very extremely clever order is to be found, and especially an avoidance of the old typical harmonic and melodic turns. Abounding in interesting rhythm, vigorous melody aided by these really good harmonies—often verging on the highly modern—many of the new popular music selections will certainly be found worth while considering for use by the best of teachers, especially so as they are sure to prove pleasing to the pupil, and to those listening to him perform.

Faint and Dizzy Spells Weakness and Shortness of Breath

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women becomes run-down and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

SCARCITY OF LABOR.

Pick and Shovel Men All East or Left for Home.

(Canadian Press.)

SASKATOON, Sask., April 3—Labor is the big problem which the Canadian Pacific Railway has to consider in drafting its construction programme this year, according to D. C. Coleman, vice-president and general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The class of people the company has had to rely upon in the past for pick and shovel work, he said, is leaving the country in large numbers. "At least," Mr. Coleman declared in qualification, "they are down east trying to return to Europe."

OIL COMPANIES OUT OF BUSINESS

(Canadian Press.)

CALGARY, April 3.—An echo of the oil boom days in Alberta is the cancellation of nine registered oil companies that were organized before the war. These companies were all floated in Calgary. None of them, however, had ever got to the point of selling stock, having only been organized in the last month or two preceding the outbreak of the war.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Meets in Vancouver on May 13.

(Canadian Press.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 3.—Many eastern Methodist church leaders are expected to be at Vancouver for the 34th annual session of the Methodist Conference which meets here May 13. The program committee has already completed its arrangements. The stationing committee will meet Monday, May 10, and other committees will hold meetings early so that they may have everything in readiness for the opening of the conference. This year more than ordinary interest will centre in the reports as all records will be passed, the Forward Movement having given a great impetus to church work generally.

LIQUOR DEALERS CONTINUE BUSINESS.

Ontario Government Exceeded Authority in West.

Special to Examiner:

WINNIPEG, Man., April 3.—Liquor dealers operating warehouses in Kenora and Dryden received authority yesterday afternoon from the Dominion Government to continue in business despite the order of the Ontario Government stopping all inter-Provincial trading in liquor. It is claimed the Ontario Government exceeded its authority in the matter.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Examiner,—

Dear Sir,—

The question is often asked what use can the gravel Pit at the Bridge be put to. I would suggest two large swimming pools. The gravel perhaps could be removed to suit conditions and at some future time could be lined (cement). The discharge to the river is O.K. as our Mr. R. Ritchie has predicted that in a few years we shall have a pop. of 40,000 we shall require such pools as the Bathing Places at present are not quite satisfactory, there has been narrow escapes from drowning at Inverlea and law suits through Broken Glass and tinware at Lake Street. I would also call attention to the great concern shown over DeLaval Radials that was promised five years ago whereas Ashburnham was promised about 30 years ago and was backed up by Painting in nice large letters, PETERBORO and ASHBURNHAM ST. R. R., on the three first cars that ran on George Street. Now will our Alds. Gordon and Gainey please get busy and say a word for East City and get this part of the Radials Extention on the Programme of the Hydro for the comeing summer so that when Bridge is completed it could be connected up next spring and not keep us another 5 years without it. Another grievance the Eastenrrs complain off is the late oiling of streets even well traveled ones covered so scant, whereas some streets on West side are oiled early and so heavy to be a nusance, there is many residents regret ever being annexed, they say we get little by it except boosted assessment and 35 mills on $ instead of 15 as of yore.

Yours truly,
ED. COURTNEY.

QUIET IN TEMISKAMING.

Toronto Liberal in Fight Against Two Others.

HAILEYBURY, Ont., April 3.—Three candidates will contest the Temiskaming by-election when the electors go to the polls on Wednesday next. David Bertrand, the Secessionist, did not stand and the contest will be between A. G. Slaght, barrister, Liberal, Toronto; Ernest L. Pullen, mining engineer, of Porquis Junction, and Angus McDonald carpenter, Cobalt.

Mr. Bertrand attended the nominations, but disappeared before the closing hour of two, and Sheriff Caldbick, returning officer, waited in vain for his papers.

The nomination was decidedly quiet, not more than a dozen persons attending.

EMPLOYERS OF MANITOBA WILL INSIST ON OPEN SHOP.

New Organization Starts With Membership of 243 Firms.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 3.—Determination to insist upon the open shop principle was voiced at an organization meeting of the employers of Manitoba. The policies of the new organization are: (1) To promote on a fair and equitable basis industrial peace and commercial prosperity and steady employment of labour. (2) To discourage lockouts, strikes and unfair demands by either employer or employee. (3) To secure for employer and employee freedom of contract in the manner of employment. (4) To disseminate a knowledge of the fundamental economic laws and conditions upon which successful production depends.

Twenty-five different trade groups are represented in the organization, which starts with a membership of 243 firms in Winnipeg, Brandon, Portage la Prairie and St. Boniface, employing 13,817 hands and having payrolls totalling $11,368,000 annually.

LATE KING EDWARD'S DOG IMMORTALIZED IN MARBLE

LONDON, April 3.—Edward VII.'s famous dog, Caesar, which followed immediately behind the coffin at the Royal funeral, is immortalized in the new tomb in St. George's Chapel, Windsor, which is about to be unveiled.

At the foot of the recumbent effigy of the King there lies the little wire-haired terrier in marble, coiled up in sleep.

DOMINION RAYNSTERS

"Made-in-Canada" Raincoats.

Hours in a Driving Rain Have No Effect on These Coats

Because—the cloth of a "DOMINION RAYNSTER" is rubber proofed and this rubber proofing becomes an integral part of the texture of the coat by the "Raynster" process.

This process makes every inch of the coat—every seam—waterproof.

Externally, no rubber is apparent. In appearance, "DOMINION RAYNSTERS" are stylish, well-tailored coats suitable for every-day and evening wear.

They are particularly useful for motorists, because they are absolutely waterproof.

Made in many different materials, styles and colors—for men, women and children; sold by the best stores carrying wearing apparel.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Copies, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my trouble so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female trouble to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. Mamie Boyd, 1421 6th St., W. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

RUIN BY OCTOBER FACES NEWSPAPERS SAYS ROGERS, BACK FROM CANADA

DOMINION MILLS, OVERSOLD, ARE SUFFERING "TORTURES OF THE DAMNED" TO PRODUCE ENOUGH PAPER FOR U. S. PRESS AND ARE NOT PROFITEERING.

From Printer and Publisher.

Unless some very radical step is larger cities of the country, for the curtailment of the use of print paper, the whole industry of newspaper making will suffer an annihilating shock next fall which only those who are provident from now on will survive," said Jason Rogers, publisher of the New York Globe, to a representative of Editor and Publisher, on his return from a trip of investigation in Canada.

"Car shortage is at the base of the present difficulty in manufacturing newsprint and getting it from the mills to the newspapers, and was so acute when I was in Canada that I wired every newspaper publisher in the United States to exert his utmost influence to force the railways to return empties," continued Mr. Rogers.

Mills are Oversold.

"Car shortage, while particularly exasperating in such a situation as the present, with possible production only about 75 per cent. of the inordinate demand of our newspapers, only adds to the confusion of those among us dependent on hand to mouth, as it were, delivery from mill to press room.

"The mills are suffering the tortures of the damned in trying to procure coal and other supplies, and many of them are at the point of suffocation, caused by the congestion of supply which they cannot ship and which they cannot safely store amid the rigors of a severe Canadian winter.

"Spot paper is selling at from 11c to 12c whenever shown. Publishers are struggling with one another to buy extra tonnage which they think they require against the poor devil without any supply. Nearly all of the mills are booked for more paper than they will produce. These are the facts in the situation.

"I heard of one leading newspaper which is already assured of very heavy tonnage, buying 1000 tons at 11 3/5 cents a pound and offering the same price or 'the market' for as much more as could be secured. He was merely playing safe according to the standards of a hypocrite.

"I heard of other important newspapers having representatives overseas or going over to buy tonnage, which they imagine they must have, regardless of the annihilating effect such purchases must have upon the newspapers of Europe just emerging from the frightful strain of the Great War.

30c Spot Paper by Fall.

"Canada is justly annoyed and amazed at the delay of the United States in ratifying the peace treaty, and the League of Nations Covenant, and at the heavy differential in exchange against her. They feel that there is no more justification for such a penalty than there would be between two states in the Union

"Canada is much alarmed over the threatened destruction of her forests by the paper makers to supply a people so rich and so prosperous that they are erroneously thought to have forgotten the much heavier sacrifices of a smaller brother in the great World War. The sooner our newspapers are brought to a realization of what they are up against, the better off they will be.

"Unless those newspapers which are turning out one pound dailies and two and a half pound Sunday newspapers are brought to their senses, we will see spot paper at from 20 to 30c a pound by October with practically no free tonnage obtainable at even those prices.

"In such a crisis as is upon us the publication of a daily of over 24 pages or a Sunday of over 50 pages should be prohibited.

"The argument that business declined by the big profiteers would swell the size of the smaller newspapers is entirely fallacious for none of the newspapers have extra supply of paper upon which to print the overflow business.

"If our newspapers cannot voluntarily produce radical cuts in consumption which will bring it within production they will bring down on themselves govetnmental regulations which will be more uncomfortable than voluntary sacrifice of profits.

"I would be in favor of every newspaper arbitrarily cutting its circulation 10 per cent. below 1919 experience, the adoptoin of fixed prices, 3c for dailies and 10c for Sunday papers and a limit in size to 24 pages for dailies and 50 pages for Sunday newspapers asthe way to solve the problem.

"Broad interest is not concerned that 50 or 60 big city newspapers shall be permitted to go on with their wild profiteering with 32 to 44 page dailes and Sunday newspapers which weigh from two to three pounds the copy.

"Those daily and Sunday newspapers now foolishly engaged in various forms of gift-enterprise to produce increased circulations are headed for the rocks just a little bit ahead of those who are holding a saner course.

"I sincerely believe that temporarily our newspapers would do well to cut out features, rotogravure sections and comics. Aside from convincing the public of the seriousness of the situation it would tend to bring the prices for such material down to more reasonable figures.

No Chance for Reserves.

"There will be no chance for any of us to store reserves of print paper against the pinch which is to come next October unless we are able to save it through economies from the limited tonnage that will be supplied us between now and then.

"The mills are doing their utmost. They are not making any larger margin of profit than others engaged in industry or than we would in the same circumstances.

"If we are forced to double or treble our rates to limit advertising I am curious to see what would be the result of a similar process on the part of the paper manufacturers.

"The newspapers of the country can expect no relief from the ineffective functioning of the A. N. P. A. Its recent recommendation for a flat cut of 10 per cent. coming from those using extra tonnage to those at present saving every pound they can, is as futile as are the efforts of insincere big business asking for help from the plundered."

PETERBORO JEWS OBSERVE EVENT IN THE CALENDAR

At sundown on Friday evening the most important event in the Jewish year commenced. From the setting of the sun on Good Friday till sundown on Saturday all Jews remained in solemn ceremonies which continued again on Sunday. The feast will end next Saturday.

Day of Solemn Ritual.

The most important part of the Feast of the Passover is from sundown Friday to sundown Saturday. During that time a number of interesting and solemn ceremonies were observed by the Jews. They refrained from all unnecessary work and observed a number of strict rules of their religion. During this time unleavened bread is the chief article of food. In all Jewish households the evening meal was a very serious occasion, ushering in as it did the great feast. After the elder members of the family had related to the others the legends and tales conected with the first Feast of the Passover, a supper was served that conformed as nearly as possible with that eaten in those early days when the Jews were forced to flee one country and establish themselves in another.

Unleavened Bread.

The reason for the eating of unleavened bread during this feast is interesting. It is to remind all the faithful of the hurried exit of the Jews from the clutches of Pharoah. So hasty was their departure that they were forced to bake their bread by the rays of the sun. The unleavened bread served during the Feast of the Passover is similar to bread that would be baked that way.

OBITUARY

MR. H. C. WINCH.

In the passing of Mr. Winch Peterborough has lost one of her most widely known and well loved residents.

Born at Peterboro, June 2nd, 1844, his life was lived here. For many years he was prominent in business and public service, as an alderman he gave much of his time and attention to the city's welfare.

Of a most kindly and genial disposition, with good will expressed towards all, a helping hand and kind word for every one, his familiar face will long be missed by his hosts of friends far and near.

He was an ardent sportsman, who as captain of "The Ketchecum Hunt Club," for fifty two years enjoyed and communed with nature as few ever did. "Uncle Harry," as he was fondly called, was an example of all that is upright, manly and kind.

Mr. Winch was a member of Corinthian Chapter, A. F. and A. M. and was Worshipful Master on two separate occasions; also first principle of Corinthian Chapter and a Past Grand Lodge Master.

"There is no death,
What seems so is transition."
"I know not where His islands lift,
Their fronded palms in air,
I only know I cannot drift,
Beyond His love and care."

MADE NAVIGABLE.

Former Bad Stretch of Naas River Now Safe for Boats.

(Canadian Press.)

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., April 3. Gwineah Canyon, one of the most forbidding stretches of water along the Naas River has become navigable and is no longer the bugaboo of travellers to and from the Naas Valley region. Gaius Peck, of Vancouver, a brother of Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., M.P., and his party of 13 men, spent practically all winter in making the canyon safe for human beings. The canyon is now clear for all boats under 100 feet long and the river may be ascended 51 miles from the mouth.

CARRIED COFFIN ON BOBSLEIGHS

A Chesley, Ont., undertaker, was engaged for the funeral of Robert Kincaid, in the country, but found the roads so bad that he could not take his hearse to the house of the bereavement. Neighbours of the bereaved family placed the coffin on a bobsleight and hauled it, by hand, several miles, till they met the undertaker, who hitched a horse to the bobsleight, but had to abandon the attempt, but had to abandon the and soft. So the rest of the journey to Chelsey — six miles in all — was made on foot by the mourners, who hauled the sleigh and coffin.

EASTER MUSIC IN THE CHURCHES

Sacred music surpassing any previously heard in the city was rendered in the different churches yesterday and some remarkably fine choral work spoke volumes for the talented instruction given by the organists and choir leaders who have striven so successfully to bring their choirs to the present high standard.

Musical Service.

At George street Methodist church in the evening the service was largely musical and the solos and choruses reflected unlimited credit upon the choir leader. The solos "The Lord is Risen," sung by Miss Doris Rathbone, and "Hosanna," sung by Mrs. J. H. Renwick, were appreciated while the semi-chorus for ladies voices, "Ye Fair Green Hills of Galilee," sung by Misses E. Kemp, E. Worth, I Baird, McKay, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Thompson, was heard to advantage. Other music rendered at the service was equally good, the anthems, "Christ is Risen," and "Ye Choirs of New Jerusalem," proving rare musical treats.

At Trinity Church.

The anthem, "King of Kings" was sung splendidly at Trinity church in the morning, where the music during the day was exceptionaly fine. Mrs. Greenslade's soprano solo, "The Lord is King," was well received. In the evening two anthems, "On Wings of Morning Borne" and "The Resurrection Morn," were sung, Mrs. Greenslade taking the solo in the former and Miss L. Corbett in the latter, most acceptably. The double quartette, "Why Seek the Living?"- was thoroughly appreciated. The choir was assisted by Mrs. Foster, a violinist.

Mark Street Church.

At St. James' Church.

At St. James' church the anthem, "O Seek Ye the Lord" was splendidly rendered by the choir, Mr. B. Barton taking the solo very acceptably, and in the evening "Kings of Kings" was equally well rendered, Miss Florence Emmerson taking the solo parts.

Church of England.

At all Churches of England special Easter music befitting the day was rendered and some remarkably fine anthems and solos heard by the congregations.

Baptist Churches.

In the morning at Murray street Baptist church the beautiful anthem, "As It Began to Dawn" by Belcher, was magnificently rendered and the soprano solo, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," sung with splendid effect by Miss Lillian Eastwood. In the evening the anthem, "The Choirs of New Jerusalem" by Stainer, "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings" and "Christ is Risen" by Turner, were splendidly presented. The obligato part by Miss Florence Scott and soprano solo by Miss Scott, proved the singer to be an artist.

At Park street Baptist church the Easter music was excellent.

Presbyterian Churches.

At Knox church, Tosti's "Anthem Resurrexet" was splendidly rendered, also "Why Seek Ye the Living God." In the former the soprano solo by Mrs. Walter Byers and tenor solo by Mr. John Anderson were rendered in masterly fashion. Master Kenneth McCannon rendered "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross" and Mrs. George Roy a solo.

At the evening service "The Magdalene," with soprano solo, alto duet and chorus was well received. The anthem "Shout Ye High Heavens" and male quartette, "Christ is Risen," in which Messrs. Anderson, Roy, Walden and MacKenzie took part, amply justified the enviable reputation the choir has already won throughout the musical section of the city. Mrs. C. B. Hughes' solo was a much appreciated feature.

At St. Paul's church in the morning, Mrs. R. W. Davidson sang "The Holy City," and the anthem, "Victory" was magnificently rendered. In the evening the special music included solos and chorus selected from the Messiah, the soloists taking part being Mrs. Davidson, Miss Hinchcliffe, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Perrin and Mr. Humpage.

St. Andrew's church provided special music fitting the day, which was remarkably well rendered, the choir more than sustaining its usual high standard.

Other churches in the city also provided special Easter music for the services during the day.

URGED TO OPPOSE DAYLIGHT SAVING

COBOURG, April 3.—At a meeting of the Town Council, E. J. Wormington, of the Grand Trunk Railway, made the request that the council take no action for the present upon the resolution passed recently by the Board of Trade, requesting the observance of daylight saving in Cobourg for the five months of the year, as it would tend to confusion, the railways having not adopted it.

FARM WAGES UP.

Glad to Get Men at $75 to $90 a Month.

(Canadian Press.)

REGINA, Sask., April 3.—Like everything else, the cost of hired help on the farm is going up, according to G. T. Thomsett, of the provincial bureau of labor. During the past few days with the advent of spring weather, wages have risen ten to fifteen dollars, and farmers applying for help at the Regina office are now paying from $80 to $90 a month for an eight month agreement.

Carriages and Go-Carts For Baby's Ride in the Warm Sunshine

No one begrudges baby a ride in a carriage on one of these beautiful Spring days. It is the privilege of the very tiny folks who have not yet learned to use their limbs.

THE question of a carriage for baby can be solved at little or great cost. It is up to you to decide. We will not endeavor to influence you, for we have a comprehensive range of prices, and well constructed, good looking vehicles that show great consideration for baby's comfort.

Baby Carriages from $29.50 to $65

A Carriage of Cream Enamelled Reed, with an adjustable Reed Top and adjustable Back. The Upholstering is done in a Fawn-coloured Denim. The wire wheels are rubber-tired and the body is supported by strong springs. Priced at $32.00.

Another Carriage of Cream Enamelled Reed differs but slightly. It is commodious, but not quite so large as the above. The Upholstering is Cream Corduroy. These are the only differences, with exception of the price, which is $31.00.

We are mentioning this one of Brown Reed, in case your taste runs in that direction. It has an adjustable Reed Top and Back, and the Upholstering is Brown Corduroy. The wheels are rubber-tired. It is an easy riding carriage because of the excellent springs. Priced at $31.00.

The graceful round front of this Carriage of Cream Enamelled Reed makes it quite distinctive. The adjustable top is Split Reed, likewise the back. The Upholstering is Cream Corduroy. The wheels are large and rubber-tired, and the springs are the easy-riding kind. Priced at $42.75.

If you want something more elaborate than any of the above, this one of Cream Enamelled Reed will conform with your desire. The Reed is closely woven and the Upholstering is Fawn Corduroy. The wheels are quite heavy, and rubber-tired, of course. It is more spacious than any of the above-mentioned. It is priced at $56.75.

A Carriage of Split Reed is finished with Cream Enamel. Adjustable foot rest and back, and a collapsible Leather top. It is lined with Corded Denim in a Cream shade. Priced at $14.50.

Go-Carts at $12.75, Strollers from $14.50 to $24.50

A Stroller of Brown Split Reed, with Leatherette Upholstered Seat and a Coloured Motif painted on the side. The top is of Brown Leatherette, and is collapsible, and the back is adjustable. Rubber-tired wheels and ⅝ cold rolled steel axles. Priced at $15.75.

A Two-wheeled Go-Cart of closely woven Cream Enamelled Fine Reed. The Seat is Upholstered in Leatherette. The wheels are rubber-tired, and all the metal used in the construction is first quality. Priced at $12.75.

About Varnishes and Paints

Machol-ite for the Floor

We have given the subject of Floor Varnish a great deal of study, realizing that hardness and toughness are the two most important requirements. It dries with bone-like hardness, and unlike most Varnishes it retains its hardness, and never becomes brittle; consequently it will not mar nor scratch white under the hardest kind of wear. In normal temperature, it will dry in twelve or fifteen hours with a beautiful lustre.

Varnoleum for Oilcloths and Linoleum

This is a preservative as well as a beautifying finish for Oilcloths or Linoleums, and adds to the wearing quality. A thin coat only is required. It drys overnight with a high lustre, and will not spot or crack.

We are Dealers for Martin-Senour 100% Pure Paint.

MOIR CHAMPION RIVETER, WINS ORDER OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE

BELFAST, Ireland—For the first time a shipyard worker figures in the civil honours list.

John Moir of Belfast has been appointed a member of the Order of the British Empire for making the world's record in driving 11,209 rivets in a standard ship in nine hours on June 5, 1918.

The order of the British Empire was founded in 1917. Membership in this order is conferred for services rendered to the empire, whether at home or abroad. It is open to both men and women.

A POSER FOR WOODROW

WHERE THE FOURTH OF THE FAMOUS FOURTEEN POINTS? WHY ALL THE FIGHTING SHIPS AND HUGE NAVAL BUDGET?

PARIS, April 5.—Le Matin publishes on its front page the following:

"The fourth of the famous fourteen points of President Wilson says that suitable guarantees ought to be given that the armaments of all nations should be reduced to the lowest point compatible with the internal security of the nation.

A Budget of Amazing Size.

"A despatch from Washington announces that the House of Representatives has just voted the naval budget of the United States for 1920-21, and that the budget reaches the unprecedented sum of $425,000,000, equivalent to £85,000,000. The British naval budget for 1920-21 reaches only £84,000,000.

"May We Not Ask."—Le Matin.

"The American naval budget is then not only the largest naval budget which America has ever had, but the largest naval budget in the world.

"My we not ask Mr. Wilson how he conciliates these figures with the fourth of his fourteen points?"

SPLENDID EASTER TRADE

MESSRS. JORDAN BROTHERS EXCEEDED THE RECORD OF ANY PREVIOUS SEASON.

A report from Messrs. Jordan Bros. on their Easter flower trade is very enthusiastic. Mr. S. Jordan says the demand exceeded anything they have seen in their twenty years' business. All week the flow of orders kept up, nine out of ten customers demanding and receiving a pot of lillies at the right price. One thousand pots of lillies went out from the store, in addition to other pot plants and cut flowers but when closing time came on Saturday night there was still an abundance of home-grown cut bloom on hand and no lillies. Mr. Jordan's comment on this feature was that the prices for cut flowers was still so high that the more moderately priced lily appealed to a large majority of the people.

A NEW POST FOR MATHERS.

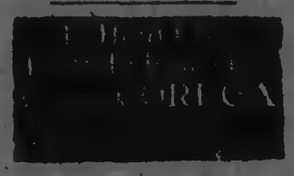
WINNIPEG, April 3.—Chief Justice Mathers, of the Manitoba Court of the King's Bench, is slated as the Government's choice of the chairmanship of the board to administer the new Industrial Conditions Act, by which the Government hopes to solve Labour problems and prevent a repetition of such industrial upheavals as the Winnipeg general strike. The appointment has not yet been confirmed, but Mathers is declared the most acceptable man in the Province to both employers and Labour.



A DOWNWARD SPURT IN WOMEN'S CLOTHES PRICES

IT MAY BE THE BAD WEATHER, BUT THERE ARE PLENTY OF INDICATIONS OF A GENUINE DROP IN THE COST OF THINGS TO WEAR.

By HELEN BULLITT LOWRY

Has the time come when the American buying public can meet no further increase in prices? Clothing prices in particular. Women's clothes very particularly, so far as this story is concerned.

Every retailer, every wholesaler, every jobber and every manufacturer is asking himself that question, for it is a fact that sales have been falling below normal for February and for early March. "So I'm buying from hand to mouth," says the manager of a big store and the buyer of a little lingerie shop alike.

For a year and more "the trade" has known just how the drop in prices would come when it did come. Up to a certain point the public will pay Then there will come a day when a woman will go out to purchase a dress for $60 and she will find that last year's grade has become $80. In a flash she may decide:

"Well, I'm just going to wear my last year dress and beat the game! I declare it still looks better than the new stuff they're showing for sixty."

Said a shoe repairer yesterday: "I'm getting so I call them shoes by their first names." He points with his thumb to the toes peeping over the shelf above his head; "if it ain't the fourth time I've soled this here shoe, and I've heeled it six times already!"

Is this why so many men's shoes in the windows of the best shops are marked, "Special Bargain Prices, $10.95?"

"Now you know how it was last month—men were buying rubber over-shoes instead of shoes," the salesmen inform me cheerfully. "But now I'm giving you the inside dope: You'd better be advising them to lay in for next Fall. Prices will be double by next Fall, sure as you live," warns the person who gets a commission on every sale.

Then why are men's shoes marked down to $10.95?

Over the counter shop girls tell you the same thing. Gloves, shoes and socks all doubled. But get back of the counter and the merchandise manager, that is if he happens not to be overstocked, tells a different story. Some day, his story goes, when the public has turned at bay that immutable biological law of supply and demand will begin to operate the other way round. Presto—change, if the public stops buying, the retailer stops buying—and so on back to the manufacturer.

Up to date old S. & D. has been managing his business for him. Such a nice lot of fine dresses he had to turn out that Labor has obtained whatever Labor asked. And the manufacturer knew that in the long run, he could make Thee and Me pay for Labor's extravagant wages. But suppose the demand suddenly ceases, because enough of Thees and Mes have concluded that we'll just do without this Spring. Why should the manufacturer continue to pay Labor's prices when he's discovered that he can't pass the buck? If he's operating at a loss it's obviously better business to shut up shop and go fishing. Then the tailor, who has been making $85 a week, may be looking around for a job at $45. The root of the high cost of living may be reached.

My informants roll Labor's new $45 job under their tongue until almost the dead and forgotten "hired girl" at a dollar and a half a week appears comfortably to the the Mind's Eye. They outline the program so convincingly that it all sounds like Mother Goose rhyme of "Water began to quench the fire." Which all means that some fine day prices are coming down with a crash, because oversupply is suddenly dumped on the market—and every last one in the industry is arranging to be the water or the fire or the stick or the dog who passes the punishment on to somebody else—anything but the pig, who has to jump over the style with no comeback at anybody.

Somebody is going to be hurt when the crash comes, and as yet nobody knows who's "It." Therefore, a quiver runs through the industry, and anxiously the managers ask themselves whether the blizzard or the income tax accounts are to blame for the six slack weeks just past, or if the hour of lower prices has struck.

"This week 10,000 Georgette waists, hitherto wholesaled at $4.25 to $5, will be closed out at $3.25. Delivery today," reads one of a dozen advertisements by wholesale houses.

In a Broadway blouse and trousseau shop—one of those where the card says, "Gentlemen, come in and we will select for you"—the plump little buyer looks up with a glowing face. "The wholesalers are sending their solicitors to us now," she purrs, contentedly. "And, my, you ought to see their manners. It looks like the old days come back." But she glances up eagerly when the door swings open to see if a customer has arrived. Patently I was a disappointment to her.

A similar shop has a willowly buyer in Georgette, who explains: "The way to play the game now is just to fill out broken sizes—you know, unless somebody offers me a big lot at special inducements. Oh no; of course you couldn't get special inducements last year—had to put in your order six months ahead to get anything."

Illuminating facts, too, may be gleaned from the retail advertisements. For the first time in years Spring sales are advertised in March. The regular marked Spring prices are higher, just as the salespersons promised they would be—but why sales in March that usually come in May and June? And what will the next month bring in reductions?

Yet it really may be only the weather. "If I could predict the psychology of the consumer this Spring I'd be a millionaire," is the way one worried manager expresses it. These March sales, wholesale and retail, may be from the clanging of an alarm clock which has accidently gone off at 6 instead of at the convential 7. Buying may begin enthusiastically next week. In which event sales may be expected to disappear. There are store people who have this view—that the bad weather is responsible for temporary lowered prices, and the trend is not definitely downward.

Yet it is a fact that already you may buy some clothing far below cost, but it is not good for wearing. The first item is the statement of the Department of Justice, the second of a mere woman. Many unsuccessful styles have been thrown on the market to sell at whatever they'll bring. In short, wait until a style dies and then pounce upon it, if you must economize. Walk around any corner and see how it applies to women's shoes. In the middle of the season that short vamping French shape came in and the long vamp American went out. Itis a self-controlled she merchant that doesn't talk bitterly of fickle women, because those creatures have cost hime more money this Winter than all the combined gold diggers have cost their victims. For, when the short vamp style suddenly arrived from overseas with the last boatload of the A.E.F., the country was simply alive with long vamp shoes. Hear one fashionable shoe merchant tell the tale:

"Those French shoes first showed us about October, when our entire Winter stock was in. I ordered a couple of dozen pairs, just to be on the safe side, and I instructed the clerks to bring out a long vamp along with every short vamp asked for.

"But they were bent on the French shoe. I couldn't switch them. The two dozen were gobbled up by the inconstant buyers, who had been demanding longer and longer vamps for five years. And then, they wanted more—with two straps, and one strap, and this wanted a bow, and that one wanted them gray, and another one wanted brown suede.

"By the last of December I was beaten. If a third of a line is not sold in a month it has to move on. No shoe can have lodging place for more than three months. So I called a sale of extra long vamps—magnificient $18 shoes for $10. But, will you believe it, after all that hue and cry about high prices, that sale didn't go big. So after a month I shipped the whole batch to Boston, where they got to the bargain counters for the Vermont trade. The factories were going through the same throes. They had to turn out new lasts with new machinery, and they couldn't sell what had been left on their hands either.

"We are playing safe on our Fall orders and selecting a modified short vamp, but we're gambling. If the element of gambling could be taken out of women's shoes you needn't pay so sidered that the city schedule will be much.—New York Times.

The Plague of Pimples

Body Covered With Them

The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not dangerous trouble they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters.

This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system and will leave a clear, healthy skin.

Mr. Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N.B., writes: "For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my face and neck, and nearly all of my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything, but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the pimples and boils had all left me and there is no sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is troubled with skin disease.

ACCUSES PETERBORO OF GUMSHOEING FOR INDUSTRIES

A Peterborough man was an interested listener at the public meeting on Tuesday evening to discuss the Langslow-Fowler agreement with the town, and it is rumored that the Electric iCty was all ready for a flirtation with the company, were they of a vacillating character, which they were not.

"Hands off Cobourg, please," remarked a well known councillor, "we are quite capable of handling our own industries, even if you did beat us curling."

"We'll beat them curling too," said another devotee of the stanee and besom. Wait until next winter. So be it.

BUY COAL EARLY IS URGENT ADVICE

OTTAWA, April 3.—"Buy your coal early," is the advice given by several officials to householders who would avoid a coal shortage next winter such as Canada has been suffering at times in the past. Coal can be more expeditiously handled during the sumer months ,and, further, if householders who can do so will lay in their supplies for next winter now they will be giving the dealers just so much more storage room to take care of the needs of those who cannot or will not buy early.

MRS. MARY E. ROACH, of Lynchburg, Va., who says Tanlac is her favourite medicine, and that she will always keep it on hand, as it enabled her to enjoy three years of good health.

"Tanlac has been the favourite medicine in my cabinet for three years," said Mrs. M. E. Roach, of 402 Clay Street, Lynchburg, Virginia, in an interview recently.

"At the time I began taking Tanlac," explained Mrs. Roach, "I had been suffering from indigestion, rheumatism, and other troubles for nine years, and could find nothing to help me. If I ventured to eat anything the least bit heavy I would bloat up with sour gas and almost smother. My heart would palpitate frightfully and when these spells came on me I was so dizzy and weak I could hardly stand up. I often had to stop and rest while doing my housework. I was badly constipated and hardly ever free of headache. I also suffered with rheumatism in my fingers and especially in cloudy, rainy, or snowy weather my pain was almost unbearable. My kidneys and liver were out of order and I had the worst kind of pains in my back ,legs, and shoulders. I had no appetite, and what little I did eat seemed to do me more harm than good, as I always suffered afterwards and had become so run-down, weak, and miserable that I sometimes left like life was hardly worth living.

"One day I read a testimonial for Tanlac that seemed so sincere that I decided to see if the medicine would help me. Well, the first bottle did me so much good that I got another, then another, and so on until my troubles all disappeared. As I said, that was three years ago, and I have been able to keep myself in good health ever since by taking a few doses of Tanlac now and then as I feel the need of it. Taplac has built me up and given me strength and energy so that my housework is easy for me. It makes life worth living, for it keeps me with a good appetite, helps me to digest my food properly, and, by relieving me of all suffering and nervousness, enables me to sleep soundly every night. I shall always praise Tanlac."

STORMY TIMES IN THE EMERALD ISLE OVER EASTER—POLICE BARRACKS DESTROYED.

(United Press.)

DUBLIN, April 5.—More than five hundred Sinn Feiners had been arrested in a new series of raids by police and military following the Easter fires and raids, according to estimates at Dublin castle to-day.

The south of Ireland was still under virtual martial law. Cordons of troops surrounded Dublin, Derry, Cork, Limerick, Newry, Thurles and Dundalk. North Ireland was still completely cut off from telegraphic communication to-day. The Sinn Fein flag was still flying on the Admiralty pier at Queenstown to-day. Halyards had been cut and the flag pole greased.

Official reports up to early to-day showed 71 police barracks and 22 income tax offices had been burned. It was believed the final total would be considerably higher. Officials at Dublin castle to-day estimated the damage to property at more than $500,000, which, they said, the taxpayers would be forced to pay. A number of bridges were blown up.

Many Fires.

LONDON, April 4. — The Sinn Fein plan to destroy all British records and plunge the country's administration into confusion was put into operation last night when fires were started in official buildings all over Ireland.

Throughout Counties Cork and Clare, disguised and armed men destroyed police barracks. At this cabling the record of police barracks destroyed in the various counties is as follows:

Limerick	6
Claire	12
Down	2
Armagh	5
Roscommon	4
Dublin	6
Cork	4
Tyrone	1
Total	40

At a late hour to-night this authoritative summary of the week-end havoc throughout Ireland was given:

Sixty-one police barracks were destroyed and 21 Revenue Offices raided and their contents burned.

Belfast Isolated.

Belfast was isolated from the rest of the world. The land wires and cable to England were cut and the only means of communication was the telephone.

The Grand Central Hotel, in which are located the Pensions, Labor and other Departments, and the Bank of Ireland, were entered during the night and a large number of documents were destroyed.

The raiders then tried to burn the buildings, but a fire brigade prevented this.

Three separate blazes were found in the Income Tax Offices. The City Post-offices and public buildings were under strong guard to-day. Despatches this evening state the city is calm and the authorities hav the situation in hand.

Will be Re-assessed.

At Dublin Castle to-night it was stated that the destruction of the tax records would avail nothing; all citizens whose records have been destroyed will be re-assessed, and their taxes are likely to be increased by the need of funds to replace the barracks and huts destroyed.

Tried to Fire Customs House.

Attempts were made to set fire to the Belfast Customs House and two Excise Offices.

In every case fire was started by pouring petrol over floors and furniture and then applying a match.

Most of the men who started the blazes were disguised as postmen. Some weere masked and armed.

When communications with Belfast were partly restored this evening it was discovered that a wave of destruction has swept over the Province of Ulster.

Police barracks in all parts of the province have been burned down or blown up. The conspirators sought out mostly the smaller towns. Revenue Offices also were ignited on a large scale.

Belfast to-night is still cut off from Dublin. At Londonderry men singing Republican songs cut the hose lines as firemen were trying desperately to save the Revenue Offices and the Pension Office from burning to the ground.

At Queenstown Sinn Feiners raised the Republican colors on the flagstaff in front of the Harbor Commissioner's official residence. Then they cut the halyards and greased the pole to prevent the removal of the Sinn Fein emblem.

Gave Occupants a Chance.

In most of the cases the police had left the barracks to go to the concentration points in the larger cities. Where only women and children were left in the barracks or huts, the raiders gave warning of their intentions, hence there were no casualties.

A message from Tullamore reports that a masked band late Saturday night roused from his bed a farmer and his family residing in King's County and ordered them into the farm yard. They seated the whole family on chairs, and having compelled the farmer's son, Kieran Fdynn to stand up, fired at him, wounding him seriously in the arm and abdomen. They then attempted to blow up the house and decamped.

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take Salts for Backache or Bladder trouble.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

COMMITTED SUICIDE NEAR MINDEN VILLAGE.

MINDEN, April 1. — Ferdinand Schrader, on Lot 6, 14th Concession, Township of Luterworth, two miles south-west of Minden village, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn yesterday. Deceased was of German descent, aged 84 years, being a resident of Luterworth Township for nearly fifty years.

SPENT EASTER AS GUESTS OF POLICE

TOO MUCH JOY WATER PRODUCES $200 FINES.

That the coming of Easter was rejoicingly celebrated in the city on Saturday night was evident in this morning's police court when several men faced Magistrate Dumble on liquor charges.

Several of them found the gloomy atmosphere of their Easter Sunday billets at the station far from their anticipations of the day before. Two $200 fines with costs and two $10 with costs resulted from the men's holiday insobriey. None of the convicted were heard singing "There is sunshine in my soul to-day" as they were separated from their fines.

Two local young men were involved in the first case. One was charged with having liquor in a place other than his private dwelling house and the other with being drunk in a public place. Mr. G. N. Gordon represented both men. Mr. C. R. Widdifield prosecuted for the Crown.

The lawyer for the accused asked to have the graver charge changed similar to the second, but Chief Thompson would not consent. Mr. G. N. Gordon pleaded not guilty.

Constable Boyd was the first witness for the prosecution and stated that at 11.05 Saturday night they received a call from the King George Hotel that some drunks were creating a disturbance there. He saw two men when he went up the lane to the west of the hotel. Hurrying after them he caught up to them near the Hunter street entrance arrested them and then returned to the King George, experiencing considerable difficulty in taking the men along with him. When the two neared the Locks Works Constable Boyd saw the accused take a bottle out of his pocket and step behind and place it on the ground. He stepped back and picked it up. An imperial quart bottle with a cork and about an inch and a half of spirits stood on the Magistrate's desk. Constable Boyd identified it as the bottle.

Were these men sober or drunk? asked the Magistrate.

They were drunk, said the witness.

With the assistance of Sergt.; Reid and Constable Carey, the two men were guided to the haven of the station and fixed up for the holiday.

In the cross-examination by Mr. G. N. Gordon; he said that there were no electric lights where he arrested them but where the bottle was it was fairly light because there was an archlight at mouth of the lane on Simcoe street. The bottle was found 50 or 60 feet in from the street. Constable Boyd said that he saw no other men in the lane.

Constable Reid corroborated Constable Boyd's story. He declared that there was the same amount of liquor in the bottle as when they got i.

The accused in the box said that he had been overseas for three years and four months and had never been connected with any cases before. He and his friend drank the liquor at home from a supply he had. The bottle in the court was labelled Scotch whiskey. He said his was all a Canadian brand. They had four or five drinks and went down town. Going home they dropped into the hotel to get some cigarettes. A drunk followed them in and flopped into a chair, and they were accused of bringing him in. There was some trouble but they walked out heading towards home via the lane so they could get some cigarettes at the American House. His story of the rest of the affair was entirely the reverse of Constable Boyd's.

"That's the first time I ever saw the bottle," he said. He had no bottle with him. Boyd turned as if he had heard a noise and picked it up. Several men were seen in the lane drinking he said.

Of what variety the liquor was aroused some contention in court. "Some of those boys in the box ought to be good judges of Scotch whiskey," laughed the Magistrate, addressing the four men in the prisoner's box.

The accused in cross examination said he had never seen a bottle like the one in court. He entirely refuted Boyd's statement that he had put the bottle there.

His companion of Saturday night in the box corroborataed his friend's story. He would not admit that they were intoxicated but they had "the glad eye." He did not have any bottle and he was sure that his friend had not. Boyd seemed to stumble over it and then pick it up.

His statement that he consumed four or five quarts of ale on Saturday afternoon at home left the magstrate astonded. He had his supper and then four or five drinks at his friend's.

"It would light you up pretty well," he admitted.

When Boyd picked it up he only asked his friend if it was his but had never asked him.

When Constable Boyd was called in reply the counsel for the accused objected.

Boyd corroborated his previous evidence that he saw him set the bottle down.

Magistrate Dumble pointed out that all evidence was against the man and ignored the idea that anyone else could have left the bottle. $200.00 and costs amounting to $4.10, or three months, was the fine.

His friends insobriety cost him $14.10 and another thirsty one who also spent the Sunday at the station, as a result of the internal application of Florida waer, contributed $14.10.

EASTER SERVICES AT MARK STREET

INSTRUCTIVE SERMONS AND GOOD MUSIC.

Yesterday's services were full of interest and power, and the pastor, Rev. G. E. Ross, occupied the pulpit both morning and evening. His subject at the morning service was, "A Palace in Gethsemane," the text being, "Come see the place where the Lord lay," Matt. xxviii:6. The following are the points of the discussion:

1st. On that far away Easter morning holy women left their beds before the stars had left the sky, and coming to the garden in the gray dawn, found an empty sepulchre and a living Christ.

2nd. Angels invite those daughters of sorrow to come and see the place where the Lord of Angels lay.

3rd. They must stoop to enter the holy vault. Thou must bow thy proud head, oh thou sinful man, if thou would'st enter here. None but the lowly are thus invited by angels.

4th. Come ye daughters of Israel, come and see this borrowed tomb. Not His own was this grave, it was borrowed. He would not need it long. And the sins were not His own that laid him in that marble vault.

6th. It was also a costly tomb. No mean, rugged rupture in the hillside, nor gloom, nor shadow, nor poison, nor vapours noxious were there. It was a miniature palace in a garden, with the angels of God sitting within, holding sweet converse, while the risen and triumphant Jesus, with the keys of death and held at his girdle, walks forth a conqueror.

7th. Once more, it was an empty tomb, as far as the Lord was concerned. There was no death there, but life, light, order, beauty, glory and heaven itself, for the down-flashing splendor from the countenance of the risen Christ had scattered the mists of death, that had hung for three days around the silent habitation of the dead. And now, every Christian grave is illuminated by the Easter light so wondrous. Your grave, oh man, is just a little way down the hillside, is it aglow with the Easter light?

In the evening the subject was "The Survival of Man" or "Life After Death." Text, "If a man die shall he live again?" The following points were discussed:

1st. As the needle turns toward the magnet, and flowers toward the light, so man's instinct swings toward immortality.

2nd. Reason demands immortality and bases its demand upon the universality of the idea. The idea of a future life has taken possession of the human mind, regardless of teaching. All tribes of all nations look toward another life beyond this. Whence the idea? It is inate in the human soul.

3rd Reason demands immortality and bases its demand upon man's powers, longings, possibilities, aspirations and potentialities. Every living creature clings to life, and if life be the boon we seek, and it certainly is, then better be a tree and live a thousand years, than be a man, and die at seventy, that is, if life here ends all.

4th Reason demands immortaity and bases its demand upon life's incompleteness. You cannot crowd the possibilities of an acorn into an earthen jar. An ocean liner must have the sea for its activities and not a pond. The thoughts of man that wander through eternity and grip the universe, cannot be crowded into seventy years.

5th. All nature proclaims "Life from the grave of last year's life," and it surely comes. Up from the tomb of the fallen monarch of the forest comes the sapling. Up from the grave of last year's flowers comes the glory of this year's garden.

7. If the birds by instinct find a summer home three thousand miles away, will man's yearnings for another life find no gratification? Yes, he shall live again. Listen to the Christ. "Because I live ye shall live also." "I am the resurrection and the life."

The writer was informed that the congregations yesterday, both morning and evening, were the largest in years. There was also a splendid attendance at Sunday school.

The music by the choir was greatly appreciated by all, and the anthem, "O Death Where is Thy Sting?" by Edmund Turner, shall long be remembered. Both in the solo part of the anthem and in the solo by Granniers, entitled "Hosanna," Mrs. E. Wand excelled herself in all previous efforts. The evening anthem, "O Sun of Righteousness," by E. H. Nicholl, was also well rendered and received, and the solo, "I Shall See My Redeemer" by J. S. Fearis, and sung by Mrs. E. Wand, was highly appreciated. Mr. Bruce Quinn, our esteemed organist and choir leader, is most heartily congratulated on his excellent work of yesterday.

CYLINDER OIL FOR CHAINS

When a silent chain has been removed from its housing, it should not be installed again without being thoroughly cleaned. Submerge the chain in coal oil and alow it to remain for 15 minutes. When thoroughly clean, dry off and then submerge it in a bath of medium-grade cylinder oil, allowing it to remain until the lubricant has reached every bearing surface. If the silent chain is exposed when in operation, it should be oiled as often as possible. Lubricate the sides of the chain which come in contact with the sprockets and not the outside of the chain. Never use hard grease for chain lubricant.

You'd startle your tailor if, when you wanted a suit of clothes, you asked him to submit a bid in competition with a dozen other tailors.

"Why," he would say, "this is ridiculous. This man knows what kind of a suit of clothes I give him. He knows he can depend on the quality of the material, the make, the fit. He knows me, and has proved my work. Some fellow around the corner may underbid me—but what will he deliver?"

You don't buy tailoring that way. No man does. You know your tailor you rely on him, you trust him, you give him your work just as long as he turns out good work at prices that are fair.

Do you buy your printing as intelligently? Do you make it your business TO FIND A GOOD PRINTER as you do a good tailor, and then rely on his experience, his ability and his judgment?

MY LADY NICOTINE IN CANADA

(1) Hauling Tobacco to the Curing Barn. (2) Full grown White Burley Tobacco in Ontario.

Tobacco culture in Canada is an industry of comparatively recent date. Extensive development has taken place in the past twenty-five or thirty years, and recent seasons have proved the adaptability of widely separated sections of the Dominion to this very profitable line of agriculture. Since the protective duty of 25 cents per pound has been imposed on all foreign leaf tobaccos, the Canadian industry has received a yet greater stimulus, and interest in the culture is becoming wider and more diversified yearly.

The two principal provinces where tobacco has been successfully grown for many years are Ontario and Quebec. Very successful results have been obtained also at Kelowna, in the Okanagan district of British Columbia, and the growing of tobacco may be said to be firmly established as an industry there. Recent experiments in the Lethbridge irrigation district in Southern Alberta, would indicate great possibilities for the growth in the prairie province.

Tobacco, in Ontario, is grown in the counties of Essex, Peele, Kent, Prince Edward, Elgin, and Lincoln. A total of 9,220 acres among these counties was devoted to the cultivation of the tobacco plant in 1919, producing a yield of 10,709,400 pounds, or an average of 1,159 pounds per acre.

The Burley variety, suitable for chewing, is grown in five counties: cool leaf in Essex; snuff in Kent; and Havana in Lincoln. Maryland tobacco has been introduced into Prince Edward County with success. During the past few years the growing of bright tobacco (flue cured) has extended rapidly on the light sandy loams near the shores of Lake Ontario, and some gravelly hills with good drainage. The annual production of this variety is nearly 1,000,000 pounds, with the yearly demand increasing. A limited amount of Seed Leaf and Fire cured leaf of the heavier type is grown in certain sections. The cost of cultivation in the province, including the labor of the grower has been estimated at from $50 to $75 per acre, and the average yield about 1,000 pounds per acre.

The increased demand, and higher prices of recent years have given tobacco growing in Ontario a considerable impetus. The provincial Board of Agriculture, realizing this, instituted a tobacco station at the Harrow experimental farm, which has done valuable work in proving species of plants adapted to the various soils of the province, and encouraging limited production and improvement in quality rather than a large acreage and mediocre quality, by improved methods of culture.

The tobacco production of the Province of Quebec for the year 1919 was about 10,000,000 pounds and there were 22,404 acres under cultivation. As a tobacco growing area, the French-Canadian province has been coming more to the fore every year. This is illustrated by the fact that in 1911 there were only 12,134 acres devoted to this culture. In the counties of Berthier, Joliette, L'Assomption, Montcalm, Portneuf, Richelieu, Rouville, Terrebone, Verchères and Yamaska the industry is carried on a very large scale. There are federal government stations in Saint-Jacques de L'Achigan (county of Montcalm, and at Saint-Casimir, Rouville. In many counties the tobacco plant is grown for cigar manufacture, the principal species sown being Havana, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, Comstock, Simmers Spanish, Cannelle, and Persian Rose; but greater success is achieved with pipe tobaccos such as white burley, red burley, Hing point, yellow prior, hester yellow thammond and Tennessee Red.

The planters of the Yamaska Valley have formed a co-operative society and established at Saint-Casaire a large warehouse for the curing and sale of Comstock Spanish tobacco as fillers and binders for cigars. The society sells annually from 800,000 to 900,000 pounds of tobacco at from 30 to 40 cents per pound. The purchase of tobacco according to quality has greatly improved methods of cultivation and treatment.

The growing of tobacco in British Columbia is practically confined to the area surrounding Kelowna in the Okanagan Valley. The total 1919 output, which amounted to about 120,000 pounds was sold at 20 cents per pound to a Quebec manufacturer. Interest in tobacco production in the Pacific province is on the increase, and in many sections of its area can be found warm, sunny, well-drained slopes of sandy deposits well adapted to the cultivation of tobacco plants of the heavier type.

The possibility of successfully growing and curing tobacco in Southern Alberta has been clearly demonstrated by the experimental farm at Lethbridge. Sixty plants, grown in the season 1919, produced prolific foliage, which was cured on the farm and made into cigars. Experiments will be carried on a more extensive scale with a view to establishing the industry as a commercial proposition in the irrigation belt.

The successful growing of tobacco calls for rich and light soils containing a good supply of vegetable matter, and will yield the best results. Soils deficient of humus, however, rich in mineral elements, are not suitable for its growth. Good drainage of the subsoil water is essential. The soils of hillsides, with a gentle slope, generally give excellent results, mainly on account of the rapidity with which an excess of water drains off. The best soils for successful growing are those which contain a sufficient proportion of clay and humus to retain a good supply of moisture, known as "loam" or "clay loam" soils are the least suitable.

DEMPSEY-WILLARD CONTEST TO BE SHOWN AT THE ALLEN

The first showing in Peterboro of the films of the Dempsey-Willard championship bout at Toledo, will be made at 10.45 on Wednesday night at the Allen, following the regular fine performance at the theatre, and the clearance of the audience. Pugilistic and photographic history was made in the famous Toledo title tilt depicted. Not only was the contest the most sensational in ring history, but the cinema production established a record in camera achievement.

Whatever Dempsey's shortcomings may be from the marital or martial points, thehe remains no doubt of his ability as a gritty and skilful boxer. The film proves his prowess in these respects. Although Willard outclassed him physically, all resemblance ceases there except in gameness. The ex-champion showed himself thoroughly courageous on this, for him, most unlucky occasion. None but a "dead game guy" would have come back for more after that slashing first round in which Dempsey mistook him for a punching bag and left him a helpless hulk in the corner.

But Willard came back. In the second and third periods he held his own anl he would not have stopped then but for the advice of his seconds, who thought he had no chance to win—a belief that the film goes to contradict in the opinion of ring experts.. For Dempsey was as very, very tired as the "Big Fellow."

Outside of the spectacular championship bout itself, the training camp scenes show the rivals preparing for the fray, the preliminary trials of skill that always precede the great event, and the vast and sharply photographed ringside gathering. In one of the preliminaries, filmed complete, the contestants are Jimmy Wilde's prospective rivals for the championship, Frankie Mason and Carl Tremaine.

The picture trip to the Toledo contest lasts as long as the event itself, the film running into the second hour and being admittedly the best thing of its kind ever made.

The French designers are very partial to the cape wrap.

J. J. SOLOMON, Proprietor.

SAYS NOW IS THE TIME TO BUILD

The recent announcement that the Canadian National Railways present a deficit of over $30,000,000 on the year's operations, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific follows as a modest second with a further deficit of over $9,000,000, brings up the question as to how these recurring annual financial burdens are to be avoided. It is probable, as already announced, that the lines will appeal for permission to increase the freight rates. Any advances, and these were substantial, have been consumed in operating charges and running expenses.

If freight rates be increased, no doubt that such advances will apply on all systems, whether Government owned or not. So in addition to the already heavy carrying charges the country is paying we may look for a further boost in selling prices of all products, for the freight charge falls alike on both necessaries and luxuries.

While the public is speculating, and protesting that no dwellings can be erected on account of the high, indeed the excessive cost of building materials, including lumber of all kinds, it may be interesting to see what part thef reight rates play in enhancing the cost of forest products. In view of the progress we are endeavoring to make in the matter of house building it is seen that we must face costs that are high, may be higher and certainly will not be lower for some time. Mr. John Duignan has supplied some facts and figures relative to the carriage of lumber that throw some light on the prices asked when one timidly goes to buy a board or two to repair the fence or patch up some household emergency. Also an element in the situation is the time it takes to get the lumber from shipment point to destination.

To appreciate the full severity of the freight question we may take the case of shipment from the West to Peterboro, or to this vicinity in Midland Ontario. Twenty cars of British Columbia fir, spruce and mountain pine were ordered. Four cars have arrived. Cars are now strung along in transit at any old place, Calgary, Moose Jaw, Winnipeg and at Fort William, Ont. Normally it takes six weeks for cars to reach destination. The freight on each of these cars runs from $530.00 to $630.00 per car, in addition to the cost of the lumber. A few years ago the same quality of lumber could be delivered in Peterboro, F.O.B., for very little more than the cost of the freight today.

It is also very difficult to place orders for immediate delivery as last year's stock is pretty well cleared out by American buyers, and in moving this stock the larger part of flat freight cars went to the States and as the Americans have no return freight for this kind of car, the cars remain there. Ontario purchasers of Western lumber are compelled to load thirty-foot timber and lumber in box cars, thus adding more expense to the loading and unloading. Like all other expense this is infallibly handed on to the builder or consumer as he happens to be.

It stands to reason, and it is being driven home on us, that lumber will never again be cheaper than at present as the timber supply in this country is becoming exhausted, thereby increasing stumpage value of the standing timber, and with all the increased cost of camps and forest service in getting out and to the mill, it looks as if the days for cheap lumber in this district, if not in all Ontario, are gone. With freight rates advanced in the not remote past from 40 to 70 per cent., the following comparison of costs of building materials before and after the war will be instructive:

Per Thousand Feet of Materials.

Before the War		Present Cost
Stumpage value	$ 5 00	$15 00
Bush wages and board	6 00	7 00
Driving logs to mill ..	3 00	6 00
Sawing and piling ..	3 00	6 00
Interest..	50	2 00
Insurance	50	1 50
Crown dues, fire ranger	2 50	2 50
Overhead and taxes	3 50	5 00
	$26 50	$56 00
Sales $28.00		Sales—$58.00

Taking the grade of hemlock lumber, we find:

Stumpage	$ 2 00	$ 7 00
Bush wages anr board	6 00	7 00
Driving loge to mill	3 00	6 00
Sawing, piling, etc. ..	2 00	6 00
Intehest	50	2 00
Insurance	25	1 50
Crown dues, etc.	2 00	2 00
Overhead..	3 50	5 00
	$19 25	$47 50
Sales—$22.00		Sales—$50.00

Mr. Duignan adds:"Now is the time to build, with wages 300 to 400 per cent. more than before the war—work and money never so plentiful. Twenty-five years ago building lumber was $8.00 and $10.00 per thousand feet. Then there was no work, no money and no building."

THE NEW TARIFF CHARGES FOR LOCAL TAXI AND LIVERYMEN

SCHEDULE CONFIRMED BY THE BOARD OF POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

The amended By-law No. 2 of the Police Commissioners, passed on Saturday afternoon, and showing the new tariff charges for cars and other vehicles, both for taxi and livery service, is printed for the convenience of the public.

At the meeting Dr. Pulkinghorn was questioned on the possibility of dividing the city into zones like Toronto and other centres, but stated that the matter had been fully considered, but it was not thought advisable until the city increased considerably in size and population.

The following is the new tariff of charges for cabs and omnibuses in the City of Peterborough:

Omnibuses.

For a hotel omnibus, between any hotel and railway station or steamboat landing or wharf, for each person—25 cents.

For other passengers, from any place to any place in this route, for each person—10 cents.

Tally-Ho Coaches.

For Tally-ho coaches, or other large coaches, for one or two hours, for each person—$1.00; for each subsequent hour, 50 cents for each person.

Automobiles.

For a seven-passenger automobile, by the hour, for such number of persons as may be carried in such vehicle, $3.00 per hour. By the day, nine hours—$12.00 per day.

For an automobile of smaller capacity than a seven-passenger, by the hour, for such number of persons as may be carried in such vehicle, $2.50 per hour. By the day, of nine hours —$10.00 per day.

For conveying passengers from one part of the city to another, 50 cents each passenger by day: for each additional passenger of same party, 25 cents; between 11 o'clock p.m. and 7 o'clock a.m., one passenger, 75 cents, and two or more passengers—50 cents each.

For Horse-Drawn Cabs.

For two-horse cab, by the hour, for such number of persons as may be carried in such vehicle, $2.00 per hour for the first hour, and $1.50 for each additional hour or fraction thereof; by the day of nine hours—$10.00.

For a two-horse cab, for conveying passengers from one part of the city to another, 50 cents for first passenger, by day; each additional passenger over one of same party, 25 cents; between 11 o'clock p.m. and 7 o'clock a.m., one passenger, 75 cents, and two or more passengers—50 cents each.

For a one-horse cab, by the hour, for such number of persons as may be carried in such vehicle, $1.50 per hour for the first hour and $1.00 per hour for each additional hour or fraction thereof; by the day, of nine hours—$6.00.

For a one-horse cab, for conveying passengers from one part of the city to another, 50 cents per passenger, by day; for each additional passenger over one of the same party, 25 cents; between 11 o'clock p.m. and 7 o'clock a.m., for one passenger, 75 cents, and two or more passengers 50 cents each.

Return Fare.

Any person who has engaged an automobile or cab, who shall not detain the same at his or her destination for more than fifteen minutes, shall be entitled to return in the same to the place of departure or a similar distance for half the regular fare.

Paragraph 54 of the said by-law is hereby amended by striking out the first three words therof.

Paragraph 57 of said by-law is hereby amended by striking out the word "twelve" wherever the same appears in said paragraph 57 and by substituting therefor the word "nine"; by striking out the word "six" and substituting the word "four"; and where the word "eighteen" appears in the last line of said paragraph, by substituting therefor the word "thirteen."

Form "D" of the Tariff Card, forming a part of the said by-law, is hereby amended by striking out the whole of the same, and by substituting therefor the following words:

Tariff Relating to Automobiles, Cabs, Etc., Used for Hire for the Conveyance of Persons in the City of Peterborough.

"Every cabman on each occasion when his cab is hired shall, when demanded of him, hand this card to the person employing him.

"No fare is to be paid to any cabman who refuses to hand this card to the person employing him, or who demands a greater rate than allowed by the tariff.

"For conveying adult persons from any one part of the city to any other part of the city, 50 cents for first passenger; each additional passenger of same part, 25 cents.

"Children from eight to twelve years of age, half fare.

"Children under eight years, free.

"Between 11 o'clock p.m and 7 o'clock a.m., one passenger, 75 cents, and two or more passengers, 50 cents each.

"For conveying satchels and such things as may be placed inside the vehicle free.

"By the hour--for seven-passenger automobile, for such number of persons as may be carried in such vehicle, $3.00 per hour; by the day, of nine hours, $12.00.

"For an automobile of less capacity than seven passengers, for such number of passengers as may be carried in such vehicle, $2.50 per hour; by the day, of nine hours, $10.00.

"For a two-horse cab, for such number of persons as may be carried in such vehicle, $2.00 for the first hour, and $1.50 per hour for each subsequent hour; by the day, of nine hours, $10.00.

"For a one-horse cab, for such number of persons as may be carried in such vehicle, $1.50 for the first hour and $1.00 for each additional hour; by the day, of nine hours, $6.00."

THE FOOTBALLERS HAD A WORKOUT

The C.G.E., Caledonians and G.W.V.A. football teams had a workout on Friday and Saturday of last week. The C.G.E. and the Caledonians used the exhibition grounds and the G.W.V.A. chased the pigskin in Central park. Stiff limbs kept many of the players from turning out to practice on Saturday.

A crowd that indicated the interest football is rapidly developing in the city this year, attended the practice game of the A and B teams of the C.G.E. club at the Exhibition park on Good Friday morning. The first team won by four goals to one, three of the four being scored in the first fifteen minutes. After that the pace slowed up under a soft, drizzling rain. In that first period several nice combinations were pulled off, and the fans were given a taste of the quality of soccer they may expect when the players round into condition. C.G.E. are expected to have a strong team for their first game on April 24th.

A. Parkins, president of the League, had to retire on account of the heavy footwork occasioned by the wet ball. C.G.E. have their outfits and will be one of the first teams equipped and ready for the field.

It is reported that the Veterans had an encouraging workout on Good Friday morning, and some of those who saw the men limbering up, declare that Sid Whatley will be the star goaler of the League.

Caledonians had two teams on the western pitch at the Exhibition grounds, and considerable satisfaction was expressed at the material uncovered. The Scotsmen are putting a lot of ginger into their work, and their club is deeply interested in their football prospects.

Canadian Woolens went through their preliminary canter on Friday morning west of the Bonner-Worth factory. I.O.O.F. rumors were much brighter over the week end and it is probable that they will have a team in the League. The executive meets on Wednesday night.

TONAWANDA, April 3.—Something dressed in a long white robe and with long black hair was seen near Elmlawn cemetery, on Delaware Street by Motorman Albert Strossell of Buffalo, while bound for Tonawanda late at night. He stopped his car, but the object disappeared in the Mount Olive cemetery.

This was the second appearance of the supposed angel. The matter is now being investigated by officials of the town of Tonawanda and one of the new town constables has been patrolling the Delaware Street district near Elmlawn. Farmers think someone not mentally right is impersonating an angel.

When Motorman Strossell saw the object which he thought was a woman dressed all in white come out of Elmlawn cemetery and stand near the trolley track, he supposed that she desired to get on his car and he stopped the car. Conductor John Zimm looked out of the rear of the car, but saw no person. He asked the motorman, who replied a woman had hailed the car, but the conductor, to the motorman's surprise, said there was no person in sight.

Last Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Voetsch, of North Tonawanda saw the same object at about the same place where Motorman Strossell saw it.

Figured voile is used for children's frocks.

SCARCITY OF HOUSES

Edmonton Faces Same Problems as Peterboro.

EDMONTON, Alta., April 3.—Edmonton needs five hundred new houses this year. That is the estimate placed on the city's housing requirements by several of the rental agencies. "There is no doubt but that we will need that many new houses before the end of the year," declared one agent who handles hundreds of houses and apartments.

WEDDING BELLS

WYATT—MESLEY.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in St. Luke's church, when Miss Myrtle Mesley and Mr. Gordon Wyatt, both of this city, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. White. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. F. Mowry.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt will reside at 55 Hunter street, East City.

LEACH--CAMPBELL.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell of Roseneath, on Tuesday, March 16th, at 4 o'clock, when their second daughter, Jessie Irvine, became the bride of Mr. Norman Clifford Leach of Fenella.

Immediately afterward the happy couple left amid showers of confetti for Peterboro, Toronto and Hamilton.

McFADDEN—SPENCE.

The wedding was quietly solemnized at the Presbyterian Manse on Wednesday morning, of Mr. John McFadden of Burleigh, to Mrs. Lillian Spence, of Burleigh, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. F. L. Jull. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mallory. Mr. and Mrs. McFadden will reside in Lakefield.

OBITUARY

MRS. J. A. BATHGATE.

Died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Gavin Brown, Monday, April 5th, at 6 a.m., Mrs. John Anderson Bathgate, age 70 years and 5 months.

The deceased was a native of Scotland. She came to Canada 47 years ago, and was beloved by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and five children, one sister, namely, Mrs. Gavin Brown, 717 Harvey street north. Her children are Miss Bathgate, city; Mrs Alex. Gillespie, Otonabee; James, of Lindsay; George, East City, and William John of Calgary.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SISTER ETHELREDA.

Mrs. M. J. Maher, 545 Homewood avenue, received word yesterday that her sister, Sister Ethelreda, died yesterday at Loretta Abbey, after an illness of some weeks duration. She had been a number of years in the Loretto Community.

The funeral will take place in Toronto to-morrow morning.

THE BOLSHEVIKI ARE STILL ADVANCING.

GUARDS ESTABLISHED ALONG THE CHINESE BORDER.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 5.—Bolsheviki are advancing along the Black Sea towards Nohougskai, on the Caucasian front, according to an official Soviet statement to-day.

In Maikop region, the Bolsheviks are pursuing the retreating enemy along the Touapse Railway, the statement adds, saying that the Reds have occupied Vouinsk.

On the Eastern front the Bolsheviki have established guards along the Chinese Frontier.

STILL PICKETING BRITISH EMBASSY.

TWO POLICE OFFICERS ON HAND WITHOUT ANY INSTRUCTIONS.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Picketing of the British Embassy by women proponents of an Irish Republic was resumed to-day under the leadership of Mrs. James Walsh, of New York.

Adopting tactics similar to those used by the militant suffragists, who picketed the White House two years ago, the women appeared in relays every two hours, and marched up and down in front of the Embassy in the drizzling rain.

Two police officers were on hand, but they said they had no instructions to interfere.

Gold Rush.

NEW COTTAGES AT STONEY LAKE

Practically the only addition to the Stoney Lake cottages since last season is the splendid two-storey cottage which Mr. Cockson has erected adjoining "Delhi," near Buffeigh. At Clear Lake, Mr. H. Morphet has put up a handsome cottage in Kawartha Park.

CHEMONG BRIDGE BADLY DAMAGED

Friday's west wind and Saturday's east wind pretty well shattered the floating bridge at Chemong, and at present, broken in two, it is threatened with further damage by the west wind which is blowing. All the railing is down, the bridge broken in the south end and bent in the middle, and the telephone service out of commission, the line across the bridge having parted. No attempt will be made to fix the bridge until the ice is out of the lake.

THE GRASS FIRE SEASON OPENS

The grass fire season opened yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the firemen were called to Benson avenue, near the Normal school One line of hose and the fire was soon under control.

FOCH ORDERS TROOPS TO ADVANCE ON GERMAN CITIES

Reichswehr Troops Advancing Against Communist Element

THE REDS LOSSES WERE REPORTED TO BE HEAVY—MOBS PLUNDERING.

HEAVY FIGHTING

(United Press.)

PARIS, April 6 (by Henry Wood).—The German Reichswehr troops, advancing against the Communist rebels on the Ruhr Valley, have reached a line about fifteen miles north of Essen, according to advices to the French Foreign Office to-day.

The Reichswehr had not yet captured Botrop (ten miles north-west of Essen), the Foreign Office said.

It quoted advices from Allied military missions which had inspected the country to the north of Herne.

Advanced elements of the German troops were reported holding a line from Dotteln to Werop and eastward outside the neutral zone. In the region of Unnas and Naaf (north-east of Essen), Bavarian and Wurtemburg troops were concentrated.

Strong resistance was expected in the Gelsenkirchen Wanne district, north of Essen.

Although there has been considerable scattered fighting, advices to the Foreign Office indicated the Reichswehrs' casualties as slight.

The Government troops advanced behind strong artillery and machine gun fire where resistance was encountered.

The Reds' losses were reported as being heavy. The Reichswehr were taking no prisoners.

They used tanks to rout nests of Communists offering particularly stubborn resistance.

HEAVY FIGHTING.

(United Press.)

LONDON, April 6.—More than 300 Reds were killed when the Ruhr Communist Army attempted to stop the advance of the German Reichswehr near Pelkum, a News Agency despatch from Berlin said to-day.

Heavy fighting was progressing to-day outside Essen, a despatch to the Daily News said to-day.

Reichswehr troops succeeded in getting into the old city, but were driven out by the Communists after severe street fighting.

All work had been suspended, and the Red Guards shot several looters.

COMMUNISTS LOOTING.

(United Press.)

LONDON, April 6.—Communists began the looting of Essen to-day, according to a News Agency despatch from Berlin.

Mobs plundered confectionery, food and shoe shops. The damage was estimated at hundreds of thousands of marks.

The Communist Executive Committee fled toward Barmen, admitting that the situation had passed beyond its control.

BRANTFORD ERECTING THIRTY-FOUR HOUSES

BRANTFORD, April 6.—Members of the Brantford Housing Commission and the City Council yesterday afternoon inspected 34 houses which are under construction under Ontario Housing Act.

The value of constructing makes a total of $206,000, and the city has the money with which to construct ten or twelve more.

Real estate is moving actively here consequent on the shortage of houses, many renters being forced to buy in self-protection, and thus forcing other renters out.

There were 132 property transfers in March as compared with 80 for the same month last year.

THE MAYOR'S VOTE SETTLED DISPUTE

MR. CHRISTIE'S SALARY WILL BE PAID BY THE CITY.

The Special Bridge Committee's recommendation that Mr. Christie's fees as inspector on the Hunter St. bridge, be paid by the city, ran the gauntlet of the council last night and emerged with a majority of one, and that Mayor McIntyre's vote

This question has become a pet diversion with the council, some of the members of which regretted that Mr. Christie's name had to be dragged into it

The issue was whether Mr. Frank Barber or the city should pay the inspector's salary, and back of that was the contention of Ald. Phelan and others that Barber was bound by his agreement to supervise the construction of the bridge to appoint a deputy, and further that in his absence Mr. Christie was representing him and therefore should be paid by Mr. Barber.

Ald. Hamiton said the committee concluded that Mr. Barber was superintending the bridge construction, just as he had agreed, and also according to engineering practice.

Ald. Gordon—They didn't think it worth while to contest it and fight it out.

Ald. Phelan—Barber put it all over us.

Ald. Hamilton—What can we do?

Ald. Phelan—Why not put a stop to it?

Ald. Hamilton—You can't—it is in the agreement.

The vote on the report with its recommendation that the city pay the inspector's salary, was as follows:

Ayes: Ald. Whitehouse, Hamilton, Turner, Gordon, Morrison and Mayor McIntyre.

Nays: Ald. Phelan, Copping, Jones, Crowe and Gainey.

BUSY WEEK ANTICIPATED IN THE DOMINION HOUSE

Canadian Press

OTTAWA, April 6. — The Parliament Buildings assumed their sessional appearance to-day, following the Easter recess, when both the House of Commons and the Senate will again take up their activities. Members from Ontario and Quebec constituencies, who spent the holidays at home, are returning to the Capital. It seems likely that the week will be a busy one, as the Franchise Bill, one of the most contentious measures to come before Parliament this session, must be put through the committee stages. A number of the less contentious clauses have already been disposed of, but the real fight in committee is yet to come before the bill gets its third reading and finds its way to the upper Chamber.

Estimates will Cause Controversy.

Departmental estimates are yet to be disposed of and those of the Railway Department are likely to cause a great deal of controversy. The Opposition seems in no mood to let any of the estimates by without a good deal of discussion, as was indicated by the fight on the $20,000,000 ship building vote, which was put through only after decided opposition.

It seems unlikely that the Budget Speech will be delivered this week, but when it does come there will likely be a good deal of criticism from both the opposition and the cross-benches. There is no indication yet what the tariff proposals of the Government will be, but they will certainly not meet with the approval of the widely differing factions in the House.

Little Ready for the Senate.

Apparently the Senate will have little to do as the Commons has practically no legislation ready for the Upper Chamber. There are a number of divorce bills to be disposed off. Private members' business may consume a part of the time of the Senate.

A long list of questions remains to be answered in the House of Commons by the Government, and a large number of private members' resolutions remain to be discussed.

CITY'S ACCOUNT TRANSFEREED TO THE BANK OF MONTREAL

COUNCIL ON AN OLD DEBATING GROUND LAST NIGHT—ALD. TURNER OPPOSED CHANGE FROM BANK OF TORONTO, DOUBTING THAT IT WOULD BE WELCOMED BY BANK OF MONTREAL.

ALD. CROWE BROKE TIE

The City Council swung back to an old controversy last night when Ald. Gordon moved seconded by Ald. Phelan that the city's account be transferred from the Bank of Toronto to the Bank of Montreal. This resolution was submitted while the Council was in committee, with Ald. Crowe presiding, on a bylaw to borrow $300,000 from the bank for ordinary expenses.

The division resulted as follows—for the resolution Aldermen Phelan, Gordon, Morrison, Gainey, White house and Crowe.

Against—Mayor McIntyre, Aldermen Copping, Jones, Hamilton and Turner.

Ald. Crowe's was the deciding vote.

Contentious as ever, this question induced the usual debate and revived arguments that have reached the veteran stage in this conflict of opinions, but which retain all their old force and mobility.

Ald Gordon reviewed the aid rendered the city by the Bank of Montreal during the panicy days in 1914 when the city needed $100,000 for the purchase of the Peterboro Light and Power equipment. The Bank of Toronto, the city's banker at that time, refused to lend this money, Ald. Gordon recalled, and it was through the manager of the Bank of Montreal, an old Peterboro boy, that the fruit of the city's efforts was saved by the timely assistance of the bank of which he was head.

The Council immediately transferred their account to the Bank of Montreal, but later when Mr. A. H. Stratton was chairman of the Finance Cimmittee it was returned to the Bank of Toronto.

Mayor McIntyre— Because the Bank of Toronto gave us a better rate.

Ald. Turner strenuously opposed the resolution. The Bank of Toronto, he said, had of late suffered a loss on the city's business through the adverse rate of exchange. Coupons payable in New York were cashed at par, and Ald. Turner believed that the Bank of Montreal would not welcome this obligation.

Ald. Turner Partinacious.

Failing to move the majority of the Council with that argument, Ald. Turner moved that the resolution was out of order for the reason that the by-law had been prepared by the Bank of Toronto and might not be acceptable to the Bank of Montreal. It was the instrument of the Bank of Toronto he contended.

Asked for an opinion, City Solicitor Widdifield replied that he hadn't seen the bylaw and that it should have had a chance to examine it.

Ald. Gordon—It is the same as they present from year to year.

City Clerk Armstrong said he did not know of any rule of the Council that would affect the resolution.

Mayor McIntyre —Wait until the third reading. I'll throw it out.

In council session again, Ald. Turner moved that the resolution be sent back, but his effort was defeated.

Attach Conditions

Toward the end of the meeting, and after the bylaw had been made safe, Ald. Gordon moved that a cheque be issued to transfer the city's account from the Bank of Toronto to the Bank of Montreal to carry the city's loan on the present terms of the Bank of Toronto including the payment of debentures and interest in New York at par.

A Last Effort.

Ald. Hamilton moved an amendment seconded by Ald. Turner that tenders be called for the handling of the city's account, thus throwing it open to all the banks. The amendment failed.

The New York business refers to debentures held in that city which the Bank of Toronto agreed to pay at their par value.

BRITISH OFFICERS WERE RELEASED

(Canadian Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 6. — Captain Forbes, British control officer at Amasia, who was recently taken prisoner by the Turkish Nationalists, has been released and has reached Samsoun en route to this city. It is also reported that Col. Rawlinson, British control officer at Erzerum, who also had been prisoner, has been freed by the Nationalists. Reports in this city have stated that the cabinet of Salipasha was forced to resign because of pressure brought to bear upon the government as a result of the capture of these two officers.

Japanese Attack.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 6.— A Japanese attack on Vladivostock, which gave them control of the city, resulted from "threatened and aggressive acts of a portion of the Russian army," according to an official despatch from the Japanese War Department.

THE FRENCH FORCES ARE ADVANCING

GERMAN GARRISON SURRENDERS TO THE FRENCH ARMY OF OCCUPATION—FRANKFORT DESERTED.

(United Press.)

PARIS, April 6.—French troops have occupied Darmstadt and Frankfort, it was stated officially to-day.

The occupation was without incident.

The Foreign Office announced at 1.30 p.m. that the German Reichswehr Garrison at Frankfort surrendered to the French occupation army.

Earlier reports had said that the Reichswehr had evacuated the city before the French troops arrived.

A PROCLAMATION.

(Canadian Press.)

MAYENCE, April 6.—The French troops entered Frankfort and Darmstadt at five o'clock this morning, encountering no resistance from the German Government forces in these two cities.

The occupation was proceeding quietly.

The occupation of Darmstadt was effected without incident.

Frankfort was deserted as the troops entered the city. Few people on the streets contemplated the spectacle of the passing French uniforms with indifference.

Soon after daylight a proclamation issued by General De Goutte, who was ordered forward by Marshal Foch yesterday, made its appearance on the principal billboards of the city.

German regular troops, the presence of which in the neutral zone had been tolerated by the Allies, withdrew yesterday afternoon and evening.

In a proclamation issued to the towns and cities within the area to be occupied, General De Gouttee declares the French troops have crossed the Rhine, to compel the Berlin government to respect its agreement with the Allies and asserts there is no hostile intent to the people of that region. The French troops will be withdrawn as soon as the German forces have evacuated the neutral zone.

Provision made for public order include the declaration that Frankfort, Darmstadt, Offenbach, Koenigstein and a number of other towns and districts, are under a state of siege. The German authorities and public services will continue to function under French military officials, and strikes will not be tolerated. Gatherings of more than five persons are prohibited; newspapers are temporarily suspended, and permission must be given to use telephone or telegraph. A postal censorship is temporarily established; all arms and grenades must be deposited in the city hall inside of six hours after the posting of the proclamation.

Any infraction of these rules will result in court martial.

JAPS OCCUPY VLADIVOSTOCK

(Canadian Press.)

VLADIVOSTOCK, April 6.—The Japanese troops yesterday occupied Vladivostock after eight hours of severe fighting in all parts of the city.

Russian revolutionary forces took control of Vladivostok early in February, General Rozanov, the commander of all Russian forces fleeing to Japan. Insurgents maintained power for the purpose of handing over the town to Bolsheviki officials, now assumed to be on their way to the far eas from Moscow.

The Japanese imperial flag is now flying in place of the Russian ensign from all the government buildings. Some of the officials of the revolutionary contingents have already been arrested and depored. All Russians have been disarmed. The Russians were taken by surprise, the Japanese move towards occupation having been unexpected by the party in power. Many escaped into the hill country, behind the city.

Early yesterday the Japanese launched their attack in the Korean quarter which they occupied. Later they marched the Korean and Russian prisoners, tied together with ropes, through many of the principal streets

ONE MAN WHO OUGHT TO KNOW SAYS FOODSTUFFS ARE AT APEX

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—J. Ogden Armour, whose opinion on the price of meat should be better than that of anybody else on earth, said yesterday:

"It is my opinion that the price of fresh meats is not going to be increased. I also believe that the cost of other foodstuffs has about reached the highest point."

VAGARIES OF ADVERTISING

MANY CUSTOMERS NEVER SAY THEY SAW THE THING ADVERTISED—THEY SIMPLY ASK FOR IT.

When an article is well advertised, it may be taken for granted that the retailer will receive calls for it. But to emphasise this too much is dangerous. There is nothing easier than for the buyer to declare that he is not receiving calls. That is always his pet objection, and an overmastering one it is.

As a matter of fact, the call argument is fallacious. Demand is not always expressed vocally. Advertising accumulates a host of desires in most persons that they do not express until a favourable occasion for the purchase of the desired article arises.

The chances are they may never ask for the product at all. Some time when they see it displayed, they will buy it merely by saying, "I will take one of those." Every experienced advertiser knows that advertising is vastly more potent in creating consumer acceptance of a product than it is in bringing oral demand for that product.

Recently one of Hart, Schaffner & Marx's largest dealers told us that it is seldom a man comes into his store and asks for this brand of clothes. This retailer is widely known as a Hart, Schaffner & Marx distributor. Customers who come in take it for granted that they will be given these clothes. They do not call for the brand; they accept it. Nine times out of ten that is the way advertising works.

It is a mistake to pin too much faith on the "call" theory. It is rarely a reliable guide.—"Printers' Ink."

G. G. Winterbottom, Capt. and Adjt. "The Peterborough Rangers."

WILL PERPETUATE THE MEMORY OF THE HON. JOHN DOUGLAS ARMOUR, ONE OF PETERBORO'S MOST DISTINGUISHED SON'S—HIS CAREER A DISTINGUISHED ONE.

JUDGE HUYCKE'S TRIBUTE

The name of Concession street in Ashburnham was changed to Armour Road and Brown street to Auburn street by the City Council last night. Two bulky petitions were laid on the table, one signed by Rev. W. J. McColl, E. A. Peck, Miss Florence Revell and many other residents, advocating the change, the other bearing the signatures of Mrs. Rice, Mrs. J. O'Donogue and a long list of other property owners opposing the idea which had been introduced by Ald. Gordon at a previous meeting.

Judge Huycke, in an interesting address, briefly sketched the career of the Honorable John Douglas Armour whose name would be perpetuated by the Council's action. He was the son of the Rev. Samuel Armour, the first rector of St. John's church. He lived on the top of Armour's Hill, and His Honour said he had seen the crumbling foundation of the house a short time ago. John Douglas Armour became Chief Justice of Ontario and was later appointed to the Supreme Court of Canada.

"I think he was the greatest judge Ontario ever had," said His Honour. "Whether every one will agree with that I cannot say; personally I think he was the greatest; but everyone will agree that he was one of the greatest. He was the only man who rose to that distinction who claimed Peterborough as his birthplace. He died in 1904 or 1905, continuing his duty to the very last. He was chosen to go to England on the Alaskan tribunal and died in London before his work was completed."

A Delicate Question.

Judge Huycke spoke of the great importance of the question of the Alaskan boundary and of the grave responsibility that rested upon the Hon. Mr. Armour. His work was of incalculable advantage to the arbitrators, and his reputation had gone throughout the British world.

Judge Huycke remarked that his interest did not centre upon changing the name of Concession street, but simply that the memory of this distinguished son of Peterborough should be perpetuated in the place where he was born. Some of the residents on Concession street gathered the opinion that the change would cost them something. That was absurd, he said. If there was any effect it would seem that property on Armour road would have a stronger appeal than on Concession street. There was the influence of euphony as well as the honor to be paid to a great citizen who was unknown to the generation of to-day. Judge Huycke said he had known the late Judge Armour, of whom Peterborough should be proud and should in some slight way manifest its pride by honoring his name.

Ald. Phelan said he had known Judge Armour and could testify to Judge Huycke's tribute.

FEEDING THE BIRDS

I'm keeping open house these days—
My pensioners the garden throng.
Brave feathered minstrels, they, who earn
Their daily bread with a song—
Families of sparrows, pert and small,
Shy stalings with their plaintive call.

Mr. and Mrs. Blue Jay bold,
A host of speckled chicadees,
Gray squirrels, too, come swarming down
From cozy nests high up in the trees,
Holding up hungry, furry hands
To me, a friend who understands!

No epicures are these, my guests,
Who come thus praying to be fed;
They feast on nuts and grains of corn,
Crumbs from my table, crusts of bread—
But, oh, what grateful songs they raise!
(I'm keeping open house these days.)

MAZIE V. CARUTHERS.

ORIGINAL PACKER'S NAME ON OPEN FRUIT PACKAGES

OTTAWA.— The Department of Agriculture has issued a circular drawing attention to the regulations under the Inspection and Sales Act governing the marketing of fruit in open packages.

Open fruit packages may not be sold unless they bear the name and address of the original packer, or a number or mark indicating this which has been registered and approved by the Department of Agriculture. Where packages are labelled with the name of a retailer for whom they are packed, a registered mark must still be shown indicating the original packer.

The circular states that this regulation will be rigidly enforced this season.

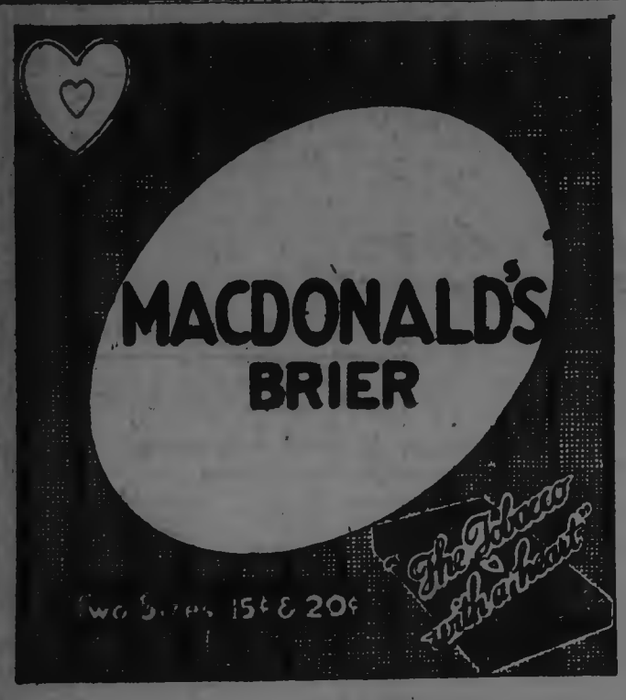
A NEW USE FOR AEROPLANES

The Royal North-West Mounted Police, recently organized as the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, are to bring the aeroplane into practical use in the North-West. In thinly-settled districts the aeroplane will furnish patrols between distant posts and also be brought into operation in connection with long trips to the Arctic. Voyage hitherto made by horse, dog sled or snow shoe, which occupied from four months to a year, will now be cut down to days and weeks, thus bringing outlying points into close touch and allowing of greater frequency and service.



DAYLIGHT SAVING PETITIONS REACH THE CITY COUNCIL

DISCUSSION DEFERRED TO COMMITTEE MEETING—LABOURERS' UNION SUBMIT NEW SCALE OF WAGES—COMPLAINTS FROM CITIZENS BULK LARGE IN THE COMMUNICATIONS FILE.

R. C. BRAUND'S APPEAL

Letters requesting the Council to adopt daylight savings during the summer months were received last night from F. McKinley, secretary of the Peterboro Football League, the Peterboro branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Board of Trade.

The Manufacturers stated that the factory employees had voted by a large majority in favour of a daylight savings to extend from May 1st until September 1st. This question will be dealt with by the Committee of the whole.

Blasting Damages House

E. E. Graham, 580 Bonaccord street, wrote that the walls of his house had been cracked and other dam age done by the blasting last December in the city's excavation of the sewer extension to the Bonner-Worth factory. His petition for compensation was referred to the Legal committee.

Labourers Seek Increase

J. C. Neill and H. Riley, secretary and president respectively of the Labourers' Union wrote presenting a new scale of wages to take effect on May 1st for street cleaners 50c an hour, general labourers 55 cents, sewers and concrete workers 60 cents. They request the council to recognize the Union and employ union men. Referred to the Board of Works. The minimum Union wage last year was 45 cents an hour.

Ditch Depreciates Property

R. C. Braund begged the Council to fill the ditch on the west side of Park street, south of Chamberlain street and opposite the Baptist church. It was now an unsightly repository of tin cans, ashes, bottles and other refuse which seriously depreciated the rental values of the houses on that part of the streeet.

In five of these houses Mr. Braund has a total equity of $4,000. The loss in rent due to the offending ditch in front he estimated at from $3 to $5 a month, and an aggregate of $1,000. Since the houses were built he had not received one cent of income, he wrote. Referred to the Board of Works.

Need Storm Drain.

James Long and other residents of Reid, London and Dublin streets petitioned for a storm sewer on Reid street from London to Dublin streets Referred to Board of Works.

W. J. Robson and others asked for a sidewalk on the both sides of Dublin street from Gilchrist to Park street.

Asks for $81 Damages.

The freshet in the west end on March 13th flooded the ground floor rooms of William Brady's house at 513 Reid street, and he is still inconvenienced by the water that remains in his cellar. His bill of damages to the amount of $81 was referred to the Legal committee.

Material for the Bridge.

A statement from Mr. Frank Barber of the material required to complete the Hunter street bridge comprised a total of $25,810. The cement estimate is $21,100 and timber $7,000. Other items make a total of $30,810 from which $10,000 salvage is deducted leaving $20,810 which with a $5,000 account brings the total to $25,810.

Complain of Nuisance.

D. J. Lundy, W. H. Taylor, A. Stevenson, R. G. Kingan and other residents signed a petition urging the Council to remove the nuisance on Aylmer street between Dalhousie and Sherbrooke streets, where a wood yard has replaced E. H. Mann's saw mill. The property is now occupied by a wood cutting outfit, which, these citizens complain, is scarcely less annoying than the saw mill of last year.

Another Damage Suit?

James Fairley, 480 Bolivar street, asked the Council when they intended to put a grate in the crossing at the corner of Bolivar and William streets This Spring it had dammed up the water and flooded his cellar for which he expected to present a claim for damages later. Referred to the Board of Works.

A Cinder Walk.

Ald. Morrison asked whether the sidewalk on the south side of Chamberlain street between the C.P.R. and Park street could be improved. The board walk there he said was in a dangerous condition.

City Engineer Parsons replied that when it was proposed to lay a concrete walk there its line would have been out on the ditch and would destroy the drainage. The Board of Works will substitute a cinder path for the old board walk.

Need of a Building Bylaw.

Ald. Gainey referred to the location of an oil company on Hunter street between Mark and Roger street on the main thoroughfare of Ashburnham. It would have a deteriorating effect on the property in that section, but apparently there was no redress for the residents.

He suggested that a building bylaw be prepared to prevent intrusions of that kind into residential districts

City Engineer Parsons—"I spent three years on a building bylaw and it was thrown out by the Council. I am willing to work but I don't want to see it thrown out when I spend a great deal of time on it.

Ald. Gainey—"That was too bad."

Ald. Whitehouse said he understood that Fire Chief Grange was preparing a report to cover such cases as that of the oil company.

Ald. Gainey moved seconded by Ald. Copping that the Fire, Water and Light committee prepare a bylaw governing all such cases in the future.

City Treasurer Adams' statement of receipts and expenditures for the first quarter shows an overdraft of $401,849.57.

Mr. F. J. A. Hall reported that he had completed the audit of all the city's spending departments to the number of fifteen, and found the many books correct.

Ald. Turner moved seconded by Ald. Hamilton that 200 copies of the report be published.

"Do we need 200", Ald. Gordon asked. "Wouldn't 100 be enough?"

City Clerk Armstrong said that there was seldom any of these reports left over. Citizens asked for them for reference purposes.

PIMPLES ITCHED AND BURNED

Face Was Badly Disfigured. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

"Small red pimples and blackheads began on my face and my face was badly disfigured. Some of the pimples festered while others ended over and there was pimples where the pimples were in blotches. They used to itch and burn terribly. I saw an advertisement for Cuticura and I tried them. They stopped the itching and burning and I used four cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment which healed me." (Signed) Miss V. A. Hayes, Stanstead, P. Q., Dec. 26, '19.

If wages are to stay up in Canada there must be money to pay them.

Every time you buy an "imported" product in place of one made in Canada you are helping to build up "outside" industries and provide work and wages for "outside" labor.

The way to protect your job is to buy Canadian-made goods.

Be sure, too, that the machines or goods you buy are actually made in Canada.

Look for the C.C.M. trade mark.

It is the sure guide to a true made-in-Canada bicycle.

The frames, forks, axles, cranks and sprockets of C.C.M. Bicycles are made in Canada.

Also the handle bars, seat posts and front hubs.

And that is not all—

The pedals, chains, mudguards and grips are made in Canada.

The wood rims, spokes, nipples, cups and cones are made in Canada.

Yes, and the Hercules Coaster Brakes, frame pumps, and tires are made in Canada, too.

Only the saddles and the steel balls are imported. No one in Canada makes these lines as yet.

If the C.C.M. Company imported their parts and merely assembled C.C.M. Bicycles a much smaller plant would be required. Only about one-twentieth of the number of workmen would be employed.

By buying real "Made-in-Canada" Bicycles—C.C.M. Bicycles—you provide more employment for Canadians. You keep Canadian dollars working at home where they are worth one hundred cents.

And you get a better bicycle for your money—a bicycle with the new Hercules Positive Drive Brake—the Coaster Brake without a side arm.

ADVERTISING THE CANAL.

In deciding to co-operate with Barrie, Orillia and Midland in advertising the advantages of the Trent Canal from a scenic standpoint, the city council have inaugurated a policy that might be further developed. The four municipalities are uniting in a campaign in three well known motor boat journals calling attention to the remarkable beauty of the Trent Canal system. Undoubtedly the owners of cruising motor boats will respond in large numbers to such advertising for the completion of the canal opens a new and magnificent route for such craft. While the northern end of the canal is not yet finished it is now possible to make the journey from the Bay of Quinte to Georgian Bay, marine railways carrying the boats around the points at which work is still going on. There are few routes that offer so many inducements to motor boat enthusiasts as the Trent waterway, and the partnership of Orillia, Barrie, Midland and Peterborough in embarking upon the present campaign, might be developed into a closer association for the purposes of taking further steps to let the outside world know just what the canal has to offer.

THE MOTOR SHOW.

Peterborough's big motor show next week has every appearance of being a record-breaker in point of exhibits, amusement features and attendance. The latter fact is particularly gratifying, for the proceeds are to be devoted to that most excellent organization, the Peterborough Health Association, which merits a rousing attendance. The work of the Association has been such as to earn the gratitude of the many citizens who have been directly benefitted, while every resident has reason to appreciate the efforts of the Association in helping those who are in need of assistance. The report of the District Nurse, published a short time ago, contained some illuminating figures as to the scope of the work carried on in Peterborough, and furnished ample reasons why the people should get behind the movement and help in every way possible. The motor show next week affords an excellent chance to help and this fact, added to the merit of the exhibition itself, should be sufficient to secure a total attendance well in advance of the figures of other years.

EQUALITY OF PENSIONS.

Equalization of soldiers' pensions, putting the officers and others ranks on the same footing in regard to disability allowances was approved of by the delegates at the Independent Labour Party convention. The majority of returned soldiers, including—to their credit be it said—many of the officers who saw service are in favour of the same principle, and it is safe to wager that public opinion throughout the country takes a similar channel. Yet in spite of these facts there has been very little said in the House of Commons on this question and not the slightest sign of any intention on the part of the government to make a change in the pension regulations to cover this point. In a democratic army such as Canada's was supposed to have been, there was little justification for making distinctions in the matter of pensions. While in the service it was necessary to pay the different ranks in accordance to their positions, but now that officers and men are no longer soldiers but civilians, the need for distinction along this line vanishes. There is no legitimate reason for paying one man $600 a year and another man $2,800 when the disability sustained in each case was the same. The matter may come before the special committee at this session, and if it does there will be more than usual interest in the discussion that will ensue.

FOSTER AND FLYNN.

The wisdom of the action of the government in refusing to receive J. Harry Flynn, President of the United Veterans' League, as a member of the deputation heard yesterday in regard to the gratuity issue, is open to question. Undoubtedly Flynn's wild speeches supplied reason enough for Sir George Foster's decision to bar him as one of the spokesmen, but the course followed yesterday will give the United Veterans' leader a chance to pose as a martyr, and he can be counted upon to take full advantage of the opportunity. It would have robbed him of much of his ammunition if the government had forgotten his reckless talk and had allowed him to take part in the conference. As it is he has been provided with a brand new grievance and he will make the welkin ring on every possible occasion. Anything that he might have said during the interview would have been mild compared to the outbreak that may be expected from the United Veterans' president at his next public meeting. Flynn's tongue has wagged continuously, and while it has served to keep its owner in the limelight, it is doubtful if it has been of any real service to the cause of the returned men. The reply given by the government to the deputation does not allow much hope that the $2,000 for men who served in France, $1,500 for duty in England, and $1,000 for service in Canada, will be forthcoming. The Acting Premier pointed out that such a scheme would involve an expenditure of from $600,000,000 to $1,000,000,000, and regardless altogether of any other objections to the plan, there was no way in sight in which such a huge sum of money could be provided.

THE NEWSPAPER SITUATION

The assignment of the Toronto World, accentuates in a very marked manner the contentions of the Standard in regard to the serious situation which confronts the newspaper world, and particularly the smaller city dailies and weeklies of the country.

While the official statement says that the World's assignment has been made with a view to re-organiation, and for the present the daily and Sunday editions will continue to be published and carry out its obligations to its readers and advertisers, financial difficulties, rendered acute by the high cost of paper and wages and other conditions, are given as compelling the assignment. The World was originally started in 1879 as a four-page sheet, growing to eight pages and then to twelve and sometimes more. Its daily edition has not been a sinner to any great extent in the consumption of paper like many others published in the big cities. The World is the second Toronto paper within a period of six months to become involved in financial difficulty. The other paper, the Times, was entirely discontinued and its plant has been sold.

What is in store for the newspaper business in the next few months no publisher can foretell. Congressman A. J. Nelson of Wisconsin, has told the United States Congress that from 2,000 to 3,000 small newspapers face extinction, unless the newsprint supply is increased. There is no way by which this supply can be increased to any appreciable extent during this year, because all the mills are working practically up to their full capacity. It is natural that they should do so at a time when profits are greater than they have been at any time in the past.

The newsprint shortage is not caused by any decrease in the output of the mills, but by the larger consumption of newsprint in the United States and Canada, made necessary in a large decree by the enormous advertising lineage and by the foolish and insane policy of the big publishers in increasing the size of their editions and selling their products at half the cost of the white paper alone, and sometimes much less than that. It is not the smaller dailies or the weeklies that are consuming enormous quantities of paper; their circulationh are comparatively small and the size of their editions also. In very few cases are their circulations sold at less than the cost of the newsprint required.

Mr. Jason Rogers, publisher of the New York Globe, has returned to New York from a trip of investigation in Canada, and the following are a few paragraphs from an interview given to a representative of "Editor and Publisher":

"Unless those newspapers which are turning out one pound dailies and two and a half pound Sunday newspapers are brought to their senses, we will see spot paper at from 20 to 30 cents a pound by October, with practically no free tonnage obtainable at even those prices."

"In such a crisis as is upon us, the publication of a daily of over 24 pages or a Sunday of over 50 pages should be prohibited."

"I would be in favor of every newspaper arbitrarily cutting its circulation 10 per cent below 1919 experience, the adoption of fixed prices, 3 cents for dailies and 10 cents for Sunday papers, and a limit in size to 24 pages for dailies and 50 pages for Sunday newspapers, as the way to solve the problem."

"Broad public interest is not concerned that fifty or sixty big city newspapers shall be permitted to go on with the wild profiteering with 32 to 44 pages dailies and Sunday newspapers which weigh from two to three pounds the copy."—St. Catharines Standard.

MR. LOUIS JOFFE GAVE ADDRESS TO YOUNG PEOPLE

On Monday evening Mr. Louis Joffe, the Bible Society colporteur, at present in the city, addresse the Murray street B.Y.P.U. on "Russian Superstition and Folk Songs."

He commented upon Canada's "unlucky Friday" and pointed out that in Russia Monday was the unlucky day (hence possibly the poor attendance of the Union.)

He pointed out the Russian's use for bald-headed men. When a thunder storm commences, the Russian, to escape being struck by lightning, calls upon the names of all his bald-headed friends.

Speaking of Russian goblins he said that while Canada did not believe in goblins, he had met with some incarnations of them.

"House Devil."

One of the commonest of the Russian goblins is the "house devil," who can only be captured at midnight. But as Russian clocks are invariably wrong, he has never yet been caught.

Mr. Joffe remarked that due to the Russian' love for vodka, perhaps it was some other kind of spirits which caused much of the trouble.

Mr. Joffe spoke of Russian proverbs. One which seemed especially good was, "Marriage is like a besieged city. Those inside want to get out. Those outside want to get in." Another is: "A good horse and a good wife. There isn't mney enough to buy either of them."

Mr. Joffe showed us the difference between the French revolution and the Russian revolution by the difference of the songs arising from each—La Marsellaise is a song of freedom, while the Bolshevik anthem speaks of a "fist and a cudgel raised against God and the Czar."

He sang in Russian and translated a song, "The Waif of a Bachelor," which tells first of the domestic joys of the married neighbor and then tells why the mailer found himself in his own predicament. He had been debating between two comely maidens, one could plough and sow, the other could cook and sing, when along came two other fellows and cut him out with both.

He also gave us a very amusing translation of a peasant's song, which we might call "Nobody works but Father."

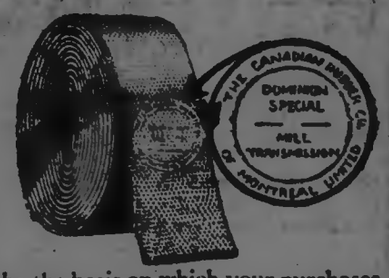
Mr. Joffe then invited questions on any subject, "politics, religion or anything."

He said that he had no hope for Russia for at least a quarter of a century, because the Bodsheviks have in sheer wantonness thrown down that which they cannot rebuild. They imagined that by merely putting on the shoes of statesmen they could follow their footsteps. He spoke of Kerensky as an educated dreamer, a man who thought he could introduce democracy overnight. Mr. Joffe represented the Russian private as saying, "who is this bird Kerensky and who is this still funnier bird democracy."

As a direct contrast he spoke of Trotsky as the greatest man in the world to-day, a strong man whose strength is derived from the devil. He spoke of Russian class distinction as being even worse than India's caste system and advised the reading of Tolstoy's "Resurrection."

The oppression was not only of the nobles and wealthy, but also by the church, hence the present animosity toward God, but Mr. Joffe say that Russia will present a wondrous field for missionary effort.

Mr. Joffe speaks authoritatively on the subject of the downfall of Russia, being a Russian himself, and has written a book on the subject



"Plus Service" Transmission Belting

Service, not price, should be the basis on which your purchases of transmission belting are made. The highest-priced belt is built to give maximum service and, in the final analysis, is the most economical. Low-priced belting is the most expensive, for it cannot be expected to wear for any length of time, and usually doubles its first cost in expensive repairs, power waste, idle machines and lost production.

Leaving price out of the question, no belt will prove economical unless it is the right size and construction to efficiently carry a given power load.

The possibilities of waste in buying and placing belts is so great that no one but a belting expert should ever be permitted to select a belt for even the most unimportant purpose. It isn't necessary that you maintain a belting expert. We have established a special service department in charge of belting engineers who will, without cost, gladly take the responsibility of making your transmission belting give Plus Service by keeping its cost at the minimum. They will specify

THE HUNTING.

When red sun fox steals down the sky,
And darkness dims the heavens high,
There leap again upon his tracks
The eager, starry, hunting packs.
They glitter, glitter, gold and green,
With sparks of frosty fire between,
And Dian bright as day;;
While in the gloaming, far below,
Brown owl does shout, "Hi! Tally Ho!
Sun fox hath gone away!"

To music of the spheres they sweep
Over the western world asleep;
Then in the east, with sudden rush,
Sun fox shall whisk his white-tipped brush
The field is fading, gold and green,
With sparks of frosty fire between,
And Dian growing grey;
While morning leaps the hither hill
And herald lark shouts with a will,
"Sun fox hath gone away!"

Oh, Huntress fond and silly stars—
White Venus, fiery, futile Mars,
In vain your pack ye whirl and cast
Upon the marches of the vast;
In vain ye glitter, gold and green,
With sparks of frosty fire between,
And Dian's arrows fly
In flickering shafts of moony light;
For ne'er shall day be caught by night,
And the sun fox cannot die.

SANDRA EMULATES LEOLA

CHAPTER LXXXIX.

Everett had been called to the telephone almost before he had closed the door. Hetty had answered the call, and had said:

"A lady wishes to speak to you, sir." I stood at the head of the stairs, ready to rush down and welcome Everett, when she spoke. He had not seen me, so I drew back into shadow and waited.

"Yes — really, I feel flattered. Yes— in half or three quarters of an hour. Very well, I promise."

As he hung up the receiver, I called:

"Is that you, Everett?"

"Yes."

"You will have to hurry—you are late to-night."

He had come up the stairs as I spoke.

"I am going out, so run down and eat your dinner."

"Out to dinner?" I could not keep the disappointment from my voice, although I held up my face for a kiss as usual.

"Yes."

"Where are you going, Everett? I have been blue all day. I had so hoped we might have a nice evening!" To my surprise, he answered my question instead of either ignoring or evading it as was his custom.

"I am going to Mrs. Burton's. She wants a fourth for bridge, and asked me to oblige her."

"She—didn't ask—me?"

"No," impatiently. "Didn't I tell you she only wanted me to make a fourth at bridge!"

"But I could look on. It would be better than sitting alone." He paid no attention to my remark, but hurried with his dressing. Hetty just then announced dinner, and he told me—no, ordered me—to go down at once.

"And do not sit up for me. I shall be very late most likely. Irma's bridge parties are usually long drawn-out affairs."

"I don't want any dinner, Everett, if I have to eat alone. Let me stay with you until you are dressed. Later if I am hungry, I will have Hetty bring me something on a tray."

"Go down to your dinner at once! I am surprised that you should act so foolishly."

Forcing back my tears, I left him. I was so hurt that I did not call to him when he went out, or run to kiss him as usual. He just put his head in the dining room door long enough to say:

"Good night," and to repeat his caution about retiring.

"Why should he be with another woman while I am alone!" I said to myself, as I chocked back a sob. "It isn't fair. And Leola wouldn't sit meekly here alone while he was having a good time. I won't either —I'll do something!"

I thought of the letters, but someway I just couldn't read any more love talk of Leola's. But Everett had said he would be late. I would go up into the attic after Hetty and Mrs. Gray were in bed, and bring the rest of the letters down to my room and hide them, then return the keys to the place which I had taken them.

I wandered into the music room and played a little. Then the telephone rang. To my surprise and embarrassment, it was Walter Kemp.

"Are you and Mr. Graham spending the evening at home, and if so, may I join you?" he asked.

"Mr. Graham is out and I —have a headache. Please excuse me to-night."

"I am so sorry. Is there something I can do for you?"

"No, thank you, I shall go to bed and sleep it off. Good night."

"Good night—but I shall call and ask to come some other time."

A little while after I had hung up the receiver, Hetty brought me a lovely box of roses. I wished they had been some other flower —roses made me think of Leola.

What should I tell Everett? Would he be angry because Mr. Kemp had sent them? Suddenly I knew! I would do just as Leola had done—I would hold the roses close in my arms until they wilted. That Leola held them so because they were from the man she loved, and I for no reason save that she done so, never struck me as ridiculous — at the time.

To-morrow—The Accident.

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes: "From a child I was always very badly constipated and I can well remember when quite young my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OSHAWA HOTEL CHANGES HANDS

The Oshawa House, situated on the corner of King and Church streets, Oshawa, has again been sold. Mr. Robert D. Preston, who is associated with a syndicate of Renfrew men, is the purchaser. The former owner, Mr. A. L. Spence, of Saskatoon, purchased the building last December from F. J. Bailes for $15,000, but on account of having other interests in Saskatoon Mr. Spence was unable to devote his time to it. The price paid by the new owners is said to be about $18,000. It is intended to remodel it into a business block with living apartments on the upper floor.

A NEW PRINCIPAL FOR KNOX COLLEGE

ONTARIO OUTBIDS THE MANITOBA GOVERNMENT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., April 6.—The report that J. B. Reynolds, principal of the Manitoba Agricultural College, has been offered a salary of $6,600 annually to become principal of the Guelph College, and the intimation that he would accept was given out this morning at the capitol. "Manitoba cannot hope to equal that salary so there is no chance of our keeping him," said an official of the Agricultural Department. Reynolds' salary here is $4,500.

NEW YORK MESSENGER FLEES WITH $118,000 IN BONDS.

NEW YORK, March 31.—A messenger here disappeared with $118,000 worth of bonds from Harriman and Company, of 111 Broadway.

A police alarm for the missing youth was sent out to-night.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back Its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it ad draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Being a big sister is the worst job on earth, and ought to receive plenty of celestial glory in the beyond. Surely there is no chance for a halo of individuality in this life. Big sister must be the newest and most approved model for little brother and sister, no matter what her inclinations in the matter may be. She must always echo the parental admonition, and in so doing she resembles the old fashioned hall tree on which the small tyrant can hang his useless requests. She apparently does errands for the pure joy of it and she must always stay home from everything worth dwhile because she has to take care of the children while mother and father go.. It is a killing life. The big sisters in the world should be more appreciated.

There is something very big about the man who can laugh in the face of trouble, even tho he is small of stature. It means a fighting chance for him. His laughter at such a time doesn't signify that the worry is like so much water rolling off a duck's back. Not at all. It means that he is keeping a stiff upper lip until he can see his net move clearly. If you have ever noticed the people who make a big fuss and hurrah in the face of trouble, or disappointment, you will remember that they rarely ever do anything about the matter but fuss.

It is not necessary that the lights in your house should be hideous or blinding to fulfill their purpose of giving light. Isn't it an uncomfortable feeling to stand dazed beneath a hall light that strikes you with the glare of a street lamp, after just coming in out of dark? And it makes you feel just out of place, as tho you had come to the wrong function, to sit down in the living room which is illuminated by a crystal decoration similar to a banquet hall. It is actually injurious to the eyes to be subjected to a strong, unshaded light for long at a time. This often happens in a dining room with a light hanging low over the table and improperly shaded. Such an annoyance makes any guest cross, irritable, and headachy to say nothing of the family itself. Every housekeeper ought to realize the value of a restful system of lighting, and she should know, too, that the lighting of a room is the keynote of its furnishings, and their effectiveness.

Doing without a thing is only an idea until the deed is actually done altho many people treat its mere discussion as the actual deed. This is particularly true of economy. The only way to economize is to cut out something you really want in spite of its unusualness, importance or otherwise. No one ever begins actual economy on the thing that doesn't matter anyway, but it's surprising to see how little the small thing does matter after you've once begun.

Individuality in a person is the thing that distinguishes, and is often mistaken for other more inaccessible charms. The quality is a good deal like a spark that ignites other inflammable materials. It makes one personally different from another. Some handsome women go unnoticed; many pretty ones are never noticed but once. Many so-called beautiful women are really quite plain, but they have a style, a distinction of appearance, and a charm of manner, that attracts mightily. Their whole impression is of something very pleasing and lovely.

Carelessness in things is bad enough, but carelessness of things is worse. Youth is very careless of life. That is because the young do not know its dearness as do those who have lived. Carelessness of others lies at the bottom of conceit and selfishness. It leads to a disregard of others' property and to loose moral views on the people themselves. In turn you become careless of your own character, deeming it wholly satisfactory to yourself as it is. However, what others think of your conduct always has and always will matter. An indifferent attitude forces upon you the self depreciation of others. It also takes from you the incentive toward right conduct. Nothing precious should be held in careless esteem, or it will lose its lustre just as a piece of silver, lying useless.

The dread of doing anything disagreeable is doubly augmented by putting it off. The thing which is merely unpleasant at first becomes positively distasteful upon second thot. Each that removes you once more from the possibility of accomplishment. It becomes difficult to force the self into doing even a little thing. Some people will sleep too cold all night rather than get up and add more covering. Yet they will waken again and again, thinking about getting up, until the whole night's rest is broken. The better part of the next day will be spent in thinking of last night's misery, and so will afford an excuse omitting immediate unpleasant duties. Thus it goes, one thing leading to another, until you are completely weighed down by responsibility and hopelessly behind in everything.

FAVOURS SEPARATE SCHOOLS

Sexes Should be Divided Accordnig to Dr. Rose.

REGINA, Sask., April 3.—That there should be separate schools for the sexes among high school students is the opinion expressed by Dr. John A. Rose after careful studyof this subject. Dr. Rose has recently returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast and western American cities. He has been making an investigation of the school problem in Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and other western points.

HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY

Gillett's Lye has long been regarded as a household necessity because of the fact that it is useful in so many ways, and so satisfactory in every respect that no woman feels that she can keep house without it. Makes the finest kind of soap for washing and cleansing. One can of Gillett's Lye will make ten pounds of good soap in twenty minutes. Many of its uses are shown in booklet under the label.

Was All Run-Down

When you say you are "run-down," you are likening yourself to a clock which, from lack of winding, is losing power and grows weaker and weaker in action until it stops. The nervous system is the power plant of the human body. Once the blood gets thin and the nerves do not obtain proper nourishment, you find the machinery of the body running down. The digestive system fails, the vital organs weaken in their functions, and you suffer from weakness, headaches, sleeplessness and pain.

Petrolia

Mrs. John Smith, Box 238, Petrolia, Ont., writes:

"It is 27 years since I first made use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. At that time I was all run down and went away from home to rest. While away Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was recommended to me, so in an effort to recover, I tried it. I took six boxes, and in a few weeks I was completely well again. Since then I have had occasion to use Dr Chase's Nerve Food several times. Once after an operation I used this treatment as a tonic for extreme weakness, and it quickly restored me to health. I used it again when suffering from nervous prostration, and it brought back my health and strength. I have recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to a great many people, who have taken it with good results, and I would advise anyone suffering from run down system or nervousness of any description to give this treatment a faithful trial.

"I might say also that we have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Liver Medicine in our household with splendid results, while we always keep his Ointment on hand as a never-failing remedy."

Meaford

Mrs. Chas. Lyons, Margaret St., Meaford, Ont. writes:—

"About three years ago I suffered from nervous indigestion, my system became run down, and I could not sleep. I tried almost every patent medicine I knew of, and doctored with doctors both here and in Toronto, but could not obtain relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so my husband got me some, and I commenced using them. Before I had finished the second box, I saw I was getting better, so I continued the treatment until I was cured. I can eat and sleep well now, and have not been bothered with the old symptoms since. I can cheerfully recommend the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to all suffering from nervousness of any kind."

Perth

Mr. W. J. Wilson, Grocer, Perth, Ont. writes:—

"In fitting up this building for a grocery business, I worked very hard, and after putting in my stock I continued plugging away good and hard too. I commenced to feel myself going down—my weight went from 180 pounds down to 154 pounds. My appetite began to fail, and of course upon retiring I could not get a good night's rest. Sometimes after going to sleep, my nerves would twitch and I would waken up with a start, and then lie awake for hours. I remembered having used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food before, so I started in again, and took a good treatment, using about half a dozen boxes. I soon felt my appetite returning, I could sleep well, and commenced gaining in weight, until I felt like a new man. From the benefits I have received from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I cannot speak too highly of them."

Trenton

Mrs. Chas. Lafferty, King St., Trenton Ont. writes:—

"For some time I was troubled with nervousness, could not sleep well, and was in a generally run down condition. I used to take dizzy spells and sometimes was so bad that I was afraid to walk on the street. A friend of mine had been using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with such good results that I commenced using them, too. I think I used about five boxes in all, and can say that I am now in much better health, can eat and sleep fine, and do not feel that dizziness I used to. I am stronger and better in every way, and even my friends remark how much better I look. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me much good that I cannot so praise this wonderful medicine too highly."

But where there is life, there is hope. And if you go about it properly, you can restore the wasted nerves and bring back vigor to the human system. A little patience will be necessary, a little persistence in the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for nervous troubles are not overcome in a day. There will be days when you feel better and other discouraging days. But Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is bound to benefit you because it supplies in condensed and easily assimilated form the elements with which Nature builds up rich blood and vital nerve force.

STRIKE LEADERS TO APPEAR TO-DAY

DEFENSE MAY NOT SEEK A RESERVED CASE OWING TO EXPENSE.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., April 6.— Six Winnipeg strike leaders, convicted March 27th of seditious conspiracy and committing a common nuisance, will appear to-day before Justice Metcalfe for sentence. Whether the defence contemplates arguing for a reserved case they would not divulge before the opening of the court. When the men were convicted, R. A. Bonnar, K.C., chief defence counsel, announced he would prepare a motion for reserved case and present it to-day ,but since then the report has been current that the defence would not seek reserved case because of the expense involved, and because of almost certainty of failure, in view of the fact that the argument would be practically identical with that in R. B. Russell's appeal, which failed, and that it would be presented on same points of law before the same court. The maximum penalty that can be inflicted under the old seditious conspiracy law, under which the strike leaders were tried, is two years' imprisonment for each of seven counts, on which five of the six defendants were found guilty. In the Russell case Justice Metcalfe sentenced him to two years on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

WOMEN WHO NEED STRENGTH

Should Take Advantage of Their Druggist's Guarantee

That Vinol Will Enrich the Blood, Create Strength, Restore Vitality and the Bloom of Health, or Will Return Your Money

Why will women continue to drag around sickly, ailing, tired all the time, nervous, and no energy or ambition to do anything, when we guarantee our non-secret cod liver and iron tonic, VINOL, to make rich, red blood, quicken the circulation and restore strength, vitality and energy to every organ and muscle of the body and impart the bloom of health to the countenance.

If women would just stop and consider that their weakened, sickly, ailing condition is almost always caused by poor, thin, watery blood and sluggish circulation, and how quickly VINOL enriches the blood, increases red corpuscles and restores old time vim, energy and vitality, we would not be able to get enough to supply the demand.

Druggists know what VINOL contains, and that it is a combination of the most successful tonics known to medicine, Iron, Cod Liver and Beef Peptones and Glycerophosphates. That is why they are so willing to guarantee it to help you or return your money.

W.O.W. CONVENTION HERE ON JUNE 3RD

BETWEEN 300 AND 400 WOODMEN COMING FOR THREE DAYS.

Between 300 and 400 members of the Woodmen of the World will foregather in Peterboro on June 3rd for a three-day convention. They represent the head camp of the society and will be one of the most important conventions that have come to this city. A. A. Haskill of Sherwood Forest camp in a letter to the Council last night requested that a grant of $200 be made to help advertise the event. His communication was referred to the Finance Committee.

New York Methodist Episcopal Conference Recommends Increases.

NEW YORK, April 5.—A minimum wage of $2,000 yearly for married preachers, and $1,500 yearly for those without families, was recommended here in a resolution adopted by the New York East conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, meeting in Brooklyn. Present salaries range around $1,200 a year, it was said.

The Loveliest Curly Hair---So Easy to Have!

Such pretty waves and curls, having all the appearance of "Nature's own" —yes, you can have them, easily, quickly, if you will just apply plain liquid silmerine before doing up your hair. The hair will have such a lively lustre and wholesome beauty. And it will be fine and fluffy when combed out.

If you will get a bottle of liquid silmerine at any drug store and follow the accompanying directions, you will be simply delighted with the result—which will be in evidence within three hours, and which will last a long time. The hair will be quite manageabe, no matter in what fashion it is worn. The liquid, which is perfectly harmless, will be appreciated also as a splendid dressing for the hair.

SIMPSON HOUSE DINING ROOM NOW CLOSED

LINDSAY, April 6.—On Saturday last the Hotel Simpson closed its dining room, which will remain closed until further notice.

It is rumored that in a short time the rooms will also be closed to the travelling pubic, although nothing definite has been heard as yet.

WILL ADVERTISE TRENT DISTRICT

FOUR TOWNS CONTRIBUTE $550 TO SPEND IN MOTORBOAT MAGAZINES.

A fund of $550 to be used in advertising the Trent and Kawartha water ways in the May and June issues of three prominent magazines devoted to motor boating has been subscribed as follows: Barrie $100. Orillia $150, Midland $150 and Peterboro $150.

Peterboro's contribution was passed at last night's meeting of the Council. The advertisements will be prepared by the Peterboro Board of Trade, and from the publicity which will be thus given the Trent highway it is expected that substantial returns will accrue to the district and especially to the towns that have united in this community effort.

EVEN CHINA GETS HABIT.

Canadian Can't Rent House Less Than $165 a Month.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, April 5.—The Canadian Government trade commissioner at Shanghai, China, writes that there may be opportunities in China for the sale of Canadian wooden houses. He says that the cost of land and the rents of the houses are probably not exceeded by any other city in the world. A Canadian business man living in Shanghai with his family cannot rent a house in a desirable neighborhood at less than a hundred taels a month, about $165. In addition to this, taxes are about 14 per cent of the rental and are paid by the tenant.

Encouraging Pasteurization

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at a recent meeting of the Toronto Produce Exchange:

"Whereas the quantity of creamery butter produced in Canada has vastly increased during recent years, and interprovincial and export shipping of this produce has become a common occurrence, and produce merchants who handle a large quantities of this butter, both for local and export markets, find a strong preference now being given in the best markets for butter effectively PASTEURIZED and properly graded;

"And whereas practically all the leading dairy organizations in Canada are now striving to promote uniform standards of dairy products throughout Canada, and recognize PASTEURIZATION and grading of creamery butter as essential features in improvement of quality and accomplishing the purposes aimed at;

"And whereas about thirty-five per cent. of all the creamery butter made in Canada is produced in the Province of Ontario, of which a very small proportion is PASTEURIZED or graded, and a considerable proportion of which is found to be of lower grade quality compared with the butter from the other Canadian Provinces, and any system that will lead to the improvement of Ontario creamery butter will be a benefit to the industry of all Canada;

"Therefore, we, the wholesale produce merchants and brokers of Ontario, and members of the Canadian Produce Association, do pledge our support in bringing about the grading of all creamery butter made in Ontario * * * properly PASTEURIZED, and packed in 56 lb. solids, after May 15, 1920, with a certificate of grade and PASTEURIZATION furnished covering each churning.

"PASTEURIZATION shall be in accordance with standards to set for the season (170 degrees Fahrenheit, for ten minutes recommended.)

By the same token, the virtue—the sanitary benefits—of Pasteurization in the case of Butter, applies equally as forceful in the case of Milk and Ice Cream.

See to it, therefore, that you use the Pasteurized Milk, Butter and Ice Cream from the

THE G.W.V.A. EASTER DANCE

The G.W.V.A. Easter Monday dance was an outstanding success. Manley's seven-piece orchestra provided the music. The dance music was augmented at times with the fine voice of Harold Swain, the saxophonist. Dancing commenced shortly after nine and shortly before 3 the orchestra swung into their 22nd number, home waltz.

Found Relief When Doctors Had Failed

MANITOBA WOMAN PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mrs. Murmylo Says to All Who Suffer From Bladder Trouble: "Try a Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Brokenhead, Man. April 5th., (Special.)—Strong in her praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mrs. Mary Murmylo, a well known and esteemed resident of this place. And Mrs. Murmylo gives her reasons.

"Two years ago I suffered from bladder trouble," she says. "I tried all kinds of medicines and two doctors in Winnipeg. All the doctors and medicines failed to help me.

"I turned to Dodd's Kidney Pills and used eight boxes of them and found them satisfactory. I give every praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills, and to any person suffering from bladder trouble say, 'Try a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills.' "

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. By putting them in condition to do their full work they relieve bladder troubles and send pure blood and good health coursing to all parts of the body.

Ask your neighbours if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not relieve kidney ills and those diseases that spring from sick kidneys.

Voice Of The People

MR. ELLIOTT APOLOGIZES TO MR. COPPING.

Dear Mr: Editor: I am sorry that the righteous indignation of Mr. Copping seems to have been aroused at my correction of his interpretation of what he heard at a meeting of local gentlemen, and Hon. Mr. Biggs, the Minister of Public Works and Highways.

New beginners in public life that are given to much talk, will display evidences of brainstorm unless well guarded. I will again correct Mr. Copping in his interpretation of what Mr. Biggs said of the Townships and County Roads, and my leaving the meeting before it was over. I was there from the start to the finish and was not honored with Mr. Biggs using my name or addressing me "practically" or pointedly, nor am I courting Mr. Biggs' favour, but I am most anxious for the friendly feeling of Mr Copping.

Mr. Biggs explained to the gentlemen of the deputation that the townships entering the highway system received no more Colonization grants, and all of the to nships that were in the system at that date are more or less affected. All of the older gentlemen in public life understood it and I trust that Mr. Copping will take this, the second, corection, in a friendly and grateful manner, for I can assure him that anything he may say or write will be appreciated by me For I believe that Mr. Copping is actuated by good intentions.

Our anticipations were elevated last winter when the thermometer stood 25 below zero, and the earth was wraped in two feet of snow, at the announcement before the civic elections, by Mr. Copping, of a huge automobile company that he had been successful in getting in touch with, locating here. The average citizen was enthused, and I sincerely trust that that enthusiasm will not be disappointed at such being a pipe dream of an amateur.

MR. COPPING, what is YOUR trouble?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I remain yours,

ED. M. ELLIOTT.

REV. ROBT. POGUE VISITS MILLBROOK

ADDRESSED A MEETING OF THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

At an open meeting of the Ministerial Association held yesterday in Millbrook Rev. Robert Pogue delivered a masterly address, the subject of which was: "Was Our Lord Mistaken Concerning the Time of His Second Advent." The paper was heard with intense interest by the Ministerial Association and the large representation from each of the different congregations in the town.

Mr. Pogue dealt with the position taken by critical writers of to-day who wish to eliminate the supernatural from the New Testament and to reduce our Lord to the level of a good teacher, but therefore who say in reference to His teachings upon the doctrine of the last things that he clearly entertained a hope in reference to his second advent which failed. One writer to whom special reference was made was Professor Shailer Matthews, who in his book upon the second advent, speaks frequently of the mistakes of the early Christians.

The speaker took the position that there is not a word in the New Testament, particularly in the Gospels, which rightly interpreted, justifies us in thinking that our Lord expected His immediate return to the world after His ascension. He then made a critical examination of the scriptures which seemed to imply an immediate return of Christ and sought to give a satisfactory explanation of them.

Vote of Thanks.

At the close of the address a number of those present expressed their appreciation of the address and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Rev. Mr. Pogue. Rev. Dr. Lee, president of the Millbrook Ministerial Association, occupied the chair.

ABOLISH MARRIAGE LICENSE PATRONAGE

ALD. CROWE WOULD ASK LEGISLATURE TO TRANSFER THEM TO CITY CLERK.

Marriage licenses will be issued by the City Clerk, instead of by merchants who participate in provincial patronage, if Ald. Crowe's motion, of which he gave notice last night, is adopted by the government. The present fee is five dollars, of which $3.20 goes to the government and $1.80 is retained by the issuer. This feature, however, is often secondary to the business that is brought to the jeweller, furniture dealer or other merchant handling the licenses, who are thereby introduced to incipient home builders in need of the very articles these merchants are anxious to sell. Last year 192 marriages would have netted the city $345.60, Ald. Crowe stated. This sum would have been useful to the city, but beyond that is the abolition of the patronage system to its last petty ramification, the chairman of the Legal committee desires.

During the 5 1-2 years of the war in France not a single automobile was sold to a private individual in that country.

DANSANT AT THE CONSERVATORY

One bright social event of Easter Monday was "the dansant" given in the Conservatory of Music Hall by the Syncopated Four, Messrs, George Logan, Hal Crane, Otto Gliddon and Paul Gliddon, which was attended by about fifty couples. The music was excellent and the floor in ideal condition. Some of those present were: Mrs. E. S. C. Huycke, Mr. and Mrs. Nagel and party, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hooper and party, Mrs. Carmichael and party, Miss Josephine Orr of Toronto, Miss Agnes Eastwood, Miss Jessie and Mr. Gordon Matthews, Mrs. Northedge Birks, Miss Phyllis Robertson, Miss Ruth Pearson of Orange, N.J., Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Lockhart of Toronto, Miss Nora Hatton Mr. Douglas Lawrie, Mr. Ken Crane, Mr Jack and Philip Davidson, Mr. Ketchum, Mr. Bill Eastwood, Mr. Harry Smith, Miss Dot Hill, Mr. Fred Rush, Mr. Alec Fortye, Miss Esme Aylmer, Mr. Beaufort Belcher, Miss Maida Connor, Miss Stephanie Davidson, Mr. Jack and Miss Margery Turner, Miss Clare Mason, Miss Gretchen Gladman, Miss Rosamond and Miss Audrey Huycke, Mr. Meredith Huycke, Mr. Jerry McClennan, Miss Margaret Mather, Miss Isabel Gurd, Miss Margaret Turner, Mr. C. BANDS AND MOVIES PROVIDE WORK FOR SALVATION ARMY

ADJUTANT BUNTIN STRESSES RELIGIOUS ASPECT OF HIS ORGANIZATION.

The Salvation Army band's advertisement of Peterborough during their six weeks' tour of England was mentioned to the Council last night by Mr. Fred Gandy who, with Adjutant Buntin, spoke for a deputation from the Salvation Army band urging consideration of their claims for assistance from the city, particularly if the appropriation for park music was divided.

Other points have already been published. To Ald. Crowe Adjutant Buntin said that when he was in Guelph the Salvation Army band had received $350 from the city, and he believed that in Chatham, Kiugston and other cities similar aid and recognition was given.

Ald. Crowe preferred to discuss this annually recurring problem from the standpoint of art. People had become accustomed through phonographs and theatre orchestras to good music, and because the music in the parks had deteriorated, the crowds had dwindled from thousands to hunreds. He referred to the contributions the citizens made to the Salvation Army band in their Christmas week serenades.

Adjutant Buntin—Don't you think that it's a sacrifice to make those calls?

Ald. Crowe—If you cut them out, why all right.

Adjutant Buntin rather warmly replied that the Salvation Army usually had to take care of many "cases" of young men and women who had been led astray by the allurements of the parks and theatres.

Parks Must Be Well Kept.

The Council ratified the Park's committee's acceptance of Joseph Grierson's tender of $885 for the care of the city's parks this year. Ald. Turner held up the report for a brief discussion in which he stated that the committee had rightly selected the lowest tender, but he felt that Mr. Grierson couud not properly attend to the parks for the sum he would receive.

"The grass in Victoria Park was not sufficiently watered last year," said Ald. Turner, "and the park was not in the condition in which it should have been kept."

Ald. Gainey—As far as I am concerned if I get complaints that Mr. Grierson is not doing his work satisfactory I won't vouch for his money.

Ald. Turner also proposed that the clause authorizing the City Engineer to prepare the city lot on Mark street for use as playgrounds be sent back to the committee in order that it might be definitely ascertained whether the Playgrounds Association could supply a supervisor. His motion failed to secure a seconder.

"We will get the money all right," Ald. Gainey assured him, "and I don't there will be any difficulty about a supervisor."

Sunday Night Services.

In the Council's calendar the appearance of Mr. G. W. Mulligan is a reminder that summer is just over the hill. With the deputation from the Gospel Hall he made his annual request for permission to use Central Park on Sunday nights for religious services, which was granted.

FROM MR. BURNHAM

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Ont., April 6.—Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P. for Peterborough, in an interview told the Canadian Press that he would give $25.00 to the first Methodist minister in good standing who would dare say that when God found Noah drunk he should have prohibited wine.

Methodists are becoming more tyrannical than Roman Catholicism ever was he stated. No wonder liberty is laughed at in Ontario, concluded Mr. Burnham.

The New Home Treatment for Ugly Hairy Growths

(Boudoir Secrets.)

Here is a simple, yet very effective method for removing hair and fuzz from the face, neck and arms: Cover the objectionable hairs with a paste made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. Leave this on for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. No pain or inconvenience attends this treatment, but results will be certain if you are sure to get real delatone.

INDIAN RIVER U.F.O. CLUB

The Indian River Club U. F. O. held a very largely attended meeting on the evening of 2nd April, when various items of business was transacted. One motion which was put on the books, and which is to be strictly enforced, was that the membership fee of $1.50 be deducted from all non-members making their first shipment.

A special meeting was also called, composed of delegates from the clubs of Indian River, Douro, Warsaw, South Dummer, and Westwood, for the purpose of appointing a shipping agent for the district represented by those clubs. The choice fell on Mr. John Garvey, of Indian River. The commission to be paid Mr. Garvey is as follows: On cattle over two years old, $1.00 per head; two years old, 75 cents per head; one year old, 50 cents per head; veal calves and sheep, 25 cents per head; hogs, 10 cents per cwt.; telephone charges and postage.

FUNERAL HELD ON SATURDAY

The funeral of Mrs. John Williams, 520 Sherbrooke Street, took place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 to Little Lake Cemetery. The service was conducted at the house at 2 o'clock by the Rev. F. E. Mallot, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Manning, a former pastor of Charlotte Street Methodist Church, of which the deceased was a faithful member.

Left to mourn her loss, besides her sorrowing husband and four daughters—Mrs. J. Menzies, Mrs. J. Henderson, Mrs. H. Gray, and Mrs. P. L. Brown, all of the city—are three sisters and two brothers, Mr. Frank Holland, Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. Herb. Holland, Belleville, Ont., Mrs. J. B. Cunnanon Alberta, Mrs. Herb. Allen and Mrs. Herb. Dicks of the city.

The pallbearers were Mr. J. Menzies, Mr. J. Henderson, Mr. Harold Gray, sons-in-law of the deceased, and Mr. Herb. Allen, Mr. Herb. Dicks and Mr. J. Kennett.

JOHN MURPHY COMING HERE

The Peterborough Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, will be addressed on Thursday evening next, by John Murphy, M.E.I.C., Electrical Engineer for the Department of Railways and Canals. Mr. Murphy's subject will be, "Ice, Frazil Ice and Anchor Ice," and will be illustrated with lantern slides and moving pictures.

As Mr. Murphy is the foremost expert in Canada on Ice Troubles a very interesting meeting can be assured, and any citizens who wish to attend will be welcome. The meeting will be held in the Board of Trade rooms at 8.15 p.m.

Mr. Murphy has many friends in the City who will be glad to renew their acquaintance with him.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

The name "Bayer" stamped on tablets positively identifies the only genuine Aspirin,—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years and now made in Canada.

Always buy an unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" which contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Joint Pains, and Pain generally.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

CENTRAL LEAGUE SCHEDULE FAR FROM SATISFACTORY

PETERBORO' THE BEST SATURDAY BALL TOWN IN THE LEAGUE, IS NOT GIVEN A SINGLE SATURDAY FIXTURE, WHILE OSHAWA GETS FOUR.

NO IDLE SPELL IN JULY

There will have to be some tall changes in the Central Ontario League schedule as drawn up by Secretary Nott of Oshawa, before it will be satisfactory to the Peterboro team. The Petes are given three home games in June but not one of them is scheduled for Saturday, Port Hope being called upon to play here on Wednesday, June 2, Oshawa on Wednesday June 9th and Cobourg on Wednesday, June 16th Belleville is here for Dominion Day which is all right but the only other home game that with Lindsay is scheduled for Wednesday, July 28th. Everybody knows that Peterboro is a Saturday ball town and yet not a single league game is scheduled for Saturday, a condition of affairs that Peterboro will certainly not stand for. Especially as Oshawa Mr. Nott's home town, is very necely provided with four Saturday fixtures.

Again Peterboro gets a bad bump on July 1st the Petes are according to Mr. Nott's proposed schedule idle for three long week's without a single game at home or abroad and then they are called upon to play three games in a week two of them on the road.

The Peterboro Club will most certainly demand a revision of the schedule which looks as if Oshawa had selected what dates they wanted and then the other games were stuck in any old place.

"BABE" RUTH MOST EARNEST WORKER IN YANKEES' CAMP

IS FIRST OUT AND LAST IN DOWN SOUTH—THAT'S WHY HE'S SUCCESSFUL.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.,—The reason for Babe Ruth's climb to the heights of baseball fame is apparent in his practise work. The famous player is the most indefatigable worker in the Yankee entourage. The same energy that Ruth applies to his baseball, the same determination to succeed, the unconquerable will to be a leader, diverted into other channels would make the average man a captain of industry or a leader in shaping destinies of a community.

The merest rookie striving for a berth does not begin to work so hard as Ruth The Babe is first on the field on the morning and last to leave at night. He is in action all the time and never has to be told what to do. First he plays in the high, low bunting game, then he takes his turn at the bat and then goes out into the outfield and shags flies. When he has caught enough fly balls he returns to the infield, pitching to the batters or working around in the infield. Then he dons a catching mit and warms up the pitchers. Babe figures it out that there is always somethin~ to be done and he wants to do most of it.

By way of finishing off a working day Babe runs a couple of laps around the ball yard—a good half mile—and it is no mere jog, either. Then he retires to the shower bath and a good, brisk rub-down. He has a royal good time doing the work, too, and while he is in uniform the smile never fades from his face.

Ruth is richly endowed by nature. He has just passed his twenty-sixth birthday and is in the full power of his youth. He is of heroic mould, standing six feet two inches in height and weighing about 215 pounds. His endurance is superhuman. So well equipped for the game he calls his own, Ruth combines his remarkable ability in several departments of the sport with a desire to lead that makes him the leader that he is .

Ruth is proud of his fame as a slugger. He loves to be pointed out to all as Babe Ruth, the greatest hitter in the world, and he is going to strive to perpetuate his fame in the annals of baseball history. He vows that he will hang up a new home run record next year, and with that short right field fence on the Polo grounds for him to shoot at, there is little reason to doubt that he will succeed.

"I don't know what I'm going to do this season," said Babe yesterday, "except that I'm going out to try to make the New York fans glad that I'm with the Yankees. I feel right at home with New York already, and I want to be a member of the first New York American league ball club to win the American league penant and then we'll cop the series.

"You can tell the public for me," he continued, "that I'm going to try to knock my own home run record into a cocked hat, but at the same time I'll be in there for the good of the team and let the record take care of itself. I owe that to the team, to the owners and to the fans who pay my salary."

Where do you think you'll play?" Ruth was asked.

"I'll play wherever Huggins thinks I should play," he replied. "If I work in the outfield I'd rather play center field, for it would give me a lot of room to work, and I would not be running into the right field wall and knocking myself out. But that is something that the manager will have to decide, and I will have little to say in the final reckoning. I am for the team, the owners and the fans," he concluded.

Which gives a very fair idea of just what sort of a chap Ruth is. Success has not affected him. He reminds one of a big St. Bernard dog, full of good nature and play until business calls him into action. The friendship ceases.

The Yankees believe that Ruth will smash the record with seventy-seven games to be played on the Polo grounds next summer. It's likely that the pitchers will pitch to him on the outside of the plate, but just the same, Babe will hit them. He will pull a ball around if it is outside and then too, he can hit to left field, but only in a pinch. He will not ruin his style as a hitter, depend upon that.

RANDOM SPORT

In contrast to former Michigan football teams, this year's Wolverine eleven was not able to get into the running.

Jimmy Wilde, the English flyweight champion, now in America, has engaged in 300 battles and has never been put to sleep.

Fred Fulton, the Minnesota heavyweight, is out of luck. His latest setback is the cancellation of his bout with Joe Jeannette at Paris.

Minor league baseball seems to have gone along very well since it was cut loose from the draft rule and other major league affiliations.

The West Point eleven seems to be the favourite in the Army-Navy football game. But the Middies may fool the wise ones when the two teams clash.

As Charley See started his baseball career as a pitcher, Manager Moran ,of the Cincinnati Reds, intends to use the $10,000 Rochester pastimer in the box next season.

It is rumored thta some of the champion Reds are likely to be nicked for a fine, as there is a rule prohibiting exhibition playing by members of the pennant winning outfits.

"Babe" Ruth, the home-run king, has been pastiming in the California Winter League, and incidentally exhibiting to the native sons some of the real thing in hitting.

During his long career as a star in the National Leag.e, Bob Bescher finished a season in the .300 set of hitters only once. In 1918 the speed merchant hit for .333.

Johnny Dundee was going at a terrific pace this fall until he went up against Mel Coogan. No matter how often the pair meet Mel seems always to have it on the "Scotch Wop."

Matt. Wells, the one-time light and welterweight champion of England, and who is well known to American fans by reason of his long sojourn on this side, has been making a good showing in the ring of late in England.

Although Pal Moore has been defeated by Jimmy Wilde, another battle between the Memphis scrapper and the English flyweight champion would undoubtedly be a great drawing card.

Pete Herman, the bantamweight champion, believes he can trim Johnny Kilbane and by so doing annex the featherweight tifle. Pete has challenged Johnny to do battle over any distance acceptable to the Cleveland boxer.

The annual consumption of sugar in Canada equals about 90 pounds for each man, woman and child in the coutry. About 20,000 tons of beet sugar are produced annually.

PITY THE POOR UMPIRE

One of the multitudinous new rules with which our national game is this season to be encumbered forbids a sportive base runner to make the tour of the bases in the reverse order "for the purpose of confusing the fielders or making a travesty of the game." Making a travesty of a game is indeed a grave offense, but the Rules Committee is in some danger of committing that crime itself. We are a restless and unsatisfied people. When ever we get a good game we at once set to work on changes in the rules, so that nobody will be able to understand it from one year to the next. Football has suffered from alterations in the specifications as numerous and unnecessary as those which were charged up against our aircraft designers; baseball has had better luck, but if it survives the new rules of this season it is indeed a sturdy institution.

We have it on the authority of a poet that the umpire is a most unhappy man; but long before this season is over he will look back to past years as the golden age. Some of the changes are well meant, but the burden of them all falls on the umpire. If a pitched ball hits the bat while the batter is trying to get out of the way, the ball is dead. Fair enough, but who decides in a doubtful case whether th ebatter is trying to dodge or not? The umpire. The catcher cannot move out of his natural position to aid the pitcher in giving an intentional pass. But who decides whether the catcher's movements are inspired by this nefarious purpose or by some innocent intention? The umpire. A thrown ball that hits a coacher is still in play, to the probable advantage of the side at bat, unless the coacher has deliberately interfered with it, when his side incurs considerable penalties. Who decides whether he tried to get out of the way? The umpire. If a player intentionally moistens, discolors or roughens the ball to assist the pitcher in what are conventionally termed "freak deliveries," he is put out of the game; if somebody other than the pitcher has done it and the real culprit cannot be discovered, the pitcher is put out. But a ball which has been played with for a litle while is sure to be more or less discolored or roughened Who passes upon the assertion, sure to be made by the captain of the side at bat, that this evil deed has been done "intentionally?" Why, the same all-wise all-powerful and universally hated umpire. Obviously so crushing a burden of responsibility should not be laid upon any ordinary individual, nor should a good citizen and kind husband and father be exposed to the embittered hostility which the umpire is sure to incur in the course of practically every play.

Suppose some person of superhuman, almost demoniacal, craft lives through the season, what shall we do with him? Well, there is a job for him, and he is badly needed. A man who can be a just and accurate umpire under this seasons' rules must possess a power of seeing into the human soul, of weighing motives and assessing percentages of purity, such as has never yet been displayed. When such a man is found, set him up as the censor of our literature; perhaps he can decide more successfully than some of our volunteer overseers of art whether a book tends to deprave and corupt the morals of the community.—New York Times.

TO-MORROW NIGHT AT THE ALLEN

The night show is one of the innovations of the present century that came in with jazz music and the seductive shimmy and now holds the fickle fancy of jaded New Yorkers. In Toronto the late show has just had its introduction with the presentation at Loew's of the Dempsey-Willard championship meeting at Toledo, which is the first screen production of the kind that has been permitted in Ontario during almost a decade past. It is being exhibited now on tour of the principal population centres or the province under a special sanction obtained by the Grand Army of Canada ,war tax also being remitted. The picture is pronounced by experts in photography ,as well as the sporting world ,to be the best ever filmed of any such epochal contest, the sun at Toledo on that memorable day having been especially strong and the picture in consequence sharp all the way through. It runs from one and a quarter to one and a half hour, inclusive of interesting scenes in the training quarters and of one or two stirring preliminary bouts, in the chief of which the contestants are Frankie Mason (just matched with Jimmy Wilde for world honors) and Carl Tremaine, who in their meeting at Toledo had (as the camera shows) appeared to considerably better advantage than the aspirant for the title. The big bout on this occasion is shown without a single cut-out ,and that terrific first round is agreed to be quite the most strenuously thrilling thing of the kind ever thrown on the silver screen.

Peterborough is to have its chance to see this great picture of the Toledo battle in one extra performance only at the Allan on the night of Wednesday next, April 7th, after the regular attraction house bill.

"PLEASE GET MARRIED"

Oliver Morosco's very latest New York comedy sensation is a important booking by the Grand Theatre, Thursday evening. "Please Get Married," has the unique distinction of being an hilarious bed room farce but thoroughly clean and wholesome a la "Twin Beds," "Baby Mine," and "Fair and Warmer." The play was originally produced by Mr. Morosco at the Fulton Theatre, New York, where it enjoyed a run of 39 weeks with a notable cast of players, headed by Ernest Truex and Edith Taliafiarro.

The story of the piece revolves around a young bridegroom and a just wedded bride who have frustrated the plans of the bridegroom's father, who strenuously opposed the match, by being married to a burglar masqeurding as a clergyman, and who they believed to be the genuine article. They become involved in all sorts of difficulties which furnish laughs in abundance to the audience during the three acts in which the story is told.

Last night in the Ten Pin League the Grocers took two out of the three from the High Rollers. Some good scores where put up by both teams For the High Rollers Solomon hit the maple for 659 in three games. Thompson also passed the 500 mark. For the Grocers Weber was high man with the big score of 623, Gillespie 580, Routley also passing the 500 mark.

TY COBB FAILS TO REPORT TO CAMP

NEW YORK, April 1.—Tyrus Raymond Cobb, Detroit's $20,000 star, did not report at the training camp at the appointed time. He sent word that he had to attend to other matters and was in no hurry to begin practice Cobb has been doing this old stunt for many years. He is the big card, and he knows that he can have his own way. Manager Jennings finds no fault with him because that would be a waste of words. Cobb always is in condition when he first puts on his uniform, and then plays the game for all he is worth.

DEMAND FOR MEN.

The request, "Please bring a man!" appearing on invitation cards addressed to young girls by the hostesses of private and subscription dances has roused parential anxiety in many dove-cotes in suburban London. Since the war, there has been a "heavy shortage" of desirable young men at these functions, and there is also the problem of "how to get the girls home?" The hostess finds a ready solution to her difficulties in that happy phrase, which has been in vogue for the past three years:" "Please bring a man!" The result of this form of invitation," writes the father of a family of girls, is that girl without brothers and their brothers' friends are either unable to accept invitations or have to ask a man—and I am led to believe in some cases any man they can get hold of —to go with them.

Miss Viola Roseboro, long known to a big majority of writers as magazine short story writer, has written a novel bearing the name of "Storms of Youth." It will be published this spring.

It Is Film
that causes men's teeth to discolor, and that holds tobacco stains.

It Is Film
that clouds women's teeth, spoils their glistening beauty and is the basis of tartar.

It Is Film
which is responsible for decay in children's teeth. It is the source of most tooth troubles.

The dealers named below have been supplied with 10-Day Tubes of Pepsodent. This week a tube will be handed free to anyone who asks. Simply present the coupon. The purpose is to urge a test of this film-removing tooth paste, which leading dentists nowadays advise. Prove the results for your own sake and your children's sake. Learn what they mean to your teeth.

See How Your Teeth Look When the Film is Gone

There is on your teeth a slimy film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to the teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary dentifrice does not dissolve it. So it clings and, night and day, it may do ceaseless damage.

The Tooth Wrecker

That film is the great tooth wrecker. Most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

The film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of many other troubles, local and internal.

That is why well-brushed teeth so often discolor and decay, why tartar forms and pyorrhea starts. You leave much of that film.

Tooth troubles are constantly increasing, as statistics show, despite the wide use of the tooth brush. And the reason lied in that film.

Now We Combat It

Dental science, after years of searching, has now found a way to combat film. Able authorities have proved it by convincing clinical and laboratory tests. Thousands of dentists have proved it, and at least a million people.

The results are seen everywhere in cleaner, whiter teeth. Some of your own friends have them.

For home use, this method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And this week you can test it at our cost.

Based on Pepsin

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth. But dental science has discovered a harmless activating method. And that method, used in Pepsodent, enables all to daily use this efficient film combatant.

Watch the Results

We urge you to present the coupon. Get the 10-Day Tube and use like any tooth paste. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten—how they glisten—as the fixed film disappears.

Compare the results with your old methods. Then let your own teeth decide the method best for you and yours.

This is of lifetime importance. Don't neglect it. Cut out this coupon so you won't forget.

LARGE GERMAN ARMY SENT.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 5.—Latest information reaching the Foreign Office confirms its belief that despite the assurance officially given by the Germans that only a very limited number of troops had been sent to the Ruhr district, in reality the number amounts to an army of forty thousand men.

All information from the country bordering on the Ruhr basin, it was said at the Foreign Office to-day, tends to prove there was no necessity of sending an army, as the workers and Communists were exhausted and without money, food, or ammunition.

OPPOSE PROJECTS.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, April 5.—The policy of steady opposition to any expenditure on large constructional projects is to be adopted by thirty or more Western members of the House of Commons unless the Government decided to put the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway in the line of importance with the Welland Canal, the Trent Canal, and other schemes which call for large expenditures of public money.

It was also announced to-day that several delegations from Western Boards of Trade are coming to Ottawa soon to urge the completion of the Hudson Bay road, as well as the Manitoba Government delegation.

EASTER SERVICES GEORGE STREET

APPROPRIATE DECORATIONS FOR EASTER SUNDAY.

The Easter Sunday services at George Street Methodist Church, which were largely attended, proved to be of a highly inspirational character. The church was very appropriately decorated by the Onword Bible Class. A large cross was placed at the rear of the pulpit, surmounted by the motto, "Christ is Risen." Streamers were draped from the motto, about the gallery railing. The color scheme was royal purple and white. Easter lilies and other flowering plants completed the decorations.

Appropriate Music.

The music was of a high and appropriate character, consisting of choruses, quartettes, solos and a ladies' semi-chorus. Much credit is due the choir for their service of song, owing to the fact that Easter music was prepared while training for a choir concert to be given on April 20th.

At the morning service, the anthems were: "Awake Thou That Sleepest" by Allan, and "The Resurrection Morn" by Rodney. Solo parts were taken by Mrs. J. H. Renwick, Misses M. Sucee and E. Fusee and Messrs. C. Thorpe, E. Jones and C. S. Thompson.

Five selections were rendered at the evennig service, the anthems being: "Christ is Risen" by J. H. Maunder, and "Ye Choirs of New Jerusalem" by Smart. Solo parts were rendered by Mrs. C. Graham, Mrs. Renwick, Mrs. McColl and Messrs. F. Walton and W. Cunningham.

A ladies semi-chorus, "Ye Fair Green Hills of Galilee" by Gadsby, offered a pleasing variation to the program of song. The ladies taking part being Misses E. Kemp, E. Worth, I. Baird, D. Rathbone, McKay and Mrs. C. S. Thompson. Mrs. J. H. Renwick also sang Granier's "Hosanna" in her usual pleasing style and Miss Doris Rathbone gave an effective rendition of "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears," from the oratorio, "The Light of the World."

The pastor preached both morning and evening, making stirring appeals. In the morning he took as his subject, "Easter Sentiments" basing his discourse on the text in Matt. 28-2. He called attention to, and enumerated the evidences for the resurrection, pointing out that there is no more convincing fact of God than the empty tomb. He made a stirring plea for a more conscious observance of the great truths of the Easter tide, and the more enthusiastic erffot of christians to spread the wonderful messake of the risen Lord.

In opening his evening discourse Mr. Thomas stated that his subject, "The Glory of the Father," was one he has had in mind for 16 years. His text was taken from 1 Peter, 1: 10-11, the theme being based particularly on the later part of verse 11, "the sufferings of Christ and the glory that should follow."

The prophets of old had spoken of the great provision which Christ had made in order to save the world. In the 53rd chapter of Isaiah a dark picture of the suffering servant of Jehovah is portrayed. Isaiah not only portrays this dark picture of anguish, but he also sees the victory which will follow Christ's humiliation. This prophecy was in all probability very familiar to Peter and it was doubtless to this prophecy that he referred.

That the words of Isaiah were fulfilled in Christ was very evident. The climax came in the concluding hours of his life. Death to the Lord Jesus must have been a release from the most excruciating pain. Added to sorrow over His rejection. He also carried the burden of the world's sin. Therefore from many standpoints it was a bitter cup which Jesus drank.

The Brighter Side.

The prophet in the language of Peter, saw not only the sufferings but also the glory of Jesus. What is the glory that followed this suffering?

In the first place there is the glory of the resurrection. The resurrection meant much to Christ himself. The resurrection has been considered from the standpoint of the blessing it has brought to the world, but it has done this because it was also a glorification to Jesus Christ. It was a vindication of His claims, an evidence that He was mightier than all human forces. He stepped forth from the tomb a conqueror and instead of the crown of thorns there was the crown of glory.

Then there was the glory of the exaltation. The resurrection was incomplete without the ascension. "Methinks the ascension of Jesus was like the return of a victor," said Mr. Thomas. "He had offered salvation to man: He had mastered sin; He had manacled death; and, with His victims chained to His chariot He returned to His eternal glory."

Another glory which followed was that of authority. Mark tells us that Christ sat down at the right hand of God. In scripture this always signifies power. It was a long way from heaven's throne to Calvary and the sufferings of Jesus were amply compensated in the glory of His return.

Ther was also the glory of the saving work of the Lord Jesus. He has seen multitudes regenerated and transformed.

One more glory is that of His ever-widening sovereignity. "It is not true," declared Mr. Thomas, "that Jesus Christ is losing prestige and power. In spite of the world's sin the halo of glory around his brow is continually growing brighter."

But the glory of Christ is not complete. Multitudes have not yet felt His saving power. "Jesus will not be satisfied until the last enemy is overthrown," said Mr. Thomas. "He is calling us to help Him in this. We had nothing to do with the glory of the resurrection or ascension, but we can have something to do with Christ's saving power and the widening of His sovereignity. We can can exalt Him or do otherwise. Let us be willing to serve Him even to the limit of suffering. Let us remember that if we go to our Gethsemene or our Calvary, we shall not only add to Christ's glory, but the very splendor of the eternal God will rest upon ourselves."

The average man has a lot of get-rich-quick ideas up his sleeve, which when going nearly always go worng.

RAYBESTOS COMPANY AGREEMENT UNDERGOING FINISHING TOUCHES

BY-LAW WILL BE SUBMITTED TO THE PEOPLE FOR THEIR APPROVAL—DATE NOT SET YET—WANT LOWER SECTION OF STEWART STREET CLOSED.

The agreement between the city and the Canadian Raybestos Company, which will be submitted to the ratepayers for their endorsement, was slightly amended by the Committee of the Whole Council last night at the request of Mr. Robert Abbott, of Bridgeport, Conn., who is the vice-president of the Canadian branch.

The company has obtained an option on the Lundy Shovel and Tool Building but will require two or three new buildings to be erected on either side of it. Some of the machinery is so heavy that the company finds it desirable to set it on the ground floor and for that reason they prefer one storey buildings for those departments.

The ask the city to close Stewart sreet from the C.P.R. to Perry sreet, on which a new building will be erected, and to divert the street to parallel the C.P.R. on its south side to the corner of Park and Perry streets.

The company also asks that the city buy the triangular gore between Stewart street and the C.P.R., on which the diverted street will be opened, and to transfer the rest of the property to the company. This lot belongs to Mrs. E. B. Edwards and will cost $1,000.

The amendment sought by Mr. Abbott was permission to buy that part of Stewart street at the price the city pays if for any reason the company might fail to carry out any clauses of the agreement.

The council fixed this price at $2,000 and the company will pay in addition the interest on it from time the bylaw is passed until the company requires to buy it. They are also given one year's grace in the requirements pertaining to the number of men they shall employ.

Delays might Occur.

Mr. Abbott assured the council that the Canadian company hopes that the bylaw will be sustained and also that they may begin operations as soon as possible. The precautions they sought were not seriously anticipated but some of the machinery which was being ordered might be held up in delivery—a condition which they could not guard against.

In the agreement the company asks for a fixed assessment of $10,000, a request to which the council has not objected. The present value of the entire property the company purposes acquiring is slightly more than $14,000. They also ask that 500 loads of coal ashes be dumped on the east end of the Lundy lot, near the G.T.R. side, and that the city obtain from the C.P.R. a small plot north of the shovel factory which the C.P.R. formerly used as a place for the loading of cattle.

The company will spend $15,000 on the Lundy building, putting in a sprinkler system, cement floor, and plumbing and heating. They will put on a new roof and paint the entire building.

The immediate expenses on the building and machinery will amount to $50,000. Local labor will be employed in the renovation of the old building and as far as possible in manning the new industry.

"We don't want to get in wrong," said Mr. H. C. Simmons, Vice-President of the parent company in his former visit.

The buildings on both sides of the old shovel factory will be of brick, that on the west side being 191 by 152 feet. It will be used for the spinning department. The addition to the east will not be built at once but has been decided upon by the company and will be erected when the other one is completed.

The company will employ 25 men within three months after the passage of the bylaw and at least 75 men within 18 months. An extension of one year to these periods was agreed to by the council in the event of unforeseen interventions that may delay the company.

FEW RAINTERS ARE ON STRIKE

The painters' strike, which was to have opened yesterday morning, did not materialize to such an extent as to paralyze the masters. The increase asked by the men was 10c. an hour, from 50c. to 60c., and some of the master painters gave them the increase, others holding out, with the result that on Monday morning one or two men from these shops walked out and are still out. The masters claim that to some they are willing to give the increase but not to all.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate To Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh And to Increase Strength Vigor and Nerve Force

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitrophosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by McDermid & Jury in Peterboro and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc, those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

PETERBORO MAN HAS RESIGNED

KINGSTON, April 6.—D. J. McCarthy, B.S.A., of Peterboro, farm instructor at the Portsmouth Penitentiary, has resigned. This makes the fifth vacancy in the already disorganized staff at that institution. Mr. McCarthy was for many years assistant instructor last year. It is reported that he was dissatisfied over the lack of facilities to carry on his work. As the result the farm work is at a standstill when the plans for the Spring work should be put into operation.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

MADAME LORETTE BECK AND "THE GREAT SHADOW."

Madame Lorette Beck's return engagement at the Grand Theatre was greeted with enthusiasm last evening, and the famous soprano sang herself into even wider popularity in the city. So strong had her hold become on the Peterborough audiences that Manager Dahn found it advisable to engage her for the first three days of this week, and judging by the audiences which have filled every available seat in the theatre so far, he has made no mistake in doing so.

Last evening Madame Beck sang "Habenera" from Carmen (in costume), which number took the house by storm, likewise the soprano Aria from Wagner's "Tannhauser." After each number she was insistently encored, and yielding to special request she sang "Kiss Me," which made so widespread a hit last week.

Last night's programme, "The Great Shadow," featuring Tyrone Power, and the musical numbers, will be repeated to-night and to-morrow.

NIGHT COUGHS PREVENT SLEEP WEAR OUT THE SYSTEM

The dry, hacking cough, cough, day and night is very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition they get no chance to heal.

You will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy without an equal for curing coughs and colds, soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening and healing the breathing organs, and fortifying them against serious pulmonary disease.

Mrs. Fred. Fairburn, Copper Cliff, Ont., writes:—"I caught a heavy cold, got a sore throat and had a terrible hacking cough that I could not get rid of. I could not sleep at night. I had tried quite a few remedies, but they did not seem to do me much good until I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. By the time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone.

"It seemed to loosen the cough right away so that I could spit up the phlegm that gathered in my throat, and also took that hot, raw, burning fever out of my bronchial tubes. I feel that Dr. Wood's has no equal."

Sensible Method of Removing Wrinkles

If crow's feet appear prematurely about the eyes, apply a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. This is the best, quickest-acting treatment known, as it tends to restore normal conditions. It tightens and strengthens the skin, likewise the underlying tissue, the loosening and softening of which are the cause of a wrinkled condition. It also has a tonic effect which not only aids in the same direction but, by improving capillary circulation, helps to bring a healthy color to the face.

The same solution, acting as it does naturally affects not only every wrinkle and line, but hanging or flabby cheeks and chin, as well. When your face wears a tired expression, bathe it with this refreshing, revivifying liquid. Tell the druggist you want powdered saxolite.

MAJOR-GENERAL MORRISON HERE

WAS IN CHARGE OF CANADIAN ARTILLERY AT THE FRONT.

Major-General Sir E. W. B. Morrison, Deputy Inspector General of Artillery for the Dominion, will arrive in the city on the 3.20 C.P.R. train from the east in connection with his military duties. The exact nature of his visit to Peterborough and its connection with the local militia has not yet been determined.

Major-General Morrison was formerly a newspaper man in the capital. Going overseas early in the war he had a long and distinguished service at the front. He was a great favorite with all the men. His meritorious service was rewarded with rapid promotion and at the end of the struggle he had charge of all the Canadian artillery on the western front. He received the knighthood and other honors, including the K.C.M.G., C.B. and the D.S.O.

PRINTING Done Here

COMPARED WITH ELSEWHERE

You'd startle your tailor if, when you wanted a suit of clothes, you asked him to submit a bid in competition with a dozen other tailors.

"Why," he would say, "this is ridiculous. This man knows what kind of a suit of clothes I give him. He knows he can depend on the quality of the material, the make, the fit. He knows me, and has proved my work. Some fellow around the corner may underbid me—but what will he deliver?"

You don't buy tailoring that way. No man does. You know your tailor, you rely on him, you trust him, you give him your work just as long as he turns out good work at prices that are fair.

Do you buy your printing as intelligently? Do you make it your business TO FIND A GOOD PRINTER as you do a good tailor, and then rely on his experience, his ability and his judgment?

Men who do, get good printing. Men who buy printing here and there, wherever the price is shaved closest, are the ones who have printing worries

WEDDING BELLS

GRAHAM—CARTER.

On Good Friday evening the wedding was quietly solemnized of William A. Graham and Elsie Beatrice Carter, both of this city. The ceremon was performed in Trinity Methodist parsonage, Rev. F. E. Malott officiating. On their return from Toronto Mr. and Mrs. Graham will reside at 508 Bolivar street.

DARRELL—WELCH

A quiet wedding was solemnized Easter Monday, April 5th at St. James Parsonage when Miss Hilda May Welch, Otonabee and Mr. Robert G. Darrell of Peterboro, were united in marriage by Rev. J. F. Chapman, B.A.

The couple were attended by Miss Edith Peters and Mr. W. Curtis both of Peterboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell will reside in Peterboro.

OBITUARY

HELEN MAY TROMBLEY.

Helen May Trombley, 553 Wilson street, Hamilton, met death on Sunday under tragic circumstances. The deceased formerly resided in Peterborough. At the time of her death her father received word of the serious illness in New York of another daughter. Mr. Jack Trombley, Charlotte street, is an uncle of the Hamilton girl.

MRS. ISAAC RICHARDSON.

The death occurred Monday morning, April 5th at 8.45, of Mrs. Julia Richardson, beloved wife of Isaac Richardson, 541 Homewood avenue, after a lingering illness.

The deceased was born in Dublin, Ireland, and came to Canada with her husband in 1873, residing in Otonabee a number of years before coming to Peterborough. In religion Mrs Richardson was a Methodist, being a member of Trinity Methodist church.

She leaves to mourn her loss one brother in Ireland, two daughters in Toronto, Hattie, Mrs. Westwood and Elizabeth, John and Cecil at home.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 541 Homewood avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

THOMAS LECLAIRE.

The funeral of the late Thomas LeClaire, who died on Saturday morning at the residence of his grandson, Arthur Carveth, Concession 3, Douro, took place on Sunday afternoon to the Douro Cemetery.

Deceased, who was born in Quebec 80 years ago, leaves of the immediate family two grandchildren, Mrs. Frank Devlin, of Douro, and Mr. Arthur Carveth also of Douro. His wife predeceased him some years ago.

TWO WOMEN WERE ARRESTED

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Disregarding warning of the Federal government that they would be prosecuted under the Federal penal statutes, the women favourable to an Irish republic resumed to-day the picketing of the British Embassy, which led to two arrests yesterday. A few minutes after the two women appeared carrying banners they were warned by the police to leave and were arrested when they refused to obey. They were Mrs. Honor Walsh, Germantown, Penn., and Miss Eline Barrie, Philadelphia.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The success of the Easter music in St. Peter's Cathedral was due largely to the untiring efforts of Miss Doherty, organist of the Cathedral, and to Mr. Minicolo, who has spent some time recently assisting in training the members of the choir.

Mr. Gordon Graham returned yesterday to Brantford, after spending the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grieve.

Birks of Cobourg, Mr. William and George Carveth of Millbrook, were in the city yesterday attending the funeral of the late Henry C. Winch. Telegrams of condolence and floral tributes were received from New York, Chicago, Morris, Ill., Royalton, Minn., Brantford, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal.

Miss Minnie Walsh, who has been visiting friends in the city, has returned to Cobourg, accompanied by her brother, Mr. Ed. Walsh, Patterson street.

Miss Margerette Walsh accompanied by her cousin, Miss Margaret McGuire of Hastings, are spending the holidays in Cobourg.

Miss Ola Cavanah returned to Renfrew last evening, after spending Easter with her mother, Mrs. J. Cavanah, 198 London street.

Miss Amy Wise, of Toronto, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wise, 767 George Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone Wise, of Toronto, spent Easter with Mr. Wise's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wise.

Mr. John Davidson of Toronto University, is visiting his parents, Archdeacon and Mrs. Davidson.

Miss Mildred Weir, of Toronto, is visiting Mrs. Henry Cox, East City.

Mr. Reginald Huff, of the Royal Dental College, returned to Toronto this morning.

Mr. Harry Smith, of Toronto University, returned this morning to his studies.

Mr. Paul B. Gliddon of the Gibbon Advertising Co., Toronto, returned to the city this morning.

Mrs. Sidney Anderson and Mrs. William Harkness, of Toronto, are spending Easter holidays with Mrs. S. Thomas, Chamberlen street.

Mr. Jock Renwick has left for Toronto to spend the Easter holidays with his grandmother, Mrs. W. M. Klingner.

Mrs. W. H. Ray returned to Toronto after spending the holidays with her sister, Mrs. Chas. Kelly, Brock street.

Mrs. A. M. Brumwell and son Donald, left this afternoon for their home in the West after spending the winter with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mulligan, 804 George street.

Mr. Robert Hopwood of Toronto, was a week end visitor to the city.

Miss Bertha Mowry, Toronto, was home for Easter.

PETERBORO MAN WAS ELECTED

The lacrosse convention in Toronto on Good Friday was the most successful and largely attended in a number of years.

J. F. Johnston, representing Peterborough, was elected to the executive of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association.

Several changes were made in the rules.

Expenses.

In future the home team will pay 10 cents per mile per man one way for 15 men.

Referee.

The two-referee system will be adopted, except in district games where the competing teams agree to one man handling the game substituting.

The rule governing the substituting of players was much discussed, but remains the same for this season, viz., three substitute players will be allowed, but can only be put into a game at the end of a period, and no player or players can be substituted after the third period.

PRICE BROTHERS APPEAL ALLOWED

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, April 6.—The appeal of Price Brothers, Quebec, against the order of the Board of Commerce controlling price and disposition of newsprint paper manufactured by that firm is allowed by the Supreme Court with costs. Judgment was read in the Supreme Court this morning and is based on the decision of judges that newsprint is not a necessity of life within the meaning of the Combines and Fair Prices Act. Justice Mignault dissented from the judgment and Justices Idington, Duff, Anglin and Brodeaur are therefore understood to be identified with the decision.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, April 6.—Shipment of gold valued at approximately ten million dolars, arrived here to-day from London on the Minnekahda, consigned to New York bankers.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of wee Sandy, the dearly beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. William Herd, who died at the Isolation Hospital 6th April, 1916 aged 7 years:

He is gone, but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.

The call was sudden the shock severe,
We little thought his end so near,
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Hidden tears oft time flow,
For memory keeps our dear one near us,
Although he died four years ago.

—Father and Mother.

35 Stewart street.

IN MEMORIAM.

MORTON.—In loving memory of our dear Mother, Ann Morton, who died 6th April, 1919.

The home it has been darkened
By the shadow of a death;
It was one, a loving mother,
And her we'll ne'er forget.

A voice had whispered "Come,"
From the silence of the night
She took his loved one Home.

Vacant chair now tells the tale
Of the debt that she has paid;
Angels bright watch day and night
O'er the grave where she is laid.

The silver cord is broken,
A life well spent is o'er;
At peace, asleep in Jesus,
She rests for evermore.

—Daughter, Mrs. F. Redpath.

STEPHEN LEACOCK WAS SUBJECT OF SHARP AND POINTED COMMENT AT CONVENTION.

UPHOLD SYSTEM

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 7.—The ears of Professor Stephen Leacock, graduate of Toronto University, and member of the McGill Faculty, must be burning to-day—or at least his left ear should be tingling.

For at the Ontario Educational Convention to-day there was some sharp and pointed comment on the recent Leacock attack on the teaching of the French language as it is taught in the University of Toronto and in Ontario High Schools.

Incidentally it leaked out in Varsity corridors that Professor Leacock had been invited to attend the Ontario Educational Convention and make good his criticism, but he chose to politely refuse the invitation.

Prof. J. H. Cameron, head of the French Department at Varsity, where six hundred students are taught the tongue of La Belle France, did not mention the name of Professor Leacock, but he devoted some attention to his criticisms. The Montreal humorist had said that the teaching of French in Ontario was a joke.

Professor Cameron read extracts from the articles and letters in question, and then proceeded to show that while there is much room for improvement in both High School and University teaching of French, and while som eof the criticism is well-founded, it comes from the wrong while some of the criticism is well-it proceeds from the staff of a university in the sister Province of Quebec, and a portion of this criticism is quite unreasonable, very unfair, and not at all well-informed as to what is really being accomplished both in our Ontario High Schools and our Universities—especially the latter.

Hot Shot for Critic.

The wild assertions that any pupil who passes the matriculation examination not only does not know a word of French "in the real sense," but is thoroughly unfitted for ever acquiring it; and that the best of the instruction in French given in the University of Toronto is "worthless"—these statements cannot survive exposure to the light of certain facts of an easily accessible character, which can be supported by the testimony of various persons whose competence in the matter is quite equal to that of the critic.

GREEK TROOPS WILL MOVE IN ASIA MINOR

Canadian Press.

ATHENS, April 7. — Greek troops have been authorized by the Supreme Military Council of the allies to advance in Asia Minor in anticipation of an eventual attack by Mustapha Kemal. They have occupied strategic positions east of the sector they have held around Smyrna, according to a despatch to the newspaper "Ethnos."

It is announced here that the Italian commercial mission has arrived at Athens on its way to Russia to negotiate with the Soviet government for the purchase of raw materials for manufacturing. The mission, it is stated, is provided with several million rubles in cash.

TROOPS DISARMED BY THE CHINESE

EIGHT THOUSAND FLED INTO CHINESE TERRITORY.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 7.— Despatch to the Times from Pekin, dated April 5, says that eight thousand troops and twelve hundred officers, part of the forces of General Dutoff, closely pressed by the Bolsheviki, crossed the Mongolian frontier March 26 to Chaguchak, and were disarmed under agreement by the Chinese authorities. The Russian force was accompanied by ten thousand civilians. The Bolsheviki halted at the frontier.

CARTAGE AND TRANSPORT BUSINESS DEAL

The cartage and transport business of Mr. Edward Cooney on Charlotte Street (rear) has been purchased by Messrs. Jones and Miller, late of Madoc. Mr. Cooney's successors are practical men, and bespeak for a continuance of the patronage of the public. The business of the new firm will be carried on in the same premises as before. See announcement in another column.

NAVIGATION OPENS ON THE OTONABEE

Navigation on the Otonabee opened to-day when Captain Harris brought his steamer, the "Geneva", up from Gore's Landing.

CHIMNEY FIRE

At 8.45 o'clock last night the firemen were given a run to the home of John Spence, 260 McDonnel street to answer a chimney fire. Mrs. Spence is in the hospital and the husband was at the hospital at the time of the fire. The alarm was telephoned in by a neighbour and later rung in from Box 38 at the corner of Reid and McDonnel streets. The fire was soon extinguished with little damage resulting.

Soldiers On Leave Recalled

FIRST PHASE OF THE FRENCH OCCUPATION OF RHINE CITIES HAS BEEN COMPLETED.

A NEW NOTE

By Henry Wood.
(United Press.)

PARIS, April 7.—The first phase of French occupation of German Rhine cities in retaliation for what the French consider Germany's violation of the Treaty of Versailles, through sending Reichswehr troops into the neutral zone to put down the Ruhr rebellion, has been completed to-day.

It was announced officially that French troops had occupied Hamburg. The tri-color to-day flew over Frankfort, Darmstadt ,Han-Au, Dieburg and Homburg. The second phase it was learned, will be still further occupation if the Ruhr district is not evacuated by German troops. Preparation for the new French move, should it be necessary, was under way in the region of Nancy.

Soldiers on leave were recalled. Three regiments, it was learned, were scheduled to leave for an unknown destination on Thursday.

At Luneville the cavalry division called in horses it had loaned the peasants for agricultural use.

French occupation of Offenbach, Homburg and Wiesbaden has been completed, an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Berlin said to-day.

Communists Fled.

More than 2,000 troops of the defeated Communist army have fled into the British zone of occupation, where they were interned, a despatch from Coblenz said to-day.

A New Note.

(United Press.)

PARIS, April 7.—Dr. Wilhelm Von Mayer, the German Charge, submitted a new note to the French government, restating the German position on French occupation of the Rhine cities.

Millerand, it was understood, immediately got to work on the French reply, which will be submitted to the session of the Council of Ambassadors this afternoon.

Advices to the Foreign Office indicated the German troops in Ruhr Valley were completing their final action against the Communists. Government forces were rounding up the remaining Red forces betwee the Rivers Lippe and Ruhr. This operation was expected to be completed rapidly.

AN APOLOGY

The management of the Dempsey-Willard pictures wishes to apologize to the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association for having used the term G.W.V.A. in their advertising of the great contest held at Toledo. The pictures are being shown for returned soldiers' benefit of Toronto and so as not to mislead the public and also to give due consideration to the local branch, the management offers this apology. A misunderstainding in advertising having arisen through no fault of the management. All that can do so should not fail to see this great contest and help a worthy cause along.

Miss Margaret Ryan and Miss Annie Martin returned to Detroit, after spending Easter with Miss Grace Primeau.

THE SUPREME COUNCIL WILL MEET TOMORROW

(United Press.)

LONDON, April 7. — The Supreme Council will meet in London to-morrow to consider the German situation, it was announced to-day.

Prime Minister Lloyd George, of Great Britain, M. Cambon, of France; Foreign Minister Scialoia, of Italy; Premier Venizelos, of Greece; Baron Ishida, Japan; General Berthelot, of France; Earl Curzon, and Andrew Bonar-Law, Great Britain, will attend meeting.

Lord Derby returned to Paris last night. It was understood he had instructions to maintain an attitude of "benevolent neutrality" towards France.

BERLIN NEWS

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, April 7. — Advance troops of the Reichswehr and shock troops entered the suburbs of Essen yesterday afternoon, and another detachment occupied the town hall last evening. Long columns of the Red army passed through Elberfeld yesterday where most of them surrendered their guns. Others marched into occupied territory, where they were disarmed by the British. Other insurgent bands, still armed, are wandering about the mountains. Five hundred insurgents were transferred by the British to a camp near Cologne.

DENOUNCES ACTION.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, April 7.— Occupation of German cities in neutral zone east of the Rhine by French troops was denounced in an official statement dealing with the incident here to-day. It is declared the government did everything to prevent what is described as this "unheard of action, which is neither in accordance with a sense of peace treaty nor its scope, and is out of proportion with the insignificance of our measures in the Ruhr district."

CONSPIRACY UNCOVERED.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, April 7.— Great military conspiracy which was to have been a Bavarian parallel to the recent Berlin revolution has been discovered in Munich, it was announced to-day.

FRANCE PLAYING LONE HAND IN THE RHINE TERRITORY

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 7. — Announcement of Great Britain's attitude towards the French move in Germany is being held in abeyance pending the meeting of the Supreme Council of Premiers and Ambassadors which will convene here to-morrow and which is expected to discuss the situation. It is generally assumed by the British press than France is acting alone in the matter and that the British government does not approve of her action, and newspapers are asking anxiously why France is acting alone, and why, if force is needed, it is not Allied force.

SPECIAL REPORT ON RAILWAY EXTENSIONS WILL BE PREPARED

DEPUTATION OF RAILWAY COMMITTEE ASSURED OF IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATION OF PETERBORO'S TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM.

SOME FARES MAY BE HIGHER

To meet the cost of extensions to the local street railway system a schedule of fares is contemplated at five, six, seven and ten cents, Sir Adam Beck intimated to the Railway committee's deputation yesterday. For example: to defray the expenditure and maintenance of a service to Crawford's grove the charge would probably be ten cents, and for shorter extensions that have been proposed from time to time the fare would be six or seven cents.

The Hydro-Electric Commission instructed their Chief Engineer, Mr. F. A. Gaby, to make a report within two weeks on this basis of increased fares, and the information will be turned over to the Committee. Some of the minor links that have been suggested may not require an increased charge to the public, but the report will set out definitely a programme of extensions that will serve as an exact guide to the Council.

The deputation was composed of Mayor McIntyre, Ald.Gainey, chairman of the Railway Committee, Aldermen Crowe and Copping, Robert Hicks and C. E. Sisson of the Utilities Commission, Mr. H. O. Fiske, manager of the Utilities Commission, City Clerk Armstrong, and Reeve McIntosh and Deputy Reeve Wilson of North Monaghan. The members of the Hydro-Electric Commission were Sir Adam Beck and the Hon. I. B. Lucas.

Sir Adam Beck practically assured the deputation that the Charlotte Street line would be extended to Brownton, and the George Street line would be carried south to Lansdowne Street, where it would turn west to Park Street, giving thereby a service to the De Laval factory. It is understood that the entire programme will be deferred until Mr. Gaby's report is submitted.

Surplus of Power Assured

UTILITIES COMMISSION INTERVIEWED THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC COMMISSION YESTERDAY— TO REVIVE DISTRICT UNION PROPOSAL.

10,000 H. P. EXTRA NEXT WINTER

Assurances of an ample supply of power for Peterborough's new industries and for the expanding factories were given the Utilities Commission yesterday in their interview with the Hydro-Electric Commission. Sir Adam Beck stated that the present surplus of power was more than sufficient to meet all the demands in this district, and with the completion of the Ranney's Falls generating plant next winter, 10,000 horse-power will be available.

Peterborough's requirements will undoubtedly take a sharp advance this year with the opening of the factories of the Canadian Nashua Paper Company, the Aladdin Company, and probably the Canadian Raybestos' Company. In addition to these new power consumers, there are extensions to some of the older industrial establishments which will begin operations this year, and the Canadian General Electric Company's enlargement will call for at least 1,000 horse-power. This will be the first time the C. G. E. Company have had to go beyond their own source of supply.

All this new business will raise Peterborough's normal consumption of power to the "peak" upon which the local Hydro charges are based. During the war the munition factories pushed the "peak" or maximum demand to a level from which there was a considerable recession in 1919 when industry was returning to peace conditions. But the charges against the city by the Hydro remained on the basis of that maximum consumption. This condition was clearly explained by Mr. Robert Hicks in his address at the municipal nominations in December.

In the meantime the growing demand for power has been gradually reducing the margin between the normal and the established peak, and with the additional blocks to be taken by the new industries, a higher level of consumption will be attained, with a resulting financial advantage to the Utilities Commission.

Revive District Movement.

Discussing the city's prospects after the interview with Sir Adam Beck, Mayor McIntyre and the members of the Utilities Commission decided to try to revive the movement launched here at a meeting in December to petition the Ontario Government to sell the eastern power system to the municipalities participating in it. This proposition was warmly approved by the representatives of Belleville, Port Hope, Lindsay and other towns, but a detailed plan of action was deferred to a meeting which was to have been held in Port Hope in January. This is the fourth month of the year, and the eastern Ontario municipalities of this Trent district are as disunited as ever, and the spirit of co-operation that appeared at that meeting has faded and almost vanished, while the western Ontario towns and cities are steadily cementing their union and gathering strength.

The Trent municipalities desire that the eastern power system which is now owned by the Government and operated by the Hydro-Electric Commission, shall be placed on the same basis as the western system; that it shall be transferred to the Hydro and operated for the municipalities who will immediately or eventually secure possession of it.

MARRIED.

SANDERSON — EDMISON. — At the George street Methodist church Peterboro, on Tuesday, April 6th, 1920, by the Rev. A. J. Thomas, Nina, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Edmison, to Mr. Clayton A. Sanderson, both of Smith.

GEORGES CLEMENCEAU ILL WITH BRONCHITIS

United Press.

LONDON, ENG., April 7th. — Georges Clemenceau, former premier of France, has been ill with bronchitis at Cairo, Egypt, since his return from Luxor, where he spent part of his vacation, a despatch here to-day says.

The "Tiger" was improving slowly and was very feeble, according to the despatch. Some uneasiness was felt over his condition.

MINISTERS TAKE EXCEPTION TO THE MEMBER'S OPINION

HAMILTON MINISTERS COMMENT ON MR. BURNHAM'S LATEST OUTBREAK.

Mr. J. H. Burnham's offer to give $25.00 to the first Methodist minister in good standing who would dare say that "when God found Noah drunk He should have prohibited wine," has brought out the following expressions of opinion of leading Methodist ministers in Hamilton:

He's A Fool.

Rev. Dr. Treleaven, pastor of the Ryerson Church: "You can state for me that he's a fool."

Rev. C. L. McIrvine, of First Methodist Church: "No man with reasonable intelligence would dare make the statement that God was wrong."

Not Much Reverence.

Rev. Dr. Dougall, of Wesley Methodist Church, stated that he thought it was unthinkable for a man who stood in Parliament to make a statement of that kind. "It shows," he said, "that Mr. Burnham has not much reverence for the Book to make a statement of that kind. It does not become a man of his position, and certainly does not dignify him."

Questioning God.

The pastor of Charlton Avenue Methodist Church, Rev. Frank Wootton, stated that Mr. Burnham should have been more explicit. "It's not for man," he said, "to question God's actions, and He is not responsible for men's abuses."

Too Silly.

Rev. H. Irvine, of Zion Tabernacle, said that the statement was too silly to discuss, and he did not care to express any other opinion regarding the matter.

Manitoba Teachers Organize

CONVENTION NEWS

(Special to the Examiner).

WINNIPEG, Man., April 7.—The demand that Canada prohibit Hearst manuscripts and newspapers from entering Canada because of their Anti-British sentiment was forwarded to-day to the Premier at Ottawa by the Manitoba Teachers Federation in convention here.

At meeting called for Thursday evening, heads and assistant heads of civic departments contemplate forming "mutual benefit association", for purpose of enforcing demands for salary increases upon councils. The wage committee offer of $25 monthly raise is unacceptable to these executives; they assert the "Bosses Union" will be separate from civic employees federation, whose membership includes most city employees.

Formation of separate local of Manitoba Teachers Federation, composed of principals, was decided upon last night at meeting of about 100 principals. Called to devise means of enforcing demand for salary increase minimum salary of $2,400 representing a 40 per cent. increase over the present scale was generally favored by the speakers. Definite action toward formulating schedule and preserting demands was postponed pending organization of principal local.

The proposal that the State Provincial Government give bonuses to women and girls to come from Great Britain for Domestic Service, as means of solving problem of shortage of domestic help, will not be acted upon, the Hon. Valentine Winkler, Minister of Agriculture, said this morning. Cabinet has decided to defer action for present because of expense of such an undertaking he announced.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wood, of this city, and at present at their summer home in California, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred, to Mr. Edward S. ADDRESSED GIRLS AT "HAZEL BRAE"

Ven Archdeacon J. C. Davidson addressed the girls of the Barnardo Home at "Hazel Brae" last evening, giving them directions and suggestions as to their life in this country, urging them to make good Canadian citizens and pointing out the means of doing so. They could go into their new life, he told them, with every confidence of strong support behind them, and the knowledge that they would be warmly welcome everywhere.

Archdeacon Davidson was greatly impressed, and considered them a fine healthy looking lot of girls.

CUT YOUR HAND?

Heal It—Prevent Infection by Using "ABSORBINE JR."

The same liniment that takes the soreness out of sprains, bruises and rheumatic joints is equally effective in healing cuts and lacerations.

Apply a few drops full strength "ABSORBINE JR." to the raw surface. It will promptly stop the pain and bleeding—keep the parts surrounding the wound healthy—kill germs—prevent infection and proud flesh—and promote rapid healing.

Wherever there is pain—in head or body—rub in "ABSORBINE JR."

Only a few drops at a time, for it is concentrated. It is a vegetable germicide; absolutely safe; may be used diluted as a mouth wash. Pleasant odor; no stain or grease.

MR. T. TOOMS ADDRESSED A MEETING OF THE INDEPENDENT LABOUR PARTY

DISCUSSES A NUMBER OF ISSUES NOW BEFORE THE ONTARIO HOUSE—SMALL ATTENDANCE.

Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.L.A., addressed the Independent Labor Party last evening in Labor Hall, giving an interesting report of the activities in the Provincial House and outlining the bills and legislation coming before the House at this session.

Mr. Peter McArthur ,the president of the I.L.P., introducing the member, expressed regret that so few would hear Mr. Toom's address, which he felt would be interesting and enlightening to all. The report showed the amount of work he had done, and he believed there would be no regret in the election of Mr. Tooms. "It is something new to get a report of what is going on up there," he said. Mr. McArthur said they must now prepare to send a representative to the Dominion House.

Mr. Tooms lost little time in getting into his speech, outlining the formalities attendant to the opening of the House on March 9 last, the selection of a Speaker, the Speech from the Throne, and the debate on the speech. Mr. Tooms said that this speech failed entirely to forecast the legislation it was supposed to, and was a concoction of fine words.

In the debate the speakers did not stick to their points and wandered far from their subjects. Mr. Tooms declined to debate on this; others were more eager, and it lasted for a week. He held it was useless and the debate should be eliminated.

New Government.

The member believed that the new government was giving sane and sensible government. The Speaker, Mr. Parliament, was fair and just to the members and very helpful. Mr. McBride, the Labor candidate from Brantford, was highly commended for his speech in the debate by Mr. Tooms.

He told how the union of the two parties was ridiculed by the opposition but they soon convinced the doubters that they could work together.

Premier Drury expressed his desire to have one grand executive body, with a free expression of speech from all classes.

The government is making an honest attempt to abandon patronage, he said, but he contended himself that the members should have something to say in regard to appointments to secure the maximum efficiency. He stated that if a bill for proportional representation came up it would pass for all parties approved it.

Mr. Tooms named the Labor men, that is the men who although not representing labor are sympathetic, numbering 14. "The majority of the returned soldiers are behind the labor movement," said the member, speaking of the two soldier representatives who are sympathetic to Labor.

Four Important Bills.

In addition to the private members bills, there are four important bills that deeply interest all workers, to be brought before the house .These are the pensions for widows and orphans; the amendments to the factory, shop and builders' act; the abolition of property qualifications; and the minimum wage for girls.

His two private bills, for Sunday street cars and the election of the police commissioners, are arousing much attention, he said, particularly the latter, which will in all probability pass.

The scheme for widows' and orphans' pensions was fully outlined by the speaker. The need for some such legislation has long been apparent, and Mr. Tooms spoke at length on the subject, pointing out that it should be made to cover prisoners' families in jail and families where the breadwinner is incapactated. The cost is estimated at over $1,000,000 a year. Hope was expressed that this legislation would be in force next July.

Figures read by the member showing the low wages paid some girl workers impressed his hearers. A minimum will be set by this Act if it passes and the Act will be strictly enforced. "If a minimum can be set for girls there is no reason why it cannot be fixed for other workers.

Workers' Compensation.

Amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, if they pass, will give the men when they are incapacitated, 75% of their regular pay instead of 55% as at present, and other increases for other workers.

Speaking of the working of the Act he laid much of the blame in delays and trouble on the workers not properly filling in the forms. If this legislation passes it will bring Ontario's legislation nearer that of the other provinces.

The Election Act which will be submitted, provided for a definite date every four years for the provincail election. Mr. Tooms said that he was to-day to have debated on the abolition of the property qualifications. If a man can go into the Legislature why can't he go into the municipal government? asked Mr. Tooms.

The Good Roads scheme was commended by the member and the Hon. Mr. Biggs came in for a bouquet along with the cabinet.

Mr. Tooms advocated taxation for lands along the highway and not for improvements. "Our taxation system is wrong," he said.

Housing Problem.

Mr. Tooms, speaking of the housing problem, left the duty of building houses with the city, with the assistance of the manufacturers.

The new warehouse being erected by the Matthews-Blackwell Co., should be outside the city to remove the disagreeable odor, was the gist of Mr. Tooms' remarks along this line, and Mr. Matthews will be consulted by the member.

Mr. Tooms stood for larger salaries for the subordinate civil service employees who it is alleged receive miserly stipends.

Ald. Crowe was upheld in his motion for flat increases to the civic officials. "If the $1000 man gets $100 the $3000 man should get the same.' Superannuation for the Civil Service will be supported by Mr. Tooms. Increased sessional indemnities were advocated and he also contended that the salaries of the heads of some of the government boards should be pared off a little evener with that of the premier.

"You will find slum life and poverty whether there is free trade or protection, said the speaker, who claimed that these matters were of little interest to the toilers.

Mr. McArthur and Mr. McMurray spoke on the fine report and speech of Mr. Tooms and a hearty vote of thanks was moved and extended to him.

Mr. Tooms at the conclusion, requested that any matters that the electorate thought should be brought before the government, should be brought to his attention.

Mr. Tooms was asked if the newspaper report on the attack made by the Hon. Mr. Ferguson on the Hon. Mr. Rollo, on the One Big Union, was correct. The member said it was, but the Hon. Mr. Ferguson had no verification of some of his statements. Hon. Mr. Rollo was taken at a disadvantage by his opponent.

Mr. Peter McArthur did not believe that Hon. Mr. Ferguson's definition of the One Big Union was correct.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Key West, Fla.—"For five years I suffered from irregularities, with terrible pains and an awful weakness in my back. The doctor gave me different medicines but they did me no good. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it to be the best medicine I ever tried because it made me well, and I can now do my housework. I am telling my friends about it."—Mrs. J. M. Carnes, 726 Caroline St., Key West, Florida.

Many women at some period in their life suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex and which in most cases may be readily relieved by this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, just as Mrs. Carnes found it helped her after suffering for years and trying everything else in vain.

If you have any annoying symptoms you fail to understand, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The results of their 40 years experience in advising women on this subject is at your service.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, April 6. — The Ladies Auxiliary of the Great War Veterans entertained the members of the local branch of the G.W.V.A. in Leonard's Hall on Monday evening. The evening was an exceedingly pleasant one for all present and the time passed all too quickly.

Progressive euchre was played and other games were provided for those who did not care for cards.

At the close of the card playing Mrs. Leonard read an address to Miss Hilliard, the retiring president of the auxiliary, expressing regret at her approaching departure and hope that she would be very happy in her new home. The Auxiliary fully appreciates her valuable work and that of her brother in the organization and carrying on of the society, and in token thereof Mrs. Marling, the new president, presented her with a bouquet of roses.

Miss Hilliard was taken by surprise but responded gracefully, acknowledging the gift and the accompanying good wishes, assuring the ladies that she too would miss them.

After the distribution of the prizes for euchre the committee in charge serv-d a dainty and bountiful supper.

Mr. J. Lemay, who had the greatest number of points, won the gentleman's prize, and Miss Graham won the ladies' prize, while Mr. Marling was the winner of the consolation prize.

The ladies were congratulated on the success of their party by all the guests of which Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hilliard and Miss Hilliard, were the guests of honor.

Mission Band.

The Sunbeam Mission Band of the Presbyterian church held an afternoon tea and sale of home cooking in the store lately occupied by Mr. J. Riddle, on Saturday afternoon. The young girls were faithful and attentive to their work and everyone had a pleasant time. The fish pond was a great attraction to the juvenile portion of the patrons especially. The sum of $15 was realized.

Personals.

Mr. E. Bickell was in Peterboro on Monday on business.

JEANNE DE KAY'S BODY IS WASHED UP BY LAKE

Daughter of Chicago Pacifist Millionaire Believed Self-slain.

CHICAGO, April 7.—The body of Jeanne Anna de Kay, the twenty-year-old daughter of John Wesley de Kay, wealthy packer and dabbler in international intrigue, now living in Switzerland, was found floating in Lake Michigan yesterday, about 100 yards north of the Municipal Pier. The body of the young woman, who disappeared from Hull House, December 30, was readily identified by Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton of Hull House, one of Miss de Kay's closest friends. That she committed suicide while despondent is not doubted. Jeanne de Kay came to Chicago to work with the poor, under the tutelage of Jane Adams. She was born in Waukegan, Ill., where her father was editor of a newspaper. The family came into a fortune some ten years ago, and went to Mexico, and later to Europe, wher his activity in pacifist circles brought him into contact with Miss Adams while she was in Europe on a peace mission. It was this meeting that led to Jeanne's coming to Chicago.

Mrs. Gassing —No, I don't care much for Mr. Smythe. He always seems to be yawning when I speak to him.

Miss Snap — Perhaps he is only trying to say something, dear.

"IT HAS SIMPLY TRANSFORMED ME"

AMADEE GRENON SAYS CHANGE TANLAC BROUGHT IS ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE.

"The radical change which Tanlac has brought in me is almost unbelievable. It has simply transformed me from a sick man into a healthy one in a remarkably short time," was the statement made by Amedee Grenon, who resides at 1287 Catherine Street East, Montreal, a few days ago. Mr. Grenon is a pressman with the well-known firm of Debarats Printing Co., Ltd., and his endorsement should convince the most skeptical that Tanlac is indeed a powerful reconstructive medicine.

"For a whole year I suffered from lumbago and indigestion," he added. "The pains in my back at the height of my belt were so fierce that they bent me in two and made me walk like an old man. I could not remain either standing or sitting for more than about two minutes together, the pain was so terrible. Only when lying down on my side could I get any relief and I often went whole nights without sleep. I used endless belladonna plasters but they seemed to have no effect whatever, and then too I had the indigestion so bad that after meals I used to feel as though I had swallowed a big stone, and the gas would form so in my stomach as to nearly suffocate me. I would be constipated and frequently I had such severe backaches that I would have to quit work and go to bed.

"It was the statements of other people which led me to give Tanlac a trial, and the relief came to me after I had taken only half a bottle. First of all the lumbago pains in my back disappeared entirely and I have not been troubled with it since. My appetite became excellent and indeed surprising and I now have no difficulty at all to digest my food. I am no longer constipated and have been free from the terrible headaches that used to afflict me. I have only taken two bottles of the medicine but I find that I have already gained ten pounds in weight. I would not be without it for worlds, and every day when getting ready to go to my work, I never forget to put in my dinner-pail my dose of Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

"Jack is perfectly devoted to that blonde. His family think it is a case of hypnotism." "Hugh! seems to me more like chemical attraction."—Boston Transcript.

SALARIES FOR MEMBERS.

The Independent Labour Party will find it hard to justify their resolution in favour of $3,000 a year salaries to the members of the Ontario Legislature, and it is not surprising to find that the proposal has been condemned by a number of newspapers. As a matter of fact there seems little need of putting the Provincial legislators on a salary basis. They are well recompensed for their attendance during the session by the indemnity already provided for this purpose, and their Legislative duties only require six or seven weeks of their time. Between sessions the members have few public duties to perform that prevent them from following their usual occupations. Why then make professional legislators of them by providing them with a yearly salary for work that does not take up one-sixth of the year?

THE FARMERS AND THE SHOW.

It is expected that there will be a much larger attendance of the farmers of the Peterboro district at the Motor Show next week than has hitherto been the case in connection with the big annual event. This is as it should be. No class in the country should be more interested in the motor industry than the farmers. It is a matter of record that over half the cars in Peterboro County are owned by those living outside of the City of Peterboro. The Motor Show with its splendid exhibits of the newest models in cars and with its fine showing of motor accessories and necessities, should therefore possess a great interest for the farmers of the district. Probably many of these have looked upon the show as purely a city affair. There is no reason for such a conclusion. It is everybody's show, for everybody is interested in automobiles, either in driving them or dodging them, as the case may be, and our friends from the country will find much to engage their interest if they will visit the armouries on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. As the bill boards have it, "Come on—it's your show."

A NOTABLE VISITOR.

General Sir E. W. B. Morrison, K.C.M.G., C.B., D.S.O., who visited Peterborough last evening in connection with the organization of the 4th Battery, C.F.A., in this city, is one of the outstanding officers developed in the Canadian Corps during the war. His visit was of peculiar interest to the Peterborough artillerymen of the first contingent, for as members of the 4th Battery they served under General Morrison who, early in the war, commanded the 1st Artillery Brigade. General Morrison's career in the Canadian Expeditionary Force was marked by conspicuous success. He earned promotion after promotion until the end of the conflict found him in supreme command of all the Canadian artillery. In civil life a newspaper man, he had always taken a keen interest in the artillery branch of the Canadian militia and when the chance came to make good in real warfare it found him prepared for the test. His methods as exemplified in the work of the Canadian artillery at the front enabled the Canadians to more than hold their own with the professional gunners of the Kaiser's army. General Morrison's visit to Peterborough should quicken the interest in the organization of the 4th Battery and result in the speedy building up of that unit. Many old artillerymen in the city including some of the original Fourths who will doubtless be glad to serve in a battery that bears the name of one of the most famous of the Canadian artillery units will no doubt join the 4th.

PARTICULARS WANTED.

Whatever may be thought of the cash bonus plan of taking care of Canada's soldiers, there were statements made by the members of the deputation which waited upon the Government to press for gratuities, that will attract attention. For instance Comrade McLeod told the representatives of the Government that in the crowd of returned soldiers who gathered at the station in Toronto to wish the deputation good luck on their mission, there were men who did not know where their breakfast was to come from. That statement, it is to be regretted, was got further developed. If it is true there will be many people anxious to know the reason for such a condition of affairs. Were the men Mr. McLeod spoke of so badly disabled as to be unable to work? In that case there will be a natural curiosity as to why they have not been provided with pensions—adequate enough to take care of them. On the other hand, if they are men who are able to work the question might be fairly asked why they should be in danger of starving with industrial conditions as they are at present. And with the multiplicity of associations formed to look after the returned soldiers there should not be in Toronto, or anywhere else, any legitimate reason for a bona fide veteran not knowing where his next meal is coming from.

Comrade McLeod's statement suffers from being general—there will be many people interested in the problem of re-establishing Canada's soldiers who would like to know more about the men he described, particularly to be assured that they are not the type who if given a $2000 gratuity to-day would probably in six months time be again in the position of "not knowing where their breakfast was to come from."

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

The fact that only a very small portion of the electors took advantage of the opportunity to hear him, does not interfere with the conclusions that Mr Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., is following sound lines in giving some public account of what is transpiring in the Legislature. It was one of the ante-election promises of the Member for West Peterboro that, if elected, he would take this course, which is practised to a much greater extent in England than on this side of the water, and which might profitably be adopted here. The newspapers in their parliamentary reports endeavor to give as complete a story of these proceedings as their space will permit, but they cannot begin to publish all the details in connection with the legislation before the House and as a result the majority of the electors are ignorant of much that is going on in the Legislature, and in the Dominion Parliament. If the members would make it a point to discuss public issues in their constituencies at frequent intervals, instead of confining their speechmaking to election campaigns, the result would be a more intelligent electorate and a more enlightened interest in public affairs. Those who heard Mr. Tooms last night have a much clearer grasp of the legislation that has been introduced during the present session, and will be able to follow the proceedings from now on with a more accurate conception of the import of the changes that are being proposed.

AN EXPENSIVE EXPERIMENT.

The commission which inquired into the complaints of the soldier settlers at Kapuskasing in Northern Ontario, has made public its finding. It is of the opinion that the Ontario government officials lost interest too soon in the project; that there was not good material selected to conduct the settling experiment, and it recommends that many of the complaining settlers be removed and be compensated for the money lost by them in the effort to colonize bush Ontario. The whole affair has been an unfortunate experience, both for the government and for the settlers. The commission declares that it does not believe that the results of the scheme have proved that the region in which the settlement was located is not suitable for settlement. There was evidence produced at the inquiry which showed that some of the settlers had made good and would, in time, be settled on comfortable, productive farms. If this part of the finding be taken as correct, the second reason given for the non-success of the venture must be taken as the most serious one; that the men selected for the settlement of the land were not good pioneer material. The men, some of them, had practically no experience in farming, and relied far too much on government assistance to pull them through. This part of the finding brings to the surface a very real difficulty in the whole problem of re-establishing returned soldiers. There are men who are not suited for settlement on farms, and a great many men are not suited for the settlement of a bush region. The difficulty is that these are the men who insist on trying. When they fail, they blame the government. If they are not given permission to make the trial, they also blame the government. There was in the army a well-known type of man, the chronic grouser, and his presence in civilian life makes things very hard for those interested in the re-establishment of the veterans. No matter what measures are taken to assist them, and no matter how anxious public bodies might be to help them, they are not satisfied. The result of the existence of such men in every community is the creation of biased public opinion. On the one hand, there are those among the stay-at-home population who take the stories told by the grouser at face value, and come to the conclusion that the soldiers, entitled to everything, are being given nothing, and that the whole purpose of the government is to make conditions impossible for them. On the other hand, there are those who have found that some of the stories told by the grousers are not according to the true facts, and they, therefore acquire the idea that the government and other public bodies are making strenuous efforts to help the men, but that they are all a dissatisfied bunch of squealers who won't be content, no matter what is done for them. The truth, of course, lies midway between these two extreme points. Out of the great mass of men who made up the Canadian Army, there are bound to be many who are chronic failures, and these men have the common characteristics of chronic failures of blaming their inefficiency and misfortunes on others. In this instance, they have the opportunity of placing the blame at the door of the government, and their lamentations fill the land. On the other hand, there are thousand of men who have been helped, through vocational training and the Soldiers' Settlement Board, to make a fair start in life. But because a great deal has been done is not an argument that more could not be legitimately done, and there are problems facing some of the returned men which merit public interest. There is the question of the inadequacy of widows' pensions and the proper finding of a place in the community for the disabled man. For the young, fit, single man, we do not feel justified in entering a claim.—Turner's Weekly.

Two Kinds of Economy in the Post-War Maxwell

THE Post-War Maxwell inherited from its 300,000 predecessors two traits that captivate the person who likes continuous, uninterrupted, comfortable and low-cost mileage.

One is its freedom from repairs. It runs on and on. Give it gas, oil, grease and water and it will deliver an amazing amount of mileage.

The second is the low price you pay per mile. Its thrifty engine with Hot Spot and Ram's-Horn, makes gas go a long way. Its 2000 pounds of weight assures long tire wear.

Such kinds of economy came from years of study and the experience which 300,000 previous Maxwells have taught.

The notable improvements and refinements to be found in this car have caught the attention of many who figured that high efficiency meant high price.

The public has served notice that it does appreciate value.

That is why 40,000 persons will have to go without a Post-War Maxwell this year though 100,000 are being built.

THE ACCIDENT.

CHAPTER XC

Even now I feel hurt when I think of the many times Everett was invited out without me. Then I made no slightest allowance for him— or them. That he had belonged to their clubs, had been one of them before he knew me, and that they felt free to call upon him when, as that night, they needed someone to make up a game, was no excuse in my eyes.

In my home town it would have been considered the worst kind of a faux pas to have invited a husband without his wife, unless it were a stag party, and there were very few of those. Most of the men I had known, Rose Grandon's father and the others, seemed to enjoy having their wives along. Life in a big place was so different from life in a small community where everyone knew everyone else, and there was a similarity of thought regarding what was the proper thing to do upon occasion.

This ran thru my mind as I held the beautiful roses closely.

Yet it seemed almost wicked to let them die. They were (so lovely Then, too, I had not been married so long but that the cost of such a box of flowers seemed like extravagance. At home we all had our own flower gardens, and the price of flowers for table decoration etc., in Hendren had not yet ceased to seem exhorbitant(to me. But Leola had not hesitated to waste their sweetness. Of course it was temperament, but I would have to cultivate temperament if I were to be like her; and so win Everett's love.

I had gone to my room with the roses. In a few moments Hetty came in with a tall vase.

"The stems are so long your vases will not be deep enough," she said, as she filled the one she had brought

"I will attend to them," I said, as she reached for the roses. "Please throw the box out." The card I had put away.

Until the house was quiet and I was sure everyone had gone to bed, I sat reading with the roses lying on my lap. Already they had commenced to droop. I recalled what Leola had said in her letter about kissing them beneaarecEl evticlVi ih (, Lo, because Everett had sent them, but I felt no inclination to kiss the gift of Walter Kemp, and felt rather foolish as I thought of it.

It was nearly midnight when I put on a pair of soft slippers and, taking my night candle, crept up into the attic. I did not latch the door, fearing it might creak when I returned with the letters.

I set the candle on the floor, and unlocked the trunk. I was a bit frightened and breathed fast. The shadows in the great bare room seemed to take on human shapes as the candle jickered in the draught from the partly open door at the foot of the stairs

I lifted the tray and set it on the floor, then gathered the little piles of letters, so neatly tied together, some with ribbon, other with string. A few faded rose leaves fell to the floor, a reminder that roses were her favorite flower.

Finally I put back the till, and locked the trunk. As I rose from my knees before the trunk, my filmsy negligee was swept against the flame of the candle by the draught, and in a moment I felt the hot flame against my skin. I screamed wildly, and ran down the stairs—rather tumbled down, as I have no recollection of touching the steps.

Fortunately, Mrs. Gray had heard my first scream and had run into the hall. She grabbed a rug from the floor and wrapped me in it, making me roll over and over until the flames were smothered, and at the same time calling loudly to arouse James and Thomas.

"Get a doctor, quick" she told James, while Thomas sped up the narrow stairs with a fire extinguisher we always kept in the hall. Fortunately he was able to put out the fire with little trouble. The charred piles of letters had been so tightly bound together they did not burn readily; and as good luck would have it, there was nothing else inflammable near the trunk.

All this I knew afterward. Before the doctor came I had fainted.

When I came to I was in my own bed, the doctor and Everett bending over me. As I turned my head I saw the wilted roses on the floor where I had dropped them when I went to the attic.

ONE JUROR DEMANDS ICE CREAM ALL DAY

COWBOYS ARE SATISFYING DESIRES AT COUNTY EXPENSE.

TOMBSTONE, Ariz.—"I gotta have another of them cornucopias," impatiently remarked an elderly gentleman to the keeper of Tombstone's only soda fountain, located in Tombstone's combination drug store, cabaret, concert hall, news stand and cigar emporium.

"If that old fellow don't quit chasing me over there after cornucopias he's goin' to founder hisself," the elderly gentleman went on.

It was the bailiff carrying out the court's instructions with regard to the care of the Bisbee "deportation" jury.

"You gentlemen are to see that every want of these jurors is filled," was what Judge Sam Pattee had told the three bailiffs the night he ordered the cowboy jury locked up for the remainder of the historic trial in which it was sitting.

Those orders were a signal for every juror to satisfy the least whim he had developed in long, dreary months of riding ranges and facing the wind, sun and sand of the desert.

With one man the chief demand had been for talcum after a shave. Another is forcing the county to furnish him with a luxurious handsoap which contains olive oil as a relief from the brand purchasable at the crossroads grocery.

But with one juror the demand is for ice cream cones. Who the dissipating member of the jury is, no one can tell, but that does not alter the fact that all Tombstone knows his failing for vanilla ice cream.

"One of them vanilla cornucopias," he says.

At noon he appears again. And twice in the evening—before and after the movie show—it's "ice cream cones for one," and the bailiff disappears behind the swinging doors of the courtroom.

MODISH MAIDS ARE WEARING GAY ATTIRE

EVEN THE EASTER GLOVES ARE VERY COLORFUL.

NEW YORK.—Some spring hats early 'gin to sprout and February brings some out, but Easter's the official day when in full bloom they come to stay and every head that bows in prayer is sure a chic chapeau to wear. If skys are blue and sun ashine the church parade is something fine, and latest hints from Paris vie with home grown garments and they tie.. This year's parade is sure to be more colorful, than all to see and Easter eggs, all hectic dyed, will look quite wan when side by side with maid or matron on display in latest mode for Easter day.

For colors vivid and bizaare it is decreed that we must wear, and glitt'ring shiny things as well, and so the modish Easter belle will gleam and glisten, glow and glint till ardent eyes will have to squint, of Easter hims, I do aver, who gaze adoringly at her. Oilcloth and lacquered stuff are fine to give them necessary shine, metallic fabrics, jet and beads and now to most these shiny needs they're even using bits of glass, and it is not considered crass to wear a frock with quite a bit of broken glass set into it with silken and metallic stitch in Oriental manner rich. A bit of pain 'twould give me, too, to wear a bit of pane; but true it is that many a lass feels all dolled up in bits of glass.

The Oriental touch is such a hit 'twill overshadow much all other trends of Fashion's whim and even bouffant models dim. 'Tis true the frock of taffeta with puff and fluff will show, but lo! It simply cannot supersede those models of the straight line breed that bear the Oriental stamp. They're worn by ingenue or vamp with equal charm and savoir faire and win for each admiring stare.

The gloves for Easter, most ornate, show stitching colorful and quaint, insets of different tinted kid for Fashion's favor made a bid around the wrists in set design. They're really something very fine, and when you are thus hand in glove there's something more that you will love so have forever well in hand on Easter when you join the band of gay paraders as you go devout to church to doubly show devotion and your new spring clothes, and that's a bag of suede that shows a new Egyptianesque addition of some gay colored composition that forms the clasp and top from where a gay medallion hangs bizaare and adds an Oriental air that's very stunning, I declare.

These same medallions or quaint plaques of composition that so smack of Egypt and the ancient Nile are also seen in striking style adangle from the either side of turbans or the brims more wide of mushroom hats and add a touch of pleasancy that pleases much.

But all these things cost so much money I really think the Easter bunny this year should be the golden goose that lays golden eggs or what's the use.

EFFORT TO FORMULATE HOUSING SHEME FAILS

Aurora Will Again Seek a Way Out of its Difficulties.

AURORA, April 6.—With the object of "getting houses for Aurora," a mass meeting of citizens was held here. Several schemes were put forward, but there seemed to be a fly in the ointment of each.

When it was suggested that a building association be formed the plan was objected to, on the ground that every man wanted to own his own house, and not to have it owned by an association. The manufacturers protested against the suggestion that each one of them provide houses for six families. They did not want to own the houses, they said.

Nothing definite was done at the meeting, but a second will likely be called soon by Mayor W. J. Bassett, who presided.

The housing situation in Aurora is very acute, and it is said that many families will be forced to live this summer in tents. W. J. Baldwin has announced his intention of rebuilding the flour mills, which were burned down during the winter, on a much larger scale, and that is expected to make houses scarcer than ever.

COAL DEALER'S WIFE WAS SENT TO JAIL.

Mrs. Alex. Ernest, of Walkerton, wife of a local coal dealer, and who confessed to changing the weigh bills of her husband's customers, thereby short-weighing them all the way from 100 lbs. up, appeared before Judge Klein on Thursday last and pleading guilty to the offence, was fined $100 and sentenced to 24 hours in jail. As her husband was previously fined $100 and sentenced to a week's imprisonment for being implicated in the affair, the punishment inflicted on the woman Thursday is the closing episode of one of the most interesting cases which ever decorated a docket in Bruce.—Walkerton Herald and Times

Wanted for Big Positions---Men of Blood and Iron---Men of Force Stamina, Power and Success

The Kind of Men Nuxated Iron Helps to Make

Physician tells How Many Men Fall Just Short of Winning the $10,000 to $100,000 Positions because they Don't Back up Their Brains with the Physical Strength and Energy that Come from Plenty of Iron in the Blood

How Nuxated Iron often Increases the Red Blood Corpuscles and Endurance of Nervous, Weak and Run-Down Men in Two Weeks' Time.

It is the men of blood and iron who master the nerve - racking jobs. They have the strength, power and endurance to overcome obstacles and withstand the strain of long hours and hard work. They are the ones who are chosen for the big positions that pay from $10,000 to $100,000 a year and their red-blooded, tireless energy are what enable them to hold these positions and often become leading figures of industry and commercial life.

In his advice to men on how to build up their bankhead strength and attain greatest success, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly at Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Department), New York, and Westchester County Hospital, says: "The big, successful men I have met are almost always strong physically — men with red blood, rich in iron, men of personality, of the virile power which instantly commands respect. Many an ambitious and able man who could normally rise to the top gives all his thought to his mind and none to his body. He falls just short of winning the $10,000 to $100,000 positions because he doesn't back up his mentality with the physical strength and energy which comes from plenty of iron in the blood. Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical weakling, nervous, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that will power, that stamina and that strength which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. To help make men strong and red-blooded there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. In case after case I have seen Nuxated Iron begin to give a weak, nervous chap entirely new vigor, energy and enthusiasm in only two weeks' time."

"Therefore I strongly advise those who want to fit themselves to resolve and build up their health to get a prescription for organic Iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you do not want to go to this trouble then purchase only Nuxated Iron in its original package, see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken other iron products and failed to get results, remember that such preparations are nothing like Nuxated Iron, which is strongly recommended by many physicians and such notable men as former United States Senator, William E. Mason and Ignace Jan Paderewski, master pianist and Ex. Premier of Poland, and widely known women like Miss Mabel McKinley, niece of late President McKinley and Mrs. James Longstreet, widow of the Civil War General."

Can you stand as much as you ever could or does extra work or loss of sleep one day wear you out the next? Are you beginning to think of yourself as getting old? Do you have off-days when you cannot think clearly, cannot master the problems and when you feel like throwing up everything and getting away from everybody? Do you feel there is something the matter with you and you do not know what?

Then try taking Nuxated Iron, two five grain tablets three times a day after meals for two weeks and see how you are getting back your old energy and ambition, how much stronger you feel and how much more you can do. Nuxated Iron is used by over 3,000,000 people annually to build up red blood, strength and endurance.

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is recommended in this article, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists, and its formula is printed in plain English on every package. It is not a patent medicine in the sense that its secret formula is withheld from the public, but, on the contrary, its complete composition is fully explained, and any druggist will supply you with the genuine product. Actual tests have shown that it will increase the strength of many persons in a remarkably short time. Nuxated Iron is now sold by druggists throughout the United States and Canada under a definite guarantee of satisfactory results or your money back. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

This Man Gets $100,000 A Year because he backs up his brains with the physical strength and energy that come from plenty of iron in his blood.

If you are not as successful as you'd like to be—if you lack force and stamina—try Nuxated Iron and watch its strength-giving effect.

Like Atlas of Old

the successful business man of today is a man of blood and iron, easily able to carry his burden of responsibility.

Do You Wish You Had a Car Like This?

The men with the red blood and strength to get and hold the big positions of life, also get the luxuries of life. To help make men strong and red-blooded there is nothing so effective as Nuxated Iron, physicians say.

In the Spring Time

Any fool knows enough to carry an umbrella when it rains, but the wise man is he who carries one when it is only cloudy. Any man will send for a doctor when he gets bedfast, but the wiser one is he who adopts proper measures before his ills become serious. During a hard winter or the following spring one finds run-down, tired out, weak and nervous. Probably you have suffered from a cold, the Grip or flu, which has left you thin, weak and pale. This is the time to put your system in order. It is time for house-cleaning.

A good, old-fashioned alterative and temperance tonic is one made of wild roots and barks, without the use of alcohol, and called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form. This is nature's tonic, which restores the tone of the stomach, activity of the liver and steadiness to the nerves, strengthening the whole system. First put up by Dr. Pierce over 50 years ago, now procurable at any drug store; or send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory, Bridgeburg, Ont., for trial package.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

FIVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO SCHOOL CHILDREN WERE FOUND TO BE DEFECTIVE

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION—MONTHLY MEETING HELD LAST EVENING.

Business of minor importance only was dealt with at the meeting of the Board of Education held last evening, and all matters were put through expeditiously by the members present—Messrs. R. Denne (in the chair), J. W. Worth, J. M. Greene, E. G. Patterson, J. A. McKone, A. A. Fowler, G. O. Cameron, and Dr. Neal.

Scout Uniforms.

A communication was read from the principal of the King Edward School asking that the Board of Education have thirty of the uniforms given recently to the Cadet Corps of the school altered to fit the younger boys.

Mr. A. A. Fowler, however, reminded the Board that at the Collegiate Institute the boys had been given similar uniforms, and that the parents of the boys had attended to any alterations.

"They have a Mothers' Club down there," Mr. Denne remarked, "and I think we had best leave it to them."

On the motion of Mr. Greene, seconded by Mr. J. W. Worth, it was decided to take no action, but leave it to the principal to settle the matter of alterations.

Yearly Appropriation.

The matter of a yearly appropriation of $60.00 to all schools having two baseball teams and $50.00 to the others, to be expended upon sport equipment at the principals' discretion, was left to the Supervision Committee.

Defective Wiring.

The Board was advised by the Fire Underwriters' Association of defective wiring at the Collegiate Institute, the Central School, and the Queen Alexandra School.

Protect Gardens.

Acting on the request of the City Planning Committee, Mr. J. W. Worth asked the Board that school gardens should be inaugurated in order to arouse interest in gardening amongst the pupils, and incidentally teach them to discontinue cutting lawns and uprooting bulbs.

Mr. Denne said that the matter had been taken up previously by the Board with Mr. Mowat, and it had been thought better to give the seed to the children to garden at home.

Mr. Worth moved that the Inspector be asked to warn the pupils to discontinue destroying property by cutting corners, etc.

School Attendance Officer.

The report of the school attendance officer, Mr. F. Miller, showed 29 absentees during the month—20 due to mumps and whooping cough, 2 truants, since returned, 2 Police Court cases, now on suspended sentence, and 5 kept at home by parents.

School Nurse.

The report of the school nurse, Miss May Jory, showed that of 657 examinations of school children made by herself and the school doctor since November last, 592 had been found defective, and of these only 257 had been corrected. During the month she had found 20 cases of scabies, 7 of vermin, 3 smallpox, 6 mumps, 2 diphtheria cases, and had made 35 calls.

Month's Attendance.

The attendance at the schools during the past month showed a decided improvement from that of the month previous:

	On Roll.	Aver. Attend.
Collegiate Institute	368	341
King Edward	538	466
Central	498	442
Queen Mary	467	420
South Central	493	398
Queen Alexandra	344	316
King George	315	280

Other Communications.

A letter was received from Miss Gladys Collinson asking for a position on the Public School staff, and from Miss Vera Porteous, accepting the position of office assistant at the Collegiate Institute.

Accounts Confirmed.

It was moved by E. G. Patterson, seconded by A. A. Fowler, that the payment of the following accounts be confirmed:

Grip, Influenza

Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Reliable, Antiseptic Preventive

During influenza epidemics spray the nose and throat several times a day with one part Wizard Oil and two parts water, using an atomizer. If you haven't an atomizer, gargle the throat and snuff the mixture up the nose. This treatment sets up an antiseptic wall of defense against "Flu" germs.

Chest colds and sore throat lead to grip. Stop them at once with Wizard Oil before they can develop into dangerous influenza.

GEORGE STREET LADIES' AID MEET

REPORT ON THE ACTIVITIES OF THE PAST YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the George Street Church was held in the Church Parlour yesterday afternoon.

Reports on the activities of the various committees were read, showing the past year to have been one of the most successful in the history of the society.

Too much cannot be said for the manner in which the work of the year was conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. C. E. Smith, and a vote of appreciation to that effect was tendered Mrs. Smith by the members of the society present.

It is predicted that her successor in office, Mrs. Foote, will, however, ably fill the vacated position. The officers elected for the ensuing year were:

President—Mrs. H. Foote.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. B. Shortly.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. J. Long.
Secretary—Mrs. G. C. Staples.
Corresponding Secretary — Miss Higgins.
Treasurer—Mrs. S. A. Oke.
Pianist—Mrs. P. Hagerman.

While the ballots were being counted, the Misses Mary and Isabel Gardiner sang and Miss McCamus gave a reading.

Complete Understanding.

LONDON, April 7. — Pall Mall Gazette says it understands that important conversations have occurred between Andrew Bonar Law, government spokesman, and Premier Millerand on occupation by French troops of the neutral zone before the bridgehead of Mayence and that a complete understanding now exists between the French and British goverments. Nature of the conversations has not been made public.

SICK HEADACHES CONSTIPATION

If you have suffered from constipation for years, tried doctors and all the remedies you ever heard or read of, without getting relief, if you have been subject to all the miseries associated with constipation, such as sick and bilious headaches, biliousness, specks floating before the eye, water brash, heartburn, jaundice and the painful, troublesome, internal, bleeding or protruding piles, etc., wouldn't you consider it a blessing to be able to keep the bowels in a good healthy condition and prevent disease getting a foothold on your system.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are indicated just for this purpose; their regular use relieving the worst cases of constipation.

Mrs. Malcolm McDermid, Cranton Station, N.S., writes:—"I have been sick for a number of years with sick headaches and constipation. I tried all kinds of doctor's medicine, but none did me any good. I tried Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and after using four vials I am completely cured and would heartily recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Take a Real Ride in the Cleveland, and You'll Know What a Car It Is

The Cleveland Six, the sensation of the year among light sixes, is selling itself to thousands who use discrimination in picking out the car they want.

To attempt to describe the qualities of the Cleveland Six is no easy task. You must ride in it to know it. Take a real ride and you begin to understand that here is a better light six, very much better. It has an enclosed over-head valve motor, of exclusive Cleveland design and manufacture and tested in road work for three years before being offered the public, that gives performance unsurpassed.

A real ride will show you, better than can be told you, that the Cleveland has power and pick-up and flexibility and ease of driving that do not come with many other cars. Low-hung spring suspension and splendidly upholstered cushions wipe out the road-bumps. Beautiful body lines place the Cleveland above the usual plans in appearance. Upholstery is of genuine hand-buffed leather.

Come let us show you what a car the Cleveland is

Dresses of Silk or Their Next of Kin, Georgette, for Afternoon Wear

THEY are not ordinary, nor are they mediocre, for materials with such lustre and colors of such elegance, when crowned by the magic touch of expert designers, raise themselves far above the average. We feel justified in speaking of them in laudatory terms, for they are indeed praiseworthy.

IF SPEAKING OF THIS GARMENT in general, the description would be: King's Blue in colour, Satin and Georgette combined. The Bodice of the latter and the Skirt a combination of both. The Satin used for a wide diagonal band around the bottom and continuing up mid-way, and the sleeves ¾ length. But there is more to it than that. The Georgette is printed with dainty wreaths of Pink and Green. The back is panelled with Satin, there is a wide girdle, a sash at the back, the cuffs open at the side instead of the bottom, and the neck is round. It is priced at $69.75.

TAUPE GEORGETTE was never more alluringly arranged or patterned. There are Floral Motifs done with Blue, Fawn, and Henna coloured Silk Embroidery, and outlined with Black Jet. They are on both Skirt and Bodice, and just enough and not more. The wide girdle is in sash style, and from it is suspended an elegant tassel and a pendant of Chenile. The sleeves are ¾ length and the cuffs are flared. The price is $75.00.

BLACK HAS INFINITE CHARM when properly treated, and many people find it hard to resist. This model of Black Charmeuse has Black Georgette side drapes that extend from the shoulders and come to within a few inches of the hem where they are elaborately and deeply embroidered with heavy Black Silk and Gold Workings and Gold. The girdle is narrow and of Black Satin, and from it is suspended a beautiful Black and Gold Tassel. The ¾ sleeves are Georgette and similarly Embroidered. The price is $72.00.

The Accordion Pleated Skirt Is Enjoying Great Popularity

THIS MODEL IS ACCORDION PLEATED and is of Botany Serge, with a woven pattern of three-inch circular bands. One is of Delf Blue and the other Cream, with two narrow stripes of Henna. They alternate in their order in the pattern. The Girdle is wide, and has two narrow stripes of Henna. Priced at $35.00.

IT IS ACCORDION PLEATED and of Botany Serge, and the colour is the time-honoured and ever-popular Navy Blue. The Trimming consists of three groups of ¼-inch Black Military Braid and three rows in each group. They run all around in circular fashion, and each group is at equal intervals. The wide girdle is also trimmed with Military Braid. The price is $32.00.

RUSH FOR SUMMER COTTAGES IN CANADA BY THIRSTY AMERICANS

REPRESENTATIVES OF CANADIAN RAILWAYS REPORT AN UNUSUALLY BRISK DEMAND FOR COTTAGES IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK.—"It looks as though there was going to be a slump in summer cottages on this side of the line in spite of the scarcity of housing accommodation," a local real estate man said recently. "Why should a man spend a totally 'dry' vacation in some American summer resort when he can go up to Canada at practically the same expense and enjoy cooling summer beverages of the good old-fashioned kind?" he queried by way of explaining his previoues statement.

This real estate man reports a rush of inquiries regarding the Canadian summer resorts. He declares that many wealthy New Yorkers have already obtained options on cottages at Canadian resorts and will send their families to them and run up themselves as often during the summer as their business permits and thirst or inclination impels.

Representatives of Canadian railways here also report an unusually active demand for information regarding summer resorts in Canada and they look for a greatly increased exodus of Americans to the Dominion this summer for temporary residence. While they hesitate to attribute this to a general desire to escape the drought, they report that they had met New Yorkers who frankly admitted that they wished to spend their holidays where they could obtain stimulating refreshment without taking a chance on wood-alcohol.

Evidently many Canadians are alive to the possibilities of the situation. Recent Sunday editions of New York newspapers contained an advertisement of a summer cottage near Toronto to rent. It was not the charm of the scenery, the near-by golf course, the pleasant neighborhood or the advantage of all modern conveniences that was emphasized in the advertising. "No prohibition restrictions" was the inducement offered to prospective tenants. And if the local railwaymen and real estate agents are correct, that ad. most likely brought a lot of applications to the owner of the cottage.

ATTENDED THE W.O.W. DANCE

FANCY COSTUMES WORN BY YOUNG PEOPLE.

About one hundred and twenty-five couples attended the masquerade dance and card party given last evening by the Woodmen of the World in the W. O. W. Hall, and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all present. The costumes worn by the young people were exceptionally ingenious, and represented everything from a Bolshevist to Beau Brummell, and practically every country. While no prizes were given, the costume which was perhaps the best was that of "Grandma," represented by Mr. T. Rhyne. Dancing, with music supplied by Tucker's orchestra, kept up till about 2 o'clock, and dainty refreshments were served during the evening.

BENEFIT RESULTS OF BELL TELEPHONE CO.

COMPANY WILL INAUGURATE A NUMBER OF CHANGES IN PRESENT SCHEME.

Sickness disability benefits, $111,065.68; death benefits, $19,991.97; accident disability benefits, $15,016.53; pensions, $6,109.28—these are some of the payments made for the year 1919 from the Employees' Benefit Fund of the Bell Telephone Company.

The Benefit Fund Commttees report just published is an interesting document. It shows gross payments to employees from the benefit fund in 1919, of $158,602.02.

"During the year," says the report, "there was a total of 1665 sickness cases in which benefits were paid. This is 523 cases less than in 1918. The total days of disability were 68,488 days during 1919—only 273 days less than in 1918—which indicates that the sickness cases in 1919 were of longer duration, and that in the large number of influenza cases which helped to swell the total in 1918, the absence was of very short duration. In 1918, with 2,188 sickness cases, $102,962.67 was paid in benefits. In 1919, with only 1665 sickness cases $111,065.68 was paid in benefits. The increase is due to the higher average wage of the employees."

In accordance with the recommendation of the committee, the company has established a Medical Department in connection with the Employees' Pension and Benefit Plan and Dr. G. A. Winters has been appointed to take charge of it as "Medical Adviser" with headquarters at Montreal. Dr. Winters will review all medical certificates and medical examination forms.

It is the intention of the company to inaugurate some form of physical or medical examination of new employees. It is considered that such procedure is very desirable, both for the protection of the employees already in the service and to ensure new employees being given work for which they are physically fitted. Should such examination disclose minor ailments or a tendency thereto the new employee would be made aware of the conditions and advised to consult his or her physician, in order that early treatment might prevent the ailment becoming serious. Valuable and disinterested advice has already been given to employees through this channel.

The fund, which now stands at $500,000, is maintained by the company without contributions of any kind from the employees.

GEN. KUROPATKIN SOVIET GOVERNOR

APPOINTMENT FOLLOWS HIS CAPTURE BY THE BOLSHEVIKI.

LONDON, April 7.—General Kuropatkin, commander-in-chief of the Czar's Imperial Armies during the Russian-Japanese war, has been appointed Bolshevik Governor of Turkestan. His appointment by the Lenine Government follows his capture by the Bolsheviks when he was acting as Turkestan Governor under the old regime. He was condemned to death by the revolutionaries, and his personal popularity with his soldiers was the only thing that saved him from being shot.

Kuropatkin is the second of the Imperialist generals to accept service under the Bolshevik banner. General Brussiloff, hero of Russia's brilliant 1916 campaign, was the first to take up the "Red" cause and became an army commande. Kuropatkin, now 73 years old, is said to be an avowed disciple of the Bolshevik doctrine.

War Gave Him Chance.

For his failure in the Russian-Japanese war, Kuropatkin was sent into obscure retirement and was almost an exile when the great war broke out. He appealed to the Czar for a command, however humble, and received a division. By sheer merit he rose again to the rank of an army group commander.

Because he launched a fruitless and sanguinary offensive in the lake district southeast of Dvinsk, he was again removed from the front, going to Turkestan as Governor. There followed his arrest as a counter-revolutionist and his subsequent conversion to Bolshevik principles.

REV. SAWERS WILL REMAIN.

At a meeting with his advisory committee on Wednesday, Rev. F. J. Sawers, Rector of St. Peter's, discussed the matter of his invitation to vacate and we are pleased to say that he has his parish to take up editorial work, decided to stay in Cobourg. The proposed appointment was a desirable and responsible one, as Mr. Sawers was offered the editorial work for the Anglican Sunday School publications in Canada. His many friends however are very pleased to know that he has decided to continue his parish work here.—Cobourg World.

OPERATIONS WERE CAUSE OF DEATH

Soldier Was Shot Full of Glass in Halifax Explosion.

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, April 7.—Private John Halpin, of Montreal, who was so anxious to get overseas that he tried to enlist in seven different battalions, but was refused on account of being unable to pass the physical examination, died here, leaving a wife and four children. Nothing daunted by being repeatedly turned down, Halpin finally managed to get into the Forestry Battalion, but on reaching Halifax, en route to France, he was seriously injured in the big explosion which took place at that time. His body was shot full of glass and since then he has been going to different hospitals having the glass extracted by degrees. The numerous operations, however, proved fatal and he succumbed to his injuries last night.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

MONEY PAID TO THE SPOTTERS IN PETERBORO

The Ontario Board of License Commissioners is ready to pay handsomely any "informer" who will give information upon which the authorities can secure a conviction for a breach of the Ontario Temperance Act. The fact that the Board makes a practise of paying "informers" was revealed by Chairman J. D. Flavelle in giving evidence before the Public Accounts Committee. Mr. Flavelle stated that the amounts paid averaged about $40 or $25 and the Board took into consideration the amount secured in fines, in fixing the compensation. Under questioning by H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., the chairman admitted that a sum of $200, or ten per cent. of the fines collected, had been paid to an informer in Peterboro. Mr. Flavelle pointed out, however, that this was an exceptional case, and that the Board had only paid the amount to back up its inspector in an arrangement he had made.

GUEST OF HONOUR.

The following from the Moose Jaw Times refers to a former Lakefield resident:—Elwood L. Cox, D.S., was the guest of honour of the Moose Jaw Dental Asociation at a banquet held Saturday evening in the Empress Hotel ,at which the local practitioners testified to the high esteem in which Dr. Cox is held in this city. Mr. Cox is going to Vancouver where he will specialize in exodontia. Dr. Lane, president of the Dental Society, presided and acted as toastmaster and the evening was spent in speeches, stories and music. Dr. F. C. Hardwood, on behalf of the Dental Society, presented Dr. Cox with a handsome solid gold watch fob and locket, suitably engraved. Many speakers referred to Dr. Cox in a most complimentary manner. Dr. Withrope, of Saskatoon, and Dr. Fasker, of Regina, were also present.

DEMPSEY-WILLARD BOUT AT THE ALLEN TO-NIGHT

For the first time within virtually a decade, followers of the boxing game in Peterborough are to have a chance to-night, in an extra performance at The Allen at 10.30, to see screened a full and complete reproduction of a championship boxing match. The opportunity comes through permission being given by the local Government for the presentation, in aid of a returned soldiers' organisation, of the very last such engagement, the meeting of Dempsey and Willard at Toledo.

Five full reels are shown, running upwards of an hour and a half, and inasmuch as the light was especially good on the occasion of this great contest, and the match throughout was full of action, the complete picture is recognised as perhaps the best of its kind that has ever been made. In addition to running the full official animated record of the match, it is intended to give a second run of the first and most rapid round, in what film followers know as "retarded time." This is for the purpose of enabling all devotees of boxing to follow even better than those who were actually present at Toledo, the exact progress of the bout, and the way in which each and every blow and neat bit of footwork or tactical move was made.

THE CENTRAL LEAGUE EXECUTIVE TO MEET

The Central League executive will meet in Oshawa on Tuesday, April 13th, at 2.30 o'clock for the purpose of adopting a schedule. It is safe that the draft as prepared by Secretary Nott will be turned down.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE 4TH BATTERY IS LOCATED HERE

CAPTAIN DOUGLAS HUYCKE MAY BE COMMANDING OFFICER.

To the boys who fought in France with the 4th Battery it will be glad tidings to know that the new battery which is being organized in Peterboro will be known as the 4th Battery, adopting a name which is covered with the traditions of all of the big battles and "shows" of the war from Ypres 1915 to the end of the war. Peterboro is honored in being assigned as the home of this battery in recognition of her many sons who served with it.

The re-organizing of batteries throughout Canada has been going on since January and under Major-General Sir E. W. B. Morrison, deputy inspector general for artillery for the Dominion. Much progress has been made and great success met with by the units. Major General Morrison was in the city to-day in connection with the re-organization.

The guns for these batteries which have arrived in Canada, carry with them many traditions for nearly all saw service in France. Four eighteen pounders with two ammunition waggons and other equipment form the Peterboro quota, which should arrive in a few weeks.

A meeting of overseas artillery officers was held and the enthusiasm displayed is a good augury of the successful reorganization of the battery here. In all probability Capt. E. Douglas Huycke will be commanding officer. It is expected that the battery will be completely organized and on sound footing to go to camp at Petawawa in June, the first camp held there since 1914. The battery will have a strength of 107 with 5 officers proposed to have the officers of the battery and all other officers on the Corps Reserve so that there will always be reserve officers to call on in any emergency.

There will be three batteries comprising the 4th brigade, one at Peterboro, Belleville and Cobourg. Throughout Canada the gunners who were overseas have joined the batteries with enthusiasm and taken up the work with great zeal. Many young men who were too young to enlist have joined too and are anxious to join the batteries which have a famous and historical record in the great war and it is expected that the 4th Battery should attract many young men to their ranks.

AN ENEMY OF MANKIND

A Subtle Foe to Deal With

The subtle, unsuspected enemy, which, taking hold on the kidneys, saps them of their strength and vitality, rendering them inactive and unable to remove the poisons and waste substances from the blood, should immediately be dealt with. All who suffer from backache, pains in the sides, sciatica, rheumatism, neuralgia, constant headaches, constipation, that helpless feeling of lassitude; stiff, swollen joints, hands and ankles, sore muscles, sleeplessness, floating specks before the eyes, irritability, should at once begin treating the kidneys with Gin Pills, which are by far the most effective remedy for diseases of this vital organ.

The first sign of pain in the back or side is warning enough. Do not delay. Once the kidneys and bladder get out of order, most serious, and often fatal consequences are likely to follow in quick sequence. Get a box of Gin Pills today, and correct the derangement before it is too late. At all druggists or dealers, 50c. Money refunded if not satisfied. Free sample on request.

SICK HEADACHE For Last 10 Years

Headaches affect all ages and both sexes alike, but in all cases the treatment should be directed to remove the cause for with the cause removed the headaches vanish for all time.

What is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of all descriptions than Burdock Blood Bitters acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Flora Hall, Dominion, N.S., writes:—"I have been troubled with sick headaches for the last ten years. I had lost faith in all remedies until recently a friend of mine advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. This I did, and found relief in a very short time. I would now recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is suffering as I did. I only took 3 bottles, and am never troubled with sick headaches anymore."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"PLEASE GET MARRIED"

"Please Get Married," Oliver Morosco's successful farce that ran for six months in New Pork last season at the Little and Fulton Theatres, will be the attraction at the Grand Theatre on Thursday evening.

The piece is the joint work of James Cullen and Lewis Allen Browne, and these two capable playwrights have woven a charming and decidedly humorous story around the two central characters, who, by the way, are newly married—or rather, they think they are. The many complications that develop while they are honeymooning keep the players on the stage in a hustle continually to straighten matters out affording the audience in the meantime an abundance of fun.

If all the world loves a lover, and there is a popular superstition to that effect, then all the world must adore a couple of married lovers on the very threshold of their happiness. The same mundane sphere must occasionally think of those dulcet moments when the newly-weds first realised that they were alone, and only the hypocritical world will pretend that it doesn't. And it is this scene in that new farce of hilarious honeymoon happenings, "Please Get Married," the scene in which he and she start their honeymoon dash, which gives to the farce its most unique idea.

The story of the piece, briefly, is that Ferdinand Oliver Walton wants to marry Muriel Ashley, who wants to marry him. The young lady's parents desire the marriage, but Ferdinand's father, who has been married twice, neither time taking, is against the thing. To frustrate the elopement, Walton, Sr., bribes the clergymen in the immediate surrounding country, and thinks he has staved off the inevitable. As a matter of fact, the Ashley bungalow is burglarised and a clergyman suffering from amnesia, who is one of the burglars, performs the ceremony. The young people's parents believe there has been no marriage, and then ensue frantic efforts to have a regular ceremony performed before the night shall have passed.

The play was reviewed in New York as being the only clean, wholesome bedroom farce of last season's product.

WEDDING BELLS

SANDERSON—EDMISON.

The George street Methodist Church was the scene of a quiet wedding on Tuesday, April 6th, at 11 a.m., when Miss Nina, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Edmison, Chemong Road, Smith, was united in marriage to Mr. Clayton A. Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Sanderson, also of Smith. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Thomas.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Helen Edmison, of Toronto, while Mr. Harvey Sanderson, a brother of the groom, acted as best man.

After a sumptuous wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents, the happy couple left on the 3.20 p.m. train for Toronto, and Western Ontario. On their return they will reside in Smith.

AUSTIN—KNIGHT.

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place in Toronto on Saturday, April 3rd, 1920, when Rev. Mr. Schutt, of the Baptist Church, united in marriage Mr. Robert Wallace Austin of Peterboro, to Miss Estella May Knight, of Toronto.

The bride was dressed in a navy blue serge suit with hat to match, and carried white roses.

The bride was attended by Miss May Younger of Toronto, and the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Henry J. Austin of Peterboro.

The young couple will reside in Peterboro.

REID—HURST.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. John's Church this morning at 11 o'clock, when Arthur B. Reid, son of Mrs. Benjamin Chambers, late of the Children's Shelter, was united in marriage to Miss Marie Emma Hurst by Ven. Archdeacon Davidson.

Mr. Richard Devey played the organ, and the bridal couple were attended by Grace Nicholls and William Reid. The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Hurst, of Auburn, and looked very pretty in her beautiful wedding gown.

There were a large number of guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurst left on the 3.20 C.P.R. train for Toronto, and on their return from their honeymoon, will reside in Peterborough.

OBITUARY

HARVEY VON KOUGHNET.

After a lingering illness Mr. Harvey Van Koughnet passed away on Monday at his late residence, 205 Sherbourne street. The late Mr. Van Koughnet was in his 72nd year and was a member of Sherbourne street Methodist church. He was born in Napanee and for a time was a shipbuilder. Later he entered the grocery business and retired some years ago. He is survived by his widow, five sons, George and James of Napanee, John of Toronto, and Will and Harvey; three daughters, Mrs. H. Armstrong of Napanee, Mrs. Smith of Toronto and another daughter in Peterborough, survive him.—Toronto Star.

MRS. ROBT. B. STOTT.

At Toronto, on Monday, April 5th, 1920, Margaret Fair, relict of the late Robert B. Stott, formerly of Port Hope and Cobourg.

Funeral service at the residence of her son, W. F. Stott, 180 Symington ave., Tuesday evening, April 6th, at 8.30 o'clock. Interment Port Hope, Ont., Wednesday, April 7th, from A. George & Son's Funeral Chapel.

THOMAS CRAWFORD IRWIN.

The passing away on Tuesday afternoon of the late Thomas C. Irwin, of 504 Stewart street, removes one of the oldest of well respected citizens of Peterborough. At the time of deceased's death he was in the 72nd year of his age, and had been a continuous resident in this city for nearly half a century. He was well known during these years as an experienced builders and contractor, and his services were frequently sought after in superintending the installing of heavy machinery in large factories and manufacturing plants. For many years he was employed by the City Council and the Town Trust Commissioners in the work in connection with the remodeling of the city offices and market buildings, much of which of late years having been done under his superintendence.

About ten months ago, while engaged on a portion of the roof of the market buildings in rear of Coleman's store, the ladder he was using slipped from under him and he fell heavily to the pavement. He was conveyed home in a partly unconscious condition, suffering from severe sprains and bruises, from which he never fully recovered, and to which, it is believed, his recent illness and death was due.

The deceased was characterized by a straightforward honesty of purpose. He was a good citizen, a true friends, always ready to do a good turn in a kindly spirit to anyone in need of help or relief. He was a member of Peterborough Lodge of Freemasons, and his brethren of that order have arranged to assist at the funeral on Thursday afternoon.

The deceased's wife and faithful companion for forty-seven years, and three married daughters remain to bear the bereavement which his demise has occasioned. The daughters are, Mrs. Alfred Lancashire, of this city, Mrs. (Dr.) J. M. Guilick, of El Passo, Ill., and Mrs. E. T. Adams, of Scotfield, Alberta. They will have the sympathy of many friends in the city and elsewhere, to whom the family have become endeared by personal and social attachments and their Christian character.

The funeral will leave the family residence, 504 Stewart street, on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Private service at 2 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Rollins, of St. Andrew's, followed by the Masonic service.

SEVERE FIGHTING TOOK PLACE BETWEEN THE REDS AND GOVERNMENT FORCES

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY KILLED AND MANY WOUNDED —MATERIAL DAMAGE CONSIDERABLE.

REDS CAPTURED

United Press.

ESSEN, April 8. — Severe fighting took place here and at Bochum yesterday between the Government forces and the Red Guards.

At Essen the last important Red centre, fell into the hands of the government troops on Tuesday afternoon after fighting in the suburbs. Desultory fighting is still in progress in the rural communities in this neighborhood, where the material damage is said to be considerable.

During the last few days the Red rule in Essen degenerated into indiscriminate looting. The losses of the Reichswehr up to Sunday are given as 170 killed, 346 wounded and 126 missing.

GAS SHELLS USED.

Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 8. — German regular troops have bombarded Dusseldorf with gas shells, according to a report from Mayence to Matin.

The reports that Great Britain and the United States had called upon France to withdraw her troops from Frankfort, are entirely without any foundation, it was announced in an official note issued to-day. "Certain agencies, inspired by Germany, and some neutral countries, that England and the United States had summoned France yesterday to remove her troops from Frankfort. This report which was evidently intended to be misleading and which produced certain effervescence in the newly occupied regions yesterday, is absolutely without foundation."

(United Press.)

PARIS, April 8th. — The 147th Regiment has entrained to reinforce the French garrisons along the Rhine, it was learned to-day.

CROWDS BROKE LOOSE.

Canadian Press.

FRANKFORT, April 8. — Yesterday afternoons clash in Schillerplate, resulting in the killing of six Germans and the wounding of about 40 others, was followed by a strong display of military force which soon resulted in the restoration of order.

The rumor that the French were ordered to withdraw their troops began the trouble, the crowd jeering at the Sengalese patrolling in front of the guard house on the square.

The order of the French officer to withdraw was ignored by the crowd, and a machine gun was then brought into play. Reinforcements were then brought up by the French, four tanks between solid columns of soldiers rolling in ready for action. Troops with fixed bayonets cleared the way and a rear guard followed.

The German police aided in the action taken to restore order and stationing groups at strategic points to control the crowds.

A Collision.

It is reported from Coblenz that there has been a collision of French and German patrols between Bad Navheim and Nieder Wollstadt, north of Homeburg. In exchange of shots German officer was wounded. Report is unconfirmed.

Merciless repression by Reichwehr forces in the Ruhr basin is reported by fugitives arriving in Frankfort, according to Mayence despatch to Journal Des-Bats. Fugitives allege they witnessed shooting of all Westphalians who laid down their arms.

Germany Opposes Advance

UNITED STATES DOES NOT SHARE FRENCH VIEWPOINT ON THE OCCUPATION.

HOPEFUL VIEW

By Carl D. Groat.
(United Press.)

BERLIN, April 8.— An American member of the High Rhineland Commission has informed the German government that the United States does not share the French viewpoint on the occupation of the Rhine cities, it was said here last night.

German opposition to Marshal Foch's move was stiffening. The Government appealed to the Inter-Allied Commission for prolongation of the agreement of last August, which allowed Germany to keep twenty battalions in the Ruhr district (the so-called neutral zone) until April 10. The Government urged the necessity of keeping troops in the disordered area until July 10, after which the Allies could decide upon measures to police the district.

Policing of the Ruhr district was proceeding according to plan, officials said. Organized opposition of the Communist forces practically had been overcome.

The government contended, however, that anarchy was sure to follow if the troops were withdrawn Saturday, the time limit set by the protocol.

Newspapers continued their bitter attacks upon France to-day, but took a more hopeful view of the situation because neither Great Britain nor Italy had offered any statement supporting the French course.

STRANGE CASE IN OSGOODE HALL

COUPLE KEPT COMPANY FOR 18 YEARS.

(Special to the Examiner).

TORONTO, April 8.— To have "kept company" for 18 years in the hope that they might save enough on which to marry, and then to have suddenly and unexpectedly come into a fortune of $20,000 was the story revealed in a trial judgment delivered by Justice Lennox at Osgoode Hall to-day.

Miss Louie Kelley and John Goodall of Hamilton had been friends for years, both were working and trying to save enough that they might live in comfortable circumstances when they married. In 1919 a brother, Robert Goodall, died in North Dakota leaving no will, so that by the laws of the state his $20,000 fortune became the property of his mother, Mrs. Jane Goodall, aged 91. On a visit to her son, John, in Hamilton, she settled the whole sum upon him.

Miss Kelley and Mr. Goodall were married on September 30, 1919, but before the wedding, Miss Kelley says that Goodall agreed to give her the house they had purchased and half of the $20,000. Mrs. Goodall claimed that she contributed $1,000 she had saved towards the cost of a house in Hamilton.

But on September 2, 1919, Goodall had made a will bequeathing $4,000 to his mother and $3,000 each to his brothers and sisters, and the residue of the estate to his wife.

Goodall died on October 2, 1920. His wife then brought suit to have enforced the terms of the agreement she said he had made, giving her the house and half of the estate. But Mr. Justice Lennox did not think that she could succeed, so he dismissed her action.

THE WEATHER

During the last few days there have been some falls of snow, and yesterday morning the snow plows made their appearance. This is not so unseasonable as many people seem to think. Last year we had snow on April 24th and 25th, and the year previous on April 18th. Even these late dates are hardly to be compared with May 4, 1907, when there was a good 6 inches of the beautiful on the level. May 6, 1885, also provided 6 inches of snow. Ruskin, the well known English author, in one of his works, gives expression to his views on weather in the following sentence: "Sunshine is delicious, snow is exhilarating; there is no such a thing as bad weather—only different kinds of good weather." It is well to have the optimistic spirit.—W. P.

BRISK DEMAND FOR HAY ON THE MARKET

Some Farmers Bring Two Loads a Day to Peterboro.

From the hay that is being sold on the market these days the hay market apears to be moving freely, and at $25 and $26 a ton, the farmers are making a few greenbacks on days inclement to spring work. Farmers living near the city draw two loads a day which are sure to net them over $50, no unwelcome addition to the family income these days. In Western Ontario and in the Niagara Peninsula hay is bringing $34 and $35 a ton, whereas before the war and within the memory of everyone it sold for $4 and $5.

STORE OFFICERS HELD MEETING

PETERBORO INSTITUTION THAT HAS MADE GREAT PROGRESS.

Another milestone in their fifteen years of progress and continued success has ben passed by the J. M. Greene Music Co., of Peterborough —an institution that has grown from a small and inconspicuous beginning to be the leading musical instrument company of Central and Eastern Ontario, having the head office in this city and branches in Lindsay, Belleville and Kingston.

Yesterday their annual convention of branch managers and salesmen was held, when five managers and salesmen convened with the six local salesmen and heads of the company to discuss business conditions and company matters of mutual benefit to all.

For some ten years this has been an annual event, and has done a great deal in advancing the firm to its present position. Co-operation and a better understanding amongst the managers and salesmen grow out of these get-together meetings held in conjunction with the general meeting of the company, which was held last evening, and the staff leave after the convention with increased confidence in themselves and th firm which they are proud to represent.

The get-together meeting in the afternoon was followed by a dinner at the White House last evening, at the conclusion of which the general meeting was held in the offices of the company.

Annual Report.

President R. C. Braund presided.

Mr. J. M. Greene, general manager, read the annual report, which showed the material increases in business over last year and the advancement the company was making. The co-operation of the staff and their interest in the welfare of the company were deeply appreciated by the management.

The President, in his address, spoke of the progress made, and also paid tribute to the staff.

Other managers who spoke were Mr. George Leader, Mr. J. Goodsell, manager at Belleville, Mr. Wesley Mason, manager of the Lindsay branch, and Mr. J. Johnston, manager of the Kingston branch.

The shares in the company, which are presented to employees who have served for three years or more, are a feature of this company's policy.

Last evening Mr. Goodsell, of Belleville, and his daughter received shares for service, which were presented to them by Vice-president J. T. Braund.

GERMAN BATTLESHIPS FOR ALLIED POWERS

Two More Ships Surrendered to Allies Yesterday.

United Press.

LONDON, April 8. — The German battleships Nassau and Ostfriesland arrived at the Firth of Forth yesterday, thus constituting the complete surrender of the German warships under the terms of the Versailles treaty. Ultimately the Ostfriesland will be turned over to the United States government, and the Admiralty is now awaiting instructions from Washington regarding the date of the vessel's departure for America.

Solution of Fiume

CONCESSIONS ALONG THE DALMATIAN COAST.

United Press.

ROME, April 8. — Premier Nitti and M. Pasitch, the Jugo Slav representative, have reached an agreement for a settlement of the Adriatic controversy under which Fiume would be placed under Italian sovereignty, a Zara despatch says today.

Scutari would be awarded to Jugo Slavia, the despatch said. Abbazia would remain Italian while the Jugo Slavs would be given concessions along the Dalmatian coast.

M. Trumbich, the Jugo Slav Minister of Foreign Affairs, opposed the solution the despatch said, and was backed by the Croatian Slovene elements in Jugo Slavia.

Prime Minister Lloyd George however, was reported to have endorsed it.

BUSINESS GIRLS FANCY DRESS DANCE

INTERESTING PROGRAMME WAS PROVIDED.

One of the most successful entertainments given yet by the Business Girls' Club, was the fancy dress dance held last evening in the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium, and the fifty girls present, members of the club and their friends, had a thoroughly enjoyable time. Supper was served in picnic style and proved most acceptable. After supper and a successful dance and programme, to which Miss Jean Herbison contributed some much enjoyed solos, the prizes were awarded to Miss Sherlock as "Robin Hood," best fancy costume, and Miss Gladys Crowe as "Count of No Account," the best comic costume.

Germany Has Ten Evasions

PARIS PRESS BLAMES WILSON FOR PRESENT STATE OF AFFAIRS IN GERMANY.

THE RUHR NOTE

United Press.

PARIS, April 8. — The Paris press to-day continued to blame President Wilson for the entrance of the German Reichswehr into the neutral zone.

Stephen Lausanne, in an interview, said that Wilson's recent foreign policy had been distinctly unsympathetic to France and favorable to Geramny.

"In his Ruhr note," Lausanne said, "the President showed he had no appreciation of France's position."

Lausanne said Germany had already succeeded in ten distinct evasions of the peace treaty and that if France had allowed the eleventh—the occupation of the Ruhr basin—the Versailles pact would have been reduced to a "scrap of paper."

DEATH DUE TO MOTOR ACCIDENT

FUNERAL OF A. G. MORTIMER TO LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY.

The body of the late A. G. Mortimer who died at Buffalo, N.Y., was brought to Peterborough for burial. Mr. Mortimer's death was caused by an automobile accident. At first his friends looked for a speedy recovery, but his injuries proved too great and he succumbed after an illness of six months.

Mr. Mortimer was a former resident of Peterborough and was well known to the older residents of the town. He published the "Canada Lumberman" which later he moved to Toronto and continued to publish in conjunction with other trade papers. For the last twenty years Mr. Mortimer and family have been residents of Buffalo, N.Y. and it was there the funeral services ware conducted. Interment was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mr. Mortimer is survived by his widow and one son, A. W. Mortimer of Buffalo, N.Y.

The deceased was a brother-in-law of Mr. John Holmes of Holmewood Hall, North Monaghan. Funeral private.

POISON CONCEALED IN EASTER SWEETS

Hungarians Attempt to Kill Former Dictator, Bela Kun.

VIENNA, April 8.—An attempt to poison Bel. Kun, former dictator of Hungary, and other Communists interned at Steinhof has been made. The poison was concealed in a gift of Easter sweetmeats. Kun and the others were all made ill, but are recovering.

The gift has been traced to three Hungarians, one of whom has been arrested.

COLORED TROOPS WITH THE FRENCH

One Complete Division is Assigned to Frankfort Alone.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, April 8.—Despatches from Frankfort report an uninterrupted arrival of French troops in that city, and at Hanau, Offenbach, Darmstadt and Koenigstein. It is estimated that troops already on the ground aggregate thirty thousand. Despatches concur in reporting that colored troops predominate in the occupation forces. Completely equipped French division of war proportions has been assigned to Frankfort alone. Its arrival necessitated the cessation of street traffic for many hours.

RESENTS ACTION OF UNITED STATES

CALLS CONGRESSIONAL RESOLUTIONS "GROSS IMPERTINENCE."

(United Press.)

LONDON, Eng. April 8.—Resolutions by the American Congress advocating independence for Ireland were characterized as "Gross impertinence" by the Earl of Selbourne, in a speech at Alton last night.

"There is in Ireland a large body of men actuated by nothing but hatred toward England," the former cabinet minister declared. "Our task is not made easier by the attitude of their own friends with whom we desire only alliance and co-operation.

"We cannot but regard it as a gross impertinence the American Congress passing resolutions interfering with our domestic affairs.

"The sooner American realizes that this interference is resented just as much as they would resent interference in their affairs, the better it will be for mutual understanding."

CONTRACT LET BY C.G.E. FOR AN EXTRA BUILDING.

The C. G. E. have let a contract to Mr. J. E. Hayes for a building which was not contemplated in the extensions promised by the company in their appeal for the renewal of their fixed assessment. Ald. Turner mentioned the fact last night in support of his opinion that Peterboro need hold no fears of declining property values

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS, TOO

"The northern townships thought well of the project to build a radial line from Kinmount to Buckhorn and Peterboro until they discovered that the total value of the whole country wouldn't pay for the cost of the road" said Reeve Shaw of Warsaw at this morning special session of the County Council.

His illuminating comment was elicited by a resolution proposed by Reeve Darling and Deputy-Reeve Wilson to the effect that the Hydro-Electric Commission be memorialized to build an electric railway from Whitby easterly by way of Blackstock, Ballyduff, Bethany and Peterboro and continuing to Warsaw.

The resolution was defeated, not because the Council did not appreciate the advantages of radial lines in this district, but because the burden of the cost would fall upon the municipalities.

Reeve Shaw explained that if such a railway failed to show a profit in three years the expense would be imposed upon the municipalities through which it was built.

Reeve McIntosh advised that no action should be taken for the present. The Provincial Government, he understood, was preparing legislation by which the cost of these radials would be largely assumed by the government. Hence, he regarded the resolution as premature. It might be more favorably received at the June session if the Government's support materialized in the meantime.

Mr. Wilsons' scheme practically coincides with the project advocated by the city's railway committee during John Edgar's chairmanship, except that it contemplates a loop extension from Warsaw to Campbellford to meet a stub radial from Cobourg to Campbellford which is being advocated in the southern county.

Predicts Trouble.

Prefacing his motion with a reference to the Ontario Government's bill regarding consolidated rural schools, Reeve Coughlin of Douro, suggested that the Council forward its opinion on this question to the two Peterboro members.

Reeve McIntosh—What is that opinion?

Reeve McIntosh—I don't know enough about the matter yet to ex-

EFFORTS WILL BE MADE TO PROTECT THE PUBLISHERS

(Special to the Examiner).

OTTAWA, April 8.—It was stated by a member of the Government today that the newsprint price problem would be allowed to drop as a result of the judgment given by the Supreme Court O. M. Biggar K.C., who represented the Government at the investigation of the case in which Price Brothers, were involved will return to the capital to-morrow for a conference with the minister. There is a possibility of some legislative enactment to control the situation and protect Canadian publishers who are now practically at the mercy of the manufacturers of newsprint.

CITY WILL ISSUE BONDS TO STIMULATE HOUSING

LOANS WILL BE MADE THROUGH THE HOUSING COMMISSION TO CITIZENS WHO APPLY—DEBENTURES WILL BE SOLD ONLY AS NEEDED—MAXIMUM IS $200,000.

THE COUNCIL HAS BEEN CAUTIOUS

To relieve the scarcity of houses in Peterborough—by encouraging the citizens to build for themselves, the Council in Committee of the Whole last night decided to issue debentures up to $200,000, the money thus borrowed at 6 per cent. to be loaned by the local Housing Commission, and the work to be carried out under the provisions of the Ontario Housing Act.

This action, after three months' deliberation and careful investigation of the accomplishments of other cities in this Province, accorded with the recommendation of the committee appointed at the public meeting in the Board of Trade Rooms last week, at which a resolution was passed urging the Council to provide assistance for those citizens who desired to take advantage of the Provincial scheme.

Although the Government has announced that it cannot extend new credit to the municipalities this year, Mr. Gillespie, chairman of the deputation that waited on the Council, said that there was every assurance that the Government would guarantee local bonds.

A Guarantee of Efficiency.

Peterborough's Housing Commission is composed of Mayor McIntyre, James Finnie, and Frank H. Dobbin. The fact that His Worship and Mr. Finnie are both contractors, practical builders of long experience, is regarded by the Council as an asset that should appeal to applicants for the funds that will be at the disposal of the Commission, and that will give them every confidence in the administration of the Act in Peterborough. Mr. Dobbin is also considered an excellent choice, especially as an executive. He and Mayor McIntyre visited many of the Western cities of the Province that availed themselves of the Government's aid last year, and his report of his observations and inquiries shows a balance of successes and failures that should be a valuable guide to local enterprise.

The members of the deputation that conveyed the request of the public meeting were Messrs. G. A. Gillspie, J. W. Fraser, G. O. Cameron, F. H. Dobbin, W. R. Breyfogle, and Thomas Barrie.

Mr. Gillespie briefly stated that the consensus of the citizens who had attended the public meeting and of the committee appointed to interview the Council was that the Council should issue at least $100,000 debentures to stimulate the building of houses in Peterborough by citizens who desired to secure their own homes. It was felt that the Ontario Housing Act would ensure general satisfaction, and that the supervision of the work would be most efficient under the Housing Commission.

J. W. Fraser.

Mr. Fraser said that it was thought that some effort might be made to get private individuals to build in order to help out the situation, but it was finally agreed that the fairest way was to have the Council work out the scheme under the Housing Act. It was recognized that there was some risk of loss. Materials are very high and wages also. Certain taxable property would be created, Mr. Fraser pointed out, which would be a gain to the city as a whole. Applicants for funds need not finish their houses at the outset, and the incentive of holding their property would remain and would increase as the houses were gradually finished.

In their discussion of the problem the committee thought that as a precaution against loss to the municipality, some requirement for life and fire insurance should be demanded of applicants.

Needs Forward Movement.

Ex-Mayor Duncan said that if the city could put on a campaign similar to the "forward movement" of the churches, the funds could be well employed. "You've got to pay two prices for a house to-day," said Mr. Duncan.

W. R. Breyfogle.

Mr. W. R. Breyfogle, of the De Laval Company, stated that the scarcity of houses was a serious matter to many of his employees.

"We have 350 people down there now, and we have to bring in more. There are few available men in the city now. We took labourers and made them into handy men and handy men into tradesmen. Three times in the last two weeks some of our people had their houses sold over their heads. I believe the Raybestos Company was actuated in their coming here by the proposal to issue debentures for housing. We will stunt the city if we do not proceed with some building scheme; otherwise internal difficulties will arise. The manufacturers are quite willing to participate in the debenture issue and keep the funds at home. We will take $15,000 of them, and Mr. Patterson told me the C. G. E. Company would also take a block."

Ald. Copping said that Mr. Edgar Worth told him the Canadian Woollens would also buy some of the bonds.

Ald. Gordon: If the manufacturers would accept 5½ per cent., the builder would have one-half of one per cent. less to pay, which would give him a slight advantage.

Mr. Breyfogle: We would have to borrow $15,000 at 6 per cent., and we should get what we pay.

Mr. Gordon: One-half of one per cent. would not be a serious loss for the manufacturers.

Suggested a Bonus.

Ald. Crowe suggested that some form of bonus might be afforded to those persons who build houses under the present conditions, but Ald. Turner expressed the opinion that help of that kind was unnecessary.

City Clerk Armstrong asked whether the Board of Trade Committee had considered the alternative of forming a company to operate under the Housing Act.

Mr. Fraser replied that this had been discussed, but that it had not presented any striking advantages. The city would have to raise the debentures under either plan, and if it remained directly responsible, the city would be in a better position to keep a check on the disbursements. The company would advance only 15 per cent. of the funds, and the city 35 per cent. This arrangement would not provide much of a check on the company.

Ald. Crowe said that Mr. Robert Hicks had explained to him a bonusing scheme which Ald. Crowe believed should be presented to the Council.

Will Create Revenue.

In this connection City Clerk Armstrong, reporting an argument Mr. Hicks offered in support of a housing programme, cited the example in which a lot now assessed at $500 produced only $17.50 taxes, but with a $3,000 house on it the taxes would amount to $105. Suppose in an extreme case that the value of the property depreciated to $80, the interest and sinking fund to cover this decline would be $80, which, including the current taxes of $17.50, would bring the total to $97.50. This sum was well within the $105, and the city was still showing a slight gain rather than a loss. This instance was quoted merely as an illustration of a possible result under an extreme decrease in value.

Mr. Gillespie added that the applicant for the house would also have deposited 10 per cent. of the cost, and would surely have made some other payments.

"I can't see any great danger of a loss to the city," said Mr. Gillespie. "An important point will be the character of the applicant, which the commission should carefully consider."

Have Amplified Plans.

Mr. Gordon informed the Council that the Canadian Nashua Company had found a market for products which at first they did not purpose manufacturing. The Raybestos Company also intended to extend their local plans beyond their original programme.

"That means both these companies will employ more men than they anticipated," Ald. Gordon continued. "I can't see where there will be any falling off in the demand for houses. The new concerns are willing to make the initial advance for their men."

Mr. Dobbin remarked that any offers of rebates would lead to controversies and dissatisfaction. He believed the applicants would meet their payments without any contemplation of rebates, and if carried out under the Housing Act, a building scheme would not entail a loss to the city.

Ald. Gordon: It would also be unfair to those citizens who are now building under the existing conditions.

Regulate "Bites."

Mr. Dobbin: The main thing is not to let a man bite off more than he can chew. He could do without a verandah for a time and without other finishing touches that could be added later. There is no right by which any man can be asked to help pay for another man's house.

Mr. G. O. Cameron pointed out that the real question was whether the Council would issue the $100,000 debentures as proposed. The details could be attended to later.

Ex-Mayor Duncan told of one man who was considering a project of erecting twelve houses outside the city, each to cost about $1,800.

The informal discussion was terminated by the withdrawal of the committee.

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Copping, that the city issue debentures to the amount of $300,000. He regarded $100,000 as an inadequate fund, and the larger sum would show the city's faith in itself and in the housing scheme. Other cities would simply laugh at the idea of issuing only $100,000. The debentures need not be sold at once, but just as required.

Houses Important.

Ald. Gordon, speaking from his experience as chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee, said that he and City Clerk Armstrong had found that United States companies seeking locations in Canada invariably inquired about the city's housing accommodation. One of the new companies coming to Peterborough had written a short time ago asking whether Peterborough had taken any definite action.

An Extra Building.

Ald. Turner told the Council that Mr. John Hayes had secured a contract from the C. G. E. Company for a building 80 feet by 200 feet, which was over and above the buildings included in the programme Senator Nicholls had outlined. It was evident, he said, that there would be an interesting demand for accommodation.

Ald. Gainey asked why the manufacturers could not themselves build houses for their employees.

Ald. Gordon: Because there's no money in it.

Ald. Turner replied that there would be sufficient applications without any participation by manufacturers.

Ald. Turner: Perhaps you should build one house.

Ald. Gainey: Not at all. I can't afford it. The companies can. Brantford lost $7,000.

THE NEWSPRINT SITUATION.

Bad as was the newsprint situation before, the decision of the Supreme Court in refusing to uphold the action of the Board of Commerce in ordering Price Brothers, paper-makers of Montreal, to ship a certain quantity of their ouput to Canadian firms at the fixed Canadian price of $80 a ton, has made the crisis infinitely worse. The Board of Commerce was instructed by an order-in-council passed in January last to control the price of paper and one of its first acts was to order Price Brothers to supply three Canadian firms with a stipulated amount of newsprint. The firm had been shipping most of its output to the United States, where the price is much higher, and declined to obey the order of the Board of Commerce, appealing to the Supreme Court. The latter body, declaring that newsprint cannot be considered as one of the necessaries, "required for some purpose connected with the physical life of the idividual," have quashed the order of the Board of Commerce. The result of this decision is to practically destroy the effectiveness of newsprint control and leave the Canadian consumer of newsprint in a serious predicament. The price of newsprint in rolls had been fixed by the Board of Commerce at $80 per ton. In the United States, where the scarcity is much greater than in Canada, the price is over $100 per ton. If the control over the Canadian output is removed the prices will undoubtedly soar and the effect will be serious.

ARBITRATION NECESSARY.

The folly of allowing fire brigades to unionize themselves is once more illustrated, this time by the plight of St. Catharines, which has been left without fire protection except that provided by volunteers, because the members of the department have resigned in a body owing to a dispute over wages. The vacation of the fire fighters should and undoubtedly will be a long one, for the Council has decided to re-organize the department and advertise for new firemen. The old members of the department will have to apply for positions if they want to get back and take their chances with other applicants. They can exect no other treatment in view of their desertion of their posts and the resultant jeopardising of the safety of the city. There will be little popular sympathy with the course followed by the St. Catharines firemen for the public has grown tired of the use of strike tactics by employees of the public service. Public servants such as policemen, firemen and waterworks employees should be fairly, even generously, dealt with, but they cannot be permitted to adopt a policy that may threaten the safety of a whole community. In fact in all such services the arbitration of disputes over matters of wages and other conditions should be insisted upon and should be made one of the terms of contracts between a municipality and its employees. Without this stipulation the public is at the mercy of those who are engaged to protect the city.

A START AT LAST.

The announcement that the City Council has decided to issue debentures to the amount of $200,000 to finance building operations in Peterborough is no doubt being received with a sense of relief by the citizens as a concrete proof that at last something tangible is being done to solve the housing problem. Peterborough has been slow in dealing with this question. The advantages of the Housing Act last year were ignored by the Council and the result was that in the whole of the city during 1919 only six new houses were erected and the present situation was created. Vacant houses are at a premium, new industries will bring workmen to Peterborough who will add to the congestion, and more accommodation is most assuredly required.

The decision of the City Council, therefore, to provide $200,000 to be loaned by the local Housing Commission to citizens who wish to take advantage of a chance to build houses for themselves is welcome. It should stimulate building operations to a considerable extent and eventually result in the erection of some fifty or sixty new houses in Peterborough, thus relieving the situation. The local Housing Commission, composed of Mayor McIntyre, Mr. Jas. Finnie and Mr. F. H. Dobbin, has investigated the methods adopted in many other cities and is ready with much valuable information that will be of great assistance locally. No time should be lost in taking advantage of the opportunity that has been provided by the furnishing of the necessary funds by the city.

NO DAYLIGHT SAVING.

There will be many people disappointed at the decision of the City Council not to take any action in providing for the local adoption of daylight saving this year. Most of the enlightened communities have decided to use the new time for the summer months, regardless of the action of the railways, and it was expected that the Peterborough Council would be anxious to see this city lined up with the progressives, especially in view of the fact that there were a number of petitions asking for daylight saving and that a canvass of the factories showed a big majority in favour of the system. The suggestion made by some of the aldermen that the same result would be attained if the factories started and quit work an hour earlier shows that they have only paid superficial attention to the principle of daylight saving. In order that summer time may operate smoothly it would have to be adopted by the whole community and all the city's activities would have to coordinate with the new time. To merely operate the factories on an hour earlier basis and have all the rest of the day's routine on the regular schedule would cause nothing but confusion. There is no chance for such confusion with a general adoption of daylight saving in the city— a fact that was proved last year and in 1918. However, the matter seems to be settled. The Council has chosen to ignore the wishes of the bodies who petitioned for daylight saving and there is little more to be said. It is safe to predict, however, that the delegates to the Trades and Labour Council who passed a resolution at their meeting last night against the adoption of daylight saving will have considerable difficulty in justifying their course in the eyes of many of their fellow workers who realize that the killing of the new time will result in a considerable curtailing of the programme of athletic contests that the local industries have been anticipating.

MR. A. MACDONALD CIGAR TRAVELLER, DIED ON PORT McNICOL TRAIN.

LINDSAY, April 8. — Mr. A. MacDonald, a commercial traveller, representing the John N. McNee & Co., cigar wholesalers, London, Ont., died suddenly yesterday morning, while on the Port McNicol C.P.R. train, which is due in Lindsay about 11 o'clock.

Death was due to heart failure and took place just after the train pulled out from the Lindsay Junction.

Coroner Blanchard was called immediately but life was extinct when the train reached the local depot.

Mr. MacDonald had apparently been in the best of health and was not heard to complain. He was a man of middle age and well known to the merchants of Lindsay, having been calling on cigar dealers here for the past twenty years.

The deceased was a married man, and lived at 72 Hilton avenue, Toronto.

Anderson's Ltd. took charge of the body.

"FATIGUE," says Dr. Harrington, "comes on more quickly from eye strain than from any amount of muscular work."

Except in perfect daylight the nerves of the eye are constantly tense, sapping the energy of the whole system.

Much work is done in offices, stores and factories by artificial light, even in the daytime and now there is an abnormal amount of night work.

This straining of the eyes necessarily means an enormous waste of nervous energy. You find yourself feeling tired and losing interest in your work.

Headaches are frequent and digestion is imperfect because there is lacking the nervous energy required to run the digestive machinery.

If your work requires much concentration of the mind, you experience "brain fag" and find yourself losing grip on the task in hand.

Under such conditions Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can do wonders for you if you use it conscientiously for a few weeks.

Its benefits come in the most rational and natural way imaginable for it feeds the starved and exhausted nerves back to health and vigor.

This result is accomplished through the medium of the blood. By actually forming new rich blood, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food restores the vitality of the nervous system, and thereby instils new vigor and energy into the whole human body.

Digestion is improved, headaches disappear, you sleep naturally and know again the joy of good health.

Ask your friends about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It is so universally used as a means of building up the exhausted nervous system that most people can tell you of its merits, 50 cts. a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

THE ACCIDENT.

CHAPTER XCI

Fortunately Mrs. Gray's presence of mind saved me from being seriously burned altho I was in a good deal of pain, and ill from the shock. The doctor insisted that I remain in bed for over a week. Everett was kindness itself and not once mentioned the attic or what I had done.

I shuddered as I thought of what might have happened — the house burned, myself scarred for life and perhaps others injured, all because of my curiosity and my jealousy.

I had time to think in those days while my burns were healing. I made up my mind that it was impossible for me to be like Leola. Irma Barton had said she made Everett very unhappy at times, and was also often unhappy herself. I also recalled what she had said about Leola being a versatile hostess and an entertaining companion. I knew Everett was not only fond of, but also proud of his home. I would also learn to be a good hostess, and I would try to make myself an entertaining companion.

I would forget that she was temperamental. Evidently I was not and so made a failure when I tried to follow her erratic actions— as far as I knew them. I would be more attentive to what Mrs. Barr suggested, and would study harder to make myself accomplished. Someway the thought that it was Irma Barton who had told me of Leola's fascinations, as well as of her faults, made her, Leola, seem more human than she had before. I would copy all I knew of the good in her, and forget that it was thru her emotional temperament she had secured her own way with Everett.

But it is so easy to make good resolutions, especially when one is ill and remorseful and — a bit ashamed.

I really was ashamed. I had thought of reading Leola's letters as my right because I was Everett's wife. I was sure I never had a letter he might not read. But as I lay quietly thinking things over, I saw I had been guilty of a mean, low action. I would not have dreamed of opening a letter that came for him thru the postman. Why should I think I had the right to read Leola's letters simply because he had opened them years before?

Everett had asked me if I wanted Mother sent for.

"No—it would only frighten her, and I am all right", I told him. Down in my heart I know if Mother came she would question me, and so find out how I came to burn myself.

"Just as you like, dear," he had replied, with the new gentleness he had shown me since the accident.

Walter Kemp had in some way heard I was ill, and he sent me a wonderful box of roses. A short note was tucked into the envelope which held his card—just wishes for my quick recovery. This time I let Hetty put them in water, and laid the note where Everett might easily notice it.

"Who sent you the roses, Dear?" he asked when he came in to see me before dinner. He had sent me some orchids earlier in the day.

"Mr. Kemp. There is a note from him on the table."

"Yes?" but he made no move to take it.

"Please read it," I said flushing.

"Thank you, Sandra, I will be glad to. I wouldn't have dreamed of looking at it without your permission." It was a rebuke, and I so understood it. I had meddled with letters addressed to him. He was too much of a gentleman to read a simple note addressed to me without my permission.

"It was kind in him to remember you, Dear. But as we can't receive him—rather, as you cannot unless I am at home, I would have preferred that he had not sent them."

"So would I," My anwer surprised me more than it did Everett, I think. I had felt sort of disgusted with myself ever since I had let his other roses fade because Leola had allowed those Everett sent her to wither for sentimental reasons. Then as I remembered them lying all crushed and wilted on the floor when I was carried to my room—the first thin g I saw after I recovered from my faint —a revulsion of feeling against the flowers caused me to add: "I am sure I never wanted them. The night I was hurt he sent me some too."

"Yes, I saw them," Everett returned quietly. And as he kissed me before he went down to his dinner I wondered whether there was anything he didn't see, and know.

To-morrow—A Surprise.

World Happenings

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, April 7.—The inquiry which the Board of Commerce will conduct into the alleged combine of canners in Canada is postponed indefinitely. The Board feels that as the Government has already gone into the activities of canners in Canada, it is not justified in proceeding with a separate inquiry until a third commissioner has been appointed and the Board is in a position to make a comprehensive review of the alleged combine.

RATIFY TREATY.

Canadian Press:

BUCHAREST, April 7. — The Council of Ministers has decided to ratify the Treaty of Versailles. The ratification will be of Royal decree, as the Parliament is not in session, making Roumania's approval of the Treaty similar to that of Italy.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, April 7.—Special session of the National Assembly will be held Saturday. The call for the session was issued to-day following a conference between the heads of the political parties and the government.

Increase in Rates.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 7.— Increases in ocean freight rates from the United Kingdom to North America will take effect on April 19 an dwill range from twenty-five per cent. on lower classes of goods to fifty per cent. on more valuable articles, according to the London Times.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad for Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful if all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

RUHR VALLEY SITUATION

Canadian Press:

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Conversations between Great Britain, France, United States, and Italy on the Ruhr Valley situation, are now in progress, it was said to-day at the State Department. Officials would not say who had initiated the negotiations nor disclose just what was being discussed. They did say, however, conversations were "natural developments" of the movement of French troops into the Ruhr Valley neutral zone. Jules Jesserand, French Ambassador, delivered to the State Department two days ago a message from the French Government regarding the French advance, and asked for an expression of opinion from President Wilson.

Prince of Wales.

(Canadian Press.)

SAN DIEGO, April 7.— Edward, Prince of Wales, arrived off Point Loma to-day and there the cruiser Renown, which is carrying him to Antipodes, lay to and awaited events planned here for to-day and to-morrow.

Resumption to Trade.

(Canadian Press.)

STOCKHOLM, April 7.— Agreement for resumption of commercial relations between Bolshevik Russia and Sweden provided Great Britain and France annul the Baltic blockade, has been reached. Negotiations regarding details of trading are still in progress.

"If I ask you to marry me, I s'pose you'll say no."

"I will if you make your approach in that feeble way. That ain't salesmanship, George."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

FABULOUS PROFITS ARE REPORTED FROM LOCAL REAL ESTATE DEALS

ONE MAN CLEANED UP $1,000 IN A WEEK, ANOTHER SOLD 15 HOUSES WITHOUT SEEING A DEED—NEWCOMERS TRYING TO BREAK IN.

WEDDING BELLS

Real estate business was never so brisk in Peterboro according to local agents, who affirm that the present demand for houses is keener than at any other period in the city's history. One firm sold twenty-three houses in fourteen days, five of them last Saturday Sunday for these brokers was a real day of rest. Applicants are not only residents but all quite a number of citizens who have stumbled upon a "placer mine" that is decidedly profitable. One man has turned over fifteen houses without touching a deed of any of them

Another dabbler in real estate is reported to have cleaned up $1,000 in a week. This sum seemed so fabulous that another dealer was asked whether it was possible.

"I couldn't say positively but I know that he made $400 in one turnover and if he had two or three like that, which is more than likely, it is evident that $1,000 as his week's profit, is not so improbable as it sounds."

This splurge is surpassed by the verified story of a man who bought a house for $5,000 and before he moved into it was offered $6,000 for it. Another house was marked up $3,000 above the price at which it was bought several years ago.

With this incentive of comparatively rich rewards, the regular real estate brokers are feverishly busy, and every day brings new recruits attracted by the reports of big money, men who scour the city searching for houses to list. Don't be surprised if the accustomed ring at the door bell brings an individual who instead of trying to sell you something merely asks for the privilege of selling your home. He is probably an amateur at this exciting game but before he can break into business he needs a list of houses to show those who want to buy. The regular dealers who have to come through the lean years with moderate incomes have an established trade and particularly a reputation—most of them at any rate—that are their chief assets.

Their days seem to be mostly taken up with "chauffing" prospective buyers in continuous tours of the city, and from all accounts their meters are registering receipts that make up for the dull days when interest in real estate couldn't get a hearing in the munitions din.

A family that moved to Peterboro recently decided not to unpack their furniture, quickly realizing that they had only to say "when" to pocket a profit they had never expected.

A working man tells of having made $3,000 in less than three years in real estate "on the side" He started with a home in the south end, and although he had to move frequently in his transactions he rarely lost a day's work and on top of his regular wages put $3,000 in the bank, and still owns the last house he bought

It's a great game, and it's only getting nicely started

COUNCIL REJECTS DAYLIGHT SAVING

TO AVOID CONFUSION AND OUT OF RESPECT TO THE U.F.O.

Following the example of the railways which will adhere to standard time this year, the City Council last night, on Ald. Gordon's motion, seconded by Ald. Gainey, decided against daylight saving, in so far as its authority extends.

"You have no jurisdiction except over your own clocks," City Solicitor Widdifield advised.

Ald. Gordon—The railways are not adopting it, and I don't think we can afford to confuse things.

Ald. Turner—You have the consensus of the factories.

Ald. Gordon—You can't enforce it anyway.

Ald. Turner—Many people want it.

Ald. Gordon—The factories that want it can adopt it.

Ald. Turner—Then you'd have the men coming home at 11 o'clock and the children at 12.

Mayor McIntyre—If any deputations want to ask for it they will have a chance at the next meeting.

Ald. Gordon remarked that the motion read "To avoid confusion and out of respect to the U.F.O."

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir: Permit me a little space to ask you a question. Is it permissable by law to nail closed the windows of the local Collegiate Institute. This has been done to my certain knowledge in a number of the rooms.

There is in the school a so-called ventilating system which is kept working about one-third of the time. It works so eccentrically that in some rooms the papers are blown off the desks while in other rooms (with between thirty and forty pupils) the foul air hangs like a fog about us. In the assembly hall (which is the least used part of the building) the ventilation is excellent while in the chemistry "lab." (where the noxious gases most need removing) it is practically useless.

Surely in the Spring time it is not harmful to our mental well being to have the windows open. Yours anxiously enquiring.

A P. C. I. STUDENT.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir,—We have in our city a Collegiate Institute of which we may well be proud. Our staff is one of the best (or I claim, being a pupil), the best in Ontario.

Our school building is a beautiful piece of architecture such as few cities can equal.

Our record is excellent—none better—but we lack one very important thing—A Gymnasium.

The school board was going to give us one after the war. The war is over but still no word of our "Gym."

We boys must go over to the "Y" while the girls are treated to their "cal" in the Assembly hall.

Won't you help us through your editorial columns.

Thanking you for your space.

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

Need the Blood-Building, Strength-Creating Elements of Vinol

We Guarantee it to Rebuild Wasting Tissues and Replace Weakness With Strength

As we grow old the blood gets thin, the circulation sluggish, digestion weak, the organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth, the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, and the result is a feeble, weakened condition.

VINOL is the ideal strengthener and body builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to enrich the blood, quicken the circulation, rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. And as a result the system is fortified against colds and pneumonia.

One old lady recently wrote: "I am 78 years of age and my husband is 79, and we owe our good health to VINOL, as we have proved it to be the greatest strength creator and invigorator known, we are strong and well, but I often say I do not believe we would now be alive if it were not for VINOL."

If you are feeble and weak, why not try VINOL on your druggist's recommendation.

STRIKE LEADERS SENT TO WORK ON A NEW PIPE LINE

(Special to the Examiner).

WINNIPEG, Man. April 8.—The Govenor of Winnipeg Jail announces the strike leaders will be sent to work on Manitoba's Prison Farm on line greater Winnipeg water district, east of the city.

PETERBORO MAN ON SAME BOAT

A St. John's, N.B., paper contains an item regarding a peculiar case of shell-shock. The victim is unable to remember who he is and where he is from and remains unidentified. The military authorities have given him the name of Halt and a number. He says that he is from Brantford, Ontario, knows his sister's name and to whom she is married, but so far the authorities have been unable to locate his relatives.

H. Kelsey, of this city, was on the same boat with him.

Mothers! NEVER NEGLECT WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease.

Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected in in this way bring on the "whoop" which bring the so-much-sought-for relief.

Mrs. Francis Burlingham, New Gate, B.C., writes: "This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and, believe me, I will never forget how it worked. I will always have it in my house."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

No matter how small the remains of vegetables from dinner, they should be put away carefully, and at the end of the week a good dish of soup can be made

WEDDING BELLS

READ—HIRST.

At eleven-thirty on Wednesday morning, one of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at St. John's church, when Miss Louise (Kitty) Hirst, only daughter of Mrs. E. Hirst, Auburn street, and Arthur B. Read, eldest son of Mrs. B. Chambers (formerly Mrs. Read, matron of the Children's Shelter), were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Archdeacon Davidson officiated.

The bride was charming in a gown of ivory satin and Georgette and also wore a bridal veil trimmed with orange blossoms, and carried ophelia roses. She entered the church with her mother, who wore pearl grey silk, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mr. R. J. Devey.

Miss Grace Nicholls attended the bride and looked very pretty in a pale pink crepe de chine dress and large pink hat, and carried carnations. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. William Read.

After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded back to the home of Mrs. Hirst, where about fifty guests partook of a dainty luncheon, catered to by Mr. C. Coleman.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl pendant, and to the bridesmaid a rope of pearls, and to the groomsman a tie pin. Ip the evening Mrs. Hirst entertained a number of the bride's friends to an informal dance.

CITIZENS CLASH WITH THE FRENCH.

Ten Germans Killed and Fifty Wounded.

(United Press.)

PARIS, April 8.—Ten Germans were killed and 5 owounded in clashes between the French occupationary forces and citizens in Frankfort yesterday, a News Agency despatch here to-day said.

CITY WILL ISSUE BONDS TO STIMULATE HOUSING

Ald. Turner: That was through mismanagement. The Mayor will tell you that they let a contract to a man who couldn't carry it out. That accounted for most of their loss.

Mayor McInyre: He fell down on the contract.

Object to Paternalism.

Ald. Crowe remarked that manufacturers in quite a number of places built houses for workmen. At Abitibi a firm built 280 houses.

Ald. Gordon: They don't build because they are afraid of losing money, but because they can't make a profit.

Ald. Crowe: I must say that the men don't like to live in houses owned by the companies. At Abitibi the companies own the stores, and you've got to buy from the company.

Ald. Gordon: The Raybestos people have stores at one of their plants, and sell only to their employees. My opinion is that the more houses we have, the more will there be to share the taxes. It will mean a reduction of taxes rather than an increase. I will support a reasonable venture.

Ald. Morrison: I'm in favour of the housing scheme. Probably a $200,000 issue would be enough.

Ald. Gordon: There is a great temptation to be extravagant if you have a big line of credit.

Ald. Turner amended his resolution to $200,000, and it carried unanimously.

Later he asked whether the Council would consider granting a fixed assessment for ten years on the Oriental Hotel property, providing it was converted into an apartment house. The taxes paid on it this year will be $1,100.

City Solicitor Widdifield interrupted with the reminder that such a bonus would be illegal.

Ald. Crowe: You wouldn't bonus houses a while ago.

The bonds will be issued only as required to meet applicants for assistance.

A soup made thick with beans, barley and vegetables may easily be the main dish for a cold weather luncheon.

DAYLIGHT SAVING DISAPPROVED BY TRADES AND LABOUR COUNCIL

PLAN TO ASSIST IN RELIEVING THE SCARCITY OF HOUSES WAS OUTLINED BY WHICH BUILDING TRADESMEN WOULD CO-OPERATE —HIGH RENTS COMPLAINED OF.

Some twenty five delegates were present at the regular meeting of the Trades and Labour Council last night President Bolwell was in the chair.

Many communications relativce to Labour matters were received and read by the secretary and dealt with by the Council. One written in a semi humorous way from the advising only Labour goods to be used by Labour men caused much amusement yet made a strong impression.

The chairman of the organization committee said that they had attended some meetings of the locals and were working for greater enthusiasm.

Following the roll call a communication was read from the union in Cleveland that certain firm there making plumbing supplies were trying to defeat the moulder's union. The delegate presenting this suggested that they appoint a mixed committee to go to the local dealers and ask them not to handle the goods of this American company manufacturing plumbing supplies.

One of the delegates upheld the suggestion "The moulders have had a hard fight. We should help them out."

Delegate McArthur said some moulders and plumbers should be on the committee so they could know what they were putting forward. The plumbers local had not been notified the delegate who brought in the communication said.

Brother McMurray and President Bolwell volunteered to act on the committee with the plumbers and moulders. "The matter will first have to be taken up with the plumbers", the President said.

That there are two barber shops the Empress Hotel and Montgomery's that do not carry the union cards in Peterboro was reported by one of the delegates. This matter will be looked into and also Cressman's children's hair cutting parlours.

Secretary Stevens read a list of the union meat shops when the matter was brought up. There are some four shops which have not lined up. The members were urged to make sure that their butchers were union shops and that the memebrs only patronize these. The secretary congratulated the meat cutters on their organization in such a short time.

That the non-union shops will take the union card if they are not patronized by union men seemed the concensus of opinion of the council.

For Home Labour.

The Printers Union will take up a matter brought up by a delegate who asked why the municipal income tax forms were printed in Chatham. No reason for this could be given by the delegates unless it was to save a few dollars from the city coffers. President Bolwell said that a committee would go into the matter. There was too much printing being done out of town.

Some of the delegates spoke on the difficulty found in locating union made garments in this city.

A suggestion was made that a list of mail order houses and stores in Peterboro carrying union made goods be prepared and also a list of mail order houses and outside firms for the use of union men.

"I think the suggestion is good. We do not want to boycott the local merchants but if they can't supply us, we will go out of town" said President Bolwell.

A motion following some discussion carried unanimously that the council prepare a list of stores in Peterboro that sell union made goods for the members convenience and the list of mail order houses.

A Housing Scheme.

The housing scheme came up for discussion. A delegate suggested that men of means instead of trying to get all they could out of the city—for example a few houses. He upheld G. H. Duncan's contention that those who could afford to put up houses should. The houses should be built and the workers should be not charged exorbitant rents for them said the president.

The manufacturers should build them for it is their workers that will live in them was one of the delegates contention. His views were favourably received and upheld by the delegates.

Delegate Tuggey brought in a plan to eliminate contractors' profits in building. The city could first get the money and then meet the building trades and arrange with them to do their own end of the work without a contractor. I think organized labour in conjunction with the City Council have got to solve this housing problem. A house that would cost $4,000 now by this it would be cut 25% and the cost would only be $3,000.

A building trades council to look after the matter should be appointed was suggested. The plan of Delegate Tuggey met with favorable comment and several of the delegates spoke on it.

"I think there are lots of bright brains in the labour ranks that could give them a few points on building houses" was the way one put it.

A motion carried that the City Council co-operate with the building trades to endeavour to solve the housing problem.

Rents too High.

A delegate contended that a protest should be lodged against the owners of houses in the abnormal recent increases of rents. He told of some increases which he held, were robbing the people. Apartment houses were discredited as homes for workers.

Rents were clamed to have gone up the day after the C.G.E. bylaw passed.

It's the workers own fault. Why didn't they vote against it, said one of the workers. The motion of protest carried.

Oppose Daylight Saving.

When one of the workers moved that the council go on record as opposed to daylight saving a seconder promptly appeared and an amendment just the reverse followed which was seconded as promptly as the first.

Daylight saving is the curse of childhood, said a delegate. "If a man wants to work in a garden let him work in the morning. Just the reverse one of the delegates contended that although he was opposed to it at first he had seen its benefit and felt every worker was in favour of it.

The Board of Trade's canvass was a bugaboo according to a delegate. One shop was reported as 85% in favour of it and the men never saw a card to vote on said one of the delegates. A manufacturers scheme to get more work out of the workers. Inaugurated by the Germans were some of the descriptions used.

The motion that the Council is opposed to Daylight Saving carried with only two dissenting votes, those of the mover and seconder of the amendment.

The meeting adjourned about 10.30.

RIGGS REMEDY FOR RIGGS DISEASE

PYORRHEA OR TRENCH MOUTH

FIRST KNOWN AS RIGGS DISEASE

BLEEDING GUMS ARE A BAD SIGN

Do your gums bleed easily, such as when you clean you teeth? If they do, look out! You have Pyorrhoea.

You may have heard this name before, and think it just a local infection of the gums, but you are wrong. Medical and Dental Specialists have discovered that Pyorrhoea is one of the subtle enemies of mankind. The poison from affected gums penetrates into your system, impairs the efficiency of your arteries, your heart and other vital organs.

The poison gets into your blood and permeates your whole system, very often causing an early death.

You develop hardening of the arteries, rheumatism. You suffer premature old age. Your whole system goes wrong because you refused to heed that never-failing warning of bleeding gums or loosened teeth.

As a rule dentists treat the teeth and not the gums, but Dr. C. H. Riggs, the well known Toronto dentist, saw the vital necessity of treating the gums. He knew the consequences and set himself the task of finding a remedy. After forty years dental practice in Toronto—treating many, many thousands of patients, he found a simple treatment that each sufferer can administer to himself or herself.

Every disease has its symptoms. You know the symptoms of insidious pyorrhoea, therefore write for Dr. Riggs' booklet "The Inheritance," sent free of charge, and discover in greater detail what pyorrhoea really is, and how simply you can be cured.

Riggs' Remedy is not a tooth paste but a genuine dental treatment, which you can apply yourself in your own home.

Probably no question is receiving the same consideration in every centre, both large and small, on the continent, as the housing problem, as it exists to-day. What ever is the cause has not just been arrived at but a solution will require to be found if the population still continues to settle in the towns and cities, and the first progressive municipality that can take care of its incoming population, in a fairly satisfactory manner, is most likely to have a contented and settled population, and be a drawing power to new industries that should reduce the demands for bonuses and exemption from taxation a considerable extent.

During the war buildings were required to be erected hastily for the soldiers of all the fighting countries, but this was accomplished without much thought as to cost, only the element of time entering into it.

In the building of houses for working men the cost must necessarily be considered, at the same time giving comfort and sufficient accommodation. The tendency to live in large houses is not as prevalent at the present time as in times gone by. With coal, up keep, and the furnishing of a large house all much more costly, a house with just sufficient room to be comfortable, is the one desired and it strikes one on reading a catalogue of the Canadian Aladdin Company, now located in Peterboro, that their system of furnishing houses should be effective in helping to solve the housing problem when they commence operations.

Few people in the city are aware that one of the houses manufactured by this company has been erected by one of our citizens and occupied since last fall. Last August Mr. F. T. Holmes purchased and erected a bungalow, style Gladstone X at No. 116 Hilliard Street. It is a Ready-Cut House and is put together without any waste. It is 22 x 32. The original design called for two bedrooms, 10 feet square, with clothes closets, and linen closets, living room, 12 x 12, dining room 10 feet square, which, however, was changed to three bedrooms, and the dining room enlarged to 17 x 10; living room the same size. Provision is also made for kitchen and bathroom.

Mr. Holmes says that it is as warm and comfortable a house as he would wish to live in. He has only burned six tons of coal since last October in the furnace and fire place and he is well pleased with his investment, and for a moderate priced home he highly recommends it.

A number of people are talking ready cut houses and if the idea "catches on" in Peterboro the product of the local factory might be a factor in housing those who are at present considering buying or building a permanent home and of taking care of the families who will come to the city with the new factories and additions to the present ones.

FATHER DELIVERS SON UP TO JUSTICE

BREAKS DOWN BEFORE POLICE—BOY WAS CONFESSED MURDERER

SASKATOON, April 8.—John Yuzak, aged 20, has confessed to his father, Wasal Yuzak, that he killed Mrs. Martin Lishinsky at her farm, near Hoodoo, and threw her body to the bottom of a well to cover his deed. The father immediately notified the police and kept guard over the confessed murderer until provincial police arrived from Watson.

When delivering his son to the police officers the old man broke down, declaring he wanted to keep faith with his son by witholding the secret from everyone, but that his sense of justice and remembrance that the law of his adopted country required him to make the sacrifice.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. his famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink ,and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

CITY LEAGUE DROPS OUT OF THE O.B.A.A.

DECIDED AT MEETING LAST NIGHT TO OPERATE ON INDEPENDENT BASIS IN ORDER NOT TO INTERFERE WITH CHANCES OF PETERBORO CENTRAL LEAGUE TEAM—LEAGUE WILL OPEN WITH APPROPRIATE CEREMONIES ON SATURDAY, MAY 15TH.

The City Baseball League at its meeting last night in the Empress Hotel, unanimously decided not to affiliate with the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association this year. The four clubs represented at the meeting all had the same opinion on this question, believing that it would be in the best interests of baseball for the City League to remain out of the O.B.A.A. and thus allow Peterborough to be represented by the strongest team possible in the Central Ontario League. It was felt that if the City League entered the Ontario Association there would be conflict over players that would interfere with the chances of Peterborough in the senior series. As it is now the Central League team may use any players in the city without affecting the City League.

Mr. Gordon Matthews, president of the League, occupied the chair, and Mr. W. Field acted as secretary in the absence of Secretary-treasurer Phelan. The representatives present were Messrs. Gorham and Rahmel for the C.G.E., Ross and Field for the G.W.V.A., Ruiter and Wren for De Laval, and Louis Yeotes for the Thistles. The fifth team in the League, the Canadian Woollens, were not represented.

In addition to settling the much-talked of subject of affiliation with the O.B.A.A., the League got through a lot of business in snappy and harmonious style.

It was decided that the League should open on Saturday, May 15th, with a double-header and with appropriate ceremony. On a draw being made to decide what teams would compete in the opening the following programme was decided upon:

C.G.E. vs. G.W.V.A.

Canadian Woollens vs. Thistles.

The balance of the schedule will be drawn up by F. D. Craig, who was appointed by the meeting official scorer for the season.

All the teams will co-operate in making the opening day a success. The G.W.V.A. will undertake to have the Veterans' band in attendance, the C.G.E. will provide a truck for the musicians, the De Laval will secure the dignitaries to take part in the opening ceremonies. Mr. Yeotes of the Thistles has offered a box of cigars to the player who makes the longest hit on opening day, and the Canadian Woollens will be asked to contribute somethig towards the ceremonies. There will be a parade to the ball park and other fuss and feathers.

It was decided to play the games at Riverside Park and to accept Dr. Wightman's terms of a 60-40 split of the gate receipts. The services of Mr. Alex Kay will be sought as official umpire and a motion was passed providing for remuneration for the arbitrator.

Certificates will be mailed to the clubs on Saturday. Each team will be allowed to carry only fifteen players and the certificates must be filed with the League secretary on or before Wednesday, May 12th ,when an executive meeting will be held to complete the arrangements for the opening. A player must be a resident of Peterborough for at least thirty days before being allowed to compete in the City League.

Teams who wish to enter a protest must make a deqposit of $5 with the League secretary within twenty-four hours after the protested game, the deposit to be retained by the League in the event of the protest being lost. Protests will be decided by an independent committee, the following being selected: Messrs. Dan McCabe, Chas. Curtiss and F. D. Craig, to adjudicate on all protests.

The Reach ball was adopted as the official ball of the League in consideration of the offer of the Reach Company to award twelve watch fobs to the members of the winning team.

LEAGUE SECRETARY REPLIES TO CRITICISM OF DRAFT SCHEDULE

The following letter from Secretary Nott of the Central Ontario Baseball League is self explanatory:

Oshawa, April 7th, 1920.

Sporting Editor Peterborough Examiner, Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—I am enclosing my subscription to your paper, which I subscribed to at the annual meeting of the Central Ontario League and I consider this money well spent as having been elected secretary of the League, realized that the real criticism would come from that source.

In your issue of April 6th, you have an article handing a nicely done roast for myself, for which accept my thanks, as these little things help to boost the Central League gates. You should have added my pal in the conspiracy to rob Peterborough, for if my hearing served me right on that occasion, Jake Solomon spoke of Wednesday as the Petes' home dates. In this I may be wrong and no doubt my pal will say so, but on receiving Peterborough Secretary's McLean's letter, re-arranged the schedule, I find that they have only asked for the days being changed from Wednesdays to Saturdays, asking Cobourg to play on the 10th and again on the 12th of July, which is quite fair in your point of view, also asking Belleville to play at 10 o'clock in the morning, as the Petes do not wish to interfere with their Exhibition Board. These latter two points are up to the respective clubs.

These matters will be dealt with impartially at the Executive meeting called for Oshawa, Tuesday, April 13th at 2.45 and I only hope your sporting editor will find it convenient to be present and see things done on the square. As regards to Oshawa picking the dates, no Oshawa ball fan, Central or Town League, saw the schedule before it was mailed out. However these criticisms are in the interests of the League, only please do not make them personal as regards Oshawa ball team, for I was, as the saying goes "puffed out" of baseball in Oshawa and do not wish to be conspiring with the local team.

Hoping you will give this your personal attention and space as per your well done roast, I remain,

Yours as ever,
JOHN G. NOTT,
Secretary C.O.A.B.L.

ONE ON THE SPOTTER.

A good story is going the rounds about a spotter who was in Kingston recently looking for "bootleggers." It is stated that the spotter got trace of a man who was alleged to be selling liquor. He made a deal with him for a bottle of "strong stuff." He secured the bottle all right but on breaking the home made seal on it, found that he had been buying cold tea. And it is further alleged that the spotter paid $7 for his cold tea.

MR. LOUIS YEOTES,
Who is back in City League baseball with his Thistles team, whom he claims are going to make things interesting for the other outfits. He extends an invitation to all ball players in the city to join in with the Thistles, promising them an enjoyable season and a fair chance to make good. Mr. Yeotes has offered a box of cigars for the player who makes the longest hit on opening day, as well as to all players making home runs during the season.

OH, MAJESTIC TREES!

"THE VALLEY OF THE GIANTS" WITH WALLACE REID, IMPRESSIVE.

Have you ever felt that strange feeling that thrills you when you stand in a red wood forest and look up at the giants which surround you? If there is anything calculated to make a man look small this is the thing.

The lumber industry and the drama of the forests find splendid exemplification in "The Valley of the Giants," a new Paramount-Artcraft picture with Wallace Reid as the star, which is now playing at the Allen. Mr. Reid has a delightful role—that of a young lumberman who wages a hard battle for fortune and wins out in the end. The photo-play is a picturization of Captain Peter B. Kyne's famous novel of the same name. Grace Darmond heads a splendid supporting cast.

"PLEASE GET MARRIED"

The laughable comedy success of Paris, New York and London, comes to the Grand to-night. Here is something for Old Age, Middle Age, Youth an all ages. A comedy that goes right to the heart of every man, woman and child. It has an appeal for rich and poor alike, for it is intensely human and overflowing with laughter. It is one of those very exceptional offerings of the theatre that do not need to have their morals investigated. It has been a long time since anything approaching in novelty the theme of "Please Get Married" has been produced. Plays of such potent heart appeal and bewitching comedy are not written every year, nor every decade. This comedy is not a play to be described. It is a play to be seen.

FIGHT PICTURES WERE VERY CLEAR

EVERY DETAIL OF THE WILLARD-DEMPSEY BOUT WAS SHOWN.

The Willard-Demsey fight pictures at the Allen Theatre last night drew a big crowd, in spite of the fact that the programme did not open until 10.45 o'clock, a somewhat unusual hour for Peterborough. The pictures amply rewarded those who attended, for they proved as clear and vivid a fight film as has been seen here. Every detail of the world's championship bout at Toledo was shown, the pictures being so clear that one could almost feel the heat of the sun in the large arena. In addition to the main bout there were some very interesting pictures of the training operations of the two fighters, of the arena itself and of the preliminary bouts.

Of the main battle it is only necessary to say that no one would have been surprised if Willard had failed to answer the bell in the second round, so terrific was the beating he received in the first session. He however seemed to be stronger in the second and third rounds, and Dempsey did not look so fast and fresh. The failure of Willard to respond to the timers' call at the beginning of the fourth, ended the battle. The film gave a very clear conception of the fight.

LACROSSE CLUB IN DRIVE FOR FUNDS

The Peterboro Lacrosse Club held its fourth meeting last night at the Empress hotel and, judging by the enthusiasm manifested by the large number of interested citizens, old players, young players, and young men desirous of learning Canada's national game ,the promoters are going to be amply rewarded by their efforts.

A team has been entered in the Intermediate series of the Ontario Amatuer Lacrosse Association.

In order to purchase an equipment the club will require some financial assistance from the public.

A committee composed of Dr. Sutton, R. M. Glover, Robert Begley and J. L. Johnston will handle this matter.

It has been decided to start the drive on Friday, April 9th, and any persons who are overlooked are asked not to take offence but to leave their subscriptions with any of the above mentioned.

The Peterboro club has not been grouped yet but it is likely that they will be in a district with Port Hope, Oshawa ,and in all probability Lindsay.

PROHIBITION ACT IS CALLED UNJUST

ACT CONSIDERED IN THE LEGISLATURE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

(Special to The Examiner.)

FREDERICTON, N.B., April 8.—The New Brunswick Prohibition Act was characterized in the Legislature yesterday afternoon as "the most nefarious, unjust and unBritish Act ever passed on the statute books in the British Empire," by D. W. Mersereau, M.L.A. for Sudbury, and one of the leading Liberal members supporting the government. He further declared that the Prohibition Act was "causing more bribery, forgery and corruption in New Brunswick than all the liquor that could be sold in New Brunswick since Confede ration," and members on both sides of the House joined in vigorous applause.

"The Prohibition Act is so bad," continued Mr. Mersereau that you cannot even employ a lawyer to defend a case brought under it, so it must be prett bad alright."

Stomach and Liver Trouble

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, get the bowels back to their proper condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. C. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

"They are also good for headache."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

COUNTY DEPUTATION WAS WELL RECEIVED BY HON. MR. BOWMAN

Hon. Beniah Bowman, Minister of Lands, Forests, and Mines, made a distinctly favourable impression upon the deputation representing the northern townships of Peterborough County that appealed to him yesterday for definite information in regard to the colonisation road grants. The deputation included Warden Nicholls, Reeves Shaw, Griffith, Brown, and Clark.

Warden Nicholls and Reeve Griffith asked whether these grants would still be available to the northern part of Smith Township and to Methuen Township, which is combined with Belmont. Smith has adopted the Good Roads system, and Belmont entered it last year, but the northern parts of these municipalities are virtually within the pale of the colonisation road district, including Harvey, Burleigh, Galway, Chandos, and Anstruther.

Smith and Belmont, by adopting the Good Roads scheme, find the colonisation roads funds withdrawn, although parts of their townships cannot hope to share in the Highway Department's bounty.

Hon. Mr. Bowman told the deputation he would consult the Hon. Mr. Biggs, and would forward a definite answer as soon as possible.

Under the by-law system, Hon. Mr. Bowman assured Reeve Shaw that the Department would bear half the cost of highway improvement, in addition to the regular colonisation roads grant. This is a decided help to Harvey, but it is the only one of the northern townships that feels it can afford the expenditure under the by-law system.

The deputation came home with a strong feeling that the two Provincial Departments might evolve a means of assisting the northern townships beyond the existing legislation.

TENDERS WANTED.

Tenders wil be received for the removal of the house situated on Park street, on Henry Hope property and placed on concrete foundation at Exhibition grounds. Don't Waste Power

The wrong kind of belting will waste more power if placed on the wrong drive than the right belting costs. You can practically eliminate power waste and the element of guess-work in placing transmission belting, by having our experts make a thorough analysis of your transmission and specify the right type and size of

Dominion Friction Surface Belting

For more than fifty years we have been solving transmission problems. Through research and thousands of experiments we have developed a rubber friction compound that is impregnated right into the fabric itself—it also vulcanizes the plies and makes the belt take a grip on the pulley which eliminates practically all wastage of power. (

Get the real facts concerning your transmission belting. Have our experts prove to you that they can help you to stop transmission leaks, eliminate idle machines and employees and production losses, as well as reduce your transmission cost and upkeep. ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

For Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, and for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all.

Accept only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

FIREMEN RESIGN IN ST. CATHARINES

ACTION FOLLOWS ULTIMATUM PRESENTED TO THE COUNCIL.

ST. CATHERINES, April 8.—Every man on the city fire brigade, but the chief and assistant chief, has sent in his resignation, to take effect Thursday noon. This was because the City Council met their ultimatum for an increase in wages of twenty-five per cent. over last year with permission to resign. The Council decided to allow the men to resign and if their places cannot be filled, volunteer firemen, headed by some of the aldermen, will man the firehalls. In the meantime new men are advertised for. If some of the old men wish to apply they will be considered. Ald. F. H. Avery, who favored the twenty-five per cent. increase, resigned as chairman of the Fire and Light Committee as a protest. Ald. H. E. Rose was elected in his place. The fight between the Council and the firemen started the first of the year, when the firemen were ordered to give up their union. They refused and the Council finally gave in. The increases in wages granted a week ago did not satisfy and hence the ultimatum. J. A. Dalphond, of Montreal, vice-president of the International Fire Fighters' Association, asked permission to address the Council, but was refused. He then delivered the ultimatum to the Council.

Mrs. J. C. Smith entertained a few friends at the tea hour on Saturday in honor of her guest, Miss Relyea, of Toronto. The afternoon was a very pleasant one.

Evening Services

The Sunday evening services in the Methodist Church was, as is customary, in charge of the Woman's Missionary Society. Mrs. Kendry of Peterboro, gave a splendid address. The choir rendered two anthems which were excellently sung and added greatly to the service.

The Quarterly Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning. There was a splendid attendance. Miss Culles sang a solo which was much appreciated.

Church Services

There were two celebrations of the Holy Communion in St. John's Anglican church on Easter day, one at 8 a.m. and the other at the 11 o'clock service which was partially choral.

Marsh and Spofford's Te Deum and Swart's Gloria Tibi and Gloria in Excelsis and Palmer's Kyrie and Plummer's Sanctus were sung and also an anthem "As it Began to Dawn the violin accompanying the organ. Mrs. H. G. FitzGerald took the solo parts.

The Easter hymns, which always seem so bright after the more sombre Lenten hymns, were sung heartily by the choir and large congregation.

The evening service was also well attended and was partially a choral service. Rev. Dr. Archbold preached two splendid sermons appropriate to the great feast of Easter. At both services he pictured the contrast between the sombre Good Friday and the joyous Easter. Good Friday speaks to us of death and sacrifice and Easter of the victory over death and of eternal life. But it is only by Good Friday that we attain Easter.

his violin at both services, generously played a few selections at the close of the evening service which were indeed a rare treat to the congregation Mr. Strickland with his violin added materially to the beauty of the Easter services.

On Sunday afternoon the Easter service was held for the Sunday School when the children brought their Lenten offerings to the House of God. The offering amounted to $17.30 which was especially good.

Dr. Archbold in a short address, gave the story of the resurrection and some of its lessons in a way that could easily be understood even by the youngest of the children.

PRESENTATION TO LAKEFIELD MAN

MR. G. B. HILLIARD HONOURED BY HIS ASSOCIATES.

LAKEFIELD, April 7.—At the close of the Communication of Clementi Lodge, No. 313, A. F. and A. M., held on Tuesday evening, after initiating four candidates in the first degree, the Lodge was called to order, and Wor. Bro. G. B. Hilliard, Chaplain of the Lodge, was called to the east, when Wor. Bro. W. H. Casement said: Dear Bro. Hilliard—At the last meeting of the Lodge we were all rudely apprised of your leaving us by the tendering of your resignation as Chaplain, and it is with extreme regret that we let you go, as you have ever been one of our most faithful members. We understand you are thinking of making your home in the West for the benefit of your health, which we all hope will be greatly improved. You may rest assured that Mrs. Hilliard and yourself will carry with you the best regards of every member of the Lodge. And as a slight token of the appreciation of your services and the kindly feeling toward you, we would ask you to accept this gift as a token of our esteem."

Mr. Hilliard was greatly taken by surprise, and explained his thanks and gratitude for their generous gift, and which he would always treasure for the rest of his life.

He said that with the exception of two or three members, he had seen all the rest of the members initiated, passed and raised, and in a great many cases had assisted in enabling them to receive light.

The gift was a handsome watch chain and locket; on one side of the locket was a Past Master's jewel, and on the other side it was inscribed as follows:

"Presented to Wor. Bro. Geo. B. Hilliard, by Clementi Lodge 313, G.R.C. April 6th, 1920."

Tartar on Teeth

Shows That You Don't Clean Them—Note These Facts

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

This is to men and women who find that brushed teeth discolor and decay. Who find that tartar forms, or pyorrhea starts. You are not keeping teeth clean. You let a film remain and the damage is traced to it.

Dental science has found a way to end film. It is now embodied in a dainty tooth paste which millions are employing. We urge you to try it ten days at our cost and see the results for yourself.

Look Now

That film, to some extent, clouds nearly every set of teeth. And most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

That Film on Teeth
Can Now Be Ended in This Way

You can feel on your teeth a slimy film, ever-present, ever-forming. That film is the great tooth wrecker. Dental science now traces nearly all tooth troubles to it.

The film clings to the teeth, gets between the teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush does not end it. The ordinary dentifrice does not dissolve it. So millions find that teeth discolor and decay despite the daily brushing.

Why Teeth Discolor

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Dental science, after years of searching, has found a way to combat film. Many able authorities have proved its efficiency. For five years it has been subjected to every sort of clinical and laboratory test.

Now, for home use, it is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Leading dentists all over America are now urging its adoption. This week we offer a 10-Day Tube to anyone who asks. And we urge that someone in every home prove its unique effects.

Based on Pepsin

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. Dental science has now discovered a harmless activating method. And now everyone can fight the film with active pepsin constantly.

See What It Does

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Use like any tooth paste. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Watch the results and read the reason for them. Compare this new method with the old. Then adopt for yourself and have your children adopt the method which seems best. This is of lifetime importance to you. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

Look in Ten Days

See how the teeth whiten—how they glisten—as the fixed film disappears. Then you will know there is a way to cleaner, safer teeth.

A SPRING TONIC AIDS EFFICIENCY

Lay Foundation of Good Health Now by Building Your Blood and Strengthening Your Nerves.

The good old fashion of taking a tonic in the springtime, like most of the customs of our grandparents, is based upon sound common sense and good medical practice. Winter is always a trying time, for those who are not in rugged physical health. Many men, women and children go through the winter on reserve strength they have stored up during the sunny, summer months and grow increasingly pale and languid as the spring days approach. A tonic for the blood and nerves at this time will do much for such people, by putting color in the cheeks and banishing that tired feeling that worries thousands of people at this season of the year.

It is impossible to be energetic if your blood is thin and weak, or if your nerves are frayed or shattered. You cannot compete with others if you do not get refreshing sleep at night, or if your appetite is poor or you are losing weight. You need a tonic at this time to add to your efficiency now, as well as to save you from suffering later on. And in all the realm of medicine, there is no safer or better tonic than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills tone and enrich the blood which circulates through every portion of the body, strengthening jaded nerves and run down organs, and bringing a feeling of new strength and energy to weak, easily tired, despondent men, women and children.

Mrs. J. N. McNeil, Glace Bay, N.S., says: "For years past my home has never been without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have good reason to praise them highly. Following an attack of la grippe, I was left in a badly run down condition. I had no appetite and felt so weak I could scarcely go about the house. I was taking medicine, but it was not helping me, and a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I used them for a time with the most beneficial results. My appetite improved, my strength returned and I was soon able to do all my house work. I now use the pills every spring and find them a splendid strength bringing tonic. I have recommeded the pills to other friends who have used them with good results."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic, not a stimulant. They build up the blood, and through their use not only the disastrous after effects of influenza but also troubles due to poor blood, such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion and the generally worn-out feeling that affects so many people, disappear. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GOVERNMENT AIDS TOWNSHIP ROADS

MONAGHAN WILL TAKE ADVANTAGE OF NEW LEGISLATION.

North Monaghan intends to avail itself of new highway legislation under which they will appoint a township road superintendent to supervise the improvement of strictly township roads, apart from the county and county provincial roads.

The Ontario Government will pay 40 per cent of this official's salary, and 20 per cent. of the money spent on the roads under his management.

Reeve McIntosh and Deputy Reeve Wilson told The Examiner that they believed a superintendent could be engaged for $200, devoting only part of his time to the work. The government would pay $80 of the salary, and supposing $3000 as the commuted statute labor, would contribute $600, 20 per cent of the outlay. This would be a total of $680 from the government, and the system should improve the road work.

The government has not yet passed the amendment to the Highways Act but will introduce it shortly.

WILL LIST THE PREVAILING WAGES IN OTHER CITIES.

In Considering Labourers' Petition for Wage Increase.

For reference purposes in dealing with the demand of the Labourers' Union for increased wages, the Council will prepare a schedule of the wages obtaining in Brantford, Guelph, Ottawa, St. Catharines, Kingston, and Kitchener.

Ald. Crowe reminded Ald. Gordon that he had suggested some time ago this idea in an extended form to include all civic employees.

The information will be for the special benefit of the Board of Works and the Bridge Committee.

COUNTY'S GOOD ROADS BY-LAW PASSED AND FUNDS PROVIDED

WILL BORROW $25,000 AS WORKING CAPITAL FOR SPRING OPERATIONS —TAX RATE FOR ROAD BUILDING WILL BE DECIDED IN JUNE.

Satisfaction with the services of H. A. Moore, of Dummer, as inspector of colonisation roads in the northern townships of Peterborough County was expressed in a resolution by Reeves Shaw and Clark at this morning's session of the County Council. The resolution also recommended that Mr. Moore be retained in office.

Passed Good Roads By-law.

The inclusion of the Townships of Smith, Ennismore, Douro, and Dummer in this county's good roads group projected at the meeting on Good Friday, was ratified by a by-law this morning. The proposal to finance the work on the flat rate basis was adopted an Saturday morning.

Road Levy Not Decided.

The Council decided to postpone until June the fixing of the tax levy for this year's road construction and maintenance.

Three mills was suggested, but Warden Nicholls objected that two mills would be more acceptable to Smith Township.

"I think that way too," said Reeve Holland, of Ennismore.

County Solicitor E. A. Peck remarked that the rate need not be determined until June, but the Council could provide for borrowing the moneys required for the spring work until the June session.

Accordingly, a by-law authorising the opening of a new account under which $25,000 could be borrowed, was passed.

County Clerk Elliott estimated that a three-mill rate on the equalised assessment of the eight good roads townships would bring in $22,000. In June the Council could agree upon the road tax, and in the meantime would have a working capital for the spring operations. This account must be closed by 31st December.

$50,000 Spending Money.

Another by-law authorised the borrowing of $50,000 for current expenditures until the new taxes are due.

Photographer's Account.

With an eye to the pennies that swell the tax bills, the Council scrutinised an account of $7.50 rendered by the Roy Studio for photographs of the five Russian prisoners who were arrested on a charge of murdering the Bulgarian quarryman at Havelock last June.

Reeve McIntosh said that Chief Thompson had told him he had an arrangement with the Roy Studio to take pictures of prisoners at the price of 50 cents each. Mr. Roy took these photographs at the jail instead of in his studio, which, it was presumed, was the reason for the higher charge.

Warden Nicholls: Mr. Moore said there were objections to removing these prisoners.

Reeve McIntosh said he understood two photographs—front and side face views—had to be sent to the "rogues' gallery" at Ottawa.

Reeve Eason: Shouldn't the Dominion Government pay this bill?

Reeve Shaw: It's only a trifle; we had better pay.

His motion to that effect, seconded by Reeve Holland, carried.

WOODMEN HELD GOOD MEETING

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR THE CONVENTION TO BE HELD HERE.

The special meeting of the Woodmen of the World held last evening was well attended. A most instructive address on Lodge matters was given by the Head Council Commander, Mr. Claire Jarvis of London.

Fifteen new applications were received from new members and in addition 11 others were approved and initiated.

That the address of Mr. Jarvis was one of the most instructive ever heard by the members, was the consensus of opinion of those who attended last night. The growth of the order and the continual success met with as well as the very satisfactory state of the finances, were touched upon. The Head Council Commander gave an outline of the head camp meeting it is proposed to hold here on June 16 when over 300 delegates from every province and city in the Dominion will assemble here to discuss vital business.

For several years the local camp has worked enthusiastically to secure the big convention for this city, and out of many larger cities, such as London, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Peterboro was selected on the first ballot of the head executive at London

The Convention.

The convention will open on Thursday night, June 15th with a large initiation of 150 members, which is the objective of the Peterboro Camp by then, and the following day will swing into the more important business of the convention.

Delegates from far-away British Columbia and the North west Territories will sit side by side with delegates from Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, and the convention will serve as a Dominion wide advertisement of Peterboro.

The following committee were appointed to make all arrangements for the coming of the head camp meeting: Brothers A. Graham, R. S. Ivey, J. Edgar, W. Taylor, George A. Gillespie, R. M. Glover, H. E. Hodgins, J. W. Worth, S. D. Hall and A. A. Haskill.

Next Monday night an important meeting will be held and all members are requested to be present.

SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

FOR THE GUMS

Very Effective Method for Banishing Hairs

(Modes of To-day.)

At very little cost any woman can rid her face of hairy growths if she will use the delatone treatment. This is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This paste is spread upon the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm results from this treatment, but care should be used to buy real delatone.

PETERBORO MAN IS ON COMMITTEE

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, April 8—The "School Masters' Union" is now an accomplished fact in Ontario. At the Ontario Educational Association meeting this morning the "Male Teachers' Association" was formally organised and officers elected.

Martin Kerr, Toronto, was elected president.

Other divisions of teachers are also organising as part of the general federation.

Principals Kemp, Ottawa, R. F. Downey, Peterborough, and others have been named as the organising committee for the Male Teachers' Association.

LOCAL DRUGGISTS HAVE RETURNED

Mr. Wm. Madill and Mr. Percy Bond, the local representatives on the druggists delegation who yesterday waited upon Mr. N. W. Rowell, president of the Privy Council objecting to provisions in the bill to amend the Opium and Drug Act which prevent druggist from selling mixtures containing small quantities of opium, morphine and other narcotics unless a medical prescription had been given, have returned to the city and report a very satisfactory outlook. Mr. Rowell gave the druggists, who came from practically every point in Canada, a sympathetic hearing and promised to give the matter serious consideration.

Congratulated by Local M. P.

The delegation was warmly congratulated by Mr. J. H. Burnham, upon their organization and upon the way in which they laid the matter before Mr. Rowell. He said that it was the best organized delegation which had visited to Ottawa in this time.

press an opinion. If the government would put half the cost of these schools they might be favorably considered by the ratepayers, but if the people have to pay the whole thing there will be a holler.

Reeve Shaw—There troubles will only commence when they try to enforce that Act. It would be all right if it wasn't compulsory.

Reeve Coughlin—That's the idea of this bill ,to make it compulsory.

Reeve Shaw — Where children would have to get up before daylight and drive in a long distance in winter it would simply mean they wouldn't get any education until they were able to endure that hardship.

Reeve Eason stated that one expected result would be a decided advantage for rural children who would receive many of the benefits now enjoyed by urban children.

Nothing came of the passing discussion. Deputy-Reeve Wilson understood that the Government did intend to give certain concessions. He alluded to a meeting which will be held at Springville in the near future at which the question of consolidation of some schools will be discussed. He further advised that any municipalities interested in this question could obtain complete information from School Inspector Laws.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY MADE BY WELL-KNOWN TORONTO DENTIST

PYORRHOEA IS BEING SUCCESSFULLY TREATED—AN INTERVIEW WITH DR. C. H. RIGGS, WHO IS GIVING TO THE PUBLIC THE RESULTS OF YEARS OF STUDY AND RESEARCH.

TORONTO, April 7.—There is no ailment which mankind is subject to that causes more misery than Pyorrhoea, or that is receiving more attention from those who are brought into direct contact with the disease.

Dr. C. H. Riggs, a practising dentist of 40 years' experience in Toronto, a graduate of the Royal College of Dental Surgery of Ontario, who has given years of study and research to that subject, gave the following interview yesterday in Toronto, relative to his discovery of a remedy for Riggs disease, pyorrhoea, or trench mouth:

Q. Are you a graduate of any college here?

A. I am a graduate of the Royal College of Dental Surgery of Ontario.

Q. How long have you been practising in Toronto?

A. I have been in continuous practise for approximately forty years.

Q. Where was your office during that time.

A. I started practise on Queen St. W. where the street widens just east of Spadina Ave. Then took an office over the old C.P.R. Bldg., corner King and Yonge and I remained there for about eighteen years, or until the building was torn down to be replaced by the present C.P.R. building?

Q. Where did you then go?

A. I took offices in the Temple Bldg., where I remained for about fifteen years.

Q. Have you treated many people with your Pyorrhoea remedy?

A. I am showing you about fifty cards of persons whom I am treating at present, besides hundreds, whom I am pleased to say I have given permanent relief.

Q. How long have you been using this special treatment?

A. About 1 1-2 ears.

Q. What results have you had from the use of this remedy?

A. With this combination treatment I have had absolute results. In mild forms of the disease, I have obtained results with one application, my patients not having to return for further treatment.

Q. Is there any pain in connection with this treatment?

A. No pain whatever, nothing disagreeable, no instruments, a simple treatment that can be used in the privacy of the home by the patients themselves.

Q. When this treatment is applied will it give immediate results?

A. Patients who have come to me for treatment after nights of sleeplessness, have obtain relief from the first treatment.

Q. Have you had all the business you anticipated since taking up this special work?

A. Yes, many times more than I ever anticipated.

Q. What is the reason that you have determined to abandon your dental pratcice and give the public the benefit of your experience?

A. Knowing from the stati stics of some of the most clever practitioners in the profession, that about 60 p.c. of the people over 40 years of age are suffering from this foul disease, I have decided to give afflicted humanity the benefits of my years of research and labors, and my eventual success in discovering a remedy, that has been proven by me, to be the Master of Pyorrhoea. It has always been disagreeable to me to have to remove teeth, practically sound but loose. My remedy attacks the germs, which loosens the membrane, and solidifies the teeth. Any one will know immediately that the original tooth is much better than any artificial work that can be done.

Q. How do you intend notifying the public?

A. The only way that the public can be informed is through the medium of the Press, which I intend to use, so that all sufferers may know of my remedy, which consists of a neat package, containing four distinct treatments, put up in separate containers, and numbered 1, 2, 3 and 4, with explicit directions, so that any person can readily understand. This package can be mailed anywhere in the world. Many people are not aware of the results of neglecting this trouble as it leads to rehumatism, kidney, liver, heart and brain disorders, sleeplessness and depressed condition. Numbers die from this trouble direct, as can be verified by consulting any hospital records. It is my only wish that this remedy may reach the multitudes who are suffering from this dread disease.

RESULTS OF BYE-ELECTIONS

LABOUR U. F. O. RECEIVED A BIG VOTE

COBALT, April 8. — With all the returns that are reported last night, which include all the large polls, Angus McDonald, the Labor-U.F.O. candidate, is leading in the Timiskaming bye-election by over 1200 majority.

The small polls yet to hear from are likely to follow the procession and increase the majority.

Major Pullen, Independent Conservative, ran second, and A. G. Slaght, Liberal, third. The vote was decidedly light. The figures so far received give the standing as follows:

McDonald	3717
Pullen	2459
Slaght	2329

MONTREAL, April 8. — Fernand Rinfret, official Liberal candidate, was the choice of the electors of the St. James division at the by-election held yesterday when he was returned with a majority of 1563 votes over the Labor candidate, Alphetus Mathieu. There are still five polls to hear from and because the deputy returning officers of these polls locked up their reports in the ballot boxes instead of bringing them down to the Division Returning Officer, it will be three days before the complete figures can be secured. The figures from 74 polls proved so convincing that there is no possible doubt of the result.

LISTS SAID TO BE PADDED

EVIDENCE AT THE COURT OF ENQUIRY

(Canadian Press.)

ST. CATHARINES, April 8. — Wholesale padding of pay lists was indicated at this morning's session of the court of enquiry investigating the administration of affairs of the 19th Regiment, when on checking over the lists, it was discovered that the pay was claimed for nearly five hundred men. Col. Burleigh and other officers testified to the effect that but from three hundred to three hundred and fifty men were on duty.

GOOD NEWS FOR PICTURE FANS

(United Press.)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 8. — Charlie Chaplin's face to-day bore marks of a hotel lobby fight here last night with Louis Mayer, film producer, and manager of Chaplin's estranged wife, Mildred Harris Chaplin.

"Ask Mayer and my wife, they can tell you," was Chaplin's statement regarding the fray.

According to witnesses Chaplin met Mayer in the hotel lobby and demanded he remove his glasses. Mayer complied and Chaplin missed a swing to the jaw. After several exchanges Chaplin fell to the floor. The film comedian's nose showed several deep scratches to-day.

Mayer said the trouble arose over the settlement to be made with Mrs. Chaplin.

When a man attributes his success to taking advantage of an opportunity the opportunity is usually but another name for an easy mark.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Guaranteed to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

Weak, tired people regain strength and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks.

CAUTION:— While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

MORE SMOKE THAN FIRE.

At 5.55 yesterday afternoon a pile of loose paper caught fire in the Merchants' Press printing office on Water Street from some unknown cause, and created more smoke than fire. The people living above sent in the alarm, and the blaze was put out by the firemen before it reached any serious proportions.

WEDDING BELLS

HAYES—MANDAM

On Monday afternoon at Knox Manse, Rev. J. A. MacKenzie officiating, the wedding was quietly solemnized of Walter Merdith Hayes to Mabel Mandam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mandam of Sherbrooke street. They were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes will reside in Oshawa the home of the groom.

HOWDEN—MORROW

Yesterday afternoon at 12.30 a pretty wedding was solemnized in Knox Church, Rev. J. A. MacKenzie officiating when Elizabeth Morrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Morrow of this city was united in matrimony to Wm. James Howden of Omemee. The wedding march was played by the church organist, Mr. F. E. Walden.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party returned to the home of the bride where wedding breakfast was served and Mr. and Mrs. Howden left on the 3.20 C.P.R. train for Toronto. They will reside in Omemee.

The bride who was a member of Knox choir was presented on Sunday at the conclusion of the morning service with a pyrex pie plate. She was also presented with a silver butter dish from her associates in the primary department of the Sunday school with which she has also been connected.

TAYLOR—THOMPSON

In Knox Church yesterday afternoon at 2.30 the wedding was solemnized of Thomas Taylor to Lillie Ann Thompson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson of Peterboro. The bride who was unattended entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. F. E. Walden. Immediately after the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. A. MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left for a short honeymoon to be spent in the west and on their return will reside in the city.

OBITUARY

WALTER JOSEPH O'CONNELL

Mr. Walter Joseph O'Connell, died this morning at St. Vincent's Hospital, New York, after a short illness

The body will arrive in the city on the 11.45 C. P. R.

Funeral announcement later.

WILLIAM J. STABLER.

The death occurred on March 26th, of William J. Stabler, of Selwyn, Ont., after a short illness caused by influenza.

He leaves beside his sorrowing wife, his father, Mr. John Stabler, of Selwyn; one sister, Mrs. Bruce Fitzgerald, also of Selwyn, and one brother, Bert Stabler, Saskatchewan. The funeral left his home, March 28, to the Lakefield cemetery.

MARKIN HENRY.

Markin Henry passed away on 2nd April at his residence in Chandos. The deceased was 89 years 10 months of age. He was born in Cavan, and moved from there to Keene. Then he moved to Hale's Bridge, South Monaghan, where he lived for about 35 years. Chandos then became his home, where he lived ever since.

He leaves to mourn his loss three daughters, Mrs. A. C. Downer, Auburn, Mrs. Charles Peters, Otonabee, and Mrs. Edward Criverr, of Detroit, and four sons, Fred of Lafayette Avenue, Peterborough, William, of Harwood, John of Fraserville, Martin of Stone, Saskatchewan, and 50 grandchildren. His wife predeceased him 14 years ago. He was a member of the Anglican Church. He was buried in Apsley, the Rev. C. H. Spence, of the Anglican Church, officiating at the funeral service.

R. M. BELL.

A telegram was received this morning by Mrs. Sidney Bennett, of Otonabee, conveying the sad intelligence of the sudden death of Mr. R. M. Bell, of Bay City, Michigan. The late Mr. Bell was born in Smith Township, and was educated in local schools and the Collegiate Institute. He left for Michigan when a young man, and for over 35 years has held an important position with the Michigan Central Railroad. He leaves to mourn his loss one daughter, Mrs. F. B. Rogers, of Bay City, Mich.

Mr. Bell will be remembered by many of the older people of this city —he was a regular visitor from time to time—who will regret to hear of his demise.

Sexsmith Censures Farmers

FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE CANVAS IN EAST PETERBORO TO RAISE ELECTION FUNDS.

FRANCHISE BILL UP

OTTAWA, April 9.—There were two spirited clashes during to-night's debate, on the Franchise Bill, which put life into the otherwise dull proceedings of a busy day. J. A. Sexsmith, East Peterboro, Unionist, aroused the ire of the third party by characterising as "disgraceful" actions of Farmer party candidates in soliciting campaign donations from door to door. When R. H. Halbert, North Ontario, anderstwhile President of the United Farmers of Ontario, denied that funds had been secured in that way, Mr. Sexsmith emphatically declared that he spoke from knowledge of events in his own constituency. More will be heard of methods used by the Farmers' party in raising campaign funds and their objections to the clause restricting contributions to these funds next week, after several Western members return to the Capital.

Mr. H. P. Murphy (North Perth) declared that the clause forbidding a candidate to hire vehicles for the conveyance of voters on election day led to "hypocrisy, chicanery and fraud." He believed nearly all the members had violated the clause. And it was obsolete.

Dr. P. McGibbon (Muskoka) and Mr. Sam Jacobs (George Etienne Cartier) supported the request for elimination of the clause.

Hon. Mr. Ontario was of opinion [illegible] Minister [illegible] A. R. McMaster [illegible] after consideration the [illegible] yet favorable [illegible]

"Simply Terrible Disgraceful."

Hon. W. S. Fielding was opposed to striking out the clause. He had thought it might be well to have a certain number of vehicles allotted to each polling subdivisfon to prevent abuses.

J. A. Sexsmith (East Peterboro') declared that the action of the Farmers' party in going from house to house soliciting funds for an election was disgraceful.

"Where would my hon. friend get the money?" asked Dr. Michael Clark (Red Deer), House Leader for the Farmers. "From behind the [illegible]?"

Mr. Sexsmith replied that he would not get the money, but the votes. "We did not go from door to door begging money," interjected R. H. Halbert (North Ontario), a former President of the U.F.O.

"The Farmers did in my own riding," retorted Mr. Sexsmith.

Further discussion on this phase of the act was ruled out and the clause carried. Mr. Guthrie informed the House that, in deference to the wishes of the Western members, the clause restricting contributors to party funds would not be considered until next Tuesday.

DOROTHY GISH "IN AGAIN" IN LATEST AMUSING PLAY.

"Turning the Tables" Presents Vivacious Star as Inmate of a Sanitarium who Upsets the Place.

Dorothy Gish has been taken in hand by the authorities again. In one of her earlier releases you remember she was confined in a reformatory. "Turing the Tables," her new picture, which is coming to the Grand Theatre for two days commencing to-day, shows her as the lively inmate of a sanitarioum. Only she hasn't been satisfied to pass life in a padded cell but has seized the cap and insignia of a nurse and is ministering to the mentally sick. A rollicking love story and lots of that unique Gish humor are said to be entwined in the plot, which gives Dorothy ample opportunity to exhibit her laugh-making wares.

Included in the cast are Raymond Cannon, George Fawcett, and Kate Toneray and like the previous Gish releases the picture was directed by Elmer Clifton.

Registration of the Union Label is Now Subject of Negotiations in the Capital

Result is Being Watched With Interest in Labour Circles—Dominion Trades Council Asked to State Requirements.

(Exclusive to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, April 9.—For the purpose of conferring with the Executive of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress regarding the registration of the Union label, permission for which is now being sought from the Dominion Government, Mr. James Manning, of the Trades Label Department of the American Federation of Labor, will arrive in Ottawa within the next two weeks. The Government has asked the Dominion Trades Congress to state exactly what legislation is desired on the matter of the Union label.

On three occasions, however, the House of Commons has passed a bill allowing the registration of the Union label, but each time the Senate, in dealing with the bill, referred it to the Committee on Banking and Commerce, which each time threw it out. The mater of registration of the Union label is a live issue, and negotiations are being watched with keen interest in Labor circles.

A POLITICAL SCANDAL UNEARTHED BY MEMBER

STARTLING CHARGE MADE BY CAPT. THOMAS B. CARSON—STATEMENT UNCHALLENGED.

(Special to The Examiner.)

FREDERICTON, N.B., April 9th.—Captain Thomas B. Carson, M.L.A., for St. John county, signalized his first speech in a debate on the budget since he became a member of the Legislature in 1912, on Thursday afternoon, by making the startling charge on the floor of the House that following the general election in 1917, when Premier Foster was himself defeated at the polls, in St. John county, and without a seat in the present House, a member of the Opposition had an offer to be paid for "getting out in order to make a seat for the would-be Premier.

"People who live in glass houses should not throw stones," said Mr. Carson in explaining that his charge was brought about because he had been amused to hear Hon. P. J. Veniot, the Minister of Public Works, address, refer to an effort which he alleged had been made by the old government, after the election, to secure supporters from the other side, in order that it might hold on to office. Two can play at that game," said Mr. Carson, but he gave no further particulars than already mentioned.

The incident caused much discussion in the lobby but so far no further action has been taken.

The charge was allowed to pass by unchallenged at the time but gives promise of developing into a political scandal.

STOCK MARKET OPENS STRONG

PRICES WERE HIGHER AT THE OPENING—STERLING EXCHANGE.

(Special to The Examiner.)

NEW YORK, April 9. — Prices were higher at the opening of the Stock Exchange to-day. Studebaker at 122 1-4 was off 1-2 and Stromberg showed the same decline at 110.

American Loco. opened at 107 5-8, up 7-8; Corn Products 100 1-2; B 100 1-2 unchanged; Mex Petroleum, 203 up 1 1-2; U. S. Rubber 114 up 3-4; U. S. Steel, 106 1-4 up 1-2; Pan Amer., 105 1-2, up 1-2; Baldwin 144 7-8, up 3-8; Bethlehem B, 99 1-4 up 5-8; Union Pacific 119 5-8 up 1-8; Republican Steel off 1-4 at 113 1-2.

Toward the close of the first hour the market presented a mixture of reaction in general list contrasted with buoyancy in a number of specialties.

South Porto Rican Sugar soared to 58 2 up 8 net. Consolidated textile gained 3 1-2 to 35 1-2. Fuis is said to be in the same group as the Stromberg and Stutz stocks, and its earnings are reported as close to $20 a share.

Stromberg, after breaking to 101 1-2, recovered to 107 1-2. Steel common advanced 1-2 to 106 1-2.

EXCHANGE MARKET.

(Special to The Examiner.)

NEW YORK, April 9. — The General Foreign Exchange Market was steady. Demand sterling opened at $3.99¾ up 1¾; franc checks were 15.32 up 4 centimes; marks demand were $.0185; cables $.0187, up $.0012; U. S. dollars on Canada demand $.9150.

MEETING OF G.W.V.A.F.C. 8 P.M. TO-NIGHT, AT G.W.V.A. HALL. EVERY MEMBER REQUESTED TO BE PRESENT. URGENT BUSINESS. 16 84

AT HOME

One of the most charming of the many social functions of the Easter holidays was the at home given last evening in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum. The reception committee, Mrs. J. Coughlin, Mrs. F. Fairen and Mrs. A. McPherson, proved ideal hostesses and spared no effort in making the large number of visitors very much at home. Progressive euchre was played in the ladies' sitting room and the arrangements for the card room were made by an efficient committee of ladies who so organized all details that everything ran satisfactorily from every viewpoint. The winners at cards were: Miss Deannard 1st ladies, Mrs. A. Crowley 2nd ladies' prize, Mr. Garden first gentlemen's and Mr. J. Picard 2nd gentlemen's prize.

Dainty refreshments were served from a table charmingly decorated in Easter lilies.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN SUGAR PRICES

SELLS ALL THE WAY FROM 18 TO 22 CENTS A POUND.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., April 9.— Retail sugar prices in Western Canada range all the way from 18 to 22 cents a pound, according to figures gathered from all parts of the Dominion today. Removal of restrictions on price has had the least effect in Vancouver, where sugar is still sold at 18 to 20 cents. Calgary and Edmonton pay the highest prices, 20 to 22 cents, Prince Albert, Regina and Moose Jaw 20 cents, Saskatoon 19 1-2 cents, Lethbridge 21 cents and Winnipeg 19 cents.

There is nothing startling or new in the above despatch as sugar has been selling under similar conditions in Peterborough, where the price ranges all the way from eighteen to twenty cents.

BELMONTS WILL PRESENT "FI-FI"

THE BELMONT CLUB WILL SPONSOR A MUSICAL PRODUCTION.

"Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop," a pleasing musical fantasy, is to be presented under the auspices of the Belmont Club, as soon as it can be arranged and rehearsed.

Amateur productions always attract much interest, and the board desires to take advantage of this fact in presenting this pleasing composition.

"Fi-Fi" is more than the average entertainment. It is a musical extravaganza, and requires a large cast, elaborate costuming, and much scenic equipment, with special lighting effects.

The production is somewhat on the order of "The Bluebird" and "Peter Pan." It represents a dream of the toymaker's daughter, who goes to sleep in her father's shop and dreams that all the toys become animated and a night of revelry follows. The plot is consistent and clever, interspersed with tuneful music and pretty spectacular features.

The cast will contain about 100 people, representing toy soldiers, jumping jacks, five letter blocks, sprites, fairies, dolls, clowns and other interesting creatures in toyland and fairyland.

THE GERMAN MILITARY LEADERS CONCEAL ARMS

SOME OF THE REASONS WHY THE FRENCH ARMY WAS ORDERED IN ADVANCE.

AMERICAN VIEW

Canadian Press.

BERLIN, April [illegible] — A member of the French military control commission in Berlin is said to be responsible for the statement that the French advance was brought about mainly through reports of General Nollet, the head of the mission, who was able to look behind the scenes.

What is going on there, the authority declares, "is calculated to inspire the deepest distrust regarding the machinations of the German military leaders, who more than ever feel themselves masters of the situation."

"With growing concern," he said, "we observed [illegible] of desperate military officials. It is impossible to discover where quantities of arms of all kinds exist. Suspicion grows that the leading German militarists are farfrom intending to disarm, and if the scheme of a so-called temporary but continuous arming of guards materializes, we must energetically protest, for such system means nothing else but the secret militarization of German operations."

AMERICA'S ATTITUDE

(Special to The Examiner.)

WASHINGTON, April 9. — The american attitude towards any adjustment of the new situation created by the entry of the French troops into the Ruhr district of Germany, will continue to be more that of an observer than an interested participant, from what can be learned in official circles here.

It is known that the State Department was in communication with London and Italy as well as France, up to the time that the French army moved forward from the Mayence bridgehead, and there has been no indication here of any change in the position taken more than a week ago.

The State Department announced it knew no reason why German troops should not be sent into the troubled district if it were clearly understood they would be withdrawn once order was restored.

Men For Service Overseas

A BRANCH OF THE NAVY LEAGUE WAS FORMED IN LAKEFIELD LAST NIGHT.

THE ADDRESS

LAKEFIELD, April 9. — Mr. R. J. Colville of Toronto, visited Lakefield last evening in the interests of the Canadian Navy League, and gave a lantern slide view of the surrender of the German fleet, to a fairly large and deeply interested audience.

Pondering on the situation as view after view of the great war vessels on their way to surrender passed before the eye one could not but be impressed with the utter almost consuming, humiliation that must have possessed the crews as they yielded up one after another of their splendid vessels to the hated English.

Rev. Dr. Archbold introduced the speaker in a brief but pithy address, incidentally dwelling on the great part played by the British navy in the war and also the extremely important and heroic service rendered by the men of the merchant marine, 17,000 of whom lost their lives.

Many views of sailors' homes owned and maintain d by the Navy League in various Canadian cities, were shown, and the useful and necessary work of caring for our sailors while in port emphasized; also the work (likewise our duty) of helping the widows and orphans of the sailors whose lives were lost in war service, all of which is undertaken by the Navy League, which includes in its programme an annual [illegible] weeks' training course for boys on a suitably equipped vessel supplied by the government.

The pictures of this branch of the work were most interesting; the fact that the object of this training is to fit Canadian boys to man our merchant vessels, instead of importing foreigners to do so, must surely appeal to the good sense and better judgment of all true Canadians.

At the close of the meeting a branch of the Navy League was formed and at the suggestion of Mr. Colville and by the hearty wish of the audience, Dr. Archbold was appointed chairman, his services being especially valuable because of the experience he has had already in the work.

Mr. Trude Leggott was appointed secretary and Mr. Lillicrap pro tem. treasurer.

The start is made with 11 members, but there is no doubt that many more will wish to enroll themselves in a branch of patriotic service that calls for the willing and ready cooperation of every Canadian who is alive to his country's needs and claims upon him. A silver collection of $10.21 was taken for expenses.

DEPUTY SHERIFF USED A BATON TO CLEAR THE COURT

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., April 9.— As an aftermath of the police attack on the crowds in the corridors of the Court House during the demonstration that followed the conviction of strike leaders March 27th, Deputy Sheriff John Pyniger was charged in police court yesterday with assault occasioning bodily harm. The complaintant is Nelson Kellar, who claims Pyniger made an unprovoked attack on him, striking his head with a baton. The case was remanded until Monday.

DEFINITE PLOT TO BOOST SUGAR

A COMMITTEE IS INVESTIGATING THE CIRCUMSTANCES

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 9.— That a definite plot in the interest of some sugar refiners of Eastern Canada misled the Ottawa Government on the sugar question last autumn is the charge made by a special committee of the British Columbia Legislature.

This committee, which for several weeks has been investigating the sugar costs and shortage, presented its report to-day. It says that the claim was made in Eastern Canada that [illegible] of yellow sugar were available, but this statement was a mere concoction of interested parties who were seeking to convince the Dominion Government that sufficient supplies were in hand to take care of the home refiners, and might be exported without causing any hardship to the home consumer, and the committee finds that this was a definite plot to baffle the Ottawa authorities into relaxation of export regulations in order that full advantage might be taken of the prices when they were at their highest.

The committee also finds that the control of sugar prices by the Government worked two ways—it had the effect of stopping export, and it also completely ended importation, because the importer was unwilling to trade without a margin.

The committee believes that had the Dominion Government allowed the importation of the commodity for sale exclusively to the manufacturer at a higher price than the controlled figure, local stocks would have been available to the consumer at the controlled price.

GOVERNMENT IS SEEKING ADVICE FROM VARIOUS POLITICAL PARTIES—THE FRENCH OCCUPATION.

FIGHTING CEASED

(United Press.)
By Carl D. Groat.

BERLIN, April 9.—The Reichstag has been called to meeet Monday.

The Government desires advice from the various political parties, it was learned on the important pending questions. The sessions will be of the greatest importantce, political observers believed, because of the admitted seriousness of the situation caused by the French occupation of the Rhine cities.

Reduction of the army as provided by the peace treaty, was to be considered together with the problems brought up by French occupation.

The belief prevailed here that France will prolong her stay in Frankfort and the other Rhine towns on the pretext that reduction of the Germany army had not been completed and that the German iprces in the Ruhr district had not been removed.

Regardless of the French attitude toward the agreement of last August, under which Germany pledged herself to have all troops out of the neutral zone by April 10, the German government now feels that this removal cannot be carried out as it would leave the inhabitants of the Ruhr basin at the mercy of lawless hands.

Reports here told of a new Communist outbreak in the region of Tangermuende, where the Reds were said to have declared a Soviet republic.

(United Press.)

FRANKFORT, April 9.—The third night of the French occupation passed quietly; citizens were pessimistic, they requested the French troops to remain for weeks.

The excitement of the early days of French control had changed to a grim calm which seemed only a surface covering for widespread discontent.

Even the radical Independent Socialists, who greeted the French arrival with cheers, welcoming it as a blow to the prestige of the Berlin government, had begun to look upon the French as intruders. Working classes feared a food shortage.

Local press comment was reserved, bearing evidence of editorial fear of the French authorities.

The Volksrecht voiced the popular sentiment in mild terms, when it expressed the "hope that the French would quit Frankfort soon."

Editors were said to have been threatened with imprisonment if they published statements objectionable to the French.

It was announced officially that the police hour will be extended to 11 p. m. as soon as the French authorities have become certain the city will remain calm.

(United Press.)

BERLIN, April 9.— French reinforcements have been sent to Frank-

THE RAT AT PRAYERS.

Dr. Sheridan, the celebrated friend of Swift, had a custom of ringing his scholars to prayers at a certain hour of the day. The boys were one day very devoutedly at prayers, except one, who was laughing outright from seeing a rat descending from the bell rope in the room. Sheridan was so provoked that he declared he would whip them all if the culprit was not pointed out to him, which was immediately done. The guilty pupil was instantly seized for punishment, when the wity schoolmaster told that if he said anything tolerable on the occasion he would forgive him, as he was the greatest dunce in the school. The trembling culprit, with very little hesitation, addressed his master with the following beautiful rhyme:

"There was a rat, for want of stairs,
Came down a rope to go to prayers."

Sheridan instantly dropped the rod, and, instead of a whipping, gave him half-a-crown.

CHINESE GIRLS TAKE TO TROUSERS AND CIGARTTES

Chinese women wearing extremely tight trousers and smoking cigarettes as they ride through the streets in rickshaws are not to be taken as representative of the modernist movement which is permeating the land of Celestials, according to Mrs. Lawrence Thurston, president of Gingling College, Mukin, China, in an address at German town, Pa.

"It is the educated woman who is guiding the movement of women in China," said Mrs. Thurston. "Many of the higher caste women gamble continuously because they have nothing else to do. But the times are changing fast. The government over there realizes that the old system of classical learning is obsolete and it is tearing down the old school and putting up buildings with modern equipment and instituting modern methods of teaching. A limited suffrage is coming for both sexes—at present it could be said that China has equal suffrage, because neither sex has any votes.

"The government is giving preliminary and high school education to girls, but at the present there are only two colleges for women in the country. The graduates are in a way educational missionaries all their lives, for tradition allows a Chinese woman to practice a profession after she is married. The American teachers have no problem of teaching manners to the Chinese women—the trouble we have is to keep them from adopting our free-and-easy ways."—Philadelphia Public-Ledger.

DUMMER TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

The fourth meeting of the municipal council of the Township of Dummer for the year 1920, was held in the Town Hall at Warsaw, on Tuesday the 6th day of April, commencing at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Reeve and Councillors present, viz: Chris. J. Darling, W. D. Robson, Geo. Barr, E. R. Hamblin. Minutes of the previous meeting were read over and signed. Mr. J. J. Crowe being absent, he forwarded to the Treasurer the sum of $5 for timber sold to Alvin Drain, on the 7th line opposite Lot No. 29. Moved by W. D. Robson, secondede by Geo. Barr that the following accounts having been passed by the council be paid and that an order be drawn on the Treasurer for each:—Roy Baker for gravel, $4.50; R. J. Gordon for gravel, $3; T. L. Payne for rebate of interest on collector's roll for the year 1919, $13.67; T. L. Payne for salary as collector for 1919, $150.

Dr. Munro, as chairman of the Soldiers' Memorial Committee and Mr. Robb of Norwood, came before the council respecting the proposed grant of $3,500 heretofore passed at a previous meeting of the council, to be raised by a special levy on the ratepayers of the whole township, provided that it was legal for the council to enact a by-law for that purpose without submitting it to a vote of the qualified rate-payers of the township. Some of the members of the council appear to think that the amount of $3,500 exceeds too much the sum that at first was mentioned, and that they would be willing to make the amount of the grant about $2,500. It was then suggested by the Reeve that the Memorial Committee would meet at the Town Hall at Warsaw, on Tuesday, the 20th day of April at 8 o'clock in the evening, to confer about the advisability of changing the design to something in proportion to the amount at first contemplated to be raised, therefore a special meeting of all the members of the council will be held in the Town Hall at Warsaw, on the evening of Tuesday, the 20th day of April, at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance of all concerned is requested

Council adjourned to meet as aforesaid.

A PLOUGH SONG.

With a clear brain ruling the strength of man and horse,
A fine sight is the plough-team on the hill-top together;
A good time is the plough-time in the clear, cold weather.

McKie worked the best team the countryside could show,
When he put in his own crop, two years ago;
As straight a back, as strong a hand as ever steered a plough,
Had McKie, that's a cripple and a sick man now.

A long time is the ploughman's day, from winter's morn till night,
A warm glow in the evening mists are homestead lamps alright.

And saw the plough lying and the team standing still;
And always in the twilight I can see young McKie
Lying in the furrow with his face to the sky.

McEnsay.

NEW CRIME RECORD IN BERLIN LAST YEAR

INCREASE IN HOUSEBREAKING AND BURGLARIES IN WAREHOUSES, WITH MILLIONS IN VALUE TAKEN.

BERLIN, April 4.— During 1919, according to figures now available, the remarkable epidemic of crime which set in throughout Berlin toward the end of the war increased enormously, and in January and February of the current year new records had been established by the criminal classes. For instance, in 1917 there were 3,335 cases of housebreaking in Berlin. The figure was 4,500 in the following year, but in 1919 it rose to over 12,500. House breaking has greatly increased. Last year more than 6,000 warehouses were broken into, and goods to the value of many millions of dollars carried off. In 1917 there were 2,500 cases of shop robberies on a big scale. Last year the number was 6,000.

Carpets are among the chief prizes which attract thieves, and little wonder, when the rise in the price of carpets is considered. Persian carpets, which before the war cost 36 marks per square yard, now fetch between 2,000 and 3,000 marks. So many typewriters have been stolen of late that a special department has been set up at Police Headquarters to deal with such thefts. Last year ten or twelve were reported daily during January and February. This year over 1,200 machines disappeared. In 1914 the police had to deal with one motor car theft per month. Now it is a case of one per day. An automobile waiting outside the British military mission's offices was recently stolen in broad daylight.

Thefts from hotels trebled in number, and murders and other crimes accompanied by violence increased about 400 per cent. in 1919, as compared with the previous year.

BOLSHEVISM DYING SLOWLY IN ENGLAND

FREE SPEECH IS THE CAUSE, SAYS TOM MOORE, BACK FROM OVERSEAS.

OTTAWA, April 8.— Bolsheviam is slowly but surely dying in England. Free speech is killing it. The Old Country Labor man is learning the unsoundness of the doctrine, not from those who seek to discredit the movement, but from the radicals themselves. Labor is becoming disgusted with the Reds and is showing the disgust by repudiating the movement.

So states Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, Canada's Labor representative on the International Labor Congress held in England, who arrived to Ottawa last night.

Soap Box Orators Abound.

Bolshevist soap box orators abound in Hyde Park, he said, and to a Canadian who has followed the Winnipeg trial, come in the nature of a shock. Soviets for the British are openly advocated. Literature is openly sold in the streets which, if found in the possession of a person living in this country, would mean a term of imprisonment. If the agitators confine themselves to speech they are in no dangerof interference, but any attempt at revolutionary action is quickly nipped in the bud. He cited a publication edited by Sylvia Pankhurst, which advocates "revolutionary international Socialism, the ending of capitalism and Parliaments and the substitution of workers' republica." This is sold wide-spread in London and causes little or no comment. Mr. Moore intimated there might be a little lesson in this for the Dominion.

The whole standard of living among the labor classes in Britain has changed, he asserted. Wages are on a par with those of Canada and the cost of living is about the same.

British workers are not Bolsheviats, but are undoubtedly rapidly moving toward State capital and control, especially in the key industries.

Italy Makes Strides.

The thing which impressed Mr. Moore most at the meetings of the International Labor Congress was the wonderful progress being made in Italy with regard to the improvement of the status of the workers.

GERM-PROOF MAN IMMUNE TO DISEASE

HIS ONLY MEDICINE FRESH UNCOOKED FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.

LONDON. There lives at Sompting, Sussex, a modest man named William Aird, who, to prove his belief in being able to cure himself with natural foods, has allowed himself to be inoculated with many virulent germs, including even typhoid.

Mr. Aird has suffered no harm as a result of the inoculation. His only medicine has been fresh uncooked fruit and vegetables.

Disease, he says, is not an accident that cannot be avoided. It is a curative process. The germ which was thought to be our bitter enemy is really a friend. It enters our bodies to feed on waste products. If all the food we ate were only what the body really needed —uncooked fruit and vegetables—there would be no waste products and no germs.

Among the cures that are claimed are cases of cancer, epilepsy and other "incurable" diseases.

Even death will be delayed and painless if this diet is followed, says Mr. Aird. It solves the servant problem, for there is no washing up and no cooking.

The summer is the time to [illegible] beginning with this novel [illegible]

MRS. LUCILE HIXSON, of Kansas City, only, weighed 79 pounds when she began taking Tanlac... She has already gained 56 pounds and says this wonderful medicine has been the greatest blessing of her life.

"I weighed only seventy-nine pounds when I began taking Tanlac, but now I weigh one hundred and fifteen and am feeling better than I have in seven years," was the unusual statement made by Mrs. Lucile Hixson, living at 2032 Broadway, Kansas City, Mo., a few days ago.

"Before I began taking Tanlac," continued Mrs. Hixson, "I had become so weak from seven years of suffering that at times I wasn't able to stand on my feet. What I ate nearly always disagreed with me and made gas form so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I was badly constipated and had a pain across the small of my back and my nerves were upset. I was troubled with dull headaches just about all the time and often I had fainting, dizzy spells and I was never able to walk any distance before I felt exhausted.

"My uncle recommended Tanlac to me and now since it has entirely overcome my troubles I will never get through praising it. I am not troubled with indigestion or gas at all and I am eating anything and everything I want and digesting it perfectly. Headaches and dizzy spells have all left me and my constipated condition has been relieved. My nerves are in fine condition and the pain across the small of my back has disappeared altogether. I have gained thirty-six pounds in weight, can do my housework by myself and I am stronger than I have been in years. Tanlac has certainly been the greatest blessing of my life and I will never be able to praise it enough for what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

FLOUR MILLS ARE CLOSED

Indications Are That Prices Will Advance Rather Than Decline in Spite of This.

WINNIPEG, April 8.—All the flour mills connected with the great combination through the west are closed down and employees are out of work. There is no indication of immediate resumption. Surplus stocks are assigned as the reason for suspension, but in the meantime it is reported that it is expected the price of flour will advance. Conditions, however, of the trade indicate a decline, in spite of the fact that all holders of big stocks are awaiting the Court of Commerce action for permission to advance. With stocks so heavy in the west that the mills can't find warehouse facilities for more, and are forced to suspend operations, retail merchants can't understand why a decline, instead of advance, is not to be expected.

HASTINGS NEWS

HASTINGS, April 7.—An assembly was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, under the auspices of the Holy Name Society. A good attendance is reported.

Miss H. Murphy, who has been organist in the R. C. Church here for a number of years, has resigned her position, and is leaving town. A number of her friends met on Saturday night at the home of Mr. A. U. Bailey, and presented her with an address and a well-filled purse. Following is the address:

Miss H. Murphy, Hastings, Ont.

Dear Miss Murphy,—The members and friends of the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel have learned with a great deal of regret of your decision to sever your connection with this parish. It is now some 22 years since you assumed the position of organist and choir leader of this parish, and your faithful attendance and painstaking efforts in the service of song have, and will always be, an inspiration to us all. Your position as organist required your attendance on many occasions during good and inclement weather, and you were always on hand, rendering your service of love for the Master in that pleasant way which has at all times characterised your position as organist and choir leader. Your friends in this parish could not let this occasion pass without in some small way showing their appreciation of the many years of faithful service rendered by you, and would ask you to accept this little gift—not for any intrinsic value that would attach thereto, but as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by all the members and friends of this parish.

Signed on behalf of the parish—J. H. Hess, John Coughlan, R. Walsh, W. M. Foulds, Jas. Convey, T. J. Lynch, A. U. Bailey, W. M. Turner, A. B. Spellman.

The ladies of the English Church held a sale of home-made cooking on Saturday afternoon.

Good Friday was generally observed as a public holiday, all places of business being closed.

Easter Services.

Easter services were held in all the local churches on Sunday, and were well attended.

Mr. George Brooks has commenced business in his garage on Front Street.

Mrs. A. B. Smith held a reception for her daughter, Mrs. W. Burkholder, on Wednesday last.

The play, "Valley Farm," will be given in the Town Hall on Friday evening, 9th inst., under the auspices of the management of the Presbyterian Church.

Mr. W. Scott, Norwood, has been in the hospital in Peterborough undergoing an operation for appendicitis. Latest reports are quite satisfactory.

Mr. Percy Oakley has taken to himself a wife in the person of Miss Myrtle Chamberlain, of Trent River. Mr. and Mrs. Oakley have a host of friends, who extend heartiest congratulations.

Mrs. J. Steele, of Beamsville, has been visiting friends in this vicinity.

Father J. Power, of Parry Sound, has been visiting relatives here.

Mrs. W. Atkinson, of Peterborough, spent a few days during the week with her mother, Mrs. S. Carter.

Mr. Harley Eagle, of Hillsburg, spent the holiday with friends in town.

Mrs. J. Armour, of Menaghan, has been renewing acquaintances in and around Hastings.

Mrs. Gilbert, of Corbyville, is the guest of Mr. ad Mrs. E. Prentice.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brooks, of Peterborough, spent the holiday with Mr. A. Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Runnels, of Lindsay, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Runnels.

Miss Carrie Hayden, of Port Hope, spent the Easter vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Cruickshanks, of Peterborough, spent Sunday with friends here.

Mrs. James Buck, of Norwood, was in town on Sunday.

Mr. Reg. Runnels, of Guelph, spent Easter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Runnels.

Miss Mabel Scott, of Norwood, spent the week-end with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Carter, of Havelock, spent Saturday at the home of his mother, Mrs. S. Carter.

Mrs. J. Staples, of Lindsay, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tate.

Mr. Harry Chapman is now able to be about his room.

NO PROFITEERING WITH ZAM-BUK

Before the war, Zam-Buk was 50c. a box. All during the war, when the cost of production was rapidly advancing, the price of Zam-Buk to the consumer remained the same. Now, with the war over, while some prices continue to soar, Zam-Buk is still 50c. a box! Not only so, but the same high standard of quality has been maintained throughout.

There has been no profiteering in regard to Zam-Buk. For every box you have bought, you have been asked to pay fair value only.

In this method of doing business not worthy of recognition? Answer this question by continuing to recommend, to appreciate, and to use Zam-Buk—the greatest household healer of modern times.

Use it for all skin troubles, eczema, ringworm, abscesses, ulcers, boils, pimples, piles, blood-poisoning, chapped hands, cold sores, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, etc.

LISTENING FOR NEWS ABOUT THE C. S. BONUS

Exact Amount Not Divulged But Sliding Scale Likely.

OTTAWA, April 9.—All the Civil Service is waiting anxiously for news of the cost-of-living bonus, the first instalment of which is due on April 15.

The question is being considered by the Civil Service Commission and the Cabinet, the former having made representations and proposals. While the exact amount of the bonus has not been divulged, the general impression is that it will be a little more generous than last year, though not startlingly so. The sliding scale system is favored as opposed to a flat rate to all. It is thought that everybody will get something.

Suffered With Boils Past Five Years

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood and anyone who has suffered from them knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation the real disease is rooted in the blood and to get rid of these painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, you misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robert Johnson, Barlway, Ont., writes:—"I hav suffered very much during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters which I did and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

B.B.B. has been on the market for over forty years and is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CANNON BALL WAS EMBEDDED IN A LOG.

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 9.— An old fashioned cannon ball, of the 25 lb. variety, used many years ago on this coast by the admiralty ships, caused the False Creek Lumber Company a loss of $250 the other day. It was embedded in the centre of a huge log cut at Duncan Bay. The tree had grown around the ball and had concealed it so well that it was not discovered until the saw struck it. The missle must have been discharged many years ago by a passing warship.

WHAT ARE The VITAMINS?

A little attention to food values will add to your health, happiness and working efficiency. The outer coat of the whole wheat contains a mysterious chemical substance called "vitamine" which is essential to life and health. When you eat Shredded Wheat Biscuit you get all the vitamins, mineral salts and other tissue-building material in the whole wheat grain—all prepared in a digestible form. It is the most real food for the least money.

THE MOTOR SHOW.

By attending Peterborough's big motor show next week the citizens will not only get into touch with the latest models in cars and accessories, but they will also be helping that splendid organization, the Peterborough Health Association. No body in the city is doing a finer work than is the Health Association, although much of what it has accomplished is known only to the faithful workers and those who have been helped by the Association. The Association is not inclined to boast, being very modest in its reports, but nevertheless the public is beginning to realize just how much good is being done by this faithful band of workers whose guiding star is service to the community. The proceeds of the motor show are to be turned over to the Association and will be large enough, it is hoped, to very materially assist in the coming year's operations. The patronage of the public should therefore be freely extended to next week's big event in the armouries, with the certainty that there will not only be full value returned in the shape of an attractive show and an interesting programme, but there will also be the reward that comes as a result of participating in a movement that is for the betterment of humanity.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

It is a matter that is open to question whether a resolution passed by some twenty-five or thirty delegates at a Trades Council meeting is a better criterion of the opinion of the mass of the workers on the subject of daylight saving than was the recent vote taken in the factories of the city. The contention is made that the straw vote was not conducted fairly, the obvious inference being that the Trades Council delegates believe that the manufacturers juggled the results to show a verdict favourable to daylight saving. In fact one delegate declared that the summer time plan was a scheme of the manufacturers to get more work out of their employees. That of course is rank nonsense. If starting and quitting work an hour earlier in the day would have that effect the employers do not need a daylight saving measure to get the benefit. They could, on their own account, change the working hours of their plants and secure the same results, so that there is nothing in the argument that daylight saving is sought by manufacturers for selfish purposes. Nor is there any logic in the other argument that because the Council abandoned daylight saving last summer some weeks earlier than the railways that the scheme was not a success. The Council were wise in the action they took last year because the new time is a handicap rather than a benefit if carried on too late in the fall. This year those in favour of the scheme asked for the adoption of the new time only for four months, commencing on the 1st of May.

It was contended at the meeting of the City Council that the Council had no jurisdiction in the matter and could not enforce daylight saving on the community. That is undoubtedly correct, but there was no jurisdiction last year. The Council simply passed a resolution, the Mayor issued a proclamation and the citizens fell in line. The same programme could have been carried out just as smoothly this summer had the Council seen fit to endorse the scheme. There are very many people who regret that they have failed to do so.

ANOTHER SET-BACK.

There is not much comfort for the Union government in the results of Wednesday's by-elections in Temiskaming and in the St. James Division, Montreal. In the latter constituency, of course, the government was not represented by a candidate, but in Temiskaming, the seat of the late Frank Cochrane, it was expected by Unionist supporters that the government would continue to hold the riding. The victory of Angus McDonald, Labour-U.F.O. candidate, was therefore a disturbing jolt to the Administration. The defeat serves to indicate that the country as a whole is dissatisfied with the Union government and is anxious to get a chance in a general election to express that dissatisfaction. There have been eleven by-elections since the war, and only two have been won by the government, those being Victoria, B.C., and Kingston, where the newly appointed ministers, Hon. Dr. Tolmie and Sir Henry Drayton, respectively, went back for re-election. In Glengarry, North Ontario, Assiniboia, Carleton-Victoria and Temiskaming all seats formerly held by the government, the standard-bearer of the Administration has been defeated. In addition ten members elected as Unionists have deserted to the cross-benches, with the result that the government forces, which numbered 153 after the last election, have dropped to a total of 138. The Liberals have a strength of 81, while there are now 14 independent members in the House.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

With a national debt of $2,000,000,000, six times as great as it was before the war; with a deficit of two hundred million dollars this year in current expense, as aftermath of the war; with enormous taxation already in force, with a high cost of living which further taxation will aggravate, the government of this country owes a duty to the people as well as to the soldiers, and its difficulties should be given temperate consideration to by every decent Canadian, soldier or otherwise.—Ottawa Journal.

Windsor's request for a loan of $5,000,000 for housing purposes makes Peterborough's $200,000 proposition look very small.

The band question is simplified by the action of the Salvation Army in waiving its claim for a city grant.

The Government continues to maintain its record in losing by-elections.

A Winnipeg speaker says there will will be an appeal in the cases of convicted strike leaders to the bar of public opinion. That is where the leaders should have taken their cause in the first place and there would have been no trouble. The bar of public opinion may be appealed to on any election day.—Calgary Herald.

TIME FOR SHORTENING SAIL.

Many signs indicate that the period of inflation—of inflated business currency, prices, and wages—is near its close. Mr. Armour, head of the great Chicago packing house, says that meat prices generally are due for a fall. New York wholesale clothiers are advising their customers to curtail their orders for autumn goods at present prices.

Reports from all over the continent are to the effect that people, irritated at the high prices, are now buying much less freely than they have been doing. But perhaps the most significant sign, affecting Canadian conditions, is the fact that instructions have ben issued from the headquarters of Canadian banks to local managers that the time has come for curtailment of credits. It is even reported that merchants have in many cases ben notified by the bank that it will be advisable for them to dispose of their present stocks before further accommodation is accorded them.

One of the reasons for the anticipated deflation is the fact that the prevailing adverse exchange against European countries has had the effect of checking exports from this continent to Europe, with the prospect that exports will continue to decline. Not only that, but prices are so high on this side of the ocean that a flood of goods from European countries which can be sold at prices much below those of the home-produced goods, is anticipated. So the prospect is that there will be a general lowering of prices before long.

It would not be well for this country if there were to be a sudden slump. That would mean panic, drastic cutting down of production, the closing of factories, increase of unemployment, and widespread distress. If possible, such a calamity should be averted. We believe it can be averted if proper precautions are taken in advance. Arrangements might be made by which, when south weather comes, the industrial sails can be trimmed. Industries could be kept going by arrangement and the workers, even though profits might be cut almost to the vanishing point and wages lowered.

Why not have conferences, both local and national, between representatives of financial, commercial, and industrial interests and labour, to consider the situation in a cool, business-like way, and make preparations for what may be troublous times ahead? —Hamilton Herald.

IRELAND AND CANADA.

The situation in the British House of Commons where the new Home Rule Bill is under consideration, is a strange one. The Government is going on with their bill. Perhaps there is nothing else for them to do. The measure is the fruit of long deliberation by many statesmen; it carries marks of much mutual concession on the part of men who have differed widely in the past. It is a bill on which old-time Home Rulers, like Mr. Lloyd George and old-time opponents of Home Rule like Mr. Walter Long, have been able to unite. Many Conservatives, who have fought Home Rule throughout their whole political lives have been brought to see that some measure of the kind is necessary, and have given their adherence to the present scheme. Even such an Ulster extremist as Sir Edward Carson, gives assent to the bill, though not very cordially. Yet in the face of all these favorable conditions the fact is tolerably plain that the bill if passed will settle nothing, and that there is no considerable section of the Irish people who are prepared to accept it. The Ulster men are divided; some few give a reluctant consent, while many others have no faith in the measure. Among the Irishmen of the South the bill seems to have no friends. Thus the Government are placed in the unhappy position of having to prest upon Parliament a measure which everybody now sees will bring no settlement of the old Irish problem.

Never did the problem present itself in graver form than now, for Ireland is seething with discontent, disorder and crime. But neither the present bill nor any other scheme in sight gives promise of bringing relief to the unhappy country.

Perhaps the nearest approach to an acceptable scheme is made by Mr. Asquith, whose plan is to give Ireland what is called Dominion Home Rule, practically the same constitution as is enjoyed by Canada and the other overseas Dominions. Mr. Bonar Law, who stands next to Mr. Lloyd George in the Cabinet, has stated the Government's objection to this proposal. "No one failed to recognize that the connection of the Dominions with the Empire depended upon themselves," said Mr. Bonar Law, "and if any choose to break away there would be no attempt to force them to stay. Dominion Home Rule meant the right to decide their own destiny. This was demanded by the representatives of Ireland, and," added Mr. Bonar Law, "for Mr Asquith to say that he is prepared to give Dominion Home Rule, means that he is prepared to give an Irish Republic."

Mr. Bonar Law is substantially right when he says that the connection of the Dominions with the Empire rests with themselves. That situation, however, arises from the spirit of the imperial connection and not from any constitutional provision. There is nothing in the British North America Act which recognizes the right of Canada to cut the painter. Mr. Bonar Law presses his analogy too far when he says that the granting of Dominion Home Rule to Ireland would necessarily involve a recognition of Ireland's right to separate from the Empire. There are geographical conditions which make the position of Ireland different from that of Canada. If Canada desired to leave the Empire the people of the United Kingdom would regret the fact but would not find the separation a cause of immediate embarrassment. Events three thousand miles away are not felt as keenly as those close at hand. Ireland is too near Great Britain to be allowed the freedom which is readily accorded to Dominions. We are far away from the seat of the Imperial Government. Hence the granting of Dominion Home Rule to Ireland should not necessarily involve the serious consequences pictured by Mr. Bonar Law. To make Ireland free and allow her to set up an anti-British Republic within gun shot of the shore of England is a policy that sane Englishmen cannot be expected to support. But it should be possible to grant Ireland all the powers that are allowed to the Dominions without separation from the British Empire coming into the question. There are some commercial reasons why Ireland should not desire the privilege which Canada enjoys of setting up a tariff against British imports. Ireland would suffer more than England from such a policy. Yet if the granting of such a constitution to Ireland would solve the problem it might be well to take the step, relying on the Irish people to exercise their power sanely, and such a policy need not involve the danger that Mr. Bonar Law pictures.—Journal of Commerce.

Rheumatic Pains

Quickly Eased By Penetrating Hamlin's Wizard Oil

A safe and harmless preparation to relieve the pains of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lame Back and Lumbago is Hamlin's Wizard Oil. It penetrates quickly, drives out soreness, and limbers up stiff aching joints and muscles.

You will find almost daily uses for it in cases of sudden mishaps or accidents such as sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just the thing for earache, toothache, croup and colic.

Get it from druggists for 30 cents. If not satisfied return the bottle and get your money back.

Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Liver Whips, pleasant little pink pills, 30 cents. Guaranteed.

READY MADE, BUT HOME FINISHED

So many people buy ready-made clothes, and perhaps alter them to fit, but they never think of putting some little touch of colour or embroidery which would be a vast improvement and raise the garment in question above the ordinary. Usually little expense is incurred in doing this, as "piece drawer, treasures may more often than not be utilised. For instance, a plain navy blue coat-frock may be slightly or entensively braided or as an alternative, some coloured wool embroidery may be introduced.

A fringe gives a finish to the border of certain jumpers, or pieces of old ribbon can be transformed into a vandyke edging for the same purpose.

The line of a skirt often can be improved by the taking in or letting out of a seam.

Buttons, pipings, or stitchings judiciously applied endow a frock or a coat and skirt with chic.

Silk embroidery on the collar and cuffs of a crepe de Chine or georgette blouse in a contrasting tone adds to its effect.

On an evening dress a few coloured ribbon flowers are frequently an improvement, while a piece of old lace introduced as a chemisette, a wide sash or belt or different material, or perhaps some "dangles" may make all the difference.

Various ornaments may be evolved for evening shoes to enhance their appearance.

The above are only a few suggestions; as much depends on the individual and the garment. The chief thing to bear in mind is that because a garment is bought "ready-made" it is not necessarily "ready finished." The home touch may bring it nearer the perfection for which we should strive in dress, as in other things. And no addition can be too trifling to matter; for, as Michael Angelo has so truly said, "Trifles make perfection but perfection itself is no trifle."

Isn't This True?

When you "feel mean" — dull, tired, nervous, bad digestion, no appetite—

Don't you find out, afterwards, that your bowels were not acting freely and naturally?

Duo, of course, to a liver gone on a strike.

Take two or three pills—once. After that, only one, until your're all right.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

A SURPRISE

CHAPTER XCII.

After Everett left me I recalled Walter Kemp's question the night he called upon me and we danced to the music of the victrola:

"How could you marry a man so much older than you are—a widower?" Then his next remark: "He was not so particular with the first Mrs. Graham."

When Everett came in that night, he had said I was too young to discriminate and had forbidden me to receive Kemp. I had not seen him since; now I wouldn't dare to. And to be honest, I really felt I didn't want to. It was a sort of reaction against myself because of trying to put him in the place Everett occupied with Leola I think.

The third day I was in bed Everett came in early and sat with me.

"Would you like that pretty Miss Grandon to make you another visit, Sandra?"

I was so astonished, that for a moment I couldn't answer. He had been so horrid to Rose, given her reason to think I had nothing to say in my own home, that it was inconceivable he would let me ask her to visit me again.

"You will be 20 years old next month, Sandra—shall we have her then?"

I was surprised and delighted that he had remembered my birthday, and also that he had given it enough thought to plan something to please me.

"That would be lovely!" I exclaimed enthusiastically. So much so that he laid his hand on mine and cautioned:

"There, don't get so excited or the doctor won't let me do anything for you."

"If she comes, Everett, will you—be nice to her?" Then: "She is a dear, but she talks a lot."

Everett laughed heartily.

"I am glad you realize that! It will make you careful what you confide to her. Miss Grandon is very pretty, very attractive in many ways. Invite her if you like.

Nothing more was said about it, but the next morning I had Hetty bring my desk pad and writing materials. I wrote Rose a long, chummy letter, asking her to come to Hendon and be with me on my birthday.

"Everett suggested it," I added as an afterthought, but one which I knew would have a great deal of weight with Rose. For in spite of things she had said, I saw plainly when we visited my home that she thought Everett wonderful, and that she liked him. "Make your plans to spend two weeks," I had told her. Everett, and also Mrs. Barr, had cautioned me to put a limit upon time when inviting house guests. I was in a softened mood in which I remembered what they had said and wanted to please them.

I showed my letter to Everett that night and he approved.

"A very nice letter, Sandra. You are expressing yourself much better than you did a while ago. You will own that Mrs. Barr has helped you, won't you, now?"

"Yes, and I am going to try to improve myself, Everett. I was cross because of her at first. It looked as if you were ashamed of me and had hired a teacher so I wouldn't embarrass you. But I don't feel that way any more, so I will hasten to do better. You know when you feel cross and hurt, you can't learn very much."

"I should say not!" again he laughed. Then: 'Get the idea that you are too old to learn out of your head, Sandra. If you realized—you will some day — the pleasure you, yourself, can get from being able to appreciate books and people, you never would begrudge the time you give to making yourself mentally keen. As you grow older you will regret wasted opportunities. If I were your age, that is perhaps the one thing I would do that I did not do then—use my time to improve myself."

He said nothing more. But I was impressed with his seriousness. Yet after a time there came the thought: 'I wish he had said 'if I were your age, you would have been my first love,' and I wiped a few tears away before Hetty came with my dinner—because I had not been the first, the only love, of my husband.

To-morrow—Barrett Edmunds hears of Sandra's Accident.

KEENE NEWS

KEENE, April 8.—Having learned with regret the intended departure of Mr. John and Miss Edith Armstrong from the Bethel neighborhood, their numerous friends assembled at their home on Tuesday evening, March the 30th, and presented them with tokens of their esteem. Miss Armstrong was given a ladies' travelling roll and Mr. Armstrong was presented with a club bag and a set of military brushes.

The presentation was accompanied by the following address:

Dear Mr. and Miss Armstrong,—We your friends and neighbors have assembled to-night to bid you farewell and to convey to you in some degree our regret in your leaving our midst, and our appreciation of the sterling qualities you have shown to all with whom you have come in contact during the many years you have lived among us.

You have always been faithful and enthusiastic supporters and workers in our church and Sunday school and have given of your best time and talents for the advancement of every cause in connection with these institutions.

Be assured that the work you have done will be a lasting memory, and your going away will be an irreparable loss. You have been ideal neighbors, kindly, courteous and considerate, ready to lend a helping hand when an opportunity presented itself. You have been to the community a model of integrity, industry and uprightness, showing an example we all may be glad to follow, and your work has been a splendid influence on the people with whom your associated. Your home has been a social centre where your friends found hospitality and a real welcome and has been used on very many occasions for promoting the interests of the church and other good causes.

We ask you to accept these gifts as a small token of our sincere appreciation and trust that they will serve to bring your thoughts back many times to the friends you are leaving in Otonabee.

We tender you our heartfelt thanks for your years of service and extend our best wishes for a happy and prosperous future in the sphere of life you are entering and your new circle of friends.

Signed on behalf of the church and community.

J. H. Fallis.
E. J. Fife.

HARRY MURTON BACK IN LONDON

Former Tecumseh Player Speaks of Experiences in Russia.

LONDON, April 8.— Murton, the noted Toronto lacrosse player, who went to South Russia last June with Col. Raymond Collishaw's squadron, is back in London, as is also W. L. Hay, of Winnipeg. Murton speaks with keen pleasure of his experiences doubtless partly because he has returned with a charming Russian widow as his wife. Murton has queer tales of fighting with Denikine's army. He participated in Denikine's retreat, which gave way completely before the Bolsheviats. His opinion is that Bolshevism has no possible lasting force even in Russia, where the peasantry, he says, is too ignorant even for Bolshevism. Russia is simply in a state of civil war, and the common folk side with any army that offers food and clothing.

PATHETIC CASE IN NEW YORK POLICE COURT.

NEW YORK, April 8. — "I had a son who was killed in the war while serving in the Canadian army; in memory of him I canot disclose my name."

This was the reply of an elderly grey-haired Toronto woman, who was arrested here by the police on a charge of theft, and seatenced this morning to 60 days in the workhouse, when Judge James J. McInerney of the Court of Special Sessions, urged her to tell the court her real name.

Detectives arrested the woman on March 25 in one of the city's big department stores, charging her with stealing a pair of stockings, two pairs of gloves, a collar, two purses, a book and two clocks, the total of which was $30. She pleaded guilty.

Church News.

Several ladies of the Presbyterian congregation met at the manse on Thursday afternoon and assisted the Rev. H. Brown get his household effects ready for the sale.

The Presbyterian S. S. was well attended. At the preaching service the church was quite full. Rev. Mr. Brown preached his last sermon as pastor. He chose for his text I. Thess. 3: v. 16, 17, 18. Hardly could a more fitting text have been chosen for an Easter Sunday communion service and a good-bye sermon. Every word the minister spoke was full of earnestness and kindly thoughts and the prayer that every word of the salutation and benediction come true to those to whom he had ministered during the last ten years.

Later in the service he spoke more personally and perhaps more feelingly especially to those whose loved ones had been taken away. He felt that though they were gone and unseen by us they were often near.

A large number partook of the sacrament Mr. Brown reminded the people that the table was not his nor any particular denomination, but the Lord's and all who loved the Lord Jesus were invited to attend. At the communion service Mr. Brown always asks the communicants to come near the Lord's table with some special request.

During the offertory, Mesdames Munro and Crapp sang "Welcome Glad Easter Morn."

Several young people united with the church.

Rev. Mr. Jull of Lakefield, will preach next Sunday.

At the Baptist church there was the regular Easter service and communion service, conducted by Rev. Mr. Bray of Toronto. Mr. Bray went to Indian River and held service there in the Afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Roberts who was here recently for several weeks is going as a missionary on the foreign field.

There were the regular services in the Methodist church.

On Monday evening the Methodist W.M.S. held a sale of goods, tea and entertainment, which was quite a success. The sale netted about $50. There were aprons of all kinds, bags, crochetted yokes, etc., and several settings of Rhode Island Red eggs. About $29 was taken in at the door. There was a profusion of splendid cooking; it was not nearly all used. The programme was good and the numbers well rendered. Assistance was given by some of the visitors to the village, Bethel and Cotesloe, as well as by some little girls from other parents.

LABOUR MAN OWNS 4 MOTORS

REMARK AROUSES MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE.

TORONTO, April 8.—R. R. Hall (Parry Sound), in the Legislature yesterday, asked if the report of Hon. Mr. Rollo's speech at London on Saturday, that the Labor members were the only ones who were sincere in the matter of mother's pensions, was true.

The premier answered that he did not think there was any doubt as to the entire sympathy of all members of the government with the proposed measure. He was not prepared to say where the sympathy of the Liberal and Conservative groups was with regard to the measure. Mr. Rollo, when speaking at the meeting, was there as a private citizen and not as a representative of the government.

Hon. Mr. Rollo said in answer to Mr. Dewart, that there was no copy or draft copy of the mothers' pension bill before the London Labor convention.

No Monopoly of Brains.

T. Hennan (Kenora) told F. W. Hay that he did not say, as reported in a recent speech, that the Labor group constituted the brains of the government, nor did he think so. (Laughter.)

Hon. Mr. Biggs successfully piloted his motor vehicle act thru committee without change, other than that it was agreed any good glare prevention device would be considered by the department. No particular glare preventing device would be favored.

The house was much amused during the debate when the Labor member from London observed that he was the owner of four motors.

SHORT OF BREATH

Could Hardly Walk Without Resting

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes:—"I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say 'I feel like a different man.'"

Price 50c. a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BRITISH LABOUR IS FREE OF EUROPEAN RED AFFILIATION

LONDON, April 7.—The rejection by the Independent Labor party conference at Glasgow of a proposal to affiliate with the third Moscow International, marks an important decision which will have far-reaching consequences on the labor movement here.

This question of international association overshadowed all other issues discussed by the conference and considerable apprehension exited among labor leader of moderate opinions lest the delegates should be stampeded by younger revolutionaries into taking a step which would have the effect of making armed revolution a definite plank of the Labor party platform.

An extremely serious split among Labor politicians was considered probable if the Bolshevists captured the machinery of the Independent party. The conference vote removes this danger, and advocated Russian methods are thus left without any real influential organization to further their aims.

This decision to continue along constitutional lines will be immediately reflected in the choice of candidates to fight Parliamentary elections of holders of "Red" views, being less likely than formerly to secure nomination. Freed of suspicion of Bolshevism, Laborites will henceforth furnish much more dangerous opposition to Coalition nominees, and by this delegates' decision the prospects of a Parliamentary Labor party are enormously improved.

Philip Snowden and Ramsay MacDonald, once notorious for extreme opinions but now among the moderates, are chiefly responsible for this striking defeat of the Reds. Another convincing advocate of constitutional lam being Mr. Benson of Salford, who interpreted Lenine's term "Arming of the proletariat" as a social revolution by putting machine guns into the hands of Potbouse habitues.

Of scarcely less importance was the decision taken by the conference to secede from the second international. This leaves the British Labor movement without any European association and free to formulate its own policy.

Cream Sauce for Pudding.

One-half cup of butter, one cup powdered sugar, ½ cup cream, three tablespoonfuls wine or brandy, if available, or one teaspoon extract vanilla. Beat butter to cream, add sugar gradually, beating all the while. When light, gradually add wine, and then add cream a little at a time. When all is beaten well, place in double boiler till smooth and creamy, and no longer. If well beaten and not left in hot water too long to melt sugar it will be light and foamy.

THE VEGETABLE GARDEN

It is a simple matter to have a continuous supply of delicious vegetables on your table if you do the right thing at the right time, and do not grow weary in well doing. These articles will tell you what to do, how to do it and when to do it, but it is entirely up to you to do it. A garden is like a baby. You have to tend to it every day, but, thank goodness, you don't have to walk the floor with it.

The great difficulty the beginner finds is that the information to his hand is too general. When he gets into his garden with a package of seeds he is not sure whether he has his trench deep enough for planting when he can just see over the parapet; whether the seeds should rub shoulders like soldiers on parade or whether they should attack the soil in extended order; whether potato bugs should be slain with a machine gun or bayonet.

The Scope of the Articles.

It is the aim of these articles to supply the definite information the beginner needs as well as general information on all the common vegetables. Many instructions given here are capable of modification, but as the articles are essentially for the amateur, good average rules are given which, if followed, will ensure a good crop to the veriest beginner. The more experienced can easily modify them to suit his conditions and the expert can disregard them.

The articles will deal with:

Preparation of the soil—How to dig and how deep, raking and hoeing, manuring, fertilizing, etc.

Planting—Depth to plant, distance in row, distance of rows apart, thinning, transplanting, etc.

Cultivation—The what, the why and the how of it, watering, etc.

Harvesting—When to pull or cut, wintering, storing, etc.

Insect Pests—The common enemies of each vegetable and how to prevent or fight them.

What Is a Good Garden?

Of course you want a good garden. Well, what is it?

Your good garden will contain the vegetables you like best, and a sufficient quantity of each, to supply the family, with a few to store for the winter; so far at least as the size of your lot will permit.

Your good garden will be properly planted for succession so that you will have a continuous supply of fresh vegetables in season, not a Niagara at one time and a drought at another.

Your good garden will be well balanced—not so much of one thing that you cannot use it even by stuffing your neighbors till they run when they see you and most of the plants die in their trucks; while of some others you have only the shadow of a taste. "Be reasonable, Mutt" as Jeff says.

Planning the Garden.

To achieve this result you must give your garden a good deal of thought. You must —choose what vegetables you want and your lot will accommodate.

—figure out how many feet of row you will need for each, providing, of course, space for successive sowings of the quickly maturing sorts, to provide a good table season.

—and last, but very important, draw a plan on paper and once planting begins, stick to it.

A good way is to get a few sheets of foolscap paper ruled in small squares and count each as six inches You can then lay out your garden to scale and use every last inch of ground. In every foot of wasted ground you'll have a dandy crop of H.C.L., real pedigree stock at that.

Keep Your Eye on the Sun.

Planning a garden is an easy matter if a few simple principles are kept in mind. Apart from the soil, sun and air are the big assets. So as the sun courses to the south, place the high growing plants, tomatoes, peppers, etc., to the north, and grade down to the small plants such as lettuce and radish at the south. This is to prevent the tall plants shading the small ones.

Again, especially if you are cramped for space, run your rows north and south, so that as the sun swings via the south it will get east, south and west of each plant.

Don't try to crowd the rows. Plants need air as much as people do and are aenemic with out it. By crowding you run the risk of losing everything and nothing that survives will be up to the mark.

You will find it convenient for cultivation purposes to group the vegetables roughly according to size. Carrots, beets, onions, etc., can go nicely side by side, while tomatoes peppers and large plants are by themselves.

Another point in planning your garden is to keep vegetables of which we eat the leaves, such as lettuce, spinach, Swiss chard, cress, etc., away from plants you will give a poison spray, so that no poison gets on edible leaves. If properly washed there is no danger anyway, but Safety First never killed the cat.

Planning for Succession.

After you have chosen what vegetables you want, the next thing is to provide space for them on the plan. This is simple for the whole-season vegetables. Of others you will plant early and late varieties, to insure a longer table season; of others again you will make plantings every ten days or so. Following is a beginner's guide to this classification:

Whole season—Onions, parsley, parsnips, pumpkins, celery, carrots, chard, Brussels sprouts, peppers.

For successive sowings— Beets, beans, endive, radish, cabbage, cauliflower, kohlrabi, lettuce, turnips cucumbers.

Use early and late varities—Peas, tomatoes, corn, petters, potatoes, squash.

Beans can be used as whole season crop by keeping the pods picked and the plants will keep on producing. Or you can plant bush and climbing varieties instead of successive plantings. According to your space use beans in any of the three classes.

Two Crops in Place of One.

Don't forget in planning the garden that vegetables grow at different speeds and by using this fact you can almost double your harvest.

For instance, lettuce, radish, shallots, cress, mustard, all mature quickly. So these may be grown between rows of any of the whole season crops. They will be matured and eaten before the slower growing plants are advanced sufficiently for these to interfere with one another.

Early Kohlrabi may be planted between rows of cauliflower.

Early cabbage, Swiss Chard, etc., between rows of potatoes.

Any early crop between the rows of tomatoes.

Tomatoes being planted late can follow early crops such as lettuce, radish, etc., if they have been given space of their own.

Each gardener can figure out many other combinations. All that is needed is to work up the ground well with the rake, add manure or bone-meal and replant.

Some crops will mature and the plants be pulled up early in the season, early enough to plant others. On the plan these spaces can be marked with colored pencils. There are any number of combinations acording to your taste. Here is one which you can alter to suit your particular taste:

Early peas followed by late celery; corn by late beets; shallots, if given early beans by late cabbage; early space of their own, followed by turnips or spinach; early beets by cabbage, turnips or Brussels sprouts; early carrots by late cauliflower.

Or two vegetables may be planted in the same row at the same time, one maturing and being picked before the other interferes. For instance, lettuce and radish; parsnips and lettuce; corn and pumpkins or squash; lettuce and early cabbage, etc.

The Shady Corner.

No vegetable will do really well in much shade, but if you have part of your plot partly shaded, draw your plan to plant there those least averse to shade, such as—lettuce, spinach, Swiss chard and other leaf crops; beets, sweet corn, radish. Even these must have sun part of the day. Keep the sunniest corner for tomatoes, corn, peppers, egg plant, and the vines, cucumber, squash and pumpkin.

These hints and your common sense should give you your good garden.

Heartease and Backache.

Just a word before going on to the work outside. Don't buy out a hardware store, even a small one. All the tools you need are digging fork, rake, hoe and trowel. When wife isn't looking cut a couple of feet off the broomstick to make a couple of pegs on which to stretch a line to keep your rows straight. If you haven't a hose you'll need a watering can. These and a pointed stick to use in planting, and a few wooden labels, are all you require.

Possession of these tools may be nine points of the law, but is zero point in gardening. Hoe and rake are your best friends, stick to them closer than a brother. Along about May, if you haven't it will serve you right to pay ten cents a piece for onions, extra charge for the smell.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this to-night, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

ARRANGE WITH DENTISTS TO DO VETERANS' WORK

An order-in-council has been passed specifying the necessary procedure to be taken by former members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who require dental treatment. The order states that the policy of the Department of Militia has been to furnish such necessary treatment as to render all members of the force on demobilization as dentally fit as they were on enlistment.

For this purpose arrangements were made with the Canadian Army Dental Corps. The time has now come, however, when the personnel of the Dental Corps which was retained must be demobilized, and when only a single officer will be retained in each military district.

Former soldiers requiring further dental treatment must apply to the Dental Officer in the district where they reside, who will, if he is satisfied, make arrangements for the work to be done by a civilian dentist.

A tablespoonful of cooked tapioca may be put in each soup plate before filling it with hot consomme.

A little spirits of camphor sprinkled about in a sick room, will give the air an agreeable odor.

FRANCE AND ITALY GET GERMAN SHIPS

DETAILS OF DIVISION OF WARSHIPS IS OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED IN PARIS.

PARIS, April 8.—Particulars of the distribution of enemy warships among the allies have just been published here. France's share, represents 92,000 tons, half of which is in German ships and the remainder in Austrian vessels. Five cruisers and ten destroyers are allotted to France, and the same number of cruisers and destroyers to Italy. Each of these two powers will also receive a light cruiser and three destroyers, which may be used for a year for experimental purposes, but must be destroyed when that time has elapsed. France will receive the cruiser Emden. Forty submarines now in French ports are also allotted to France, and of these, ten may be put in service. France is the only power to which the privilege of using captured submarines has been granted.

Paul Bignon, Under Secretary of State for the Mercantile Marine declares that Great Britain in abandoning her claim to the 200,000 tons of shipping which the French Government urgently requested for France, "showed great consideration," and that France "should be grateful to England in view of the fact that Great Britain's interests were severely affected by the various arrangements which reduced the total amount of tonnage available for distribution."

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder of tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

LIVED WHEN OCEAN COVERED PLAINS

SKELETON OF TWENTY-FOOT LIZARD FOUND IN KANSAS.

A twenty foot lizard, covered with a heavy armor of scales, which fed itself by forcing fish down its throat by main force, and lived in the Cretaceous age on the Kansas plains 5,000,000 years ago, is the latest discovery of the Kansas University department of paleontology.

A complete skeleton of this horrible amphibian of prehistoric Kansas was discovered by Charles H. Sternberg, in Gore County, Kansas, about fifty miles west of Hays. The lizard has been christened "Platecarpus," meaning "broad handed lizard," by the scientists, and Mr. Sternberg is now in process of mounting the weird and hideous skeleton.

"Platecarpus" was an excellent swimmer, his feet being shaped like paddles and having a spread of four or five feet. During the upper Cretaceous period, when this animal existed, Kansas and Missouri were the beds of an ocean whose eastern shore line went in a north-easterly direction toward what is now Greenland. The paddles or feet, which enabled "platecarpus" to make his speedy way through the water were webbed.

The teeth are conical and the tip is bent in so as to hold the fish, which were seized as they swam.

The most extraordinary feature of this saurian was the feeding system. In front of the ordinary jawbone joint there is a second ball and socket joint in the lower jaw, with which the reptile forced its food down its throat.

The head and body constituted about three-fifths of the length of the reptile and the tail the balance. The long tail enabled "platecarpus" to make his way through the ancient Kansas ocean with great speed and capture the fish that made up its main food. The body was covered with heavy scales, but the reptile was not equipped with fins.

Mr. Sternberg has the reputation of being the most successful fossil hunter in America, and specimens of his explorations and researchs are mounted in the largest natural history and paleontogolical museums over the world.—Kansas City Post.

LIKES THE IDEA OF ADVERTISING ADVANTAGES OF KAWARTHA LAKES

The following letter is self-explanatory.

To the Editor of the Lindsay Warder

Dear Sir,—I read with pleasure in last night's Warder of a subject upon which I was just writing, and had all but finished, viz., the advertising of the Kawartha Lakes.

As the tourist trade from the States is anticipated by those in authority to be very heavy for the coming summer, would it not be wise to put forth every effort to draw this trade toward the Kawartha Lakes.

For scenic beauty the Kawartha Lakes stand on a par with any chain of lakes in the world. Some ten years ago, Belgian government engineers, who were sent by their government to inspect the Kirkfield lift locks, made a complete tour of the lakes, and said that for beauty they outrivalled any chain of lakes they had ever seen, not excepting the Lakes of Killarney.

What the Kawartha Lakes need to put them to the fore as a national summer resort is an extensive advertising campang, in the right sort of publications, like The American Magazine, Outing, Saturday Evening Post, Saturday editions of the Toronto Globe, Star, etc.

What I would suggest is forming an association called the Kawartha Lakes Association. Money could be raised by members and municipal grants. Every town and village on the whole chain to be in the Association, including Peterboro, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay, Port Perry, Kirkfield, Coboconk, etc.

Many thousands of dollars could be raised in this way without any great strain on any particular municipality or individuals. All progressive people on the lakes and in the towns would be yearly members for a small fee but taken collectively a large sum could be raised. The funds to be used wholly in advertising the lakes as a whole, not any particlar one of them. Then, an attractive booklet could be printed, describing each particular place along the chain of lakes, and say in the general add that this booklet would be sent free to any one interested.

Individual advertising of any one point on the lakes if done in the States, would likely net very poor results, for to begin with, many never heard of the Kawartha Lakes themselves, much less any one place on them.

Americans as a whole know very little of Canada, being taught the geography of their own country more than any other. But with a first-class advertising man the chain of lakes was advertised constantly, it would arouse curiosity, then enquiry and finally inspection. If thousands of extra tourists were brought here in this way it would warrant the erection of first-class hotels along the lakes and enlarging of the present ones. With superior accommodation the railways, too, would take up the booming of the Kawarthas, just as they do the Muskoka Lakes, and the Lake of Bays.

With the favorable exchange balance on their side, the American tourists will more likely be purchasers of Canadian goods, than ever before. Such is claimed to be the case in Windsor, and other border towns.

With greater number of tourists on the lakes, land values would increase, farmers would get ready sale for butter and eggs at better prices merchants, too, might do increased business.

The association idea has worked to great advantage in both lines of merchandise, produce, and district improvement schemes. Sunkist oranges are advertised and packed by an association, but are contributed by individual growers. In New York they have the Fifth Avenue Association and in Toronto they have the King Street Association, whose object is the improvement of King street in every way, such as improved lighting, class of stores, roadways, houses, boulevards, etc.

While the results of an advertising campaign such as I have mentioned might not show such marked results the first year, they would without doubt, if continued two or three years.

R. O'LOUGHLIN.

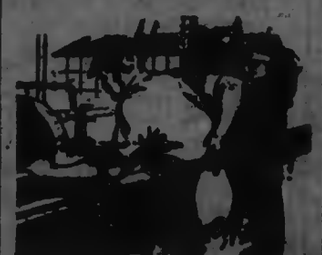
Divorce Court For Province.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, April 9.— A bill introduced yesterday will soon give Ontario a divorce court.



"Gosh! How my back aches!"

After Grip, "flu" or colds, the kidneys and bladder are often affected—called nephritis, or inflammation of kidneys.

This is the red flag of danger—better be wise and check the further inroads of kidney disease by obtaining that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, known as Anuric (anti-uric-acid), because it expels the uric acid poison from the body and removes those pains, such as backache, rheumatism in muscles and joints.

Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.

Send 10c. for trial pkg. of Anuric to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., or branch Laboratory, Bridgeburg, Ont.

Pinkerton, Ont.—"I was troubled with rheumatism in the right limb and hand for several years, and lately in the left shoulder. The only way I could lie was on my back. I had great difficulty to sit down and more to get up. Recently I had a very severe pain in my back. I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery several times with the most satisfactory results, so I concluded to give his Anuric Tablets a trial. The pain in limb and shoulder had stopped entirely and in right hand it is very slight and getting less all the time. I can now sit or lie in any position I wish without discomfort or pain. I certainly will recommend Anuric; there is nothing nearly so good; I have tried them all."—Gunman Bros., cor. Duke and Waterloo.

RENT CASES SWAMP COURT

NEW YORK, April 9.—Baby carriages blocked traffic in front of a Brooklyn courthouse, so great was the throng of evicted tenants seeking relief under new laws designed to curb profiteering in rent.

Whole families went to Court, the babies being left outside. When the parents emerged, having obtained time to hunt other apartments, their joy was increased by the fun of sorting out their children, many of whom had exchanged carriages. Most of the landlords agreed to postpone evictions till July.

In a Manhattan Court more than 400 men, women, and children engaged in an enthusiastic demonstration when the first of 150 rent complainants was given a six months' stay of eviction. Tenants, whose cases were awaiting hearing, applauded Justice Prince and shouted their approval. Some stood on benches and waved their hats in joy.

Every tenant found his appeal to the Court successful, the landlords being ordered to postpone evictions from one to six months. Tenants were told to come back to Court for extension of the stay in case they could not find other apartments in the first period specified.

Police reserves were called out to handle a throng of 1,000 persons who tried to get into a Westchester Court to hear 500 rent cases. The Court, formerly a village church, would seat only 150, but nearly 500 were crowded inside.

LINDSAY HAS LOTS EXCITEMENT

TORONTO WOMAN PUTS THE TOWN ON THE MAP.

Mrs. Rosenfeld, whose hurried departure from Lindsay on Tuesday, with the sensation of the hour, was learned at the home of her father, W. Golder, 44 Centre Avenue, Toronto, on Wednesday night.

Though Constable Conquergood on his arrival in the city placed the matter in the hands of the police, and Wednesday night about 9.30 four officers visited the Golder homestead. Two remained outside and the other two entered. The woman was found conversing with the occupants, and it is said, it took her nearly an hour to don her garments in order to accompany the police. She spent the night in the police station.

Yesterday morning the wires between Toronto and Lindsay were busy in her behalf. A message was received from Mr. Hughes, solicitor for Mrs. Rosenfeld, inquiring how much money it would take to liquidate the whole affair. The trouble and expense to which the authorities had been subjected was totalled up and added to the fine imposed. A statement of the amount was forwarded to Toronto.

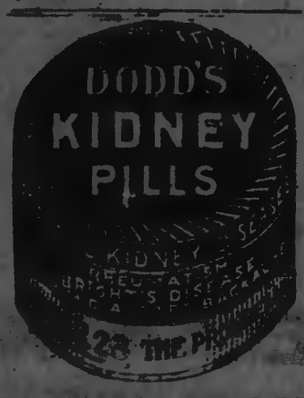
A neat pile of ten and twenty dollar bills and bills of smaller denominations, amounting to $524.00 lying on the desk in the Police Magistrate's office to-day as the climax to the episode. This amount was telegraphed from the Queen City by Mrs. Rosenfeld's friends and she is now enjoying her freedom.

The amount represents a fine for a breach of the Ontario Temperance Act.

PREFERRED DEATH TO MARRYING AN OLD MAN.

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 9.—Rather than marry a "stogey old judge," Miss Elizabeth Kirby, 25, of Huntsville, Ala., jumped into the Ohio river. She was fished out by a dock worker and will recover. She left a note for her parents in which she said:

"I will not sell myself to the stogey old judge or any other man not of my choice."



BEAUTIFUL TITLE.

"Oh, how sweet!" she breathed.

"I wonder what it means?" questioned the young fellow, as he eyed the pictured pair who clung together in an attitude of love and longing.

"Oh, Charlie, don't you see?" the girl chided tenderly. "He has just asked her to marry him and she has consented. It's lovely! What does the artist call the picture?"

The young man leaned nearer and eyed a little label on the frame.

"I see!" he cried. "It's printed on this card here—'Sold!'"—Houston Post.

A Sight Seeing Tour in Our Store To-morrow Will Reveal Much That Is Practical, Luxurious and Needful

THIS is not a lopsided store that considers the needs and requirements of part of the people and excludes the other. Its policy is broad and therefore it deals in luxuries and necessities. Its stocks are comprehensive and encompass a vast range of prices, but there is no room in this establishment for that kind of merchandise that is shoddy and masquerades as first quality. If an inferior article eludes the watchfulness of our buyers (which is seldom) and creeps into our stocks and proves unworthy, we are willing to go the limit to adjust any grievance the purchaser may have.

Many Specimens of Beautiful Silks and Satins That Spread Their Radiance Throughout Our Silk Department

OUR SILK BUSINESS is increasing with leaps and bounds, and we attribute it to the quality and modishness of our fabrics. We have not studied the silk market from afar, but have kept close tab on the outputs of reliable makers. Moreover, we have studied local demands, for long ago we learned that every town, city and community has its own ideas of good style; some quite extreme and other conservative, but we have selected what is modish but refined.

A Swiss Duchess Satin. 36 Inches Wide, $4.50 Yard

It is a pleasure to be selling this Swiss duchess satin again, for it is a long time since we have had a fresh new piece on our shelves. You can have it in nearly every colour on the shade card.

You will find: taupe, navy, peacock blue and the lighter evening shades ,besides a host of others.

Shot Paillette Silk, 36 Inches Wide, $3.75 Yard

So many people are looking for it, and so little of it is to be had, that we think it worth mentioning.

Liberty Satin, in the 20-Inch Width. at $2.00 Yard

It possesses a very lustrous sheen, and this width is most suitable for trimmings, fancy work, and various other little nick-nacks that the feminine mind evolves.

The color range includes: pale blue, Copenhagen, cerise, dark brown, emerald green, lavender, pink, ivory and black.

Swiss Taffetas at $4 and $5 Yard, and 36 Inches Wide of Course

Taffeta is the forerunner of all silks for this 1920 spring season. It has outstripped its competitors, because of its suitability for the bouffant hip. If it is of Swiss manufacture, so much the better, for then the quality is assured. We have an excellent range of Swiss taffetas in plain colours, both light and dark, and checks, in light hues.

Some Real Useful and Handsome Purses at Moderate Prices

It has been said that "a shabby purse is a sign of poverty." We think this is a rather broad statement, for many particular women are just a little careless about the appearance of the purse they carry. But it is a fact that a shabby purse reflects on its owner, and it is surprising how quickly some people note such things.

One of Genuine Black Pin Seal has a strap on the back, Taupe Silk Lining, three compartments, one containing a vanity mirror, and conveniently placed just underneath the flap are three slots for car tickets. The Price is $9.00.

Another of black pebbled leather has a pointed flap and fastens with a dome. There are three large compartments and a smaller one for cards and car tickets. The lining is gray and helio floral satin. Moderately priced at $6.95.

A grandmother's bag in pouch style is of genuine, black Morocco leather. Even the steel frame is concealed by the leather. The long handle will permit you to carry it over your arm if you desire. Priced at $5.50.

A black grained leather in the flat style at $4.50.

There are others priced as low as $1.79 and going slowly upward.

$1.69 and $1.75 Stamped Gowns, 98c

These are our regular stock from the fancy goods department. The patterns are good and as there are only five dozen in the lot we advise that you make an early selection.

One Hundred and Fifty Ladies' Balbriggan Combinations, 98c

They are lace trimmed and are knee length, have no sleeves, and a low neck. It is a good quality balbriggan and we have them in sizes 36, 38 and 40.

Many Mothers Know the Value of Our Children's Department

And It's Making New Friends Every Day

We notice of all departments in the store that mothers visit, the children's section kindles the most enthusiasm. We also notice that many mothers are more particular and critical when selecting their children's clothing than when purchasing their own. Hence it is that we consider our children's section one of our foremost departments and purchase its stocks with the greatest care.

Donegal Tweed Coats for Littte Folks from 5 to 12 Years

IT'S STOUT FABRIC FOR STRENUOUS WEAR.

The pockets are patch style, the belt is narrow and down the centre of the back is a box pleat. The tweed is a brownish tone and tiny brass buttons are used for trimming.

Another model follows the same general lines but the tweed is a bluish hue. There is a blue bone buckle on the back of the belt and the wide, sailor, convertible collar is edged with a two inch band of blue and the buttons are smoked pearl. The size of both models is 5 and the price, $9.95.

For the important little Miss of eight years is one of a brownish tone. The patch pockets are quite modish and the brown bone buttons maintain perfect harmony. The belt is a novel arrangement with two points at the back. The price is $12.00.

The same can be had in the blue tone. Size 10 at $11.50. Size 12 at $12.95.

Reefers in balmaccan style with a mannish collar and black bone buttons. Crossed flags are embroidered on the left sleeve. They are lined with taupe satinette. Size 8, $11.50. Size 9, $12.00.

COATS FOR THE TINY TOTS OF 2 YEARS.

Tiny little Coats in size 2 can be had in a twilled serge. The collar is sailor and convertible, the pockets are patch style and the belt is narrow. Smoked pearl buttons are used for trimming and a group of four tucks run down the centre of the back. Obtainable in either Copenhagen blue or rose. Price $13.95.

NAVY BLUE FOR THE 12- OR 14-YEAR-OLD.

Serge of course and it is a good worsted quality. Patch pockets piped with a fawn colored silk; turn back cuffs similarly treated, and a convertible, sailor collar with a wide border of fawn crepe canton silk. The back is shirred under a yoke. Size 12 at $14.50. Size 14 at $15.50.

A COAT FOR THE SMART YOUNG AGE OF 15

It is a nigger brown gabardine with a box-pleated back and front. The collar and cuffs are garnished with bands of pheasant brown (a tan shade). The collar is sailor, convertible fashion; and smoked pearl buttons are used for trimming. The price is $22.50.

Youthful Little Dresses of Serge

We can picture a girl of twelve years wearing this Navy Serge Dress with its bright reliefs of King's blue embroidery workings on bodice and lock stitching on the hem of the skirt. A tam of navy or brighter blue would complete the attractiveness of the costume. The price is $18. The same in size 8 at $16.50.

To make her bright and gay seems to be the purpose of this model of Copenhagen blue serge. There are slash pockets in which she can poke her hands in boyish fashion and they, like the yoke and cuffs, are outlined with fawn braid that follows a zig zag pattern. Can be had in sizes 6 and 10. Priced at $17.50.

THE MOTOR SHOW ARRANGEMENTS

EVERYTHING IS GETTING IN FINE SHAPE FOR THE SHOW NEXT WEEK.

Given fine weather next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, it is confidently expected by those in charge of the Motor Show in aid of the Health Association in the Armouries, that it will eclipse all previous Motor Shows held in the city.

The Armouries are already decorated for the occasion.

The number of cars to be shown is greater than ever, with more variety. The programme is an excellent one. The drawing prizes are of the best, and in fact the whole show will be a credit to the organization in charge.

Everything possible is being done to make it the pronounced success it deserves to be.

A NEW POSITION FOR G. C. CREELMAN

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, April 9.—Hon. Manning W. Doherty announced that General Manley R. Sims, Agent-General in Ontario, had resigned, and will be succeeded by Dr. G. C. Creelman, President of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, who in turn will be succeeded by Dr. J. B. Reynolds, now President of Manitoba Agricultural College.

The Minister of Agriculture said that a vigorous campaign for immigrants would be pressed, but steps will be taken to exclude undesirables. Care will also be taken to give the immigrants thorough and accurate information as to conditions which they will meet in Ontario, misleading inducements having too often been held out in the past.

Dr. J. B. Reynolds was born in Ontario County, and is a graduate and gold medallist of Toronto University. He was on the staff of the Ontario Agricultural College from 1894 to 1915, when he resigned to take up a position at the Manitoba College.

MARINE WORKERS ORDER A STRIKE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 9.—A strike of the marine workers has been ordered by the Marine Union in all parts of France.

The strike is already in effect at Marseilles and Dunkirk.

The strikers demand the liberation of sailors who mutinied in the Black Sea in 1917, and all persons condemned for military or political offences or for acts committed while participating in strikes.

BELGIAN TROOPS WILL CO-OPERATE

WRECKING THE BELL BUILDING

BUILDING IN THE HANDS OF THE CONTRACTORS

The wrecking of the old Bell building on Hunter street is proceeding, under the oppervision of William Lytle, who has a gang of men tearing down the walls and partitions, and in the last few days the appearance of the building has been completely altered.

The gabled wall at the west side has been cut down to the second story and the men are working on the east wall to-day. The two-story projection at the rear has been brought down to one-story and this will be its height in future.

It is understood that Ephgrave and Barrett have been given the contract for renovating the building. The store at the west, which has harbored everything from ice cream to milking machines will be made into an apartment, leaving only the larger store on the east.

CANADA'S WAR BILL FOR THE PAST YEAR

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, April 9.—Canada's war expenditure during the fiscal year ending 31st March totalled $343,544,081, as compared with $347,824,274 in the year previous. This does not include pensions.

In the year which has just closed, the Customs revenues wer $167,429,812, or nearly twenty million dollars more than in the previous year.

Revenue from direct taxation last year was $106,381,672 — in the year previous $68,184,281.

On 31st March the net debt totalled $1,935,946,312.

THREE BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED

Three building permits have been issued so far this week, all for small amounts:

James McDonald, $200, 261 Charlotte street, alterations.

O. S. Hagerman, $600, 555 Water St., stable and garage.

E. S. Ivey, 125, corner of Water and Hunter streets, interior decorations.

A 1914-15 STAR FOR LOCAL MAN

Mr. C. D. Mathias has received the 1914-15 Star for his long service overseas in the first contingent, from Langemarck right through to the end of the war.

Trooper Mathias enlisted in Lloydminster, Saskatchewan, in August, 1914, and went to France early in 1915 with the Royal Canadian Dragoons, with whom he served through the entire struggle with a brilliant record.

Trooper Mathias likes to recall his first military service with the 57th Regiment, with whom he was associated for seven years. As colour-sergeant of F Company years ago, he made this one of the star companies of the Regiment.

GRAND CAR LOAD LOT SALE OF SELLERS KITCHEN CABINETS

(The Best Servant in the Home)

Commences SATURDAY, APRIL 10th

SEE WINDOW DISPLAY (SIMCOE ST)

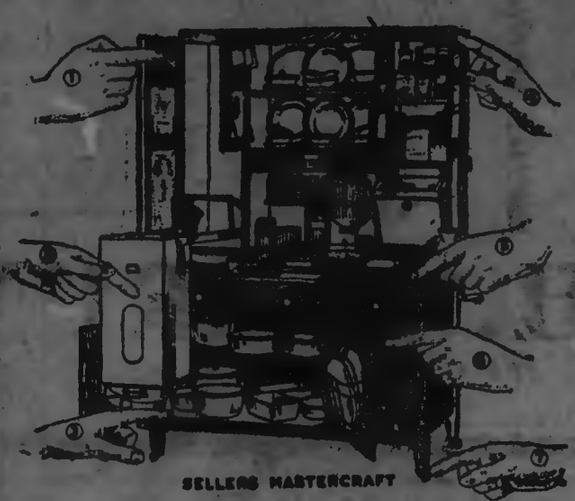
For some months past we have been making arrangements for this "GRAND CAR LOAD LOT SALE" of SELLERS KITCHEN CABINETS. It has been no easy task as you all know how the prices of furniture have advanced during this last year, and this Kitchen Cabinet is one of the best pieces of kitchen furniture manufactured. It is a masterpiece, but by caerful consideration and good judgment in buying, we have purchased this car load. These cabinets at present are on our fourth floor, ready to be offered to the people of Peterborough at special prices on our famous "TURNBULLS KITCHEN CABINET CLUB" plan.

This Kitchen Cabinet (SELLERS) is a MASTERCRAFT MODEL. It is the first "complete service" cabinet ever built. Holds 300 articles—the complete outfit for the average kitchen. Has fifteen (15) time and labour-saving features which women have always wanted, including the famous automatic lowering flour bin.

Club Terms

$2.00 will make you a member of TURNBULLS KITCHEN CABINET CLUB.

To become a member of this Club you first pay your $2.00 to the secretary, and he will then enroll your name. You then select the cabinet which you think will best suit your need, from the eight different designs which the salesman will show you. The cabinet will then be taken to your home, along with the list of groceries which accompanies each one. After you have your cabinet you will pay weekly to the secretary of the Club, according to the arrangements which you make at the time of purchasing. In this way you will soon own the kitchen cabinet by continuing to pay the weekly sum agreed to at time of joining Club. There are no extras to pay.



No. 1—Oil Heated Broiler Fitted. Costs us $3,700 extra, annually.
No. 2—Automatic Lowering Flour Bin. Costs us $2,500 extra, annually.

MILITARY ACTIVITIES HAVE BEEN CONCLUDED

(United Press.)

LONDON, April 8.— The military Governor of Winnipeg Jail announcc troops against the Communists in the Ruhr basin has virtually ended, a despatch from Dusseldorf by way of which appears on the back page without any heading whatsoever, tells of much fright and anxiety on the part of Boston home residents over a scare they had about the appearance of what was thought to be a French warship.

The story goes on to tell how volunteers responded, how they rigged up some kind of fighting ship to go forth and sink the "French privateer," but it was much ado about nothing, for the suspected vessels turned out to be nothing more than fishing boats, one of them having been fashioned by a French designer so that it resembled a French war vessel.

So runs the story of the little yellow sheet that lies folded away in the big library of New York city, the parent paper of American journalism. History tells that while this first copy seems a very harmless thing, The Boston News-Letter in years that came played its part in making American history. It took on other names at times, hyphenated with "News-Letter," and it changed hands several times. At one period of its existence it was published by a woman, the widow of one of its former owners. Again, there came a time when the newspaper had to strike off the names of its publishers and put zeros in the place of the numerals giving its volume and number. That was during the stormy days preceding the Boston Massacre, the Tea Party, the Battle of Bunker Hill, and all sorts of other incidents in Boston which every schoolboy knows by heart.

INVESTIGATE STRIKE.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Investigation of unauthorized strike of switchmen and other railroad employees was ordered to-day by the Senate.

MR. JOHN MURPHY GAVE INTERESTING ADDRESS TO PETERBORO ENGINEERS

FRAZIL AND ANCHOR ICE WAS THE SUBJECT OF HIS ADDRESS— LANTERN SLIDES SHOWN.

One of the most interesting addresses given in this city for some time was delivered by John Murphy M.E.I. C .of Ottawa, Electrical Engineer for the Department of Railways and Canals. The subject was Frazil and Anchor Ice and was given under the auspices of the Peterborough Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada. Mr. Murphy showed by means of moving pictures the actual process of the formation of Frazil and Anchor Ice, and how submerged machinery at a temperature below the freezing point attracts the crystles of ice and becomes clogged. These pic tures were the result of a series of experiment carried out in the refrigerating plant of the Chateau Laurier at Ottawa, with the aid of large bottles of distilled and ordinary water powerful electric arc lamps, and a moving picture camera with a microscopic lens.

If the water in the bottles was not agitated and allowed to remain quiet no ice was formed although the temperature was 32 degrees. On being agitated ice was formed in shadowy flakes which collected into large masses at the surface of the water. Outside of the scientific interest the pictures of the ice effects were so beautiful that the scientific part was almost overlooked.

Agitation Necessary.

The object of the pictures was to show that agitation was necessary in order that frazil ice should form. Mr. Murphy's experience covering twenty years establisher the fact that a difference of 1-1000 of a degree in temperature made all the difference between formation of frazil ice or turmless water.

If the metal parts of a water wheel or racks could be kept about 1-1000 of a degree above the freezing point frazil ice would not stick to it. Mr. Murphy's idea is that by applying heat to these parts many shut downs could be avoided, and he has secured patents for several improvements in water wheels in this line.

During his remarks Mr. Murphy laid stress on the fact that only a small portion of the flow of the river is turned into ice and consequently only this small portion has to be dealt with.

Mr. Murphy described a case that occurred on a small river near Dixon, Ill., where the condensing water from a cement mill, at a temperatue of 50 degrees F. was allowed to enter the stream, and which was proved to have prevented the formation of surface ice for distance of two miles down stream during five successive winters. This interfered with the ice harvesting operations of an ice company below it and in the litigation which followed it was proved that the condensing water amounting to about eight cubic feet per second had prevented the river which had a flo wof about 4,000 cubic feet per second from freezing over.

This fact proves Mr. Murphy's contention that by warming the whole body of a river only a fraction of a degree there will be no ice formed.

A Great Power Plant.

Many lantern slides were also shown of conditions in water power plants throughout the country, and these were explained in detail. Mr. Murphy said that one of the greatest problems of developing power in Canada was the trouble from frazil ice and this would limit to a great extent the development of power on the St. Lawrence.

The giant power plant at Cedar Rapids with its twelve 10,000 h.p. units was shut entirely down on several occasions this winter on account of frazil ice.

Among those present at last night's meeting and who took part in the animated discussion which followed Mr. Murphy's address were Mr. G. B. Smith of Belleville, Supt. of the Central Ontario system of the Hydro Mr. A. E. Caddy of Campbellford, R. S. Cotton of the C.G.E., Thos. Lang, Auburn Power Co., Wm. Hunt, Chief Operator at the Waterworks Pump House and many others.

Mr. Murphy in speaking to the officers of the Branch afterwards, said that he had never before addressed so appreciatice an audience. They were nearly all men who had suffered from the attacks of this winter scourge to all water power plants.

At the conclusion of the meeting a vote of thanks to Mr. Murphy was carried, with prolonged applause.

TO PROCEED WITH THE NASSAU DAM

MR. BURNHAM WIRES RESULTS OF NEGOTIATIONS.

The following telegram has been received from Mr. J. H. Burnham, P.M.:

Ottawa, Ont., April 9, 1920.

The Examiner,
Peterborough—

I have pleasure in announcing that in all probability the Nassau dam will be gone on with this summer. The difference between the C. G. E. and the government has been provided for and Hon. Dr. Reid asked me to urge the Minister of Finance to provide for the matter in the supplementary estimates, which I have done. Mr. E. G. Patterson was here yesterday and the matter has been practically settled after many years of holding up. I think our way is clear now.

J. H. BURNHAM.

COMPLETE TIE-UP DUE TO STRIKE

C.P.R. AND G.T.R. LINES AFFECTED

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, April 9.—One of the most complete freight tie-ups that ever occurred on the International border is now in effect, due to the switchmen's strike.

Neither the Grand Trunk nor the C. P. R. is moving any freight to American points, and the situation is not likely to be relieved during the next twenty-four hours.

"The situation is very bad," declared Superintendent Bowker, of the Grand Trunk to-day. "Freight on both sides of the line is at a standstill because of the inability to effect an interchange of cars. Our passenger trains are still running on schedule."

AT THE EMPIRE

"The Peddler of Lies," one of the most powerful dramas seen in Peterborough for some time, and featuring Frank Mayo and Ora Carew, was shown at the Empire Theatre last night, and held the audience spellbound in its gripping story of intrigue. It is a detective story of unusual merit. Adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story by Henry C. Rowland, it has been beautifully staged and acted, and everyone who can should see this picture feature to-night.

A Century Comedy and a serial balance up the excellant programme.

RANGERS BEAT BELLEVILLE 14-5 AT INDOOR BALL

In an interesting and well played game of indoor baseball at the local armouries last night the Peterborough Rangers defeated Argyle Light Infantry of Belleville by 14 runs to 5. The Peterborough team scored four runs in the first innings and were always in front, thanks of Sergt.-Major Dunkerly's good pitching and the steady playing of the home crew. The Belleville team tried hard all the way and promise to make things interesting when the Rangers play the return game in the near future. In addition to visiting Belleville the Peterborough team will also play in Kingston, arrangements for the fixture being now under way.

The teams and score last night were as follows:

Peterborough Rangers—Griffin 1b., Armstrong 2b., Dunkerly p., Frick 3b., Lang c., McDonald l.f., Litghheart m., Ryan s.s., Knox r.f.

CALEDONIANS DEFEATED THE CANADIAN GENERAL 2-0

THE LOCAL FOOTBALL SEASON OPENED LAST EVENING AT EXHIBITION GROUNDS.

A FAIR ATTENDANCE

A good number of local enthusiasts turned out last evening to witness an exhibition game of football between the Caledonians and the C. G. E. football teams. The Scotsmen had some difficulty in getting a team but eventually they made up a satisfactory team by calling upon some of the older football players who were present.

The C.G.E. team made a very smart appearance in their new jersies of upright blue and white stripe which made "Parkin's" think he had developed an excellent amount of talent.

At any rate the referee got the game started with the Caledonians playing with the light breeze that was blowing, but the opening exchanges were without doubt in favour of the C.G.E., who could do everything with the ball but get the needful—a goal. There were many exciting bits of play around mid-field brought out by the players of each team and evidently the art is still with them yet. The play produced nothing startling until "Jimmy Shaw" received a nice pass about 20 yards in front of goal, and scored the first goal of the game that landed right in below the crossbar, giving the goal keeper no chance whatever. There was nothing of interest after this until half time when the teams changed ends—the second period was more interesting now as the players were beginning to get warmed up as "Ted" Bartlett on the outside left was very conspicuous by his carrying the ball down the wing and centering—but his efforts were fruitless as there was nobody in front of goals to pick up his pass. The C.G.E. team now made a desperate attempt to even up the score, as the half backs and forwards were all down at the Caledonian goals, and many a time it was only the good goal keeping of Ralph Bunton that held the C.G.E. out. On a pass from Alex. McArthur, the Scotsmen transferred the play to the other end which resulted in Ed. Hardie giving the Caledonians a lead of two goals—with a low ground shot. The play was beginning to slow down a bit.

The game came to a close with "Tim" McArthur running down the wing, showing some of the old time tricks which many a time gave Macdonald, the C.G.E. right back, a lesson on the game. The game ended with the Caledonians still pressing.

The score: Caledonians 2; C.G.E. 0.

The C.G.E. football team are certainly a well built, physically fit and likely looking lot of players, who will give a good account of themselves before the season is finished.

As for the Caledonians, they have nothing to crow about as their players will have to get more training if they want to make a creditable showing in the league.

According to reports, the Canadian Woollens team is making satisfactory progress, because of the fact that J. W. Worth was wanting to make arrangements for an exhibition game on Saturday afternoon.

The G.W.V.A. Machine Gun and De Laval teams have had a few practices of late and when the League opens they will all be in good shape.

The C.G.E. and the Caledonians will play a return exhibition game at the Exhibition Grounds on Saturday at 3.30 prompt. The players of both teams please note the time.

TORONTO OUTFIT SNIPING PLAYERS

FIGURES ON GETTING PETERBORO'S BEST CATCHER—NIX.

The Wellingtons will hold a meeting to-morrow night at 33 Waverley Road, when the following players are requested to attend: Lamond, Harold Woods, Beaune, Swanston, Smith, Burton, Dyer, Hill, Dodds, Beatty, Harrigan, Trestrail and McKeown.

Catcher Harold Woods will manage the Iron Dukes this year, in order that "Corney" Burns can take in the half mile meets.

First baseman Lamond, who is back in the city again, played in Ohio last summer against Hans Wagner, while Swanston is a Peterboro boy.

The above, taken from a Toronto paper, gives some insight into the way the Toronto outfit has been trying to handpick a team from other towns. So far the Wellingtons have not been able to steal any men from Peterboro but if they secured Swanston, which is highly improbable, they would get one of the best pitchers in the Central Ontario League.

OSBORNE RESIGNS.

Lieutenant Commander Thomas Mott Osborne has forwarded his resignation as commandant of the naval prison at Portsmouth. He withdrew a previous request for relief pending disposition of charges against his conduct of the prison, which Assistant Secretary Roosevelt declared, after investigation, to have been unfounded. Prior to joining the Navy, Mr. Osborne was engaged in prison-reform work, an account of which he gives in his book, "Society and Prisons" (Yale University Press). There are few people who lack interest in the question of how we can best deal with our criminals, and Mr. Osborne's book is of great significance in this field.

MANY BASEBALL STARS WILL SOON HAVE TO GIVE UP BIG LEAGUE CAREERS

EDDIE CICOTTE, SALLEE, HALL CHASE AND NUMEROUS OTHERS ARE NEARING THE QUITTING AGE.

How many baseball stars now drawing salaries from the major league clubs will come back for the season of 1921? Napoleon Lajoie, who is in retirement, left the big leagues when he was 42 years of age and the famous Hans Wagner remained with the Pirates until he was 43. But these grizzled veterans were exceptions to the rule and of the men who again will wear uniforms this season few are expected to be in fast company on their fortieth birthdays.

Dode Paskert of the Cubs will be 39 in August and will not play regularly in the outfield during the coming championship campaign unless accidents happen. Perhaps another year will find him in a minor league. Gavvy Cravath, who is 38 and is manager of the Phillies, will go to the bat now and then as a pinch hitter, but will not play right field. Jimmy Austin, of the St. Louis Browns, also 38, played fine ball last year, but he may be succeeded by a younger man before next summer.

"Babe" Adams, the Pirates' remarkable pitcher, is 37, and is ready for another strenuous grind. Several years ago Adams, as a result of a weak arm, dropped into the Western league, but he recovered his effectiveness and he was a wonder in 1919. Red Ames, who is 36, will remain with the Cardinals, for whom he didn't pitch a single game last season as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident in the spring.

Eddie Cicotte, shine ball expert and the mainstay of the Chicago White Sox, is 36, and is demanding a salary of $15,000. Cicotte's arm bothered him last fall for the first time in his career, which was taken to mean that he could not last much longer in view of the tremendous amount of work he had done since 1916.

Another veteran pitcher who may be forced into retirement by Father Time is Slim Sallee of the champion Reds. He is in his thirty-fifth year, and although he pitched splendidly for Pat Moran last season he may not be able to stand another test. Walter Johnson and Grover Cleveland Alexander, speed merchants, are in the 33-year-old class and soon their great right arms will become useless.

Other Great Players Who Are Growing Old.

Hal Chase, the Giants' noted first baseman, probably will play as a regular again this year, but he is past 36 and cannot last more than another campaign, it is thought. Chase always has taken care of his physical condition and says that he is fine trim right now. He was handicapped in 1919 with a sprained wrist and a lame ankle, which put him on the bench during the final stages of the pennant race.

Larry Doyle, 34, has played his last game at second base for the Giants, but Manager may retain him as an emergency lieutenant. Heinie Zimerman, 35, probably will be traded by the Giants under, if some other National League club will agree to take him. Bill Fletcher, the Giants' popular utility boy, is 34, but he's coming back for another fling at the old game. George Burns, 31; Rube Benton, 30; Fred Toney, 31; Lew McCarty, 33; and Phil Douglas, 30; all Giants, have passed the halfway mark.

Frank Baker, who says he will not return to the Yankees, is 36 and is a year older than Eddie Collins, captain and second baseman of the White Sox. Jack Barry, who played shortstop for the Athletics with Baker and Collins at third and second bases, respectively, retired last season at the age of 33.

Cobb and Speaker Still Active.

Ty. Cobb, champion batsman of the American league and star of the Detroit team, will be 34 next December. Unless he decides to quit the game of his own accord he ought to be good for at least two more years. Cobb's clean methods of living have maintained his speed, and last year he played as well as ever.

Tris Speaker, manager and center fielder of the Clevelands, is 33. He appeared to be losing some of his great batting power in 1919, but his retirement from baseball isn't looked for just yet. Joe Jackson, slugger extraordinary of the White Sox, is 33, with a long way to go before he lays aside his uniform and spiked shoes forever.

Sherwood Magee, who wound up his major league career with the Reds last fall, is 36. Jack Miller, who will play second base for the Phillies, is 34. So is Fred Luderus, who will be a bench warmer if Cravath assigns Gene Paulette to the Quakers' first corner. Fred Merkle of the Cubs is 32 and Charlie Herzog, who will cover the middle bag for them, is 35, though still a brilliant infielder. Bill Killefer, the Cubs' great catcher, is 34, and Big Jim Vaughn, their celebrated southpaw, is more than 32.

Moran Soon Must Replace Daubert.

Pat Moran is looking around for a youngster to play first base for the Reds. Jake Daubert will reach his thirty-fifth birthday in April, but, in spite of a brace last season, he is believed to be on the down grade. Ray Fisher, one of the Reds' boxmen, is 33 and was supposed to have seen his best days when the Yankees turned him adrift a year ago.

Donie Bush, the Tigers' shortstop, who is 32, may be traded or supplanted by a newcomer. Larry Gardner, who was a factor in the success of the Clevelands last season, is coming back at the age of 34. Jack Collins, of the White Sox, still a valuable player, also is 34 and so is Oscar Stanage, the Detroits' backstop, being one year older than Eddie Ainsmith, his side partner, who caught the game of his life in 1919.

In the 33-years-old class, too, are George Cutshaw of the Pirates and Harry Hooper, star outfielder of the Red Sox, Zach Wheat of the Phillies, Tilly Walker of the Athletics, Duffy Lewis of the Yankees, Dick Rudolph of the Braves, Eddie Foster of the Red Sox, Veach of the Tigers and Ray Caldwell of the Clevelands are 32 years old. Groh of the Reds, Hank Gowdy of the Braves, Tyler of the Cubs, Marquard, Myers and Pfeffer of the Brooklyns, Dauss of the Tigers, Gandil of the White Sox and Strunk of the Mackmen are 31.

Matty Now Is Forty Years Old.

Christopher Mathewson, who was the king of pitchers when he occupied the box for the champion Giants of 1904, 1905, 1911, 1912 and 1913, now is 40 years old. He practically wound up his magnificent career at the end of 1915, when his shoulder went lame for the first time. Big Ed. Walsh, who was a veritable iron man when he pitched for the White Sox from 1907 to 1912, when the constant use of the spitball put him out of commission, is as old as Matty.

Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, is 40, which also is the age of George Gibson, the new manager of the Pirates. Both Huggins and Gibson played excellent ball up to five years ago, when their joints began to creak. Johnny Evans, who is 37, retired when he was '35.

Youngsters are in demand and in the near future there'll be a new crop of stars.

GUN CLUB OUT FOR NEW GROUNDS

Since the Aladdin company have taken over the ground used by the Peterborough Gun Club for potting at the elusive pigeons, the Gun Club have to look for new shooting grounds. Three are suggested, the ground west of St. Peter's cemetery, the Exhibition grounds and some level land west of the Lift-Lock.

The Exhibition grounds are the more favoured of the three. Before the club secured its present grounds it shot here, and at to-morrow night's session of the Exhibition Board of Directors a request for the use of the grounds will be presented by the club.

The club house would in all probability be located in the same place as formerly, at the centre of the western end right near the Park street fence. They would shoot across the track into the circle at the pigeons.

During these last nine months of last year the total external trade of Canada, exports and imports of all kinds, had a value of $1, 707, 587,208.

CANADIAN STAR IN NEW PICTURE

WILL BE SEEN AT THE ALLEN NEXT WEEK.

Claire Adams, the beautiful Canadian girl who stars with Richard Bennett in "The End of the Road," playing at the Allen next week for four days, commencing Monday, is the daughter of Stanley Adams, a well known teacher of vocal music in Toronto. Miss Adams was born in Winnipeg, receiving her earlier education in England and Calgary, and later joining her father in Toronto.

At the outbreak of the war she endeavored to enlist in the Canadian nursing service, but was turned down on account of her youth and inexperience. Nothing daunted, she went to Grace Hospital, Detroit, and started a graduation course in nursing. But her health gave way under the strain of hospital life, and the doctor ordered her to abandon the work and to take a complete rest. By this time the family had moved to New York, and it was here that Miss Adams met a director from the Edison company, and made her debut as "Peggy" Adams at the Edison studios on the New Jersey side. Later she worked in other productions, and adopted the stage name of Claire Adams, her name to her family and friends being Beryl Adams. When the American Government incorporated a feature film in connection with their mammoth Red Cross drive, it was the beautiful Canadian whom they selected to play the part of the Red Cross nurse, following which Miss Adams became the star in "The End of the Road," which was produced by Public Health films. She was also co-star with Irene Castle in a recent release, "The Invisible Bond," and is now at the Goldwin studios, Culver City, working in "Barbara," an eminent author's production.

A PICTURE FOR GROWN-UPS ONLY

"END OF THE ROAD" WILL BE SHOWN AT THE ALLEN.

It would be a great mortification to the average girl if she felt that the man of her choice looked upon her as "shop worn", and yet there is many a girl to-day, who by cheapening her affections, and being too ready to bestow tokens of them, is in all innocence laying up unhappiness for herself and others when the romantic upon life's greatest adventure of all. The problem is forcefully and ably dealt with in "The end of the Road", a remarkable photoplay showing at the Allen for an engagement of four days, starting Monday.

Every once in awhile there comes a picture that is not only a powerful dramatic attraction, replete with action, but which sends the audience away in a very thoughtful mood. Just such a production is "The End of the Road", featuring Claire Adams a beautiful Canadian girl, with Richard Bennett, a polished and popular character actor.

The subject is dealt with in a very frank manner, and yet there is nothing morbid in the story, for it brings home the fact that a wholesome life is the best.

None under sixteen are admitted, this rule applying to all under that age, whether babes in arms or children and young people of understanding.

The picture is presented by the Canadian National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases, with the co-operation of Dr. A. W. McPherson, Medical Officer of Health. It is incorporated in the national campaign to which the Dominion and Provincial Governments have given $500,000, the principal objective being the establishment of clinics for the treatment of such diseases throughout the country.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"PLEASE GET MARRIED"

The hilarious farce "Please Get Married", originally produced by Oliver Morosco at the Fulton Theatre, New York, and shown at the Grand last night was greeted with a full house and visibly delighted the entire house with its gaiety and fun.

The plot revolved around the marriage of two youngsters against the will of the young man's father. The minister is secured under peculiar circumstances and his actions are very eccentric for a respectable minister of the Gospel. After the happy couple are far away on their honeymoon her parents discover that the minister was a thief and entered their home to steal. The law convinces them he is only a phoney preacher and then the music starts. One by one her poor dear daughter and they thought they were really married. They must be undeceived.

As usual everything came out fine and the minister who performed the marriage was suffering from amnesia at the time and not criminally inclined so that all the fuss over the marriage was a joke on their parents. The boy's father finds himself caught in the same net as his boy with Bell Brown, human phonograph exuding sunshine at the same time.

The parts were well carried: Adam Earl as the Parson, made a hit. John Readick Jr. as Ferdinand Oliver Walton the groom assumed his role as a newly wed admirably and his young wife taken by Anna Hill was the picture of a bubbling happy little bride. Earl McLellan as a stut-t-t-ering hotel clerk kept his audience in peals of laughter and deserves commendation. The parts of the parents were well taken.

FALCONS WERE UNABLE TO SECURE STICKS

Discovered That There Was a Great Shortage of Hockey Sticks.

MONTREAL, April 9.— The Falcons of Winnipeg, who are on their way to Antwerp to represent Canada in the Olympic Hockey Competition, received a great surprise upon their arrival here when they found that they could not purchase a single hockey stick in Montreal. After almost every sporting goods house in town had been visited, all they could get was a dozen and a half of "blank" sticks that have been cut out in the rough but have yet to be finished. As the Falcons expected to get an entire new supply here so as to be able to appear in Antwerp with nice, new sticks, they were greatly disappointed but luckily they had provided themselves with about fifteen dozen old sticks and they will probably find some cricket bat makers who can finish up the "blank" ones for them.

MATERNITY HOME TO BE BUILT BY SOCIETY OF FRIENDS

CHALONS, Sur Marne, April 8.—Work has been started on the million franc maternity hospital here, the funds for which were raised by the Society of Friends' unit of the Red Cross. Some of the money came from the sale of supplies to the inhabitants at cost, and some from donations direct by British Quaker girls who have been participating in work they describe as "a venture in International Friendship."

The hospital is designed to replace temporary dispensaries and baby clinics which sprung up in the devastated regions in wooden barracks provided by the Red Cross.

Two British nurses will be placed in charge, and there will be about 60 endowed beds set aside for the free use of Chalons and neighboring villages.

MILLBROOK CORRESPONDENCE

MILLBROOK, April 8.—The beautiful cantata "Under the Palms" was given by an augmented choir of over forty voices in Grace Church on Easter Monday evening before a large audience. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and that with the white apparel of the singers produced a most delightful effect. Unfortunately the weather conditions were far from favorable heavy snow squalls preventing the country being represented, save by a very small number who were brave enough to come nevertheless.

It may be said without reservation that the rendering of the cantata was most artistic and reflected the greatest credit on thesingers, the choir leader, Mrs. H. Johnston and the organist, Miss McBean. Seldom indeed has more delightful melody in solo, duet, quartette and chorus been heard in our community and those who were unable to come certainly were deprived of a great treat. We would suggest that it be given again ere long, when we have no doubt the capacity of the church would be taxed

At the close, the choir were entertained to a dainty lunch served by the Ladiesc Aid, when Mrs. Johnson and Miss McBean were presented with bouquets of carnations and hearty votes of thanks were passed to all who took part. This social hour was a happy climax to a most delightful evening.

Before the programme commenced Dr. Lee gave a brief description of the Cantata which enabled the audtage.

MRS. HAROLD BRADBURN

Death claimed another of the residents of the Township of Cavan in the person of Mrs. Harold Bradburn Nichols Hospital, Peterboro, at the the hospital and two weeks ago she was operated to progress favourably but she slowly weakened and died. The funeral service which was held at her brother's home was largely attended showing the esteem in which she was held by the people of the community. Her pastor, Rev. James E. Beckel, Bethany conducted the funeral service, interment in Millbrook Methodist Cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. A. E. Byers, W. White, E. McGee, H. McGee, M. Stewart and B. Sharpe. She leaves to mourn hre loss, her husband and one child, Mary Isabelle also her mother one sister Mrs. N. Gillis and one brother James Hueston at home. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved ones.

Union Services in Methodist Church on Good Friday.

The Union Service in the Methodist Church on Good Friday was a most successful meeting. A large number of our citizens assembled and joined in the service with more than usual fervour, Rev S. T. Tucker, presided and Dr. Lee preached an earnest and appropriate sermon on the "Inscription on the Cross". We are glad that our citizens had the opportunity to thus reverently commemorate the death of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ and we feel sure the influence of it will never be forgotten But why not all our churches unite on Good Friday?

STITCHES IN HEART, THIS MAN RECOVERS

REMARKABLE OPERATION PERFORMED BY SAN FRANCISCO SURGEON.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—One of the most delicate operations known to surgery, that of stitching a puncture of the human heart, was performed recently upon Calvin J. Gilmer.

Gilmer attempted to end his life by firing a bullet through his breast. The bullet pierced the left breast, punctured a lobe of the lung, passed through the heart, and came out the back.

He was taken to the French Hospital for treatment. As he was slowly bleeding to death, Dr. Asa Collins, assisted by Dr. B. F. Alden, chief surgeon of the hospital, decided to take the only chance of saving Gilmer's life.

Dr. Collins opened the patient's left side, bared the heart, and found a wound an inch long. Deftly, as the faint life pulsed beneath his hands, Dr. Collins took three stitches in the wound, and the patient is now on the road to recovery.

To reach the heart, it was necessary to cut away two ribs, after laying back a portion of the skin and flesh several inches square. The two ribs were detached from the breast bone, then broken, and laid back, so the heart could be reached.

The bullet hole was through the muscular portion of the left ventricle and the reason the heart had not stopped functioning was because a blood clot had formed, preventing the blood from encircling the organ, and choking off its action.

The operation, the third of its kind, according to medical records, is known as cardiorrhaphy. A number of years ago similar operations were performed in New York and Boston.

$125 DIAMOND RING MUST BE RETURNED

JUDGE HUYCKE'S DECISION IN COUNTY COURT CASE.

On Tuesday, April 6th, a case was heard before Judge Huycke at the sittings of the County Court between Michael Freeman as plaintiff and Samuel Pulver as defendant. The plaintiff sued the defendant for the return of a diamond ring valued at $125, which the defendant claimed he bought from Mrs. Freeman last June who at that time was Miss Shirley Cockerill, and paid her the sum of $50 for it. This Mrs. Freeman denied, alleging that she only received $5 and that the ring was taken from her to satisfy a debt which she owed to Abraham Swartz.

The plaintiff claimed that the ring belonged to him and that he had only loaned it to her who is now his wife, and that she had no right or authority to part with it, and the defendant knew this at the time he got possession of the ring in question.

This morning judgment was given in favour of Freeman, ordering the ring to be given up by Pulver to him and that the costs should be paid by the defendant.

C. R. Widdifield acted for Freeman and J. F. Strickland for Pulver.

UPS AND DOWNS OF THE CANADIAN DOLLAR AND BRITISH POUND

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Ont., April 9. — The ups and downs of the Canadian dollar and the British pound was explained to the Ontario Graduate Nurse convention in the Collegiate Institute hall last evening by Dr. B. J. McLean, of the Railway Commission, in a lucid address on "Some Problems of Exchange."

Disturbances in exchange were to be looked upon as only temporary, Dr. McLean said, and the recent marked improvement was a very good sign of an early recovery of normal business.

Dr. McLean said that while the United States has had the chance to become the dominating factor in the world's finance her chance is past.

THE GERMAN REICHSTAG WILL MEET ON MONDAY

fort, according to the Tageblatt.

The newspaper said three regiments of infantry and many tanks crossed the Rhine yesterday from Strassburg for various destinations in German territory.

Cabinet Meets.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 9.— French cabinet held a meeting this morning and it was announced that Ministers would hold another meeting this evening. Premier Millerand informed the cabinet with regard to the German situation. He likewise made it acquainted with verbal communication which had been received from Great Britain on the subject of French occupation of Frankfort, an official notification of British position not having yet arrived in Paris.

Crossed the River.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, April 9.—German regular troops which had crossed the River Ruhr were withdrawn yesterday to the northern bank, it is announced here. The burgomaster of cities of Barmen and Elberfeld it is stated, requested the Minister of Defence not to allow troops to enter those towns. Great excitement prevails in Dusseldorf, in view of threatened entry of regulars. Town Council believes the entry of troops would be inexpedient.

the rapid advance being made by the manufacturing interests in that city.

With offices at Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and London, England, the new office will render a complete advertising service, under the management of Mr. B. B. Stewart.

Mr. Stewart, who has been with A. McKim, Ltd., at Toronto for eight years, was born and educated at Hamilton, and is known there as the eldest son of the late A. B. Stewart, one time Chief of Police, and later Mayor of Hamilton.

FIRST NEWSPAPER IN NORTH AMERICA

IS HIDDEN IN DUSKY SPLENDOR IN BIG LIBRARY.

NEW YORK.—Among the treasured relics in Room No. 303 in the big library at Fifth avenue and Forty-second street, is a copy of the first newspaper published in North America. Room No. 303 is known among the hundreds of librarians, book handlers and attendants employed in that colossal pile of white granite and marble as "Reserve Room." Aptly enough, it is hidden in the dusky splendor of, perhaps, the most secluded area of the huge structure. Despite the pomp of stately architecture, there is monastic simplicity about the unchiselled walls, and the visitor is impressed with the truth that Room No. 303 was fashioned to protect something precious if not sacred.

There are newspapers there which date back to the early years of the seventeenth century (1600), but they are British prints. Not until April 24, 1704, was there a newspaper printed on American soil. Not until Boston had become a busy little seaport of the western world did the Pilgrims send a chronicle of their doings to press. Don't be misled by the words "not until." So far from qualifying the age of American journalism, and making it appear young, or new, the words should challenge imagination, and cause one to reflect, for "1740" means 215 years ago, and that means 77,475 yesterdays of American life.

Curiosity Frowned Upon.

One must have a deeper feeling than mere curiosity to be permitted to view the time-stained treasures of Room No. 303. The first glance at the simple little circular is not a compensating one, for the initial newspaper of American journalism is very similar in appearance to the older newspapers which may be found there from England. In typographical make-up, this little leaf of news does not impress one with its age, for there are publications today, particularly in England, which have a similar appearance. The front page, and there are just two pages, front and back, bears the name of the forerunner of our great newspapers of today in big, black heraldry, "The Bofton News-Letter," and the "f" for the "s" in "Boston" is about the only evidence of antiquity upon first glance.

Some authorities may be quoted as follows: Samuel G. Drake's "History of Boston" says it was the first newspaper printed in North America; Isaiah Thomas' "History of Printing in America" says it was the first Anglo-American newspaper; Buckingham's "Reminiscences, Vol. 1": "The first newspaper published in North America was the Bofton News-Letter, mostly from European papers. The little that has the appearance of having been written by the editor is clumsily composed, with no regard to punctuation or grammatical construction." McKellar's "American Printer" says it was the first, and that it was regularly published for nearly seventy-two years.

Now, having established beyond cavil that it was verily the first of American newspapers, let us see what this little sheet looks like. In size it is not much bigger than a typewritten page of modern business correspondence, say 9 by 12 inches. The name of the paper, as already mentioned, is at the top of the front page, in heavy, quaint black type. The date line is immediately beneath the heraldry, just as the dates of the newspapers today are carried between rules, and the date of this particular copy of the Boston News-Letter is April 24, 1704. Then beneath the date line, top of column, front page, is a credit line, just as one sees in italics above the despatches in modern newspapers, which reads: 'From Lodnon Flying-Post, from December 2 to 4, 1703."

Think of it! News published in America, April 24, 1704, was taken from a London paper for the first week of December preceding. In other words, the news was fresh in America when it was four months old. The report of a battle in France was lately told in 1,158 newspapers of the Associated Press within four hours after it was fought. And, what was this four months old news which John Campbell, the first American editor, found so important? Here it verbatim:

"Her Majesty came this day to the House of Peers, attended with the usual solemnity; and, being seated on the Throne in Her Royal robes, Sir David Mitchell, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a message to the House of Commons. * * *

"Addressing the Assemblage, Her Majesty spoke as follows:

"'My Lords and Gentlemen: I think it proper on this occasion to acquaint you that I have had unquestionable information of very ill practises and designs carried on in Scotland by emissaries from France which might have proved extremely dangerous to the peace of these kingdoms as you will see by the particulars which shall be laid before you as soon as the several examinations relating to this matter can be fully perfected and made public without prejudice.'

"'In the meantime, I make no doubt, but by this seasonable discovery, I shall be able to give such directions for our security as will effectually prevent any ill consequences from these pernicious designs, etc.'"

But that wasn't all. England was, even in those early days of the eighteenth century, having trouble with Ireland. Much importance was given in the first issue of an American newspaper to the following news item from the other side:

"There is no doubt but there is a design among the Papists to do mischief, and it may be justly said that they have begun already; for letters yesterday say that a body of Papists had got together in the county of Limerick, had marched in a hostile manner through the several towns; had plundered, and disarmed several Protestants.

"It is said there are several more little parties of Irish, up in that country which put the Protestants in a mighty consternation."

To the Advertising Public of Peterborough

When you buy Advertising space in the EXAMINER you get it on the Basis of a Proven, Guaranteed Circulation.

The Circulation of the EVENING EXAMINER is rapidly approaching 7000 Copies Daily.

The exact figures for each of the first five days of the week are 6650 copies daily and on Saturdays 6775 copies.

The Circulation of the EXAMINER has increased over 600 copies since last July and is surely and steadily growing month by month.

Most Advertisers demand, when buying newspaper space, to know the QUANTITY and QUALITY of the Circulation. The EXAMINER presents the following indisputable facts in support of its

PROVEN CIRCULATION

The Examiner is a member of the A.B.C.—an organization of Advertisers and Advertising Agents who employ their own Auditors to check up the Circulation of every newspaper member of the organization. Their reports are accepted as bona fide by every space buyer and Advertising Agent on the Continent. Consequently when you buy space in an A.B.C.Newspaper, like the Examiner, you are guaranteed the Circulation you pay for.

Guaranteed Circulations are the Cheapest Form of Advertising you can buy.

Here are some facts that are proven by the Examiner's Guaranteed Circulation A.B-C. Reports:—

1. An Average Circulation of over 6650 Copies Daily.

2. A distribution in the City of Peterborough of over 4,700 Copies Daily. This includes the suburbs of Browntown and Downer's Corners, and that portion of North Monaghan reached by regular newsboy delivery.

3. We claim that only about 250 families in the City are not actual regular subscribers to the Examiner but are doubtless casual readers.

4. Over 1200 Subscribers read the Examiner in the adjacent Villages and along the Rural Routes radiating from Peterborough, classified as Suburban Subscribers. Upwards of 400 Subscribers receive the Examiner not on Rural Routes and in Villages and are classed as Country Subscribers.

5. And a Miscellaneous List of 350, making an actual total of 6,650 Copies Daily.

This is The Examiner's Contribution Towards Bigger Business for Peterborough

In circulation, we make the positive claim that the EXAMINER covers this City and District thoroughly and that the Rates herewith attached are the CHEAPEST form of Advertising per thousand of Circulation to be obtained in this district.

We offer any Advertiser the privilege of handling every printed Copy of the EXAMINER'S circulation directly from the press to the source of distribution.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAND STAND

(Special to The Examiner.)

ST. CATHARINES, April 9. — The first night of the firemen's strike was marked by several false alarms and the burning of the grand stand at the Lacrosse Grounds, which was completely destroyed, at 5 o'clock this morning.

The volunteer fire department—chiefly aldermen and members of the City Hall staff—managed to prevent the flames from spreading to the bleachers and some frame dwellings in the neighborhood.

SALVATION ARMY BAND'S WAIVER MAY HELP THE COUNCIL

Adjutant Buntin's letter to the City Council on behalf of the Salvation Army band and staff was as follows:—

Chairman, Committee of the Whole,
City Council of Peterborough, Ont.

Sir,—Please be so good as to convey to your committee the thought and wishes of the staff of the Salvation Army in this city. Also the wishes of the band as a unit.

That your committee take no further notice, so far as any proposed division of the proposed city grant to bands and musical service is concerned, as to the Salvation Army. The band cheerfully abrogates any claim it might have on your consideration for service in the past or for the future of the present year. It is assumed that this action will relieve the present uncertainty as to a prospective division of funds and allow of the matter being adjusted in a friendly way by the committee and Council.

Please also accept the assurance that the Army Band will cheerfully be ready to assist in all good objects to give of service where such may be in the public interest, and to do this both as an organization that exists within the Army with the one idea of service and help. The purposes of the band are not defined or altered by the contribution of public funds, and it will be ready at any time to contribute to the interest of the city at large.

On behalf of local officers,
Very respectfully,
(Sgd.) W. BUNTIN,
Adjutant in Charge.

BANK CLERKS' UNION APPOINTS ORGANIZER

Instructs Its President to Open Negotiations With Employers.

TORONTO, April 9.— Chartered banks which received the wage schedule of the Canadian Bank Clerks' Association have left the initiative regarding negotiations to the association, according to Mr. H. Clay, its President, who presented the replies of the banks to a well-attended meeting held here in the Labor Temple. That there might be a uniform set of working conditions and wages in all banks, the association instructed Mr. Clay to deal with the Canadian Bankers' Association, if it were possible, and failing this to make an application with the Minister of Labor for a Board of Conciliation.

The association appointed a salaried organizer for the Province. He is Mr. C. E. Peck, who will visit the large centres of the Province immediately.

No steps have been taken yet in Peterborough on the formation of an association, but as in other centres the clerks are dissatisfied with banking conditions and salaries. To keep up appearance the clerks are supposed to maintain, and satisfy the inner man takes some real pinching and careful examination of the stipend.

THIS DOCTOR WAS WISE.
When examining a local man for Insurance, he was completely surprised at the chest measurement, and asked the question: "How did you develop such a measurement?" The answer was: "By exercising my lungs in the open air and by singing exercises." The doctor remarked: "If all the men who sing on the 13th in St. Paul's Church have similar chest extension, I am sure they will be worth hearing, and you can book me right now for some tickets. Everybody's doing it now."

WEDDING BELLS

ROACHE—HOWLEY.
A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's Church, Douro, when Miss Jean Howley and Mr. Louis Roache were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father McGuire. Miss Clara Roache, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Gerald Howley, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

REID—WOOD.
A marriage of much interest to many Toronto people took place at half past four o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Episcopal Church, Hollywood, Los Angeles, when the marriage was solemnized by the rector, the Rev. Dr Willsie Martin, of Mildred, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wood, of Queen's Park, Toronto, who are spending some months at their winter home, "Wymilwood," Beverley Hills, California, to Mr. Edward S. Reid, jr., of Charlotte, North Carolina. Mr. Reid was educated at the University of North Carolina, and graduated in the class of 1916.
When war was declared he enlisted in the aviation corps of the United States army, where he served as a pursuit pilot. He is now a banker in Los Angeles.
The young bride, who was given away by her father, wore a travelling suit of sand gabardine, with navy blue trimmings and hat to match. The attendants were her aunt, Mrs. Frank P. Wood of Toronto, wearing grey satin, with black hat, and her cousin, Mrs. Earl Clark, of Los Angeles, in blue taffeta. Mr. E. S. Reid was his sons best man. The bride's mother was in navy blue tricolette, embroidered with jade green beads and transparent hat, with a bird of paradise. The honeymoon will consist of a motor trip through North Carolina, and on their return Mr. and Mrs. Reid will reside at Beverley Hills.

UNIONS OUT TO OPPOSE THE STRIKE

OUTLAW UNION SHOWS SIGNS OF BREAKING UP—RAILWAYS BADLY CRIPPLED.

THE STRIKE FEVER

(United Press.)

CHICAGO, April 10.—The switchmen's strike was described in bulletins issued at the "outlaw" union headquarters here to-day, as "easier in Chicago; slightly worse outside."

Strikers admitted more work was accomplished by the roads here, but denied desertions from their ranks. John Grunau, head of the Chicago's Yardmen's Association, which started the strike, said twenty-five new locals asked for charters. Extensions of rail difficulties on both coasts last night was gleefully greeted by strike headquarters. Representatives of the Brotherhoods who are fighting the strike, declared it merely a matter of letting the strike fever burn itself out. It has been demonstrated, they said, that nothing was to be gained through the newly-formed union. At the same time they condoned the acts of some strikers who, they said, were made desperate by' big advances in rent and food costs this spring.

The claim that difficulty in the yards here was abating and based on the fact that several crews, headed by men who made the first strike threats, returned to work. When the strike is broken here, Brotherhood men said it would die out elsewhere.

Wage Increases.

An official report was circulated that an agreement might be reached to-day if promises were made that wage increases to be granted later be made retroactive to April 1st, and if the Yardmen's Association be recognized. Brotherhood officials said there was a small chance for the latter.

By nightfall railroad officials and Brotherhood leaders said, they expected to be able to definitely announce that the backbone of the strike had been broken.

That the organized unions will fight the strike to a finish without seeking government aid, was the statement here to-day of Chas. E. Heberling, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America. "Our union has a membership of 66,000 and less than a third of these have gone out," he said.

Freight Piled Up.

There is to be no compromise between the rebels and the regular organization. The insurgents have to go back to work and then we will consider whether we will take them back in the union.

My job is to get the men back to work. There is nothing to mediate. "My first job is to get the wheels moving. The guilty will be punished later, according to law."

Heberling said he would make no move to get an injunction to restrain the strikers from quitting their jobs. "The strike is broken and I expect to see the men coming back before night," he said. "They have reached their limit and are beginning to realize it."

According to anti-strike union leaders, the total number of men on strike, including switchmen and yard engine men and firemen, is not more than 25,000.

Chicago commission and produce men to-day said there is little danger of this city going hungry unless the strike continues longer than is expected.

The usual piles of crates of vegetables, fruit and poultry lined the sidewalks of the commission district here to-day. The only unusual incident was the fact that buying was considerably above the average, due, it was said, to the fear by retailers that the strike might continue and blockade produce shipments.

REGISTER NURSES AFTER JUNE NEXT

New Regulations Proposed by Nurses' Association.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, April 10.— Registration of nurses in Ontario will be established after June, it was announced at the afternoon session of the Ontario Graduate Nurses' Association in the Collegiate Institute yesterday. A letter was read from Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Education, approving the proposed regulations for registration by the Association and saying that he hoped to be able to follow pretty closely the outlines suggested.

FRENCH REPLY TO THE BRITISH NOTE—TREATY SWINGS IN THE BALANCE.

ALLIANCE WEAKENS

(By Henry Wood.)

(United Press.)

PARIS, April 10.—"Recent events have demonstrated that the Allied alliance must be tightened if Germany is to be held to the treaty of Versailles", the French Foreign Office said to-day after considering Great Britain's reply to the French note on occupation of the Rhine cities

"The life of the Treaty swings in the balance," officials declared. They admitted that the close Allied Alliance of war times had diminished visibly.

The British threat to withdraw from the Council of Ambassadors if France persisted in following the policy of Marshall Foch in "Going it Alone", Inforcement of a French interpretation of the treaty was received with bitterness in many quarters.

The foreign office described discord at this time as "particularly unfortunate."

The Entente needs to undergo a ... equitable solution of vast problems ... in the world—in Russia, the Baltic, Asia Minor and all the Balkans."

The note closes with the assurance that the French government will promote the other ends and declares itself entirely disposed, before acting, to be assured of the consent of the Allies in all inter-allied questions which the execution of the treaty raises.

BERLIN SATISFIED.

(Special to The Examiner.)

BERLIN, April 10. — Expressions of satisfaction over Great Britain's disapproval of the action of France in occupying cities in the neutral zone east of the Rhine, are found in many of the large German and Austrian papers.

The Vienna Journal expresses the hope that as a result France may be isolated.

The Neuefriepr se invites the allies to intervene "more than verbally to prevent further hostilities."

Other newspapers speak of France as having received a "diplomatic defeat."

The Berlin Tageblatt says that the British stand is a bad blow to the Millerand government "but it is immaterial who rules France so long as blind militarism is not supplanted by common sense."

HEAD CUT TO BRAIN

Farmer Near Lindsay Terribly Hurt Sawing Wood.

LINDSAY, April 10.—Struck on the head by a broken saw and a cut inflicted so deep as to expose the brain, Lawrence G. Steele, of Scotch Line arrived in town and was rushed to the Ross Hospital. His condition is said to be serious but not fatal. Mr. Steele was engaged in cutting the summer's wood at his home when the saw broke and struck him over the right eye.

BOX SOCIAL WAS A BIG SUCCESS

ENJOYABLE EVENING SPENT AT WESTWOOD.

The dance and box social given last evening by the Skating Club of Westwood proved a splendid success, and the objective of the entertainment, to raise enough money to buy a Victrola for the weekly dances in the Town Hall, was more than reached. The evening was spent in dancing, during which the boxes were auctioned by Mr. Ben. Carton, who, with splendid enterprise, ran the bids up as far as $8. About seventy-five persons from Westwood, Norwood, Hastings, Keene, Indian River and Warsaw attended the affair, and all had a most enjoyable evening. Music was furnished by Gooley's orchestra.

EXECUTION OF TREATY A PROBLEM

SAYS ALLIES REPEATEDLY DECLINED TO SANCTION ADVANCE OF FRENCH TROOPS.

GERMAN FAILURES

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, April 10.—Decelaration that the Allies repeatedly declined to sanction advance of French troops east of Rhine and that statements by Premier Millerand and other French ministers had given impression that country would abstain from single handed action against Germany, are contained in note outlining British attitude sent to Paris, says the London Times. Emphasis is placed on fact that grave problems in connection with execution of Versailles treaty may arise in the future. It is said and it is assumed "France will not again act on her own initiative. Otherwise the work of the peace conference may become futile."

FRENCH REPLY.

(Canadian Press)

PARIS, April 10.—In reply to the British Government note regarding the Ruhr situation Premier Millerand states that there can be no doubt of the loyalty of the French Government which has always opposed the entry of German troops into the Ruhr region. The French government he said, regarded the matter as a violation of one of the most solemn clauses in the treaty. One paragraph of the reply reads: "How could the government of France have been satisfied with the German promise to withdraw troops when order has been restored neither for reparations nor for delivery of war guilty, no fo coal, have allies received stipulated satisfaction."

"The French government is no less convinced that the English government of essential necessities of maintaining the unity of the allies for the application of the treaty with Germany. The close connection with France and England appears to France equally indispensable for the

APPEAL AGAINST COURT JUDGMENT

One Big Union Will Not Strike in Protest.

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 10. —The One Big Union does not contemplate any general strike in protest against the Winnipeg judgments, according to Albert Wells, a Vancouver official of that organization. There have been many rumors on the street that such action was being considered, and Wells states they are absolutely untrue. The appeal against the judgment, he said, will follow constitutional lines and will be carried to the Privy Council.

Hay For Buffalo

STOCKMEN IN THE WEST FACE HEAVY LOSSES UNLESS GOVERNMENT AID IS SECURED.

FEED SCARCE

(Special to the Examiner).

OTTAWA, April 10.—On account of the late Spring and the heavy snow fall still covering the ground to a considerable depth in many parts of the West, combined with the early winter and the shortage of fodder to begin with, Hon. J. J. McClean Minister of Public Works for Alberta has been in Ottawa to urge that measures be taken to prevent stock losses, which threaten to exceed anything in recent history. He has been consering with Government officials of the Department of Agriculture. As first fruits of his efforts, 70 cars of hay were shipped from Ottawa yesterday and Hon. Mr. MacLean hopes to get more in Western Ontario. Mr. W. J. Blair, member for Battle River, had made arrangements to get one thousand cars from Wainwright Buffalo Park, but recent advices are that the five thousand Buffaloes there will need everything that is available.

A CHANGE IN WIRE SERVICE

GOVERNMENT WILL GOBBLE UP SOME OF THE LINES.

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 10. — Vancouver Telegraph's officials understand that all telegraphic Canada, except the C.P.R., is shortly coming under the Government Great North-Western system. Linemen have been busy for some months on the Edmonton-Vancouver wires of the company and have completed work as far west as Yale. It is expected that the wires will be strung into Vancouver within another two or three months.

RECEPTION FOR THE CHANCELLOR

NORMAL RELATIONS RETURNING BETWEEN ITALY AND AUSTRIA.

(United Press.)

ROME, April 10.—Italy and Austria are entering into a new era of normal friendly relations, which will make it easier for Austria to obey in good spirit the terms of her Peace Treaty, Dr. Karl Renner, the Austrian Chancellor, said at an impromptu reception in his honour here.

VETERANS' GRATUITY QUESTION

THE GOVERNMENT DECLARES ITS DECISION IS FINAL—CASE NOW CLOSED.

VETS INDIGNANT

Special to The Examiner.

TORONTO, April 10.--The Federal Government's decision against the bonus schemes for the re-establishment of returned soldiers, is not considered the end of the question by the Toronto veterans, Dominion Organizer J. C. Marsh, of the G.A.C., prophesies an election with the gratuity question an issue, by the efforts of all veteran organizations, he said.

"Our only means will be to ask the Government to go before the country on a straight issue of the gratuity question."

Although the government had declared that their decision was final —it was not final as far as the veterans were concerned. They would never let up until they had obtained further financial re-establishment to meet each individual case.

W. E. Turley, Provincial Secretary of the Ontario G.W.V.A., said that the Dominion Command of the G.W.V.A., had definite instructions from the delegates at the Dominoin Convention. The Dominion Command would see that the matter was not summarily dismissed.

A SPECIAL ADDED ATTRACTION FOR THE AUTO SHOW

While in Toronto yesterday securing four Overland cars for the Motor Show, two of which are closed models, Mr. C. R. Banks was successful in securing a Cleveland Six and a Chandler seven-passenger for the display. This will be the first show ... will be equipped with an Art Craft top, which is the very latest thing in winter tops, and is well worth an inspection.

These cars will be shown at the Banks Garage space, in addition to the Overland Coupe, Sedan, and Touring models, and will make the finest display that Mr. Banks has ever had on show. Two very capable salesmen will be in charge during the three days to answer any questions regarding the cars on display. Do not fail to attend the Show, and while there look up The Banks Garage display.

SYRUP SELLING AT 90 CENTS QUART

FARMERS ARE PLOUGHING AND LAND IS IN GOOD CONDITION.

Ploughing commenced last week, and the ground is in splendid condition. At present all farmers in the vicinity owning sugar bush are having fair luck with sap, but expect a better run next week if the weather moderates. Syrup is selling at 90 cents a quart.

THANKFUL MOTHERS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she would use nothing else. The Tablets give such results that the mother has nothing but words of praise and thankfulness for them. Among the thousands of mothers throughout Canada who praise the Tablets is Mrs. David A. Anderson, New Glasgo, N. S., who writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and from my experience I would not be without them. I would urge every other mother to keep a box of the Tablets in the house." The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative, which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SITUATION SAID TO BE VERY BAD

Firemen Have Joined Strike of Outlaw Switchmen

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, April 10.—Passenger service on all railroads operating out of New York city was crippled to-day by the firemen joining the strike of the "outlaw" switchmen and yard men. Only enough firemen remained on the job to operate through trains, said J. J. Mantell, general manager of the Erie railway, and chairman of the Railway General Managers' committee.

"The situation is very bad," Mantell said.

Adopted As Joke

BOLSHEVIKI IDEA OF HUMOUR—ORDER OF RED FLAG FOR STATESMEN.

ARE BITTER FOES

(United Press.)

LONDON, April 10.—The Russian Communist Conference has decided to confer the order of the Red Flag upon George's, Clemenceau, former premier of France, and Winston Spencer Churchill British Secretary of State, for War, a Reval despatch, to-day said.

The Russian Conference adopted the resolution as a joke, the despatch said. Declaring the Allied leaders merited some recognition for "their great work for International Revolution."

Both Clemenceau and Churchill have been bitter foes of the Bolsheviki and opposed Allied recognition of the Soviet Government.

STOCK MARKET LOWER TO-DAY

OPENED LOWER TO-DAY.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, April 10.—The Stock Market was generally lower at the opening to-day. U. S. Steel opened off 3-8 at 105 5-8.

Other prices were: Tobacco Products 75 5-8 off 1-8, American Loco. 107 unchanged, Vanadium Steel 85 1-4 up 1-8, Republic Iron and Steel 113 3-4 off 1-2, Corn Products 99 1-8 off 3-8, Pan-American Bet. 105 1-2 up 3-8, Studebaker 118 off 25-8, Southern Pacific 98 1-2 off 1-2, Baldwin 145 off 1 1-8, Bethlehem B. 99 3-4 off 3-8.

The market developed a steadier tone in the first half hour. Wall street was inclined to look upon the money flurry as a temporary flurry occasioned by the week end carry over, and some apprehension existed that the railroad strike might interfere with the credit supply.

Marine issues showed a strong tendency.

CALL MONEY EASIER ON THE MARKET

SPECIALTIES HELD CENTRE OF STAGE ALL WEEK—GOLD IMPORTS.

MARKET COMMENT

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, April 10.— Specialties held the center of the stage in this week's enlarged dealings on the stock exchange. Among the more representative industrials, changes were comparatively slight, though towards high levels, while rails were only occasionally active and frequently reactionary. Accompanying movements of equipments, motors and kindred stocks were reports of impending mergers of consolidations but these failed of confirmation in authoritative quarters. Call money was easy, holding at six per cent. most of the time but rising to ten per cent. yesterday probably on belated borrowing over the week end. Time funds were unchanged but the tendency was towards relaxation. International credit situation was again complicated by further gold imports from London, offset by heavy exports from this market to South America. Foreign exchange was decidedly unsettled, London rate losing much of its recent rally and French and Italian bills making new lows. General industrial and mercantile conditions remained on firm foundation, but spread of railroad strike is calculated to diminish prevailing activity in many lines of trade.

HAM AND EGGS FOR THE FARMER'S MAN

FARM JOBS GO A-BEGGING AT THE LABOUR BUREAU.

Farm help is very scarce the Examiner was informed at the Government Employment Agency this morning. Wages run from $30 to $65 a month and besides this you can get all the milk to drink, ham and eggs to revel over, and luscious pie with real cream. Who wouldn't be a farmer.

One farmer is offering $600 a year to a married man, a free cottage and garden, firewood, milk and a winter supply of apples.

There is a shortage of unskilled laborers at the local agency. 48 applications were received for positions and 50 vacancies were reported this week. 47 men were placed locally and one sent to Belleville.

The women's department is at a standstill, for the fair sex looking for positions is a negligible quantity and the supplying of domestics and female workers in shops is impossible, where there are none to place. No relief is in sight unless some English girls come out and go into domestic service, and from all accounts the servant problem is worse in England than here. A bright suggestion that domesticated monkeys be substituted may yet be taken into serious consideration.

SEWER EXPLOSION CAUSES A PANIC

AKRON, O., April 10.—Explosion of eight manholes, caused by ignition of gasoline which leaked into the sewer system, created a veritable panic in the heart of the downtown district today and caused a fire which destroyed the Linwood Hotel. Thousands of dollars of damage was done to show windows and fixtures. The damage to the sewer system had not been determined tonight. Only one injury was reported. Damage sustained by the Linwood Hotel and the Buckeye Motorcycle Company, which occupied the same building, was placed at $60,000.

Voice Of The People

Dear Sir—On Wednesday of this week I saw in George street church one of the best enacted and inspiring scenes I ever witnessed. The introductory part was taken by Miss Ingall who gave a description of Jesus and the Disciples previous to the Crucifixion. The scene of how the Cross should be borne by us for Jesus, was then carried out by seven young ladies dressed in white. I have been looking for some one more competent to take up this matter but as no one has done so up to the present I feel I cannot let anything so praiseworthy pass without giving it due credit. Those who missed this splendid production missed a rare treat.

Yours most respectfully,
C. L. CUNNINGHAM,
617 Rubidge street.

HOLD VISHNICK PROBE.

Chairman of Board Was Questioned As to Sale.

TORONTO, April 10.—The sale of Vishnick to Jews last October, on the occasion of the Feast of the Tabernacle, was brought up in the Public Accounts Commission of the Legislature Thursday when H. Hartley Dewart questioned Mr. J. D. Flavelle, chairman of the Ontario License Board. Witness stated that representations had been made for the province of Jewish wines during the Feast. Such wines were imported by the board for the purpose. Questioned by the Liberal leader, Mr. Flavelle denied emphatically that the nearness of an election had anything to do with the permit. The special vendor was recommended by Rabbi Jacobs. Mr. Flavelle didn't know the former was a conservative worker. The chairman admitted that more people had got the wine than were entitled to it. According to returns put in the quantity of Vishnick offered amounted to 96,468, the quantity returned was valued at $5,000, and there was left on hand $2,336 worth. The price was $2.75, cost being $2.08.

RECORD PRICE PAID FOR A HOLSTEIN COW

TORONTO, April 9. — A record price for a Canadian auction ring was paid yesterday at the Canadian National Holstein Sale held at the Exhibition Ground, when Mr. John Harvey of Frelingsburg, Que., gave $6,000 for a Holstein cow, Riverdale Rose by name, with a record of 35 lbs. butter in seven days. The cow was consigned to the sale by Mr. Martin McDowell of Oxford Centre, Ont. A calf from this cow, Centreview King, was also bought for $2,100 by a farmer from Quebec.

In all 63 head were sold, at an average price of $538 each, the total receipts realizing over $30,000. Another cow sold for $2,000, and a two-year-old heifer for $1,210. Several others sold for $1,000, and many from $500 and upward.

LIVER TROUBLE AND HEARTBURN

The liver is the largest and one of the most important organs of the body. Its duty is to prepare and secrete bile, and serve as one of the filters of the body, cleansing it from all impurities and poisons. Therefore when the liver gets out of order it is the starting of trouble in nearly every part of the body.

Keep the liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn, constipation, biliousness, sick or bilious headaches, dull, yellow eyes, brown blotches, sallow complexion, coated tongue, jaundice, catarrh of the stomach, or the painful protruding, internal or bleeding piles.

Mrs. John Kadev, Chipman, N. B., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for some time and can recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried other remedies but they only relieved me for a short time. I always recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to all sufferers as I think that they are a valuable remedy."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

COAL SHORTAGE GETTING WORSE

PETERBORO DEALERS ARE CLEANED OUT.

"I will venture to say that one family in every ten is without any furnace or kitchen coal today," one coal man stated to the Examiner yesterday, "and I never saw such a shortage." About the only immediate remedy is to pray for warm weather and lots of gas." Practically every firm is overstocked with orders and while the coal dealers claim they have any amount of coal in stock or coming they all appear to have severe difficulty in getting their orders on hand delivered. To order a small amount of coal and have it delivered in a week's time is the luck of very few, most people being kept waiting for even a longer time. One coal man stated that a very large percentage of citizens appear to have an unusual amount of cash on hand and are buying and paying for next winter's coal, predicting a shortage. "Will there be a shortage?" the dealer was asked but he refused to make any statement further than, "You'd better get in what you need now."

THE CITY'S GOVERNMENT

FIRST OF A SERIES OF ARTICLES BY EX-ALD. JOHN EDGAR—FAMOUS WARD SYSTEM IN MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

The City of Peterborough is governed by a number of bodies, some of which are elective and some appointed, and one of them holds office by virtue of being holders of other offices. Among the different governing bodies in our city are the City Council, the Board of Education, the Board of Health, the City Trust, the Utilities Commission, the Public Library Board, Central Charity Board, and the Nicholls Hospital Trust.

As before noted, some of these bodies are elected by the people, but most of them are appointed; in fact, only three bodies, viz., the City Council the Board of Education and the Utilities Commission, are elected by the popular vote of the people, and are directly responsible to the people for the legislation they may enact.

It is not the purpose of these articles on Municipal Government to criticise the actions of any of these bodies, but to point out to those who may care to read them, and to those interested in the affairs of the municipality, the duties and functions of these governing bodies, and to show just how each one is managed, what authority each has, the source of the authority, and where, in my opinion, the work might be performed by a lesser, number of governing bodies, elected by the people and directly responsible to the people.

I wish to plainly state here that I am not making these statements as positively correct, but am merely giving you my ideas derived from four years of personal close touch with municipal affairs, and from information derived from reliable sources.

The City Council.

As the City Council is considered the most important, and is in reality the most important of the elective bodies, I shall deal with it first.

This body consists of eleven men—the Mayor and ten aldermen. The Mayor is elected annually, and five aldermen elected each year for a period of two years. The election is held on the first day of January in each year, except when that day falls on Sunday, then the election is held on the following day. The voting is general throughout the city, and not by wards, so that each member of the Council represents the entire city, and not any particular division of the City.

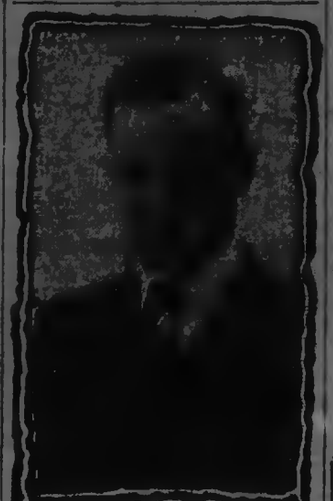
The writer is of the opinion this is not conducted to the best form of government. At present five aldermen live in the West Ward, two in the North, two in the Centre, and one in the East, while the South, which is the most important from a manufacturing standpoint, has not any.

The Federal and Provincial Governments are made up of individuals representing certain distinct parts of the Dominion or Province, and are giving their time and energies in the interests of their respective ridings and the country as a whole, while if each ward was represented by two members, the wants of that ward would be better looked after, and the citizens would feel they had some direct representatives.

The City Council is divided into a number of standing committees, and each committee has its own chairman.

Following are the committees:

Board of Works; Fire, Water, and Light; Manufacturers' and Power; Finance; Property; Legal and Reception; Railways and Parks.



MR. D. A. COSTELLO,
One of our fellow-citizens, who will in future represent The Office Specialty Mfg. Co., Limited, in Eastern Ontario.

Mr. D. A. Costello, a promising young business man of this city, whose family dates back to the pioneer days, has joined the selling organization of the Office Specialty Manufacturing Co., Ltd., as their Eastern Ontario representative.

Mr. Costello goes to this large and progressive organization with considerable experience, having formerly been connected with the Peterborough Hardware Company, and more recently with Frank L. Jenne, of the Semi-Ready Company. His experience also embraces a period with the Leslie Donhauser Co., of St. Paul, Minn., U.S.A., for which company he covered the province of Ontario and part of Quebec.

The company with whom Mr. Costello is associating himself are the largest makers of filing systems and office equipment in the British Empire and, besides doing a Dominion-wide business, have recently extended their efforts into foreign fields. Mr. Costello has been making an intensive study of the comprehensive line of filing equipment manufactured by this company, which embraces some 4,000 items, preparatory to taking over the territory.

The service that the Office Specialty Manufacturing Co., Ltd., whose home office and factories are located at Newmasket, Ontario, is rendering to Canadian business men is unique, in that they will undertake the solution of any problem pertaining to record-keeping or office routine. The company maintains a system department, under the direction of an expert skilled in his knowledge of the manifold systems in operation in widely diversified businesses, and the accumulated experience of this department is at the service of every one of its representatives. As a result, the representatives of the company have such a grasp on record-keeping problems that they are in many cases able to suggest an immediate solution to those problems of office routine that frequently confront the business man.

Our well-known Red Rose package, the sale of which is increasing faster than ever before. Red Rose consists chiefly of Assam teas, the richest and strongest in the world and therefore very economical.

(The Red Rose Orange Pekoe package is a little different in design.)

The New Tea A Big Success

Have You Tried It?

On sale only a few weeks.

But already we have received repeat orders from hundreds of grocers.

More surprising still, many people, not grocers, have written telling us how much they like the new tea.

The success of Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea is another case of "I told you so."

We predicted a quick response from the public. We were sure that there were hundreds of thousands of people who were willing to pay an extra price for a tea of extra quality.

Are you "fussy" about tea?

If so, you will enjoy the rare flavor and charm of the mountain-grown Orange Pekoe teas imported from the best plantations and sold under the name of Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea.

Try the NEW Tea that has met with instant success.

Sold only in our new package—the waxed board carton.

A permanent roof at a moderate cost

IF you are going to erect a home, store, factory, garage or other building with a slanting roof upon which an attractive, permanent covering is desired at a moderate cost you will find that Brantford Crystal Roofing meets your requirements.

This roofing is comprised of felt, asphalt and crushed crystals of quarry slate and weighs 80 to 85 lbs. per square. Its extra weight will give you an idea of its durability and permanency.

Brantford Crystal Roofing is sold in reddish brown and dark green, which are the natural, unfadeable colors of its crushed slate surface. This roofing adds beauty to any roof covered with it. Being in rolls and pliable it is very easily and quickly laid, which is an advantage when the need is urgent, labor so scarce and wages so high.

Brantford Crystal Roofing

is non-absorbent and therefore completely waterproof. It makes a solid, permanent roof which is proof against rain, snow, frost and heat. Flying embers and clouds of sparks may fall on its crushed slate surface but they harmlessly die out without injuring the roofing.

For further information, prices, etc., apply to our local branch.

Safeguard Your Roof

THE roof is an important item—it "makes" or "mars" the whole structure. In shingle-roofed houses it is even more necessary to see that it is in good regular repair, because once a roof commences to decay a general deterioration of house-value is the immediate result.

To ensure a permanent durability, as well as an added appearance, use either as a mixture in which shingles are dipped or as a stain to apply to the completed roof.

B-H Shingle Stain

It comes in all colors, and gives a tough, durable "seasoning," besides contributing largely to the artistic effect of your home.

Like every other B-H product, the B-H Shingle Stain is first choice among people who know good paint.

SATURDAY, APRIL 10TH, 1920.

THE POLICE COMMISSION.

Police Chiefs all over Ontario are opposed to the elective Police Commission, preferring the present method by which the County Judge, the Police Magistrate, and the Mayor form the Commission. Their reason for this opinion is principally that the introduction of the Police Department into the realm of municipal politics results in interference with the police, and their view is not based on theory, but upon the experience of towns in which the police force is under the control of the Council.

Sudbury is the latest example of the desirability of keeping the police away from the interference of elected commissioners. Being a town, the Police Department is controlled by the Council, and there has been such confusion that Chief Brown, formerly of Peterborough, and the men under him have resigned their positions, rather than endeavour to carry on any longer under a policy that has interfered with and hampered their work. The control of the Police Department is essentially different from that of other civic departments, and for that reason a commission that is independent of the electorate is desirable. This is the view of the men at the head of the police forces of Ontario and the Government should give the Chiefs an opportunity to state their views before the Bill to be introduced by the member for West Peterborough is considered.

THE FRANCHISE BILL.

The split in the government ranks over the franchise bill might be taken seriously were it not that everybody knows that the members of the administration will accept almost any compromise rather than run a risk of having to face an election. Temiskaming has added its warning to the plain message from the other by-elections that an appeal to the country would result in the complete rout of the government. The Unionist supporters realise that very few of them would be found in their places in the House after an election, and they will be chary of any cleavage in the ranks that would be likely to defeat the government. There is undoubtedly a strong difference of opinion as to the changes in the act affecting enemy aliens, the Ontario members being bitterly opposed to any consideration being given Germans and Austrians, while the members from the west with many voters of those nationalities in their ridings, are more lenient in their views. There is material in the controversy for a storm that might wreck the government, but when the members have to choose between an immediate election that would drive most of them back to private life and hanging on to the spoils of office until 1923, it does not require the seventh son of a seventh son to prophesy what the decision will be. The government knows the right card to play and it will win as usual. Nothing is to be allowed to interfere with the only policy the Union administration has—that of holding unto office as long as is possible.

THE TEMPLE BAND.

The action of the Salvation Army in waiving the claims for a portion of the civic band appropriation will not only facilitate the settlement of the problem, but will win many new friends for the Army. The members of the Salvation Army itself, have have never been opposed to the idea of a citizens' band, but took the position that if the appropriation was to be divided, the Salvation Army Band was justly entitled to a share of the grant.

In order to assist in the endeavour to organize a representative Citizens' Band, the Salvation Army has voluntarily withdrawn its application for a civic grant, and the way is now cleared for a further effort to satisfactorily settle the band question.

The Temple Band announces that its services, as always, will be available for the citizens, and that the fact that it is not this year sharing in the civic grant will not be allowed to interfere in the least with its attitude towards the public. In view of the services that have been rendered by the Army in the past, such assurances are hardly necessary. The citizens during the dreary days of the war learned to appreciate the Temple Band, if they had not done so before. No hour was too early or too late, no day was too warm or too cold for the Salvation Army musicians, if there were troops to be played away or welcomed home, or if there were other patriotic duties to perform. The majority of the original members enlisted, but the gaps were filled up by youngsters, and the band "carried on." It was always ready when called upon, and performed a service of inestimable value during the war. Although the band will not receive a civic grant this year, the citizens will not forget the past, and will be generous in their support of the organization.

THAT BROKEN RULE.

The other night, in referring to a moving picture description of the city, the Examiner remarked that it might have added that not only was Peterborough the home of the world's famous lift-lock, but also of Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P. There was no malice nor venom in that attempt to be jocular, and Mr. Burnham himself would be the last individual to find fault with the paragraph. For some more or less obscure reason, however, the innocous item aroused the easily stirred ire of the Review, which printed an anonymous letter attacking the Examiner, and added for good measure the comment that the paragraph was a glaring offence against journalistic and private life ethics. That is a terrible charge. We are anxious to know whether the offence consisted in betraying to the world at large that Mr. Burnham claims Peterborough as his home, or whether it lay in making the inference possible that Peterborough was proud to be known as the home of Mr. Burnham. In other words, if the Examiner has grined so grievously as to make amends necessary, should the apology be made to Mr. Burnham or to the city of Peterborough? It is a matter of regret that the Review should have had such a long and distressing struggle with its editorial conscience before it decided to break "its rule of long standing" by publishing an anonymous attack, especially since the sacrifice of its principles was made in a most commendable but wholly unsolicited and unnecessary effort to tell the Examiner how to conduct its own affairs. Deeply appreciative as it may be of this altruistic attempt to "effect a cure," the Examiner begs leave to point out that it carried on its own business in its own way and flourished long before the present editor of the Review was heard of in Peterborough, and expects to continue to do so long after his name is only a memory in this city.

THE SANITY OF BRITISH LABOUR.

The news that British Labour has rejected the courtship of both the Second and the Third (or Moscow) Internationals with a firmness that will not encourage further advances, will have a stabilising effect on industrial conditions in Great Britain. So many alarming rumours have filtered through the cables during the last few months of the growing influence of a Soviet faction in British Labour circles, that many persons had begun to fear that the sanity and commonsense which have been characteristic of the English and Scottish workingman had been unbalanced by the insidious propaganda of alien enemies. The action just taken at Glasgow shows that while there may have been superficial blemishes on the body politic they were only skin deep, and that at heart there is a soundness that commands our admiration and our respect.

It is possible that the failure of Communism in Russia has not been without its influence in bringing about this decision. How complete that failure has been is indicated in the recent speeches and actions of the two dictators of the movement, Lenine and Trotzky. The report of the seventh conference of economic Soviets of Russia ascribes to Lenine, the arch-prophet of Bolshevism, the following significant statement: "The principle of collectivism should give way to the system of government by individuals; the popular economic development has brought us to it. The collectivist direction of industry by all kinds of Soviets does not produce the rapid work which is necessary."

Was there ever a more abject confession of failure by a world leader, the supreme apostle of a new creed? It is an avowal from the man who is in the best position to know that the Communist scheme of life, however pretty and attractive it may be in theory, has fallen down when put to the test of practical accomplishment. "The management must now be handed over to individual chiefs," he declares, "who will, of course, be Bolsheviks." That is to say, the old system which has been denounced as the mainspring of the world's unhappiness and poverty is to be reintroduced with a single exception. Instead of the administration being in the hands of Capitalists, it is to be controlled by men whose chief claim to fame has been the perfection to which they have carried the arts of murder, of robbery, and of bloodshed.

It is a far cry from the early days of the Soviet movement, with its promises of shorter hours and higher wages, no interference by the "bosses," and the substitution of a spirit of common interest for the spirit of sordid profit to the latest decree of the Bolshevist dictators of compulsory labour for all males under military discipline. How Trotzky must smile as he drives these cowed sheep to the limit of their productive power.

Communism has failed because it is based on algebraic formulae and takes no account of the human equation. It is small wonder that British Labour has refused to have anything to do with an International that includes among its membership the men who have substituted the bayonet for the bond of brotherhood in enforcing their tyrannic will.—Montreal Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Nothing that the newspapers have ever said about some politicians has done the latter as much harm as the things they say themselves.

Regard for the laws of ordinary journalistic comity should be practiced as well as preached.

That cheering you hear comes from the baseball, soccer, and lacrosse fans who are applauding the City Council's action in declaring against daylight saving.

A SURPRISE

CHAPTER CIII.

Only one evening since my accident had Everett remained out. I wanted to ask where he was going when he came in to bid me good-night after he was dressed. But he looked so handsome, so dignified, I didn't dare. Then he was so nice to me assuring me he wouldn't be very late, and begging me to go to sleep, that I hated to say anything to make him cross.

I wondered if he were with Irma Barton. Then all suddenly I recalled the day I had lunched with her, and she had said she had something to tell me. I had forgotten all about it. Just as soon as I was able to get out, I would make an opportunity to ask her.

I had some late magazines and meant to read, but could not put my mind upon anything. My life, since I had married Everett, passed panorama-like thru my mind. I went over it step by step—all that was bright and lovely, all that had been hard and unhappy. I looked around my luxurious room where everything had been done for my comfort; I thought of my beautiful home, the ease with which it was kept in order, and of all Everett did for me, and concluded the good things of my life overbalanced the bad. Then, added, was my love for Everett, a love awakened after we had been married, taking the place of the infatuation of a silly girl.

"If I hadn't been Number Two I should be too happy—if he wouldn't go out without me!" I added, as I looked at the clock.

Hetty came in.

"There's a gentleman on the telephone want to talk to you—Mr. Edmonds."

"Oh, tell him I am ill. Can't see him to-night. Be sure and tell him to call up in the morning—no, tell him to run in in a day or two. I shall be up then."

"How lucky," I said aloud after Hetty left to deliver my disjointed message. "He'll be here when Rose comes. I do wish they'd get married The women here are nice, but Rose knows everyone I do and we could have such good times talking things over."

Hetty brought back a message from Barrett that he would call to inquire for me the next day.

"I wish I could see him," I muttered to myself, but Everett would not approve if I received even a friend of his while confined to my room, and I was not sure he had liked Barrett since the night he had taken Rose and me to the theater, and he had been angry because I had disobeyed him.

Once again I built air castles around Barrett Edmonds and Rose Grandon. That love goes where it is sent, and that Cupid is an erratic sort of a god, I never thought. Neither did I realize that Barrett cared for me. I knew he liked me, liked to be with me, but I put all the credit to our mutual taste for music.

I was asleep when Everett came in. He told me the next morning that he had come in and kissed me before he retired.

"I wish I had been awake."

"Why wish that? I was delighted to find you sleeping so quietly."

"I wouldn't have missed your kiss," I replied with a blush.

"Here's one now, then," and he gave me a long, loving kiss before he left me.

It took very little to make me happy. Perhaps because I had learned to love Everett so dearly, that kiss kept me happy and contented all day long—the kiss I knew I had received, and the one he gave me while I slept.

Barrett Edmonds called about 3 o'clock and brought me some lovely flowers, and scrawled a dear little note when he found I could not receive him. It was like old times to hear from him. And I sent down word that I would let him know the very first minute I could see him, that I had some news for him—I meant about Rose, of course, that she was coming.

"More flowers?" Everett asked, when he came in.

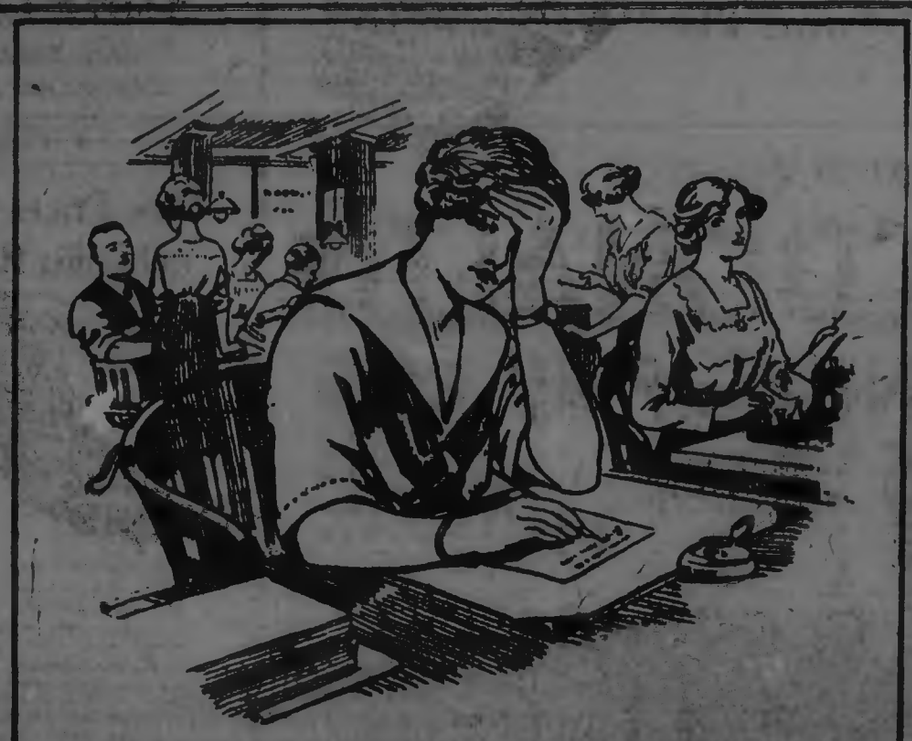
"Yes, Barrett Edmonds is back. He came to call, and brought them. Wouldn't it be wonderful if he and Rose should get married after all? I should love it."

"Don't try to be a match-maker, Sandra. The old saying that they are made in Heaven may be true if humans keep their hands off. But when they meddle things up by interfering, Heaven has a pretty hopeless job. However, if it would add to your happiness and they could hit it off together, I should be glad—for your sake."

It would be so nice to have one of the girls I have known all my life live near me. We would have so much to talk about."

To-morrow—Great News for Sandra.

The Nervous Strain of Office Work



"BRAIN FAG," is the name usually applied when the nervous system of the office worker gets run down.

The brain demands an abundant supply of rich red blood. Once this is leaking, the thinking machinery slows down. Concentration of the mind becomes almost impossible and headaches are frequent.

At this season, as at no other, stenographers, bookkeepers and office managers feel the ill-effects of months spent in the vitiated air of super-heated offices.

The blood has got thin and watery, the nervous system is starved, efficiency is lowered and nature begins to give warning of nervous troubles.

The tired feelings tell you of the weakened condition of the nervous system and point to the need of rest. An hour or two earlier to bed and the regular use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will soon restore your energy and vitality.

It is well to remember that from a physical point of view you are approaching bankruptcy. To overcome this condition it is necessary to stop the waste of nervous energy as well as to add to the supply by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

As the appetite is sharpened and digestion improved by this treatment you will soon feel the benefit of this building up treatment. Headaches will disappear, you will sleep naturally and feel again the vigor and energy of health.

When purchasing Dr. Chase's Nerve Food look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., on the box. 50 cts. all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

HER PAY THIRD THAT OF TRUCK DRIVER

MANY OF THE FEMALE SCHOOL TEACHERS TAKE UP OTHER WORK TO LIVE.

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER.

NEW YORK, April 8.—"Teachers in the elementary grades train through a period of six years for their jobs, and then are put to work at something over nine hundred dollars a year. Boiled down to a per day wage, that is a fraction over three dollars."

"Truck drivers go through no training, yet they draw forty-five dollars a week—more than seven dollars for a day of eight hours. The schoolma'am's day commences from early in the morning till she gets 'home work' done—which often is midnight."

"Garment workers and workers in similar trades have realized salary increases of sixty or seventy per cent. within the last couple of years; the increase in wage of teachers is barely noticeable."

"I understand that more than four hundred teachers are wanted—and wanted vainly—to supply vacancies among elementary grades of New York. Do you wonder at it?

This is the statement of a young woman, picked at random from among 20,000 school teachers of this city.

Superintendent Endorses.

At the Board of Education recently her statement was endorsed by John L. Tildsley, associate superintendent of schools. In a recent report just prepared, Mr. Tildsley shows that more than a thousand teachers resigned from the city schools last year, that number being six hundred more than the resignations of five years ago—before the high cost of living became acute, the report indicated.

"There is just one remedy," Mr. Tildsley said. "Higher salaries."

"Double A" Resignations.

"My report goes on to show that the highest percentage of resignations was among teachers with a double A rating—the best among the teaching personnel of the city, that is. The next highest was among teachers with the second rating. It is significant that only a few resigned from among the class rated as unsatisfactory.

"It is also significant that the majority of resignations were from teachers of less than ten years' service."

Shortage Throughout U.S.

The teacher shortage problem, educators say, prevails throughout the country, and recently was the chief subject discussed at a conference held by Commissioners of Education from most of the Eastern States, in the course of which Dr. Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, considered the situation from a national standpoint. Several bills for raising salaries are now pending before the New York State Legislature.

A new salary regime which goes into effect in January, 1922, will slightly increase the present scale.

"From the kindergarten to the sixth grade the minimum wage for teachers in New York now is $935. The maximum is $1,485.65 in the sixteenth year of service," Mr. Tildsley said. "In the upper grades the maximum is $2,585."

He explained that teachers of elementary grades practically all are women. More than half the number of high school teachers are women, he said.

Unionization Needed.

Ernest Brohm, secretary of the Teachers' Central Federated Union of New York, declared that unionization rather than legislation should be depended upon to straighten out the problem.

"It is true," Mr. Brohm said, "that teamsters, who spend no time in training for their work, are receiving almost thirteen dollars for their eight-hour day—where the wage paid teachers. Furthermore, their work eight hours and are suitably compensated for overtime.

"Carpenters receive eight dollars for a day of eight hours. They spend five years' apprenticeship, for which they are suitably paid.

Work Indefinite Hours.

"High school teachers receive a minimum of something under four dollars and a maximum of nine and a half dollars a day for a day of indefinite hours."

"For the privilege of earning this munificent sum, they have gone through eight years of training: four in high school and four more in college, all with no compensation.

"I do not believe conferences and such measures will better the condition. There are, I should say, about a quarter of the twenty thousand teachers in New York who belong to the Teachers' Union. When they all come in, the teachers of this city will be in a position to ask for a living wage."

Teacher Turns Chorus Girl.

In a current Broadway production the chorus numbers amongs its personnel a gentle, refined girl who six months ago was teaching the fourth grade in a small Pennsylvania town school.

She resigned her position and came to the Rialto, because, as she explained, she wanted to do the only work besides teaching for which she was fitted.

"You see," she said, "I have an old father and mother to take care of. In the Pennsylvania town I was making fifty dollars a month as a school teacher. I had to be at work shortly after 8 o'clock in the morning. There always were papers to be corrected or lessons to prepare at home. It made my day something like eighteen hours long."

Couldn't Live on Salary.

"When the cost of living went up so high the three of us couldn't make ends meet on my salary."

"Now I am getting per week exactly what I made then per month—fifty dollars. And I work only four hours."

She said that various former school-teacher friends are now engaged in other occupations here.

Mr. Tildsley said that he estimated the number of vacancies in elementary and high schools in this city upon September 1 next at 1,415. There probably will be only 390 teachers available for the positions, he said, leaving 1,029 positions unfilled.

ITALY'S ATTITUDE

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, April 9.—Italy's attitude respecting the French occupation of Frankfort concurs fully with that expressed in behalf of Great Britain in the statement issued last evening in the "Vittorio Scialoia", the Italian Foreign Minister stated today. Signor Scialoia said there had been no diplomatic exchanges which would justify the assumption of France that her action would meet with Italy's approval.

A Suggestion for Saving

CASH in the pocket encourages careful spending.

You will find it a much easier task to save if you keep your "Spending" money in a Savings Account with The Bank of Toronto. There it is safe and can be drawn upon when really needed.

A reluctance to draw from that account will grow upon you, and protect you from many needless expenditures.

Once the saving habit is acquired, the account, with its earnings of interest, will steadily grow to a substantial amount.

Many young men and women are working out this scheme with us to advantage.

ITEMIZED BILL OF COSTS OF HOUSE RECENTLY BUILT TOTALS $3826.20

SUGGESTS COST OF SMALLER HOUSES THAT WOULD NOT BE PUNISHED AT PRESENT—SATISFACTORY HOUSE SEEMS POSSIBLE FOR $2,000.

A general idea of the cost of building under the present market and labour conditions may be obtained from the following statement of expenditure on a house 22 feet by 29 feet, which was built in this city a short time ago, at a total outlay of $3829.20. It is equipped with all the usual conveniences, is compact and comfortable, presents a fine appearance, and makes a home that would bear favourable comparison in even the best residential districts.

The itemised account of the cost follows:

Lumber of all kinds		$1301.95
Excavating		23.75
Foundation		225.00
Hardware		133.00
Plastering		192.50
Rough Casting		147.00
Concrete Cellar Floor		55.00
Bricking House		337.00
Hardwood Floors		82.00
Painting, Graining, and Glazing		157.00
Carpenter Work, Lathing, and Shingling		475.00
Wiring House ready for Lamps		79.00
		$3208.20
Plumbing		350.00
Furnace		250.00
Eave Troughing		21.00
		$3829.20

This is not an elaborate house, but it has not been skimped in materials and workmanship. Its design is attractive, and as already stated, would not look out of place in the Wellington Street row, or on any of the other streets that pride themselves on building restrictions that have created a sense of exclusiveness. It is decidedly homey and cheerful in its aspect, and is somewhat larger than the houses mentioned in recent discussions of Peterborough's needs.

It will be evident that by deducting a percentage of the cost to conform with expenditure on a smaller building, and also by eliminating for the present the furnace and other items that may be considered temporarily dispensable, a satisfactory house can be built for approximately $2,600.00, and perhaps less.

Housing Notes.

Windsor's application to the Government for housing is $5,000,000. A despatch from London, Ont., forecasts an increase of five per cent. in the first payment on houses to be built under municipal commissions. The present initial instalment is ten per cent., but the increase to fifteen per cent. will be fixed in an amendment to the Ontario Housing Act, which the Legislature is expected to pass within a few days. An exception is made in favour of returned soldiers for whom the first payment of ten per cent. remains. They will also be permitted to put up a guarantee bond in lieu of cash, and this provision will also apply to all other home builders under the commission's supervision. Bonds offered by persons other than returned soldiers will have to be 20 per cent. of the purchase price.

She Says She Can Now Do Her Work

MRS. M. MAGNANT GIVES THE CREDIT TO DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Her Back Ached and She Was Always Tired, But She States She Found the Relief She Longed For in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Lina, Alta., April 9th.—Special.)—"Thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills I can now do my work." So says Mrs. M. Magnant, a well known and highly respected resident of this place. Mrs. Magnant was a sufferer from that terrible weakness so many women know. "My back ached," she says, "and I felt so tired all the time." But she used Dodd's Kidney Pills. She persevered with them, using sixteen boxes in all, with the result given in the glad words of the opening paragraph.

Other women in all parts of Canada make the same statement. They were weighed down with weariness, weakness and pain, and found the relief they longed for in Dodd's Kidney Pills. For sick kidneys are the cause of the great majority of the ills from which women suffer. To treat them the kidneys must be strengthened so they will strain all the impurities out of the blood.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not help sick kidneys.

WANTED TO LIVE HERE, COULDN'T GET HOUSE

One of Ald. Morrison's experiences in his real estate transactions this week affords a striking illustration of the scarcity of houses in Peterborough. On Wednesday, four potential and prospective citizens came to the city with every intention of buying houses and moving here with their families. At night they returned to their homes disappointed, and their cheque books untouched.

One was a farmer, the others were from neighbouring towns.

They may not have been permanently lost to Peterborough, but the negotiations made during the day in their behalf failed to get them houses.

The sums they were willing to pay ranged from $2,200 to $4,300. And that was just one day's register of opportunity's knocking at this city's door.

WILL PLANT FLOWERS WHERE BAND PLAYED

The band stand in Central Park will be replaced by a circular flower bed, the Parks Committee decided yesterday afternoon. The Council recently authorised the removal of this stand, because it was almost beyond repair, and was rarely used. The Committee visited both the Central and Victoria Parks with the caretaker, Mr. Joseph Grierson.

Ald. Gainey, the chairman, Ald. Copping and City Engineer Parsons made the inspection, as a result of which the paths in Victoria Park will be recindered, and new banks will be built up to the concrete walk leading down from the Court House.

Pencil marks on boy's cuffs should be removed with an eraser before sending the garments to the laundry.

ALD. G. N. GORDON SUGGESTS THAT COUNTY COUNCIL USE OX CARTS

RAILWAY COMMITTEE DISCUSSED PROPOSED RADIAL RAILWAY FROM WHITBY TO PETERBORO.

Referring to the resolution of the County Council passed on Thursday opposing the scheme of the extension of the Toronto and Eastern Radial Railway, Ald. G. N. Gordon at a meeting of the Railway Committee held yesterday afternoon, regretted the Council's action and referred to it as a backward step, unfortunate for them to have taken, and for it to have got into the press. "Their next action," he said, "will be to pass a resolution that the earth is flat and revolves about the moon."

Endorse Scheme.

After a brief discussion upon the proposed scheme it was moved by Ald. Gordon and seconded by Ald. R. Copping that an invitation be sent to the municipalities that would be affected by an extension of the Toronto and Eastern Railway from Oshawa or from Whitby to Peterborough to attend a meeting to be called by the Midland Municipal Electric Association in regard to power on the same day but at another hour.

The committee also recommended that the City Council endorse and petition for an extension of the Toronto and Eastern Railway from Oshawa and Whitby to Peterborough and that a copy of the resolution be sent to the members of the Provincial Government and Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission.

Drive In Ox Carts.

"The extension of the railway would increase the value of the farms adjoining the district affected at least $200,000," Ald. Gordon contended, "and if members of the County Council don't want to ride that way let them use ox carts." "Or stone boats," Mayor McIntyre supplemented.

Signed Contract.

Previous to the discussion of the Radial Railway, Mr. Joseph Grierson signed the contract for the care of the city parks. "That's your death warrant," Ald. Gordon observed.

Members Present.

The members present were: Ald. Gainey in the chair, Mayor McIntyre, Ald. G. N. Gordon, Ald. Copping and Mr. R. H. Parsons.

FAREWELL MEETING AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

St. Paul's Church, in addition to supporting Miss Maud Ackison in Formosa, have as their representatives in the Foreign Field, Rev. D. A. and Mrs. Macdonald, whose field of labor is Korea. They have been home on furlough for the last year. They sail for Korea at the close of the present month. They will spend to-morrow with the church whose representatives they are. Rev. Macdonald will preach at both services, and both he and Mrs. Macdonald will address the school in the afternoon. The Monday evening farewell social has had to be abandoned; but the congregation will assemble in the S. S. Hall at the close of the evening service that an opportunity may be given the members to meet their missionaries and bid them God speed.

WANT BOATS ON TRENT.

Daily Service Would be Useful in Several Ways.

HASTINGS, April 9.— Towns on the Trent Valley Canal are desirous of a daily boat service the coming season, believing that it would be of great use in opening up the district commercially and in every other way. The scenic beauties of the canal are expected to allure many tourists and much motor boat traffic to the locality. The practicability of bringing coal up the Trent Valley waterway by large boats from Lake Ontario is another advance step that is suggested, as it is believed that this would cheapen transportation rates.

TROTSKY FAVORS WORKING ARMY

MOBILIZATION OF LABOUR NECESSARY TO REHABILITATE RUSSIA.

MOSCOW, April 10.—Militarization is the only means to fully utilize Russia's man power, said Leon Trotsky, Bolshevik Minister of War, addressing the ninth convention of the Communist party here. Trotsky's address was chiefly directed to defining the relation between the dustrial rehabilitation of Russia. mobilization of industry and the in-

"Mobilization is more necessary now than it was formerly," he declared, "because we have to deal with the peasant population and masses of unskilled labor which cannot be utilized to the fullest extent by any other means than military discipline. Trades unions are capable of organizing great masses of qualified workers, but thirty per cent. of the people cannot be reached by this means."

Trotsky declared the working army, which is built on the principle of compulsory work, is no less productive than was the old system of competition, and came out in favor of personal, rather than collective administration. He asserted political administration of railroads was unsatisfactory and temporary, adding, however, it was necessary because railroad workers are more conservative in tendency than men engaged in other branches of labor.

FARMERS HESITATE ON ELECTION BILL

ABOLITION OF PROPERTY QUALIFICATIONS MAY BE OPPOSED.

TORONTO, April 9.— The Coalition members went into caucus last night, and though no statement regarding the matters under discussion was issued, it is understood that the Government was conferring with its supporters in regard to the course to be taken in connection with the bill wiping out the property qualification for municipal office. The bill, which was introduced by Hon. Walter Rollo, was one of the concessions to the Labor group as a consideration for their support. It is regarded with mixed feelings by the Farmers members, not a few being flatly opposed to it. At the best they are lukewarm in their support, as was evident from their action in leaving the fight for it entirely to the Labor member when it came up in the House last week.

Had the bill met with little opposition, the Farmers would have accepted it readily enough, but the strong stand taken again it by both Liberal and Conservative members and the probability that it will be forced to a vote puts a different face upon the matter, and many of the U.F.O. members are disinclined to force an issue upon a measure that is not supported in the country districts where practically every farmer voter is a property owner. It was suggested last night that the Government may see the wisdom not of abandoning the bill, but of taking a course that will permit of further thorough consideration.

ENGLISH WOOLEN TRADE IS GETTING BACK TO NORMAL

REPRESENTATIVE OF BRADFORD INDUSTRY VISITS PETERBORO—PRICES HIGH.

That Great Britain is fast regaining her pre-war supremacy of the woollen trade and is leaving Germany and her other rivals far behind, is the opinion of Mr. M. N. Wilson, of Bradford, England, who represents a Bradford woollen house engaged in the export of wool. Mr. Wilson is in Peterborough on business with the Canadian Woollens Co. Mr. Wilson gave the Examiner some interesting points on English trade, which he says is good in all lines, and the manufacturers have orders for months ahead.

No Drop in Price.

Is there any hope for a fall in the price of cloth? Mr. Wilson was asked.

"No, I do not anticipate any lower prices this year. There is no chance for a drop in woollens or cottons." There appears to be a feeling amongst our male citizens that suits may be purchased cheaper in England. Mr. Wilson said that in England a blue suit would cost about $60, which is approximately the same as here. Tweeds were about the same. The only cheap suits he knew of were the ones manufactured by a millionaire M.P. in London who saw his mission in life in relieving the hard-stricken males who find difficulty in securing the necessary raiment our laws call for by selling suits at from $20 up.

Sugar Rationed.

Mr. Wilson gave some prices on other commodities. Butter sells for 4 or 5 shillings a pound, eggs about 7c. a piece and bread 18c for a one-pound loaf. Sugar and butter are almost unobtainable, both being rationed by the government. Coal retails at about $10 a ton in our money. The maximum price set by the government is accountable for these moderate prices. "What they would have been if the government hadn't stepped in would be hard to say," he said.

Wages in general in England have kept good pace with the increase in the cost of living, which has been from 100 to 150 p.c. There is very little poverty. The wages of the workers have greatly increased since the war and the increased power of the union workmen have brought about better working conditions and shorter hours. Nearly all the trades are strongly organized and although there have been many strikes the newspapers have painted them too glowingly, and now the workers have settled down, resolved to show that old John Bull is still going strong.

There appeared to be little dissatisfaction amongst the Imperial returned men, who have taken their lot cheerfully, although they only got the King's shilling. Nearly all have been completely absorbed into civil life again and little trouble has occurred.

Getting Back.

The woollen companies are gradually getting back to their pre-war status and look to Canada for considerable business. Speaking on dyes, Mr. Wilson praised the English dyes, which he said equalled any German dyes, and the dye factories under the control of the government were busy getting a share of Germany's once pet industry.

The difference between riding on an English train and a Canadian one was noticeable in the bumps and jolts received here, while in the old country one hardly notices the motion when touching sixty miles an hour. The English road beds are laid much more carefully than it is possible to do where they measure thousands instead of hundreds of miles. A custom which is very confusing to Englishmen is the traffic law to keep on the right side and it seems that you are always on the wrong side.

Mr. Wilson remarked on the almost universal prevailing style here, while in England there is a greater diversity. The ready made suit in England has increased in poplarity, but it will never replace the tailor made article. In Canada the ready made suit reigns supreme and there is never more than one decreed style.

The number of motor vehicles in Canada were far in excess of those seen in England, Mr. Wilson said. Much more lighting by electricity is seen here, no doubt because of our abundant water power. In only a few of the newer English homes is electricity used. The stores, however, use it. Steam supplies all the power for the large industries.

Mr. Wilson discounted the reports of the large number of newly rich in England and said that their numbers were greatly exaggerated. The heavy income taxes, excess profits tax and other forms of extraction of the government left little to call your own.

Mr. Wilson is one of several Bradford men travelling in Canada in the interests of the woolen trade.

PICTURE SHOWN THIS MORNING

A private rehearsal of "The End of the Road," was given at ten o'clock this morning in the Allen Theatre. The City Council, members of the Medical Association, the press, and others were present. The picture, which will be shown next week at the Allen, is very instructive, and deals with one of the great evils of the present age.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR SPRING USE

HARSH, PURGATIVES SHOULD BE AVOIDED—A TONIC WILL RESTORE YOUR ENERGY.

Not exactly sick, but not feeling quite well. That is the way thousands of people feel in the spring. It is a sign that the trying indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order, and these symptoms may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you that this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will build up the blood and nerve. Dr. William's Pink Pills can do this speedily and surely. This medicine enriches the blood, clears the skin, improves the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. As an example of the value of these pills we give the statement of Mrs. S. McBurnie, Tatamagouche, N.S., who says:—"I have good reason to speak in the highest terms of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was badly run down, failing in weight, and suffering from dizy spells and weakness. In fact my conditions was such that I was hardly able to do my housework. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after using several boxes there was a noticeable improvement. I continued using the pills for some time longer and found that I had fully regained my old time health and strength and was able to do my housework without feeling weak and worn out as I did before I began using the pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PIGS PLENTIFUL ON LOCAL MARKET

JUVENILE PORKERS SELL AS HIGH AS $20 A PAIR—BUTTER STILL HIGH.

The old saying, "one little pig went to market" would not apply to this morning's market, where the little white and black porkers were much in evidence. The prevailing price for both whites and Berkshires was $18 a pair, although one man wanted $20. Eighteen dollars for six or eight weeks pigs is a good price, but the market at this price was good. One farmer asked $15 apiece for six or seven half year olds, but the price was considered too high by the buyers.

Butter was a scarce commodity and what there was, sold rapidly at 68c. You can buy it in the stores at 65c. to 68c. one lady addressed a farmer's wife when she asked 68c. for a single pound. Eggs were there aplenty at 45c., but later fell to 44c. and even at that the farmers would have some to take home again. Chickens brought 40c. and one goose was exhibited at 35c. a pound or $3.50.

The outside market was the best for some time. Potatoes of the best yield brought $4.00 and $4.50. Some poorer varieties could be had for $3.50. Carrots and beets sold for 50c. a peck, onions at 40c. Good eating apples, russets and spies, were in evidence at 70c., 80c. and 90c. a peck. White beans in bulk sold for two quarts for 25c.

My that is an awful price! said a buyer pricing maple syrup. $4.00 a gallon!

A little quart jar resolved to get a little of the maple essence no matter what it cost. At Westwood it sells for 10 cents less a quart or $3.50 a gallon.

There was a great hubbub around the auction mart. Several carriages and one horse shay of unknown vintage caused much amusement to some of the farmers when compared with their smooth looking cars. Our grandparents would turn over in their graves if they could see the smiles flitting across the faces of their examiners and the satirical expressions used against the vehicles that to them were fit for a king to some their fondest ambition was to own one. Several cars were also on the list and one of these to all appearances was made, the year after the old carriages but in its balmy days was some bus. A demijohn with a straw case lying in the mud caused many fond memories to return to gazers on. As Caesar says: "Oh, what a fall was this my countrymen!

THE HUNGARIANS WANT PLEBISCITE

DEMANDS WILL BE REFUSED BY THE ALLIES.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 10.—The Hungarian peace delegates will refuse to sign any treaty which does not provide for plebiscites in territories detached from their country, it is learned on good authority.

Demands for plebiscites will be refused, and it is thought possible that Count Apponyi, head of the Hungarian representatives, will not return to Neuilly to receive the Supreme Council's reply to the objections recently filed here.

HILLCRESTS COUNT ON "CANNON BALL"

Toronto Telegram:—The teams in the Willowvale League this year are stronger than ever. President "Ray" Hunt says that this league will enjoy the best season since inauguration All clubs have announced their line-ups, and present indications are that the race for the E. G. Seyler Trophy will be a tough one. If "Cannonball" Scott and "Duke" Hennessy work on the points for Hillcrests in the "Pit" the fans are going to see the best battery that ever worked together. Scott is rated as the best amateur ball pitcher in Ontario, while Hennessy has no comparison in the amateur ranks. Scott is at the present time in the best of condition. He has gained thirty pounds in the last three months.

SHIPMENTS OF CATTLE TO FRANCE

(Canadian Press.)

COMPIEGNE, France, April 10.—Shipments of German cattle into France, in accordance with the terms of the Versailles treaty, have begun. The first trainload arrived at Chryen-valois yesterday and will be distributed among farmers of that district, while the second shipment, expected to-day at Longuel, will be turned over to the inhabitants of Canton of Ribecourt

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH CONGREGATION

St. Andrew's congregation will meet for worship to-morrow in the Assembly Hall of the Conservatory of Music, and will continue to do so while the church building is undergoing a very thorough renovation. It is expected to have a very chaste and handsome interior when the work is completed.

The minister's evening subject will be, "Playing on the two strings." One of those choices which play such an important part in life will be dealt with in a fresh way and from a fresh point of view.

Milk gives your children lime and other salts which you and they need for the bones and the teeth and blood and other parts of the body.

CEREALS COOKED IN MILK. Corn meal, oatmeal, and rice are delicious cooked in milk or skim milk. Use the same amount of milk as you would water for oatmeal and corn meal. For rice, you can well use a good deal more milk—four or even more cups of milk to one of rice. Cook for an hour in a double boiler. This makes a delicious creamy cereal. For milk cereal puddings, add sugar or syrup and raisins.

CORNSTARCH PUDDING. Mix the cornstarch with two cups of milk and proceed as usual.

CREAMED DISHES. Milk toast, cream soups, creamed vegetables, creamed fish, and scalloped dishes are all good ways of putting more milk into the daily food of the family.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

LIBRARIES AND WHAT THEY CAN ACCOMPLISH.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Library Association took place on Easter Monday and Tuesday, in Toronto. The sessions were held in the Reference Library on College Street, and about four hundred delegates from the various libraries throughout Ontario were present. The objects aimed at in the holding of these meetings are twofold: They are intended to be both instructive and social. There are certain features, of course, upon which speakers dedicate their time, but which are apt to become monotonous by constant repetition. Then there are new points brought out each year which have a special bearing, and which should be known to all interested in library management.

At the meeting this year many questions were discussed and much valuable information brought to light. One feature specially dwelt upon was the real and vital need of showing the public through the medium of the press what the Public Library stands for and how far it can serve the needs of the community. There is a portion still in existence amongst a certain element that there is not very much need of libraries, that they are a somewhat unnecessary expense, and that somewhat of a luxury. Another point dwelt upon was that it was wrong in principle and wrong in practice for Boards of Trustees to be ever set upon keeping out certain books and introducing others, as for instance, in the domain of religion or philosophy. Miss Black, of Port William, stated that a short time ago she had had an objection raised against a certain religious book for her library. Her answer had been that in a public library one was not supposed to cater to any particular prejudices and that in a well selected list of books the antidote to any supposedly poisonous reading was sure to be at hand. "If you think this book bad," she said, "I am sure that the Board will be perfectly willing to give you the opportunity of naming any book for purchase that you consider will counteract its ill-effects." The point was also raised by many speakers that those who select books for libraries are a little too apt to interest themselves in their own particular hobbies to the detriment of the general requirements of the public. This was the argument raised against the practice prevalent in some libraries of allowing one person to be the sole arbiter in the matter of book selection.

What the Library Stands for.

The first point, of which mention has been made, namely the desirability of making more fully known what a library really stands for, is one which cannot be too fully dilated upon. There is far too little known of what a library can do for the public. The day has gone by when such an institution was supposed to fulfil all requirements by the simple doling out of so many books of fiction, or of whatever the borrower called for. In these days it stands for infinitely greater things. SERVICE is the key-note of libraries and SERVICE is what Andrew Carnegie had in his mind when he spent so many millions in establishing them throughout the English-speaking world. Now, what is meant by service? If it does not imply a full realization of the requirements of the public and a keen desire and determination to satisfy those requirements, then so far as it is applied to Library work, it is a misnomer. As the Library is pre-eminently the place for obtaining information, every librarian should endeavour to fill those gaps on his shelves which experience shows him need filling. If he has his wits about him he will soon note what those deficiences are. They may not be all connected with literature. There are very many coming to the Library seeking information along lines of business which the ordinary channels of communication will be unable to disclose to them. They must seek for it in other ways, either in government bulletins, or in the various publications that trade and other journals place at their disposal. This is exactly where the Librarian can be of service. A veritable mine of wealth can be found in the much-despised government blue books. There are very many of them, and although some of them may not appear to be of much service there is nothing surer than that use can be made of any one of them if the proper means are adopted of letting the public know of their whereabouts. There have been several cases in Peterborough of men having actually taken trips to Ottawa to verify some point in the Patent Office Records, when they might have saved themselves all the trouble and expense by a simple enquiry at our library desk. We have a fairly complete file of these records. People do not seem to grasp the important point that the Government publications embrace very many activities. Every department issues its quota of documents relating to affairs within its radius of authority.

Collection of Pamphlets.

Then, again, we have a splendid collection of pamphlets issued by the Washington Bureau of Education. These are being added to all the time and many teachers find them of great benefit in their work.

For several years clippings have been taken from periodicals and papers which deal with all sorts of matters and these have accumulated to such an extent as to be now of real value in many branches of research. It is not generally known also that there are facilities in our Library not only for finding out magazine articles on any topic that have appeared in the best known American monthlies and quarterlies, but also in many of the English ones, and that enquirers can be supplied with very many criticisms of books that have been reviewed during the past ten years. It is also within their power to discover the price and publisher of almost every Book that has been printed in the U. S., Canada and England, within the last twenty years.

The Museum, is another feature which has its decided uses. It is not only valuable from the standpoint of the sightseer but also from that of the educationist. It has always been the policy of the Library Board to aid as far as possible those teachers who are anxious to illustrate their lessons by the help of exhibits. There are certain specimens, of various sorts, housed in the Museum, which cannot be loaned as they are the property of private persons, but those belonging to it have often been drawn upon, and have been found of great assistance in the ways mentioned.

The Children's Department is another and comparatively new phase of our Library work. Its popularity is abundantly testified by the crowds of youngsters who throng the room, especially during the holiday seasons. It is doubtful if here again our citizens adequately recognize the great boon that this branch of the Library is proving to the young people of the city. If they did properly appreciate its value many more mothers would accompany their children to see the splendid accommodation that has been provided for them, than at present do so. There can surely be scarcely anything that will appeal to a mother's heart with greater force than a good book for her child; next to a good friend it may easily be his best companion.

Enough has been said to show that there is a great deal of usefulness to be derived from a Public Library. In these days advance is being made all along the line. The librarian of today is not, as so many like to picture him, the easy-chair philosopher, who sits at his desk enjoying himself by rummaging in old manuscripts or writing dry-as-dust treatises on whatever his fadey dictates. He or she has to be up and doing. There are no idle moments possible to any one possessed with a love for the work and a desire to prove of benefit to the community. If enquiries come over the telephone, and hundreds of them are received in the course of a year, just as great trouble needs to be taken to satisfy the requests of such applicants for information, as if they were facing one at the desk. If letters requesting light on this or that point are received, and many are received, the librarian and his or her staff must be willing to give it or even to act as bibliographers, when the circumstances justify such a course.

Even yet the category of good things with which a library can furnish one is not by any means exhausted. But enough has been written to show how great a part it assumes in the upbuilding of a community. Additional methods of proving of service are continually coming to the fore, and if many are left in abeyance owing to the lack of necessary funds. We must bear in mind no institution can afford to have everything and that those are the best which are being slowly and cautiously reared on a sound and solid foundation.—F. H. D.

THE FICTION WORLD

The trouble in this fiction does not easily fall into the simple classification compartments our catalogue makers assign to it. "Treasure Island" is undoubtedly an adventure story. But it has besides a fine dash of mystery, an unforgettable series of vivid character studies, a strong human interest, the whole fused together in a narrative that touches the best we have in this line. It is in fact among the greatest we have in adventure stories, not simply because the adventures it chronicles, the plot that it weaves, are exceptionally thrilling and intricate, but because there is literary art in the telling and a flesh and blood realism in the characters portrayed that lift the whole book out of any hard and fast classification we would give it. This is true also of that kind of adventure stories, "The Three Musketeers." The adventures strung together in it are as delightfully exciting as any in literature. They fade from the memory, however, as the years roll by, but we never forget Athos, Porthos, Aramis, D'Artagnan. It is really the character-drawing that gives vitality to these two masterpieces of adventure—and it is virtually the same creative quality that has immortalized "Don Quixote" and "Gil Blas," both of which if classable at all, must be put down as chronicles of adventure. From all of which it would appear that the best type of adventure story is the one that depends least on adventure for its interest and more on character drawing.

Policeman and the Public.

Just now everybody is interested in the policeman. Last fall there was trouble in Boston and everyone realized that a better understanding must be brought about between the policeman and the public. No man is more fitted than Colonel Arthur Woods to accomplish this end. He was formerly Police Commissioner under Mayor Mitchell and is recognized as the most successful Commissioner that New York City has ever had. In his recent book, "Policeman and Public" (Yale University Press) based on lectures delivered at the Yale University, he gives wise advice and many highly diverting incidents from his own varied experience.

THE DAILY MISERY OF ILL-HEALTH

Three Years of Suffering Quickly Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. GASPARD DUBORD

139 Avenue Pius IX, Montreal.

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and my general health was very bad. I consulted a physician and took his medicine and faithfully carried out his instructions; but I did not improve and finally the doctor told me I could not be cured.

At this time, a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives' and I did so. After taking two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives', I was greatly relieved; and gradually this marvelous fruit medicine made me completely well.

My digestion and general health are splendid—all of which I owe to "Fruit-a-tives".

THE SWITCHMEN ARE RETURNING TO WORK

Brotherhood Fights Illegal Walk-out of Men.

(Canadian Press.)

CHICAGO, April 9.— Switchmen who have been on strike here for nine days, began returning to work this morning. Brotherhood officials who have been fighting "illegal" walk-out of men do not claim that the strike is broken, but were much encouraged by reports from several roads that men, in small groups, were reporting for work.

The Hacking Cough Strains the Lungs

The terrible, hacking, lung-wracking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E.I., writes:—"Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for sometime. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night and did not think I would ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief and by time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RENTS ADVANCING ALL OVER THE CITY

Rents have been boosted all the way from $1 to $12 a month. The limit on the maximum side may be higher. Five and ten dollar additions are most frequently reported. One tenant believes that the extra rent he will have to pay this year will exceed the increase in taxes on his landlord's entire row of five houses. Property owners, of course, state that rentals in this city have been too long quiescent, that for five or six years they have been disproportionate to the taxes, and that it was much cheaper to rent a house than to own one. Compared with other cities of this size they declare that tenants have been fortunate and have had actually had an advantage over landlords. At any rate the owner of a considerable block of houses states that he is disposing of them just as rapidly as possible, that they have been unprofitable and that the money invested would have brought better returns if converted into victory bonds or other good securities.

80 Years Old—Attributes Health to Internal Baths

Mr. D. C. Holcomb, 704 N. 4th Ave., Atchison, Kan., writes Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute of New York as follows:

"My next birthday is July 13th—80 years old. Have used Tyrrell's 'J.B.L. Cascade' for more than 20 years. Best and only remedy that brings relief without the use of drugs. My experience proved that it always relieves. No danger from it. My ailments were principally Rheumatism, Biliousness, Constipation, etc."

This is by no means an exceptional letter for Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute to receive, as there are now over half rrrrrta dlu cmwfyp vbgkqj thmthm a million Canadians and Americans using Dr. Tyrrell's "J.B.L. Cascade" with like results.

By the scientific use of Nature's cleanser—warm water—it eliminates all poisonous waste from the lower intestines and gives Nature a chance to work unhampered.

You will be astonished at the difference in your feelings the morning after an internal bath.

ALD. WHITEHOUSE REFERRED TO IN A TIPTON PAPER

TIPTON MAN HONOURED ABROAD.

(Tipton Herald, 13th March, 1920.)

The name of Whitehouse has ever been a respected, popular, and honoured one in Tipton since its most ancient days. We believe we are right in saying that the first name on the old parish church register of over four centuries ago was a Whitehouse. Since then, in the legal, commercial, scientific, social, and other life of the place the name of Whitehouse has always held prominent position. News has been received this week that one of the name has been elected to a position of honour in his adopted City of Peterborough, Ontario, to which he went less than fifteen years ago. That position is alderman of the City Council. The gentleman referred to is Mr. Frank Whitehouse, who is still remembered in social and musical circles. Mr. Whitehouse married Miss H. L. Hall, the daughter of Mr. S. Hall, a partner in the firm of J. & S. Hall, then one of the largest colliery concerns in the Gospel Oak district. As a violinist he was no mean performer, he having been trained in the same studio as the present celebrated William Henley, England's greatest violinist, and they were, as he would say, pals in their early days. His many friends in Tipton will rejoice at the good news of their old friend, and are sending him their congratulations.

KILLED FOR FLIRTING

CHICAGO, April 10.—Managers of Chicago's six leading hotels were selected as a coroner's jury to determine whether an alleged street flirtation is sufficient grounds for killing a man. The hotel managers will investigate the death of Travers Walsh, killed by a blow delivered by Joseph Manne, a 125-pound pianist, after Walsh is said to have attempted to flirt with Mrs. Manne.

In announcing his selection of the jury, Coroner Hoffman said hotel managers came in contact with all classes of people, and would be "supposed to have an intimate knowledge of men who may be termed flirters."

BANTAM GIVEN THE DECISION

RESULTS OF THE HAMILTON BOUTS

(Special to The Examiner.)

HAMILTON, April 10. — "Bad News" Eber, Canada's champion bantam, was given the newspaper decision in his ten-round bout with Frankie Mason, of Fort Wayne, Ind., at the Grand Opera House last night.

Up till the sixth round, Mason had difficulty in penetrating the Canadian's defence. He finally got through and had the better of the last four rounds.

Because Eber was two pounds over the stipulated 116 at three o'clock, the American champion fly-weight would not stand for a referee's decision. This was Mason's first fight since his go with Jimmy Wilde.

In the main preliminary, Jimmy Geodrich, Buffalo, got the referee's decision over Kid Bingham, Hamilton, after six fast rounds.

CHANGES IN FISH AND GAME LAWS.

The first sitting of the Fish and Game Committee took place yesterday. Hon. F. C. Biggs was chairman. It may be interesting to Peterboro sportsmen to know that it was decided not to change the date for killing deer this year; the dates set being from the 5th day of November to the 20th day of November. The question of using dogs for deer hunting was of a controversial nature and was left over until the next meeting to obtain further information from sportsmen. "I would like to know the opinion of this district on this matter as I raised the question by request," said Mr. Tooms to the Examiner.

It is the intention to secure a far higher revenue from royalties on skins. Last year only $7,000 was secured. The proposed scale is:—Fisher $2, marten $1, mink 50 cents, muskrat 10 cents, bear 60 cents, lynx 50 cents, wolverine 40 cents, skunk 20 cents, cross fox $2, red fox $1 silver or black fox $10 fox not specified, 50 cents, raccoon 15 cents, weasel (ermine) 5 cents, deer 10 cents, caribou 10 cents, and moose 25 cents.

October is cut out of the hunting season north of the main line of the C. P. R.

Fur dealers' licenses, which formerly were $10 for a British subject resident in Ontario, and $25 for others, will be increased as high as $200.

ADVOCATES BOXING FOR ALL SCHOOL BOYS

TORONTO, April 10.—The advocacy by Dr. Bruce MacDonald of boxing as a part of school training was a feature yesterday of the Ontario Educational Association's inaugural. Dr. MacDonald said:

"No boy physically fit should be allowed to leave school without having learned to contend with others. Life is a fight and the fighting should be developed on sane lines of self-control, where there is contention and no quarrelsome spirit."

"It is to be regretted that boxing cannot be taught in every school of the land. It develops pluck, ability to take and give hard blows and smile at the same time. Experience shows that the best boxers are usually the least quarrelsome."

CHICAGO CUBS PURCHASE TERRY

Star Infielder, Who Was a Holdout, Will Report on Saturday.

CHICAGO, April 10:—Zeb Terry, star infielder in the Pirates' line-up last season, was purchased by the Cubs. The price paid for him was not announced. Terry, who is now at Los Angeles, was wired by President Veeck today to come East and join the Cubs at Kansas City. He is expected to arrive there next Saturday.

TORONTO FIRM GETS CONTRACT

The Murray-Kay Company of Toronto, have been given the contract for the interior decoration of St. Andrew's church, and Ephgrave and Barrett are busily erecting the scaffolding for the work. The latter is no small problem, for the entire interior is being done over. Four carpenters have been on the job since Tuesday morning and the work is over half completed. In all some 11,000 feet of lumber goes into the scaffolding.

The contract covers new cushions, new carpets, seats refinished and the whole interior in fact will be renovated, removing a certain drabiness that has offended the eye. The work will occupy over a month and seven or eight painters will be kept busy all the time. Local men are being employed as much as possible.

The Skin Peeler All the Rage in Society

There is a growing tendency among women of culture and fashion to pay more attention to hygienic means of preserving their charms. The advent of mercolized wax doubtless has been largely responsible for this. This remarkable substance produces complexions so natural in appearance, so magnetically beautiful, artificial complexions are no longer desired. Instead of "doctoring" an offensive skin, the skin is peeled off. The wax peels the skin so gradually, in such fine particles, no discomfort is experienced. The fresher, younger skin beneath, wholly in evidence within a week or two, is lily white, satiny soft and smooth. It's not a patched-over complexion, but a brand new one. That's why mercolized wax has become such a rage among society folk. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings. All druggists have it, of course; one ounce will do.

OVER $100 FOR SIX BOTTLES.

BRANTFORD, April 10.—Seven dollars for six bottles of whiskey looked tempting to Frank Ammerman and he bought at the bargain price. On his way home he was nabbed by the police, however, and in court this morning it cost him an additional $100 and costs and he lost the whiskey which the court confiscated.

"END OF THE ROAD" AT ALLEN NEXT WEEK

There has been more than one production styled as a morality play presented on the stage or screen, in which the author has dwelt rather heavily on the elaborate settings of scenes of revelry, in a manner that almost defeated its own object by making the settings so lavish. But in "The End of the Road," the much-talked-of offering on the screen at the Allen for four days, starting Monday, a picture that has been described as "the most praised and the most abused of to-day," the point of the story is very forcibly brought home by sheer dramatic action, and a grimly realistic portrayal of the consequences of the follies and indiscretions of life. The male star is Richard Bennett, who appeared in "Damaged Goods," a play that was banned in this province by the censorship. With him is Claire Adams, a beautiful Canadian girl, whose practical experience as a nurse in Grace Hospital, Detroit, is of great help to her in her presentation of the leading role. Miss Adams is the daughter of Stanley Adams, a Toronto teacher of vocal music, who recently took up work in New York.

"The End of the Road" was shown to about 16,000 people in Massey Hall, Toronto, during a four-days' engagement in Holy Week, and hundreds of people were turned away. It also played to capacity houses in London, Ontario, and at present is being shown in the larger cities of Great Britain.

Apart from the lesson that it so powerfully conveys, "The End of the Road" is a story that will interest and appeal to the photoplay patron, for it is a master production, directed by E. H. Griffith, and written by Dr. Katherine Bement Davis.

It is in every sense of the word a big feature production. The name of Richard Bennett is known to everyone, while Miss Adams is not unknown either, for she was co-star with Irene Castle in "The Invisible Bond," shown here recently.

There will be matinees each day, and two evening performances. Owing to the character of the picture, none under the age of sixteen will be admitted, this regulation applying even to the small children and infants in arms. The picture carries the endorsation of The Canadian National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases. This organization is co-operating with the local health authorities in the opening of a clinic in Peterborough.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water, and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs but little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the nose, throat, hearing or head noises, should give this mixture a trial.

CANADIAN CORNERS IN NEW YORK JAIL

ARE ALSO EXPERTS IN COUNTERFEITING OF BANK BILLS

NEW YORK, April 10. — With the arrest here of Omar Barrelon, 32, and Paul Theorret, 35, French Canadians, who said they had recently come to New York from Montreal, secret service agents who have been hunting for weeks past the origin of a flood of counterfeit money which has swamped the restaurant district, believe that their quest is ended. The two men were held in $5000 bail each, and in default of surety were committed to the Tombs.

They are charged with issuing counterfeit money. Captain John Tucker of the local secret service force is conducting the investigation. He said to-day that both men had made a complete confession to him.

Counterfeit silver and bills have been plentiful in New York for a month past in an unusual degree. The silver coins were dollars, dated 1904, and extremely good imitations, many of these have been passed on saloon keepers and motion picture houses and their origin has so far defied detection. Captain Tucker said to-night that the arrest of the men seemed to indicate a distribution base in Canada from which the coiners were operating. An investigation of this phase of the case is now going forward.

The two men, according to the department agents, came to New York some days ago bringing with them a moving picture outfit of the type that is generally used by itinerant exhibitions in the small towns. Under cover of this apparently legitimate business it is claimed the two men planned to move about the country leaving a trail of bad bills behind them.

At a small hotel on West 47th St. the detectives say was found Theorret with the camouflage motion picture outfit and $4000 in counterfeit bills. In another room on West 57th street counterfeits to the amount of over $20,000 were found.

Captain Tucker said to-day that forged bills are made from photo-engraved and zinc etched plates and are excellent imitations, calculated to pass any ordinary scrutiny successfully.

ORDERED FORTUNE SUNK IN SEA

LONDON.—Alfred Henry Frend of Richmond Road, Twickenham—otherwise known as Henry Shrapnel—left one of the most curious wills ever admitted to probate by the English court.

He held such strong views on what he called "the rapacity of the State," that to prevent any of his money "being swept into Government coffers" he directed that everything he left should be sunk in the Atlantic in the event of any dispute over the will.

He asked that all his present funds, if they could not be transferred to another country in a suitable box, should be sealed by a magistrate who was to receive a fee of four guineas for his services.

The box was to be sunk in mid-Atlantic.

After the death of his sisters, he directed that his money should be used to make loans to young English men or Irishmen of his own class for their advancement in life, and to help small nations to regain territory lost in the war.

He desired that every death test should be applied before he was buried, and that he should be buried in a wicker coffin in a grave "highest above local underground water level, to be filled in with pure sand only."

The value of the whole estate, however, is only about $5,000.

SLIM CATCH OF RICE LAKE RATS BITTER DISAPPOINTMENT TO INDIANS

CONTROL OF TRENT WATERS MORE DESTRUCTIVE THAN ALL THE TRAPS—PRICE NEVER SO HIGH, BUT SEASON'S BAG LESS THAN A DAY'S A YEAR AGO.

"The Trent Canal kills more muskrats than all the trappers in the district put together" is the unanimous complaint of the peltry trade. Reports from Rice Lake this week indicate that this season's catch of rats will be unusually light. Madden Howard of Hiawatha is quoted as having said that he has caught more rats in one day a few years ago than he will get all this Spring. And with an average price of $5.00 a pelt the trappers were never so industrious and eager to cash in while the market is so favorable.

So far Alfie Crow has sold only 125 hides and Bert Anderson another veteran of Hiawatha, 135. In the olden days when pelts brought only thirty or forty cents, the season's bag would be at least 400 or 500 rats. That was before the Trent Canal department had developed the control of the local waters by means of series of dams that have been gradually built up for the conservation of water and especially for the maintenance of a steady flow in the river. With the resultant advantage in the production of electric power the trappers have little or no concern. Their anxiety centres upon their steadily dwindling industry at a time when it is becoming more lucrative.

"The water is either held too high or too low," is the general complaint, "and in either case the rats are frozen in their borrows."

It is a deplorable loss from the trapper's viewpoint, and he realizes his utter helplessness to prevent the destruction of rat life as a result of the Canal department's control. In a few years, the trappers woefully predict, the muskrats of this district, especially the Rice Lake species, famous for the superior quality of their fur, will become extinct. The elaborate and scientific system of conserving water, chiefly for the purposes of power generation and canal navigation, is slowly strangling an ancient occupation that was one of the seasonal industries of the aborigines of this district before the whitemen intruded. Whether the complaint of the Indians will get a hearing, their plight will elicit the sympathy of all those who know or who can feel the bitterness of being deprived of a profitable means of livelihood just as it is emerging upon a period of high prices. Four hundred pelts would bring at least $2,000 at the current price, and a few years ago four hundred pelts would have been scorned as the catch of a disappointing season.

Trappers in the northern marshes have been hampered by the late frosts. In the shallow places where you could push a canoe ten days ago, there is a layer of ice that will support a man on foot. Such weather affects the Indians and their white competitors with that queruloseness which takes possession of most farmers when Nature's order of rain and sun lacks the timeliness with which mere human wisdom would regulate them.

Blackheads are a confession

Blackheads are caused by excessive oil collecting dirt in the pores of the skin. Their presence is a confession that you are using the wrong method of cleansing for your type of skin.

To cleanse thoroughly skins liable to this disfiguring trouble, use the following special treatment. Apply hot cloths to the face until the skin is reddened. Then with a rough washcloth work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub it into the pores thoroughly, always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with clear hot water, then with cold—the colder the better. If possible, rub your face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Dry carefully.

To remove blackheads already formed, substitute a flesh brush for the washcloth in the treatment above. Then protect the fingers with a handkerchief and press out the blackheads.

Keep your skin free of blackheads by the above treatment and gain the clear attractive skin that the regular use of Woodbury's brings.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

WHERE IS THE FIGHTING SPIRIT

By B. K. Sandwell

Not that Sir Thomas White has ceased to fight—oh, no! He is very spring-like in his attitude, a veritable jack-in-the-box, ever ready to spring up and confront any kind of opponent, however weary we may be of the sight. Parliament is slack, stale, stuffed with nonsense. Even if the Government does put Parliament something to fight about, which it doesn't—there isn't a fight in it. It ought to be all over by the Queen's Birthday.

The Opposition isn't fighting as briskly as one might expect from an army with a King at its head. They had contented themselves with a programme of the type of Admiral Jellicoe's visit, but when first Lord Ballantyne brought down his modest proposals that ground was cut from under their feet. One little cruiser and two destroyers—call things at that—that hardly be called a heavy navy for six thousand miles of seacoast. It's a guarantee of good faith toward the British Empire—simply that and nothing more. If we wanted a real coast guard we would be going in for something a good deal more extensive.

Timid persons complain that this navylet of ours may grow from year to year until it becomes Canada's Old man of the Sea—a backbreaking load—but they reckon without the National debt which will keep us too busy paying interest to go in for fal-lals like a navy. Mr. Ballantyne sums it up with a smile when he says, "All that's left of the navy is the tot of rum." And Mr. Rowell may stop that.

The opposition did a little quizzing on the subject of a permanent naval policy but the government refused to be drawn. Their silence would seem to indicate that the question is years in the future. As a matter of fact the Minister of Marine made a clean job of it—and the admiral went with the shovel. We are promised "an officer of much Junior rank" and a navy that won't be sizes too big for him.

This is as it should be. Nobody—except perhaps Mr. Rowell—believes that Canada's future is on the water—at least this generation. And whatever our future may be it's a sure thing that our present ought of be on the land—getting people on the land who will be cheerful taxpayers and give us a revenue adequate to our needs.

With some reluctance—because they would have liked something to hang an argument on—the Opposition admits that Mr. Ballantyne did the right thing about the navy, did it in the right way and with courage. Although the Laurier navy has languished ever since the Borden government came in, it languished at considerable expense, ate its appropriations with the appetite of a tape worm and collected a great deal of fat—particularly about the head. The department accumulated a lot of cults who drew big salaries and did nothing. The British brains we borrowed—at a good swinging figure—were supposed to be good enough for a navy whose proudest boasts were the Niobe and the Rainbow, ships that seldom put to sea without hunting for the bottom. The Niobe was always as full of water as the weeper she was named after and as for the Rainbow she leaked like a sieve.

These gallant ships which were never dangerous to anybody but the crews that sailed them now find a safe home in the junk shop.

Mr. Ballantyne deserves something more than faint praise for his pluck in defying deputy ministers, head clerks, naval experts—the whole crowd of obstructors and special pleaders—and abolishing at one swift stroke the heaped up uselessness of eleven years camouflage as a Canadian navy. The only way was to abolish it—fire 'em all—take back the good ones—begin over again and begin right.

No Bones to Pick Here.

The Franchise Bill is another disappointment. It is built to please. If there is a casus belli in it, no matter how small the government promises to remove it at a moment's notice. Mr. Guthrie was pulling no bluff when he invited the House to pounce on any "joker" and rend it tooth and nail. True it is there were some doubtful clauses about aliens, but they were probably introduced as artistic verisimilitude. If the bill looked too fair the Opposition might suspect it.

These teeth will be drawn not perhaps because the government is full of loving kindness towards persons of foreign birth, but because members of parliament, east and west, and on both sides of politics, need them in their business. Some of our legislators would have no career ahead of them at all if it were not for the alien vote. This is the invincible fact which assures our alien fellow citizens of a square deal in the next franchise act. The war slackers, disfranchisement for one election. So far as this country is concerned the war is over and we are sensible enough to realize that it is poor business to follow up old grudges. Besides the party managers have decided that the solid Quebec is to split in 1922 and they don't want to do anything that will interfere with the splitting.

It is a matter of satisfaction that Parliament leaves the principle of the Franchise Act to the provinces. That is to say it allows each province to shoulder its own foolishness and if one of them sees reason again and decides that women shall remain women instead of becoming voters there will be nothing in the Federal Franchise Act to obstruct the good work. Mr. Meighen has a little bill on the side to enfranchise Indians, but as Poor Lo doesn't seem to want it the bill may be lost in the shuffle. Even at that the Indians would probably have more mature views on the tariff than the noisy girls whose chief grievance against man is that he has been left behind. Meanwhile the Indian does not like the vote—the last statesman he rallied to being the Hon. Dr. Mantague who sent out a letter signed presumably by Queen Victoria asking her little red children to plug for the Conservative party.

Some Other Fire Extinguishers.

Leader Rowell is not saying much this session and that in itself takes a lot of fight out of it. Mr. Rowell has discovered or some kind friends have told him that his words, however mild are as a red rag to the bull. No answer of his is soft enough to turn away opposition wrath. In fact the softer it is the harder he gets hit. The best course is silence. Silence may be ominous but it is not contentious. Outside of tabling an occasional treaty or promising that the Sultan of Turkey will address the Canadian Club, Mr. Rowell has little to do—a state of things which satisfies everybody except Mr. Rowell—with whom speech is a fever. Mr. Rowell has been wisely silent on most matters and the result is seen in the most peaceful Parliament we have had in five years. It irks him of course. He is as unhappy as a grand opera tenor with a tight collar and an unsympathetic audience, but think of the harmony! The sweetest silence of all is on the liquor question. Mr. Rowell is the dean of cold water. Did I hear somebody say demagogue? It doesn't matter. The main point is that he isn't starting anything among the demijohns.

Just to show how absent the fighting spirit is I recall the fact that the Speaker wishing to put on a little lugs in the new building, kicked the press gallery and the Senate out of the members lobby the other day, and nobody raised a finger. Not one member whimpered. Not a solitary chirrup—though to speak up for the freedom of the press was to win the love of eight hundred newspapers scattered far and wide over this fair Canada of ours. What a chance was missed there to get in strong with the Opinion Moulders' Union!

STARVATION IN RUSSIAN CITIES

COUNTRY UNCULTIVATED AND DEPOPULATED.

(Canadian Press.)

BUCHAREST, April 10.— Odessa has been facing starvation since the Allies withdrew their forces from that city. Bolshevik forces patrol the city and have put down disorders and ended looting, but were unable to get supplies as they do not control the territory outside. Great disorder and distress reigns in South-western Russia and wide stretches of country are desolate, uncultivated and depopulated. Marauding bands have swept the land clear of everything of value, and during recent weeks have been crossing the Dniester into Roumania and running off herds of cattle. The river is flooded at present, however, and a check has been put to the depredations of these outlaws.

PLAYERS VISIT PORT HOPE

The Port Hope Guide club should elect at once and select their manager. Several players have visited town looking for positions, and the manager should have something to say in dealing with these applications.

The Examiner should remember that the drawing of a schedule is not child's play. Mr. Nott is in no way connected with the Oshawa team, and it is quite unfair to infer that he purposely gave Oshawa the best of the deal. If the Sporting Editor of The Examiner feels that he can draw a schedule satisfactory to all clubs, we are sure that Mr. Nott will turn the job over to him with pleasure.—Port Hope Guide.

LAKEFIELD POWER HOUSE FALLS PREY TO FLAMES

TWO INDUSTRIES IN LAKEFIELD LEFT WITHOUT POWER—NOTES ON THE FIRE.

THE DAMAGE

LAKEFIELD, April 12. — Fire destroyed the Lakefield power house last evening about 7.30 p.m., the lights in the churches began to flicker up and down and then suddenly went out.

In a few moments the fire bell on St. John's church began to ring the fire alarm and it was then learned that the electric power house was on fire.

It is stated that Mr. Trude Leggott was alone in the power house, when there was a sudden explosion, and when he turned around to see what was the matter the inside of the building was a mass of flames, probably caused by a short circuit. He had barely time to escape from the building.

In a short time a line of hose was laid from Moore's plaining mill, where the village fire pump was installed, and had a stream of water pouring on the wooden building where the electric light plant was installed. The building being old and dry with the oil, etc., around the machinery, in half an hour was a mass of ruins.

The stream of water and a drizzling rain kept the fire from spreading to any other buildings.

The power house was owned by the Dickson Co. The loss is about $——.

The electric light plant was owned by Mr. S. R. Leggot and the loss will be about $5000, partially insured.

The loss of the electric power plant deprives two of Lakefield's prominent industries of power, viz., Charlton's elevator and the Colonial Glass Company.

When the fire was over and people were returning to their homes the darkness was so dense that a great many had quite a time to find their way.

The electric lights went out in St. John's church when the Rev. Dr. Archbold was reading the second lesson.

A splendid musical service had been prepared. Mr. H. F. Strickland was present to assist in the services with his violin. Mrs. Osborne was to sing a solo, and the choir to sing an anthem, both to be accompanied by the violin and the organ.

While waiting to see if the electric lights would come on again the congregation sang a hymn and at the last verse the fire bell rang, which caused the congregation to be dismissed. There was a large congregation present to hear the musical service.

In the Presbyterian church a great many people left for the fire but the services were continued.

At the Methodist Church the illumination from the fire was so great that a number of people thought that the parsonage was on fire which caused a general stampede, while Mr. Harold Bell, who was assisting Mr. Dixon was praying.

Now that the electric lighting plant is burned down and Hydro-Electric power may not be installed until next September, it is almost imperative for Lakefield to adopt daylight saving.

An effort is being made to induce the Cement plant to give the village light and power during the interval until hydro is installed.

SALARY INCREASE FOR POLICE FORCE

Minimum Has Been Raised to $120 Per Month.

Canadian Press.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 12. — Salary increases of $15 to $30 monthly will be granted to all employees of the police department and the present minimum of $100 will be raised to $120, the Police Commission has decided. Under the new schedule, to be submitted to the policemen this afternoon, the scale ranges from $120 for first year constables to $155 for those who have served three full years or more.

SERIOUS EXPLOSION IN MUNITION PLANT

TWO HUNDRED PERSONS REPORTED INJURED.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 12. — Two hundred persons who were injured in explosion of munitions at Rotenstein, near Koenigsberg, East Prussia, yesterday, have been rescued, according to a Berlin despatch to the Daily Mail. Explosions are continuing, and rescuers are able to approach only in armoured cars. Fuses were being removed from big calibre shells at the dump, when one was ignited in some way and thirty tremendous explosions followed, wrecking buildings over area and shattering thousands of windows in the city.

MATTER DISCUSSED IN BRITISH HOUSE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 12. —Discussion of relations between Great Britain and France in the House of Commons is not probable for some days at least, although anxiety is felt by many members of Parliament, which assembled here to-day after the Easter recess. There is a desire in some quarters to bring the situation before a full House, but as the scheduled programme of business has allocated a Parliamentary time for several days, the debate cannot be brought about unless those desiring it can carry the motion to suspend the order of business on a plea of urgency. Andrew Bonar Law, government leader, has been deputised by Lloyd George to make official statements during the latter's absence at San Remo, Italy.

AN ELEVATED TRAIN JUMPED THE TRACK.

Twelve Passengers were Injured.

Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, April 12. — A Ninth Avenue elevated train jumped the track to-day while running past Trinity church, and one of the cars fell to the street.

The accident occurred when two elevated trains crashed into one another. The cars immediately burst into flames, and the ambulances were summoned from five hospitals.

The crash occurred at a time when the trains were crowded with workers bound for the financial districts.

The first reports said that 12 passengers were injured.

Vice War Opens in New York

POLICE INSPECTOR HAS EXTENSIVE DEALINGS WITH STOCK EXCHANGE FIRMS.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Seven men including three of the police department, were indicted by the grand jury which with the assistance of Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith, is investigating the conduct of the police in regard to the suppression of vice. The seven are:

Dominick Henry, inspector of the Fourth District, charged with neglect of duty in failing to close nearly 100 disreputable houses on the upper west side.

The maximum penalty for this offence is three years. Detectives Joseph Moloney and J. J. Gunson of his staff, were indicted for perjury, the charge being that they had sworn falsely against Mrs. Lillian F. Love, wife of James H. Love, a broker, after arresting her groundlessly.

The four others indicted were the men arrested in the raid on Peters' restaurant in West Ninety-Seventh Street and previously indicted by the Federal grand jury for violating the Volstead Act. They were indicted for maintaining a disorderly house.

Inspect Henry's Dealers.

Part of the evidence against Inspector Henry was his account with the stock exchange firm of Billings, Olcott & Winsmore of 10 Wall Street. The books of that firm showed that, beginning in June, 1918, six months after he took charge of the inspection district, Inspector Henry had rapidly increased deposits and stock purchases until at present the net value of the stock of which he is the outright owner is about $60,000. The total value of the stock is almost $80,000, which is offset to the extent of $21,435.53 by his indebtedness to the firm.

Inspector Henry and his lawyers refused flatly to give any explanation of his apparently large wealth, while in command of the district, which is admitted to have the greatest possibilities of revenues from gambling houses, disorderly houses, and illicit drinking places, and which has been the field of most of the big police scandals of other days.

Inspector Henry's accounts on the face showed a more rapid increase of wealth than was shown in the accounts of any police officials which were examined during the investigations following the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

Indict Cafe Owners.

Peter Giolotto, who was indicted with three employees, is the proprietor of Peters', the restaurant which was denounced by the Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton, and was raided over the head of Inspector Henry on the following night. Dr. Straton asserted in his sermon that, while observing promiscuous whisky drinking and soliciting at this place when about 500 patrons were present, he had been told that the place paid $500.00 a week for police protection.

"And that statement was true," Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith said after the indictments had been returned. "That will be proved. Grafting on an enormous scale in this district will be established."

The indictments were handed up to Judge James T. Malone, who has driven ahead this investigation against several direct and some alleged indirect efforts to slow down or divert the course of the inquiry. After the Court proceeding Assistant District Attorney Smith slapped a large bag of papers which he was carrying and said: "Here is the evidence against the 'higher-ups,' and I have the goods."

The grand jury adjourned when Mr. Smith is expected to proceed against other police officials and city officials outside of the police department.

Is Not Worried.

Inspector D. Henry received the news of his indictment with a smile, saying: "Look at me. Do I look as if I'm worried? If you think I do I know I am not. I am not the least bit worried. Later results will show it."

The indictments were returned after about 20 witnesses had testified before the grand jury. Among them were Chief Police Inspector John Daly, Inspector Thomas McDonald, of the "vice squad." Rev. Dr. Straton who was in the grand jury room an hour and a half ;Mrs. Grace, Humiston, a lawyer; and several Court clerks and police detectives.

Thus far five members of the police department have been indicted in the vice investigation. Colonel Augustus Drum Porter recently was indicted for neglect of duty while he was third deputy police commissioner, and [illegible], a plain clothes [illegible] and extortion.

WILL CONTINUE THE PROHIBITION FIGHT

Says Temperance Forces Would Unite on Vote Issue.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, April 12.— During an address in a local church yesterday, Rev. Ben Spence stated that they would continue the fight for prohibition. He stated that the trouble between the Ontario Referendum Committee was not a matter of disagreement over fundamentals, but simply one over details and that if a vote were taken now on any question of temperance all the forces of temperance, "horse, foot and artillery," would be found united.

Gratuity Fight to Continue

WESTERN LEADERS CLAIM AN EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO SECURE CASH BONUS.

Canadian Press.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 12. — A nation wide campaign, in which all Veteran organizations will join, will be inaugurated by the returned soldiers with the object of pressing the Federal government for consideration of the decision against granting a cash bonus.

"The fight is on," is the reply of the veterans' leaders here to Sir Geo. Foster's announcement that the rejection of the bonus proposal was final.

"All veterans' organizations are united on this question as never before," said J. J Bowler, the secretary of the Manitoba command of the G.W.V.A. "The refusal of the government will not be accepted as final, but every returned soldier in the land will support the campaign. The campaign will be commenced by the Veterans' organizations throughout the country."

The cooperation of the Imperials' Association is guaranteed by H. B. Willing, secretary. "We are backing the G.W.V.A. to a finish," he said. "We resent the implied insult in Sir George Foster's speech that returned soldiers should not be trusted with a cash grant. We shall agitate until we get it."

AN INTERESTING EXHIBIT

ON 18TH CENTURY ENGLISH—NEW EDISON SHOWN AT GREENE MUSIC STORE.

An example of the period models in which the New Edisons are now being enclosed, is on exhibition in the window of the J. M. Greene Music Co. store, Charlotte street. It is one of the very finest of all and is called the Enighteenth Century English. The workmanship of that period is well exemplified in this beautiful instrument. The style is typical and appeals to the lover of the artistic in furniture. A great many visitors have seen and admired this handsome New Edison, which was procured for a customer in this district. It will be shown at the store for the first part of next week and then placed in the exhibit of the Greene Music Co. at the Motor Show, where its magnificent tone will undoubtedly be heard to the best advantage.

Firemen Still On Outside

MASS MEETING WAS HELD IN ST. CATHARINES LAST EVENING—DEMAND A LIVING WAGE.

(Special to The Examiner.)

ST. CATHARINES, April 12.—At a mass meeting last night attended by over a thousand men, a resolution was passed expressing disapproval of the action of the City Council in refusing to grant twenty-five per cent. increase, to city firemen who walked out on Thursday night, and calling on the Council to reinstate them and give them the increase they had been promised. Failing in this, the resolution asked that a plebiscite be taken of the electors. The meeting was called by the Trades and Labor Council. Captain E. J. Lovelace, the Mayor, who was in the chair, said Canada should have something in the way of an Industrial Council to settle labor troubles. Lloyd George had stated during the war that they wished to make the British Empire a fit place for heroes to live in. He feared they were a long way off from the ideal yet.

Frank Greenlaw, Labor member of the Legislature, took the side of the firemen, stating that they had a right to demand what had been promised them—a living wage.

Peter Grant, President of the Trades and Labor Council, declared the present action of the City Council was not aimed at the firemen, but at trades unionism generally. "The firemen are only being used as a club," said he. Leo Cunningham, secretary of the G.W.V.A., pleaded with the comrades not to go into the firehalls and take the place of some of their own comrades on the battle field. Ald. Fred Avery accused the City Council of giving big increases to highly paid officials, which made it impossible to deal justly by the firemen.

STILL FIGHTING OVER THE FRENCH

DIPLOMATIC WARFARE RAGING IN EUROPE—NOTES FLYING.

(United Press.)

PARIS, April 12 (by Henry Wood) —Premier Millerand will make a public announcement in the Chamber of Deputies on Tuesday, outlining the French position in the Franco-British controversy brought about by the French occupation of the German Rhine cities, it was said to-day.

The Foreign Office announced yesterday that the British reply to Millerand's previous note was conciliatory in tone, but believed that France had reserved "freedom of action" in the enforcement of the Peace Treaty, proceeding without Allied consent if it feels the situation merits action.

This, the Foreign Office said, the French Government did not intend to do. The Office also said it had learned that London seemed to think that Great Britain was not warned in advance of the occupation of Frankfort. Diplomatic documents, the French officials said, would easily prove that this was not the case.

STOCK MARKET QUIETER TO-DAY

RAILWAY DEVELOPMENTS DEPRESS THE MARKET.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, April 12.—The stock market opened slightly lower to-day. U. S. Steel was off 1-8 at 105 1-8.

Other prices were: Marine Pref. 98 1-4 up 1-4, American Sugar 137, Corn Products 100, Mexican Petroleum 200 off 1 1-2, Baldwin 143 1-2 off 1-2; Bethlehem B. 99 off 5-8, Pressed Steel Car 110.

Developments in the railroad stock over the week-end tended to depress the market.

Southwas in Crucible was not reflected in other steels. Canadian advanced to a new high record at 89. Pressed Steel Car also made a new high on the movement, crossing 112.

TOWN HAD "GO" IN EARLY DAYS.

Orillia Packet: April 14th will be clean-up day in Lindsay. When the writer first knew the town, the only clean-up day Lindsay had was the day on which the printing office towel was washed, and Tom Billere suffered his annual hair-cut. There was one exception—the big fire in 1861, which "cleaned out" the entire business section of the town. That was a costly experience, but a bigger and better Lindsay rose on the ashes of the old, with amazing rapidity. Lindsay had "go" in those early days, as it has now.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH HELD A BUSY SESSION

GRAVEYARD ECHOES FROM OLD COBOURG

Peterboro Went Down With a Big Cheque to Steal Industry.

Cobourg World: We hear from good authority that the deputation who were here from Peterborough to attend the Langslow-Fowler by-law meeting stated to a prominent citizen that if Cobourg ratepayers did not put the by-law through that Peterborough had a cheque for $50,000 ready for the Langslow-Fowler people.

This looks as if the people of the Electric City think Cobourg has landed a good thing, and would entice the industry away if possible.

DEVELOPMENTS IN THE STRIKE

INSURGENT FORCES GRADUALLY BREAKING UP.

(Canadian Press.)

CHICAGO, April 12. — Developments west of Pittsburg in the switchmen's strike to-day were regarded by Brotherhood officials as pointing towards the gradual dissolution of insurgent forces; but in the east, where the walkout was joined in several districts by trainmen, the situation assumes a more serious aspect. In the central and far west, numerous reports of defections from strikers' ranks followed the report of the first important break at Columbus, Ohio, where 600 voted to return to work.

At Chicago, railroad officials were presented terms for settlement of the strike, which included recognition of a new union formed by deserters from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Switchmen's Union of North America.

MAYOR McINTYRE WELCOMES VISITOR

On Sunday afternoon the Salvation Army Temple was crowed to capacity when Colonel McMillan, the Chief Secretary for Eastern Canada, gave his celebrated and interesting address on the Saving Hand of the Army.

He was introduced by His Worship Mayor McIntyre, who in a short address welcomed him and Mrs. McMillan to the city.

Colonel McMillan spoke of the entry of the Salvation Army in small numbers into the dark countries such as Japan, Corea, India, etc., and of the way in which the workers have brought light to the natives, converting thousands to Christianity.

He also spoke of what the Army has done towards converting thousands to Christianity. He also spoke of what the Army has done toward the uplift of sunken humanity and the comfort given to those who would otherwise never worship in a church.

At the conclusion of his interesting address a hearty vote of thanks was moved by ex-Ald. Dobbin and seconded by Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P.

"THE BUILDING BY-LAW NEEDS AMENDING," SAYS DR. A. W. McPHERSON, M.O.H.—LABOUR MEN WANT TIME CHANGED A SECOND TIME.

ACCOUNTS PASSED

The Board of Health met this morning at 10 o'clock, Ex-Mayor G. H. Duncan presiding with the following members present: J. Lynch, E. F. Mason, Mayor A. McIntyre, Dr. A. W. McPherson, M.O.H. and Sanitary Inspector Stapleton. A considerable pile of communications were dealt with and much other business cropped up delaying the meeting which at last adjourned shortly after 12.

A communication was read from residents eliving near the corner of London and George streets objecting to two horse stables in that vicinity and since a new one is being built within 15 to 40 feet of several kitchens, the letter was written to the Board.

Dr. A. W. McPherson submitted that building by-law needed amending. The present by-law allows a stable within 25 feet of the kitchen and when the permits are given there should be strict supervision of their location. Mr. Howson one of the petitioners, was heard by the Board. "The new stable will be a nuisance and a detriment to our property", he said. He said it would be within 25 feet of some of the other houses.

Mr. Armstrong stated that the man said he would comply with the by-law when the permit was taken out.

"We can be only guided by the by-laws and refer it to the city council" said Mr. Lynch. "I agree that it is a great nuisance."

"I would move that the letter be referred to the City Council with the suggestion that permits for building they are in a residential section. The motion carried Dr. McPherson and the Sanitary Inspector will wait on the committee of the Whole Council on Thursday night, when the matter comes up.

Sewer Connection.

A letter from a resident on Monaghan Road living between Chamberlain and Romaine street asking for sewer connections, was referred to the council. Mr. J. Lynch pointed out that the residents there moved one where land was cheap and then wanted all conveniences, the city footing the bill which came especially heavy since only one side of the road was in the city. The Trades and Labour Council wrote asking that the removal of night soil in daytime be discontinued. It was moved that a reply be sent that the Board made the removal during the winter months in daytime at labour men's request. It was now discontinued.

Plumbing Inspector.

The Plumbers Union wrote asking that the Plumbing Inspector should be under the supervision of the Board of Health instead of the property committee. It was moved and carried that it be referred to the property committee.

That the superintendent of the hos-

PRESENTATION TO OTONABEE PEOPLE

MR. AND MRS. J. GRAHAM WEIR WILL RESIDE IN PETERBORO.

A pleasant company of neighbors and well wishers of Mr. and Mrs. J. Graham Weir met at their home on the evening of Mondty, the fifth of April, to present them on the eve of their departure from the neighbor hood with a gift and address.

The address as read by Mr. J. Hodson to Mr. and Mrs. J. Graham Weir, was as follows:

"We, your friends and neighbors have met here to-night as a token of respect to you, and we regret you leaving our neighborhood, but are pleased to record our sense of the high appreciation of the splendid service you have rendered to the community in which you have labored for the past fifty-odd years.

"In Mr. Weir we have found a man of sterling qualities, a man of iron will of what is right—a man that is true to the cause for which he works.

"In Mrs. Weir we have found a quiet, kind-hearted woman, in the fullest sense of the term—for a good woman is rather to be chosen than great riches I am sure I am voicing the sentiments of all present here when I extend to you the good wishes for your happiness in your future home in Peterboro As a token of respect we beg you to acept this reading lamp and electric iron, and hope they will make your lives brigher and easier.

"Signed on behalf of the company by John Hodsan and Albert E. Crowley."

The Reply.

After the address was read, Mr. Weir made a very pleasing reply. He commenced by sayinv, ti is usual in speaking to a company to commence by saying ladies and gentlemen, but I prefer to use a more endearing term and I say Friends, for surely you have always been friends to us, and for my wife and myself I bid you a hearty welcome. We are very pleased and feel grateful to have you all come to spend an evening with us on this the eve of our departure from this neighborhood. There are two things we regret: One is in leaving our kind neighbors, but we are not going very far away and we will always be in touch with most of you. The other is in leaving our beautiful home. We can say with the piet:

"We have taught our hearts the way to prise our home, sweet home,
We have learned to look with lovers' eyes on home, sweet home."

But we are not feeling gloomy about going, for Captain Carson is leaving us a beautiful home on Romaine street in Peterboro, and in a choice locality.

In looking back over the past fifty-three years we have much to be very thankful for and we can trply say that our lines have been cast in pleasant places. The uniform kindness of all our neighbors have been such that we have never had a dispute or even a disagreement with an yof them; we have not only enjoyed their pleasant company but we have also enjoyed the best of good health. Neither of us have been sick an hour since we were married, and for my part I was never sick. Not even the mumps or measles o hooping couph or smallpox ever came my way. In looking over some ol dfamily records a week ago I find it was a hundred years ago that my father and mother came to Otonabee, and my father lived to be 91 years old and he was never sick and hour—so the doctors did not make much out of our family. Now, friends, I assure you it is with a deep sense of thankfulness we receive the beautiful and useful gifts. Some of you have been at our silver wedding and also at our golden wedding, and the only way we can show our gratitude is by giving you all a standing invitation to our diamond wedding.

After partaking of a sumptuous supper provided by Mrs. Weir, the amusements and dancing went on till half past three in the morning when the party broke up after having had a real jolly good time. Mr. and Mrs. Weir will reside at 181 Romaine St.—Com.

HUNGARIAN PEACE TREATY WAS DISCUSSED.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 12. — The Earl of Derby, British Ambassador to France, attended the Council of Ambassadors here this morning.

The Hungarian Treaty was the sole matter under discussion, all other questions being excluded.

THE STRIKE.

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 12. —The Post Office Department to-day announced that it will take vigorous action" if there is any interference with transportation of mail as a result of the strike.

DEPLORABLE DEPRAVITY OF YOUNG GIRLS AND BOYS

SASKATOON, April 9. — Declaring our public schools were nurseries for budding criminals, Dr. C. K. Clarke, Dean of the Medical Faculty of the University of Toronto, told 800 teachers in convention here today that upon them fell the duty of saving the race from juvenile delinquency. Speaking particularly of knowledge brought to his attention in Toronto public schools, Dr. Clarke mentioned incidents of thirteen year old girls being unmarried mothers, and others of the same age commencing lives of shame. He said that even students of sociology would be shocked with the worst cases which had come to his attention. Even at the tender ages of twelve and thirteen girls were found suffering from venereal diseases.

Boys too, he added, were found who had acquired habits associated by most people with only the most hardened moral perverts. He ascribed feeble mindedness as the biggest contributory factor.

PETERBORO DEALERS EXPERIENCE A BIG INCREASE IN BICYCLE TRADE

YOUNG PETERBORO RESPONSIBLE FOR SOME OF THE INCREASE— PRICES HIGHER.

That the bicycle has come into its own again during the last couple of years, after a period when it had been cast aside in favour of motor cycles and automobiles, is, in the opinion of a well-known local dealer. 1898 was the big year in the bicycle trade, and in that year the bicycling craze, which had developed so suddenly, reached a climax. For many years the trade remained at a standstill, but gradually declined as motor-driven vehicles came into common use.

During the war years, bicycling came back again, due to many reasons; perhaps the most important of which was the higher wages paid workers, putting a bicycle within the reach of all, particularly the small boy, to whom the possession of a bicycle is ever a great desire. A local dealer traced his increased sales in the last couple of years to the wheels sold to youngsters who are paid wages which a few years ago would have been considered good pay for a grown-up. The increased upkeep of an automobile has reacted favourably on the bicycle trade, and the passing of the motor cycle, because of its clumsiness and many drawbacks compared to a car, is also traceable to the increased use of the bicycle.

The simplicity of its construction, compared to other vehicles, its lightness, compactness and its ease of operation and its ability to go nearly any place have been given more thought of late, and until an airplane propelled by one's own motive force is invented, the bicycle will remain as the ideal means of self-transportation.

And so the bicycle has returned stronger than ever, and it is an enlightening fact to the general public that last year the manufacturers sold more bicycles than in the bumper year of 1898.

"This," said one of the dealers, "is remarkable when it is considered that up to 1898 there had been comparatively few bicycles manufactured, whereas now there is hardly a home without one. The natural inference would be, that since the life of a good bicycle is long, the sale would decline, yet it shows a marked increase.

LADIES' WHEELS.

The use of ladies' wheels has come in again, and the dealers are selling more ladies' bicycles this year than have been sold for many years. Ladies' bicycling may become fashionable again.

Bicycles have only increased about 30 per cent. above pre-war prices, while other commodities have shot up from 100 to 300 per cent. A far better wheel can be bought for from $50 to $65 now than could be got for $120 in 1898.

The dealers report that so far the sale of bicycles show that last year's figures will be equalled, if not exceeded. The higher street car fares now generally prevailing throughout Canada has furthered bicycle sales, and with the somewhat erratic service workers in factories and shops have seen the time saved with a wheel. The greater tendency to open-air exercise, resulting from the war and physical training, has created many bicycle enthusiasts.

Last year the epidemic of strikes in the middle of the selling season disrupted the sales, so that this year a record business is anticipated.

QUEBEC WOMAN HAD SUFFERED 18 YEARS

TANLAC GAVE ME HEALTH AND STRENGTH AND JOY SAYS, MRS. MADDISON.

"I was so run down that I was thinking of quitting work," said Mrs. Edward Maddison, who is the superintendent of the girls' department of the Rock City's Tobacco's Company's factory in Quebec, when seen by the Tanlac representative at her home, 31 Smith Street, Quebec, recently.

"For 18 years I have suffered from nervous indigestion with all its distressing accompaniments of excessive gas, dizziness and bad headaches but lately it had got very much worse. I was eating scarcely enough to keep body and soul together and got very thin. Neuralgia pains drove me almost to distraction and the rheumatism in my arms was so severe that I could hardly use them. My sleep was also disturbed and broken and in the mornings I felt tired and weary. I began to see that if I did not soon find a remedy for my condition I would soon collapse. I must have tried nearly every remedy that the druggists sell but they never helped me one particle.

"I had read in the papers about how people had derived great benefit from Tanlac, so I thought that I would put it to the test. I do indeed congratulate myself on doing so because it has helped me wonderfully. I have now taken four bottles of the medicine and this it what it has done for me. My appetite is splendid and I not only enjoy my food but find that I can digest it without difficulty. I no longer have dizzy spells when at my work and the neuralgia and the rheumatism have completely disappeared. I sleep soundly and rise in the mornings feeling refreshed. The color has come back into my cheeks and my complexion is much improved. I have gained a great deal in weight and truly I feel altogether better both in body and in spirits. I give you these facts gladly for Tanlac has given me health and strength and joy at a time when I was a much discouraged woman by my bad state of health."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

FARMERS SAY SNOW IS WORTH THOUSANDS

WOODSTOCK, April 10.—Farmers are hailing with delight the fall of snow which has covered the wheat and other grain fields of the vicinity. They claim it will mean many thousands of dollars in protection and production of their crops. The wheat and clover came through the winter in excellent condition, and the snow has come in the nick of time to save the roots from the frost, and will also act as a fertilizer as the ground was exceptionally dry.

HEART SO BAD

WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yatem-n, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines, and took several different kinds but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them. Before I had taken more than two boxes I could see that they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me and I advise anyone troubled with their heart to try them as I am confident they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MAIN ROADS HAVE SURVIVED WINTER'S RAVAGES IS REPORT

Reports from rural districts indicate that the main roads will soon be in good condition for ordinary use. It is reported that the various roadways have weathered the winter season in good style, and comparatively little repair work will be necessary as a result of the action of frost and floods during the past months. One year ago many of the main roads were badly damaged because of the lack of a protecting mantle of snow.

The absence of snow during the winter of 1918-19 also had the effect of encouraging the use of waggons and automobiles throughout the season, with the result that the road surfaces were under constant wear. The lack of snow also permitted the frost to break up the surfaces to a considerable extent, it is declared. In other words, the presence of heavy snow is really a blessing in disguise in one respect at least, in that the covering protects the road surface from frost and also provides a special coating on which sleighs, waggons, automobiles and other traffic can travel without touching the actual road pavement.

The snow has passed off gradually this spring, it is declared, leaving the highways in comparatively good condition. This will mean that highway construction and improvement can be undertaken quickly. In fact, practically all attention can be devoted to entirely new work on the roads under provincial, county, and local direction. At this time last year the roads were in very bad condition, many of them being knee-deep with mud and badly cut up. In some portions of the province announcements have already been made that long stretches of country highways are already fit for comfortable travel.

BUILD HOUSES FOR SOLDIERS WITHOUT 10 PER CENT. DEPOSIT

City Council To Be Approached in Matter.

LONDON, April 10.—London's city council will likely be approached to authorize the building of houses for returned soldiers without the deposit of a ten per cent. guarantee, as required from other citizens. Ed. Lance, secretary of the Soldiers' Aid Commission has received word from J. A. Ellis, provincial housing inspector, that the housing act permits this.

Aches Quickly ceases Soreness.
Aches Disappears under Ease.
Aches Weariness ceases Strength.

In the spring when you're "all in"—fagged out—blood thin, if you will turn to Nature's remedy, a tonic made from wild roots and herbs, which has stood fifty years as the best spring tonic—you will find strength restored. No need to tell you it's Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, put up in tablet or liquid form, and sold by every druggist in the land. After a hard winter—shut up indoors, your blood needs a temperance tonic, a tissue-builder and blood-maker such as this "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's.

SAMIA, ONT.—"I was in a very bad condition. I could not eat without feeling distressed. Had indigestion so badly I was always in misery. I had liver trouble as well, and the two just put me 'down and out' for about five years. I had many good doctors but got no relief. I took Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and before I had taken two bottles I was much improved, and in less than six months I was well. I could eat anything and do my work with pleasure." —Mrs. ALVIN RAMOSE, 325 Durand St.

MONDAY, APRIL 12TH, 1920.

THE MOTOR SHOW.

The Peterborough Motor Show, successfully inaugurated several years ago, and launched during the war in aid of the Red Cross, promises to become an annual event, so successful has been its record and so great the public interest aroused. This year, as last, the proceeds are in aid of the Peterborough Health Association, and many well known citizens are giving freely of their time, money and energy to make the 1920 show a record-breaker, delighting in the opportunity to serve because of their conviction that the work of the Health Association merits the heartiest support and encouragement that can be given it by a grateful city.

To what has already been said in these columns about this week's show, which opens on Wednesday, the Examiner can only add that the event and the cause for which it is being held, are both worthy of the patronage of the citizens and that visitors to the armouries on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will find much that is educative and entertaining. Motor car owners can do much to assist in the success of the opening day by taking part in Wednesday night's parade, which the committee hope to make the finest of its kind that has been held here. Every citizen who has his car in commission should line up on this occasion and help to get the big show off to a flying start.

A WASTED EFFORT.

Some of the leaders of the various returned soldiers' associations have announced that they intend to meet the government's refusal to pay any further cash bonuses to the veterans with a challenge to fight a general election with the gratuity question as the chief issue. The veterans would be only wasting their time in adopting that course, for it is clear that the government would not risk an election on any issue at the present time, nor will they face the people under any consideration until the end of their term if by hook or crook they can remain in office that long. The Administration will ignore any challenge, the acceptance of which would lead to an election, and the veterans would be well advised not to expect any results from a campaign that has as its aim the dissolution of Parliament.

On the other hand a general election at this time would be no test of popular opinion on the gratuity question for the simple reason that if the people were given a chance to rout the Union government they would undoubtedly do so, no matter what issues were involved in the campaign. There would be no opportunity of judging what the country really thought of the cash bonus plan for that question would be forgotten in the desire to get rid of the present administration.

EXHIBITION PARK.

Citizens who are accustomed to grumble that the Exhibition grounds are of use only three or four days in the year should visit the Park on a Saturday afternoon and they will perhaps find occasion to change their minds. In spite of the Arctic breezes on Saturday the grounds were the mecca of hundreds of citizens, and at one stage in the afternoon there were two football games and a baseball practice going on at once. Peterborough with all its parks, is poorly furnished with athletic grounds. Nicholls Oval looks after the requirements of the northern part of the city fairly well, and those in the centre have Riverside park, but without the Exhibition grounds the citizens of the rapidly growing south ward would be without an opportunity to indulge in athletic sports. The directors of the Industrial Exhibition have recognized this fact, and with commendable public spirit have made, and will continue to make, improvements in the grounds for the benefit of the city's athletes. Two splendid football pitches have been provided, one near the eastern end of the park and the other inside the half mile track. It is the intention of the directors to disc harrow and roll these sections of the grounds, and they will provide two admirable fields for the soccer players: What has already been accomplished indicates what could be done if Exhibition park were owned by the city.

In addition to being the finest Exhibition grounds in the country, it could be made an athletic ground of which any city in Canada might well be proud. The directors have the ideal always before them of making the property an asset of daily value to the people, and their vision of a few years ago is coming ever nearer, judging by the transformation that has already been made. The change in the eastern part of the grounds where not so long ago the boys of the south end endeavoured to play baseball on a hillocky sand pit, circumscribed by sheep pens and cattle rings, is an indication of what can be done. The unsightly judging rings have disappeared, the ground has been cleared and levelled, and the result is a fine athletic field, that will be better still when the plans of the directors are fully completed.

A baseball diamond with bleacher seats for the spectators, and the converting of one of the new buildings into a skating rink in the winter are some of the improvements that the management have in mind.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The feud between the weather man and the makers of spring bonnets is a long drawn-out affair.

There did not seem to be much consolation in the old rhyme about April showers and May flowers yesterday.

"OTHER MEN'S SHOES" 50c. THE PAIR WHERE?

MUCH TO BE DONE YET.

The Dominion government has reiterated its decision of last year not to grant any further cash bonus to the returned soldiers. The announcement, while disappointing to the various veterans' associations, should not cause much surprise, for there has been no indications in the utterances of members of the government to show that there has been any change of mind since last year.

The financial condition of the country and the suspicion that public opinion on the whole was not behind the demand for an indiscriminate gratuity system undoubtedly were factors that assisted the government in arriving at a decision. But because the people were not unanimous in favouring cash bonuses for the veterans, the government should not get the impression that the country is satisfied that everything that could be done for the men who fought and their dependents has been done. The administration of the pension system needs to be revised; the scale of pension allowances must be increased to meet the cost of living. The men who were totally disabled in the war must be provided with pensions ample enough to keep them in comfort, and the wives and children of the soldiers who did not come back must not be allowed to suffer because of inadequate allowances. A special committee of the House is to consider these questions, and public opinion, as expressed by many members of Parliament and by the press from one end of Canada to the other, demands that defects in the present system be removed and that justice be done to those who have been hardest hit by the war.

One of the questions that the committee might consider and that might have been strongly pressed by the associations of returned soldiers, is the advisability of extending to the wives and widowed mothers of the soldiers who were killed, the benefit of the gratuity system that was devised for the soldiers who came home. Every member of the C.E.F. who served overseas was given a gratuity on discharge that reached a maximum of $600 in the case of a married private. There is no logical reason why, in the case of men who made the supreme sacrifice, the gratuity they would have been given had they been spared to come home, should not be paid to their dependents. In most instances there is need of such assistance and at all events the including of wives and mothers would have only been an act of justice.

The war veterans want the government to go to the country. So does everybody else— except the government.

Voice Of The People

Dear Sir: The Housing Question is one of vital importance and its cost to the man who is about to build, and especially the man of limited means is a matter that should not be dealt with in a careless, slipshod, superficial manner.

The man who is not technically familiar with building is entitled to cost information that will not be disappointing or misleading. The rapid rise of prices in many lines of building material, together with the increased cost of labor, makes unrevised data six months old wholly unreliable.

In Saturday's issue a correspondent gives an itemized account of a house that cost $3826.60, and states that the cost can be greatly reduced by eliminating "dispensible" features. With a plainly constructed house you cannot reduce the cost to any great extent by the process of elimination and what you do is to practically spoil the job in the sense of having a desirable home, besides increasing the total cost eventually. Take this house and eliminate the cellar floor	$ 55

The hardwood floors	82
The heating	250
The evetroughing	21
Cut down the painting	50
If you can do so and still have the essentials, cut the plumbing	100
Total	$358

Allowing for extra cost to merely provide for heating in the future, and the cost of pine floor in lieu of subfloor provided for the eliminated hardwood, this house, even at the prices then prevailing, would have cost over $3300.

With plain 3-8 inch birch flooring $150 per thousand, ordinary pine flooring $75 per thousand, rough hemlock $57 to $60 per thousand, veneer brick $24 per thousand; laborers' wages 50c per hour, carpenters 80c; bricklayers, 85c with the probability of $1; the question is not what a house cost last season but what it will cost now, with paint $7 per gal., lath, $20 per thousand, when every laid brick on veneer work almost means a nickel, and every lath a postage stamp, talk of building a comfortable house for $2000, is utter nonsense.

With the utmost economy a six room house will cost about $4000, under the present conditions, if shack methods of construction are to be avoided with their consequent costly coal bills.

The worst feature of this superficial class of information is that working men have been trapped into buying a lot only to realize when too late that they cannot afford to build and the lot is only an additional bill of expense on their hands.

By all means let us encourage those to build, who can reasonably afford to do so, but avoid statements that to the uninitiated can only mean despondency, disappointment and loss.

Yours truly,
BUILDER.

ESTABLISHMENT OF RENT TRIBUNALS

Proposal of the Ontario Minister of Labour.

TORONTO, April 9. —"Establishment of rent courts may prove a solution of the problem of high rents in Ontario, The proposal of Hon. Walter Rollo, Minister of Labour, today, is to give municipalities throughout the province the authority to appoint local courts with power to regulate rents. "The courts would be appointed and constituted along line of courts of revision," he said. "They would receive applications from tenants who felt they were being charged an excesive rent, or had landlords who desired to increase their rents. The court would determine what constituted a fair rent for property in question and both parties would be bound by their finding with the right to appeal to a higher court. Publicity attendant on this system would help check rent profiteering."

Steak, chop, roast and chicken bones will keep in cold weather and any or all can be put into the soup pot.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

GREAT NEWS FOR SANDRA

Chapter xciv.

The next afternoon Irma Barton called to inquire after me. I was sure then that Everett had been with her the evening before yet I greeted her cordially. I had told Hetty to ask her to come upstairs for a moment—I would ask her what she had intended to tell me the day I had luncheon with her.

"I was so sorry to hear of your accident," Mrs. Graham," she said in greeting. "Everett told me that you knocked the candle against your negligee. You will have to follow my example and use a small night lamp instead of a candle, even it is isn't so artistic. I set the boudoir afire one night and nearly burned the house down. Since then I never use a candle."

I was very grateful to Everett for making any explanation unnecessary. So we chatted a while. Then I reminded her that she had told me she wanted to say something to me, and I had gone home without knowing what it was.

"Oh, yes ,I remember," she said after a moment.

"Of course you know that your husband and I have been friends for years—before you were born," she added whimsically, "although I awfully hate to admit it. Makes me out an old woman, doesn't it? I knew Leola, as I told you—knew and loved her, although I also knew her faults. Everett realized that he did not make her entirely happy although she loved him, and he humoured her beyond all reason. His greatest fear is that he will not succeed in making you happy. He loves you very tenderly—more, I think, that he ever loved Leola. But in his anxiety to do what is best for you—so different from the way he did with Leola—he thinks you misunderstand him often and do not care for him as you would did he give you your way. Wait a minute—I have thought at times you might resent his calling on me, joining us at bridge, etc., I hope that you don't. He is a great friend of the man I am to marry very soon and so I feel free to ask him once in a while to come to us as he used to. We would have asked you also but our parties are often late ones and he"—

"Oh, I know. I don't play a good game at all and he would be embarrassed to have me," I interrupted, so happy that she was going to be married and that the cause of my jealousy would be removed. I could think of nothing else—also glad to exonerate Everett from what had always been neglect in my thoughts but which my pride would not let me acknowledge as such to Mrs. Barton.

"Then that's settled. I hope we may be good friends some day even though I am old enough to be your mother," she said smilingly as she rose to go. She looked so absurdly young, so stylish, and so dainty that I laughed heartily and told her that she did not look to be a day over 25.

"Thank you, my dear. I am going to kiss you for that,' and she blew me a kiss from the tips of her fingers as she stood in the doorway.

I settled back among the pillows with a happy sigh. I would tell Everett she had called but I decided not to tell him what she had said. I imagined that she wouldn't want me to, and then it had been good of her to explain things as she had. I was hurt that Everett left me to play bridge or to spend the evening having any sort of pleasure in which I could not join. But I had not let her see it and so was pleased with myself. What she had said about Everett—that he had cared for me perhaps more than he had for Leola—was compensation enough for one day.

I had yet to learn that married people are far happier if they aren't constantly together too intimately associated. That a man gets tired, a woman stale, unless they occasionally separate. Sometimes now I think if we could all live once, then go through a process of reincarnation so that we might retrieve our blunders we would be a race of supermen and women. Then I thought if a person loved another it was only the natural thing to want to be with that other every moment—to share their thoughts and to exclude anything which even occasionally kept them apart.

We have to live to learn to live—is a true saying, but unappreciated by youth.

To-morrow: Irma Barton's Story.

USING UP THE HOG

Not Even a Hair of Him Is Wasted by the Big Packers.

GOOD PROFIT IN THE OFFAL.

It Yields as Great a Financial Return as Do the Main Food Products of the Carcass—How the Various Parts of the Animal Are Utilized.

There is a use for everything that is removed from a hog. After years of experimenting packers have reduced their business to such a system that they realize as much profit from the offal as they do from the main carcass.

The meat of a hog is from 70 to 80 per cent of the live weight. The 20 to 30 per cent that is classed as offal makes the money for the packers. Exclusive of condemnations by government inspectors, about 17 per cent of each carcass is lost at various stages of dressing and by evaporation in processing and curing, so that really only about 60 per cent actually goes into cuts to be retailed to the consumer. The various cuts—hams, bacon, loins, spareribs and pork sides—are the main products.

Among the edible byproducts is pepsin, which is derived from the stomach of the hog. The liver is used for food as it is taken from the body, and it is also made into liver sausage. Brains are prepared in many ways. Tongues find their way into the making of canned and pickled meats. Hearts are used in sausage.

Tails, snouts and ears are rich in gelatin or glue, but most of them are sold for boiling with kraut and other vegetables and are much in favor with lovers of boiled meals. Kidneys enter into the fresh meat trade or when the supply is too large are frozen or canned.

Neutral is a specially prepared lard, largely used abroad, and in this country an important ingredient in the manufacture of oleomargarine. Lard proper is not commonly called a byproduct of the hog; it is one of the primary products. About 15 per cent of the average hog goes into the making of lard. The demand for lard has increased greatly during the past few years. It is now used commonly in cooking in place of butter. Part of the lard is further processed into lard oil and stearine, the former used as a lubricant and for illuminating purposes, the latter entering into the manufacture of lard compounds, chewing gum, soft candles, fancy toilet soaps and other toilet preparations.

Small quantities of blood are used in the making of blood puddings, but most of it is dried and ground into blood meal, a popular ration with poultry raisers as well as a feed for calves that are being fed on skimmilk.

Stomachs are used as sausage containers, the lining first being removed and used as a source of pepsin. The "black" or curly intestines of the hog are carefully cleaned, processed and made into chitterlings, an inexpensive food that is fried like oysters, much in favor with colored people.

Seven per cent of the weight of the hog is represented in nonedible byproducts in the raw state, which are afterward manufactured into glue, soap, glycerin, blood meal, tankage, curled hair and fertilizer. In the finished state these products represent about 4½ per cent of the hog's weight, the balance being lost in evaporation.

The rinds from skinned hams and bacon, as well as the back skin of the hog, are saved. Pigskin is used in athletic goods.

Hair enters into many lines of manufacture. A large part is used in the making of brushes, and the finer the bristle the higher priced brush is produced. It is also curled and used for upholstering.

The waste waters are evaporated to a thick brown wax known as "stick" because of its adhesive properties. It is used in the manufacture of fertilizer, as it has a high nitrogen content.

Bones are used in making phosphates for baking powder and other compounds. They are also ground into poultry feed, and a large tonnage finds its way into the fertilizer trade. Bones are also burned for charcoal for use in the purification of sirups in the manufacture of sugar. Bone ash is used in making crucibles for glassmaking and metal refining.

Tankage is a bone and tissue substance that is taken from the tanks after the different parts are rendered for grease. It is used chiefly in stock and poultry feed.—Joseph M. Carroll in Country Gentleman.

DESERTED WIFE CONSULTS OUIJA; FINDS HUSBAND

ORANGE, N.J., April 7.—Samuel Elmore is in jail and he blames a ouija board. Mrs. Margaret Elmore, his wife, told the police she implored spiritualistic aid through the medium of a ouija board in locating her long-missing husband. She declared that the board directed her from New York to an address in Orange, where she found Samuel. Elmore was promptly arrested on a charge of desertion.

Ninety Per.

"John," whispered his wife. "I'm thoroughly convinced that there is a burglar downstairs."

"Well, my dear," replied her husband sleepily, "I hope you don't expect me to have the courage of your convictions."

The Ironic Game.

"You can't fool all the people all the time."

"You don't need to. If you can fool half of the people some of the time you can make a good living."

Proving It.

An editor said of a certain local politician: "We will not call him an ass. We will print his speech."

Scotland Yard.

Scotland Yard, so often mentioned in connection with London police items, was a building at the southeastern corner of Charing Cross, long famous as the headquarters of the metropolitan police force. It was so called because it was once a palace set apart from the time of Henry II (1154) as the residence of Scottish kings on visits. New Scotland Yard is on the Thames embankment.

"HELLO GIRL" WINS $10,000 BRIDEGROOM

Captures Heart of Soldier Who Is Left Dowry Provided He Marries in 40 Days.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., April 7.—Although Sergt. Edward J. Seitz, native of Buffalo, N.Y., has received more than 300 proposals of marriage from girls all over the world, it remained for a petite little Leominster telephone operator to capture the heart of the tall overseas veteran and incidentally save a dowry of $10,000 offered by a wealthy Chicago woman.

Last February, while stationed with a medical detachment at Camp Devens, near here, Seitz gave out the statement that a wealthy Chicago provided he got married when he left the army. Seitz had 40 days to find the girl.

The circulation of Seitz's statement brought a flood of letters, Marie Davis, his fiancee, said. She read them all. When three letters came from the same girl, however, Miss Davis says she became angry. Then Seitz proposed to her.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS USE THE KNIVES OF FILIPINO

Bolos, huge, heavy and keen-edged knives that are swung with both hands or may be used for thrusting, were effective weapons used by Filipino soldiers in their rebellion against the United States at the expense of American lives.

Their merits were appreciated by the Americans and, at the advice of General Leonard Wood, were adopted and are in use today as a supplementary arm for the United States troops in the Philippines.

The finest and most elaborate bolos, of many different patterns and shapes, are used by the Moros of Mindanao and the Sulu Islands, who make them themselves. The Moros are skilled workers in iron, although savages. They know how to get the metal from its ores, and the production of good steel is no mystery to them. They are said to have learned these arts originally from the Arabs.

DROPS PARACHUTE CARRYING WHISKEY

Airplane Flies Over the Canadian Border Every Night into Montana.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Prohibition agents have been asked by the Washington officials to keep a sharp lookout for a mysterious airplane, which flies over the Canadian border every night into Montana, and drops a parachute. The information is that the parachute carries a quantity of whiskey, which is disposed of by bootleggers.

Aftre dropping the parachute, the airplane goes back into Canada without landing.

VERY MODERN STILL IN FARMER'S HOUSE

Much Liquor Sold Around That Vicinity Thought Made There.

ORILLIA, April 7th. — Inland Revenue Officer R. Floody to-day seized a still in the house of a farmer near Shepley Station, about nine miles from here.

It is believed that the still has been in operation for some time, and that much of the liquor retailed in the vicinity had its origin from the plant captured.

The farmer had two boilers is operation and had a very modern equipment, capable of turning out a large quantity of liquor daily. The case will come up in the courts shortly.

LAST ROMANOFFS REACH CANNES

THREE YEARS OF WANDERING AMID HARDSHIPS AND PERIL OF DEATH.

CANNES, France, April 12.—The last of the Romanoffs, relatives of the murdered ex-Tsar, have arrived here in safety after three years of wandering amid hardships and the peril of death by torture at the hands of the infuriated Revolutionist Russian peasants.

The party, numbering 59, includes, besides the relatives, a number of Nicholas Romanoff's friends.

Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna, an aunt o fthe Tsar, is the highest in rank in the party. It was her generosity in pawning diamonds worth $50,000 that enabled the refugee band to escape at last from Russia when an Italian steamer touched at Odessa where they were waiting.

Andrew Vladimirovitch, former military aide-de-camp to the Tsar, is also in the party.

After the murder of the Emperor, the Tsarina and their children, the nucleus of the crown now in Cannes, escaped from Petrograd to Moscow, whence they later fled for Odessa. Along the route they slept in box cars and hovels, picking up, from time to time, other hungry and terror-stricken members of the Romanoff family, reduced to roughing it on equal terms with the lowest of the animals.

At Odessa a British admiral was persuaded to ask his Government for a ship to take the fugitives out, but the advance of the Bolsheviki prevented. Subsequently the Italian ship came in and the Grand Duchess guaranteed the price of the trip to Italy with her jewels.

There are several grand dukes and princes in the party here, and also Madame Cessinyaka, one of the most beautiful stage women Russia knew under the old regime, who was one of the Tsarina's many favourites.

AT MARK STREET METHODIST CHURCH

LARGE CROWD AT BOTH SERVICES YESTERDAY.

Yesterday at Mark street the service in the morning was in the interests of the W.M.S., and the pastor spoke in a very complimentary way of the work and progress of this organization, and claimed that it was perhaps the greatest organized force in the world for the uplift of humanity.

The text was, "The Lord Jesus Christ for our sins, Amen," and the subject, "The Adult Scholar." The following propositions were discussed:

First—Always personal, always, in the moments of yielding, upon the conscious [illegible] of the universal [illegible] of the world [illegible] of this eternal love.

Third—From the mount of Olives and great commission go ye into all the world and teach, these are the words of Gospel light spoken when widening way over the world.

Fourth—Every church, worthy of the name, is and always has been missionary in its spirit and activities.

Fifth—The work of the W.M.S. is unique in that they have a particular commission. Men have no place in this work, they look foolish. There are about 200,000,000 women and girls in the harems and zenanas of the heathen world, who will never hear the gospel only from the lips of Christian women.

Sixth—The work is gathering momentum as the years go by, and there is a place for every Christian woman in this great society.

Evening Service.

The evening congregation was very large and about 20 well trained voices took part in the music. The solos by Mrs. A. Quinn were much appreciated. The text of the evening sermon was, "Fight the Good Fight of Faith," 1 Tim. vi:12, and the following points were taken up by the pastor.

First — The Roman Colosseum, with its eighty thousand spectators, its growling wild beasts and the lone warrior standing in the midst of the arena awaiting the conflict to begin, is a fitting illustration of the Christian and his environment to-day.

Second—No man can possibly be true to God, himself and his fellowmen and play the game to-day without conflict.

Third—The young man finds a lion of temptation on every corner. Pool rooms, theatres, whiskey dens, dance halls, dens of vice, semi-nude butterflys in human form. This state of affairs meets him as soon as he emerges from the sanctity of his home. Who dare deny this? Who helps it on?

Fourth—The Church of God must offer the youthful soldier something better. The church must help him to fight his lion.

Fifth — Young men, fight to the death for your manhood. "Buy the truth and sell it not." Keep a record clean. Who shall estimate the value of a good name, and a clean life? Peterborough has a magnificent type of manhood, and the Church of God must be on the alert to reap this harvest for the Kingdom.

WINNIPEG WILL RUN ON STANDARD TIME.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, April 12. — There will be no monkeying with clocks in Winnipeg this summer to "save daylight." At least a canvass of the Aldermen to-day indicates a large majority will vote against the proposition if it is brought up in the council. Labor is solidly opposed to the scheme principally on the ground that under standard time darkness does not come in summer time here, owing to its northern situation, until about 10 p.m.

CRAZY TO PAY IT.

(Orillia Packet.)

In Peterborough, the other day, $12 is said to have been paid for a bottle of whiskey. The writer remembers the time when fifty cents more than that would have bought a barrel of fifty gallons. In the early sixties the wholesale price was twenty-five cents, and the ordinary reputed quart bottle was filled at the stores for ten cents. Withal, truth compels one to say, doctors were busy and undertakers were not idle.

PETER ROBINSON CHAPTER DANCE

Very delightful and informal was the "tea dansant" of the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E., held in the G. W. V. A. Rooms on Saturday afternoon. Over 200 of the young people and their friends participated in the dancing, and many of the four hundred dropped in for a cup of tea and to enjoy the musical programme.

The music of Follis' Orchestra was all that could be desired, and, coupled with the ideal floor, made a good combination. Tables, tastefully decorated with daffodils and flowers, were ranged around the hall, and between the dances coffee, cake and sandwiches were served by the girls. Those who assisted in serving were: Misses Claire Mason, Esme Aylmer, Helen MacLaren, Mamie Cottingham, Gladys Mulholland, Mrs. Webber, Kathleen O'Brien, Gladys Patterson, Beasie Mathers, Rosamond Huycke, Norah Hattpa, Mabel Patterson, Florence Mitchell, Mrs. Lemay, Mrs. Northedge Birks.

THOSE PRESENT.

Those who attended the dance will hope that more of these afternoon dances will be held.

Amongst those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Campazzie, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wearing, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. H. Vanston, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Widdess, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. E. V. Frederick, Mrs. P. Hooper, Mrs. E. G. Patterson and guest, Mrs. R. V. Copping, Misses Phyllis Robertson, Helen Stapleton, Phyllis Dawson, Agnes Carmichael, L. Shearer, Mabele Armstrong, S. Shearer, Geraldine Hooper, Maida Connere, Stephany Davidson, Lenore Sanderson, Dorothy Hill, Robina Gordon - Cummings, Margaret Turner, Georgie Stevenson, M. Hatton, Gladys Patterson, Lenore Lyle, Laura Soden, Hazel Davidson, Elizabeth McDonald, Hazel Morrow, Helen Bulmer, Seabotras Hamilton, Olive Conway, Audrey and Rosamond Huycke and guest, Lillian Moore, Daisy Stocker, Elva Jackson, Grace Primeau, Margaret Cameron, Dorothy McClellan, Irene Bates, Madeline Pulkinghorn, Grace Allin, Mae Perry, Helen Thompson, Jessie Mervin, Florence Mervin, Roberta Rightmeyer, Miss McBride of Millbrook, Vera Knox, Misses Fanning, Miss Nagle, Miss Reid, Miss Pierce of New York, Miss Urquhart, Misses Cameron and Miss Agnes Eastwood, and Miss Georgie Clementi.

Messrs. A. Stevenson, R. Stevenson, M. Brownscombe, J. A. Ritchie, W. Evans, W. McWilliams, K. Anderson, H. Young, A. McIntosh, R. Morrow, A. Sharpe, H. Yelland, H. Rush, D. Lavrie, D. Hatton, W. Eastwood, Reginald Stratton, G. Matthews, G. McClellan, W. Savage, H. Tudhope, F. Skinner, A. Forrye, F. Moran, G. Logan, D. Loucks, H. Bender, O. Gliddon, R. Dickson, R. Hamilton, B. Hamilton, H. Adams, G. H. Hutchinson, O. Cunningham, H. Hall, J. Turner, J. Fanning, N. Risher, H. Bradburn, W. Carpenter, A. McClure, S. Roots, F. Primeau, M. Callen, C. E. Harkness, H. McClelland, F. Johnston, D. Munro, A. Elliott, F. Green, R. Breckenbridge, B. Patterson, G. Stevens, H. Wilger, P. Drope, W. Perks, Mr. Porter, M. Knox, K. Kirn, Mr. Nagle, and Mr. Ken Poole.

A FOOLISH DEAL.

An Oshawa man, the Reformer says, sold his home, and then set out to find another to buy or rent. The result was that within a few days he bought back the house he had sold, at an advance of a thousand dollars.

CAPT. CARSON ENFORCING LAWS

Capt. Carson, of Peterborough, game and fisheries overseer, visited Minden on Wednesday last. The department is desirous and determined that the game laws shall be observed. Capt. Carson is a man on the job, and if his efforts in other parts are any indication, the game laws in Haliburton county will be rigidly enforced. All persons trapping, hunting, buying or selling furs must first obtain a license. Fishing on Sunday is strictly forbidden. Sportsmen and others catching and taking more fish than the law permits will be strictly looked after. The community are advised to take notice. Capt. Carson does no wish to be over zealous but he is determined to enforce the law.—Minden Echo.

The Hoover Disproves An Old Proverb

The old proverb is "You can't do two things at once and and do them well." This may have been true before the birth of The Hoover Electric Suction Sweeper, but it is not true to-day, for this peerless machine does more than two things at once. It does three—and does them efficiently. It beats—as it sweeps—as it cleans.

It is not called a vacuum cleaner because it does not depend upon suction alone.

It flutters the rug on a cushion of air and beats and sweeps it besides suction-cleaning it.

It straightens the crushed nap of the rug and makes it like new.

It dislodges deeply embedded grit and picks up the finest particles of lint.

In brief, it prolongs the life of your rugs and promotes economy.

EXHIBITION BOARD WILL HOLD A FIELD DAY ON MAY 24TH

MEETING HELD ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON—BOARD WILL CONSIDER ERECTION OF A POULTRY BUILDING.

The Exhibition Board of Directors met on Saturday afternoon in the Board of Trade Rooms, and as this was the last meeting it will be possible to hold for some time, considerable discussion took place on exhibition affairs. President R. Dennis occupied the chair, with some twenty other members present.

When the request from the Gun Club for the use of the grounds for shooting came up it caused much comment. It was alleged that the shooting was a nuisance to residents in that district. A motion carried that the secretary write the secretary of the Gun Club, advising them that they couldn't see their way clear to allow them to shoot there.

Mr. G. W. Fraser moved, seconded by Mr. Wood, that the matter of moving the frame house next to the Henry House Co. presented to the Board to the Exhibition Grounds and setting up the same be left in the hands of the Building Committee, with power to act. Mr. R. H. Turner, chairman, wrote a letter to the Board on this question.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The reports of all but one of the committees were in, President R. Dennis said, and he was very pleased with them. F. Hall read the report of the Light Horse Committee.

Discussion on the new proposed poultry building came up, when the President pointed out its probable position, in line with the other buildings. This position was proposed by R. H. Turner, chairman of the Building Committee. Later, Mr. Turner dropped in to the meeting and said it should be north of the stable, right in line with the other buildings.

The Board has nearly sufficient lumber to build it. A shed last year cost them $60, and it will be much cheaper to have a building.

Mr. Turner would leave a waggon track between it and the horse barn. After much discussion, Mr. Steinbrenner moved that the matter of the location of the poultry barn be left to the Building Committee. The motion carried.

The question is, are we going to run the Fair on the 24th of May? The Veterans last year made $745.

"That will be very nice for our cattle barn," said Mr. Steinbrenner.

Mr. Webber wanted to know if the baseball and lacrosse games that the boys planned to have on the grounds would interfere with any days the Board held as a sports day. One of the members stated that the boys were drawing up a schedule, which would be looked over by the Board. Mr. Fraser suggested that the boys, for the use of the grounds in practising, be asked to play an exhibition game on May 24.

Moved by Mr. Oke, seconded by Mr. Steinbrenner, that the committee be notified that the Board intends to put on a day's sport on May 24.

Mr. Dennis expressed regret at the death of Mr. H. Winch and Mr. R. J. Moore, who always acted in the horse races, and he suggested that a message of condolence be sent to their families.

It was moved that a message of condolence be sent to their widows.

Mr. C. Graham, Mr. Geo. White and Mr. J. H. Brooks were suggested as their successors, to work with Mr. Webber Turner on the Amusement Committee.

The secretary will write these men, asking them to act in their places.

The meeting adjourned about 3.45.

RESCUING BERTIE FROM BERLIN

(Fiction daily becomes more technical and more inaccurate; with which preliminary observation, and without any apologies to the daily, weekly or monthly press, the following story is inflicted upon a long-suffering public.)

Rupert and Bertie had been bosom friends ever since—as "joysticks"—they had together learnt to fly at Adastral House. Rupert was, perhaps, the finest pilot that even this celebrated school has yet produced. Few could fly so high or so fast, and none could fly so long.

Usually the first to leave the air-drome (as the big tent that houses all the machines is called), he was invariably the last to return. There could be seen no finer sight than Rupert descending in a spinning nose-dive.

Bertie was nearly as good a pilot, but he suffered from laziness, and would frequently let Rupert tow him home rather than have the trouble of flying his "motor bus" himself.

Many were the adventures these two had in their joyburys over Potsdam. Sometimes they would meet with a Fokker, as our aviators call the gigantic German triplanes, and then—pausing only to light cigarettes—they would bank toward the foe and send them crashing to the earth, using either the deadly incendiary bombs or the camera-gun, which shoots and photographs the enemy simultaneously.

It is hardly necessary to say that both had been decorated. Bertie with the Military Order and Rupert with the Distinguished Service Cross.

One morning Rupert walked into the dining mess. He was the "quirk," or junior flight-lieutenant in the wing, yet such was the respect he inspired that all rose on his entrance.

"Cheero, old things!" said Rupert. "Where is Bertie?"

"On duty, I fancy!" replied a grave looking flight-sergeant, "for I heard him order his 'plane.'" Rupert touched the bell—a subaltern appeared.

"My Bleriot, please, at once!" he cried, as he donned his goggles. Rupert saluted and left the dining mess.

When he reached the "hangar," or flying ground, willing hands were at work on his aeroplane; one man was inflating the wings, another was doping the carburator, while others were seeing to the thousand and one things so necessary before a flight is made. Rupert climbed into his seat and adjusted his parachute.

"Switch off!" cried the head air mechanic, who had the reputation of being the best squadron commander in the Royal Flying Service. "Contact!" answered Rupert, who was always scrupulously particular in these little matters of drill. The engine gave a roar and he left the ground.

Up and up he soared until he was but a speck to the watchers below. He glanced at his "pilot tube"—the needle pointed to 10,000 feet. He lighted his pipe and lay back comfortably in his seat, as the "plane" headed straight for Berlin. "I wonder where old Bertie is?" he kept saying to himself, but not a sign could be seen of Bertie or his fast Wright monoplane.

An hour's steady flying brought him to the Prussian capital. For some time he hung motionless, scanning the busy streets below. Then suddenly his gaze became rigidly fixed on the Unter den Linden. Surely he knew that smile! Yes, it was Bertie! His chum was being led in chains to some place of execution. With Rupert, to see was to think—to think to act. Pushing forward his throttle and closing his control lever, he dropped like a stone. When within a few feet of the ground, he looped twice to attract Bertie's attention.

"Quick, Bertie!" he shouted. "There is not a moment to lose."

Recognizing his chum, with a shout of joy, Bertie turned around quickly and stunned the nearest of his escort with the butt end of his sword; the man fell dead. Meanwhile, Rupert, steering his aeroplane with one hand, with the other took a machine-gun from its holster and shot the remainder of the escort with unerring accuracy.

"Jump in, old hat!" shouted Rupert, and then he remembered Bertie's chains. There was only one thing to be done. "Stand quite still, Bertie!" he cried, and took careful aim. There was a loud report, the noise of falling fetters, and his friend stood free. Without waiting to be told, Bertie vaulted over the empennage and into the tail boom, where he calmly sat down and lighted a cigarette. Rising in a steep spiral, Rupert headed for home. The game was won!

They landed and went straight in to dinner.

"Did you manage to wangle any stalls?" asked the sergeant-major.

"A few," answered Bertie.

"And you enjoyed yourselves?"

"Oh! Not half!" responded Rupert with a merry laugh.

WOMEN WILL TELL OF THE GAY LIFE ALONG THE GREAT WHITE WAY

NEW YORK, April 10.—The story of gay life along the great white way, which will be told the regular grand jury here by Rev. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Church, whose sensational charges in an Easter sermon led Mayor Hylan to order a fifth vice investigation, will be rivaled by that of women social workers, according to Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith.

These women, it was learned, have for some time been investigating conditions in dance halls and cabarets. Mrs. Grace Humiston, a lawyer, is expected to be the most important witness. It is reported three society women will corroborate her story of night life in New York's "tenderloin."

POILU NOT A LITTLE MAN.

Average Height of 288,437 Conscripts Was 5 Feet 5½ Inches.

PARIS—The French Minister of War publishes figures showing that the traditional idea of the French "Poilu" as a little man is without foundation.

In 1914 the Ministry says the average height of the 288,437 conscripts who presented themselves for service was 5 feet 5½ inches. Naturally, the greatest number, some 19,076 measured about the average for the whole, i. e., 5 feet 5 inches. In 1914 only 1,-833 men of 5 feet or less were passed for service, though as the war went on the number increased.

WATCH YOUR GUMS—BLEEDING A SIGN OF TROUBLE

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the fore-runners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which affects four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons generated at their base—poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. They cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and many other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

MAKE PUBLIC UTILITIES PAY MUNICIPAL TAXES

BILL OF C. F. SWAYZE WOULD HIT HYDRO HEAVILY AT NIAGARA FALLS.

TORONTO, April 10.—A sweeping abolition of exemptions of public property from municipal taxation is proposed by C. F. Swayze, the Labour member for Niagara Falls.

The bill proposes to tax for municipal purposes, all real and personal property owned or leased by the Federal Government, Provincial Government, or municipal corporation, or by a commission acting for any of them when used in connection with a public utility.

The Provincial Hydro is opposed to the measure, because it is exempted at Niagara Falls to the extent of $93,000 taxes, yearly, on the property of the Ontario Power Company. If the Hydro owned the company outright, it would have to pay this amount, it is said, but it does not own six shares of the company's stock, and leases the property from the company. The lease gives its exemption from municipal taxation, which Mr. Swayze says is a serious matter for the town.

A Drastic Change.

The main clause of the bill provides:

"Notwithstanding anything in the Assessment Act, the Power Commission Act, or any Act contained, all the real or personal property owned or leased or controlled by or vested in the Crown in a municipal corporation or commission or in trustees or in any person or body acting for or on behalf of a municipal corporation or on behalf of the Crown and operated as or used, controlled or held in connection with the operation of a public utility shall be liable to assessment and taxation for municipal and school purposes including local improvement purposes in the municipality in which it is situated as if the said property belonged to a private person."

This bill defines a "public utility" as meaning "any water or water works, gas or gas works, electrical power or energy, electric heat, light or power works or distributing works of any kind, telegraph and telephone lines, railways, however operated, street railways, and works for the transmission of gas, oil, water, or electrical power or energy or any similar works supplying the general public with necessaries or conveniences."

Applies to Civic Hydro.

The bill, if passed, will increase the taxes paid by the civic Hydro, the Waterworks, and the civic carlines. The city's financial and legal departments are understood to favour such a move. At present the Hydro leases the building on Yonge Street, which thereby is exempt; otherwise taxes would be paid on it.

The civic abattoir and the Harbour Commission apparently escape the operation of the bill. It is not unlikely that the proposal to tax the personal property of the utilities will be struck out in committee.

"With the public ownership principle being more widely applied, as it should be," says Mr. Swayze, in support of his measure, "it is desirable that the principle that municipal taxes should be paid, be adopted. The Federal Government is taking over the C.N.R. and the G.T.R., and may lease some of the lines to the Hydro, but full taxation should be paid, as now. The Associated Chambers of Commerce have recommended this change in the law. A number of members on the Opposition side have promised me their support."

MURDERER ESCAPES; DUMMY IN HIS BED.

FORT FAIRFIELD, Maine, April 8. — Newman Clark, who was under arrest at an hospital at Grand Falls, N.B., charged with the murder of Miss Phoebe Bell, escaped during the night and is now being sought at Maine border points. Clark has been under treatment for wounds self inflicted after the shooting of Miss Bell a week ago.

The escape was discovered when a dummy was found in Clark's bed. The authorities said that his condition was such that he must have been assisted by someone.

After an investigation they said that apparently Clark had been helped through a window and driven off in a sleigh, which was seen later three miles south of Grand Falls, and heading for the Maine border in the vicinity of Limestone.

Paying Toll for Neglect

Needless exposure to damp and cold frequently result in a derangement of the Kidneys and Bladder.

When these important organs fail to do their duty, various evils arise, such as rheumatism, swollen hands and ankles, stiff joints, lumbago, sciatic neuralgia, stone in the bladder or gravel, excruciating pains in the back and sides, constant headaches, dizziness, specks floating before the eyes, weakness of mind without reason, and general debility.

These are signs of serious kidney and bladder trouble, which require immediate attention. The most dependable remedy is found in Gin Pills. They often prevent the operations which constant neglect may render necessary. They quickly and safely relieve congested kidneys, passing stone and gravel, healing and soothing inflamed organs and restoring them to normal. Thousands of letters from people who have been relieved are continually coming to us. Their writers often beg us to spread the good news to other sufferers that Gin Pills certainly and surely will bring the help they need. Send for free sample, or go direct to your druggist or dealer, and get a box. Money refunded if relief not given.

HOW WEAK WOMEN ARE MADE STRONG

Mrs. Westmoreland Tells in the Following Letter.

Harrison, N. Y.—"When my first child was born I did not regard Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a very hard time. I read in the newspapers about the Vegetable Compound and when my second child came I took it and was well during the whole time, and consider it was a hundred times better. Ever since then I have used it for my weakness and would not be without it for the world. I do all my work and am strong and healthy. I am cooking and baking and I owe this Vegetable Compound to good health. You may publish my testimonial for the good of other women if you desire to do so."—Mrs. C. Westmoreland, Harrison, N. Y.

Women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, nervousness, and kindred ailments should first try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, can be had at any drug store in Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

SOLDIER IS ORDERED TO ARREST HIS FATHER.

U. S. Major Sought by His Son on Bigamy Charge.

DETROIT, Mich., April 9.—Sergt. William Connelly, twenty-six years old, attached to the Military Intelligence Department at Fort Wayne, has been assigned to trace and place under arrest his own father, Major George Connelly, of the United States Medical Service, who is wanted by the military authorities in Washington on a charge of bigamy.

Sergt. Connelly declares his father has "disgraced the uniform," and says he will do his duty. He leaves for Washington to-day, taking with him a detail of three men, who will assist in the search for the missing officer.

The young sergeant says his father was attached to the Medical Department at Washington and also served for a time at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Major Connelly's first wife, the mother of Sergt. Connelly, is still living at Syracuse, and it was at her instigation that the military authorities issued the warrant for the Major's arrest.

PREPARATIONS COMPLETED FOR OPENING OF THE MOTOR SHOW

PETERBOROUGH'S MOTOR SHOW IN DETAIL.

Again the Armouries will be the scene of Peterborough's Annual Motor Show for the benefit of the Health Association's work.

The Motor Show has always been deservedly popular with both Peterborough people and visitors for its intrinsic value and because of the knowledge that the proceeds are employed in humane work.

Every year adds to the magnitude of the show; adds to the variety of the exhibits and enables the organizers to offer amusement and educational features that contribute as much to the popularity of the exhibition.

The dealers this year are showing a line up of cars: touring, sedans, runabouts, speedsters—trucks of all capacities—motor cycles, bicycles and accessories—that will compare with that of any show in the Dominion.

The following makes of cars will be exhibited: Briscoe, Chevrolet, Chalmers, Cleveland Six, Cadillac, Dodge, Essex, Ford, Grey-Dort, Hudson, Maxwell, McLaughlin, Oldsmobile, Overland, Studebaker, Willis-Knight.

Peterborough's position as a motor centre is not rivalled by any but the largest cities in the Dominion. The service facilities offered by the many well-equipped garages and service stations assures the autoist, both resident and transient, of complete service of every kind a car requires.

The battery service stations of Peterborough are praised for the high-grade service they give.

The exhibits of accessories is in keeping with the growing magnitude of the show. Everything and anything a motorist can or would need will be shown.

Several very interesting exhibits of lines that cannot be considered in a full sense as coming under headines of motor accessories will, however, add to the variety and attractiveness of the show.

A motor parade, made up of the greatest number of motor cars ever having taken part in such a parade in Peterborough will start at 7 p.m. on the evening of Wednesday, the 14th—and the route to be followed is outlined elsewhere in this issue. An invitation is extended to all motorists to participate, and, in addition to a turn-out almost en masse of the local motorists, many out of town cars will be in the procession.

The Vernon Morphet Minstrels will add an attraction that is new to the entertainment line given heretofore. Exceptional talent in some particular speciality is a characteristic of each of the performers. The Minstrel Show will be of the highest order—a real entertainment and out of the ordinary. It will be well worth attending, and is deserving of everyone's patronage.

The repetition of the Fashion Parade by the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E., as in past years. Dances will be held every evening. Messrs. Fitzgrald and Pallis have several entirely new and up-to-the-minute selections of dance music for the programme. These dances have always attracted the majority of the young people visitors to the show. The dance floors are in excellent condition, and a mighty good time and thoroughly enjoyable evenings are in prospect.

A novelty in the entertainment programme will be found in the performance of the Llanchrymed-Llanrhystyd Band. "Wandering concerts" will be given by this organization of musical specialists who are experts in the use of the different instruments they play. The instruments are unusual and are well worth seeing. The leader of this band has a striking personality and his control in leadership while the band is performing will be a revelation to music lovers.

For the devotees of bridge the ladies of the King's Daughters have in charge a Lounge and Card Room, where cards may be played. This Lounge is designed to offer a rest room for those who wish to enjoy a quiet half hour at cards. Gentlemen may smoke.

The free attractions to be seen at the Motor Show will be more numerous and more entertaining than are to be seen at any like exhibition.

After considerable difficulty the committee have been able to secure the "movies" of Madame Sherry, whose interpretative dancing has been sensational, in the enthusiastic reception with which it has met all over the continent.

Madame Sherry's dancing is unique and will charm with the same sensation that it and with it the audiences of London, New York, Paris and Toronto will be the chief item in her programme.

Each evening a pageant will be given at 8.30. Several beautiful floats will be in the procession and sections of every exhibit and attraction will also take part.

The King's Daughters will also have a check room where wearing apparel, umbrellas, parcels, etc, may be checked.

Miss Mamie Langley McCarthy will exhibit in the Fashion Show room over 100 paintings, in oils, water colors and sepias, landscape; still life and portrait. Hand painted china will also be exhibited in this exhibit, all of which is the work of Miss McCarthy, and her pupils.

This exhibit of Art will be a revelation to many Peterboro people and this exhibit itself will we well worth attending the motor show to see.

The Flower Booth will be in charge of Mrs Allan Cameron assisted by several young ladies, members of the different organizations.

The Thursday Club will repeat the work they did last year in serving ice cream cones. Ice cream cones were very popular last year, and this booth will surely be a centre of attraction, particularly for the youngsters.

The Business Girls have prepared their stock of candy for the Candy Booth and notwithstanding the present high cost of sugar quantities of the very finest home made candies will be placed on sale at extremely reasonable prices.

The Otonabee Chapter will have a booth in which genuine Scotch scones will be made and served. The "Cooney Isalnds" will also be served at this booth.

The ladies of St. Peter's church will, as in past years, have home-made cooking and home-sewing booths where the products of the kitchens and sewing room of these ladies will be placed on sale. Hundreds of articles have been prepared, and as the quality of these articles as offered by these ladies is so well known the prospect is that they will be sold out considerably before the Show is over.

Raffle booths, which, every year, have been the centre of attraction, are, through the generosity of several of the accessory manufacturers, local dealers and business men, able to offer prizes consisting of tires, motor rugs, chains, holophane prisms, etc., etc., at their drawings.

This offers an opportunity for motor car owners particularly to obtain some of these very necessary accessories to the running of a motor car for the price of one drawing ticket.

Arrangements have been made for the presentation of one or two vaudeville acts from the local shows' daily theatres, this week.

From the foregoing it will be noted that the programme this year includes many free attractions, that each in itself should be worth at least the price of admission.

To thoroughly enjoy the Motor Show to the fullest extent, visitors should make it a point to see everything. Don't miss a single exhibit or entertainment, as it is very rarely that such a collection of exhibits, demonstrations and entertainments are brought together and offered to the public of a city the size of Peterborough.

All visitors should bear in mind the fact that every admission ticket carries with it a stub that entitles the holder to five chances on the drawings to be held promptly at 9.30 each night.

Of course it will be necesary for the holder to be present and to claim his prize then and there; otherwise the drawing will be proceeded with until all the prizes are drawn and given to the holders of the lucky tickets, who are present.

The nature of the prizes are such as will indpce many to purchase additional tickets, which will be on sale, so as to secure further chances on the drawings.

Apart from the fact that all the presents of this Show will be devoted to the work of the Peterborough Health Association, it has been the object of the Association and of the committees in charge, to give visitors their money's worth in the way of entertainment, educational features and demonstration of up-to-the-minute cars and accesories, which, taken all together, will make the 1920 Peterborough Motor Show an event that will establish a precedent in matters of this sort for not only Peterborough but for even larger cities throughout the Dominion.

DRUGGISTS ARE PERTURBED.

They See Everything Going to the Doctors If Drug Bill Passes.

TORONTO, April 12.—The reason the druggists over Canada are showing such a keen interest in the Bill amending the Opium and Drug Act, brought in by Hon. N. W. Rowell, prohibiting the sale of narcotic drugs, unless supplied under a doctor's prescription, is that through this measure they see slipping off their shelves a thousand or so well-known household remedies for colds, etc., all of which contain a "little bit" of the so prohibited drugs.

What the druggists here want is the introduction of the Harrison Law, which has been in operation in the United States since 1914, the most advanced restriction in the world, a little further than The Hague Treaty of 1912. This, they claim, prohibits quantities liable to injure individuals, but allows the "tiny little bit" required in certain medicine, admitted by the Government and endorsed by physicians. Anw legislation beyond this, the druggists claim, is all nonsense.

NEWSPRINT SHORTAGE HITS BRITISH PAPERS.

LONDON, April 10.—Newsprint circles here are largely interested in the Canadian newsprint shortage and it is pointed out that the price here is five pence, three farthings per pound and is still rising. The trouble is not merely in the considerable price, but in the actual shortage. It is asserted that not a single English paper is making a profit on present prices. Many journals have raised their price more than once.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH HELD A BUSY SESSION

pital be requested in view of the high cost of upkeep to exercise all due care in expenditure" was a motion put through after some discussion on the upkeep of the Isolation Hospital.

Dr. McPherson reported that the smallpox epidemic was abating. There are four diptheria patients. The shack is closed after being used practically all winter. Dr. McPherson spoke on the proposed venereal clinic. The Dominion government Vote of $200,000 will be expended throughout the Dominion for the purpose of establishing these clinics. The Board of Health has been asked by the Government that they co-operate with them and the government will give $1,000 to equip the laboratory and clinic. $500 yearly to pay a nurse, who would also be a social worker and $500 for a capable medical supervisor to be appointed by the Board.

"They ask the city to equal their grants approximately."

Dr. McPherson said that three medical men said they would take charge of the work. Neither of the hospitals could undertake the work.

Initial Grant.

When taken up by the medical society a resolution was passed that the board of health take up the matter that the clinic be not at the hospitals but be down town.

Mr. Lynch pointed out that the expenditure estimated at $4,000 a year would not be enough and the extras would come back on the municipality. After the first year the $1,000 initial grant would be cut off and the city would have to make that up.

"It would be impossible to get a nurse and social service worker for $500 a year," Mr. Lynch said.

It would be useful in other ways, besides the treating of this disease. "It would have many other purposes Dr. McPherson said.

The third story of the city buildings where there are some vacant rooms were suggester by the City Clerk as quarters.

Dr. McPherson suggested a special meeting of the Board, called to discuss it.

Dr. McPherson asked that the Board visit the hospital as soon as possible in view of needed repairs but Mr. Lynch moved that only the medical officer of Health and the chairman visit it.

The Sanitary Inspector told the Board that two scavengers were needed for East City. It was moved and carried that the matter be left in the hands of the Sanitary Inspector and Medical Officer of Health.

The Medical Officer of Health was authorized to publish the bylaws in reference to cleaning up yards, etc., in the papers.

The nuisance of unknown dogs upsetting garbage cans was brought in by the Sanitary Inspector, who said that the Police Commission should take the matter up and put James Gates or another dog catcher back on the job. A motion was put through that the council take steps to enforce the dog bylaw.

Besides the canines playful habit of knothing over garbage receptacles several of the board testified to their nuisance in barking and snapping and Mr. Stapleton said that they greatly interfered with him in his work.

Dr. McPherson endorsed the End of the Road educational film appearing at the Allen Theatre and proposed getting prominent local men to give 5 minute addresses explaining the purposes of exhibiting the film. It was left in his hands to secure the speakers.

BUILDING PROGRAMME FOR LONDON SOUTH

LONDON, April 10.— A building programme for South London will likely be initiated by the housing commission at its next meeting. Members of the commission have surveyed property in that locality and have lots in view which they think will be suitable for building purposes. Arrangements for purchasing the property and proceeding with the building will be made next Thursday.

It is likely that the policy of building several houses at one time, and in close proximity will be followed out here as on the Pine Lawn survey. Plans will be made for a number of houses, and contracts for these will be given to one contractor. The houses will not be sold until completed. It has been found practically impossible to secure contractors for single houses.

The dwellings built here will likely range in price from $4,500 to $5,000 in value, and will be two-story houses of brick construction.

Construction of houses on Pine Lawn will be commenced as soon as details concerning the road to the property have been ironed out and

"END OF THE ROAD" AT THE ALLEN

The warmest endorsation of "The End of the Road", the remarkable photodrama open a four days' engagement at the Allen this afternoon, has been given by a number of prominent ladies and gentlemen of Peterborough, who, through the courtesy of Dr. A. W. McPherson, Medical Health Officer, attended a private screening at the Allen theatre Saturday morning.

"I feel that everyone should see this picture, both young and old", says Mayor McIntyre.

"This is a picture that mothers, fathers, and young people over sixteen should see. It teaches a lesson that should be studied by them, "is the endorsation of the Local Council of Women Executive.

"I cannot speak too highly of the picture; it is a great lesson—a great sermon. I wish every one could see it," says Dr. E. E. Harvey.

"The Rev. Robert Rogue, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, said "I regard the photoplay, "The End of the Road", as eminently adapted to fulfil the purpose for which it was prepared. There is no method, it seems to me, by which the truths and facts which it aims to teach can be more effectively impressed on the minds of the public than the method employed in this production."

When shown at Massey Hall in Toronto, the photoplay inspired a remarkable editorial in The Globe, part of which read, "The sin is still here in a thousand forms and guises. The pestilence walks every night in the social world where he lives who may one day be the partner of your daughter's house. Is it nothing to you that He is warned and that She be saved?"

There is a matinee performance, and two evening showings. None under sixteen, whether infants in arms or youngsters of understanding, are admitted.

OSHAWA DISCUSSES PETERBORO'S OBJECTION TO THE SCHEDULE

John Nott, secretary of the Central Baseball League, is not lying down under the criticism of the Peterborough Club, which claimed that he "cooked the schedule drawn to suit Oshawa." The Oshawa Reformer says, (and by the way Secretary Nott is employed on the Reformer):

Secretary Nott stated that he was given to understand by John Holmes of the Peterborough Club, that they desired their home games on Wednesday, the day of the weekly half-holiday. Lindsay and Belleville clubs made a similar request, and thus the schedule was arranged. Now, if the Examiner is correct, the Peterborough club must have changed their minds and want Saturday instead of Wednesday.

Peterborough must play their first home game with Port Hope on Saturday, June 5th, and their next game at home with Oshawa, one week later. Secretary Nott states that he is willing to oblige the Peterborough club, and as they had been scheduled on the 2nd and 9th respectively, it will be an easy matter to move the games forward a matter of three days.

WANT 12TH JULY GAME.

But like the man who went after the goose which laid the golden egg, the Peterborough club are unreasonable and want a lot of other favours. For instance, they ask that the Cobourg game in the Lift Lock City be moved from June 16th to July 12th to catch the Orangemen's celebration. As Cobourg plays with Port Hope on July 19th, it would be unfair to ask the former town to play two strenuous games in two days' time.

They also ask that the Belleville game on July 1st be permitted to play in the forenoon instead of the afternoon. If Belleville is willing to stand for this, the League should not interfere, but likely the Grand Trunk City has not forgotten what happened to Oshawa on the 1st of July last year. The Oshawa team agreed to a morning proposition, arriving there after a long ride, and took the field immediately, stiff and sore, and were walloped 12-0. No one would hardly imagine that Belleville will fall into the trap that the Oshawa team fell into. Secretary Nott states that he will uphold Port Hope and Belleville, if these clubs protest against the Peterborough club's desires.

From the Peterborough viewpoint, it would appear to be better if the League secretary handed over the entire drawing up of the schedule to the Lift Lock club. In such a manner it might be possible to please them.

THE CANADIAN GENERAL OUTPLAYED BY THE CALEDONIANS ON SATURDAY

C.G.E. AT HALF-TIME WERE LEADING 2-0, BUT SCOTSMEN WON OUT 3-2.

HARDIE DOES THE HAT TRICK

Typical Football weather prevailed on Saturday afternoon and one was glad to see the conditions improve somewhat from what they have been throughout the week, even if the wind penetrated like a knife. The Exhibition Grounds looked all right, but the players would feel a great benefit if the pitch had a good rolling so as to get rid of the little hills and ruts. The C. G. E. had an absolute new team, while the Caledonians had a few new faces on the line-up, who had requested a try out. The present games are attracting a good number of spectators, and they kept themselves warm by shouting for their respective teams.

C.G.E.—Ridley, goal; Mason and McDonald, backs; Bestard, Cowie and Lane, half-backs; Manders, Hodgson, Turner, Bills and Bartley, forwards.

Caledonians:—Alf. Brunton, goal, Bowness and R. Wiltshaw, Backs; J. Wiltshaw, R. McLeish, and John Shaw, half-backs; A. McLeish, Smith, James Shaw, Hardie and Newman.

Referee:—Mr. J. Clark, C.G.E. Executive.

Won the Toss

C.G.E. won the toss, and decided to play with the wind, James Shaw kicking off for the "Caleys". From the face-off the C.G.E. made a desperate run on the Caledonian goal but for the timely clearance of Bowness it might have brought a goal. Play was transferred to the other end through the efforts of the Smith-A. McLeish combination that resulted in Jas. Shaw missing the sphere by a few inches. From the goal kick that was placed nicely to Cowie who in time passed it to the outside right—Manders—and travelled in fast style down the right wing along with Hodgson, who drew out Bob Wagstaff from the defence, passed to Manders, returned to "Wag" who gave Brunton no chance to save from a high shot after 15 minutes play. Play was beginning to get very fast run, and from the kick off at centre the Caledonians forced matters but the wind was very strong, that many a time spoiled the good combination of Shaw-Hardie-Smith, which ultimately brought a corner kick. From the corner kick taken by A. McLeish, McDonald cleared easily by getting one of his famous punt kicks, that went straight to Hodgson who was lying uncovered made for the goal but Brunton turned the ball over the bar. From the corner kick taken by Manders who placed a beauty in front of the goal—Jim Bills missed an open goal by shooting over the bar. Pressure was bound to tell as the C. G. E. left wing "Ted Bartley" was also showing a fast turn of speed and his hand signal to the centre was perfect, as Turner made a bee line for goal—Brunton saving a beauty. Following a run on the C. G. E. goal by Shaw and Hardie the Caledonians tried hard to equalize only resulting in Ridley clearing from a low soft shot. Then followed even and uneventful exchanges. Five minutes before half time Bob Wiltshaw missed his kick thereby giving "Wag" Hodgson an easy opportunity to score the second goal for the C.G.E. Play was confined to mid-field as the whistle sounded for half-time.

A Good Play.

Three minutes after the resumption Ed. Hardie neatly tricked a couple of his opponents and had a left foot shot which landed in the corner of the goal, the goal-keeper making an effort to save. Then again the game was quiet for a few minutes until Ed. Hardie received a beautiful pass from James Shaw and both of them carried the ball into the goals that ended in Hardie scoring the equalizing goal after 10 minutes play. For the next few minutes the play was even, but C.G.E. now put some pressure into the play and through the efforts of "Wag" and Manders they brought a corner kick of Bob Wiltshaw but from the resulting kick, Jim Bills was too slow in shooting because Alf. Brunton jumped into the air, getting the ball, and saving a sure goal. The "Caleys" were beginning to take it easy and the C.G.E. still playing around the "Caley" goal. An unfortunate accident happened to Bowness, who had been playing a good game, as he kicked the ball coming down from the air, he strained the ankle which necessitated the Caledonians playing with 10 men for 10 minutes. He resumed afterwards and tried to continue the game but he had to stop playing and through the courtesy of the C.G.E. Captain, "Jim Bills", a lad of seventeen years in Neil Hurry, taking inside right and Jas. Wiltshaw playing right back. On resuming the whole forward line of the C.G.E. carried the ball right on top of Brunton, who saved repeatedly from Bills, Turner, Bartley and Wag Hodgson but if it had not been for Bob Wiltshaw croping up at the crucial moment it would have been a goal. The Caledonian half backs were playing a great game, who gave the C. G. E. very little opportunity with the ball; and from a nice tackle by Jas. Wiltshaw, he played McDonald fair and square and scored a goal—but Referee Clark would not allow it. The Caledonians did not become discouraged at this decision for they went straight into goal again as the forward played the ball in front of the goal-keeper from end to end which left Hardie with the ball, with Mason and McDonald in attendance could not prevent him from putting his side in the lead.

Game Slowed Up.

C.G. E. tried to force the issue after this but the game was begining to be very slow. Manders gave a nice pass to "Wag" to Turner to Jim Bills and Ted Bartley who shot high over the bar. From a throw-in the "Caleys" went to the other end that brought a corner kick taken by A. McLeish that went to McDonald for a clear-kick upfield to Jim Bills and Bartley and the paid run fireball into Brunton right across the goal mouth to "Wag" who struck the cross-bar, amid the great excitement among the spectators. The ball travelled to Bob McLeish, and he cleared the situation cleverly. The play was of no interest after this as all the players were played-out for the want of necessary training, and the game ended with the Caledonians still pressing.

Caledonians 3; C.G.E. 2.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

In Bowness the Caledonians have a good player and the regrettable accident to him will necessitate a little rest His style of play is an acquisition to the City Football and a aspirant of good clean sport.

The Captain of the C.G.E. team—"Jim Bills" will have to forget that he is only one of a team playing and pass the ball to his wing man as Ted Bartley paid sadly for his neglect. Turner cried himself hoarse crying "pass the ball" Jim get your executive together and get some of the young er element into the game.—too many "has beens" in your team.

The Scots-Canadian half back of C.G.E. in Cowie showed up well because his placing to his forwards was par excellence, and is the making of a good centre half-back. Bestard and Lane were both at ease.

The Caledonians have a good ver-

The hat trick by Ed. Hardie was an excellent days work and there was not a more enthusiastic player on the ground. His passing and encouragement given to his team-mates reminded one of the old 1914 Nomad days.

"Wag" Hodgson is certainly an inside forward of Steve Bloomer style and it was not his fault that Manders did not score because their combination was good. We will hear more of this wing before the season is gone. Turner and Bills will have to get out and do something, for Jim Bills did not get "his usual".

McDonald is a good "punt when he can get a free kick but it is as slow as an old horse in getting ground when he is tackled. Harry Mason showed good judgment while he filled the right back position. Both backs could do well by taking a few lessons from the Brothers Wiltshaws of the Caledonians.

Alf Brunton was the best goal-keeper of the two. It is no use criticizing the Caledonian half-back line because it was more of an experiment! defence. Bob McLeish was the best of the bunch.

The best of the Caledonians forwards were Ed. Hardie and James Shaw, both of them worried the C.G.E. backs throughout the game and was their combination that brought the Caledonians goals. Arthur McLeish will have to play his man as well as stand and wait for the ball when he is playing outside right.

Referee Clark put in a thankless afternoons work and as usual his decisions were many a time criticized and he should study the off side particularly. The next time any player uses questionable language on the field of play—please put him off for the rest of the game —it's the only cure.—Referee.

All the players of both the teams will have to put in more training, such as short sprinting, skipping rope and bending free exercise—leave the ball alone and get the muscles into proper shape.

CANONBALL SCOTT STILL A MYSTERY

With Hillcrests and Lindsay both claiming "Cannon Ball" Ed. Scott for the coming season, he still remains the man of mystery. Every sporting editor in the Central district has taken a fling at Scott, the latest being the Oshawa Reformer, which says:

Lindsay baseball club and fans are in mourning. Their old reliable pitcher, "Cannon Ball"" Scott, who performed so faithfully and well on the mound last summer, will not don a uniform with them this season. He has signed a contract with the Hillcrests Club of Toronto, and has already appeared at practice on a Toronto diamond.

Scott made a great name for himself in the C.O.B.A. last year, and though Lindsay came a long way from winning the flag, it was greatly due to "Cannon Balls" efforts that they finished as well as they did. In the first game with Port Hope last year, he had 12 strike-outs, and won his game 5-1, but his second game against Belleville was a 5-0 disaster.

LADIES' CURLING CLUB MEETING

PRIZES PRESENTED TO THE WINNING RINKS.

The annual meeting of the Peterboro Ladies' Curling Club was held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Morrow, on Weller street. The retiring president, Mrs. R. M. Waddell, occupied the chair and in a brief address expressed the gratitude of the Club to those who had donated the prizes played for during the past season, and also voiced the general satisfaction of the members over the very successful and enjoyable season's play.

The trophies with accompanying prizes were then presented to the winning rinks: The Gibson trophy to Mrs. A. E. Coulthard's rink; the Consolation to Mrs. W. A. Sanderson's, and the prizes for the Vice-Skips' competition to Miss Morrow, who played Vice for Mrs. W. H. Hill.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Miss Florence Gladman; Vice-President, Mrs. Goodwill; Treasurer, Miss Rogers; Secretary, Mrs. Adrian Macdonald; Executive, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Waddell, Miss Morrow, Miss Davidson; Representative to the Ontario Curling Association, Mrs. Coulthard and Mrs. C. E. Jamieson.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers and also to Miss Morrow for entertaining the Club on this occasion after which tea was served in the dining room.

A NATION-WIDE STRIKE CALLED.

PROTEST AGAINST TREAMENT OF SINN FEINERS.

DUBLIN, April 12. — The Irish Trades Council to-day called a nation-wide strike of transport workers as a protest against the British treatment of Sinn Fein prisoners.

The Council said it would appeal to the English and Scottish transport workers to take similar action.

(Canadian Press.)

DUBLIN, April 12.—Officials of the Irish Trades Union Congress and Labor party to-day issued a call to workers of Ireland for a general strike throughout the country to-morrow as a protest against treatment of political prisoners.

Officials in their call demand the release of those imprisoned for political offenses. The general strike call does not affect those employed on newspapers, telegraph services, bakers, humanitarian services and necessary workers among horses and cattle.

Revolution Broken Out.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 12. — The long threatened revolution in Guatemala against President Estrada Cabrero, finally has broken out. Reports to-day stated that opponents of the President had gained control of Guatemala city after some street fighting. Marine guards had been landed to protect the American Legislation.

Remain Friendly.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 12.—Both France and Great Britain are increasingly convinced of the necessity of keeping in agreement for settlement of questions regarding Germany and these affecting other parts of the world, Bonar Law told the House to-day.

Answering questions with regard to the Anglo-French situation he said; "As the House is aware, a difference has arisen between the British and French governments, but an exchange of notes justifies the belief that both recognize more than ever the necessity of maintaining an intimate, cordial agreement in settlement of the great questions now confronting them in Germany and elsewhere."

REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE ITALIAN TROOPS.

RECKLESS DRIVER KILLS WELL-KNOWN TORONTO CITIZEN.

TORONTO, April 12.—Mr. C. A. B. Brown died on Saturday afternoon. There were hopes held out during the morning in the emergency ward of the Toronto General Hospital, where he was carried from the scene of the accident on Friday night that he might recover. At ten o'clock in the morning he seemed fairly well and was able to have the papers read to him. He recognised members of his family who were with him.

But at two o'clock he became unconscious, and toward the close of the afternoon he crossed the grim border.

While alighting from a street car on Friday night at St. George and Bloor Streets, Mr. Brown was struck by a motor car and thrown heavily to the curbstone. The motorist did not stop; his number was not obtained, and no trace can be had of him. Within twenty-four hours Mr. Brown was dead from the accident.

Mr. Brown had served on the Board of Education since 1882; was President of the Canadian National Exhibition; an active member of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club; one of the founders of both the Ontario Hockey Association and the Canadian Club, and was General Manager for Western Canada of Bradstreet's, Ltd.

WOMAN MAKES FEARFUL ATTACK UPON HIS WIFE

TORONTO, April 12.— With her head gashed with strokes from a heavy axe, Bessie McIlroy Carnegie, a young married woman of about twenty-four years of age, lies in the General hospital in a serious condition. Her husband, Thomas Carnegie, is in the cells of East Dundas street station, and will appear in the Police Court to answer to a charge of attempted murder, while their twenty-three-months old child, rendered homeless by the alleged [illegible] an infuriated father, is temporarily being taken care of by the police.

The woman, the police state, is the victim of an apparently unprovoked and brutal assault, perpetrated, it is alleged, by her husband while he was temporarily mentally deranged by drink. Its ghastly details, in so far as Detectives Black and Whitebread, of the A Division have been able to ascertain, is that the husband suddenly attacked her in the kitchen of their home, and, after chasing her upstairs, beat her into insensibility on her bed. She herself was found by the officers lying in the midst of a mass of blood-soaked bed clothing; the husband when the officers arrived, was sitting in the kitchen in a drunken stupor beside a blood-clotted axe and a poker matted with hair.

DEATH SUMMONS
MR. ELIAS ROGERS.

Was Prominent in Many of the City's Business Activities.

TORONTO, April 12. — Death came yesterday to Mr. Elias Rogers, a well known city coal merchant and business man, at his residence, Glen House, Deer Park, in his 70th year. The late Mr. Rogers was born at Newmarket in 1850, and at the age of 21 he entered the lumbering business, later turning his attention to coal. In 1876 he established a company in Toronto, which in 1897 became the firm of Elias Rogers Company, Ltd. Apart from his local coal business he took an active part in the industry in other parts, being the president and treasurer of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company. In addition to his association with the coal industry, the late Mr. Rogers had many [illegible] connections.

"WAGES TOO HIGH"

There is something more than humor in the reported conversation between the owner and the bricklayer. "Us workmen haven't a chance; the contractors make all the money." said the bricklayer. "Then, why don't you go in for contracting?" asked the owner. "No use," replied the bricklayer, "wages are too high."

WEDDING BELLS

GLOVER—TEAGUE

A fashionable wedding was celebrated in the Church of the Ascension, Ottawa East, on Easter Monday at 7.30 p.m. when Mary Holley, only daughter of Mrs. A. Teague and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Leslie, was united in marriage to Everett Walton Glover, of Peterboro, eldest son of Mrs. M. Glover, of Holland Landing. The bride, who was given away by her grandfather, looked very charming in a gown of white charmeuse satin with train embroidered in pearls and having an overskirt of silver embroidered net. Her veil was crowned with orange blossoms, the bridal wreath worn by her grandmother. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Her little cousins, Isobel and Minnie Roblin, acted as flower girls, both carrying baskets of sweet peas, and dressed in white net over pink silk, with white poke-bonnets to match. Her bridesmaids were Miss M. Glover, of Muskoka, sister of the groom, and Miss M. Holley, of Montreal, cousin of the bride. Miss Glover was dressed in a gown of maize crepe de chine, with hat to match, while Miss Holley's gown was of pale blue beaded georgette over silk. She also wore a white picture hat. Each carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and sweet peas. The groom's attendant was Mr. Wm. Thistlewaite of Montreal. Rev. R. Jefferson performed the marriage ceremony. As the register was being signed Mrs. C. Palmer rendered a solo in a most impressive manner. The groom's gift to the bride was a pendant set with diamond and pearls; to the bridesmaids each a gold bar pin set with pearls and amethyst; and to the flower girls each a gold pendant. After the ceremony a reception was held and a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's grandparents. Both church and home were tastefully decorated with Easter flowers. Later in the evening the happy couple left for Peterboro, their future home. The bride's travelling suit was of blue broadcloth, with pink beaded georgette blouse, and black tulle hat. The numerous gifts of cut glass, silver, etc., received by Mr. and Mrs. Glover was a testimony of the very high esteem in which they are held. The church choir of which the bride has been a faithful member, also presented her with a handsome clock. In addition to the many presents were handsome checks from her grandparents and from her mother. The wedding was one of the largest ever held in Ottawa East. About a hundred guests were present at the reception. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Lemmex, of Smiths Falls; Mrs. Stanzer and daughter, of Aylwin; Miss M. Sutton of Pembroke; the bridesmaids, and the groom's attendant, and Mrs. W. Carlyle of Osgoode.

DEVEY—SEDGWICK

A very pretty choral wedding was solemnized in St. John's Church on Saturday last by the Venerable Archdeacon Davidson, when Harold James Devey, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Devey, and Hazel Irene Sedgwick eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sedgwick were married in the presence of a large congregation. The service was choral, in compliment to the bridegroom's many years service as a chorister. The bride who went up the church door by the choir [illegible] by her father, [illegible] over Ellis' [illegible] After the ceremony the happy couple were preceded in procession to the vestry by the choristers to the strains of "Hail to the Bride." Mr. George Chandler gave a very fine rendering of the song, "O Promise Me", during the signing of the register and the happy couple left the church to the strains of the "Wedding March", played by Mr. R. J. Devey, and a merry peal on the chimes by Mr. John Butcher.

Miss Myrtle Sedgwick was the bridesmaid, and Mr. Cyril H. Devey best man.

A plentiful supply of rice and confetti helped to start the young folks on the wedding trip from the Grand Trunk Station to Toronto, and on their return they will reside in the city.

The receipt of many beautiful and useful presents testified to the popularity of the bride and groom.

OBITUARY

MRS. WALTER PILLING.

Ina Mowry, beloved wife of Walter Pilling, 261 Perry Street, died on Sunday morning at 12.40 at the family residence, after an illness of several months' duration. She was born in Peterborough 41 years of age, and had resided here ever since. A faithful and consistent member of Park Street Baptist Church, she had always up to the time of her illness, taken an active interest in the different church organisations.

She leaves of the immediate family her husband and two children, Jack and Elizabeth, both at home.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon. Service, conducted by Rev. Dougald Brown, will be held at 2.30 at the house, and interment will take place at the Little Lake Cemetery at 3 o'clock.

MRS. ALEX KEITLE.

After an illness of over one year's duration, Helen Davidson, wife of Mr. Alex. Keitle, of Lang, died on Saturday morning, aged 56 years.

Deceased, who was born in Otonabee, had resided about Lang since her marriage and had always been a faithful and consistent member of the Presbyterian church. She leaves of the immediate family her husband and three children, Robert, Mrs. Albert Speers and Margaret all at home. Her eldest son, John, was killed in action two years ago.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to the Keene cemetery. Services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. White of Cavanagh.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of Mrs. Donald Cameron, who died March 26, 1920, aged 80 years and 3 months—deeply regretted.

Up there on the sunny hill top,
That slopes to the east and west,
With a beautiful view in the distance
We have laid her away to rest.

To rest, till the bright glad morning,
Of the resurrection day,
When body and soul are united,
And death shall no more have sway.

But the home place seems strangely silent,
And we enter with lagging feet,
For the light that cheered all within it,
Has gone out—we no more shall meet.

With her bright glad smile of welcome,
Standing there by the open door;
And many a time she has waited,
For us in the days of yore.

Oh, heart, that was true and steadfast,
To the living and the dead;
In many a grief have we gone to her,
And we always were comforted.

With us in the happy glad times,
With us, when our hearts were sad,
A tower of strength to the troubled,
Rejoicing with those who were glad.

So thus did her life flow onward,
Just doing from day to day,
The duty that lay the nearest,
Treading the narrow way.

Till at last in the joyous springtime
Her tired and weary feet,
Have climbed up the hill to heaven,
And entered the golden street.

But we know she'll be waiting to greet us,
In that happy home so bright,
Where the light goeth out no more by day,
And where never more is night.

GOING OVER THE TOP — IN A MOTOR BOAT.

NEW, UNIQUE MARINE RAILWAYS ADD TO JOYS ON TRENT ROUTE; 35-FOOT BOATS PLY THIS YEAR

NAVIGATION TO OPEN FOR SMALL MOTOR CRAFT ALONG ENTIRE ROUTE FROM LAKE ONTARIO TO GEORGIAN BAY—HIGH SPEED LIFTS AND INCLINE HOISTS.

(By Rupert S. Donell, of Peterborough).

During the recent history-making years "going over the top" in some strenuous capacity, whether by tank route, on foot with a Lee-Enfield, or at home helping to put through a Victory loan, has become an international sport of sports.

The engineers in charge of the construction work on that piece de resistance to the motor boat enthusiast, the Trent Valley waterway, not to be outdone, decided to apply this idea to their undertaking just to give the impatient ones a little surprise, and the marine railways shown herewith, designed to transport motor boats quickly over the portions of the canal not yet completed, are the result.

Canalising Complete.

Cutting through the solid rock is slow work, and can only be carried on during the summer months. The canalising of this route is complete from Lake Ontario to Lake Couchiching, and open to boats up to 135 feet in length, and when the two locks under construction on the Severn River are completed, a through route will be established to Georgian Bay for large-sized boats. It is on this section that the temporary expedient of using marine railways to enable boats up to 35 feet in length to make the through trip has been resorted to. Don't be afraid to trust your latest mahogany or egg-shell finish craft to these railways. As the photos show, they are as solid and substantial as the rock they rest on, and the cars run right down into the water at each end, allowing the boat to float on or off, as the case may be.

The carriages are so designed as to carry moderate-sized boats without any undue strains. There is no special reason for limiting the length of boats to 35 feet, other than the weight of the craft and the straining effect of a long overhang. Although built as a temporary expedient, they have proved so satisfactory in operation that their use will be continued permanently for small craft. By them a motor boat of ordinary characteristics can be taken over the 30-foot hills, which they are intended to surmount in about 4¼ minutes, counting from the moment of its arrival at one level until it starts off on the other. Large power developments are completed alongside each of the marine railways, and they are operated electrically.

Cruising Delights.

Some years ago, the writer, in a series of articles in Canadian and American boating and outing publications, endeavoured to describe the delights of a motor boat cruise through these beautiful lakes and rivers of the Ontario Highlands. The interest displayed from all quarters was convincing proof that this waterway will be one of the greatest attractions on the continent each summer.

The Canadian Government exhibited a huge map of this waterway at the recent New York Motor Boat Show, and if all the motor boat men who promised themselves this trip make good, the new waterway is in for a lively season.

In recent summers, many boats made the trip from the American side up through the route as far as Washago, at the upper end of Lake Couchiching. Instead of having to return from this point, they will now, thanks to the new railways and a lock, be able to go on to Georgian Bay.

Senator W. H. Bennett, of Midland, has long been an enthusiastic champion of the Trent Canal project. He has given valued assistance in the preparation of this article.

Arrival of the Pioneer.

Early in the last century, when the pioneer settlers began to move into Central Ontario, advantage was taken of the series of waterways known collectively as the Kawartha Lakes, which now constitute the interior system. These lakes drain to Lake Ontario via the Otonabee River, Rice Lake, and the Trent River, the latter stream emptying into the Bay of Quinte at Trenton.

In the other direction, drainage to Georgian Bay takes place via the Talbot River, Lake Simcoe, and the Severn River. The portages were abolished at an early date in the Kawartha region, and a system of locks built to provide navigation from Balsam Lake, the summit level, to Lakefield, at the foot of Katchewanooka Lake. There was another navigable stretch also provided between Peterborough and Healey Falls, through the Otonabee River, Rice Lake, and the upper end of the Trent River.

Later canal sections were built to connect the two above-mentioned navigable systems and also to connect the Balsam Lake summit level with Lake Simcoe.

During recent years steps have been taken to complete the system by canalising the Trent River from Rice Lake to the Bay of Quinte and the Severn River from Lake Simcoe to Georgian Bay. The work on these sections is designed for 8 feet 4 inches depth of navigation with locks 175 feet by 33 feet, intended to provide for barges large enough to safely cross Lake Ontario.

Progress of the Work.

The Ontario and Rice Lake division has been completed and is in operation. The work upon the Severn River division was interrupted by the war, and several years may elapse before the section will be ready to pass fully-laden vessels.

Owing, however, to the large summer influence of motor boat enthusiasm in these sections, all locks on Port Severn has been constructed, giving access from Georgian Bay to Gloucester Pool, near the mouth of the Severn River. This lock is 100 feet by 25 feet, with 6 foot depth of water. Also at other points on the river, where high lift locks will be required for the regular canal traffic, the marine railways have in the interim been provided to carry over motor boats of the class frequenting these waters. This permits motor boats to ascend from Georgian Bay to a point a couple of miles below Washago, where a lock and canal of standard size is nearing completion, and will be available to pass motor boats into Lake Couchiching early next summer.

At Peterborough and at Kirkfield the cruising party has the novel experience of taking the elevator, so to speak, for the great lift locks at these places, the largest of this type in the world, work smoothly and quickly, and hoist water, boat, and all a distance of 65 feet in about a minute's time.

Scenic Interest.

The whole route of 235 miles, not counting branches, is one of much scenic interest, and good fishing for small-mouth bass and muskalonge may be had. If you like to dance, and make the trip during July or August, you will find everything in this line in full swing at various points along the line every evening. Those who prefer to come later in the season will find the duck shooting good at various points, and it is here the comfy little cruisers will be just right for the cool nights. Or if you prefer hotel accommodation, you will be taken care of in good shape at numbers of good resorts.

The beauties of this district during the autumn have been written many times. They must be seen, however, to be appreciated, and a cruise at this time will be long remembered and add a special interest to the beautiful lines descriptive of Canada, "Where the air is full of sunshine and the sky is full of stars."

Toronto boat owners who desire to make this cruise should have no trouble making the mouth of the Trent River even in small boats. A number of good safe ports are available in this stretch of Lake Ontario, and no trouble will be experienced in obtaining supplies at any point on the waterway.

Points Along the Route.

The principal places along the route are Trenton, Frankford, Campbellford, Hastings, Peterborough, Lakefield, Bobcaygeon, Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Barrie, Orillia, and Washago.

Other points of interest to cruisers might be the Hydro-Electric developments along the route, and the numerous side trips and summer resort attractions.

For many years there have been summer colonies of Americans at the various points along the route, particularly in Stoney Lake and Gloucester Pool. Doubtless many more will frequent these waters when their advantages for pleasure cruising are better known.

There are no canal tolls or fees of any description charged, and aside from the H. C. of L., the motor boat owner need have no fear of being held up by any unexpected expenses.

ROADS AND THE THRESHING S.

As a direct result of the improvement of roads in the various districts of West Virginia, there are now 161 consolidated schools, which have replaced 350 one-room schoolhouses. In addition to the above, 269 school centres in the State are now considering consolidations, which are expected to be effected during the coming two years, provided road improvements proposed in the sections affected are completed during that time.

IT WILL PAY YOU

When at the Motor Show, it will pay you to spend considerable time at our booth. We have arranged for your inspection a complete line of Automobile Accessories. Here will be found helpful suggestions, new ideas and, above all, a hearty welcome.

Gill Piston Rings

Gill Piston Rings are mechanically correct. Perfect in every detail. Made from individual castings of fine grey iron. Gill Rings will allow an expansion of ⅛" to 3-16" before any loss of compression occurs. They increase power, prevent smoking and overcome excessive carbon trouble.

Goliath Spark Plugs

The Goliath is a massive, strongly built plug, and is fully a match for hard usage and strenuous service in automobile or truck. The porcelain is designed for super-strength at points of greatest strain, and is composed of imported Cornish Kaloin mixtures fused to rough like hardness.

Reliable Jacks

Reliable Jacks are supplied as standard equipment by the great majority of Automobile and Truck Manufacturers. There are more than 8,000,000 "Reliable" Jacks in active service. Made throughout of cold rolled steel and malleable iron. It costs more to make "Reliable" Jacks, but they stay sold once you sell them.

Multibestos Brake Lining

Multibestos is a flexible facing, which can be used wherever a friction material is required. It is adaptable for automobile or truck. It is heat proof, dust proof, oil and water proof, and is not affected by grease or gasoline.

HUDSON SUPER SIX

All Seek Controls in What Hudson the Super-Six

It is Freedom from Vibration—Greater Endurance, 72 per cent More Power and Mechanical Simplicity. No Other Car Can Use it. So Hudson Holds Records None Have Equalled

Consider what led to the Super-Six.

It was vibration, which limits a motor's power and quickly undermines its endurance.

Engineers worked for years to solve that problem. Some added cylinders and increased weight. They fell short of their hopes.

But without more cylinders or weight, Hudson engineers discovered the principle that gives 72% greater power and increases endurance to limits unmatched in any other motor, as proved in countless official records.

So nearly did they reach the ideal, that were it not for the Hudson patent, all fine car makers must surely adopt the Super-Six.

But as Hudson has the sole right to it, the Super-Six is the largest selling fine car in the world. It has held that leadership for four years, because men know no other type has shown such proofs of supremacy.

In this Particular, too, It Has No Rival

All Hudson records were made by early model Super-Sixes. The stock car one hour and 100 mile records, with top and windshield up, and carrying passengers; the stock chassis twenty-four hour record, which in travelling 1,819 miles was 347 miles better than the best previous performance, were established in its first year. And it was a touring car of the earliest Super-Six type which made the record 7,000 mile double trans-continental run between San Francisco and New York in 10 days 21 hours.

Hudson records in mountain climbing, like the race up Pike's Peak, and in winning the American Speedway championship, were all established with early Super-Six specials.

Those records still belong to Hudson. And yet such advancement has been made in the present Super-Six we have no doubt it could easily excel those performances.

But since those early Hudson records established the endurance we sought to prove and are way beyond the best attempts of rivals, we two years ago withdrew from contest work.

Note How Its Improvement Came About

Every speed and endurance test taught ways to make a better Super-Six. And as the number of users increased, they added to our knowledge. So before the present Hudson was ready, 60,000 owners of earlier models had done their part in its development.

Every detail has been brought up to the standard of the Super-Six motor. The endurance of the motor has been built into every part of the car. In this new model we have attained a completeness in mechanical perfection that makes Hudson unrivalled in quality.

Naturally Such a Car Is Always in Demand

The qualities distinctive to the Super-Six are obtainable only in Hudson. Consequently buyers who want such a great car have but the once choice.

Thousands have waited months to get delivery of certain models.

So you would be wise to order your Hudson now.

A BIG MOTOR CARAVAN WILL TOUR ONTARIO IN JULY NEXT

BAND CONCERTS AND OPEN-AIR SPEAKERS WILL BE FEATURE OF 900-MILE CAMPING TRIP OF MICHIGAN PIKERS' ASSOCIATION.

A motor caravan, big and spectacular as a circus, with a band and open-air speakers in the cause of good roads, will be seen in Toronto on July 16 and 17. The Ontario Motor League has received a letter from the manager of the Michigan Pikes Association giving details of the tour. The latter association is an organization whose object is to promote construction of highways and to carry on educational propaganda, the principal feature of which is an annual automobile tour of two weeks. This year the trip will take in 900-mile stretch from Sault Ste. Marie to Toronto.

Last year when a trial trip of the route was made the bridge on the Blind River at Algoma Mills was not finished and autos had to be changed. The Government has given assurance that the bridge will be completed and open for traffic by July.

The manager of the association in his letter says that the prospects are that 40 cars and 13 motor trucks will take part in the tour, comprising a caravan of between 200 and 300 people. The party will be self-contained Some of the trucks will carry complete camp equipment. One of them will be fitted out as a complete kitchen, another will carry provisions; a third will be an auto-repair shop and so on. It is expected that 20 or 30 "camp-followers" in unofficial cars will trail the party. These will be welcome, and their number will be encouraged.

The party will leave Detroit on July 14. They will reach Hamilton on July 16, and leave for Toronto in time for dinner. They will move from here next morning.

It is hoped that the Ford Company's band, considered one of the best in the United States, will be able to accompany them. The Ford company's moving picture department is expected, both taking pictures and giving displays in the different towns of a good roads nature. Stops will be made frequently along the route and open-air addresses delivered and band concerts held. The whole thing is expected to result in a whirlwind raising of good roads sentiment.

Several Soo people intend to take part in the trip.

The Michigan Pikes Association has asked the Ontario Motor League to co-operate in seeing that the route of the Canadian part of the tour is properly marked. The O.M.L. will send out a roadside car to see that this is done.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS BECOMING MORE COMMON IN PETERBORO

INCREASING NUMBER OF CARS LARGELY RESPONSIBLE— POLICE COMMENT.

The motor accidents are increasing each year without a doubt, the Chief of Police told the Examiner when questioned on the matter. Forty-three acidents are on the police records for 1919, several more than in 1918. Two deaths resulting from injuries received in accidents occurred during the past year in addition to many being severely injured and shaken up. That there are not more accidents is the only mystery to the policemen who have to watch closely the cars and traffic and report on all accidents.

Sergeant James Reid points out that most of the increase in accidents is due to the increase in cars, faster driving and carelessness and the extent to which these have grown of late years are reflected in the cases appearing in Police Court. In 1916 there were three arraigned under the Motor Vehicles Act and in 1918, seventy-two and last year sixty-seven.

That the increase in accidents is traceable to the increases in in the number of cars in the last few years is an accepted fact. In the past there were fewer accidents because there were fewer cars and their number increases each year. Will accidents keep on increasing?

Only by more careful driving and strict adherance to the law will the danger to human life be minimized and the Ontario Safety League are doing meritorious work in urging carefullness and forethought.

What to Do.

If there is an accident between your car and another vehicle stop the car at once. If either the one responsible or the other drives off he is considered guilty by the police and commits a breach of the Motor Vehicles Act. Give your name, the number of your car and all particulars to the policeman or to the man whose vehicle sustained injury and report the accident to the police.

Many accidents are caused by the driven cars for years and since they have never had any accidents they form the opinion that their fine driving coupled with kind Fate has guided them safely. They drive fast taking the corners on two wheels and perform other eccentricities and it is these drivers who cause all the trouble for the others.

Then there are the drivers who have just got a new car and consider that they are the "Kings of the road." Another menace to safety.

Mr. H. P. Lindsay, agent for licenses in this city, reports that last year he sold some 2,200 licenses for this district. This is outside the ones purchased in other centres and from Toronto so that there are some 1,500 cars at a moderate estimate in this city. These cars, if properly controlled, are the ideal means of transportation and of no danger to either the passengers or pedestrians but when driven without regard to the safety laws of any other moral laws they are a menace to the safety of every citizen.

OLD FORD RACER FOUND

"999" BEAT MILE A MINUTE RECORD IN 1904.

Ford Racer "999," which in 1903-4 started the Ford reputation toward success, by beating the "Mile a Minute" record in the hands of Barney Oldfield and Henry Ford, himself, was recently discovered and bought by W. L. Hughson, Ford dealer, in San Francisco. The car was cleaned up, shined and insured for $25,000, and sent on an exhibition tour. It was shown at the San Francisco Automobile Show and proved a great attraction.

The car made its debut in 1904 when Henry Ford drove it to success at a speed of one mile in 39 4-5 seconds on a race track built on Baltimore Bay. The Ford Times of July, 1903, referring to "999," says, "It won race after race in every part of the country. Its performance was a real sensation, not only here but abroad, and did as much to make known the name of Ford as any other circumstance."

This same article, after boasting of the 20,000 Ford owners—there are now more than 3,000,000—goes on to tell why racing was discontinued:—"In the early days of the industry, racing undoubtedly stimulated business and was of benefit as a trade bringer for a new product. To-day it is unnecessary to engage in races and stunts to awaken interest—the interest is wide awake, and the problem is how best to provide for that interest which a growing demand for cars evidences. There was a time though, when no entry list was considered complete until the Ford entry was in, and the records of these four and five years ago are replete with triumphs of Ford cars, guided to victory by such experts as Henry Ford, Frank Kulick and Barney Oldfield."—Contributed.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Squeezed lemon skins are useful for taking out ink and other stains from wool, also for cleaning enamel saucepans.

SOME SUGGESTIONS TO HELP MOTORISTS AVOID UNNECESSARY TIRE EXPENSE.

Under-inflation is held to ruin more automobile casings than all other causes combined. Every motorist should carry an air gauge and use it frequently.

Wheels out of alignment are the next greatest cause of undue tire wear. Any service man will show you how to ascertain if the front wheels are properly aligned. If they are not have them attended to without delay.

Tread cuts should not be neglected. The smaller ones may be treated with tire putty by the motorist himself.

Tubes should be given attention. When a new one is inserted enough talc should b used to prevent it from chafing and sticking to the casing. On the other hand, too much talc harms the tube.

Chains should be fastened loosely enough to creep. When they are fastened too tight they tear the casing.

Avoid "riding" street car tracks because the burden of weight on a small portion of the tire tends to pull the tread loose and small sharp pieces of steel very often protrude from th rails.

"SAFETY FIRST AND ALWAYS."

The bulletin of the Halifax Automobile Asociation, Halifax, N.S., contains some very good safety first advice under the caption: "Safety First and Always." It follows:

Drive as if every other driver was a born idiot.

Drive as if all children and most pedestrians were bent on suicide beneath your wheels.

Drive as if every hill had a chasm at the bottom.

Drive as if every curve was a highwayman, a Bengal tiger and a stone wall.

Examine your car before you start, not after you stop—and you won't have any accidents.

EXAMINATION FOR MOTOR DRIVERS IS CHIEF'S OPINION

"As a rule they aren't much good," Chief Thompson stated when asked his opinion of lady drivers. "Luckily," he said, "they are greatly in the minority, but what we have in the city, with the exception of about four are not much good. Once they get the wheel in their hands they loose their heads thinking what a smart thing they are doing in running the car and drive more or less wildly. The percentage of fines from women is small due to the small number of ladies who drive and not to their care in driving."

An Examination.

"If I had my way," the Chief continued, "I should make it a law that all women, as well as men, should pass an examination before they were allowed to drive. Practically the only restriction at present is the age limit which compels all car drivers to be over eighteen years old."

WAYS TO FOOL AND FOIL CAR THIEVES

THERE ARE SOME VERY SIMPLE BUT QUITE EFFECTIVE TRICKS.

A STOP TO STEALING

Interesting is the article in which Alexander C. Johnston, editor of "Motor," deals with the various devices intended to prevent thieves from getting away with cars. Of locks, one group prevents the shifting of the gear, another locks the steering system, while a third locks the ignition system. In addition to these locking devices auto owners have devised various methods of their own:

"To begin with, here is a little bit of guile that will fool almost any thief—for a while. On a car equipped with magneto ignition, remove the carbon pencil which carries the current. Of course, the car will not move as long as the circuit is thus interrupted. But the professional thief will carry a spare pencil in his kit, and, slipping it in place, will drive the car away in about 30 seconds.

"But here is the joker—make a dummy pencil, removing the metal end from a regular part, or have a wooden one made and painted to resemble the original. Slip this dummy into place, and the thief who examines the magneto, and finds it apparently ready for business, will be puzzled for some time before he discovers the real cause of the trouble.

"When the battery system is used for ignition instead of a magneto, a similar dodge is to remove the brush from the distributor. Here again the professional will come prepared with a spare brush. The truly ingenious car owner, therefore, will set a small steel peg in the post on which the brush rests, and will cut a small slit for it to fit into. So fixed, the thief will not be able to use his spare brush, as it will not fit over the peg, but will be raised up, effectually preventing the top from being put in place.

Hidden Switches.

Hidden switches in the ignition and fuel lines have been used so much that nowadays that even the apprentice in thievery has gumption enough to follow the line until he has located the particular switch in which he is interested.

"There is another switch arrangement which has not been much used, and which is for that very reason quite effective. This is a switch in the exhaust system, which completely shuts off the power of the engine. The thief will go over the fuel-line, and then the ignition, and, finding them both in apparent operating condition, will be puzzled to know just what is the trouble. But let me drop a hint—do not try to turn a switch in the exhaust line with the bare hand. Use a pair of pliers; otherwise you will lose a considerable area of useful skin."

Mr. Johnston closes by suggesting a remedy for auto stealing which, in his opinion, would end the evil forthwith. He advises a removal of the cause rather than a treatment of the effect. He says:

A Title to Each Car.

"My suggestion hinges on the possibility of removing motor cars from the class of casually negotiable property. At first glance this may seem difficult; in reality it might easily be accomplished by placing them in the same class with real estate, giving each car a title and a deed, which must pass whenever it changes hands, and without which it can no more be sold than a piece of real estate that is not registered in the name of the intending seller.

"The beauty of this scheme lies in the fac that it strikes at the very root of the evil. By removing the casual resale value of the motor car, the incentive to theft has been taken away. The thief will not take the trouble to steal something which he cannot subsequently turn into cash—and there you are.

"It only remains for the organizations that represent and serve the motoring community to launch a campaign for this needed reform. With the assistance they could count on from various chambers of commerce and other civic bodies, they could soon place the automobiles outside the consideration of the now triumphant' thief.'

DOMINION-WIDE ROAD-MEETING

DELEGATES FROM EVERY PROVINCE TO ATTEND AT WINNIPEG.

HIGHWAY EXPERTS THERE

An important development of the scheme that was inaugurated last year of an interprovincial conference of Highway Ministers will be the feature of the seventh annual Canadian Good Roads Convention, which is to be held at the Royal Alexandra Hotel, Winnipeg, on 1st, 2nd, and 3rd June next. This is the holding of an interprovincial conference of Goverment highway officials—the men who are actually concerned in the planning, construction, and maintenance of the highways of the Dominion, be they main routes or district communication roads. These are the men of practical experience, and it is proposed by the Executive of the Canadian Good Roads Association, under whose auspices the convention is held, to call these officials together on the second day of the convention, and have them discuss matters of general interest at the same time as the regular meetings of the delegates are in progress.

To Make Comparisons.

The suggestion is that they should compare road laws, traffic regulations, automobile taxation, systems of construction, and maintenance of highways, and other matters, exchanging ideas and proposals with a view to arriving, as far as possible, at a uniform system of laws for the whole Dominion.

This subject has been occupying the attention of the Provincial Governments and highway and motor organisations for a long time, and the opportunity will be afforded by the convention of those interested in the subject getting together and possibly arriving at some solution of the problem.

Obtain Expert Knowledge.

Every municipality in Canada, numbering some 3,500, is being sent an invitation to participate in the convention. Seeing that millions of dollars have been spent and largely wasted in the past through lack of expert knowledge of how to solve local problems, membership in the Good Roads Association will enable those municipalities, which are about to spend money on road construction, to send delegates who can submit their difficulties to the convention and get solutions from the experts who will be there prepared to answer questions dealing with all phases of road work.

While there will be papers at the convention dealing with various types of pavements, the greater portion of the sessions will be devoted to such aspects of road construction as particularly interest the Western Provinces. It is felt that conditions there being different from the Eastern Provinces, in so far as soil and material are concerned, that a special effort should be made this year to get speakers who have experience of Western road problems, both in Canada and the United States.

Object of Association.

The principal object of the association, which has a Dominion charter, is "to collect and distribute information concerning highway legislation, construction, and maintenance in the various cities, towns, villages, and municipalities throughout Canada to stimulate and encourage in all ways the improvement, construction, and maintenance of roads, the whole from an educational and practical standpoint."

The tentative programme is now being prepared, and will be ready in a few days.

GRAPHITE PRODUCTS

Dixon's Motor Graphite
Recommended for Lubricating the Cylinders. It improves Compression, increases Power, greatly reduces the amount of Lubricating Oil required, and cures Smoky Exhaust.
Use it in place of Talc on the TIRES. It will not allow the Tube to stick to Casing, thereby Reducing Heat, Preventing Blowouts, and Prolonging the life of the Tube and Casing.

Graphite Gear Oil
NO. 675
A very light-bodied Lubricant for Worm Gears and Transmissions that require a Light Oil. Due to the Flake Graphite in No. 675, it gives much longer and better service than is possible with a plain Lubricant of the same density.

Graphite Grease
NO. 677
A Grease of medium density which will last far longer than any other Grease, because the parts remain so cool, it does not waste away.
It reaches all Bearings and provides a Graphite Coating that prevents the wear of parts. Reduces Friction and causes Cool Running at all times.

FEW PETERBORO WOMEN GO IN FOR REGULAR LINE OF MOTOR GARMENTS

THE DEMAND IS RESTRICTED TO A FEW—AFTER THE DUAL PURPOSE GARMENT.

"Peterboro women are most careful buyers," several of the sales women in the dry goods stores say, "and they refuse to buy any garments for motoring unless such garments will serve some other purpose. The majority of women when their husbands buy a car consider that the family has gone the limit for motor expenses and begin to tighten the purse strings. What few of them get so-called motor coats go in for rubberized tweeds which will serve for several different purposes besides motoring." I don't suppose that in the store we have sold more than five regulation linen coats in years though we always keep them in stock," one of the sales women said. These range from $15 to $35 and are adapted only to motor use and left always in the car or conveniently near the garage.

Motor Hats.

This year motor hats have been asked for in few cases and the milliners are carrying a smart little variety of hats for the purpose which as the limit of expenditure is about $3.75, are being bought up. The country women have gone in for such hats previously in the raw silk variety which are considerably less expensive.

CONGRESS WILL INVESTIGATE PROFITEERING IN FOOTWEAR

WASHINGTON, April 10.—An investigation of the prevailing high prices of boots and shoes is to be made by a committee of the Senate under the authorization of a resolution passed by the Senate. The investigation is to be started next Friday. Facts already gathered by members of the committee indicate a widespread course of profiteering by the shoe manufacturers. In view of the fact that one Senator on the committee was recently asked to pay $12 for a pair of shoes which he subsequently learned were sold to the retailer by the manufacturer for $4, it is not believed the committee will have any hesitancy in probing into all the facts regarding the high prices of shoe leather.

After a man has suddenly struck it rich he will be surprised at the number of people who grasp him by the hand and say, "I told you so."

CANNOT NOW EXCLUDE HEARST PUBLICATIONS

OTTAWA, April 10.—Joseph Demers, St. Johns and Iberville, presented a bill in the House yesterday afternoon, so to amend the Bank Act as to require banks to pay four per cent. interest on deposit accounts.

The bill would further require banks to pay interest during the whole time money is deposited.

At question time 151 questions were put to the Government.

Dr. Edwards, of Frontenac, asked if the Government intended to exclude any or all of the Hearst publications from Canada.

Sir George Foster: "The Government has no record of the names of papers and magazines known as Hearst publications which circulate in Canada. The Government has no legislative power sufficient to enable it to exclude the Hearst publications at the present time. The matter has been and is now engaging the attention of the Government."

Ontario Safety League—Special Bulletin.

HAVE YOU HEARD MODERN CARS DON'T STAND UP?

LOW QUALITY ("GAS" ONE OF THE CHIEF CAUSES OF EARLY DEPRECIATION OF CARS—UNLESS OIL IN CRANKCASE IS DRAINED OFF AND REPLACED WITH NEW OIL EVERY FEW HUNDRED MILES. DEPRECIATION IS RAPID—THE REASON AND SOME POINTERS ON COLD WEATHER MAINTAINANCE.

The present fuel situation and its far-reaching effects upon the performance of the automobile motor is not generally understood by the motoring public.

The ordinary commercial gasoline now being sold is of very low gravity and poor in quality. This fuel is so difficult to vaporize completely that a certain percentage of it is not consumed at all, and when the mixture is too rich this liquid gasoline, or almost kerosene, stays in the cylinder and cuts the cylinder oil which is the medium of lubrication. The cylinder oil and gasoline then both work their way down past the rings and pistons into the crank case.

If the owner will, during the cold weather, and when his motor is running erratically and has a tendency to miss and is slow to warm up, lacking power, and has symptoms of generally unsatisfactory operation, draw off all the oil in the crank case, he will be surprised to find, instead of cylinder oil, a large percentage of the oil adulterated with gasoline. If this is all drained off and entirely fresh oil put in the crank case the motor will immediately, provided it is in proper condition and has not been damaged, have all its old time performance speed and power. If, however, this condition has existed for some time and the motor has been run under these conditions its efficiency may have been impaired, and if continued for a period of time, permanent damage probably will have been the result.

Apparent Effects.

This impairment of the lubricant in the cylinders and the working of the gasoline into the crank case brings about a great many conditions, causing complaints for which there is no apparent cause, and which the owner is unable to comprehend. Repair men and motor mechanics advance many theories and reasons as to the cause. Some of the conditions which can be directly attributed as a result of action of this sort taking place, due to the cutting out the lubricant in the cylinder, are the folowing:

1. Hard starting.
2. Premature piston wear.
3. Premature cylinder wear.
4. Connecting rod bearings burning out.
5. Crank shaft bearings burning out.
6. Excessive gasoline consumption.
7. Smoking, due to the abnormal increase in the level of the crank case on acount of the gasoline working into the base of the motor.
8. Excessive carbon in cylinders.
9. Tendency to overhead due to lack of lubrication.
10. Very poor compression.

All of the above wil result in the lack of powers and poor performance.

May Be Easily Demonstrated.

In view of these conditions it is not difficult to understand why the theory is advanced that the workmanship is realy at fault, that there is poor material in the pistons, rings and cylinders which wear prematurely, poor bearing metal and poor workmanship, and poor piston and ring fits.

Experience has shown that is is very difficult to convince an owner of a car of these conditions, and the best way is take a motor which has been misbehaving, drain all the contents of the crank case and let it settle in a long tube or bottle and the results which will follow will be plainly evident.

The possibilities are that the contents of the crank case or oil pan will be much diluted and a thin fluid found that lacks body and consistency of the oil. This can be very easily noticed by the way in which it flows. Holding it to the light will quickly show the character of the contents. Dipping a finger in it and rubbing between the thumb and forefinger will disclose the absence of lubricating qualities.

There is no remedy for a motor that has been put in bad shape by causes of this kind. It is a case of being thoroly overhauled and having the working parts replaced by new parts, and the motor put in first-class condition. Then take all possible precaution to safeguard against repetition of these difficulties.

While this tendency to deposit gasoline in the crank chamber cannot be overcome even in warm weather, yet trouble can be avoided by a conscientious observance of the following points:

1. Do not hold the choke closed too long after starting motor.
2. Avoid running with the choke closed.
3. A carburetor with an adjustment on it will in most cases run readily with a rich mixture in cold weather; when it is warmed up, however, there will be an excess of gasoline which should be avoided.
4. The car should preferably be kept in a warm place to avoid the too liebral use of a chocker, thereby avoiding sending too great quantities of raw fuel into the cylinders.
5. The most important point to be observed where a car is in daily use in cold weather is to drain out the entire contents of the oil pan once every 400 or 500 miles, and replace it with entirely fresh cylinder oil, which remains liquid at the lower temperatures.

While this may seem a little expensive, it is the absolute assurance against damage to the motor. As the weather gets warmer this can be gradually reduced until in the heat of summer once in every 1,00 or 1,500 miles wil be sufficient.

6. A further aid, provided one does not object to the expense, is the use of higher grade gasoline, which of course is difficult to obtain and costs more, but which will not cause some of the difficulties experienced with the lower grade fuel.

By observing these points very carefully and keeping the carbon cleaned out of the cylinder head very little difficulty will be encountered. The gasoline, which is practfeally nothing but a high-grade of kerosene, tends to soften the carbon and practically makes a carbon gasoline lapping compound which has a tendency to aggravate the wear already caused by these parts running without adequate lubrication.

To sum it all up:

1. Keep your motor free from carbon.
2. Replenish the oil supply in the engine base regularly with a good, suitable high-grade oil.
3. Watch your choker carefully.
4. Use high grade gasoline whenever posible in cold weather.

See that the transmission and differential are filled with lubricant that will not unduly solidify when cold. The almost certain evidence that your transmission lubricant is not sufficiently fluid at low temperature is when the gears shift unduly hard in first starting up when the car is cold.

Take time to put on your tire chains when the weather and road conditions suggest the wisdom of doing so.—From "Instructions," issued by the Westcott Motor Car Co.

Inflammatory Rheumatism
Cured by B.B.B.

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease, caused by the uric acid in the blood. It manifests itself by pain and lameness attacking the muscles and joints of the body, which often swell and become hot and inflamed.

Anyone who has suffered months after months, and perhaps year after year, with rheumatism, and who has tried remedy after remedy in the hope of relief, and without success, should not give up hope.

Burdock Blood Bitters, by invigorating the digestive organs and eliminating the uric acid from the system, will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. D. Barry, Pushbrook, Ont., writes:—"I feel it my duty to let you know of the great benefit my husband derived from using your Burdock Blood Bitters. He had been suffering for the past two years with inflammatory rehumatism. He tried many medicines but got no better. A friend advised him to take B. B. B. He did so, and after taking five bottles he felt like a new man, and was able to go to work the same as ever."

NOBODY WANTS KAISER'S AUTO

FAIR LONDON THEATRICAL PRODUCER CAN'T SELL ORNATE VEHICLE ABROAD.

LONDON.—Ballet girls of London's biggest musical success are riding home these nights on cushions meant for the ex-imperial limbs of the ex-kaiser. The most sumptuous car in the world, seized as Hohenzollern property by the British Government at the outbreak of the war, is now owned by Gladys Dillon, revue producer.

Miss Dillon has owned the car for a year, but wouldn't have had it a week if she could have sold it. It came to her from a Norwegian, together with a yacht once raced by the Emperor Wilhelm. Both were bought by the Norwegian at public auction. After trying to pay their upkeep for three years he presented them to Miss Dillon.

Nobody Will Buy It.

The car is so magnificent that nobody will buy it. It seats 10 people and can hold 15. It has combined dinner and card table in the rear, with seats for seven arranged around it. In the back is a cellarette and an installation whereby lunches can be cooked at short order. The carriage, including the driver's seat, which accommodates three, is in mahogany four inches thick, inlaid with silver in oriental design.

Sunken opaque lights supply the illumination. The floor is parquet oak. Silken curtains conceal the windows, which are protected by sheet glass an inch thick. The engine of the car is 70 horsepower.

Is Most Luxurious.

On armistice night Miss Dillon ventured to appear in the car at the Criterion restaurant. Hooligans from the east end surrounded it and made such a disturbance that a policeman turned in a riot call, and an armed squad had to escort the car back to its garage. Since then the only use to which it has been put has been to convey members of the ballet in Miss Dillon's theatre to their homes when the show has closed, usually late. The entire ballet has been conveyed in three trips.

"The car is a white elephant," said Miss Dillon. 'Englishmen won't buy it because it belonged to the kaiser and because they say it is too flashy'; Frenchmen won't buy it because of the 70 per cent. duty they would have to pay to get it into France. The only man who can afford to keep the car is an American millionaire, and I am now considering three offers from New York."

English automobile experts who have seen the car pronounce it the most luxurious in the world. It is priced at $15,000.

THIS PET PARROT IS IN DUTCH FOR LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Because a pet parrot repeated the remarks of a sailor, officers of the steamer Curacao here today from South Pacific ports, discovered 374 bottles of liquor that had been hidden on the ship by members of the crew. It was thrown overboard before the ship reached the three-mile limit. The parrot, which belonged to the captain, is now unpopular with the crew.
